Overview

Advance Care Planning is an umbrella term covering personal, legal, clinical, and financial planning. It enables a person to think about what is important to them and plan for their future. It is a voluntary process and helps a person to make known what their wishes, feelings, beliefs and values are, and to make choices that reflect these. A person's Advance Care Planning conversations, any recommendations and/or decisions will be used in the future should a person become unable to make the relevant decisions for themselves at any point. We would welcome your views on the draft Advance Care Planning policy for Adults (aged 18 years and over) in Northern Ireland.

The draft Advance Care Planning policy provides a framework for Advance Care Planning for adults (aged 18 years and over) in Northern Ireland, focusing on the health and social care aspects. The policy provides an overview of Advance Care Planning, and the values and principles that underpin it. It sets out why Advance Care Planning is important and how it can help people make timely, realistic and practical plans for their future. It encourages these plans to be made in conversation with those who are important to them and/or someone providing care, support or treatment (this includes people working within the community and voluntary sector, independent sector and other health and social care staff working in statutory services).

The draft Advance Care Planning policy aims to support a person to have greater choice and control over decisions, including plans for their future care and treatment. The ambition of the policy is that Advance Care Planning conversations become normalised; all adults in Northern Ireland (NI) have regular opportunities to express their wishes, feelings, beliefs and values in relation to Advance Care Planning; and these are then reflected in the care, support or treatment they receive.

To provide strategic advice and oversee the development of the Advance Care Planning policy, a Steering Group was established comprising policy leads from the Department of Health, Health and Social Care Board and Public Health Agency, as well as the Chair of the Regional Clinical Ethics Forum and an interested member of the public and a carer representative. A Programme Team was established to develop the Advance Care Planning policy and its supporting Advance Care Planning implementation programme, to include operational guidance, education and training and public messaging.

Why Your Views Matter

The draft policy has been developed using a co-production approach with extensive stakeholder engagement and input. Stakeholders included service users, carers, interested members of the public, and those from community and voluntary organisations, research/academia, health and social care professionals and their representative bodies.

(For more information on this please see the supporting document: Early Stakeholder Engagement Report published as part of this consultation).

The next phase of engagement is to complete a public consultation to seek further views on the draft Advance Care Planning policy and Equality Impact Assessment.

Impact Assessments

A number of impact assessment screenings have been completed and are noted in Annex B of this document. A full Equality Impact Assessment (EQIA) has been completed and will be launched in parallel with the draft Advance Care Planning policy for a 12 week public consultation.

The full screening documents are also available as part of the suite of consultation documents.

What Happens Next

A number of virtual information sessions will be held to let you know how you can respond to the consultations.

Thursday 20th January 2022 at 10am

Wednesday 2nd February 2022 at 2:30pm (BSL Session)

Tuesday 15th February 2022 at 6:30pm

You can register for these events via: <https://pcc-ni.net/get-involved/advance-care-planning/>

Following the close of the consultation on 11th March 2022 at 5pm, all responses and feedback will be collated for review by the Department of Health, and a consultation report will be produced.

The consultation report will be published alongside the final Advance Care Planning policy and EQIA report.

Privacy, Confidentiality and Access to Consultation Responses

We will publish a summary of the consultation responses and, in some cases, the responses themselves but these will not contain any personal data. We will not publish the names or contact details of respondents, but will include the names of organisations responding.

Your response, and all other responses to this consultation, may also be disclosed on request in accordance with the Freedom of Information Act 2000 (FOIA) and the Environmental Information Regulations 2004 (EIR); however all disclosures will be in line with the requirements of the Data Protection Act 2018 (DPA) and the UK General Data Protection Regulation (UK GDPR).

If you want the information that you provide to be treated as confidential it would be helpful if you could explain to us why you regard the information you have provided as confidential, so that this may be considered if the Department should receive a request for the information under the FOIA or EIR.

For further information on how we will process data and your rights, see the Advance Care Planning Policy Consultation Privacy Notice at Annex C.

Being transparent and providing accessible information to individuals about how we may use personal data is a key element of the Data Protection Act \(DPA\) and the UK General Data Protection Regulation (UK GDPR). The Department of Health (DoH) is committed to building trust and confidence in our ability to process your personal information and protect your privacy.

Purpose for processing

The Department of Health has developed an Advance Care Planning Policy for adults (aged 18 year and over) in Northern Ireland which is published for public consultation. We are encouraging organisations and institutions to respond but also interested members of the public, service users and carers. We will process personal data provided in response to consultations for the purpose of informing the policy. We will publish a summary of the consultation responses and, in some cases, the responses themselves but these will not contain any personal data. We will not publish the names or contact details of respondents, but will include the names of organisations responding.

Lawful basis for processing

The lawful basis we are relying on to process your personal data is Article 6(1) (e) of the UK GDPR, which allows us to process personal data when this is necessary for the performance of our public tasks in our capacity as a Government Department.

We will only process any special category personal data you provide, which reveals racial or ethnic origin, political opinions, religious belief, health or sexual life/orientation when it is necessary for reasons of substantial public interest under Article 9(2)(g) of the UK GDPR, in the exercise of the function of the Department, and to monitor equality.

How will your information be used and shared?

We will process the information for the above stated purpose. The information will be shared with the Advance Care Planning Programme Team comprised of representatives from the Department of Health, the Health and Social Care Board, the Public Health Agency and Patient and Client Council to enable consultation responses to inform the policy development. Where information is provided by a consultation respondent in an alternative format, we will share this information with an approved translation service in line with information governance requirements. Where a consultation respondent uses the consultation support service to enable their response to the consultation to be made, by doing so the respondent is agreeing to sharing their information with that service for that purpose. We don't intend to share your personal data with any other third party. Any specific requests from a third party for us to share your personal data with them will be dealt with in accordance the provisions of the data protection laws.

How long will we keep your information?

We will retain consultation response information until our work on the subject matter of the consultation is complete, and in line with the Department's approved Retention and Disposal Schedule Good Management, Good Records (GMGR).

What are your rights?

- You have the right to obtain confirmation that your data is being processed, and access to your personal data
- You are entitled to have personal data rectified if it is inaccurate or incomplete
- You have a right to have personal data erased and to prevent processing, in specific circumstances
- You have the right to 'block' or suppress processing of personal data, in specific circumstances
- You have the right to data portability, in specific circumstances
- You have the right to object to the processing, in specific circumstances
- You have rights in relation to automated decision making and profiling.

How to complain if you are not happy with how we process your personal information

If you wish to request access, object or raise a complaint about how we have handled your data, you can contact our Data Protection Officer using the details above.

If you are not satisfied with our response or believe we are not processing your personal data in accordance with the law, you can complain to the Information Commissioner at:
