The House Price Index (HPI) is designed to provide a measure of change in the price of a standardised residential property sold in Northern Ireland. The index uses information on all verified residential property sales as recorded by HM Revenue & Customs. The NI HPI is used as the NI component in the UK HPI and statistics are comparable across regions. The index reference period¹ is Q1 2015 = 100.

Results for the most recent quarter are provisional and are subject to revision.

¹ A reference period is a quarter which is used as a benchmark for other periods, to allow calculation of inflation.

This is a National Statistics Publication

The Northern Ireland House Price Index was awarded National Statistics status on 18th September 2018.

National Statistics status means that official statistics meet the highest standards of trustworthiness, quality and public value.

All official statistics should comply with all aspects of the Code of Practice for Official Statistics. They are awarded National Statistics status following an assessment by the Authority's regulatory arm. The Authority considers whether the statistics meet the highest standards of Code compliance, including the value they add to public decisions and debate.

It is Land & Property Services' (LPS) responsibility to maintain compliance with the standards expected of National Statistics. If LPS become concerned about whether these statistics are still meeting the appropriate standards, LPS will discuss any concerns with the Authority promptly. National Statistics status can be removed at any point when the highest standards are not maintained, and reinstated when standards are restored.

Introduction

This publication analyses the Northern Ireland domestic property market using residential sales recorded by HM Revenue & Customs (HMRC) for stamp duty purposes. This includes all sales irrespective of how they are purchased, e.g. auction sales are included. Information on all sales must by law be passed to HMRC – more detail on the HMRC data is available in the Explanatory Notes: <https://www.finance-ni.gov.uk/articles/northern-ireland-house-price-index>

Information on the price of new dwellings sold has been available since Q1 2016. Verified sales numbers for new dwellings for the most recent two quarters are not yet at a reliable level for reporting, so they are not included in the report.

The contents of this report will be of interest to Government, Members of the Legislative Assembly, the business community, property professionals, economic commentators, academics and members of the public interested in the property market.

The report includes eight sections:

1. Northern Ireland House Price Index;
2. House Price Index by Property Type;
3. House Price Index for New/Existing Resold Dwellings;
4. Sales Volumes;
5. Regional House Price Statistics (Quarter 4 2018);
6. Economic Context;
7. Detailed Statistics Content;
8. Contact Details.

1. Northern Ireland House Price Index

The overall performance of the residential property market is measured in this report using the Northern Ireland House Price Index (NI HPI). The index uses a modelling approach, to produce a standardised property price. The use of a “mix adjusted” approach controls for differences in the mix of properties sold from quarter to quarter allowing for price comparisons to be made on a like for like basis. The simple average price is not used in constructing the index as it is overly influenced by changes in the mix of properties sold each quarter (eg changes in the mix of locations, type or quality of property sold etc), (see Explanatory Notes Section 1).

Revisions

Results for the most recent quarter are provisional and subject to revision as more up-to-date data become available (e.g. through late sales returns to HM Revenue & Customs and revisions to existing sales data). As a result, users should use the full time series from the most recent statistics report, rather than appending new data to back series from previous reports.

The table below shows the revisions to price index statistics for Q1, Q2 and Q3 2018 since the previous report published in November 2018.

Magnitude of Adjustments made to each index due to revisions

2018	Quarter 1	0.0%	0.0%	0.0%	0.0%	0.2%	0.1%	0.0%
2018	Quarter 2	0.0%	0.0%	0.0%	0.0%	-0.1%	0.1%	0.0%
2018	Quarter 3	-0.1%	-0.4%	0.1%	0.0%	0.1%	0.1%	-0.1%

Revised Index values

2018	Quarter 1	117.4	117.1	114.8	120.1	120.7	120.8	116.4
2018	Quarter 2	119.1	116.7	116.8	123.1	123.6	121.5	118.2
2018	Quarter 3	121.6	119.6	119.3	126.9	121.2	121.8	121.2

Statistics are revised each quarter to include sales received since the last publication, namely sales of new properties which have been entered into the NI Valuation List and late sales reported to HMRC.

The process of recording property characteristics of new dwellings takes longer than for existing re-sold properties. As a result a lower number of new dwelling sales are available to calculate the initial price/index estimate in the current quarter, than for existing re-sold sales. This leads to a more volatile series for new dwelling prices/index.

Price and index values published in previous reports can be viewed at: <https://www.finance-ni.gov.uk/articles/about-northern-ireland-house-price-index>

Presentation of figures

The index number, which is based on the constant standardised price, is presented rounded to one decimal place. Quarterly and annual changes are calculated based on the unrounded index for accuracy and presented rounded to one decimal place. The index and prices are comparable over time.

For presentational purposes, most of the tables and graphs in this report cover the period from 2009 onwards. However, the complete time series from 2005 for each Index is available in the detailed statistics document on the Department of Finance (DoF) website:

<https://www.finance-ni.gov.uk/articles/northern-ireland-house-price-index>

The Explanatory Notes provide detailed information on the methodology used to produce the statistics and are available at Explanatory Notes:

<https://www.finance-ni.gov.uk/articles/northern-ireland-house-price-index>

Figure 1.1 shows the NI HPI series since January – March 2009 (Q1 2009). The reference base period is Q1 2015 and the index is set to 100 for that period.

NI House Price Index

The overall index showed an increase of 1.3% between the third and fourth quarter of 2018. Between Q4 2017 and Q4 2018 the House Price Index increased by 5.5%. The NI HPI currently stands at 123.2 in the fourth quarter of 2018. The index is now 23.2% higher than in the first quarter of 2015, and 22.1% higher than Q1 2005.

Price Index by Property Type

The index for all property types increased in Q4 2018 compared to the previous quarter. Apartments saw the biggest increase (5.1%) while semi-detached increased by 1.4%, detached properties increased by 1.1%, and terrace properties increased by 0.2% over the quarter.

Price Index by Dwelling Type

The process of recording property characteristics of new dwellings takes longer than for existing re-sold properties. The majority of sales in the current quarter will have property characteristics added during the two forthcoming quarters and only when characteristics are available can the sales be used to calculate a price/index. As a result a lower number of new dwelling sales are available to calculate the initial price/index estimate in the current quarter, than for existing re-sold sales. This leads to a more volatile series for new dwelling prices/index.

The price of new dwellings sold in Q4 2018 increased by 1.8% from Q3 2018. The index stands at 124.0 in Q4 2018 which is 24.0% higher than Q1 2015 and 29.4% higher than Q1 2005. It should be noted that these figures are provisional and will be revised in the next quarter.

3. House Price Index for New/Existing Re-sold Dwellings

The sale of a new dwelling is defined as the first sale of a new property in the NI Valuation List. All sales which do not meet this definition are considered to be sales of existing re-sold dwellings.

The process of recording property characteristics of new dwellings takes longer than for existing re-sold properties. The majority of sales of new dwellings in the current quarter will have property characteristics added during the two forthcoming quarters and only when characteristics are available can the sales of new dwellings be used to calculate a price/index. As a result a lower number of new dwelling sales is available to calculate the initial price/index estimate in the current quarter, than for existing re-sold sales. This leads to a more volatile series for new dwelling prices/index.

Table 3.1: NI House Price Index for New/Existing Resold Dwellings

Dwelling Type	Index (Quarter 4 2018)	Percentage Change on Previous Quarter	Percentage Change over 12 months	Standardised Price (Quarter 4 2018)
New	124.0	1.8%	2.2%	£162,663
Existing Resold	122.6	1.2%	6.6%	£130,120
All	123.2	1.3%	5.5%	£136,669

Table 3.1 shows the price index and standardised price paid for new and existing resold dwellings in Northern Ireland in Q4 2018 compared to Q3 2018 and Q4 2017. New dwellings showed an increase of 1.8% over the quarter while existing resold dwellings showed an increase of 1.2%. The annual increase in the price of new dwellings was 2.2% while the price of existing resold dwellings increased by 6.6% since Q4 2017.

Figure 3.1 shows the price index trend for new and existing resold dwellings between Q1 2009 and Q4 2018. The price index of new dwellings rose by 93.3% from Q1 2005 to peak in Q3 2007 at 185.2, prices for pre-owned dwellings increased by 102.5% during the same period. Since the peak, prices for both dwelling types followed a downward trend until 2013. Price levels for existing resold dwellings bottomed out in Q1 2013 whereas price levels for new dwellings decreased between Q2 and Q3 2013. Prices of new dwellings increased each quarter since mid-2013 until Q4 2016.

The new dwellings index now stands at 124.0, 24.0% higher than Q1 2015 and 29.4% higher than Q1 2005. The existing resold dwellings index now stands at 122.6, 22.6% higher than Q1 2015 and 19.7% higher than Q1 2005.

Further analysis on prices of new and existing resold dwellings is available in the detailed statistics.

4. Sales Volumes

Table 4.1 shows the number of verified sales of each residential property type in Northern Ireland during each quarter between Q1 2009 and Q4 2018.

Verified residential property sales are defined as sales recorded by HM Revenue & Customs which could be matched to a domestic property in the NI Valuation List.

Between 2009 and 2011 the annual number of sales was roughly 11,000. From 2012-2017, the number of sales increased each year and in 2017 there were over 24,500 sales.

In Q4 2018, there were 5,736 verified residential property sales. This brings the provisional total for 2018 sales to 23,687. This number will be revised upwards in the next publication due to late sales notified to HMRC and new properties being entered into the NI Valuation List.

In 2009 the single largest type of properties sold were semi-detached houses, around 35%. During 2014 the most popular choice for dwellings sold was detached (32%), however since 2015, semi-detached sales are once again the preferred choice (34%).

Apartment sales have remained steady over the period at around 8% of all sales.

Table 5.1 shows the NI House Price Index and standardised price for each Local Government District in Northern Ireland at Q4 2018.

Although the index increased over the quarter in ten council areas, the increase was very small (less than 1%) in four of the council areas. The index for properties in Derry City and Strabane saw the largest increase over the quarter of 4.9%. The prices for properties in Mid and East Antrim showed a decrease (2.2%) over the quarter.

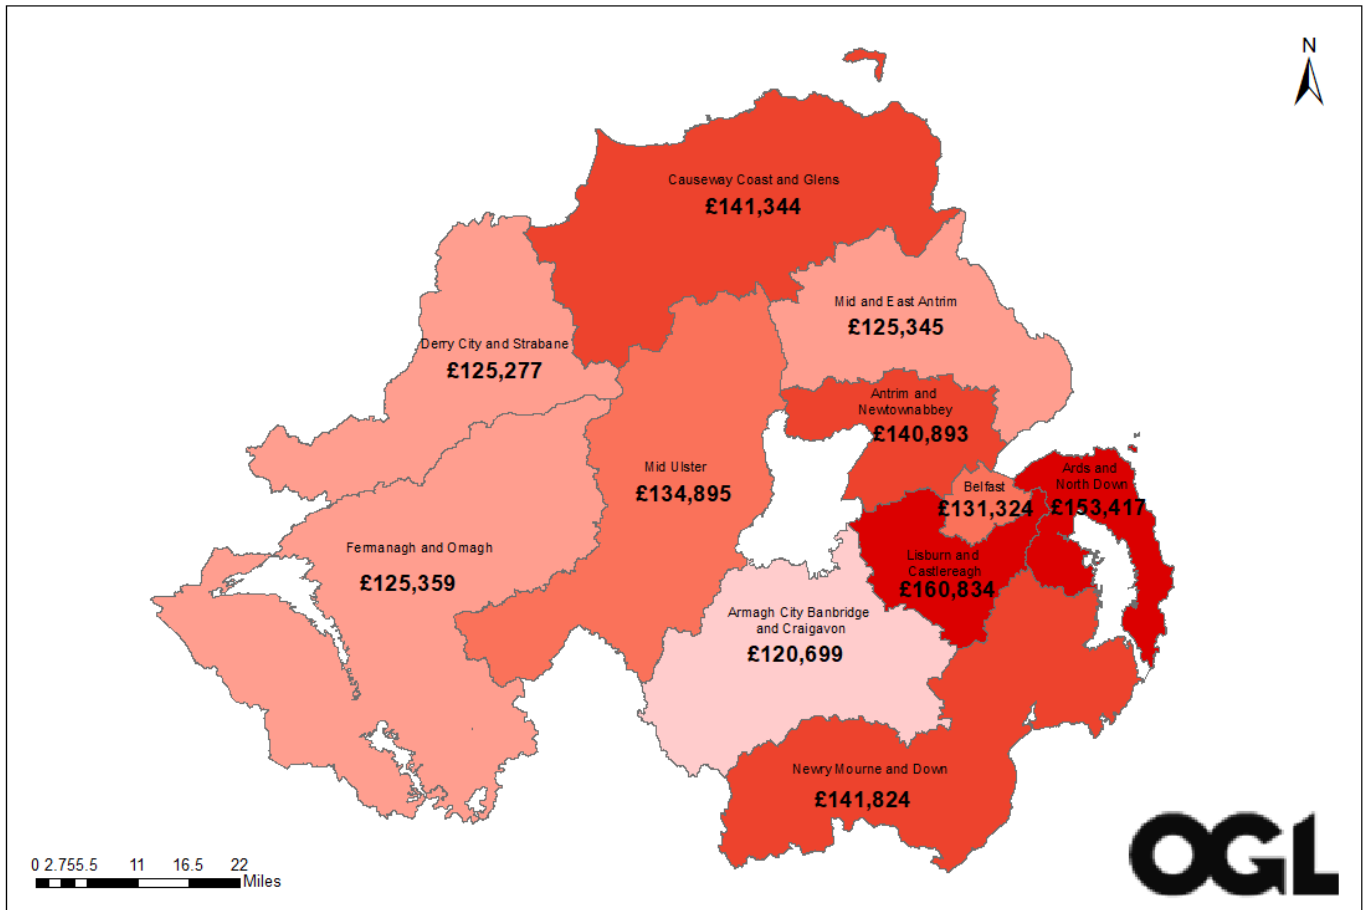

All council areas showed an increase over the 12 months since Q4 2017. Mid and East Antrim showed the smallest increase of 1.6%, while the index for Belfast was 7.7% higher than Q4 2017.

6. Economic Context

House prices are often considered within the economic context of a region. The latest Department for the Economy (DfE) monthly economic update (January 2019) provides an overview of the state of the Northern Ireland economy, setting it in context with the UK and Republic of Ireland. This can be found at:

<https://www.economy-ni.gov.uk/publications/dfe-monthly-economic-update>

The most up-to-date official statistics on the economy and labour market are available on the Economy page of the Northern Ireland Statistics and Research Agency (NISRA) website at

<https://www.nisra.gov.uk/statistics/economy>

To set the NI HPI within this economic context, the Northern Ireland Composite Economic Index (NICEI – an experimental official statistic <https://www.nisra.gov.uk/statistics/economic-output-statistics/ni-composite-economic-index>), along with the UK and Republic of Ireland GDP indices have been presented with a graph of the NI house prices at Figure 6.1. Underneath is an economic time line showing key world, European, UK and NI events.

To illustrate the relationship between the three indices in figure 6.1 the NICEI, UK and ROI indices are referenced to Q1 2015 = 100.

2009	2010	2011	2012	2013	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018

The graph shows how the fall in prices from the Q3 2007 peak has most closely aligned to the NI economic performance. ROI GDP reported a dramatic rise in Q1 2015, more details can be found at <http://www.cso.ie/en/releasesandpublications/er/na/quarterlynationalaccountsquarter12016/>

Source: Annual Survey of Hours and Earnings, NISRA

<https://www.nisra.gov.uk/statistics/labour-market-and-social-welfare/annual-survey-hours-and-earnings>

Figure 6.2 shows the ratio of median sale price of residential properties in Northern Ireland to median annual gross earnings of all full time employees in Northern Ireland for each year between 2005 and 2018.

In 2005 median house prices were just over five times a median annual full time salary, but by 2007, at the peak of the market, prices were more than 9 times the median salary. With the downturn in the property market since 2008, the ratio fell each year until 2012. The ratio rose in 2014, 2016 and 2017 but dropped back very slightly in 2018. The median residential property sale price is now 4.8 times the median annual gross full time earnings.

The annual gross earnings figures are published annually in the autumn.
