

Northern Ireland Marine Disease Control Compartments - Lough Foyle as of 10 Dec 2019

Disease Status

Marteilia Refringens	Negative
Bonamia Ostreae	Positive
Oyster Herpes Virus (OsHV-1)	Positive
Perkinsus Marinus	Negative
Mycrocytos Mackini	Negative
Bonamia Exitiosa	Negative
Taura Syndrome	Negative
Yellow Head Disease	Negative
White Spot Disease(WSS)	Negative

The disease status of this compartment is currently in accordance with COUNCIL DIRECTIVE 2006/88/EC and the OIE Manual. In the event of infection or eradication the status will change and notice will be disseminated accordingly.

Co ordinates in degrees decimal minutes
Datum WGS84

Physical description

That part of Lough Foyle comprising the territorial tidal waters south of an imaginary straight line drawn between the high-water mark of Greencastle Fort in County Donegal to the high-water mark at Martello Tower at Magillian Point in County Londonderry.
(In the event of any discrepancy between the descriptive position and the chart, the descriptive position shall prevail)

Department of Agriculture, Environment and Rural Affairs

www.daera-ni.gov.uk

A living, working, active landscape valued by everyone.