The Northern Ireland Homelessness Bulletin July-December 2022 is the ninth edition in a series of official statistics that has been prepared by Professional Services Unit of the Department for Communities (DfC). This biannual compendium of statistics contains information on a range of areas relating to homelessness. The report is currently divided into three sections which are: Homeless presenters; Homeless acceptances; and Temporary accommodation. More sections and/or tables may be added in future editions of this publication. All tables are sourced to the Northern Ireland Housing Executive (NIHE) administrative data on homelessness.

Homelessness figures presented in this report can be read in conjunction with those published in the quarterly Northern Ireland Housing Bulletin.

Feedback on the bulletin is particularly welcome from users. This will be used to further develop the publication and accompanying tables in line with user requirements. If you would like to participate in our user engagement survey, please do so by following this link: User engagement survey

Please note that this is a summary document. More detailed data and information on methodology and data quality is available.

Introduction

What is meant by 'homelessness'?

Becoming homeless can happen to anyone. A person may be homeless if they are:

- staying with friends or family
- staying in a hostel
- staying in a bed and breakfast
- living in very overcrowded conditions
- at risk of violence if they stay in their home
- living in poor conditions that are damaging their health
- living in a house that is unsuitable for them
- rough sleeping

Homelessness is often understood as people living on the streets. However, whilst rough sleepers may represent one element of homelessness, it is a misconception to think that these are the only homeless people who need help. Even those who have a roof over their heads may still be included in the homeless definition.

The Northern Ireland Housing (NI) Order 1988 (as amended) tasks the Northern Ireland Housing Executive with responding to homelessness, and places a statutory duty on the Housing Executive to provide interim and/or permanent accommodation for certain homeless households, dependent upon investigations and assessment of their circumstances.

This report seeks to provide a more thorough understanding of homelessness through statistics, case studies, and factual information.

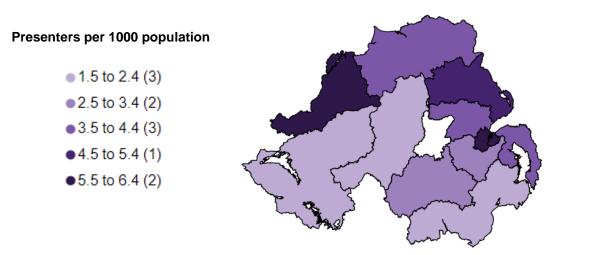

What about rough sleepers?

Whilst there are no statistics on rough sleepers in this publication at present, the Housing Executive perform annual street counts of rough sleepers in Belfast, Londonderry and any other area where street activity is identified by the Homelessness Local Area Groups. Additional data from the PSNI and others is also analysed following standard practice for establishing the number of rough sleepers across the UK.

The latest published results were collected in November 2021 and can be found here: https://www.nihe.gov.uk/

This section contains a wide range of information on those who have submitted an application to the Northern Ireland Housing Executive. Detailed data on: households presenting by reason; by household type; by Local Government District (LGD); by decision; and households rejected by legislative test outcome can be found in the accompanying tables.

Homeless presenters by Local Government District July - December 2022*

A homeless 'presenter' is a household that is undergoing a homelessness assessment by the Housing Executive. This assessment consists of four legislative tests (The Northern Ireland Housing Order 1988 (as amended)) which determine whether or not a duty is owed to the household. These include tests for: eligibility; homelessness; priority need and; intentionality (see Glossary for definitions). Even households who currently have somewhere to live that may be unsuitable can apply to be considered legally homeless.

In July - December 2022, 7,478 households presented as homeless in Northern Ireland. The map above shows how many households presented as homeless per 1,000 population in each Local Government District (LGD). The LGD with the largest number of presenters per 1,000 population was Derry City and Strabane (6.2). This was followed by Belfast (6.1).

 Scenarios are based on information taken from NIHE homelessness presentation data, but are not based on the circumstances of any one individual.

Scenario 1: Marital Breakdown

Michael and Mary are from Belfast and they have been married for five years with two children. Michael owned his property before he and Mary got married and his name is the sole name on the mortgage. Michael and Mary have been experiencing difficulties in their marriage and last night Michael asked Mary to leave. The two children will be leaving with Mary following the marital breakdown.

Mary and her two children stayed with a friend overnight and presented to the Housing Executive for housing and homeless assistance this morning. Mary takes care of her two children full time and is in receipt of Universal Credit and Child Benefit. Mary has no other support in the area and has nowhere she can stay as her friend's property is too small. The Housing Solutions & Support Team have assessed Mary in line with the Housing (N.I.) Order, 1988, as amended. Mary is from Northern Ireland and has no history of unacceptable behaviour and therefore she is eligible for assistance, Mary is homeless as the Housing Advisor confirmed the marital breakdown with her husband and she is unable to return to the property, Mary has two dependent children which gives her priority need in line with the legislative criteria and based on the facts of the case she in unintentionally homeless. Mary has been awarded Full Duty Applicant status (FDA). Mary and her children have been provided with temporary accommodation in a family hostel where support is available and are currently on the waiting list for social housing.

Top reasons for presenting as homeless

When a household presents as homeless, an initial reason for presenting is allocated by a housing advisor from the Housing Executive based on the information provided in the application. During the subsequent investigation of the application a more appropriate reason may be determined. As a result, the household could potentially be accepted as statutorily homeless with a different reason than that which they initially presented with.

Of the 7,478 households who presented as homeless in July - December 2022, the most commonly quoted cause was accommodation not reasonable with 1,763 (24%), followed by 'sharing breakdown/family dispute' with 1,623 (22%), loss of rented accommodation with 1,310 (18%), marital/relationship breakdown with 725 (10%) and neighbourhood harassment with 608 (8%).

The category 'accommodation not reasonable' (ANR) does not have a single definition. It is an umbrella category in which there are 7 sub-categories. These are: financial hardship; mental health; overcrowding; physical health/disability; property unfitness; violence; and other. Of the accommodation not reasonable cases, 'physical health/disability' had the largest proportion of presenters with 61%.

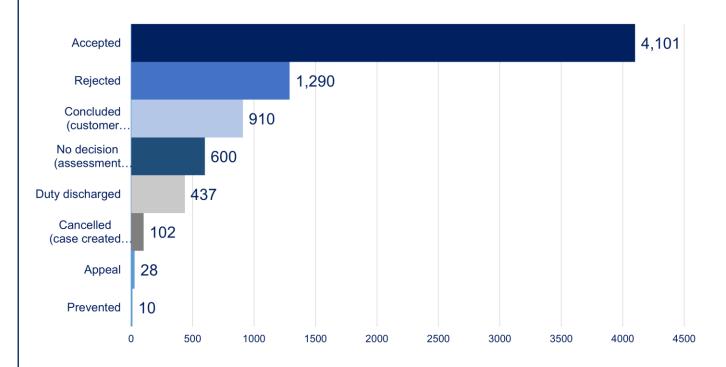

- ANR: Physical health / disability
- ANR: Mental health
- ANR: Violence
- ANR: Financial hardship
- ANR: Overcrowding
- All other sub-categories

Homeless presenters by decision

When a household presents as homeless to the Housing Executive, four legislative tests are carried out to assess whether or not a duty is owed to the household.

The chart below shows the various outcomes of those who were assessed between July to December 2022.

Definitions for each of these outcomes can be found in the glossary at the back of this document. Of those who presented, 61% were accepted as homeless (55% accepted and 6% duty discharged) and 17% were rejected.

What does 'duty discharged' mean?

To become 'duty discharged' an applicant who has been awarded full duty status must either: be rehoused; refuse three reasonable offers of housing; or re-house themselves/no longer require help from the Housing Executive.

Whilst the chart (left) shows 437 cases being duty discharged, this is only referring to those who presented as homeless, were accepted, and subsequently duty discharged, all within this 6 month time period.

It should be noted that other households, accepted as full duty applicants outside of July - December 2022, will also have been duty discharged during the period. For information, the overall number of cases duty discharged between April 2021 and March 2022 was: 7,347.

What happens to those who are rejected?

A rejected case is where a household has failed to meet one or more of the statutory tests for homelessness. For these clients certain duties around providing advice and assistance still remain. The Homeless Persons' Advice and Assistance Regulations (NI) 2011 (the Regulations) requires the Housing Executive to provide homeless people with the following:

- Housing advice;
- Advice on social issues;
- Financial advice;
- Advice on legal procedures and services.

The advice and assistance referred to in the regulations must be provided to any homeless applicant whether they are "eligible persons" or not. This advice is a duty that is owed to anyone who might seek advice and assistance regardless of eligibility or homeless status. The aim of this duty is to prevent homelessness.

How is homelessness being prevented?

'Homelessness prevention' means providing people with help and support to address their housing and other needs, to avoid homelessness. Homelessness prevention can best be achieved by intervention at the earliest possible stage.

An ambition of the Homelessness Strategy for Northern Ireland 2022-27, 'Ending Homelessness Together', is to 'prioritise homelessness prevention through the provisions of the right support at the right time with an aim to prevent homelessness from happening in the first place'. By the time a household presents to the Housing Executive as homeless, many opportunities may have been missed to prevent the homelessness occurring. In recognition of this, the Housing Executive and the Department for Communities fund and/or support a range of organisations that provide advice and assistance to households approaching crisis before homelessness occurs. These include:

- Housing Rights Service
- Community Housing Advice Partnership (CHAP)
- Housing Advice Prisons Service
- Housing Advice NI
- Beyond the Gate Service

It is difficult to provide accurate figures for homelessness prevention given the methods used to record it and the fact that responsibility is shared across several different DfC and NIHE funded organisations. The 'prevented' category in the "Homeless presenters by decision" chart found on the previous page does not fully reflect all the work being done to ensure that as many potential homeless cases are prevented as possible. Later editions of this publication will aim to provide better quantification of prevented cases, when data is made available.

Section Two: Homeless acceptances

This section contains a wide range of information on those who have been accepted as 'statutorily homeless' by the Housing Executive. Detailed data on: acceptances by reason; by household type; by Local Government District (LGD); by priority need; by outcome; and children in households accepted as homeless, can be found in the accompanying tables.

What is a 'Full Duty Applicant'? In order to be "accepted" as statutorily homeless a household must meet the four tests of: eligibility; homelessness; priority need; and intentionality.

Any household that meets these four tests will be accepted as a "Full Duty Applicant" (FDA) and will be owed a full housing duty. The full housing duty includes ensuring that accommodation is made available for the household as well as the provision of temporary accommodation where necessary and assistance with the protection of the household's belongings.

For more definitions, see the glossary at the back of this document.

Who was accepted as statutorily homeless?

Of the 7,478 homeless presenters between July - December 2022 61% (4,538) were granted Full Duty Applicant status and accepted as statutorily homeless, and 10% of these (437) were duty discharged within the same time frame. (See page 5 for more information)

The top three reasons for being accepted as homeless were: accommodation not reasonable (1,407, 31%), sharing breakdown/family dispute (792, 17%) and; loss of rented accommodation (752, 17%).

Statutorily homeless by priority need test outcome

The 'priority need test' shows that for some reason, the household would struggle to cope as homeless more than others.

The most frequent outcome of the priority need test of those accepted was to be categorised as 'vulnerable' with 52% (2,369). Households can be classed as 'vulnerable' for a multitude of reasons including, but not exclusively: old age; illness; mental health problems; or physical disabilities.

Other outcomes include those classified by the test as: having "dependent children" (1,276, 28%); experiencing "violence" (730, 16%); "pregnant" (142, 3%); or classed as emergency (21, <1%)*.

Section Two: Homeless acceptances

Households accepted as homeless, by household type

Of the 4,538 households who were accepted as statutorily homeless, over a third were families (1,661). This was followed by single males (1,078), single females (815), pensioner households (790) and couples (191).

Of all single males and females who were accepted as statutorily homeless, those who fell into the 26-59 age group made up the largest proportion (873 and 488 respectively).

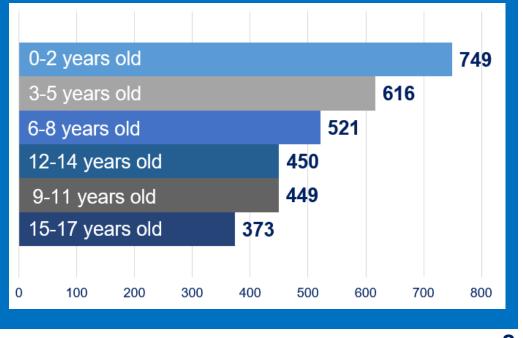

It is important to monitor the prevalence of household type in regards to homelessness to both inform housing need, and the development of the housing strategy.

Children from homeless households

The households accepted as statutorily homeless between July – December 2022 included a total of 3,158 children. Please note, however, this does not mean that there were 3,158 households with children, as one household can have multiple children.

As can be seen from the chart below, the largest proportion of these children were aged 0-2 (24%) and 3-5 (20%), followed by 6-8 (16%), 12-14 (14%), 9-11 (14%), and finally 15-17 (12%).

Children from households accepted as statutorily homeless, by age

* Families do not necessarily include children under the age of 18. Families may, for example, include parents and children who are over the age of 18 or adult siblings/other relatives living together.

Section Three: Temporary accommodation

Scenario 2: Neighbourhood Harassment *

Frank and Helen and their son David have lived in Newry their whole lives and they have been private renting for the last ten years and have a good relationship with their landlord. Six months ago, a family moved into a social housing property next door and since then there has been ongoing partying, noise and dogs barking. Frank and Helen have tried to speak to their neighbours around the issue and they have spoken to their landlord and have also registered the details with the Housing Executive and an Anti-Social Behaviour (ASB) case has been opened. Their son David is studying for his GCSEs and the noise and issues with the neighbour are having a significant impact on his studies. Frank made a final attempt to address the issue and was threatened by his neighbour and felt afraid for him and his family to remain in the property.

Frank and Helen presented to the Housing Executive for assistance and the Housing Solutions & Support Team has assessed their case in line with the Housing (N.I.) Order, 1988, as amended. Frank and Helen are eligible as they are from Northern Ireland and have not been the perpetrators of unacceptable behaviour. Frank and Helen are homeless due to neighbourhood harassment which has been confirmed from speaking with the Landlord and also detailed in the open ASB case against their neighbour. Frank and Helen have one dependent child which gives them priority need in line with the legislative criteria. Frank and Helen are unintentionally homeless as they have attempted to resolve the dispute but the level of harassment is beyond their control. Frank and Helen have been awarded Full Duty Applicant status (FDA). As Frank and Mary are both in employment, a Single Let has been offered and provided as temporary accommodation until a permanent housing solution can be offered.

This section contains a wide range of information on placements in temporary accommodation. Detailed data on: placements in temporary accommodation by household type and by accommodation type; children in temporary accommodation; and current placements by banded length of stay, can be found in the accompanying tables.

What is 'temporary accommodation'?

The Housing Executive has two main accommodation duties: the interim duty to accommodate; and the full housing duty. The first dictates that if a client is homeless and has a priority need, they can be accommodated pending the full investigation of their circumstances. The latter applies to clients who meet the four statutory homelessness tests (as described in previous chapters).

Temporary accommodation can be utilised to address both of these duties. That is, a client could be placed here during their investigation or after becoming a full duty applicant whilst waiting for a permanent offer of rehousing.

The types of temporary accommodation used by the Housing Executive are:

- Private single lets
- Voluntary sector hostels
- NIHE hostels
- Hotel/B'n'B
- Dispersed Intensively Managed Emergency Accommodation (DIME)

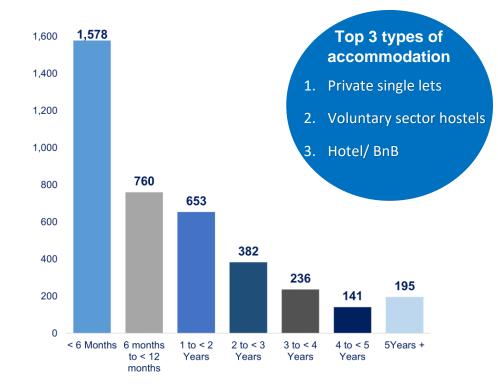

For definitions of each of these types of accommodation, please see the glossary at the back of this document.

Whilst not all clients require placement in temporary accommodation (they may prefer to stay with friend or family or make their own arrangements), for those who do Housing Executive staff will endeavour to place them in the most appropriate accommodation for their needs. Within the portfolio there will be places available for clients with high, medium, low and no support needs. For example, there are hostels that can deal with clients dealing with addiction who may not be immediately ready to take up and sustain a tenancy. In these circumstances, staff will seek a placement in an appropriate hostel that will have on-site support workers who will support the client to become "tenancy ready". This will improve their chances of maintaining a long term tenancy when one is offered. Many clients find the support provided from their assigned temporary accommodation invaluable.

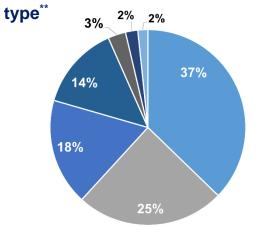

*Scenarios are based on information taken from NIHE homelessness presentation data, but are not based on the circumstances of any one individual.

Children in temporary accommodation, by age (as of 16 January 2023)

At 16 January 2023, there were 3,945 households in temporary accommodation, the majority of which (59%) had been living there for less than 12 months. However, 5% of these had been living in temporary accommodation for 5 or more years.

Within these 3,945 households living in temporary accommodation, there were 4,236 children.

Between July - December 2022, there were 5,074 placements to temporary accommodation. Of these, 37% were to hotels or B'n'Bs (1,890), 25% were to leased property (1,246), and 18% were to private single lets (896).

* Chart refers to households in temporary accommodation at the given point in time as opposed to placements.

 Chart presents the overall number of placements to temporary accommodation. These are not distinct households as one household can have several placements in a short timeframe.

Full Duty Applicant (FDA)

In order to be "accepted" as statutorily homeless a household must meet the four tests of: eligibility; homelessness; priority need; and intentionality.

Any household that meets these four tests will be accepted as a "Full Duty Applicant" (FDA) and will be owed a full housing duty. The full housing duty includes ensuring that accommodation is made available for the household as well as the provision of temporary accommodation where necessary and assistance with the protection of the household's belongings

Homeless presenter

A homelessness 'presenter' is a household that has applied to undergo a homelessness assessment by the Housing Executive.

Hotel/B'n'B (as temporary accommodation)

Hotel or B'n'B accommodation is only used in exceptional circumstances and for as short a duration as possible.

NIHE hostels (as temporary accommodation)

NIHE hostels are self-contained units of accommodation suitable for households with low support needs or for households with higher support needs with the addition of floating support.

Legislative test (homelessness tests)

When a household applies to become statutory homeless, they will undergo four legislative tests as per Northern Ireland the Housing (NI) Order 1998 (as amended). They are as follows:

- Eligibility test this test will assess if you are ineligible due to not having the right to reside in the UK or due to unacceptable behaviour;
- Homelessness test this test will investigate whether or not you can reasonably continue to live in your home;
- Priority need test this test will investigate if there is a reason that the presenter would struggle to cope as a homeless person more than others.
- Intentionality test this test will look to see if the applicant intentionally did something, or failed to do something that resulted in their homelessness.

Glossary

No decision (as a decision)

Homelessness application is still being processed.

Prevented (as a decision)

Homelessness has been prevented by an action or intervention by the Housing Executive, another agency, or the applicant themselves.

Private single lets (as temporary accommodation)

A single let is a private dwelling which is made available on a temporary basis to a homeless household while they are waiting for permanent rehousing. These dwellings are normally in the private rented sector.

Rejected (as a decision)

Applicant does not meet the statutory homelessness criteria.

Voluntary sector hostels (as temporary accommodation)

Voluntary sector hostels are funded by Supporting People. They are mainly selfcontained units of accommodation such as grouped houses/flats. Voluntary sector hostels provide accommodation based support for vulnerable households. Some will also have communal areas where households can come together to take part in activities, socialise or avail of facilities such as computers or communal cooking/eating areas. The support provided in these hostels is designed to assist vulnerable households to become tenancy ready to enable them to sustain a permanent tenancy when they are allocated one. Some clients may opt to defer permanent allocations until they feel they have the necessary skills to maintain their tenancy. Crash beds are available for overnight accommodation for emergency placements (e.g., rough sleepers).
