Introduction

1. It has become increasingly important to understand how Northern Ireland is viewed and thought about by other countries around the globe. Northern Ireland's international reputation will affect people's willingness to live, study, visit, do business with, and invest here, and this can have a significant impact on the economy.
2. In order to assess and monitor its international reputation, Northern Ireland has been included in the Anholt GfK-Roper Nation Brands IndexSM (NBISM) for the first time in 2016.
3. The NBISM is an analytical tool which attempts to measure and rank the broad international reputation of 50 nations, across six dimensions of national competence: Exports; Governance; Culture; People; Tourism; and Immigration and Investment.
4. The 2016 NBISM involved the completion of over 20,000 online surveys, in 20 major developed and developing panel countries, with at least 1,000 per panel country.
5. The overall NBISM score is an average of the scores from six dimensions. The score for each dimension is calculated using scores from three to five questions (attributes). Rankings are based on Northern Ireland's scores relative the other 49 participating nations.
6. All rankings presented in the report are out of 50. The overall NBISM score and the score for each of the six dimensions are indexed to 100, while the score for each of the attributes are averaged from respondents' scores, based on a scale from 1 to 7 (with 7 being the highest and best, and 1 being the lowest and worst).
7. More information on the methodology used, including more detail on each of the dimensions and attributes, the 50 participating nations and the 20 panel countries can be found in an accompanying methodological document, available from: <https://www.executiveoffice-ni.gov.uk/articles/equality-research-publications>.

Overall result

8. Northern Ireland was ranked 21st out of 50 nations on the 2016 NBISM, with an overall score of 57.93.
9. Although Northern Ireland is ranked 21st, its score is closer to top scoring nations than the lowest.
10. The overall rank is determined by the rankings received for the six key dimensions displayed in Figure 1. The rankings for each dimension ranged from 20th to 29th and these are discussed later in the report.

Rankings and scores from around the globe

11. Figure 2 illustrates the overall NBISM ranking Northern Ireland received from each of the panel countries. Northern Ireland received higher overall rankings from western European and Anglo–American nations, with the highest overall ranking received from the United Kingdom (18th out of 50). Relatively high rankings were also received from Germany, France, Italy, Sweden, Canada, the United States and Australia (all of whom ranked Northern Ireland either 20th or 21st overall).
12. Lower rankings were received from countries outside of this group of western European and Anglo–American nations. Northern Ireland received its lowest rankings from India and Egypt (both 37th), with relatively low rankings also received from Russia (28th), China (29th), Mexico (27th) and Argentina (26th).
13. While rankings provide an insight into how Northern Ireland is viewed by panel countries relative to the other participating nations, the overall NBISM score provides a more absolute understanding of how Northern Ireland is viewed, both overall and by each of the individual panel countries. In this sense, it is useful to consider both rankings and scores.
14. Northern Ireland received its highest overall NBISM scores from India (62.80), Brazil (60.98) and the United Kingdom (60.41). The lowest overall NBISM scores were received from Japan (51.56), South Korea (54.98) and Sweden (55.04).
15. Northern Ireland's relatively high rank (20th) and low score (55.04) from Sweden, contrasts with the relatively low rank (37th) and high score (62.80) from India. This suggests that the distribution of scores varies across different panel countries.

Rankings for dimensions and attributes:

16. In terms of the six core dimensions which determine the overall score and ranking, Northern Ireland was ranked highest in relation to Governance (20th), Immigration and Investment (20th) and People (22nd). Lower rankings were evident for Exports (25th), Tourism (28th) and Culture (29th) (Table 1).
17. In terms of the 23 composite attributes, Northern Ireland was ranked relatively highly in relation to the environment (19th), the employability of its people, quality of life, as a good place to study for educational qualifications, equality, rights and fairness, somewhere to work and live, peace and security, reducing poverty, and competent and honest governance (all 20th).
18. Northern Ireland was ranked lower in relation to sporting excellence (31st), historical buildings (31st), cultural heritage (31st), and vibrant cities (28th).

Scores for dimensions and attributes:

19. Tourism was scored highest out of the six core dimensions (63.27) despite the associated low ranking (28th). Northern Ireland's People (61.89) and Governance (57.96) also received high overall scores. The lowest overall score was reported for Exports (53.76).
20. Examining the 23 composite attributes, Northern Ireland received its highest scores for natural beauty (5.05) and as somewhere respondents would like to visit if money was no object (4.82).¹ Northern Ireland scored lowest in relation to sporting excellence (3.99), having businesses that respondents would like to invest in (4.01), and its contribution to innovation in science and technology (4.04).
21. Full details on the rankings and scores Northern Ireland received from each of the 20 panel countries can be found in Annexes 1 and 2.

¹ Scores for the composite attributes are an average of respondents' scores to questions on a scale from 1 to 7, with 7 being the highest and best, 1 being the lowest and worst, and 4 being the middle position which is neither positive nor negative. See accompanying Methodological Document for further information: <https://www.executiveoffice-ni.gov.uk/articles/equality-research-publications>

Note: All rankings presented in the table above are out of 50. The overall score for each of the core dimensions on the NBI are indexed to 100. The score for each of the 23 attributes are averaged from respondents scores based on a scale from 1 to 7 (with 7 being the highest and best, 1 being the lowest and worst, and 4 being the middle position which is neither positive nor negative). Dimension scores are calculated using the scores received from each of its composite attributes.

Familiarity and Favourability

22. As part of the NBISM survey, respondents were asked to rate how aware they are of and how favourable they are towards each nation. The 'familiarity' score is presented as a percentage of respondents who had at least some knowledge of Northern Ireland, while the 'favourability' score is an average of respondents' scores based on a scale of 1 to 7.²
23. Results from the 2016 survey show that 51% of respondents reported that they had some familiarity with Northern Ireland, resulting in a 'familiarity' ranking of 43rd out of the 50 participating nations.
24. In contrast, Northern Ireland scored relatively highly in terms of favourability (score of 4.57, giving a rank of 21st out of 50 participating nations). None of the 20 panel countries scored below 4.0 (the 'neutral' score in the range from 1 to 7), suggesting that Northern Ireland is viewed positively by all panel countries.

Purchased products or visited sites

25. As part of the NBISM survey, respondents were also asked if they had purchased products / services or visited websites from each nation. Results show that 8% of respondents had purchased a product from Northern Ireland (ranked 40th), while 15% of respondents reported that they had previously visited a Northern Irish website (ranked 33rd).
26. When these results were combined, Northern Ireland was ranked 41st overall in relation to the percentage of respondents who had purchased a product from Northern Ireland and / or had visited a Northern Irish website (21%).
27. Of the 20 panel countries, India (43%), the UK (31%), Mexico (29%) and Poland (29%), had the highest proportions of respondents who had purchased a product from Northern Ireland and / or had visited a Northern Irish website (Figure 3).
28. Respondents who had visited a Northern Irish website and / or had purchased a product from Northern Ireland scored Northern Ireland significantly higher in five of the six core dimensions (with the exception of Tourism) than respondents who had not.³

² With 7 being the highest and best, 1 being the lowest and worst, and 4 being the middle position which is neither positive nor negative. Please see accompanying Methodological Document for further information: <https://www.executiveoffice-ni.gov.uk/articles/equality-research-publications>

Proportion of the sample who had visited Northern Ireland

29. Results from the 2016 NBISM revealed that only 8% of the sample had previously visited Northern Ireland to take a vacation and / or for business purposes. This resulted in Northern Ireland ranking 38th in regards to foreign visits. Table 2 shows that a higher proportion of the sample had visited Northern Ireland for vacation (5%) than for business (3%).

30. A high proportion of respondents from the UK (28%) had visited Northern Ireland. Relatively high proportions of respondents from Italy (13%), India (11%), France (10%), Sweden (10%), and the United States (10%) had also visited Northern Ireland. In contrast, few respondents from the Latin American nations [Argentina (3%), Mexico (3%) and Brazil (4%)], or certain Asian nations [Japan (2%) and South Korea (3%)] had previously visited Northern Ireland for any reason.
