Mr Wilson: It is proposed to make a major revision to the Building Regulations by 30 March 2012. However this is dependent on final clearances being given, and may be subject to variation.

When reviewing the requirements of the Northern Ireland Building Regulations the Department takes into consideration revisions that have been, or are being, made to the building regulations in England and Wales. Such revisions are made based on the outcomes of research which has been undertaken by the Department for Communities and Local Government on behalf of the UK administrations.

Included in the proposed Northern Ireland (NI) updated regulations, will be amendments to the standards for the conservation of fuel and power, ventilation, sound insulation and reducing the risk of scalding, all of which have already been made in England and Wales. In general, implementation in England and Wales has been positive. If appropriate, the same revisions will be adopted for NI (e.g. the use of accredited details in place of pre-completion sound insulation testing) however it is proposed that some revisions will not be adopted (e.g. removal of internal door closures in flats). There are also circumstances where variation from the England and Wales implementation is justified in the circumstances which prevail in NI, e.g. installation of carbon monoxide alarms where solid fuel or oil fired appliances are being replaced or installed will extend in NI to all appliances regardless of fuel.

Building Control: Data-sharing Pilot

Mr Kinahan asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel, in relation to the building control data sharing pilot between Belfast City Council and Antrim Borough Council, whether (i) this will be extended to all councils; and (ii) his Department will be issuing guidance.

(AQW 9080/11-15)

Mr Wilson: Land & Property Services (LPS) and Councils Building Control representatives have been reviewing the specification of property survey details required in the rating service and the options for how the details could be provided. The investigations are being conducted through the newly formed Property Services Liaison Group and the outcome will be presented to Building Control Managers at their Annual General Meeting on 19th April 2012.

A key point in the investigations is that LPS has been trying to work across Government so that property information needed for a variety of reasons can be collected by one visit to the property.

Following the Building Control meeting in April, Councils will be invited to comment on their capacity and willingness to provide survey information under the new arrangements. The implementation of the agreed new arrangements across Councils will be subject to acceptable contractual agreements.

Guidance in this matter will be provided to Councils.

EU Fiscal Treaty

Mr Storey asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel for his assessment of the potential financial implications for Northern Ireland if the electorate in the Republic of Ireland votes against the EU fiscal treaty in the forthcoming referendum.

(AQW 9105/11-15)

Mr Wilson: The Irish referendum on the treaty is very much a matter for the Irish Government and electorate to determine.

Should the Republic of Ireland fail to ratify the EU fiscal treaty, it is my understanding that it would be blocked from future EU bailout funding. So there is a clear trade-off in terms of agreeing to tighter fiscal controls and protecting against the risk of any future financial crises.

While there are no direct financial implications for Northern Ireland, obviously we have close links with the Republic of Ireland, particularly in terms of trade and our banking systems. So having a stable and prosperous Irish economy is very much in our interests here in Northern Ireland in both regards.

Hospitality: Spend

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel, pursuant to AQW 8071/11-15, whether the figures provided include his Department's arm's-length bodies; and if not, to provide this information for each of the last five years.

(AQW 9266/11-15)

Mr Wilson: The figures previously provided in response to AQW 8071/11-15 include the Department's arms-length bodies, and as such no further information is required.

Individual Voluntary Arrangements

Mr D McIlveen asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel how many people in each constituency have entered into Individual Voluntary Arrangements in each of the last three years.

(AQW 9400/11-15)

Mr Wilson: The table below shows the number of people entering into Individual Voluntary Arrangements (IVAs) broken down by constituency and financial year since 1 April 2008 to 8 March 2012.

Department of Health, Social Services and Public Safety

Diabetes: Insulin Pump Therapy

Mr McDevitt asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety why there has been a delay in issuing pumps to patients with diabetes; and what plans he has to speed up this process.

(AQW 9013/11-15)

Mr Poots (The Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety): In June 2009 my Department endorsed National Institute for Health and Clinical Excellence (NICE) Technology Appraisal No. 151 which sets out recommendations on the use of insulin pump therapy. The HSC has been working to provide access to insulin pumps in line with the Institute's guidance and significant progress has been made; however due to competing pressures for limited health and social care funding, there are currently waiting lists to start treatment.

Additional funding was secured in 2011-12 for an additional 80 pumps which will be made available for children this year and into 2012-13. I have also allocated additional funding of £2.5 million which has been used to procure an additional 1,100 insulin pumps for adults and children. These will be phased in over the four year period to 2015-16. Nonetheless, the HSC continues to experience a rising demand for clinical and cost-effective treatments and medical devices, and further resources will be required to ensure that the therapies and the associated infrastructure required to support them can be provided.

Hospitals: Staff Vacancies

Mr McGlone asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety to detail the current number of positions for (i) consultants; (ii) registrars; (iii) senior house officers; and (iv) pre-registration house officers in each hospital, in each Health and Social Care Trust area.

(AQW 9058/11-15)

Mr Poots: Information on the number of funded positions within Northern Ireland Health and Social Care at the above grades, by hospital, is given in the table below.

Number of funded posts for Consultants, Specialty Registrars, Foundation House Officer 2 and Foundation House Officer 1 within Northern Ireland Health and Social Care by Hospital as at March 2012

Source: Northern Ireland Health and Social Care Trusts – Figures have not been validated by the DHSSPS.

Notes:

- Under Modernising Medical Careers, grading within the Medical and Dental Occupational Family was replaced by a new system. Information has therefore been provided within the new grading system framework.
- Belfast and Western Trusts encountered a coding issue between Specialty Registrars and Foundation House Officers Year 2, therefore due to the timescale for answering this AQW, these two staff groups have been combined.
- Belfast Trust advised that splitting those staff working in Joint Hospital Teams into individual hospitals would involve a large-scale exercise which would involve allocating the number of hours spent at each individual hospital for each doctor / dentist within the team.
- Some of the Trusts have also provided information for their community facilities.

Public Health Agency: Local Government Representative Members

Mr McCallister asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety, in relation to the appointments of two local government representatives to the Public Health Agency, to detail (i) whether the positions were advertised; (ii) how many applications were received, broken down by membership of political parties; (iii) how many applicants were interviewed, broken down by membership of political parties; and (iv) why representatives from different political parties were not appointed, (AQW 9116/11-15)

Mr Poots:

- (i) The appointment of two (2) Local Government Representative Members to the Public Health Agency was advertised by way of an "Information Flyer" which was issued to each individual District Councillor throughout the 26 District Councils. The Flyer was also issued to the Chief Executives of all District Councils requesting that they bring the information to the attention of the District Councillors serving in their area. A copy of the "Information Flyer" was also sent to the Northern Ireland Local Government Association (NILGA).
- (ii) A total of 21 applications were received. The table below shows a breakdown by membership of political parties.

| Political Party                         | Number of Applications |

- (iv) The appointments to the Public Health Agency were made in accordance with the Code of Practice issued by the Commissioner for Public Appointments for Northern Ireland and as with appointments to all Health and Social Care bodies, is a matter of Ministerial choice. Initially two applicants from two different political parties were appointed, however one of those was unable to accept the appointment due to health problems.

Belfast Health and Social Care Trust: Voluntary Redundancies

Mr Agnew asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety to detail (i) the estimated number of people who might take voluntary redundancy within Belfast Health and Social Care Trust's (a) Income Department, should the office relocate to Omagh; and (b) Payment Department, should the office relocate to Ballymena; (ii) number of people who might take voluntary redundancy within the Belfast Health and Social Care Trust area as a result of the office relocations in the Shared Services proposals; and (iv) to provide an estimate of how much the redundancy might cost in total, as a result of the shared services proposals. (AQW 9120/11-15)

Mr Poots: The Belfast HSC Trust has advised me that they are in the midst of a process of staff engagement in relation to these issues and are unable to give any estimates until the outcome of the consultation is known.

Resuscitation

Mr Swann asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety (i) whether he considered including community resuscitation in the Programme for Government; and (ii) for his assessment of the British Heart Foundation's campaign for the inclusion of a community resuscitation strategy in the Programme for Government.

(AQW 9132/11-15)

Mr Poots: You will have noted the concerted effort, across the Executive, to restrict the Programme for Government Targets to a smaller number that are sharply focused and outcome based.

The Programme for Government is concerned with major strategic developments rather than existing provisions. Standard 9 of the Cardiovascular Health and Wellbeing Service Framework requires Health and Social Care professionals to work with schools, workplaces and communities to raise awareness of, and access to, emergency life support skills. The implementation of this standard will mean that many more people will have access to ELS training.

In addition a regional business case application to fund Community Development Resuscitation Officers in each Trust is currently with the Health and Social Care Board for consideration.

Northern Ireland Electronic Care Pilot Project: Hewlett Packard

Mr Agnew asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety, pursuant to AQW 8019/11-15, to detail (i) Hewlett Packard's role in this project; (ii) whether it was awarded the contract on the basis that it will be the prime contractor; and (iii) the selection process.

(AQW 9176/11-15)

Mr Poots: Hewlett Packard's role in the Northern Ireland Electronic Care Record project is to provide procurement services under the Technology Partner Agreement. The Agreement is a framework aimed at providing an efficient and effective route to the procurement of a broad range of ICT equipment and services. Hewlett Packard's role in the procurement of the Northern Ireland Electronic Care Record will be to engage with the supplier to provide the technical solution.

The framework was awarded to Hewlett Packard in August 2009 following a fully compliant OJEU procurement under the Public Contract Regulations 2006 which was conducted using the competitive dialogue procedure provided for in those regulations. The framework was let for a period of 4 years and will be due for renewal in 2013.

Emergency Life Support Skills

Mr Agnew asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety to detail (i) whether his Department has any intentions of collaborating with the Department of Education to seek to introduce the compulsory delivery of Emergency Life Support Skills in schools, workplaces and communities; and (ii) a timescale for the implementation of the strategy.

(AQW 9240/11-15)

Mr Poots: Compulsory teaching of Emergency Life Support (ELS) skills in schools is a matter for the Minister for Education to consider.

Standard 9 of the Cardiovascular Health and Wellbeing Service Framework requires Health and Social Care professionals to work with schools, workplaces and communities to raise awareness of, and access to, emergency life support skills. The implementation of this standard will mean that many more people will have access to ELS training.

I will be meeting the Minister for Education in the near future to discuss a range of matters that are of mutual interest and we will be discussing ELS training in schools at that meeting.

Child/Adult Protection: Vetting and Barring Scheme

Mrs Overend asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety for his assessment of (i) the Vetting and Barring Scheme; and (ii) the maintenance of the Independent Safeguarding Authority's barred lists for the children and vulnerable adult sectors.

(AQW 9270/11-15)

Mr Poots: The Vetting and Barring Scheme was introduced for the purpose of strengthening child and adult protection arrangements in certain work place situations, that is, those situations which provide significant access to children and vulnerable adults. I remain committed to the Vetting and Barring Scheme and to its implementation on a cross-border basis. We are in the process of putting in place legislation, which will support changes to the Scheme recommended by a review of the Scheme conducted in 2010. In my view, those changes will achieve a more balanced approach, which continues to have the protection of children and vulnerable adults as its core aim.

The Independent Safeguarding Authority (ISA) assumed responsibility for barring decision-making from the Department of Health, Social Services and Public Safety (DHSSPS) and the Department of Education in March 2009 under the Safeguarding Vulnerable Groups (Northern Ireland) Order 2007. Subject to the conclusion of the successful passage of the Protection of Freedoms Bill at Westminster, the ISA will be subsumed into a new Disclosure and Barring Service (DBS) later this year. Northern Ireland Ministers have agreed that the barring function of the Disclosure and Barring Service will extend to Northern Ireland, undertaking the role previously undertaken by the ISA. As is currently the case with the ISA, Northern Ireland will have representation on the Board of the new DBS.

Dental Services: Tyrone County Hospital

Mr Buchanan asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety to detail (i) why the Western Health and Social Care Trust is proposing the withdrawal of the paediatric dental service at the Tyrone County Hospital, Omagh; and (ii) why the decision has been taken without any prior consultation.

(AQW 9300/11-15)

Mr Poots: The Western Health and Social Care Trust has advised that no paediatric services have been withdrawn from Tyrone County Hospital, however for reasons of patient safety day case paediatric surgery including dental surgery is currently the subject of review. The outcome of that review and any proposals for the future delivery of paediatric surgical and dental services will be shared with political representatives and interested parties and consultation will take place if required.

Dental Services: Tyrone County Hospital

Mr Buchanan asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety, in light of the proposed withdrawal of the paediatric dental service at the Tyrone County Hospital, what additional resources will be put in place at the Erne Hospital, Enniskillen and Altnagelvin Hospital, Londonderry, to cater for 2-14 year olds from Omagh who require multiple teeth extractions.

(AQW 9304/11-15)

Mr Poots: I am advised by the Western Health and Social Care Trust that the paediatric dental service continues to be provided at Tyrone County Hospital but as is the case with paediatric surgery at the Hospital the service is currently the subject of a clinical incident review. I understand the outcome of that review and any proposals for the future delivery of paediatric surgical and dental services will be shared with political representatives and interested parties as required.

Dental Services: Tyrone County Hospital

Mr Buchanan asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety, in light of the proposed withdrawal of the paediatric dental service at the Tyrone County Hospital and given that 239 children used this service last year, for his assessment of the potential waiting times for children from the Omagh area if the service is withdrawn, considering that the current waiting times at the Erne Hospital, Enniskillen and Altnagelvin Hospital, Londonderry, exceed six weeks.

(AQW 9305/11-15)

Mr Poots: I am advised by the Western Health and Social Care Trust that if a paediatric dental patient had to be referred to the Erne at present they would be offered an appointment within 2 – 3 weeks. If a paediatric dental patient had to be referred to Altnagelvin at present they would be offered an appointment within 3 weeks. The Trust is increasing the number of paediatric dental patients being seen on the current lists. They have an additional session in the Erne Hospital with the possibility of another additional session per month if required.

Physiotherapy Graduates: Employment

Ms Lo asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety, pursuant to AQW 8238/11-15, what specific actions his Department is taking to assist physiotherapy graduates who are currently unemployed.

(AQW 9309/11-15)

Mr Poots: My Department carries out workforce reviews for each clinical professional group, including physiotherapy. This provides information to support decision making on the commissioned numbers required to support service delivery. For 2010/11, the commissioned number was reduced by 10 to 59 and has remained at this level for 2011/12 to reflect both the current and projected level of demand for newly qualified staff.

Trusts have a limited number of substantive posts for physiotherapy graduates and the Department is currently assessing the commissioning position for the 12/13 academic year.

Northern Ireland Electronic Care Pilot Project: Hewlett Packard

Mr Agnew asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety, pursuant to AQW 8019/11-15 (i) whether the contract awarded to Hewlett Packard, as part of the Northern Ireland Electronic Records Project, was put out to tender, and if not, to explain the rationale for this decision; (ii) how much Hewlett Packard has estimated that it will charge his Department for carrying out the work; and (iii) how much it has billed his Department to date.

(AQW 9328/11-15)

Mr Poots: The contract awarded to Hewlett Packard was as a result of a tendering exercise. Hewlett Packard will charge £33k for carrying out the work, none of which has been billed to date.

Suicide: Alcohol/Drug Dependency

Mr S Anderson asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety (i) how many people aged (a) under 25; (b) between 25-34; (c) between 35-44; and (d) 45 and over committed suicide in each of the last three years, broken down by Health and Social Care Trust area; and (ii) of these, how many were being treated for (i) alcohol; and (b) drug dependency.

(AQW 9335/11-15)

Mr Poots:

(i) The below table gives the number of deaths registered due to 'suicide and self-inflicted injury'<sup>1</sup> and 'undetermined injury whether accidentally or purposefully inflicted'<sup>2</sup> by age group for each year between 2008 and 2010 by Health and Social Care Trust.

1 International Classification of Diseases, Tenth Revision codes X60-X84, Y87.0

2 International Classification of Diseases, Tenth Revision codes Y10-Y34, Y87.2

Table: Number of registered deaths due to 'suicide and self-inflicted injury' and 'undetermined injury whether accidentally or purposefully inflicted' by age group and Health and Social Care Trust, 2008-2010.

(ii) Information relating to the number of death due to suicide by people who were being treated for alcohol or drug dependency is not available.

Schmallenberg Virus

Mrs Dobson asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety what discussions he has had with officials within his Department, and the Department of Agriculture and Rural Development, in relation to the potential risk to public health posed by the Schmallenberg Virus; and what protective measures his Department has or plans to put in place as a result of the threat of an outbreak.

(AQW 9363/11-15)

Mr Poots: At national level a multidisciplinary expert group has assessed the likely risk to human health of Schmallenberg virus. This assessment, dated 24 February 2012, is on the Health Protection Agency's website at: http://www.hpa.org.uk/webc/HPAwebFile/HPAweb\_C/1317132996975

In its assessment the expert group recognises that many uncertainties exist about this new virus, and considers that on the basis of current evidence it is unlikely that it poses a risk to human health. This assessment will be kept under review as more information becomes available. However, given the evolving situation and the limited evidence currently available, the group recommends surveillance of those groups of people who are at the highest risk of exposure, including occupational groups such as farmers, veterinarians and other workers handling affected animals.

DHSSPS officials have discussed Schmallenberg virus with the Chief Veterinary Officer and with the Public Health Agency (PHA). Notices about the disease have been posted on the websites of the Department of Agriculture and Rural Development and the Agri-Food and Biosciences Institute. Should an outbreak occur in livestock in Northern Ireland, PHA will put in place surveillance arrangements similar to those that are now in place in England.

Human Papilloma Virus: Screening

Mr Durkan asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety whether his Department intends to introduce screening for the Human Papilloma Virus in all Health and Social Care Trust areas.

(AQW 9366/11-15)

Mr Poots: The UK National Screening Committee (NSC) is an expert body which advises all four UK Health Departments on all aspects of screening policy. The NSC is currently considering Human Papilloma Virus (HPV) testing as part of the Cervical Cancer Screening Programme and will be making a recommendation later this year.

In the interim the Department has requested the Public Health Agency to develop proposals and associated costs of HPV testing if a decision is taken for it to be introduced in Northern Ireland. A draft paper was discussed at a meeting of the Northern Ireland Screening Committee in January and the Committee asked for further details to be added to the paper. A final paper will be sent to the Department for consideration once the Public Health Agency has updated the report.

The Western Health and Social Care Trust is also undertaking a pilot on HPV testing within the cervical screening programme. This will provide useful information on the implications of introducing such a test in Northern Ireland.

A decision on the introduction of HPV testing to the Northern Ireland Cervical Screening Programme will then be taken once all this work is complete.

Defibrillators

Mr Durkan asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety how many defibrillators there are in Northern Ireland. (AQW 9368/11-15)

Mr Poots: It is not known how many Automated External Defibrillators (AEDs) there are in Northern Ireland as there is no register of AEDs.

The best information available is from a survey carried out by one healthcare professional approximately three years ago, which indicated that there were more than 800 AEDs in different locations across Northern Ireland including businesses, community settings and sporting organisations.

Sexual Health Promotion Strategy and Action Plan

Mr Durkan asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety for an update on the Sexual Health Promotion Strategy and Action Plan.

(AQW 9369/11-15)

Mr Poots: The regional multi-agency Sexual Health Improvement Network, established to oversee and drive forward the implementation of the Sexual Health Promotion Strategy and Action Plan, is progressing action in the areas of prevention, training, services and research. Such action includes the introduction and establishment of the HPV immunisation programme; the rerun of the first phase of the public information campaign targeted at 17-24 year olds to raise awareness of sexual health issues, promote safer sex and empower young people to delay first sexual experience; and ongoing action to deliver information, education and personal development programmes and outreach preventative programmes.

The Network has also identified key areas for action and is currently addressing these through sub-groups set up specifically to consider STI/HIV prevention in high risk groups; sexual health services in Primary Care; Looked after Children as a vulnerable group at high risk of teenage pregnancy and STIs; and support to teachers and schools regarding Relationship and Sexuality Education

Ear Syringing

Mr Kinahan asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety (i) how he ensures that there is adequate provision of ear syringe machines in health centres; and (ii) for his assessment of the proposal not to replace the existing machine in Antrim Health Centre.

(AQW 9397/11-15)

Mr Poots: The provision of ear syringing is a decision for each GP practice based in Health Centres. Although this treatment is usually carried out by Trust employed staff, it is at the request of the GP. The GP practice alone is responsible for purchasing the necessary equipment and consumables required to carry out this service, and I understand replacement equipment has been ordered by the GP practices and that it should be delivered by the end of March, if not sooner.

Ionised Water

Mr B McCrea asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety whether the Health Service uses ionized water; and to outline the benefits of using ionized water.

(AQW 9425/11-15)

Mr Poots: Health and Social Care Trusts have indicated that they do not use ionized water. Ionized water is marketed with claims of a number of health benefits however there is no clinical evidence to support these claims. ### Down's Syndrome: Northern Health and Social Care Trust

Mr McMullan asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety to detail the number of children with Down's Syndrome in the Northern Health and Social Care Trust area, broken down by area of birth.

(AQW 9430/11-15)

Mr Poots: As these figures are not available centrally within the Department, they were requested directly from the Northern HSC Trust. In response, the Trust provided the figures detailed in Tables 1 and 2 below. It is not possible to detail the figures in Table 1, by area of birth. However the figures in Table 2, detail children aged between 0-19 with Downs Syndrome born in the Northern Trust by area of birth, as at 9 March 2012.

Table 1: Children aged between 0 - 19 Years with Downs Syndrome resident in Northern Trust as at 9 March 20121

| Residence Area | Total |

Cervical Cancer: Screening Programme

Ms Lewis asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety how many women have been diagnosed with cervical cancer as a result of the Cervical Screening Programme in each of the last three years.

(AQW 9447/11-15)

Mr Poots: It is not known how many women have been diagnosed with cervical cancer as a result of the Northern Ireland Cervical Screening Programme, as smear tests for those women who present with symptoms are processed in the same way as those smears carried out through screening.

The most recent available full-year data on the incidence of cervical cancer are for 2009. The table below gives figures for the period 2007-2009.

Number of cases of cervical cancer by year of diagnosis

| Year of diagnoses | Number of cases |
| 2007              | 89              |
| 2008              | 127             |
| 2009              | 119             |

Shared Services: Public Transport

Mr Agnew asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety (i) what discussions he has had with the Minister for Regional Development in relation to the provision of public transport between Belfast and Omagh to facilitate staff who are relocated; (ii) whether he anticipates any compulsory redundancies as a result of Shared Services within (a) the Belfast Health and Social Care Trust's Income Department and the Payments Department; and (b) the rest of the Health Service; and (iii) whether staff in the Belfast Health and Social Care Trust will be offered the possibility of transfer to another department or location.

(AQW 9469/11-15)

Mr Poots: The answer to each question posed is as follows:

- (i) There have been no discussions with the Minister for Regional Development in respect of public transport links to any of the proposed shared service locations. The provision of transport will be a matter for consultation with the trade unions following a final decision on the shared services locations. A full range of transport options including car sharing, excess travel allowances, and use of Translink schemes will be considered for effectiveness and value for money;
- (ii) There are no plans for compulsory redundancy; and
- (iii) All affected staff have the right to follow their jobs. That course may not suit everyone, but every effort will be made to facilitate redeployment to posts close to current locations.

Rare Diseases

Mr McKay asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety whether he plans to launch a consultation on a local policy for rare diseases.

(AQW 9481/11-15)

Mr Poots: The 2009 European Commission Recommendation on Rare Disease obliges Member States to put in place a plan or strategy on rare diseases by 2013 which integrates all current and future initiatives at local, regional and national levels in the field of rare diseases. The UK Plan for Rare Diseases is being jointly produced by the four nations of the UK and a UK-wide public consultation was launched on 29 February 2012.

All responses to the consultation are being submitted directly to the Department of Health in England to co-ordinate on behalf of the four UK Health Departments. These responses, including those from Northern Ireland, will be assessed by all four Health Departments to inform the final version of the plan and resulting implementation plan.

Dental Services: Tyrone County Hospital

Mr McElduff asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety, in relation to the withdrawal of Paediatric Dental Services at the Tyrone County Hospital in Omagh, why the Western Health and Social Care Trust made a decision to withdraw the service without any consultation; and if he will make the necessary arrangements to have appropriate anaesthetist cover at Tyrone County Hospital so that this important service can be reinstated immediately.

(AQW 9502/11-15)

Mr Poots: The Western Health and Social Care Trust has advised that the paediatric dental service continues to be provided at Tyrone County Hospital but as is the case with paediatric surgery at the Hospital the service is currently the subject of a clinical incident review. I understand the outcome of that review and any proposals for the future delivery of paediatric surgical and dental services will be shared with political representatives and interested parties as required.

HEMS/Air Ambulance

Mr Hussey asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety, pursuant to AQW 3038/11-15, whether the Health and Social Care Board undertook a feasibility study on a helicopter emergency medical service; (ii) when the study was completed; and (iii) when and where the findings will be published.

(AQW 9625/11-15)

Mr Poots: I can confirm that, at my predecessor's request, the Health and Social Care Board (HSCB) commissioned consultants to undertake a feasibility study on the need for and sustainability and affordability of an HEMS/air ambulance for Northern Ireland. The HSCB expects the consultants to present a final report in April this year after which it will be submitted to my Department to consider. The Department will then decide what arrangements should be made for publication.

Department of Justice

Death by Careless Driving

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Justice, pursuant to AQW 6590/11-15, the answer to which was incomplete in relation to those processed through the courts on a charge of causing death by careless driving how many (i) pleaded guilty; and (ii) were acquitted.

(AQW 7567/11-15)

Mr Ford (The Minister of Justice): The offence under Article 11A, Road Traffic Act 1988, by virtue of Article 52 of the Criminal Justice (Northern Ireland) Order 2008, is 'Causing death or grievous bodily injury by careless driving or inconsiderate driving'. It only applies to offences committed after 16th July 2008.

Since this offence was created, full information is only available for the years 2009 and 2010:

HMP Maghaberry: Statement by Dr Michael Maguire

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice, since Dr Michael McBride's statement in 2009 that "there is a continuing gap between the Prison Service's stated intention and the delivery on-the-ground of meaningful outcomes for prisoners, especially at Maghaberry Prison" and that room remains for recommendations to be implemented in the "spirit" in which they were intended, which recommendations have been implemented in Maghaberry Prison; and what difficulties arose in relation to the full implementation of the recommendations.

(AQW 8530/11-15)

Mr Ford: The comments quoted would appear to be those of Dr Michael Maguire, as set out in the CJINI report of "An Inspection of the Treatment of Vulnerable Prisoners by the Northern Ireland Prison Service" published in December 2009.

CJINI conducted a follow-up of this inspection in 2011 and published a further report in January 2012. Of the six recommendations fully accepted by the N.I. Prison Service, CJINI inspectors concluded that one had been achieved, four partially achieved and one not achieved.

The 'not achieved' recommendation is a corporate issue relating to improving the recording of constructive activities. Good progress has been made in recent months in providing more meaningful data to the Prison Service Management Board.

Three of the 'partially achieved' recommendations are also corporate issues relating to action plans, safer custody and personal officers respectively. Efforts are now being made to more closely scrutinise inspection recommendations rather than simply accept them all; it is accepted that further work is required to ensure that prison staff focus more on outcomes rather than processes when dealing with prisoners at risk of self harm; and the Director General has advised Dr Maguire that the work of personal officers will be taken forward as part of the new roles for Prison Officers under the umbrella of the SEE Programme.

The remaining 'partially achieved' recommendation relates to the establishment of a prisoner forum at Maghaberry Prison. Prisoner forums do now take place in each residential unit and as a single forum for the whole prison in the chapel (except for separated prisoners and those prisoners held in Braid House) each month.

Prison Service: Private Investigators

Mr Givan asked the Minister of Justice, pursuant to AQW 8124/11-15, to outline the exceptional circumstances that would merit the use of private investigators; and to detail the protocol that exists to manage this process.

(AQW 8865/11-15)

Mr Ford: It is not possible to provide an exhaustive list of the circumstances where private investigators would be used as each case would be considered on its own merit. Since July 2011 the approval of the Director of Human Resources has been required before an authorisation can be given.

Prison Service: Private Investigators

Mr Givan asked the Minister of Justice, pursuant to AQW 7354/11-15, whether the private investigation firms that were used were vetted by the PSNI and given security clearance to carry out the investigations.

(AQW 8869/11-15)

Mr Ford: The Prison Service has no record indicating that the firms used had obtained PSNI security clearance.

Prison Service: Private Investigators

Mr Givan asked the Minister of Justice, pursuant to AQW 8126/11-15, how many of the seven employees are still members of the Prison Service staff; and what disciplinary action was taken against each staff member as a result of the investigations.

(AQW 8870/11-15)

Mr Ford: Only one of the seven employees is still a member of the NI Prison Service. Disciplinary action was initiated against one member of staff but the case was not proven.

Prison Service: Private Investigators

Mr Givan asked the Minister of Justice, pursuant to AQW 8126/11-15, who authorised the use of the private investigators; and in what years.

(AQW 8871/11-15)

Mr Ford: Authorisation to use private investigators was given as follows –

| Year | Authorised by                           |
|------|---|
| 2006 | Head of Personnel/Director of Personnel |
| 2008 | NIPS Claims Unit                        |
| 2009 | NIPS Claims Unit                        |
| 2009 | NIPS Claims Unit                        |
| 2009 | NIPS Pay and Employee Relations Branch  |
| 2010 | NIPS Pay and Employee Relations Branch  |
| 2010 | NIPS Pay and Employee Relations Branch  |

Prison Officers: Complaints

Mr McKay asked the Minister of Justice how many (i) complaints from prisoners; and (ii) grievances from fellow officers, have been received about the behaviour of Prison Service officers in each of the last three years.

(AQW 8928/11-15)

Mr Ford: The number of complaints/grievances received about the behaviour of Prison Service officers in each of the last 3 years is set out below:

| Year | No. of Complaints/GrievancesPrisoners Visitors Total |
|------|--|
| 2009 | 151 *not available 151                                   |
| 2010 | 373 9 382  |

| Year | No. of Complaints/GrievancesPrisoners Visitors Total |
|------|--|
| 2011 | 641 24 665   |

* The figures for visitor complaints are only readily available from August 2010

Prisons: Human Rights Violations

Mr McKay asked the Minister of Justice for his assessment of the level of human rights violations in prisons.
(AQW 8929/11-15)

Mr Ford: The Northern Ireland Prison Service is subject to ongoing and regular scrutiny from a number of outside bodies who are concerned with the treatment of offenders. I am not aware of any reports of human rights violations against prisoners in our care.

Prisons: Offensive Weapons

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice, pursuant to AQW 8082/11-15, to list the type of offensive weapons seized in each prison facility.

(AQW 8930/11-15)

Mr Ford: The type of offensive weapon found in each prison facility is as follows:

| Establishment   | Description  |
|---|--|
| Maghaberry  | Improvised shank                                     |

HMP Maghaberry: Incident on 30 July 2011

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice, in relation to the incident in HMP Maghaberry on 30 July 2011 (i) what damage was caused; (ii) what was the cost of repairing the damage; (iii) in what section of the prison the incident occurred; (iv) whether any staff were injured; (v) how many prisoners were involved; and (vi) what action was taken against those involved.

(AQW 9003/11-15)

Mr Ford: Maghaberry prison has no record of an incident taking place on 30 July 2011 that involved damage to property by prisoners, injury caused to staff or prisoners or would have breached the good order and safety of the prison.

Prisoners: Drug Use

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice, pursuant to AQW 8058/11-15, to list the types of drugs seized in each prison facility. (AQW 9007/11-15)

Mr Ford: The type of drugs seized in each prison facility as a result of the searches outlined in AQW 8058/11-15 are as follows:

- Maghaberry – amphetamines, barbiturates, benzodiazepines, cannabinoids, cocaine, opiates, steroids and non specified drugs.
- Magilligan – amphetamines, barbiturates, benzodiazepines, buprenorphine, cannabinoids, cocaine, opiates, steroids and non specified drugs.
- Hydebank Wood – amphetamines, benzodiazepines, cannabinoids, cocaine, steroids and non specified drugs.

Court Cases: Non-jury

Mr McKay asked the Minister of Justice how many non-jury court cases have taken place in each of the last ten years. (AQW 9072/11-15)

Mr Ford: The table below details the number of non-jury cases disposed of in the Crown Court each year from 2002.

Non-Jury Cases and Defendants Dealt With in the Crown Court

| Year                | Defendants | Cases |
|---------------------|------------|-------|
| 2002                | 113        | 72    |
| 2003                | 111        | 71    |
| 2004                | 77         | 65    |
| 2005                | 90         | 49    |
| 2006                | 91         | 61    |
| 2007                | 113        | 64    |
| 2008                | 72         | 33    |
| 2009                | 41         | 17    |
| 2010                | 28         | 17    |
| 2011 <sup>[1]</sup> | 24         | 15    |

[1] 2011 figures are provisional.

Ulster Farmers' Union

Mr McQuillan asked the Minister of Justice what initiatives his Department has introduced which have involved the Ulster Farmers' Union. (AQW 9085/11-15)

Mr Ford: The forthcoming Community Safety Strategy will support efforts to make rural communities safer through preventing and reducing rural crime.

Following consideration of the Strategy by the Justice Committee and Executive, my officials will be working with other Departmental officials to develop a Community Safety Strategy Action plan. Consideration will be given to the delivery partners that are needed for all the strands of the Strategy, including that on rural crime. We would anticipate that the delivery partners will include other Government departments as well as the voluntary and community sector, and potentially the UFU.

The new Policing and Community Safety Partnerships, due to be established in April 2012, will have a key role in engaging and empowering individuals and communities to find solutions to locally identified concerns. Organisations representing the rural community can take the opportunity to engage with their local Policing and Community Safety Partnership, ensuring that their voice is heard.

There have been a number of events that the Ulster Farmers Union (UFU) have been directly involved in, including an advice centre on rural crime prevention, led by Larne District Policing Partnerships (DPP) and the PSNI in Larne, which was held on 5 December 2011. Another one was held in Larne on 14 March 2012.

In Ballymena there was a rural crime seminar held in November 2011 which was a partnership between the UFU, PSNI, Ballymena DPP & CSP. There was also a trailer marking event held in December 2011 with a further event on 13 March, all of which the UFU have been involved in.

There have been trailer marking events held throughout Northern Ireland which have involved the UFU including the PSNI's Farm Security Initiative.

Community Safety Partnerships have run events that have not directly involved the UFU but UFU have been kept up to date and local farmers have attended.

I met with Ulster Farmers Union to discuss Rural Crime and Policing on Tuesday 28 June 2011. The issue of not securing firearms was covered and remains a major concern. If a firearm is stolen as a result, the certificate holder is in breach of FAC conditions. In these circumstances the Chief Constable will revoke the FAC. The UFU members were encouraged to remind their colleagues of the law and guidance on firearms.

Court Cases: Non-jury

Mr Weir asked the Minister of Justice how many non-jury court cases, outside of petty sessions, have taken place in each of the last ten years.

(AQW 9097/11-15)

Mr Ford: The table below details the number of non-jury cases disposed of in the Crown Court in each year from 2002.

Non-Jury Cases and Defendants Dealt With in the Crown Court

| Year                | Defendants | Cases |
|---------------------|------------|-------|
| 2002                | 113        | 72    |
| 2003                | 111        | 71    |
| 2004                | 77         | 65    |
| 2005                | 90         | 49    |
| 2006                | 91         | 61    |
| 2007                | 113        | 64    |
| 2008                | 72         | 33    |
| 2009                | 41         | 17    |
| 2010                | 28         | 17    |
| 2011 <sup>[1]</sup> | 24         | 15    |

[1] 2011 figures are provisional.

Non-molestation Orders

Mr Weir asked the Minister of Justice how many Non-Molestation Orders have been issued in each of the last ten years.

(AQW 9101/11-15)

Mr Ford: Full year figures are only available since 2008 when the Northern Ireland Courts and Tribunals Service's Integrated Courts Operating System was introduced and collated electronic records.

The table below sets out the total number of Non-Molestation Orders issued in each of the last four years.

|              | 2008         | 2009         | 2010         | 2011         |
|--------------|--------------|--------------|--------------|--------------|
| Total | 7,759 | 7,370 | 6,598 | 7,028 |

Notes:

- (i) 2011 data is provisional.
- (ii) Includes interim and final orders.
- (iii) More than one order may be made in an individual case.

Car-jacking

Mr McQuillan asked the Minister of Justice what action his Department is taking to tackle car-jacking crime.

(AQW 9129/11-15)

Mr Ford: Carjacking was the subject of a No Named Day Motion in the Assembly on 28 February and the details requested are contained within the Hansard record of that day, which is widely available.

The issue of car-jacking is a matter for the Chief Constable, who is accountable to the Northern Ireland Policing Board. I am committed to respecting the operational independence of the Chief Constable and the role of the Policing Board. However, I have met with the Chief Constable about this issue and I have offered him all the necessary support of the Department in his efforts to tackle this crime.

Elderly People: Victims of Crime

Mr McQuillan asked the Minister of Justice what action his Department is taking to tackle crimes against elderly people. (AQW 9130/11-15)

Mr Ford: The safety of older and vulnerable people and ensuring they can live their lives free from the fear of becoming a victim of crime is a key priority for my Department and the wider Executive, as set out in the draft Programme for Government.

In Northern Ireland crimes against older people, especially violent crimes are relatively rare. Statistics show that people aged 65 or over are least likely to be the victims of violent crime, accounting for less than 2% of such victims last year though they constitute 14.5% of the population. However, I recognise that despite these statistics older and vulnerable people still have very real concerns about crime. My Department has taken a number of actions which will support the work of the wider justice agencies and Government in tackling crimes against older and vulnerable people and addressing the fear of crime.

They include the development of a comprehensive Strategic Framework for Reducing Offending. The framework aims to fundamentally reshape our approach to tackling the factors leading people into the criminal justice system and the obstacles which hinder them from getting back out of it. This is a broad project, with far-reaching links across a number of Executive Departments. The target for the publication of the draft framework is April 2012.

A new Community Safety Strategy, which will be published in the coming months, will include proposals which build on existing successful initiatives at regional and local level such as community safety wardens, intergenerational projects and Neighbourhood Watch schemes to address fear of crime and provide reassurance to the most vulnerable.

The introduction at a local level of the new Policing and Community Safety Partnerships will be central to the delivery of local actions to support older and vulnerable people.

In addition, the Lord Chief Justice has recently announced a priority list of areas where sentencing guidance for the judiciary will be developed. The principles underlying sentencing, expressed in this guidance, will include attacks on the vulnerable, including older people, as an aggravating factor in sentencing decisions. Alongside this work I have been considering a range of potential mechanisms by which greater transparency, consistency and understanding of sentencing practice might be achieved. I hope to announce proposals in the near future on how best these might be delivered in a way that will promote public confidence.

Legal Aid: Planning Decisions

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice in how many cases was legal aid granted to a party undertaking a judicial review on a planning decision by the Department of the Environment, in each of the last five years; and what is the cost of each case to date. (AQW 9138/11-15)

Mr Ford: The Northern Ireland Legal Services Commission has identified four cases where legal aid has been granted for judicial review of planning decisions by the Department of Environment in the last five years. Payment has been made in three of the four cases as follows:

| Financial Year    | Total Paid    |
|-------------------|---------------|
| 2009-2010         | £1,200        |
| 2011-2012         | £2,514        |
| 2011-2012         | £4,312        |
| Total Paid | £8,026 |

Prisoners: Day Release Offences

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice how many prisoners, including those in young offenders and juvenile justice facilities, have been charged with committing a criminal offence whilst on day release in each of the last twelve months, broken down by facility. (AQW 9145/11-15)

Mr Ford: Information in the form requested is not readily available for prisoners or young offenders within the Prison Service and could only be obtained/compiled at disproportionate cost.

In relation to Woodlands Juvenile Justice Centre, there is no information that can be provided due to current court reporting restrictions.

Sexual Offences: Anonymity before Trial

Mr P Ramsey asked the Minister of Justice why anonymity before a trial is not granted to people accused of sexual offences, as is the case in England. (AQW 9146/11-15)

Mr Ford: In its programme for government published in May 2010, the UK Government announced its intention to extend anonymity in rape cases to defendants in England and Wales. However, in November 2010, following publication of a report of an independent assessment of relevant research, the Government announced that it was dropping its plans as there was insufficient empirical evidence to support the introduction of defendant anonymity.

I have no plans to introduce defendant anonymity in such cases.

Prison Service: Disciplinary Investigations

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice whether the Prison Service has accumulated a bank of experienced investigators to use in disciplinary hearings, as was recommended in the 2009 Pearson Review Team Report.

(AQW 9151/11-15)

Mr Ford: The Northern Ireland Prison Service has a pool of experienced investigators to draw from for disciplinary investigations. The Prison Service is currently setting up a new Professional Standards Unit which will further improve the disciplinary process.

Prison Officers: Voluntary Staff Exit Scheme

Mr Hussey asked the Minister of Justice (i) how many prison officers have applied the Voluntary Staff Exit Scheme; (ii) how many of these prison officers will depart under the scheme; (iii) when those prison officers will leave their posts; (iv) how and when the prison officers who applied for the Scheme were informed of the timescale for their departure or otherwise; and (v) to which tax and National Insurance liabilities these prison officers will be subject.

(AQW 9163/11-15)

Mr Ford: 544 members of the Northern Ireland Prison Service applied for the Voluntary Early Retirement Scheme (VER). 224 applications have so far been approved of which 151 will leave on 31 March 2012. The departure of 73 individuals has been delayed for operational reasons. The remaining 320 of the applications received remain under consideration.

In accordance with the VER launch documentation which issued on 8 November 2011, NIPS wrote to all staff who applied for the exit scheme on 1 March 2012 informing them that the Voluntary Early Retirement Panel had met, and advising them of the panel's decision.

Those leaving the Northern Ireland Prison Service under the terms of the Voluntary Early Retirement Scheme must be taxed in accordance with the rules of H M Revenue and Customs. Consequently, any member of staff with a leaving date of 31 March 2012 will be taxed in the 2011/12 tax year.

Staff under state pension age will pay National Insurance Contributions in the 2011/12 tax year.

HMP Maghaberry: Fire

Mr Cree asked the Minister of Justice to outline the details and circumstances of the fire in a prison cell at Maghaberry Prison on 29 February 2012.

(AQW 9164/11-15)

Mr Ford: On 29 February 2012 at approximately 20.30 hours a prisoner set fire to his prison cell in the Care and Supervision Unit at Maghaberry Prison. As a precautionary measure, six prisoners were taken to an outside exercise yard and held there for a short period of time until the building was declared safe by the Northern Ireland Fire and Rescue Service. No prisoners were injured. One officer was taken to hospital with smoke inhalation but was discharged soon after. The damage sustained to prison property was minimal and was quickly cleaned and returned to service.

Judiciary: Complaints Procedure

Mr McElduff asked the Minister of Justice to detail the procedure for making a complaint about remarks made by members of the Judiciary to defendants and witnesses during court cases and in court judgements.

(AQW 9172/11-15)

Mr Ford: The Lord Chief Justice has statutory responsibility for determining complaints about the conduct of judicial office holders. The procedure is prescribed in the Lord Chief Justice's Code of Practice on Complaints. Hard copies are available on request, alternatively this can be viewed on the Northern Ireland Courts and Tribunals Service website:-

(<http://www.courtsni.gov.uk/en-GB/AboutUs/MakingAComplaint/ComplaintAboutJudicialOfficeHolder/Pages/default.aspx>)

Disciplinary Action: DOJ Staff

Mr Kinahan asked the Minister of Justice to detail the number of staff disciplinary actions taken by his Department in each of the last two years, at Staff Officer level and above, including details of the offence and the disciplinary sanctions applied.

(AQW 9187/11-15)

Mr Ford: Due to the low number of staff within the DOJ at Staff Officer level and above who have had disciplinary sanctions applied, the information requested will not be released. This is to protect the identity of the individuals concerned as disclosure would be contrary to the Data Protection Act 1998.

Courthouse Closures: Impact on Travelling Times

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice for his assessment of the impact on travelling arrangements under the proposed closure of court houses, given that the Minister for Regional Development has stated that he has no powers to support a transport service dedicated solely to people using the courts.

(AQW 9194/11-15)

Mr Ford: The Hearing Centre consultation exercise invited views on the impact that the proposed closures would have on court users. The availability and cost of public transport has been raised both in written responses and at public meetings. I wish to consider all of the matters raised by consultees, including an assessment of the impact of the proposals on travel arrangements, before making a decision.

Institutional Abuse: Convictions

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice how many people have been convicted of institutional abuse in each of the last ten years.

(AQW 9195/11-15)

Mr Ford: There is no definition of institutional abuse in law and no mechanism to register offences under the category of institutional abuse. Court conviction datasets therefore do not allow for the identification of these offences.

Courts Estate

Mr Campbell asked the Minister of Justice what is the expected timeline for the assessment of the Courts Estate, now that the consultation process has ended.

(AQW 9222/11-15)

Mr Ford: I plan to publish a consultee response document on the Hearing Centre Consultation by the end of June 2012.

Bench Warrant/Arrest Warrant: Confusion

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice whether, in order to avoid confusion, particularly in statistical collation, he will dispense with the terms of Bench Warrant and Arrest Warrant and introduce one title to be used by all courts.

(AQW 9258/11-15)

Mr Ford: It is customary to refer to warrants issued in the Crown Court as 'Bench Warrants', and to refer to warrants issued in the Magistrates' Courts and in the County Court as 'Arrest Warrants'. I do not have any plans to alter this practice. However, where appropriate, and in the interests of clarity, I will arrange for the different categories of warrant to be shown as a composite statistics in answers to Assembly Questions.

Thomas Ward: Sex Offender Treatment Programme

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice whether Thomas Ward engaged in any Sex Offender Treatment Programmes whilst in custody for his previous offence.

(AQW 9259/11-15)

Mr Ford: The information requested constitutes sensitive personal data as defined at section 2 of the Data Protection Act 1998. The disclosure of such information is likely to breach the data subject's rights under the Act and would be incompatible with the Data Protection Principles. The information cannot therefore be provided as requested.

Prison Officers: Criminal Offences

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice, pursuant to AQW 7767/11-15, AQW 7685-11-15 and AQW 8494/11-15, for his assessment of the answers in relation to the findings contained in the 2009 Pearson Review Team Report which state that the Prison Service needs a fair, swift and certain disciplinary system with zero tolerance for criminal offences of any kind.

(AQW 9260/11-15)

Mr Ford: The Prison Service is currently reviewing its existing disciplinary system. As part of that process it will consider the options available in terms of disciplining staff convicted of committing criminal offences.

Bangor Taxi Marshal Scheme: Funding

Mr Weir asked the Minister of Justice what funding is available for the continuance of the Bangor Taxi Marshall Scheme; and whether this funding can be drawn down by Police and Community Safety Partnerships to ensure that there is no gap in funding from 31 March 2012.

(AQW 9279/11-15)

Mr Ford: The Bangor Taxi Marshall Scheme is currently funded through the North Down Community Safety Partnership and is an initiative delivered through funding provided by my Department for Community Safety Wardens.

My Department has already written to North Down Borough Council to advise that funding for Community Safety Wardens will be made available for 2012/2013 financial year. It will be a matter for the Council, in conjunction with the Policing and Community Safety Partnership which will be established from 1 April 2012, if they wish to continue funding for the Taxi Marshall Scheme.

Prison Service: Employment Contracts

Mr B McCrea asked the Minister of Justice to outline the contracts of employment given to the (i) Director General; and (ii) Change Manager when they were appointed to the Northern Ireland Prison Service.
(AQW 9291/11-15)

Mr Ford: Colin McConnell was appointed as Director General of the Northern Ireland Prison Service from 4 January 2011, on secondment from the National Offender Management Service.

Colin Bennett was employed by the Strategic Investment Board on a fixed term contract for 3 years and seconded to the Northern Ireland Prison Service.

Driving without Insurance

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice, pursuant to AQW 8663/11-15, and given the confirmation that aiding and abetting crime is a criminal offence, whether this matter will now be reported to the PSNI with a view to prosecution.
(AQW 9330/11-15)

Mr Ford: The Northern Ireland Prison Service did not and does not consider that there was evidence of a criminal offence having been committed by staff, and concludes that the matter was appropriately dealt with under the internal discipline procedures.

Gerry McGeough: Legal Aid Costs

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice how much has been paid to date in legal aid for the defence of, and the actions taken by, Gerry McGeough; and for an estimate of the final total figure.
(AQW 9334/11-15)

Mr Ford: All claims have been received and paid in respect of representation at the Magistrates' Court. The total amount paid was £7,996.98 (excluding VAT of £1,399.47) to Mr McGeough's solicitor and £1,704.25 (excluding VAT of £298.24) to counsel.

Fees have also been paid to Mr McGeough's solicitor for three High Court Bail applications amounting to £2,191.33 (excluding VAT of £383.49).

To date claims for advice provided under the Police and Criminal Evidence Act (PACE) amount to £1,775.03 (excluding VAT of £310.63 and disbursements of £102.82).

Claims received and paid for representation at the Crown Court amount to £130,000 (excluding VAT of £26,000 and disbursements of £6,851.67) to Mr McGeough's solicitor and a total of £35,000.00 (excluding VAT of £7,000.00), has been paid to counsel.

Fees in respect of advice and assistance in relation to a Court of Appeal application amounting to £363.77 (excluding VAT of £72.75 and disbursements of £419.64) have been paid.

Civil legal aid fees have also been paid, in respect of a judicial review, amounting to £1880.92 (excluding VAT of £329.05 and disbursements of £660.65) to Mr McGeough's solicitor and £1539.00 has been paid to counsel.

No additional bills are expected.

Human Trafficking: Convictions

Mr Agnew asked the Minister of Justice how many convictions for human trafficking have been secured in each of the last three years.
(AQW 9401/11-15)

Mr Ford: Human trafficking offences may be prosecuted under the relevant sexual exploitation offence in Sections 57(1)(a), 57(1)(b), 58(1) and 59(1) of the Sexual Offences Act 2003. Paying for the sexual services of a prostitute subjected to force may be prosecuted under Section 53(a) of the same act.

Data for the calendar years 2007 to 2010 (the last year for which data are available) record one conviction in 2008 for the offence of 'Trafficking within the UK for the purposes of sexual exploitation (by another)'.

Data are collated on the principal offence rule; only the most serious offence for which an offender is convicted is included.

Probation Hostels: Belfast

Dr McDonnell asked the Minister of Justice to detail the total number of probation hostels in (i) North; (ii) South; (iii) East; and (iv) West, Belfast.
(AQW 9465/11-15)

Mr Ford: There are no probation hostels in Northern Ireland. The Probation Board for Northern Ireland works in close partnership with a range of voluntary and community organisations, and the Northern Ireland Housing Executive through Supporting People, to offer accommodation to offenders.

There are four approved premises in Belfast;

|-----------------------|--|
| North Belfast: | There are two hostels in North Belfast, one of which is temporarily closed for refurbishment. |
| South Belfast:        | There are two hostels in South Belfast.  |
| East Belfast:         | None.  |
| West Belfast:         | None.  |

Ballymoney Police Station: Closure

Mr Agnew asked the Minister of Justice to detail the rationale behind the decision to close the existing Ballymoney Police Station and build a new station on a new site.

(AQW 9468/11-15)

Mr Ford: The management of the police estate is a matter for the Chief Constable, who is accountable to the Northern Ireland Policing Board. I am committed to respecting the operational independence of the Chief Constable and the role of the Policing Board.

You may therefore wish to direct your question to the PSNI.

Royal Ulster Constabulary Athletic Association: Name Change

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Justice what role his Department has in promoting the change in the name of the Royal Ulster Constabulary George Cross Athletic Association.

(AQW 9490/11-15)

Mr Ford: My Department has no role in promoting a change in the name of the Royal Ulster Constabulary George Cross Athletic Association.

Royal Ulster Constabulary Athletic Association: Funding

Mr Hussey asked the Minister of Justice what funding his Department provides to the PSNI for the Royal Ulster Constabulary Athletic Association; and whether he intends to withdraw any funding should the Association not change its name.

(AQW 9503/11-15)

Mr Ford: The Police Service of Northern Ireland (PSNI) – and not the Department of Justice – funds the Royal Ulster Constabulary Athletic Association (RUCAA). The role of my Department has been to approve PSNI's requests to make payment, as the amounts are in excess of PSNI's delegated expenditure limits.

Whilst it is entirely a matter for the members of the RUCAA to determine what name the association is known by, I would support a change to the Police Athletic Association which would reflect the membership of the Association in an inclusive way.

Department for Regional Development

Terrorist Organisations: Illegal Commemorations

Mr Allister asked the Minister for Regional Development to detail how many terrorist commemorations to (i) Republicans; and (ii) Loyalists exist on property owned by his Department, and its arm's-length bodies, broken down by council area.

(AQW 2507/11-15)

Mr Kennedy (The Minister for Regional Development): I wish to apologise to the Member for the delay in answering this question. My Department does not maintain details of the terrorist organisations associated with illegal commemorations on property owned by it, or its arm's length bodies.

However, my Department's officials have advised of 34 such commemorations and I can confirm that 18 are located in the Newry and Mourne council area, 7 in the Fermanagh council area, 2 in the Limavady council area and 1 in each in the Armagh, Cookstown, Dungannon, Magherafelt, Omagh, Strabane and Derry City council areas.

Clonoe Martyrs Commemoration: Removal of Republican Banners and Posters

Lord Morrow asked the Minister for Regional Development what action is being taken to remove the republican banners and posters, advertising a Clonoe Martyrs commemoration, from departmental property in Counties Tyrone and Armagh.

(AQW 7765/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: My Department's Roads Service has advised that it has investigated this matter. Advice has been sought from the PSNI and further liaison will continue. The safety of Roads Service staff at all times will be paramount.

Buses: Bicycle Racks

Mr Agnew asked the Minister for Regional Development whether he would consider following the example set by the transportation authorities in Victoria, Canada and Maine, USA in providing funding to install bicycle racks onto buses, to encourage cycling and to facilitate a more integrated transportation network.

(AQW 8250/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: My Department is committed to encouraging cycling as outlined in the ongoing consultation on 'Building an Active Travel Future for Northern Ireland'. This draft strategy sets out the framework to help people choose more sustainable and active travel modes. A key aim is to encourage cycling and links to public transport as part of a more integrated transportation network. Capital funding for measures to encourage active travel is available under the active travel demonstration projects. This includes the potential of funding for cycle stands.

Translink has previously given consideration to the fitting of cycle racks to buses. However, the company decided not to do so because of a number of safety concerns.

The company's main safety issue with rear fitting racks is that they are fitted in a blind spot for the driver. It is also their view that the size and height of most front fitting cycle racks would obscure a substantial part of the driver's field of vision. Most service buses in Northern Ireland have deep front windscreens. Typical buses in North America have smaller windscreens where a cycle rack would not impinge on the driver's sight lines.

NI Water: Bonus Payments

Mrs D Kelly asked the Minister for Regional Development to confirm that, as part of the post-tender award of NIW contract C071, bonus payments of a minimum of £1500 per year were to be made available for embedded contract staff who achieved high standards, under the performance management system.

(AQW 8814/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: I have been advised by Northern Ireland Water (NIW) that it does not recognise the term 'embedded contract staff'. Employees of contractors engaged by NIW under tendered contract arrangements are not deemed NIW employees. As such, their contractual terms are a matter between themselves and the employing organisation.

As part of performance management arrangements included in the contract, the contractor engaged by NIW under tender C071 initially agreed to pay a collective annual bonus of a minimum of £1,500. However, following an internal review of this process, it was identified that NIW may be required to become engaged with an element of the performance management process. Given that the contract staff were not employees of NIW it was consequently agreed with the contractor that it would not be possible to implement the performance management arrangements.

NI Water: Embedded Contract Staff

Mrs D Kelly asked the Minister for Regional Development to confirm if the Head of the Mechanical and Electrical function within NI Water met with elected representatives of the embedded contract staff, engaged under NI Water tender C071, on the 27 January 2012; (ii) to detail the reasons for this meeting; (iii) who requested the meeting; (iv) the outcome of the meeting; and (v) whether the CEO of NI Water was aware of it.

(AQW 8815/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: I have been advised by Northern Ireland Water (NIW) that it does not recognise the term "embedded contract staff". Employees of contractors engaged by NIW under a tendered contract arrangement are not deemed NIW employees. NIW has confirmed that (i) its Head of Mechanical and Electrical Services did meet with some contractor employees on 27 January 2012, but they were not acting in the capacity of "elected representatives" for contract staff. (ii) The meeting was to discuss issues raised by the contractor employees about the Transfer of Undertakings and Protection of Employment (TUPE) transfer of contractor employees as a result of the award of a new technical support contract C527. (iii) The meeting was requested by a contractor employee. (iv) The Head of Mechanical and Electrical Services acknowledged the points raised by the contractor employees but advised that the TUPE transfer was a matter for the contractor not NIW. (v) The Chief Executive was not aware of this routine meeting with contractor employees.

Unadopted Roads: Ballymena/Ballymoney/Moyle

Mr McKay asked the Minister for Regional Development what roads in the (i) Ballymena; (ii) Ballymoney; and (ii) Moyle council areas have not been adopted; and which of these has an outstanding road bond.

(AQW 9002/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: My Department's Roads Service has advised that:-

- (i) Roads not yet adopted by Roads Service in Ballymena District Council Area:

Translink: Purchase of Gatwick Trains

Mr Allister asked the Minister for Regional Development, pursuant to AQW 8109/11-15 and AQW 8102/11-15, for his assessment of the situation where the detail of the amount of public funds spent on the acquisition of the Gatwick trains, and the associated work, is not available to the public; and what steps he will take to ensure that there is transparency on this issue. (AQW 9021/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: In answer to AQW 8109/11-15 and AQW 8102/11-15, I informed the Member that the information requested for specific costs relate to contracts Translink has entered into with other commercial organisations which are bound by confidentiality. The contracts involved were competitively tendered in line with EU procurement rules.

While this remains the case in relation to the detailed costs, in the interest of transparency, I can advise you that my Department provided overall funding of approximately £1.5 million for the original purchase and conversion of the Gatwick trains in 2001 and the subsequent purchase and conversion of the Driver Van Trailer referred to previously in AQW 8109/11-15.

AQW 2507/11-15

Mr Allister asked the Minister for Regional Development to explain the delay in answering AQW 2507/11-15; and when he will provide the answer.

(AQW 9025/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: I refer the Member to my answer to AQW 2507/11-15.

Roads: Cost of Planning and Design

Mr Dallat asked the Minister for Regional Development to detail the cost in professional fees for the planning and design of roads which have not yet been constructed, in each of the last ten years.

(AQW 9040/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: Details of the expenditure on professional fees for the planning and design of roads, which have not yet been constructed, in each of the last ten years, are provided in the table below:

| Year    | Spend On Professional Fees For The Planning And Design Of Roads Not Yet Constructed |
|---------|---|
| 2002/03 | £0  |
| 2003/04 | £85,000   |
| 2004/05 | £383,000  |
| 2005/06 | £1,405,000  |
| 2006/07 | £4,345,000  |
| 2007/08 | £7,725,000  |
| 2008/09 | £17,445,000   |
| 2009/10 | £20,750,000   |
| 2010/11 | £13,806,000   |
| 2011/12 | £10,824,000 (to the end of January)   |

It should be noted that a major road scheme typically takes six to seven years of development from inception to construction.

The marked increase in expenditure in recent years reflects the significant increase in investment in our roads infrastructure envisaged. Expenditure from 2008/09 onwards reflects the significant work to bring forward the A5 and A8 schemes, which are now confirmed to proceed to construction, and other schemes, such as the A6 (Londonderry to Dungiven and Randalstown to Castledawson), which are planned for construction in the draft Investment Strategy for Northern Ireland (2011/21) period.

Roads: North Down

Mr Weir asked the Minister for Regional Development to detail the road schemes that are planned to be carried out in the North Down constituency in 2012/13.

(AQW 9051/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: The detailed budget for the 2012/13 financial year has not yet been finalised and it is, therefore, not possible to provide details of future works programmes at this time.

I would remind the Member that, when works programmes are finalised, information on proposed roads schemes for each financial year can be found in Roads Service's Spring and Autumn Reports to Councils. These reports can be accessed from my Department's internet site at the following web address:

http://www.drni.gov.uk/index/freedom\_of\_information/customer\_information/cinformationtype-results.htm?signpost=Customer+information&informationType=Roads+Service+reports+to+councils

Road Bonds: Inactive Sites

Mr McMullan asked the Minister for Regional Development to detail (i) the total value of Road Bonds that are being held; (ii) who is liable for the bonds on inactive sites; and (iii) to detail the present owner of each inactive site.

(AQW 9087/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: My Department's Roads Service has advised that the total value of Road Bonds currently held is £112.5 million.

With regard to liability for the bonds on inactive sites, I am further advised that Road Bonds are held by the surety for the developer, but control of an inactive site would lie with the "responsible person" as defined in the Private Streets Order 1980. Depending on the state of progress on a particular site, the site could be under the control of the developer, an administrator or in the case of an Article 11 Notice having been served, the Department.

With regard to the present owner of each inactive site, this information is not readily available, as Roads Service may only be aware of the developer's name or who holds a bond, neither of whom may be the present owner.

A5: Costs

Mr Allister asked the Minister for Regional Development, pursuant to AQW 8320/11-15, what certainty attaches to the £330 million quoted as the cost involved, if there are no contract prices agreed for the two announced sections of the A5.

(AQW 9090/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: I can advise the Member that £330 million is the estimated cost of the A5 scheme being taken through to construction later this year. As with the majority of construction projects, the actual cost will not be apparent until the scheme is completed and accounts settled. The estimated cost has been compiled in accordance with best practice methods using the expertise of our scheme designers, cost consultants and the contractor who will carry out the works.

A5: Funding Package

Mr Allister asked the Minister for Regional Development, pursuant to AQW 8321/11-15, how much of the £330 million is allocated for (i) land acquisition; (ii) design; (iii) construction; and (iv) other outlay, in each section.

(AQW 9091/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: I should explain that the £330 million funding package agreed by the Executive is allocated on a total scheme basis.

My Department's Roads Service has advised that the current best estimates on allocations for the two sections of the A5 scheme are detailed in the table below.

Breakdown of allocations for land acquisition, design, construction and other costs for the two sections of the A5 Scheme

|                         | Section 1 - £m | Section 2 - £m | Total - £m |
|-------------------------|----------------|----------------|------------|
| Land (including blight) | 32             | 20             | 52         |
| Design                  | 10             | 15             | 25         |
| Construction            | 115            | 110            | 225        |
| Other Costs             | 13             | 15             | 28         |
| Total            | 170     | 160     | 330 |

Asbestos: Omagh Water Network

Mr McElduff asked the Minister for Regional Development (i) to detail the length of the asbestos pipes in the water network in the Omagh area; (ii) for his assessment of any associated health risks; and (iii) whether he has any plans to replace the asbestos pipes.

(AQW 9095/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: I have been advised by Northern Ireland Water (NIW) that (i) there are 81.5 kilometres of asbestos cement pipes providing drinking water in the Omagh area, representing around 5% of all water mains in the area.

- (ii) NIW is satisfied that there are no associated health risks with the use of asbestos cement pipes to supply drinking water. The World Health Organisation has undertaken a number of studies on the subject and concluded that, while inhaled asbestos is a known health risk, there is no consistent or convincing evidence that ingested asbestos is hazardous to health. The health concerns regarding asbestos cement pipes are related to occupational exposure during their manufacture, installation and disposal and these are covered by industry regulations. Any work undertaken by NIW staff on asbestos cement pipes is in accordance with legislative requirements and associated Health and Safety guidance.

- (iii) As the use of asbestos cement pipes for the supply of drinking water is not a health concern, there is no specific programme to replace them. Asbestos cement water mains will therefore be replaced progressively as part of NIW's ongoing Water Mains Rehabilitation Programme. Decisions on mains replacement are taken on the basis of normal serviceability criteria such as water quality, the number of burst mains per kilometre, low water pressure or the number of interruptions to the supply to customers.

Penalty Charge Notices: Observation Period

Mr Dunne asked the Minister for Regional Development how long is the observation period for a traffic attendant to ascertain if loading or unloading is taking place before a Penalty Charge Notice can be issued.

(AQW 9114/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: My Department's Roads Service has advised that at locations where parking restrictions apply and loading and unloading is also permitted, a Traffic Attendant will observe a vehicle for five minutes to establish if loading or unloading is taking place, before issuing a Penalty Charge Notice. However, for goods vehicles, the observation period is extended to 10 minutes.

Portavoe Reservoir: Disposal

Mr Lyttle asked the Minister for Regional Development when NI Water will dispose of Portavoe Reservoir; and what method of disposal will be used.

(AQW 9152/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: I have been advised by Northern Ireland Water (NIW) that it no longer has any strategic interest in Portavoe Reservoir and has declared the property surplus to requirements. NIW is currently researching a number of issues relating to the disposal of the reservoir and no decision on the method of disposal will be taken until this is completed.

Roads: Humps

Mr Weir asked the Minister for Regional Development to detail the criteria that is used to determine whether an area will have road humps installed.

(AQW 9165/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: My Department's Roads Service has advised that the criteria used to determine whether an area will have road humps installed are:

- collision history;
- traffic speed and volume; and
- local environmental considerations in terms of the presence of shops, public buildings, schools, hospitals, etc. These give an indication of the likely vulnerable road user movements and therefore the risk of road collisions.

The policy also recognises that different types of traffic calming features are appropriate at different locations and this is reflected in the assessment. However, the implementation of traffic calming measures in any area will also be dependent on the availability of resources.

Kerbstones: Castle Avenue, Belfast

Mr A Maginness asked the Minister for Regional Development why the granite kerbstones in Castle Avenue, Belfast were removed and replaced with concrete kerbstones.

(AQW 9167/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: My Department's Roads Service has advised that when assessing Castle Avenue for inclusion in a resurfacing programme, it found the existing kerblines to be a mix of concrete and granite kerbstones. Many of the existing granite kerbstones were weathered and unusable once removed and would have required extensive redressing before reuse. To have replaced the existing kerbstones with granite kerbs would have added significantly to the costs of the scheme and jeopardised its delivery in this financial year. Therefore, Roads Service decided to replace all kerbstones with new concrete kerbstones. Any reusable granite kerbstones have been added to our stockpile for use in appropriate areas in the North Belfast area.

Kerbstones: Castle Avenue, Belfast

Mr A Maginness asked the Minister for Regional Development to where the granite kerbstones that were removed from Castle Avenue, Belfast, were relocated.

(AQW 9168/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: My Department's Roads Service has advised that the reusable granite kerbstones removed from Castle Avenue are being stored in its depot at Corporation Street and are available for use, where required, at other appropriate locations in North Belfast.

Kerbstones: Castle Avenue, Belfast

Mr A Maginness asked the Minister for Regional Development what was the total cost of replacing the granite kerbstones with concrete kerbstones in Castle Avenue, Belfast.

(AQW 9169/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: My Department's Roads Service has advised that the cost for removing and replacing all kerbstones in Castle Avenue was approximately £4,700.

Kerbstones: Castle Avenue, Belfast

Mr A Maginness asked the Minister for Regional Development how the removal of the granite kerbstones, from Castle Avenue, Belfast, is consistent with the preservation and protection of the built heritage of such an area.

(AQW 9170/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: While I appreciate that in some areas residents have an affinity to the old granite kerbs, my Department's Roads Service has advised that it is not always possible for engineering and economic reasons to use them when carrying out refurbishment work.

In the case of Castle Avenue, to replace the existing granite kerbstones and precast concrete kerbs with granite kerbs would have added significantly to the costs of the scheme and jeopardised its delivery in this financial year.

Although I appreciate the views of local residents, it is not always possible to retain the use of old granite kerbing when carrying out footway refurbishment. In this regard, Roads Service concentrates its effort on retaining granite kerbing on main arterial routes or in Conservation Areas. I am advised that Castle Avenue does not fall into either of these categories.

Penalty Charge Notices: Daily Quotas

Mr Flanagan asked the Minister for Regional Development (i) what action he is taking to ensure that NSL is not setting its wardens minimum daily ticket quotas, as was the case in the Kensington and Chelsea Council area; (ii) whether he has raised this issue with NSL; and (iii) how many complaints have been made to his Department regarding such a policy since NSL was awarded the contract.

(AQW 9198/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: My Department's Roads Service has advised that while Traffic Attendants are expected to issue Penalty Charge Notices (PCNs) to vehicles that are illegally parked, my Department's contract with NSL does not stipulate 'ticket quotas'. Therefore, no payments are made to NSL or to individual Traffic Attendants based on the number of PCNs issued. Indeed, NSL has recently restated that ticket quotas are not used in Northern Ireland.

I would like to assure you that all aspects of the operation of the parking enforcement contract in Northern Ireland are subject to ongoing oversight and management by Roads Service officials. Roads Service receives and processes considerable volumes of correspondence about PCNs and parking enforcement on a daily basis. Officials respond to enquiries, complaints, or allegations concerning 'ticket quotas' by referring to the terms of the Roads Service contract with NSL.

As I am sure the Member will appreciate, it would not be appropriate for me to comment on any NSL contracts or operations in London Boroughs or Local Authority areas elsewhere.

Roads: Gritting List

Mr Weir asked the Minister for Regional Development to list the roads in the North Down area which are used by no more than 1500 vehicles per day and are currently on the gritting list.

(AQW 9201/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: My Department's Roads Service salts seven designated routes from the Balloo Depot in Bangor, covering the Council areas of North Down, Ards and parts of Castlereagh and Belfast. These routes were established a number of years ago but it is considered that Rhanbuoy Road and Rhanbuoy Park, Craigavad and Ballymenoch Road, Hollywood may have traffic volumes less than 1500 vehicles per day. These roads, which equate to approximately 1% of the salted network in North Down, will be re-assessed before the commencement of the 2012/13 winter service season.

Reservoirs: Disposal Strategy

Mr Weir asked the Minister for Regional Development for an update on the proposals to dispose of reservoirs.

(AQW 9281/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: I have been advised by Northern Ireland Water (NIW) that it has a number of reservoirs which are surplus to requirements and it proposes to dispose of them over the next number of years. Disposal of the reservoirs will be in accordance with NIW's disposal strategy which may entail placing them on the open market. Any sale would be dependent on a number of factors, not least the market at the time and any expression of interest. In disposing of surplus lands NIW must ensure it gets the best price for the property, achieves value for money and high standards of propriety.

Hospital Appointments: Community Transport

Mr McMullan asked the Minister for Regional Development what action has been taken to reverse the decision to not allow people in rural areas to use community transport for attendance at hospital appointments.

(AQW 9282/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: There has been no change to my Departments approach to funding services under the Rural Transport Fund (RTF) and provided by Rural Community Transport Partnerships. Each partnership provides services based on a specific geographical area in line with the aims of the RTF to facilitate transport in rural areas. It is important to point out that vehicles available to the partnerships have to be available to within that geographic area to facilitate all user needs as far as possible.

Under the 'Dial a Lift' scheme the Partnerships have always been able to provide transport to local GP surgeries, dentists and local clinics. My Department agreed with the Partnerships in 2010 that they may provide transport to local hospitals for members who do not qualify for DHSSPS assistance with travel. This position remains unchanged.

This service should not be seen as a substitute for health funded transport, which is the statutory responsibility of the DHSSPS under the auspices of the Patient Care Service. The Patient Care Service (a tier of the NI Ambulance Service) provides non-emergency patient transport services across Northern Ireland.

I recognise the need for my department to interact with the DHSSPS on these important issues. A process has started at official level and it is hoped this will allow these issues to be progressed within statutory and budgetary constraints.

Railways: Passenger Journeys

Mr Beggs asked the Minister for Regional Development to detail the number of suburban railway passenger journeys on the (i) Portadown; (ii) Bangor; (iii) Larne; (iv) Londonderry; and (v) Portrush lines in each of the last five financial years.

(AQW 9344/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: The table below details the number of passenger journeys on the requested lines in each of the last five financial years:

|             | 2006/07'000 | 2007/08'000 | 2008/09'000 | 2009/10'000 | 2010/11'000 |

Department for Social Development

Civil Service: Posts

Mr Eastwood asked the Minister for Social Development, pursuant to AQW 7857/11-15, (i) why information on departmental staff positions is not held by council area; and (ii) in what geographical format his Department can provide the information.

(AQW 8735/11-15)

Mr McCausland (The Minister for Social Development): The system on which my department holds staffing information does not require data to be recorded by council area and so my department does not have a ready means to collect and report data in the form requested.

My department can provide information on the deployment of staff-in-post based on address information. The same information cannot be provided with the same degree of precision for the distribution of Civil Service posts in my department which is what was requested in AQW 7857/11-15 because that figure will include posts which at that point in time are vacant and for which no address information can be held.

I have provided in the tables below information on the distribution of staff in the grades requested in AQW 7857/11-15, across the Department's office network. Table 1 provides headcount figures, while Table 2 provides full-time equivalent figures by office location.

Table 1 – Headcount

Housing Executive Properties: Heating

Mr Flanagan asked the Minister for Social Development, for each of the last three years, to detail (i) the average cost of (a) heating installations; (b) oil heating installations; and (c) natural gas installations in Housing Executive properties; and (ii) how many of the installations were for (a) oil heating; (b) oil heating in a gas enabled area; and (c) natural gas connections, broken down by district office area.

(AQW 8794/11-15)

Mr McCausland: The information is not available in the format requested. In relation to (i), the Housing Executive has advised that the average cost of a heating installation for the last three years is as follows:-

- 2009/10 £5,575
- 2010/11 £5,539
- 2011/12 £5,679

These figures cannot be separated into oil and gas installations.

In relation to (ii), the table below details the number of oil and gas heating installations by Housing Executive district office area. It is not possible to determine exactly which oil installations occurred in gas-enabled areas on a scheme by scheme basis. However, the majority of Housing Executive stock is located in urban areas which are gas enabled.

Social Housing

Mr Swann asked the Minister for Social Development how many families that have applied for social housing in each of the last three years have been assessed as requiring a (a) four; (b) five; or (c) six bedroom house.

(AQW 8884/11-15)

Mr McCausland: The information is only available in the format requested for the last two financial years. The table below details the number of applicants who have been added to the Waiting List over the last two years requiring (a) four; (b) five; or (c) six bedroom accommodation: -

| Year    | 4 Bed | 5 Bed | 6 Bed |
|---------|-------|-------|-------|
| 2009/10 | 352   | 26    | 2     |
| 2010/11 | 383   | 31    | 3     |

Neighbourhood Renewal: Capital Projects

Mr Durkan asked the Minister for Social Development how many Neighbourhood Renewal capital projects are anticipated in the 2011-15 budget period.

(AQW 8915/11-15)

Mr McCausland: The Department for Social Development is contractually committed to progress 57 Neighbourhood Renewal capital projects across Neighbourhood Renewal areas within Northern Ireland during the 2011/12 financial year. Some of these projects will continue into the 2012/13 financial year. There are a further 6 projects planned for the 2012/13 financial year, however, these will be subject to the necessary approvals being in place. At this stage there are no firm commitments in place for capital spend for the 2013/14 or 2014/15 financial years.

Disability Living Allowance: Unsuccessful Claims

Mr Moutray asked the Minister for Social Development, for each of the last three years, to detail (i) how many people have had their initial Disability Living Allowance claim disallowed; (ii) of those who appealed, how many were (a) successful; and (b) unsuccessful; and (iii) the percentage of appeals that were successful, broken down by (a) constituency; and (b) council area.

(AQW 8941/11-15)

Mr McCausland:

- (i) Table 1 below details the total number of Disability Living Allowance initial claims that were unsuccessful in each of the last three years.

Table 1

| Year    | Unsuccessful applications |
|---------|---------------------------|
| 2008/09 | 12,000                    |
| 2009/10 | 12,016                    |
| 2010/11 | 9,978                     |

The Information provided above is an Official Statistic. The Production and dissemination of all such Statistics is governed by the Principles and Protocols of the Code of Practice for Official Statistics. This is enforced by UK Statistics Authority.

- (ii) Appeals are received from applicants who have been unsuccessful in their application for Disability Living Allowance (nil award) and also from those who have been awarded the benefit but are dissatisfied with the level of award made. Information on Disability Living Allowance appeals is recorded on an overall number basis and not distinguishable by the circumstances of the decision under appeal therefore it is not possible to quantify how many unsuccessful applicants subsequently progressed to appeal. Table 2 below details the number of Disability Living Allowance appeals determined and the outcomes in each of the last three years.

| Year    | Number of Appeals Determined in the Appeal Service | More Advantageous Decision | Less Advantageous Decision |
|---------|--|----------------------------|----------------------------|
| 2008/09 | 5,753  | 1,942                      | 3,811                      |
| 2009/10 | 5,147  | 1,836                      | 3,311                      |
| 2010/11 | 4,607  | 1,651                      | 2,956                      |

- (iii) The data held by the Appeals Service IT System cannot be broken down by constituency or local council area.

Employment and Support Allowance: Unsuccessful Claims

Mr Moutray asked the Minister for Social Development, for each of the last three years, to detail (i) how many people have had their initial Employment and Support Allowance claim disallowed; (ii) of those who appealed, how many were (a) successful; and (b) unsuccessful; and (iii) the percentage of appeals that were successful, broken down by (a) constituency; and (b) council area.
(AQW 8942/11-15)

Mr McCausland:

- (i) The table below provides a breakdown of the total number of claims where entitlement to Employment and Support Allowance has ceased in each of the last three years. In some instances, customers may have lost their entitlement on more than one occasion and therefore the Department cannot provide the specific information requested.

| Year             | Employment and Support Allowance* |
|------------------|-----------------------------------|
| Apr 09 to Mar 10 | 12,827                            |
| Apr 10 to Mar 11 | 17,672                            |
| Apr 11 to Nov 11 | 12,770                            |

The information provided above is an Official Statistic. The Production and dissemination of all such Statistics is governed by the Principles and Protocols of the Code of Practice for Official Statistics. This is enforced by the UK Statistics Authority.

*The figures provided have been derived from scans of the Department's Matching Intelligence Database Analysis and General Matching Service systems and include cases where a customer has been found fit for work, has failed to attend a medical assessment or has not provided the required information. The figures also include claims where entitlement has ceased following changes in a customer's circumstances including when a customer returns to work, claims an alternative benefit or the death of a customer.

- ii) The information requested regarding appeals is not available in the format requested. However, details of all appeal results, which includes claims where entitlement to Employment and Support Allowance has ceased, is set out in the table below:

| Year          | Appeals upheld in customer favour | Appeals upheld in Department's favour | Total Appeals results |
| 2009-10       | 354                               | 861                                   | 1215                  |

| 2011-Jan 2012 | 1639                              | 3000                                  | 4639                  |
| Total         | 3403                              | 7235                                  | 10638                 |

- iii) The information requested is not available by constituency or council area.

Farm Produce: Roadside Sales

Mr Swann asked the Minister for Social Development what licences or permits are required for an individual to sell fresh farm produce at the roadside.

(AQW 8956/11-15)

Mr McCausland: Selling farm produce at the roadside is regulated under the Street Trading Act (Northern Ireland) 2001. Under this Act a street extends to any road, footpath, or public place. A person engaged in street trading is required to have a street trading licence issued by the district council in which the trading is taking place.

Farm Produce: Roadside Sales

Mr Swann asked the Minister for Social Development what penalties or enforcements are applicable to individuals who sell fresh farm produce at the roadside without the appropriate licence or permit.

(AQW 8957/11-15)

Mr McCausland: It is an offence for a person to engage in street trading without a licence issued by the council in which the trading is taking place or to contravene the conditions of a licence in relation to the trading location or the days and times during which trading can take place. An authorised officer of a council or a police constable may seize goods and any receptacle or equipment being used in the course of the trading, and on summary conviction of any of the above offences a court may impose a fine of up to £1000.

Welfare Reform: Parity

Mr Copeland asked the Minister for Social Development whether he has had any discussions with the Secretary of State for Northern Ireland regarding the nature of the significant flexibility which he has stated exists within the confines of parity.

(AQW 8973/11-15)

Mr McCausland: I can confirm that I have had a number of discussions with the Secretary of State for Northern Ireland, the Rt Hon Owen Paterson, Lord Freud, Minister for Welfare Reform (Lords), and Maria Miller, the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State and Minister for Disabled People on a range of issues arising from the Coalition Government's Welfare Reform programme. These discussions have included the potential for flexibilities, within the confines of parity, to meet specific challenges that may arise from the implementation of the proposed Welfare Reform changes in Northern Ireland.

I have also written to the Rt Hon Iain Duncan Smith, MP, Secretary of State for Work and Pensions and I am intending to meet with Lord Freud in London next week.

Disability Access: Cleaver House

Mr Copeland asked the Minister for Social Development whether access for people with disabilities to The Appeals Service, Cleaver House will be taken into account when planning any changes to Donegall Square, Belfast.

(AQW 8974/11-15)

Mr McCausland: On 21 February 2012 I announced the appointment of a Design Team to develop a number of options to improve the public realm within the vicinity of Donegall Square in Belfast City Centre. The Design Team will be carrying out extensive consultation with key stakeholders, including representatives of disabled people, before I select a preferred option for the area. Access requirements for people with a disability to the Appeals Service in Cleaver House and indeed all premises/businesses in the project area will be given a high priority during the development of the various design options.

Citizens Advice: Funding

Mr Frew asked the Minister for Social Development to detail the level of funding allocated to Citizens Advice in each of the last five years, broken down by constituency.

(AQW 9066/11-15)

Mr McCausland: My Department funds Citizens Advice (CAB) organisations at a regional level to ensure provision of infrastructure support to local CAB offices, and at frontline level to ensure delivery of advice services in line with Departmental priorities. The Social Security Agency also funds benefit programmes through the regional Citizens Advice NI, who then allocate these funds to their front line Citizens Advice offices. It would not be meaningful to break this information down by constituency as the registered address of the organisation does not always reflect the constituencies in which support and services are delivered. Funding to CAB at regional level in the last five years is as follows:

|         | Regional Support | SSA Programmes |
|---------|------------------|----------------|
| 2007-08 | 552,268          | 166,920        |
| 2008-09 | 636,038          | 287,030        |
| 2009-10 | 652,853          | 137,907        |
| 2010-11 | 669,806          | 260,855        |
| 2011-12 | 649,898          | 262,338        |

DSD funding for frontline advice services is made through the Community Support Programme. This programme is delivered by 26 local councils who have responsibility for commissioning local advice services from a range of providers, including CAB, to meet the needs of their own area. The Department does not have information on individual council allocations to CAB through this programme, nor is it possible to break this down by constituency. However, I can provide details of DSD's funding allocation for advice services to each council. In addition to the Community Support Programme, DSD provides funding for frontline advice projects through the Neighbourhood Renewal Fund. Funding for advice provision through each council is set out below.

Community Support Programme funding for advice services:

Disciplinary Action: DSD Staff

Mr Kinahan asked the Minister for Social Development to detail the number of staff disciplinary actions taken by his Department in each of the last two years, at Staff Officer level and above, including details of the offence and the disciplinary sanctions applied. (AQW 9126/11-15)

Mr McCausland: A total of 4 staff in the Department for Social Development, at Staff Officer level and above, were disciplined in the last two years. Details of the offences and the disciplinary sanctions applied are set out in the table below.

| Year | Offences   | Sanctions  |

Boiler Replacement Scheme: Carrickfergus/Larne/Newtownabbey

Mr Beggs asked the Minister for Social Development how many successful applications for the pilot Boiler Replacement Scheme were from the (i) Carrickfergus; (ii) Larne; and (iii) Newtownabbey areas. (AQW 9131/11-15)

Mr McCausland: Formal approval to commence boiler replacement works have been issued to 142 households in the Carrickfergus, Larne and Newtownabbey District Council areas. To date 100 new boilers have been installed. The table below provides a breakdown for each area.

|               | Formal Approvals | Completions |
|---------------|------------------|-------------|
| Carrickfergus | 18               | 16          |
| Larne         | 26               | 17          |

| Total  | 142       | 100  |

I would urge anyone still waiting for work to be carried out in their home to make contact with their preferred installer urgently to ensure the work is completed as soon as possible as the pilot will close on 31 March 2012.

Housing Executive: Temporary Accommodation in North Down

Mr Weir asked the Minister for Social Development how many private properties in the North Down area are currently being used as temporary accommodation by the Housing Executive. (AQW 9162/11-15)

Mr McCausland: The information is not available in the format requested as this is not collated in relation to the North Down area. However, the Housing Executive currently uses 24 private landlord properties as temporary accommodation in their Bangor District office area.

Jobs and Benefits Offices: Centralisation

Mr Durkan asked the Minister for Social Development whether he has plans to centralise any Jobs and Benefits Offices.
(AQW 9171/11-15)

Mr McCausland: I am committed to maintaining a strong network of front line offices throughout Northern Ireland. Customers will continue to be able to access social security services from the existing network of Jobs & Benefits and Social Security offices.

Work Capability Assessments: Cancer Patients

Mr Cree asked the Minister for Social Development what consideration has been given to the need to interview cancer patients, who are in hospital undergoing chemotherapy treatment, to determine if they remain eligible to receive benefits under Welfare Reform.

(AQW 9264/11-15)

Mr McCausland: As part of his second independent review of the Work Capability Assessment, Professor Malcolm Harrington asked Macmillan Cancer Support to look in detail at how the Work Capability Assessment assesses people with cancer and to provide him with recommendations for further improvements. In response to Professor Harrington's findings, the Department has undertaken a public consultation process seeking views from cancer patients and other interested groups on the proposed changes to the Work Capability Assessment for cancer patients. The consultation process formally ends on 9 March. In view of the consultation the Department has no plans at this stage to interview cancer patients for Work Capability Assessments.

Recommendations made by Professor Harrington are also being taken into account when developing Personal Independence Payment, which will replace Disability Living Allowance for working age customers (age 16 -64) from 2013. The proposals for Personal Independence Payment are that no customers will be required to undergo an assessment by an Independent Health Professional while an inpatient in hospital.

As part of the Departments continuing focus on benefit uptake, Macmillan Cancer Support has recently been funded, through the Innovation Fund for Increasing Benefit Uptake, to test a fresh approach to working in hospitals and in the community with those newly diagnosed with cancer, those living with cancer and those caring for someone with cancer.

Community-based Initiatives: Funding

Mr Byrne asked the Minister for Social Development to detail the total level of funding his Department allocated for community based initiatives in 2007/08; 2008/09; 2009/10; and 2010/11 in the (i) Erne North; (ii) Erne West; and (iii) Erne East wards in Co Fermanagh.

(AQW 9274/11-15)

Mr McCausland: The Government Funders Database records the following funding allocated by my Department to community organisations in the Erne North; Erne West; and Erne East electoral areas. This funding has been administered through the following programmes; Community Volunteering Scheme 2006/2010, Local Community Fund 07/08, The Modernisation Fund Capital, Community Regeneration and Improvement Special Programme (CRISP), Volunteer Bureau Initiative 10/11 and Supporting People.

|                       | 2007/2008         | 2008/2009          | 2009/2010          | 2010/2011         |

Social Housing Development Programme

Mr Swann asked the Minister for Social Development (i) when the Social Housing Development Programme for the next three years will be approved; and (ii) how soon after its approval construction will commence.

(AQW 9285/11-15)

Mr McCausland: While I am now in receipt of a draft Social Housing Development Programme I am disappointed it remains incomplete and is simply not yet approvable. This is unacceptable and I have advised the Housing Executive of this. Further meetings have been arranged and I remain hopeful of publishing the new 3 year programme in April/May, subject to the Housing Executive completing the necessary work to allow me to make a proper assessment.

In terms of construction starting, that will depend on the progress Housing Associations have made on their sites in terms of procurement and planning etc. However the budget for next year is already in place so there is nothing to stop construction work proceeding on approval of the Programme, subject of course to the necessary approvals being in place.

Outer North Youth Arts and Culture Programme: Funding

Mr Eastwood asked the Minister for Social Development whether funding for the Outer North Youth Arts and Culture Programme will be extended until 31 March 2013 to enable Greater Shantallow Community Arts to seek a new funder.

(AQW 9288/11-15)

Mr McCausland: All applications for Neighbourhood Renewal funding will be assessed in line with the relevant eligibility criteria and against the stated objectives of the programme. An application seeking funding for a city wide youth service project has been received by my Department's North West Development Office and is currently being assessed. In developing this project proposal the four Londonderry Neighbourhood Renewal Partnerships have engaged with those currently providing youth provision, including the Greater Shantallow Community Arts organisation. The need identified for the area covered by that organisation has been incorporated into the city wide project proposal now being assessed. This assessment will be completed by the end of March and a decision issued as appropriate.

Fuel Allowance Payment: Qualifying Benefits

Mr Beggs asked the Minister for Social Development, in relation to the one-off fuel allowance payment, to detail (i) the rationale in deciding the qualifying benefits; and (ii) who was consulted before the decision was made.

(AQW 9339/11-15)

Mr McCausland: In December 2011, the Department for Social Development was designated by the Office of First Minister and deputy First Minister to make a Fuel Allowance Payment. The Fuel Allowance Payment was made from the Social Protection Fund which was established by the Northern Ireland Executive in March 2011 to mitigate against the impact of the financial cuts on the most vulnerable in our society. There was a limited amount of money available and the Northern Ireland Executive wanted to make the payments to as many vulnerable people as possible. The Executive agreed to make payments to people in receipt of Pension Credit, Income Support, Jobseekers Allowance Income Based or Income Related Employment Support Allowance on one day, within the qualifying week which was from 12 to 18 December 2011. My department automatically issued payments to eligible people and any person who has not received a payment but believes they are entitled can contact NI Direct on 0300 200 7870. The Department for Health and Social Services was also designated to make a fuel payment to people undergoing treatment for cancer.

Housing: Repossessions

Mr McClarty asked the Minister for Social Development whether he would consider introducing the same safeguards in regard to repossessions that currently exist in Great Britain.

(AQO 1503/11-15)

Mr McCausland: In common with the rest of the United Kingdom, Northern Ireland already has a number of initiatives, overseen across a number of Departments, in place to help those facing repossession such as: -

- Under my Department, there is Support for Mortgage Interest, for homeowners receiving certain social security benefits;
- My Department also funds a range of Debt Advice Services; the Mortgage Debt Advice Service, operated by Housing Rights Service. The Law Centre, Advice Northern Ireland and Citizens Advice Bureau also help people with other debt problems, which often have knock-on effects on their ability to pay their mortgage;
- Housing Rights Service also provides in-court support and representation services funded through charitable sources;
- Under the Department of Justice, the Court Pre-Action Protocols which require lenders to exercise a degree of forbearance before seeking a court order for repossession;

While I have previously expressed my support for the introduction of a Mortgage Rescue Scheme (which other regions of the UK currently have in place) in the Assembly, I believe it would either help only a small proportion of those facing repossession, or would be extremely expensive to operate. I am conscious that, when allocating money, the Executive must weigh-up other needs, such as those presented by education and health

To illustrate, the National Audit Office published an evaluation report on the Mortgage Rescue Scheme in England in May 2011 which outlined that the scheme there delivered 2,600 completed rescues between January 2009 and March 2011, less than half of those expected when the scheme was launched. Initial projections for the Mortgage Rescue Scheme in England estimated it would rescue 6,000 households. In only completing 2,600 rescues, and increasing the funding by 40% after launch from £205 to £285 million, the evaluation report suggested the long-term costs of each rescue outweighed the measurable benefits and did not deliver value for money;

The Department for Communities and Local Government spent on average £93,000 for each rescue completed – it expected to spend £34,000. The main reason being that most completed rescues were the mortgage to rent type, with only a minority being shared equity.

The scheme, therefore, did not sustain the level of homeownership for those in difficulty that was originally anticipated.

Housing Benefit: Underoccupancy

Mr McLaughlin asked the Minister for Social Development whether he has asked for an impact assessment to be carried out on the consequences of implementing the under-occupancy element of Welfare Reform.

(AQO 1515/11-15)

Mr McCausland: The Member will be aware that the Welfare Reform Bill at Westminster has now received Royal Assent and that in line with the parity arrangements that exist for Social Security matters, I will soon be bringing my proposals for reform in Northern Ireland to this Assembly.

The 'under-occupancy' element that the Member refers to is one of a number of changes that are being introduced to modernise support for Housing Benefit in Great Britain and, in bringing forward my Welfare Reform Bill I will be seeking to replicate these measures. The proposal, put simply, is that those in receipt of Social Security benefits should only receive assistance according to their housing needs. The policy change is designed to ensure that benefits payable are more closely aligned to housing need and to promote fairness for the taxpayer by ensuring that those on benefits are required to take decisions as to their accommodation in the same way that those in work and in particular those on low incomes must. I will be considering how that proposal, together with other measures being considered will impact here in Northern Ireland. My officials have carried out an Equality Impact Assessment (EQIA) which has been out to public consultation and I will be looking closely at what respondents to that consultation have raised in respect of the proposed reforms. Given the scale of the proposed reforms and the fact the Bill itself is in effect an enabling Bill with the detail of particular changes being spelled out in Regulations, I would envisage that further work on 'Equality' screening may be necessary as Regulations are brought forward.

Housing Benefit has been the subject of much debate in recent times and I am personally acutely aware of concerns around further change. My officials will continue to gather data to inform decisions on specific reforms, including the 'under-occupancy' element, and to assess the potential impact here in Northern Ireland.

Housing Executive: Economy 10 Heating

Mr Craig asked the Minister for Social Development to outline the negotiations that his Department has had with Power NI and others on the development and implementation of Economy 10 heating for Housing Executive properties.

(AQO 1507/11-15)

Mr McCausland: Neither my Department nor the Housing Executive have had any negotiations with Power NI on the development and implementation of Economy 10 heating for Housing Executive properties. At the present time Economy 10 is not a tariff that is available in Northern Ireland and if it was introduced here the Housing Executive has advised that it might provide a benefit to only a small percentage of their tenants. In fact electrical heating has not proven to be popular with Housing Executive tenants and many households have lobbied to have it replaced.

The Housing Executive has been replacing electrical heating where gas or oil is a technically practical option. They have reduced the number of homes heated by electrical heating from 26,000 to 8,500, with a further 2300 properties in their provisional programme for the incoming financial year. The Housing Executive's heating policy is that gas remains the only option offered in areas where gas is available. Where gas is not available other options such as oil or wood pellet boilers are considered. In properties where these options are not technically feasible, for example certain multi-storey blocks, tenants are offered a more energy efficient electrical heating system.

The apparent reduction in the use of the Economy 10 tariff in Britain and the fact that electricity suppliers in Northern Ireland have never indicated any intention to consider introducing it here suggests that discussions on the matter are unlikely to succeed.

Universal Credit Bill

Dr McDonnell asked the Minister for Social Development when the Universal Credit Bill will be introduced.

(AQW 9571/11-15)

Mr McCausland: I intend shortly to seek Executive Agreement to my proposals to bring forward a Welfare Reform Bill for Northern Ireland. The Welfare Reform Bill will contain enabling provisions introducing Universal Credit.

Retail Sequencing Policy: Belfast City Centre

Mr P Maskey asked the Minister for Social Development for an update on the Retail Sequencing Policy for Belfast city centre.
(AQO 1512/11-15)

Mr McCausland: My Department's retail sequencing policy has delivered the £400 million Victoria Square scheme and our next step is to deliver the proposed £360 million investment for the Royal Exchange project subject to discharging all statutory, contractual and funding approvals for the project. I will announce the timetable for moving forward the Royal Exchange site as soon as my Department is in a position to do so.

Welfare Reform: Discretionary Fund

Mr McMullan asked the Minister for Social Development what decisions have been made, by the Executive Sub-Group on Welfare Reform, on dealing with the worst excesses of the Welfare Reform legislation.
(AQO 1513/11-15)

Mr McCausland: The Executive Sub-Committee on Welfare Reform has met on four occasions over the last number of weeks and has considered a range of issues relating to Welfare Reform. At one of its meetings the Sub-Committee discussed areas where flexibilities should be actively pursued with Department for Work and Pensions Ministers. Work is also ongoing with the Department for Work and Pensions to seek clarification on how existing Northern Ireland specific requests will be handled and to determine whether there will be any additional costs.

The Sub-Committee have also considered a wide range of issues around the Welfare Reform Programme including passported benefits, a replacement discretionary fund for Social Fund and rates relief in Northern Ireland. The Sub-Committee has an active work programme and will report regularly to the Executive Committee.

Community and Youth Groups: Cathedral Quarter, Belfast

Mr Sheehan asked the Minister for Social Development for an update on his decision to uplift the level of grant from £300 to £1000 for small community/youth groups that are working in the Cathedral Quarter, Belfast.
(AQO 1514/11-15)

Mr McCausland: My Department has issued a news release inviting community organisations to submit applications for funding from the Laganside Community Activities Grant for the year starting on 1 April 2012. Public notices inviting applications will also be published shortly in the press. This increase is designed to encourage community organisations within the 14 Laganside Wards to use the amenities as I am concerned that the uptake of this grant by the community has been low in recent years. The grant will have a total allocation of £50,000 in 2012/13 and could deliver up to fifty community activities.

Boiler Replacement Scheme

Mrs D Kelly asked the Minister for Social Development how many boilers were replaced under the pilot Boiler Replacement Scheme.
(AQO 1516/11-15)

Mr McCausland: I launched the pilot Boiler Replacement Scheme in June 2011 and £2 million was allocated to deliver the pilot. 1,330 inefficient boilers will be replaced in the pilot scheme. The pilot has been very popular and the Housing Executive is no longer taking applications for the pilot. The pilot scheme will be subject to a full evaluation which will inform the design of any future scheme. I would urge anyone still waiting for work to be carried out in their home to make contact with their preferred installer urgently to ensure the work is completed as soon as possible as the pilot will close on 31 March 2012.

Northern Ireland Assembly Commission

Parliament Buildings: Crèche Facilities

Ms Boyle asked the Assembly Commission if it would undertake a survey of Members and staff in Parliament Buildings to assess the demand for crèche facilities.
(AQW 8949/11-15)

Mr Weir (The Representative of the Assembly Commission): As a responsible employer, the Assembly Commission provides a range of "family friendly" policies to support its staff. These include childcare support and flexible working arrangements. Childcare support for Members is also available although the qualifying criteria and the quantum are established by the Independent Financial Review Panel.

In the current economic climate, the Commission has no plans to undertake a survey of Members or staff to assess the level of demand for crèche facilities as the Commission's budget for the Spending Review period to 2014/15 does not include any provision for the cost of such a facility.

Parliament Buildings: Crèche Facilities

Ms Boyle asked the Assembly Commission whether it will consider providing crèche facilities at Parliament Buildings to encourage more women to get involved in politics.

(AQW 8950/11-15)

Mr Weir (The Representative of the Assembly Commission): The Assembly Commission has a statutory duty under section 40 (4) of the Northern Ireland Act 1998 to “provide the Assembly, or ensure that the Assembly is provided, with the property, staff and services required for the Assembly’s purposes”. In the absence of a specific direction from the Assembly to the contrary, the Commission does not consider that its role extends to encouraging the involvement of any specific section of the community in politics.

Mary McAleese: Portrait

Mr McKay asked the Assembly Commission what consideration has been given to commissioning a piece of art to mark the retirement of former President Mary McAleese, given her key role in the peace process and that she is a native of Belfast.

(AQW 9069/11-15)

Mr P Ramsey (The Representative of the Assembly Commission): In June 2009, the Assembly Commission agreed a policy to procure portraits for Speakers, First Ministers and deputy First Ministers on their retirement from office. The Commission has not, to date, given any further consideration to expanding this policy to include the commissioning of additional portraits.

Childcare Scheme: Eligibility

Mr Beggs asked the Assembly Commission why staff who work outside Parliament Buildings are unable to join a Childcare Voucher Scheme and are excluded from its Childcare Scheme. [R]

(AQW 9109/11-15)

Mr Weir (The Representative of the Assembly Commission): The Assembly Commission does not employ staff who work outside Parliament Buildings. However, it is recognised that many Members employ staff whose salary payments are processed by the Commission on behalf of Members. It is for Members to establish the terms and conditions of employment for their staff and those terms and conditions may include provision for financial support to meet the cost of childcare.

At present, the Commission’s payroll processing service on behalf of Members does not include a fully integrated Childcare Voucher Scheme. However, an exercise to replace the payroll system is at an advanced stage and Members will be notified of the options for childcare support for their staff later this year. Any new system implemented by the Commission will not include a centrally provided childcare scheme as that will remain the responsibility of individual Members.

As the Commission does not employ staff outside Parliament Buildings, the issue of exclusion of staff from the Commission’s childcare scheme does not apply. As noted above, a Member is free to operate a childcare scheme similar to that operated by the Assembly Commission if he or she so wishes.

Childcare Scheme: Administrative Costs

Mr Beggs asked the Assembly Commission to detail (i) the current annual cost of administering the Childcare Scheme; (ii) the number of staff who benefit from the Scheme; (iii) the number of staff who work outside Parliament Buildings and could avail of a Childcare Voucher Scheme; and (iv) the savings for (a) employees; and (b) the Commission if staff who work outside Parliament Buildings were able to avail of a Childcare Voucher Scheme if one were introduced. [R]

(AQW 9110/11-15)

Mr Weir (The Representative of the Assembly Commission):

- (i) The administration costs of the Childcare Scheme are carried by the Commission’s Finance and Human Resources Offices and the annual cost (based on staff hours worked) equates to approximately £3,200 per annum. The total cost of payments made to staff and Members under the scheme for the 2011/12 financial is estimated at £263,000k.
- (ii) There are currently 104 members of staff and 22 MLAs who benefit from the childcare scheme.
- (iii) The Assembly Commission does not employ staff outside Parliament Buildings. However, Members employ staff in their constituency offices and, at present, there are approximately 285 such employees. It is entirely for a Member to decide on the terms and conditions of his or her employees and whether those terms and conditions should make provision for financial support for childcare costs.
- (iv) The taxation implications for Members’ employees who avail of a qualifying Childcare Voucher Scheme are complex and depend on the level of salary of the employee and the level of financial support offered by a Member. In general, an employee paying tax at the basic rate and receiving childcare vouchers under a qualifying scheme at the limits set by Her Majesty’s Revenue and Customs could save approximately £78 per month in statutory deductions. If all Members introduced a qualifying childcare scheme for all of their 285 employees, a total saving in deductions for all employees of £263,000 could be achieved. However, this would require all Members to establish (and all employees to participate in) a qualifying childcare scheme. A Member who operated such a scheme could save approximately £34 per month per employee in employer’s national insurance contributions leading to a notional saving of £116,000 per annum for all Members for all employees. This level of saving would not accrue to the Assembly Commission as it has no responsibility for the terms and conditions of employment of Members’ employees.

Childcare Scheme: MLA Staff

Mr Beggs asked the Assembly Commission (i) when it was first approached by staff or MLAs in relation to enabling staff who work outside Parliament Buildings to avail of a Childcare Voucher Scheme; and (ii) why there has been a delay in introducing such a scheme. [R]

(AQW 9111/11-15)

Mr Weir (The Representative of the Assembly Commission):

- (i) The Assembly Commission does not employ any staff who work outside Parliament Buildings and the Commission does not operate a Childcare Voucher Scheme for its staff. The Assembly Commission cannot provide an exact date when it was first approached by MLAs to enable their staff who work outside Parliament Buildings to avail of a Childcare Voucher Scheme.
- (ii) The Assembly Commission operates a payroll service to process salary payments to Members' employees. It is for Members to establish the terms and conditions of employment for their staff and those terms and conditions may include provision for financial support to meet the cost of childcare. The Commission has no plans to introduce a Childcare Voucher Scheme for Members' employees although it is implementing a revised payroll system that it is hoped will enable Members to set up whatever childcare arrangements they see fit.

Parliament Buildings: Royal Standard

Mr Wells asked the Assembly Commission why the Royal Standard was not flown during the visit of Her Royal Highness Princess, Anne to Parliament Buildings on 7 March 2012.

(AQW 9483/11-15)

Mr P Ramsey (The Representative of the Assembly Commission): The flying of flags at Parliament Buildings is regulated by the Flags (NI) Order 2000.

The Order prescribes the dates during the year when the Union flag should be flown, and also provides some guidance in relation to the flying of the Royal Standard and other flags.

The Order states that the Royal Standard should only be flown if Her Majesty the Queen is visiting.

The Regulations make no reference to the flying of personal standards of other members of the Royal Family, and in any event no such request was made to the Assembly by the organisers of the recent visit by the Princess Anne.

Written Answers to Questions

Office of the First Minister and deputy First Minister

Fuel: OFMDFM Spend

Mr McGlone asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister how much their Department, and its agencies, have spent on fuel in each of the last five years.

(AQW 8095/11-15)

Mr P Robinson and Mr M McGuinness (The First Minister and deputy First Minister): Expenditure on fuel by our Department is set out in the following table. Information is not available for the financial year 2007-08.

OFMDFM

| Year    | Fuel Costs |
|---------|------------|
| 2008-09 | £2,000.00  |
| 2009-10 | £2,107.00  |
| 2010-11 | £2,222.86  |

The figures above cover fuel spent on the minibus in use at the Maze/Long Kesh site. The Department commenced leasing the minibus late in 2007. Fuel costs for the initial period January 08 to March 08 where minimal.

Northern Ireland Bureau: Representation in the Far East

Mr Eastwood asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister whether there are any plans to extend the representation of the Northern Ireland Bureau to the Far East.

(AQW 8473/11-15)

Mr P Robinson and Mr M McGuinness: We have asked officials to prepare a draft paper by the end of March which sets out proposals for strengthening our profile overseas including a proposed visit to China later in the year. The key objectives of that Strategy will be to accelerate inward investment, to promote tourism and to encourage more overseas students to study here.

Northern Ireland Peace Monitoring Report

Ms Ritchie asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister for their assessment of the Northern Ireland Peace Monitoring Report.
(AQW 9134/11-15)

Mr P Robinson and Mr M McGuinness: Work such as this contributes to assessing our progress as we move out of conflict.

We already have come a long way as a society and the collective effort at a political, community and individual level must be commended. The report itself highlights the stability of the political institutions and the decrease there has been in the level of violence. However, we know that there is still work to do.

We remain committed to tackling the root causes of division and to building a united community. We also remain committed to publishing an agreed Cohesion, Sharing and Integration Strategy. The cross party working group continues to meet on a weekly basis to finalise the strategy.

Photographic Services: Ministerial Visits

Mr Flanagan asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister how photographers are selected to accompany Ministers on Ministerial visits.

(AQW 9210/11-15)

Mr P Robinson and Mr M McGuinness: In line with public procurement requirements, a contract is in place to provide photographic services. Following a competition administered by the Central Procurement Directorate six photographers were appointed to undertake work on behalf of the NICS. Under the terms of this contract the appointed photographers are invited to submit a tender for each assignment before being selected.

In the event that none of the photographers on the contract are able to undertake an assignment, other photographers may be appointed in line with normal procurement guidance.

Photographic Services: Contracts

Mr Allister asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister why it is necessary for their Department to contract out photographic services; and whether this an established practice or a new approach.

(AQW 9356/11-15)

Mr P Robinson and Mr M McGuinness: The use of contracted photographers has been standard practice over many years and provides a high quality record of key Ministerial announcements and events. All photographic appointments are made in line with procurement guidance to ensure value for money.

While departmental staff regularly take their own photographs for 'in-house' activities and events, there are occasions where the services of professional photographers with the ability to deliver high quality images to the media are required.

Photographic Services: Travel outside Northern Ireland

Mr Allister asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister what is the duration of the contract under Project 5873; and, in addition to its basic cost price, whether selected photographers will be paid to travel abroad with Executive Ministers, with all their expenses paid.

(AQW 9486/11-15)

Mr P Robinson and Mr M McGuinness: The contract is for an initial period of one year, with the option to extend by three further periods of one year each. The cost price is calculated on the basis of these extensions being taken up.

The contract is for photographic assignments within Northern Ireland.

Joint Public Services Training Centre

Mrs Overend asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister how the Desertcreat Training College Project Team is working with the Strategic Investment Board in relation to tender contracts for the Joint Public Services College.

(AQO 1609/11-15)

Mr P Robinson and Mr M McGuinness: Since December 2008, an adviser from the Strategic Investment Board (SIB) has been the Programme Manager for the Joint Public Services Training Centre. He reports to a Programme Board chaired by the Deputy Chief Constable and is responsible for delivering all aspects of the programme. He directs a Programme Team staffed by members of the participating organisations. SIB appointed another adviser to be the project's Procurement Manager and its Legal Director provides further support. Health Estates and the Central Procurement Directorate, as a Centre of Procurement Expertise (CoPE), are providing advice, as are other staff in SIB as required – for example on the implementation of Social Clauses in procurement.

NICS Live Event: Fee Structure

Ms Ritchie asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister whether they will ask the Head of the Civil Service to review the fee structure for the NICS Live event in April 2012, to ensure that small and medium sized businesses are not excluded.

(AQO 1527/11-15)

Mr P Robinson and Mr M McGuinness: The NICS Live event is owned by Dods, a political information, publishing, events and communications organisation. The event is being run at no direct cost to the Civil Service and the fee structure for the event is set by Dods as it is bearing all the financial risks.

They have offered a partnership to the NICS to inform the content of the event and ensure the seminars, workshops and speakers all support the Programme for Government agenda. Civil Servants will attend for free.

Dods is solely responsible for arranging and negotiating sponsorship, advertising and exhibitions. There is a range of different sponsorship options to suit small and medium size businesses and they can also attend as delegates.

We have spoken to Dods who would be very happy to speak directly to any small and medium sized businesses regarding NICS Live. Dods are quite willing to establish a specific small and medium sized business zone within NICS Live as they have done previously at the Civil Service Live event held in London. If the Member would like to provide the contact details of any small and medium sized businesses who may be interested in attending the NICS Live event we will pass their details directly through to Dods

NICS Live 2012 is free to all Civil Servants and we have negotiated for a number of voluntary organisations to attend for free; however the Civil Service is not responsible for setting delegate fees or sponsorship costs.

This year's event follows the very successful event held in 2010. The theme is the Programme for Government and the event will provide an opportunity to focus on how the NICS can better support Ministers and the Executive in the delivery of quality, cost effective public services.

Department of Agriculture and Rural Development

Broadband: DARD Contribution to Fund

Mr Flanagan asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development for her assessment of the number of consumers who have benefited from the funding that her Department provided for the Broadband Fund.

(AQW 8770/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill (The Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development): As you know the provision of broadband is the remit of the Department of Enterprise Trade and Investment, however to date DARD contributed some £2.554million (£1.564million + £990,000) to DETI's project to provide next generation broadband services to 85% of businesses by 2011. The DARD contribution funded fibre upgrades to some 204 cabinets across the north. In total some £19.8million has been provided to upgrade 1,265 cabinets which has in turn, stimulated BT to upgrade further cabinets. By the end of March 2012 some 2,649 cabinets in urban and rural areas across the north will have been upgraded and BT estimate that 89% of telephone lines will be connected to a fibre upgraded cabinet. Figures on the number of connections on each cabinet are not recorded. However the number of businesses serviced by cabinets upgraded with DARD's funds is estimated to be in the region of 3000 businesses.

The DETI remit is very focused on businesses and going forward any further DARD commitments of funding will be aimed wider at all rural dwellers.

Circuses: Ban on Wild Animals

Mr Wells asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development whether she is aware of the recent announcement that wild animals will be banned in circuses in England; and if she intends to introduce a similar ban.

(AQW 9192/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: I have read the Minister of State for Agriculture and Food, Jim Paice's Written Ministerial Statement on 1 March 2012 and I have noted that he is proposing to ban travelling circuses from using performing wild animals in circuses on ethical grounds, rather than welfare grounds. I am also aware that in the interim Defra has opened a consultation on 1 March 2012, seeking views on a proposed licensing scheme that would promote and safeguard the welfare of wild animals in travelling circuses in England.

My priorities on animal welfare over the coming period will continue to be the roll-out of the new provisions in the Welfare of Animals Act 2011, including new subordinate legislation on the welfare of farmed animals, dog breeding establishments, permitted procedures and the tail docking of dogs. Continuing to provide advice and guidance to support Councils during the first year of their new animal welfare enforcement role in relation to other (non-farmed) animals, which starts next month, is also a key priority.

At this time, I have no plans to introduce a ban on animals in circuses. However, I can assure you that I intend to take the time to assess the available evidence and give the issue detailed consideration. I will also take advice on the legal implications and on the proportionality of the options open to me so that the welfare of animals in circuses is fully protected. I will also need to consider the required legislative framework to support each option.

I would want to examine developments in the south of Ireland as well as England, Scotland and Wales and engage with stakeholders, including circus operators and their representatives, to ensure that their views are properly considered. In addition, I would wish to take into account developments in Europe, particularly in relation to the proposed new EU Animal Welfare Strategy for 2012 - 2015.

While we have no circuses based in the north, there are a number of circuses registered in the south, some of which regularly travel here. My Department has an agreed protocol with the Department of Agriculture,

Food and the Marine in the south which provides for an inspection of animals from these registered circuses before moving back to the south.

Agricultural Shows: Funding

Mr Weir asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development how much funding her Department has given to agricultural shows in each of the last five years.

(AQW 9202/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: The table below lists the total funding provided by my Department to agricultural shows in each of the last five years:

|      |        |
|------|--------|
| 2007 | £5,000 |
|------|--------|

|      |        |
|------|--------|
| 2008 | £5,275 |
| 2009 | £5,000 |
| 2010 | £5,000 |
| 2011 | £6,000 |

Dogs: Surgical Removal of Vocal Chords

Mr Agnew asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development what legislation is in place to regulate the surgical removal of vocal chords from dogs; and for her assessment of this legislation.

(AQW 9238/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: Under the Veterinary Surgeons Act 1966 only a veterinary surgeon can remove the vocal chords from a dog. The Royal College of Veterinary Surgeons (RCVS) view is that de-voicing of dogs is unacceptable and if it cannot be justified by the veterinary surgeon as being undertaken for the purpose of medical treatment, then it would almost certainly be considered by the RCVS to be disgraceful conduct by a veterinary surgeon and subject to disciplinary proceedings.

The Welfare of Animals Act 1972 makes it an offence for anyone to subject any animal (other than a fish, bird or reptile) to any operation which involves interference with sensitive tissue or bone structure of the animal, without the use of an anaesthetic.

Once Section 5 of the new Welfare of Animals Act 2011 is commenced in April these powers will be strengthened as it will be an offence for a Lay Person to undertake a Prohibited Procedure which includes the removal of vocal chords from a dog. The 2011 Act also increases the maximum penalty on summary conviction to imprisonment for such an offence from 3 months to 6 months and/or a £5000 fine and on conviction on indictment to 2 years imprisonment and / or an unlimited fine.

I am satisfied that the legislation that we have in place is sufficient to protect dogs from the unnecessary removal of their vocal chords.

Common Agricultural Policy: Small Businesses

Mrs D Kelly asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development how the Common Agricultural Policy could be reformed to meet the needs of small businesses.

(AQW 9249/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: The Common Agricultural Policy proposals for the 2014-2020 period include a number of measures to support micro, small and medium sized enterprises in both the agricultural and non-agricultural sector. Substantial income support for family farms, nearly all of which could be classified as small and medium sized enterprises, will continue post 2013 in the form of direct payments under Pillar I. The Pillar II proposals have a greater emphasis on innovation, knowledge transfer, training and co-operation, as well continued support for new business start-up (with a particular focus on young farmers), development of small farms, farm diversification and support for existing rural businesses. My Department is continuing to work to secure a well funded, simplified and flexible CAP which can be tailored to meet local industry requirements.

Single Farm Payment: Effect of CAP Reform

Mrs D Kelly asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development to detail the changes to the Single Farm Payment if the proposed reform of the Common Agricultural Policy is adopted, including the costs involved.

(AQW 9250/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: The proposals for the reform of the Common Agricultural Policy (CAP) published by the EU Commission on 12 October 2011 would result in major changes to the system of farm support. Firstly, the Single Farm Payment would be replaced by a number of payments, including a basic payment, a 'greening' payment, a top-up payment for new young entrants and a small farmer payment. In addition, there are options to introduce coupled payments and payments for Areas of Natural Constraint. These proposed changes, if agreed, would inevitably increase the complexity of the direct payments system.

Another feature of the current proposals is a move away from historically based payments towards a flat rate payment regime, which would lead to a major redistribution of support among claimants.

There would undoubtedly be additional administration costs arising from these changes, but as these are initial proposals which will undoubtedly be modified during the negotiations, I have not attempted to estimate the additional costs of administration at this stage. However, the EU Commission's Impact Assessment of the proposed reform of CAP suggests that administration costs could rise by 15%. A number of Member States have suggested this may be an underestimate and I would share that concern.

Agricultural Sector: Deregulation

Mrs D Kelly asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development for an update on the deregulation of the agricultural sector.

(AQW 9251/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: It is not an objective of my Department to deregulate the agricultural sector. It is vitally important for everyone that an appropriate level of regulation is in place which protects the public, protects our reputation as a food producing region and allows businesses to grow.

The purpose of the ongoing work on better regulations is to review the current most burdensome regulations with the aim being to simplify where possible and ultimately to reduce the overall administrative burden to the agri-food sector.

The NI Agri-Food Better Regulation and Simplification Review and the subsequent Better Regulation Action Plan are key steps in identifying the most costly areas of administration and setting about reducing their impact on businesses within this very important sector. I am also keen to ensure that the administrative burden created by future new or revised regulations is minimised.

Meat Exportation Certificates: China

Mrs D Kelly asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development what representations she has made to Westminster regarding the equality of access to export certificates for meat exportation to China.
(AQW 9252/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: Along with our pork exporters I welcomed the recent agreement of a health certificate to facilitate the export of pork from pigs born, reared and slaughtered in the north. My officials are currently working with interested Food Business Operators to help them attain the required premises approval to enable them to export to China.

During negotiations of the certificate my officials worked with their Defra colleagues to get agreement from the Chinese authorities to allow the export of pork derived from pigs of southern origin, however the Chinese insisted upon the Britain and north of Ireland only clause. This is the same position in the south where only pork derived from pigs of southern origin may be exported.

In order to open this export market to all pork derived from pigs slaughtered in the north I have asked my Defra and DAFM counterparts, as well as Ministerial Colleagues, to consider if they can provide any assistance in reopening negotiations. I am awaiting their advice.

Poultry meat and other red meat export negotiations are taken forward under the auspices of the relevant export negotiation group. As a reserved matter Defra leads these Groups however both our industry and my officials have input to ensure our exporter's needs are reflected, where possible, in the negotiations. The priorities for the Groups are collectively set by the industry with China being considered a high priority for all meat.

Rural Development Projects/Community-based Initiatives: Fermanagh

Mrs D Kelly asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development to detail the total spend by her Department on rural development projects and community based initiatives in Co.Fermanagh in (i) 2007/08; (ii) 2008/09; (iii) 2009/10; and (iv) 2010/11.
(AQW 9263/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: The total spend by my Department on rural development projects and community-based initiatives in County Fermanagh was: £4,568,816 in 2007/08; £4,235,366 in 2008/09; £4,581,161 in 2009/10; and £4,966,256 in 2010/11. These figures do not include expenditure on joint or shared projects where it is not possible to separate out expenditure benefitting County Fermanagh alone.

A detailed breakdown is provided in the table below:

Spending on rural development projects and community-based initiatives in County Fermanagh in (i) 2007/08; (ii) 2008/09; (iii) 2009/10; and (iv) 2010/11

- (1) In 2007/08 and 2008/09 sums of £469,315 and £517,085 were spent respectively in border counties under Interreg IIIA. While County Fermanagh was one County benefitting from this expenditure it is not possible to separate out the Fermanagh-only spend. Therefore no allowance is made for this in the total spend.
- (2) Similarly, it is not possible to provide county-specific information for two agri-environment schemes, the Countryside Access Scheme and the Habitat Improvement Scheme, or for the new Organic Farming Scheme, and again no allowance is made for expenditure under these schemes in the total spend.

Common Agricultural Policy: Woodland Cover

Mrs Dobson asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development, pursuant to AQW 7214/11-15, for her assessment of the impact that the proposed changes to the Common Agricultural Policy will have on the Executive's target of doubling the amount of woodland cover, and the impact on the financial support that is available to parties seeking to create woodland.

(AQW 9289/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: Negotiations on the reform of the Common Agricultural Policy (CAP) post 2013 have a long way to go and I have already met the European Commission on CAP reform issues and further meetings are envisaged.

I welcome the Commission's Common Agricultural Policy (CAP) proposals to increase support for establishment of woodland up to 100% of costs, that land eligible in 2008 and subsequently planted under the Woodland Grant Scheme remains eligible for Single Farm Payment, and that woodland on arable land can be included as Ecological Focus Areas. However, we do not have very much of that kind of land, and the Commission proposal to restrict the loss of permanent pasture on an individual farm holding to 5% is a significant challenge for woodland creation. I am also concerned that Commission proposals to exclude income foregone payments will make woodland planting options much less attractive.

Our aim to double the forest area requires a change from agricultural use at a rate of only 0.2% each year. In principle, that sounds achievable, but the Commission proposals for CAP reform make practical difficulties because of the small size of many farm holdings.

Rural Development Community Service: Selection Criteria

Mr T Clarke asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development to outline the process and criteria used to select the areas chosen for delivery of the Rural Development Community Service; and why these areas were chosen.

(AQW 9294/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: The NI Statistics and Research Agency (NISRA) provided information on the number of people and income deprived people living in rural Output Areas. This information, along with the need identified during the consultation process, was used in the rationale for selection of the areas and the allocation of funding in the Economic Appraisal for delivery of a Rural Community Development Service, which has been approved by the Department of Finance and Personnel.

Rural Development Community Service: Funding

Mr T Clarke asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development how funding for delivery of the Rural Development Community Service will be allocated to the eight areas selected for the project.

(AQW 9296/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: The allocation of funding to the eight areas selected for delivery of a Rural Community Development Service was based on information provided by the NI Statistics and Research Agency (NISRA) about the number of people and income deprived people living in rural Output Areas. This was subjected to an Economic Appraisal which has been approved by the Department of Finance and Personnel.

Rural Development Community Service: Funding

Mr T Clarke asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development how the funding for delivery of the Rural Development Community Service, which was allocated to each of the eight selected areas, reflects the size of the rural population in those areas; and to outline the rationale for the award of the funding to each area.

(AQW 9298/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: The NI Statistics and Research Agency (NISRA) provided information on the number of people and income deprived people living in rural Output Areas. This was used as the rationale for the allocation of funding in the Economic Appraisal for delivery of a Rural Community Development Service which has been approved by the Department of Finance and Personnel.

Broadband: Rural Areas

Mr Lunn asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development for an update on the provision of rural broadband; and what proposals she has for higher speed broadband in rural areas.

(AQW 9303/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: As you know the provision of broadband is the remit of the Department of Enterprise Trade and Investment however, to date DARD contributed some £2.554million (£1.564million + £990,000) to DETI's project to provide next generation broadband services to 85% of businesses by 2011. The DARD contribution funded fibre upgrades to some 204 cabinets across the north of Ireland. In total some £19.8million has been provided to upgrade 1,265 cabinets which has in turn, stimulated BT to upgrade further cabinets. By the end of March 2012 some 2,649 cabinets in urban and rural areas across the north of Ireland, will have been upgraded and BT estimate that 89% of telephones lines will be connected to a fibre upgraded cabinet. Figures on the number of connections on each cabinet are not recorded. However the number of businesses serviced by cabinets upgraded with DARD's funds is estimated to be in the region of 3000 businesses.

DETI primarily focus on broadband access for businesses but DARD will have a wider focus including all rural dwellers. I have recently announced that I would like to invest further DARD funds to increase the quality and coverage of broadband in rural areas and work to assess how best to do this is ongoing.

Welfare of Animals (Dog Breeding Establishments) Regulations (Northern Ireland) 2012

Mr D McIlveen asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development how her Department will ensure that the proposed Welfare of Animals (Dog Breeding Establishments) Regulations do not unnecessarily penalise small scale breeders, or encourage the breeding of larger numbers in order to recoup costs, which could lead to an increase in unwanted puppies, breeders taking less care in relation to where they sell puppies and the suitability of the owners, and to dogs being abandoned.

(AQW 9312/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: The commercial breeding of dogs is a legitimate business both here and across these islands and I do not intend to place any unnecessary burden on small, medium or large scale dog breeders. The draft Welfare of Animals (Dog Breeding Establishments) Regulations set out the minimum standards required for commercial breeding establishments to ensure that the welfare needs of breeding bitches, dogs and pups are met. Where good breeders are already operating to these minimum standards, the costs to them to implement these Regulations will be limited to the annual licence fee and microchipping their pups and these costs will be very low.

The new Regulations propose to introduce a new breeding establishment licence system which includes a sliding scale of fees, determined by the number of breeding bitches in the establishment. The introduction of the breeding establishment licence is to ensure that Councils, who will enforce these Regulations, recover their full costs when approving and inspecting breeding establishments. I intend to ensure that the fees, whilst allowing the Council to cover their costs, are kept at a realistic level. The proposed licence fee for a small breeding establishment i.e. no more than 10 bitches is £150. Whilst microchipping pups will be a compulsory requirement before the pup leaves the breeder, there will be no requirement for a veterinary surgeon to undertake the microchip. Once a breeder is competent at microchipping they can microchip their own pups, so the cost should only be a few pounds per pup.

I do not see any breeders increasing the number of pups they breed to cover these small costs. However the draft Regulations also include proposals on the minimum and maximum ages for breeding a bitch and maximum number of litters a bitch can produce in her lifetime. This proposed new requirement whilst aimed at improving and protecting the long term welfare of the bitch will also ensure that bitches are not continuously bred to cover any new costs associated with these Regulations.

Enforcement of these proposed new Dog Breeding Establishments Regulations will, as outlined above, rest with Councils who enforced the current 1983 Dog Breeding Establishment Regulations. The proposal in the draft Regulations which requires a licensed breeder to microchip all pups before they leave the premises will assist Council inspectors to identify the owner or breeder of an abandoned pup or dog.

A draft Regulatory Impact Assessment (RIA) was carried out prior to the public consultation which took place from October 2011 to January 2012. A specific question was included in the consultation seeking evidence based information on any future costs to breeders. Whilst some stakeholders commented on possible costs, other stakeholders were of the view that most breeders already operate to these proposed standards, so little if any costs would be incurred. No information was provided from any breeders on actual costs they would incur.

I wish to see that all dog breeding establishments in the north operate to good welfare standards and that they produce high quality pups, both pedigree and non-pedigree. The proposal in the draft Regulations will ensure all commercially bred pups have the best possible start in life.

Welfare of Animals (Dog Breeding Establishments) Regulations (Northern Ireland) 2012

Mr D McIlveen asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development whether there will be an opportunity for further input from interested parties into the proposed Welfare of Animals (Dog Breeding Establishments) Regulations.
(AQW 9314/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: The 12 week public consultation on the proposed Welfare of Animals (Dog Breeding Establishments) Regulations (NI) 2012 closed on 10 January 2012. That consultation, which issued to over 2,000 consultees, was the formal opportunity for dog breeders, specialist interest groups, councils and the general public to comment on the proposals contained within the draft Regulations. A substantial number of responses were received from that process and my officials are currently analysing these. In addition I met with one industry representative body that represents a number of dog breeders in the north and my officials met with another industry representative body to hear at first hand their views and concerns about the draft Regulations.

It is not my intention, at this time, to undertake any further consultation on these draft Regulations. However, I can assure you that I will consider all the relevant issues raised in the consultation responses before deciding on the final detail of the draft Regulations.

The ARD Committee will have the opportunity to consider the consultation responses and scrutinise the draft Regulations before I seek Executive agreement to lay them in the Assembly for debate under the draft affirmative resolution procedure before the summer recess. Any interested party has the right to make an application to come before the Committee to make representations on the proposed Regulations.

In bringing forward these Regulations I do not want to place unnecessary, potentially onerous requirements on legitimate dog breeders, but I do intend to provide sufficient powers to ensure that sub-standard breeders take the necessary steps to improve the conditions within their breeding establishments.

Dogs: Attacks on Livestock

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development what action she will take to address the low prosecution rates for dog attacks on livestock.
(AQW 9332/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: The control of dogs here is legislated for by the Dogs Order 1983, as amended by the Dogs (Amendment) Act 2011.

Local Councils are responsible for enforcing this legislation, including taking forward any prosecutions. As Minister for Agriculture and Rural Development I am responsible for Dog Control policy and legislation. However, how that legislation is implemented, enforced and how prosecutions are taken forward is the responsibility of the Councils here; and how the law is interpreted is a matter for the Courts. Councils do not fall under my area of responsibility.

All incidents of straying, dog attacks and livestock worrying are investigated by Council Enforcement Officers and it is for Councils to decide the appropriate action to be taken. The Councils have formed a Dog Advisory Group to ensure a consistent approach to enforcement across Council jurisdictions.

Away-days and Team-building Exercises: Cost-effectiveness

Mr S Anderson asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development how her Department assesses the cost-effectiveness of awaydays and team-building exercises.
(AQW 9341/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: The Department does not have a formal means of assessing the cost effectiveness of away days and team building exercises. Business areas involved are required to set targets and objectives and review progress at the end of each event – they are also required to adhere to guidelines on the use of facilities and restrictions on hospitality.

Woodland: UK Forestry Standard

Ms Lo asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development whether all the bodies or organisations within her Department's remit which own woodland are compliant with the UK Forestry Standard, including her Department, any arm's-length body and any organisation to which her Department provides grant aid.
(AQW 9385/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: The Forestry Standard is the formal statement of commitment to sustainable forestry. The 3rd edition of the Standard was published in October 2011 following a period of consultation. The Standard makes reference to our Forestry Act 2010, and the associated requirements of good forestry practice. It applies to all woodland, and serves to achieve a balance between the interests of forestry in delivering social benefits, as a commercial business and safeguarding the environment.

Woodland owned by my Department is managed in accordance with the Standard. Support for private woodland owners, through grants administered by Forest Service, is subject to confirmation that work undertaken meets the requirements of the Forestry Standard and its supporting guidelines. Agricultural land, including small areas of woodland, are supported under the Countryside Management Scheme and are required to comply with Good Agricultural & Environmental Condition (GAEC) cross-compliance rules and management requirements of the Scheme. The management of this woodland is consistent with the Forestry Standard.

Tuberculosis-free Areas

Mr Frew asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development whether there can be allocated tuberculosis free areas within a region of a European member state.

(AQW 9455/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: A Member State or part or region of a Member State may be declared officially tuberculosis-free providing it meets certain conditions specified in Council Directive 64/432/EEC ("the Trade Directive").

Crucially the percentage of bovine herds confirmed as infected with tuberculosis must not exceed 0.1% of all herds - and at least 99.9 % of herds must have achieved officially tuberculosis-free status - for 6 consecutive calendar years.

While Scotland has been able to satisfy these conditions, no other part of these Islands is in a position to do so in the near future. Nor are there any Counties or Divisional Veterinary Office areas in the north of Ireland that could satisfy these criteria either.

Bovine TB is a complex and multi-factorial disease that is very difficult to eradicate. There is no cheap, quick-fix solution for TB, but our ultimate aim is to eradicate TB here.

Bovine Viral Diarrhoea

Mr Frew asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development what action her Department is taking to tackle Bovine Viral Diarrhoea.

(AQW 9456/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: At farm level, production diseases such as BVD can have a significant impact on productivity and competitiveness and I welcome the fact that there is an increasing desire within industry here to tackle such diseases that are not subject to statutory control measures. As is the case in other regions where these issues are being addressed, there has to be a clear industry lead to make such animal health initiatives work.

My Department is currently supporting an industry-led BVD research project through the Research Challenge Fund, which aims to determine the prevalence of the BVD virus here. My officials are closely engaged with an industry BVD Working Group and are considering what, if any, further assistance can be given to the industry-led BVD eradication initiative. As a result of discussions at the BVD Working Group in February, my officials recently facilitated a discussion on the IT requirements of any eradication programme. Hopefully, this will assist industry in scoping the requirements and the potential costs involved.

For any eradication programme to be successful there must be widespread buy-in from the farming community in order to create demand for BVD control. As the industry in the south has shown, in order to get this buy-in, farmers must first be well informed. My officials are therefore considering whether funding support could be available under the Rural Development Programme's knowledge transfer measures to help farmers understand the steps that they can take to tackle such diseases and the economic benefits to them of doing so.

Key stakeholders and my officials are currently discussing a proposed new strategic partnership approach to tackling such diseases, with the intention that this would build on the work industry is already doing on BVD. This approach should be welcomed as a way of driving forward an eradication programme here.

BVD is not a statutory disease and its impacts are primarily felt at farm level so it is for industry to take the lead in initiatives to deal with it, as happens in other places. Industry commitment to funding such initiatives will be key. To find new funding from within DARD's budget would mean re-allocating money that is already committed elsewhere. However, reducing costs in other areas, such as TB and brucellosis compensation, may assist in making funding available to help support initiatives here to deal with production diseases.

Schmallenberg Virus

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development whether she can introduce a temporary ban on the import of livestock in order to protect against the Schmallenberg Virus, given that it is not a notifiable disease.

(AQW 9476/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: There is no indication that the EU Commission intends to introduce conditions for the movement of animals because of Schmallenberg Virus. The Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union enshrines the key principle of the free movement of goods and services between Member States. I am not in a position to unilaterally introduce a ban on imports to protect the national stock from this virus, as under section 24 of the NI Act 1998, the Department has no power to do anything in contravention of Community law.

Until we have more information the best way to protect against Schmallenberg Virus is for those importing animals to the north to source stock responsibly.

Meat: Religious Slaughter

Ms Lo asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development whether there are any meat producers who use methods of religious slaughter; and what action her Department is taking to monitor meat production to ensure that animal welfare is protected.

(AQW 9497/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: One small slaughterhouse employs a licensed slaughterman trained in religious slaughter procedures. He works no more than one day a month processing a very small number of sheep. All these animals are effectively stunned by electrical means before slaughter. None of the local meat producers use "non-stun" slaughter.

I believe the standard of animal welfare in slaughterhouses here is high. Official Veterinarians from my Department are present in every slaughterhouse during the entire time animals are being slaughtered. The majority of this time is spent in the vicinity of the lairage and stunning area where they can monitor the slaughter process. This ensures that the highest standard of animal welfare is maintained at all times.

I take the welfare of animals very seriously and if I thought that the introduction of further measures such as the introduction of mandatory CCTV were necessary to protect animal welfare I would not hesitate to act. However, experience at slaughter here does not highlight any issue which might require the introduction of mandatory CCTV as a solution. Furthermore, 14 of the 20 slaughterhouses here, which together account for over 95% of the animals and birds slaughtered in the north, have voluntarily installed CCTV coverage of the stunning area already. As for the remaining establishments, my officials have already communicated my preferences on this matter to those operators and I intend to personally write to them to ask if they would consider voluntarily installing CCTV in the stunning area.

Local Action Groups: Guidance

Mr Swann asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development when her Department will issue guidance on strategic project development to Local Action Groups.

(AQW 9505/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: My officials met with representatives from all the clusters individually and outlined the development process and criteria. Officials further met with the Administrative Managers on 19th January 2012 to discuss the proposals coming forward from the clusters and to issue hard copy guidance notes to assist in the development of any potential projects.

Strategic Project Funding

Mr Swann asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development what types of organisations are eligible to apply for strategic project funding.

(AQW 9506/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: Local authorities, NGO's and the community sector including social economy enterprises will be eligible to apply for strategic projects. The key will be the ability to deliver the project within the criteria and especially on time.

Local Action Groups: Audits

Mr Swann asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development to detail any proposals to introduce monthly or bi-monthly audits of Local Action Groups; and the sanctions that would be applied as part of any proposed audit process.

(AQW 9507/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: As part of my Departments ongoing responsibility as Managing Authority for the NI Rural Development Programme my officials are constantly engaged in financial management to ensure that low spend is identified, managed and appropriate remedial action taken.

Carbon Reduction Targets

Mrs D Kelly asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development how her Department plans to contribute to the carbon reduction targets contained in the Kyoto Protocol.

(AQW 9512/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: Climate Change Targets

We are required to contribute to a range of climate change targets. While climate change is a global issue it requires action at a number of levels. At the highest level the Kyoto Protocol secured commitments from 37 major industrialised countries and the European Community to reduce greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions. This eventually led to the European Union setting a target of reducing GHG emissions from 1990 levels by 20% by 2020 (the EU is now under some pressure to raise this target to 30% as it is felt by some that the current target is not sufficiently challenging). The UK Climate Change Act 2008, which the Executive agreed should extend here, established a legislative framework to enable the north of Ireland and Britain to reduce its GHG emissions by 80% from 1990 levels by 2050 and by 34% by 2022. These Climate Change Act targets are set at a north of Ireland and Britain level and there are no specific targets in legislation here or in England or Wales. Scotland have made their own legislative arrangements. However, recognising the importance of climate change to the north, the previous Executive set a target in its Programme for Government of reducing NI GHG emissions by 25% by 2025. The current Executive has, in its Programme for Government (2011-15), set a new, more ambitious, target of a 35% reduction by 2025.

My Department input to DOE, who are the lead department in respect of climate change, on the range of climate change mitigation measures that are being taken forward in conjunction with our agriculture and forestry industry stakeholders. The Agriculture and Forestry Greenhouse Gas Stakeholder Group, chaired by my officials, issued a Reduction Strategy and Action Plan 'Efficient Farming Cuts Greenhouse Gases' in 2011 to help meet the climate change challenge.

Human-induced Soil Degradation

Mr Campbell asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development what differences there are in the levels of human induced soil degradation in the land east and west of the River Bann.

(AQW 9549/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: My department does not gather specific information on human induced soil degradation. My department does, however, support various research studies and surveys carried out by the Agri Food and Biosciences Institute (AFBI), where changes in soil fertility, soil carbon content and soil erosion risk are monitored. Maps which illustrate the geographic variability in these soil health indicators are publically available (see weblink belows).

Woodland: Countryside Management Scheme

Mr Lyttle asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development how many hectares of woodland have been created as a result of the Countryside Management Scheme.

(AQO 1569/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: The Countryside Management Scheme is one of three agri-environment schemes that provide funding to encourage farmers to create small areas of native broadleaf woodland by planting native trees. The maximum area of native tree planting that can be planted on one farm is one hectare or five per cent of the eligible area. Currently the total area of native tree planting carried out by agri-environment scheme participants is 625 hectares. Of this, 522 hectares were planted under the previous Countryside Management Scheme and 26 hectares were planted under the new Countryside Management Scheme. The remaining 77 hectares were planted under the Environmentally Sensitive Areas Scheme.

Single Farm Payment: Receipt by 31 March 2012

Mr Campbell asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development for an estimate of the percentage of farmers who will have received their Single Farm Payment by 31 March 2012.

(AQO 1574/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: I anticipate that between 93% and 94% of all 2011 Single Farm Payments will be completed by 31 March 2012. In total more than £246 million has now been paid out.

This leaves less than 7% of claims left to process with a maximum of £21 million potentially still to be paid for the 2011 scheme year. These claims are outstanding for a number of reasons, including the need to apply inspection findings, probate; or because the claimant has not provided bank account details. Not all the remaining cases may be due a payment because of ineligibility or the application of penalties under scheme rules.

Brucellosis: Eradication Target

Mr Boylan asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development whether the 2014 target for the eradication of brucellosis is on schedule to be met.

(AQO 1571/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: We are very much on target to achieve brucellosis eradication by the target date of March 2014.

Currently there are only 11 herds in the north still under restriction due to brucellosis. The most recent confirmed herd incidence level (December 2011) is 0.02%. Eradication of brucellosis by 2014 is one of our objectives in the Programme for Government, which will allow us to subsequently seek EU Officially Brucellosis Free (OBF) status.

However, eradication depends entirely on continued co-operation and compliance from herd owners in completing testing and in reporting abortions to enable us to remove the last vestiges of brucellosis from Northern Europe. Herd owners must understand that unreported abortions or any other suspicions of disease may jeopardise that target date.

Agrifood: World Markets

Mr Flanagan asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development, in light of the recent visit by the Vice President of China to Ireland, for her assessment of the potential for the agri-food sector in Asia and other world markets.

(AQO 1570/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: The Chinese Vice President's recent visit to Ireland was a positive development aimed at taking bilateral relations forward and to pave the way for increased trade with China.

I am encouraged by this and the opportunities that lie ahead for the agri-food sector. The world's population is growing rapidly and is projected to increase by one billion by 2030 and two billion by 2050. There are also opportunities arising from Asian diets becoming more westernised and I believe that the agri-food sector is well placed to exploit these opportunities with its strong record of export-led growth.

InvestNI has a key role in promoting our food sector internationally and does so through a programme of trade missions, exhibitions and events. I understand that recently, InvestNI hosted an information event in Belfast highlighting the marketing opportunities in China for local companies processing proteins. Later this year, I also understand that InvestNI is planning a food and drink sector trade mission to China and my Department is willing to support in whatever way it can.

I have been working with DETI to establish an Agri-Food Strategy Board to develop a growth strategy up to 2020. In doing so, it will be vital that industry sets challenging but achievable growth targets and this will involve consideration of wider global markets.

In preparing for export growth it is important that we continue to promote quality. For example, the EU's Protected Food Names scheme can be used successfully to help protect local products against imitation and to showcase the quality food we produce.

My Department will continue to support the sector in its efforts to grow further and we will continue to work alongside other Executive Departments and industry to maximise the potential of this crucial part of our economy at home and abroad.

Rural Crime

Mr Storey asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development what work she has undertaken in recent months with the PSNI to address rural crime.

(AQO 1572/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: I met the Chief Constable in January to highlight the increase in rural crime, including the rise in theft from farms, and the very high level of concern it is causing within the farming community. The Chief Constable has since written to notify me of a recent intelligence led investigation which led to the recovery of stolen items including a tractor, plant and tools. As a result of this investigation I understand that an individual is to appear at Court in the coming weeks charged with handling stolen goods. I welcome this investigation which the Chief Constable believes has disrupted an Organised Crime Gang and plan to arrange a follow-up meeting with the Chief Constable to further discuss how we can work together to tackle rural crime and how DARD Direct Offices can be used to disseminate information to rural dwellers.

I will continue to work closely with the Minister of Justice on raising awareness of rural crime and I welcome local initiatives brought forward by Community Safety Partnerships to prevent rural crime such as trailer marking and the forensic marking of sheep. I am encouraging farmers to participate in these initiatives and to continue to ensure that they secure their properties by taking steps to minimise the risk of theft from their farms.

My Department's Veterinary Service Enforcement Branch has also been working closely with the PSNI in dealing with rural crime including carrying out joint on farm inspections, training some members of the PSNI in areas of livestock movement and identification and establishing 24/7 communication channels.

I am also planning to attend the launch of a Farmwatch Scheme aimed at reducing thefts from the rural community in County Fermanagh in the near future.

I also plan to meet with Martin Callinan, the Commissioner of An Garda Síochána to discuss cross border rural crime, particularly the recent attacks on staff from the Loughs Agency of Foyle Carlingford and Irish Lights Commission (FCILC).

Agriculture: European Funding

Mr Copeland asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development to outline her Department's engagement with European Commission officials about increasing the level of drawdown of European funds to increase innovation in the agricultural and agri-food sectors.

(AQO 1573/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: We are working hard to bring more European funding into the agri-food and rural sectors. This means that my officials sit on the Barosso Taskforce Working Group (BTWG), which was set up to help the area benefit from better participation in European policies, programmes and funding streams. This is a cross departmental initiative and all of us are working towards increasing drawdown of funding to 20% above current levels. My department will do this by helping our principal research and innovation provider, the Agri-Food Biosciences Institute (AFBI), access research funding streams.

To date we have worked with the BTWG on an inward European official visit held in March 2011, which gave AFBI an opportunity to build relationships with key European officials. Engagement is ongoing with an outward visit to Brussels planned for late March. DARD and AFBI officials on this visit, planned for the 27 - 29 March, will meet with European Commission (CION) officials to discuss further opportunities for funding draw down associated with Framework 7 and Horizon 2020.

Other profile raising activities which my officials have been involved in include attendance at European innovation events, such as the recent CION Conference "Enhancing innovation and delivery of research".

Food NI: 'Taste of Ulster'

Mr McKay asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development whether Food NI has any plans to extend the Taste of Ulster Food Guide to feature shops and producers from Counties Donegal, Monaghan and Cavan.

(AQO 1575/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: Taste of Ulster is a voluntary registration scheme managed and delivered by Food NI which is a private company limited by guarantee, formed voluntarily by a consortium of food sector representatives, to develop a positive identity for high quality local food. The Taste of Ulster Guide is currently predominantly a restaurant guide highlighting accredited eating establishments which use quality, local produce.

The 2012 Guide, which has been launched this week, has been part-funded through DARD's Regional Food Programme, Food NI having been successful in open competition and at Selection Panel. All eating establishments featured in the guide will have attained that inclusion through application, having passed inspection and fulfilled all necessary criteria.

All applicants are required to undertake an accreditation process which is confidential to Food NI although they have confirmed that a defined percentage of produce used by the hospitality outlets must be sourced locally in order to become an accredited Taste of Ulster member. Applications are welcomed from all counties in Ulster although I am aware that no applications were received from any hospitality outlets in Cavan, Donegal or Monaghan.

Department of Culture, Arts and Leisure

Salmon Netsmen: Compensation

Mr McQuillan asked the Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure whether any financial provision has been made to compensate salmon net fishermen in the event that her Department fails to issue them with a licence without good reason; and if so, to detail the level of compensation.

(AQW 9143/11-15)

Ms Ní Chuilín (The Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure): The Department has not entered into any discussions with the salmon net fishermen on the issue of compensation should licenses not be issued to them for the 2012 season.

2012 Olympics: Training

Mr Swann asked the Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure what work she is undertaking to attract Olympic teams to use Northern Ireland as their training base; and what teams have confirmed that they will be based here.

(AQW 9231/11-15)

Ms Ní Chuilín: Work to attract countries for pre Games training began in 2007 by ensuring local venues were included in the London 2012 pre Games training camp guide. A delegation with representatives from my Department, SportNI and Local Government went to the Beijing Games in the Summer of 2008 where they promoted the North of Ireland as a pre Games training destination to all National and Paralympic Committees.

Members of the Pre Games Training Camp Subgroup have attended many major sporting events both abroad and in the UK to promote local venues for pre Games training.

Over 200 National Olympic Committees have been targeted with relevant marketing information. Specific presentations and bids for teams have been prepared for 20 National Olympic Committees.

All local Governing Bodies of sport were invited to engage with their counterparts in other countries.

100 international Ambassadors and Consulars have been hosted at local pre-Games events to establish relationships with their respective countries.

To date the North has secured 8 sports or teams to participate in pre Games training camps in the run up to the London 2012 Games.

The teams are the Chinese Artistic Gymnastics Team, the Australian Boxing Team, the Irish Paralympics Team, the Jordanian Paralympic Team, the Kuwait Athletic Team, the Sudanese Athletic Team, the Egyptian Athletic Team and the Qatar Athletic Team.

In addition a number of pre Games events involving international athletes have taken place in the north of Ireland. These include the Boccia World Cup, a 2012 Paralympic qualifying event; a table tennis tournament; and the Yonex Irish Badminton Championships, a 2012 Olympic qualifying event. An international wheelchair basketball tournament also took place at the Antrim Forum in February 2012.

Further sensitive negotiations are underway with a number of other countries about locating pre Games training and qualifying events here. This is a highly competitive process and therefore I am unable to detail these countries or sports at this stage.

Hospitality: Spend

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure, pursuant to AQW 8073/11-15, whether the figures provided include the Department's arm's-length bodies; and if not, to provide this information for each of the last five years.

(AQW 9354/11-15)

Ms Ní Chuilín: The figures provided in the response to AQW 8073/11-15 did not include the Department's arms-length bodies. Figures for total spending on hospitality for these bodies has been provided below.

|         |         |
|---------|---------|
| 2006/07 | £26,863 |
| 2007/08 | £26,710 |
| 2008/09 | £54,601 |
| 2009/10 | £62,191 |
| 2010/11 | £40,043 |

These figures do not include spending on hospitality by the Department's North/South bodies. These bodies have a financial year running from January to December and so, their spending on hospitality in the last 5 calendar years is shown separately below:

|      |         |
|------|---------|
| 2007 | £5,968  |
| 2008 | £11,102 |
| 2009 | £15,378 |
| 2010 | £7,123  |
| 2011 | £9,156  |

Royal Ulster Constabulary Athletic Association

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure whether her Department has any role in promoting the change in the name of the Royal Ulster Constabulary George Cross Athletic Association; and whether there has been any suggestion that a failure to change the name will have funding implications, and to outline why this would effect the funding the organisation receives.

(AQW 9383/11-15)

Ms Ní Chuilín: I am aware of reports in the media that members of the RUC Athletic Association are meeting later this month to vote on a proposal to change the name of the Association. My Department has no role in promoting this change or the change in the name of any sporting organisation. Furthermore, Sport NI, which is responsible for the distribution of funding for sport in the north of Ireland, advises that the name of a sporting organisation is not part of any assessment criteria for funding

Ancestral Homes

Mr Girvan asked the Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure what level of importance her Department places on the ancestral homes of prominent people within Northern Ireland's history.

(AQW 9453/11-15)

Ms Ní Chuilín: The Ulster American Folk Park which forms part of National Museums NI, is home to a wide variety of historic buildings from throughout the north of Ireland. These include as part of the outdoor exhibition, two ancestral homes of prominent people which are managed out of NMNI's current budget allocations. They are the historically significant Mellon House, childhood home of Thomas Mellon, founder of the Mellon Bank in the United States of America and McKinley House, ancestral home of William McKinley, American President 1897 – 1901.

Outside of these examples my Department does not have any remit or role to play with regard to ancestral homes which are in private or charitable ownership.

Irish Language: E-publishing

Mr D Bradley asked the Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure what steps her Department is taking to develop e-publishing in the Irish language; and what resources she will allocate to this area.

(AQW 9529/11-15)

Ms Ní Chuilín: As the main statutory body for the promotion of the Irish language, Foras na Gaeilge has been involved in developing e-publishing in the Irish language, through An Gúm and Clár na Leabhar Gaeilge.

The An Gúm website allows schools to download titles and it is intended to provide electronic versions of all the text books as each new textbook is made available.

Also this year Foras na Gaeilge intend to reprint three major Gaeltacht titles in e-book form - Lá Dár Saol (Seán Ó Cíomhthain), An Mothall Sin Ort (Seán Ó Ruadháin) and Mám as mo Mhála (Seán Mac Meanman) which will be sold on Kindle platform and other formats.

Foras na Gaeilge have also met with IT providers such as Apple to develop products for the iPad and iAuthor software.

Clár na Leabhar Gaeilge over the past three years has provided funding for four publishers to develop aspects of e-publishing - Cló Mhaigh Eo; Leabhar Breac; Cló Iar-Chonnacht and Cois Life

Líofa 2015: Development Officer

Mr Swann asked the Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure, pursuant to AQW 9035/11-15, if she will publish the business case for the appointment of a Líofa Development Officer; and to identify the budget area from which funding for this position will be drawn.

(AQW 9543/11-15)

Ms Ní Chuilín: The Líofa Development Officer will be responsible for the ongoing development of the Líofa initiative. Currently over 1634 individuals have signed up to the initiative.

The budget in relation to the Líofa Development Officer will be drawn from my Department's overall administrative budget.

I will direct my officials to publish the business case in relation to this decision on the DCAL website.

Milk Cup: Funding

Mr Swann asked the Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure to detail the discussions that officials from her Department or Sport NI have had with the Department of Enterprise, Trade and Investment in relation to the provision of funding for the Milk Cup; and to detail the outcome of these discussions.

(AQW 9544/11-15)

Ms Ní Chuilín: In June 2011, the Department of Enterprise, Trade and Investment (DETI) and the NI Tourist Board sought a meeting with officials from my Department and Sport NI to discuss the provision of funding for the 2011 Milk Cup. The outcome of these discussions was that it would not be appropriate or necessary for DCAL to intervene. Since that meeting there have been no further discussions between my officials and DETI regarding funding for the Milk Cup.

Sporting Tournaments: Funding

Mr Swann asked the Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure to detail the amount of funding that her Department provided to the organisers of international sporting tournaments that were held in Northern Ireland in each of the last three years; and to list each event and the amount of funding awarded.

(AQW 9546/11-15)

Ms Ní Chuilín: The table below sets out the funding provided to the organisers of international sporting tournaments in each of the last three financial years. This includes funding provided both by the Department's former Events Unit and through Sport NI.

2008/09

Líofa 2015: Participation

Mr Wells asked the Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure how many people have registered to participate in the Líofa initiative, broken down by community background.

(AQW 9579/11-15)

Ms Ní Chuilín: To date 1628 people have taken up the Líofa challenge.

No information has been requested from Líofa participants regarding their community background.

Fishing: Prosecutions

Mr Hilditch asked the Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure how many prosecutions for illegal fishing have been secured in each of the last five years.

(AQW 9612/11-15)

Ms Ní Chuilín: The table below details the number of convictions secured by the Fisheries Conservancy Board (up to 31 May 2009) and DCAL for breaches of fisheries legislation in each of the last five years for which records are complete:

| Year | Number Of Convictions |
| 2006 | 39                    |
| 2007 | 53                    |
| 2008 | 78                    |
| 2009 | 124                   |
| 2010 | 115                   |

Netting Licences: Lough Neagh

Mr Kinahan asked the Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure to detail the current licences granted for netting in Lough Neagh.

(AQW 9705/11-15)

Ms Ní Chuilín: The following nets have been licensed on Lough Neagh as of 20 March 2012.

| Eel draft net | Draft net for the capture of salmon and freshwater fish | Single wall set net or trammel net for the capture of trout | Single wall set net or trammel net for the capture of fish other than trout | Bait net |
| 1             | 10  | 43  | 100   | 6        |

Bait net licences can only be purchased by those fishermen purchasing eel long line licences.

Loughs: DCAL Jurisdiction

Mr Kinahan asked the Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure to detail the Loughs for which her Department is responsible.

(AQW 9706/11-15)

Ms Ní Chuilín: The Department has responsibility for ensuring fisheries legislation is complied with on all waters in the DCAL jurisdiction

Salmon Netsmen: Enforcement

Mr Kinahan asked the Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure what enforcement action her Department will take to ensure that salmon netting practices cease once netting licences have been issued.

(AQW 9707/11-15)

Ms Ní Chuilín: DCAL Fisheries Protection Officers will continue to carry out surveillance in the areas in which the netsmen operated to ensure that they are complying with their undertakings and that no other illegal fishing activity is taking place.

Salmon Netsmen: Negotiations

Mr Kinahan asked the Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure to detail (i) the negotiations that took place with the commercial salmon netsmen in relation to their voluntary agreement not to catch salmon; and (ii) whether negotiations are on-going with the two remaining netsmen who have not yet given robust assurances.

(AQW 9708/11-15)

Ms Ní Chuilín:

- (i) Negotiations between the Department and the Coastal Commercial Salmon Net Licence Holders centred on finding a formula that respected the position of the netsmen and provided them with the opportunity to confirm their readiness to take voluntary action to conserve salmon as called for by the Minister.
- (ii) Negotiations are ongoing with the two remaining netsmen with the aim of achieving an agreed voluntary cession for the 2012 season.

Foras na Gaeilge: Chief Executive

Mr Hussey asked the Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure for her assessment of the Chief Executive's office within Foras na Gaeilge.
(AQW 9710/11-15)

Ms Ní Chuilín: It is the responsibility of the Chair and Board of Foras na Gaeilge to monitor and assess the performance of the Chief Executive.

Officials from the Sponsor Departments engage regularly with the Chief Executive of Foras na Gaeilge to review progress towards the delivery of agreed business plan targets and key project milestones and to seek assurance that statutory obligations and corporate governance standards are being complied with.

I am aware that there are some operational issues which the Sponsor Departments have asked the Chair and Board to address.

Newry to Portadown Canal

Mrs Dobson asked the Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure when she intends to discuss at a North South Ministerial Council meeting the potential extension of the remit of Waterways Ireland to include the Newry to Portadown Canal.
(AQW 9727/11-15)

Ms Ní Chuilín: The issue regarding extending the remit of Waterways Ireland to include additional waterways was discussed at the recent North South Ministerial Council meeting on the 14 February 2012. Ministers concluded that no further action be taken at this time to extend the remit of Waterways Ireland given the current economic circumstances. I will however keep this matter under review.

My Department is exploring with the Strategic Investment Board (SIB) the potential to use canal restoration as a wider urban and rural regeneration initiative to deliver a range of social and economic benefits. This work is at a preliminary stage and will be used to inform the Department's future strategy for the Inland Waterways.

Netting: Lough Neagh

Mr Kinahan asked the Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure what role her Department or its arm's-length bodies have in the (i) regulation of netting in Lough Neagh; and (ii) enforcement of such regulations.
(AQW 9843/11-15)

Ms Ní Chuilín:

- (i) The legislation covering netting in Lough Neagh is contained in the Fisheries Act (NI) 1966 as amended and associated regulations. My Department keeps this legislation under review. Amendments and new regulations are made in light of prevailing circumstances.
- (ii) My Department is responsible for the enforcement of fisheries legislation on Lough Neagh, to ensure that licensed commercial fishermen involved in netting comply with all appropriate requirements.

DCAL Fisheries Protection staff undertake regular patrols on Lough Neagh and surrounding land and waters. Any nets found not to comply with legislation are subject to seizure. Fishermen found not to be in compliance with legislation are reported with a view to prosecution.

Department of Education

Buses: Private Hire Costs

Mr D McIlveen asked the Minister of Education what action he will take to address the difference in the unit cost of privately operated buses which are 367.3 percent higher in the North Eastern Education and Library Board compared with the Southern Education and Library Board.

(AQW 8980/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd (The Minister of Education): The figure quoted is taken from the recently published report by DFP's Performance and Efficiency Delivery Unit (PEDU) following its review of home to school transport. The report highlights a number of areas where there are significant differences in unit costs and indeed in practices from ELB to ELB and identifies a need for greater scrutiny of those differences to test whether there is any justification for them. It contains 29 recommendations highlighting a range of actions that might be taken to improve the efficiency of the home to school transport service

My Department will now be moving forward with actions designed to respond to these recommendations. This work will include addressing the apparent difference in unit costs for private operator buses between Boards

Schools Budget: Special Educational Needs Allocation

Mr Lunn asked the Minister of Education to detail the proposed funding for special needs in the schools budget in the 2012/13 to 2014/15 financial years, with specific reference to the proportion of the budget allocated to special needs and the rise or fall in the overall allocation.

(AQW 9362/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: I am aware of the value and importance of the support provided to some of our most vulnerable children with special educational needs and their families. In recognition of this, when setting Budget 2011-15 allocations, I agreed that a number of frontline services should be afforded protection. This includes funding for Special Educational Needs. As a result no reductions in funding allocations for Special Schools have been included in my Department's Savings Delivery Plan.

Funding for special needs is not provided for within the schools budget, it is funded directly by ELBs from available Block Grant supported by a range of designated earmarked budgets for separate initiatives. Block Grant funding is distributed to ELBs annually via the Assessment of Relative Needs Exercise (ARNE) formula to reflect the relative needs within their respective areas. ELBs have full discretion on the prioritisation of funds allocated to them and it is not therefore possible to determine the level of funding attributable to special needs until financial plans (Resource Allocation Plans) have been received by the Department.

Special Educational Needs and Disability (Northern Ireland) Order 2005: Article 3

Mr P Ramsey asked the Minister of Education, pursuant to AQW 8785/11-15, which schools are in breach of Article 3 Subsection 7 of the Special Educational Needs and Disability (NI) Order 2005.

(AQW 9375/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: I understand that this question relates to Article 7 of the Education (NI) Order 1996, as substituted by Article 3 of SENDO.

Subject to specified exemptions, Article 7 of the Education (NI) Order 1996, as substituted by Article 3 of SENDO states that children without statements of SEN should be educated in an ordinary school.

The Chief Executive of Western Education and Library Board has confirmed that Belmont House and Rossmar special schools are currently in breach of Article 7.

Education and Skills Authority: Timescale

Ms Brown asked the Minister of Education what progress has been made in relation to the Education and Skills Authority to date; and for a timescale for when it will take over the role that is currently carried out by the Education and Library Boards.

(AQW 9377/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: Subject to Executive agreement, I intend to introduce a Bill in the Assembly in the very near future. The Education and Skills Authority will be established on 1 April 2013.

Foreign Language Qualifications

Mr Lunn asked the Minister of Education for his Department's assessment of (i) the foreign language qualifications of school leavers; and (ii) how the level of foreign language qualifications impacts on (a) the potential for attracting foreign investment; and (b) opportunities for employment in Europe-wide organisations.

(AQW 9410/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: My Department has not carried out any assessment of the foreign language qualifications of school leavers. However, it has commissioned a report containing recommendations that might inform a modern languages strategy and has received a final draft of that report from the QUB/UU Subject Centre for Languages, Linguistics and Area Studies. The commission envisaged a wide ranging report that would focus on the place of language learning not just in schools but for the economy and for society more generally.

Recognising that it will contain recommendations for other Ministers, I intend in the first instance to circulate the final draft report to Ministerial colleagues. As Education Minister I will also be looking carefully, within the resources available to me, at how best to move forward on those recommendations that are focused on the teaching and learning of modern languages in schools.

The tables below indicate the qualifications in languages taken for 2009/10 and 2010/11.

Woodland: UK Forestry Standard

Ms Lo asked the Minister of Education whether all the bodies or organisations within his Department's remit which own woodland are compliant with the UK Forestry Standard, including his Department, any arm's-length body and any organisation to which his Department provides grant aid.

(AQW 9416/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: The Department does not own any woodland. The Education and Library Boards, the Catholic Council for Maintained Schools, N I Council for Integrated Education and the Middletown Centre for Autism have confirmed that they comply with UK Forestry Standards. It was not possible, within the required timescale, to obtain information from all organisations that receive grant aid from the Department (for example voluntary and grant maintained schools that would have had to be contacted on an individual basis).

While the Boards and other relevant Arms Length Bodies do not own large woodland areas they do apply a responsible tree management system for trees within the schools' estate, ensuring any work is carried out by suitably qualified experienced tree surgeons.

Academic Selection

Mr McKay asked the Minister of Education for his assessment of the impact of an education system and the economic consequences for the labour force, where academic selection divides children into two groups at the age of 11.

(AQW 9419/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: A well educated and highly skilled workforce is essential to the growth of any economy, and in a highly competitive world facing very challenging economic times our workforce is our most important resource. High quality education must be a key factor in growing our economy. We need to ensure that our education system can both improve life opportunities for all our young people through promoting qualifications that are relevant to the changing world of work, and that it can supply our local economy with an appropriately skilled workforce.

Unfortunately our current system of dividing children at age 11 is not meeting the needs of either the economy or our young people. While I strongly support a move away from academic selection I believe that there are key policies which can provide a firm platform for improved outcomes for our children. These include the revised curriculum, which places greater emphasis on developing the skills children need - what they can do and not just what they know and understand; the school improvement policy, Every School a Good School; the literacy and numeracy strategy, Count, Read, Succeed. All of these policies aim to equip all children with the skills for both life and work.

Rejecting children at age 11 not only fails those children, but it fails to maximise the potential of the whole of our workforce. Selective schools are having to adjust to a wider range of academic ability but they are not adjusting to a wider range of social backgrounds: on average just 7% of pupils in our grammar schools are entitled to free school meals compared to 27% in non-selective schools. We need to move away from academic selection and rejection, informed by the experiences of those high performing systems around the world where academic selection and rejection has no place in a school admissions policy. Removing educational disadvantage in all its forms will make our education system better for all pupils and can only serve to benefit the economy and society in general.

Following the publication of the results of the OECD's Programme for International Student Assessment (PISA) tests, a BBC report in October 2011 highlighted how the education performance in Shanghai and Hong Kong "seems to be as spectacular as the country's breakneck economic expansion". While this achievement cannot be attributed to one particular feature of the education system I note with interest that among other changes Shanghai "got rid of the "key schools" system which concentrated resources only on top students and elite schools." The report suggests that education reforms in Shanghai which resulted in a system that focuses on the majority, not an elite minority, have been a factor in the economic success of the city.

If our economy is to thrive and grow we need to ensure that we value all our young people and make the most of their varying abilities. We cannot focus just on success for a minority, at the expense of the welfare of the majority. We will remain in the doldrums as an economy unless we educate all our young people to the best of their ability and not imagine that a minority will suffice.

Preschool Places: Antrim

Mrs D Kelly asked the Minister of Education, in light of the demand for funded pre-school places at Tannaghmore Community Playgroup, Antrim and the over-subscription at St Comgall's Playgroup and St Joseph's Nursery, Antrim, what steps he intends to take (i) to introduce funded places at Tannaghmore Community Playgroup; and (ii) to ensure that each child in the local area receives a funded place.

(AQW 9423/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: The North Eastern Education and Library Board (NEELB) has advised that within the Antrim council area there are currently two statutory nursery and 15 voluntary/private sector settings providing funded places under the Department's Pre-School Education Expansion Programme (PSEEP).

The application process for admission to funded pre-school settings for the 2012/13 school year is currently underway. As this preference based, two-stage process unfolds providers in the voluntary/private sector continue to liaise with the Board requesting additional places to meet demand in their areas.

Tannaghmore Community Playgroup has expressed an interest in joining the PSEEP in September 2012 and this request remains under consideration by the NEELB PEAG.

The Board will continue to liaise with providers as the admissions process continues and will consider bringing new groups into the PSEEP where no alternative provision is available or in areas of greatest shortfall to ensure that sufficient places are available for target age children in the area.

Hospitality: Spend

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Education, pursuant to AQW 8072/11-15, whether the figures provided include his Department's arm's-length bodies; and if not, to provide this information for each of the last five years.

(AQW 9471/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: The response to AQW 8072/11-15 does not include the Department's arm's-length bodies. The amount spent on hospitality by the Department's arm-length bodies in the last five years is shown on the following table.

| Financial year | £'000 |
|----------------|-------|
| 2006-07 *      | 573   |
| 2007-08 *      | 645   |
| 2008-09 *      | 709   |
| 2009-10        | 755   |
| 2010-11        | 538   |

* One Education and Library Board states it is unable to supply the full cost of hospitality, as defined by the Department, for these years as this information is not readily available from their financial systems.

Academic Selection

Mr McKay asked the Minister of Education how achievement in school correlates with economic growth; and what analysis his Department has carried out, or is aware of, on the effect of academic selection on economic output and the production of an adequate workforce to meet economic demands.

(AQW 9479/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: A well educated and highly skilled workforce is essential to the growth of any economy, and in a highly competitive world facing very challenging economic times our workforce is our most important resource. High quality education must be a key factor in growing our economy. We need to ensure that our education system can both improve life opportunities for all our young people through promoting qualifications that are relevant to the changing world of work, and that it can supply our local economy with an appropriately skilled workforce.

Schools: Asbestos

Mr McDevitt asked the Minister of Education, pursuant to AQW 8828/11-15, in how many (i) primary; and (ii) post-primary schools in each Education and Library Board area asbestos is present.

(AQW 9488/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: As a result of the introduction of the Control of Asbestos at Work Regulations (NI) 2003 and the Control of Asbestos (NI Order) 2007 the Education and Library Boards arranged for asbestos assessments to be carried out on the schools' estate to ascertain the extent of asbestos containing materials present. Any asbestos containing materials that were identified during assessments as being 'high risk' were removed following the assessment.

As you will be aware from my previous correspondence, it is Government policy that, so long as asbestos is in good condition and is unlikely to be disturbed, it is better to be managed for the remaining life of the school rather than to disturb it.

The table below details the numbers of schools in the estate (excluding those in the Voluntary Grammar and Grant Maintained Integrated sectors) in which asbestos is present:

|                     | BELB | SEELB | NEELB | SELB | WELB |
|---------------------|------|-------|-------|------|------|
| Primary School      | 65   | 106   | 168   | 202  | 163  |
| Post Primary School | 13   | 23    | 33    | 35   | 28   |

DE circular No 2003/20 gives advice to the sectors and schools on the Control of Asbestos at Work Regulations (NI) 2003. The DE circular is to be updated shortly to reflect any changes required as a result of revisions to the Regulations.

Schools Audit: Data

Mr Weir asked the Minister of Education why the schools audit used exam results from 2008 and 2009 rather than results from 2010 and 2011.

(AQW 9492/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: The viability audit included data for the 2008/09 and 2009/10 school years as the data for 2010/11 had not been verified at the time of the audit and were still subject to minor changes. It was therefore considered prudent to use 2009/10, the latest year for which fully verified data were available, as the final year for the performance element of the exercise.

Media Communications Protocols

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Education what media communications protocols exist between his Department and each of its arm's-length bodies; and to publish these protocols.

(AQW 9595/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: No media communications protocols exist between my Department and any of its arm's-length bodies.

Schools: Viability and Attainment Issues

Mr Lyttle asked the Minister of Education how he intends to encourage schools in the controlled, maintained and integrated sectors to work together on an area basis to overcome viability and attainment issues.

(AQW 9618/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: I have made it clear that my focus is on raising standards and, against the backdrop of an extremely challenging financial landscape in the coming years that progress on reshaping the structure and pattern of education provision cannot be delayed. I have therefore commissioned the Education and Library Boards, in association with CCMS and engaging fully with the other school sectors, to develop strategic plans on an area basis.

The Terms of Reference for this area planning process require the development of a network of viable and sustainable schools that can deliver the revised curriculum and the Entitlement Framework. Each area plan will cover the entirety of primary and post-primary provision within a Board area and in drawing up the agreed plans, the Boards should (among other things) identify realistic, innovative and creative solutions to address need, including opportunities for shared schooling on a cross-sectoral basis.

Schools: Viability Audits

Mr Lunn asked the Minister of Education (i) why the enrolment numbers used in the viability audits did not include all children with special educational needs and children who have been statemented; and (ii) what is the impact of this on the viability audits. (AQW 9624/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: The aim of the Viability Audit was to assess the viability of mainstream primary and post-primary schools. The enrolment numbers used reflected pupils enrolled in mainstream schools, including those with special educational needs and those with statements.

The Sustainable Schools policy does not apply to Special Education provision including that provided in special education units attached to mainstream schools. It is therefore entirely appropriate to exclude pupils in such units when assessing the viability of mainstream schools.

As you will be aware the Viability Audit is the first step towards area planning and it is the intention that area plans will identify the needs of all pupils in an area and make proposals to meet these needs, including special education provision both in mainstream and stand alone Special Schools.

Roan St Patrick's Primary School: Capacity

Mr McGlone asked the Minister of Education what is his Department's position on increasing the capacity of Roan St Patrick's Primary School, Eglisish. (AQW 9729/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: I am aware of the issues at Roan St Patrick's Primary School Eglisish, as I recently visited the school.

As you will be aware, I have commissioned the five ELBs and CCMS, working with the other sectors, to co-ordinate a strategic area planning process to shape the future pattern of education delivery. This may point to the growth of particular schools in an area and may change schools' admissions and enrolment numbers. These will be considered as part of any strategic plans which the Boards produce.

Department for Employment and Learning

Disciplinary Action: DEL Staff

Mr Kinahan asked the Minister for Employment and Learning to detail the number of staff disciplinary actions taken by his Department in each of the last two years, at Staff Officer level and above, including details of the offence and the disciplinary sanctions applied.

(AQW 9185/11-15)

Dr Farry (The Minister for Employment and Learning): Details of the number of staff disciplinary actions taken by the Department for Employment and Learning in each of the last two years at Staff Officer level and above are set out in the table below.

| Year | Number of cases | Details of offence   | Disciplinary Action taken |
|------|-----------------|--|---------------------------|
| 2010 | 0               | N/A  | N/A                       |
| 2011 | 1               | Misconduct of any kind that may have an adverse effect on the working of Departments | Formal Warning            |

Apprenticeships

Mr Weir asked the Minister for Employment and Learning how many apprenticeships have been created in each of the last three years, broken down by constituency.

(AQW 9204/11-15)

Dr Farry: The ApprenticeshipsNI programme is an employer-led provision and, as such, it is employers and not my Department that create apprenticeship positions. The data at Annex A details the number of apprentices who started on ApprenticeshipsNI for each of the last three years broken down by Parliamentary constituency.

Annex A*Number of individuals who have commenced Apprenticeships, 2009-2011 by Parliamentary Constituency

Wind Farms: Training

Mr Flanagan asked the Minister for Employment and Learning what steps his Department has taken to meet the needs of the growing demand for skills in the designing, manufacturing and installation of off-shore wind farms, particularly in terms of health and safety requirements such as the Minimum Industry Safety Training Standard, the OPITO approved standard, the Client Contractor National Safety Group Safety Passport and helicopter dunk tests.

(AQW 9351/11-15)

Dr Farry: The Department is funding the further education sector's Carbon Zero NI project, through its Employer Support Programme. The project aims to position the sector as an engine for the development of smart, innovative sustainable technologies in the areas of clean energy, including wind energy.

Additionally, under the Department's Assured Skills and Customised Training programmes, two Belfast Metropolitan College lecturers have been upskilled to deliver Level 2 and Level 3 NVQ Wind Turbine Maintenance courses. As a result, the college is currently delivering Wind Turbine Maintenance Training to eleven employees in this field, and has created additional capacity that is likely to be of interest to local companies and potential new investors in this sector.

The Department does not fund any statutory health and safety training; such training is the responsibility of individual employers.

A number of further education colleges offer health and safety training on a full cost recovery basis for employers, as detailed below:

South Eastern Regional College

- Minimum Industry Safety Training Standard;
- OPITO-approved Standard; and
- Client Contractor National Safety Group Safety Passport.

South West College

- a range of health and safety courses (to British Wind Energy Association standards).

Belfast Metropolitan College

- a range of health and safety courses, tailored to meet the needs of individual employers in the Offshore Renewable Energy sector.

Confucius Institute: One China Policy

Mr Agnew asked the Minister for Employment and Learning whether, at the time of the establishment of the Confucius Institute, anyone from his Department or the University of Ulster was required to sign a contract in support of the One China Policy.

(AQW 9522/11-15)

Dr Farry: The agreement to establish the Confucius Institute for Northern Ireland at the University of Ulster was signed on 14 July 2011 in Beijing by the Director-General of the Chinese Language Council International (Hanban), Mme Lin Xu, and the University of Ulster's Vice-Chancellor, Prof. Richard Barnett. No part of the agreement signed by the University makes any reference whatsoever to the 'One China' policy, nor was anyone involved asked to support that or any other Chinese policy. Similarly, no official from my department was required to sign a contract in support of the 'One China' policy.

South West Regional College: Student Places

Mr Flanagan asked the Minister for Employment and Learning to detail how many additional (i) full-time; and (ii) part-time student places are needed in the South West Regional College to meet demand; and what steps his Department is taking to address this issue.

(AQW 9555/11-15)

Dr Farry: Further Education Colleges are funded through the recurrent block grant for the delivery of Further Education (FE) provision up to and including level 3, Higher Education delivered in FE (HE in FE) and Essential Skills provision. Funding allocations and delivery targets for each college are negotiated and agreed through the annual College Development Plan (CDP) process where each college presents to the Department a curriculum plan in line with my Department's strategic objectives, whilst reflecting demand and local economic and community needs. The CDP process is currently underway in respect of 2012/13 and, consequently, no decisions on enrolment numbers and the volume of provision to be delivered have yet been made. Any decisions made, will be informed by historical delivery trends, evidence presented within the CDP and will be subject to resource constraints.

Construction Industry Workers: Employability

Mrs D Kelly asked the Minister for Employment and Learning what specific measures or programmes have been put in place to boost the employability and skills of former construction industry workers who are now in receipt of unemployment benefits.

(AQW 9558/11-15)

Dr Farry: As a direct response to the economic downturn, contingency arrangements were introduced in November 2008 to allow apprentices who were made redundant in the construction, engineering and motor vehicle sectors to continue their training via the Department's Steps to Work programme.

Specific measures included the opportunity for apprentices over the age of 18 years to join the Steps to Work programme for up to a maximum of 52 weeks and to complete the Technical Certificate and Essential Skills element at a Further Education College if required. Apprentices under the age of 18 years can transfer to the Programme-Led apprenticeship under Training for Success.

My Department's Careers Service also provides an impartial, all-age careers information, advice and guidance service to clients throughout Northern Ireland. This service is free and available to everyone, including former construction industry workers, and is delivered by professionally qualified careers advisers.

Careers advisers work with clients on a one to one basis to help them access and analyse appropriate information about current and future employment opportunities, determine the occupations that best suit their personal aptitudes, interests and skills, identify relevant training and develop appropriate career plans.

Media Communications Protocols

Mr Allister asked the Minister for Employment and Learning what media communications protocols exist between his Department and each of its arm's-length bodies; and to publish these protocols.

(AQW 9590/11-15)

Dr Farry: No media communications protocols exist between the Department for Employment and Learning and each of its arm's length bodies.

Medical and Nursing Graduates

Mr Agnew asked the Minister for Employment and Learning how many people graduated from universities in Northern Ireland with a (i) medical; and (ii) nursing degree in each of the last five years.

(AQW 9620/11-15)

Dr Farry: The number of students who have graduated from universities in Northern Ireland with a (i) medical; and (ii) nursing degree in each of the last five years is detailed in the table below:

| Subject  | 2006/07 | 2007/08 | 2008/09 | 2009/10 | 2010/11 |
|----------|---------|---------|---------|---------|---------|
| Medicine | 285     | 260     | 290     | 345     | 410     |
| Nursing  | 1,870   | 1,910   | 1,845   | 1,575   | 1,500   |

Source: Higher Education Statistics Agency

Notes:

- 1 Figures in the table are rounded to the nearest 5.
- 2 The figures include graduates from both postgraduate and undergraduate courses.
- 3 Medical graduates include those students who studied clinical medicine or pre-clinical medicine courses.
- 4 The latest year for which qualifications data are available is 2010/11.

Child Poverty Strategy Delivery Plan

Dr McDonnell asked the Minister for Employment and Learning what actions his Department has identified as being within its remit in developing the Child Poverty Strategy Delivery Plan.

(AQO 1578/11-15)

Dr Farry: One of the most effective ways of addressing child poverty is supporting people/parents to move into work.

My Department's actions will therefore focus on the following areas:

- supporting people/parents to move into work;
- raising the skill levels of individuals; and
- up-skilling those in work to improve earning capacity.

My Department is currently undertaking a range of actions which support these three areas. These include:

- leading on the development of a cross-departmental strategy for those young people Not in Education, Employment or Training;
- essential skills provision to raise literacy, numeracy and ICT skills;
- increasing the proportion of individuals from disadvantaged backgrounds that are engaged in Higher Education;
- the provision of a range of employment support services, including job search facilities and employment programmes;
- putting in place more effective careers support through Partnership Agreements with key partners such as schools, Health and Social Care Trusts and those who act as advocates for young people with barriers; and
- undertaking research projects to investigate best practice in relation to careers guidance for people with a disability and those with other social barriers.

Discussions are continuing, led by the Office of the First Minister and Deputy First Minister, on agreeing the precise content of the Delivery Plan.

Skills Strategy: Update

Mr Lyttle asked the Minister for Employment and Learning for an update on the implementation of the Skills Strategy.

(AQO 1582/11-15)

Dr Farry: Skills are a crucial element in rebalancing and rebuilding the Northern Ireland economy and I am fully committed to driving forward work on a wide front in order to improve the skills profile of our workforce.

The aim of my Department's overarching Skills Strategy – 'Success through Skills – Transforming Futures' - is to enable people to access and progress up the skills ladder, in order to:

- raise the skills level of the whole workforce;
- raise productivity;
- increase levels of social inclusion by enhancing the employability of those currently excluded from the labour market; and
- secure Northern Ireland's future in a global marketplace.

The broad aims and objectives of the Skills Strategy are being taken forward through a number of Departmental strategies including 'Further Education means Business', 'Preparing for Success', 'Leading to Success' and 'Success through STEM'.

Another very important aspect of the ongoing implementation of the Skills Strategy is how my Department will work with business over the coming years to encourage them to buy in to the skills agenda and see merit in investing in the skills of their workforce. To this end, I have recently published the Department's 'Employer Engagement Plan'.

The Plan sets out how we will make it easier for local businesses to:

- up-skill their existing workforce;
- have the excellent training they offer in house accredited;
- have the existing skills of staff recognised; and
- better utilise these skills within their workforce.

The Employer Engagement Plan includes twenty projects and initiatives that will be delivered predominantly over the next eighteen months. Through these initiatives and the implementation of the overall Skills Strategy we plan to make real progress towards ensuring that we have the skilled people necessary to avail of current and future economic opportunities.

University of Ulster: Job Losses

Mr McClarty asked the Minister for Employment and Learning how many job losses are expected at each University of Ulster campus following the announcement of a rolling programme of job losses over four years.

(AQO 1584/11-15)

Dr Farry: Staffing at the University of Ulster is a matter for the University itself. In the current comprehensive spending review period, all higher education institutions have been required to make efficiency savings of 6% in the current and next academic year.

It is for individual institutions to decide how to implement these efficiencies and, if necessary, to determine where any resulting job losses will occur.

Students: North/South Flows

Ms Boyle asked the Minister for Employment and Learning for his assessment of the main barriers to greater North-South student flows.

(AQO 1587/11-15)

Dr Farry: Members will be aware of the IBEC-CBI Joint Business Council Report published last August and will recall that I welcomed the report in this chamber as an opportunity to explore any factors that restrict students in their choice of academic institution.

The report made nine key recommendations to improve North-South undergraduate student flows. Whilst some identified causes are likely to be beyond the control of either government, a number of issues relevant to my Department include student support and registration fee arrangements for students from Northern Ireland attending universities in the Republic of Ireland and A-level and Leaving Certificate equivalences.

The subject of financial support for Northern Ireland undergraduate students studying in the Republic of Ireland is currently under review by my Department. The issues surrounding A-level and Leaving Certificate equivalences are the basis of ongoing discussion between the Council for the Curriculum, Examinations and Assessment and the Irish Universities Association

In addition, following the publication of the report, the Irish Business and Employers Confederation has proposed the establishment of a forum to discuss the outcomes and I have agreed that my Department will be represented there.

I believe that students from Northern Ireland should continue to have a free choice of academic institution within the United Kingdom, Republic of Ireland and elsewhere. I also recognise the important role played by students from the Republic of Ireland in contributing to the vibrant and multi-national atmosphere of campuses throughout Northern Ireland.

The strengthening of access to education on an all-island basis will be considered in the Higher Education Strategy for Northern Ireland currently being developed by my Department.

NEETs: Cross-departmental Working

Mr McDevitt asked the Minister for Employment and Learning how many times NEETs Branch staff have met with relevant personnel in the Department of Enterprise, Trade and Investment, the Department of Education and the Department of Health, Social Services and Public Safety.

(AQO 1589/11-15)

Dr Farry: Discussions have taken place specifically on the issue of young people Not in Education, Employment or Training at two meetings with officials from the Department of Enterprise, Trade and Investment, at eight meetings with officials from the Department of Education and at six meetings with officials from the Department of Health, Social Services and Public Safety. Discussions also took place with other Departmental officials during consultation seminars, at Invest NI and at a Young Persons' consultation in June 2011.

The issue has also been discussed within the context of cross-departmental meetings on issues such as Investing for Health, child poverty, care leavers, and at children's and young persons fora including the Ministerial Sub-Committee on Children and Young People.

These discussions are in addition to correspondence that took place by telephone and e-mail.

Department of Enterprise, Trade and Investment

Export Finance: Support for Small Businesses

Mr Easton asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment what support is available for small businesses that are affected by foreign Governments which have suspended payments to local companies.

(AQW 7946/11-15)

Mrs Foster (The Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment): The UK Export Finance (the arm of the UK Department for Business, Innovation and Skills) can provide advice and support towards insuring UK investors in overseas markets and UK exporters against non-payment by their overseas buyers. This support is available to Northern Ireland firms via BIS's Export Credit Guarantee Department.

Arms Trade: Financial Support

Mr Agnew asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment, pursuant to AQW 6196/11-15 (i) which arms companies received financial assistance from InvestNI for the period March 2005 to January 2012; (ii) how much funding each company received; (iii) how the funding from InvestNI was spent by each company; and (iv) what products each of these companies developed, or were planning to develop, as a result of this financial assistance.

(AQW 8909/11-15)

Mrs Foster: One company in Northern Ireland, Thales Air Defence Limited, which is engaged in the design, development and manufacture of short-range air defence products, received financial assistance from Invest Northern Ireland during the period 1 March 2005 to 31 January 2012.

Below is a summary of the amounts of financial assistance paid, how the Invest NI financial assistance was spent and the products developed or being developed as a result of the financial assistance.

| Date of Offer | Type of Assistance             | Total Amount Paid between 1 March 2005 and 31 January 2012 | How Invest NI funding was spent.  |
|---------------|--------------------------------|--|---|
| March 2005    | Selective Financial Assistance | £356,000   | Used to improve technological efficiency and to retain and develop core manufacturing skills. |
| December 2009 | Research & Development         | £3,286,728   | Research into strategic technologies for high precision guidance systems                      |
| January 2012  | Research & Development         | NIL  | To extend capability in the development of open architectures for existing defence systems.   |

Arms Trade: Financial Support

Mr Agnew asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment, pursuant to AQW 6196/11-15, to detail (i) the information each of the companies provided to InvestNI to secure the funding; and (ii) the application process followed by each of the companies to receive this funding.

(AQW 9123/11-15)

Mrs Foster:

- (i) In accordance with normal procedures governing the provision of financial assistance under Invest NI's schemes, the company supported was required to submit a business plan or application form detailing the commercial rationale associated with each project along with appropriate justification of the need for financial assistance.
- (ii) The business plan for each project was subjected to a commercial appraisal; and approval of Invest NI financial assistance was given at the appropriate level and in accordance with the criteria applicable to Invest NI's Selective Financial Assistance and Grant for R&D schemes.

Defence/Security Sector: Financial Support

Mr Flanagan asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment to detail the funding, grants or other support that her Department or its arm's-length bodies have provided to companies in the defence or security sector in each of the last ten years; and for what project or work the funding was provided.

(AQW 9199/11-15)

Mrs Foster: The information requested is provided in the table below:

| Financial Year | Offers | New jobs | Safe Jobs | Total Assistance | Total Planned Investment | Reason for Provision of Assistance   |
|----------------|--------|----------|-----------|------------------|--------------------------|--|
| 2002-03        | 1      | 0        | 0         | £899,060         | £4,495,300               | Research and Development Project   |
| 2003-04        | 4      | 0        | 0         | £4,353           | £4,353                   | Business and skills development projects.  |
| 2004-05        | 8      | 5        | 67        | £3,866,587       | £11,462,506              | Research and Development, SFA expansion, management information systems, business improvement and skills development and export growth Projects. |
| 2005-06        | 5      | 0        | 0         | £33,088          | £64,095                  | Research and development, business improvement and export growth projects.   |

| 2007-08        | 9      | 14       | 0         | £368,525         | £2,505,425               | Research and Development, management information systems, business improvement and skills development and export growth Projects.                |
| 2008-09        | 7      | 0        | 0         | £146,948         | £286,316                 | Research and Development, innovation focused, business improvement and skills development and product development Projects.                      |
| 2009-10        | 17     | 11       | 0         | £3,780,545       | £9,386,400               | Research and Development, capital expansion, business improvement and skills development, Trade and export growth Projects.                      |
| 2010-11        | 30     | 21       | 0         | £297,939         | £1,683,517               | Research and Development, capital expansion, business improvement and skills development, Trade and export growth Projects.                      |

City of Culture: Tourism Support

Mr Campbell asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment what degree of priority Tourism officials will give to supporting events in and around 2013 as Londonderry celebrates its status as the first UK City of Culture.

(AQW 9221/11-15)

Mrs Foster: NITB has been supporting the City Council in Londonderry and ILEX in the run up to 2013, to ensure the City can develop an exciting and comprehensive events programme for 2013. NITB has committed £700,000 towards the UK City of Culture programme of events, subject to the necessary approval. In addition NITB's Tourism Events Fund will open again in the autumn of 2012 to which projects in the area can apply. NITB will be working with the Culture Company to develop and align marketing and communications plans for 2013.

Tourism Ireland's new three-year global advertising campaign will reach over 200 million consumers in 2012 alone and has been developed to be flexible and adaptable and will evolve over its three-year lifespan to capitalise on events such as Londonderry UK City of Culture 2013. Tourism Ireland is already promoting Londonderry worldwide in advance of the arrival in July of the Clipper Round the World Yacht Race and events such as the Peace One Day concert at Ebrington Barracks in June, marking the opening of the London 2012 Festival and Paralympic Games.

Tourism Ireland's programme of trade and familiarisation visits to Londonderry continues and in relation to business tourism, Tourism Ireland will sponsor the annual conference of the Association of British Professional Conference Organisers (ABPCO) which will take place in Londonderry in 2013.

Our Time, Our Place: Advertising Budget

Mr Swann asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment how the 'Our Time Our Place' initiative has been advertised in (i) Northern Ireland; (ii) other parts of the UK; and (iii) the rest of the world; and what budget was allocated to each campaign. (AQW 9224/11-15)

Mrs Foster: ni2012 is a major opportunity to capitalise on a series of significant events and anniversaries to create a platform which will reposition Northern Ireland as a positive place to live, work, invest, study and visit. A marketing strategy, for the Northern Ireland and Republic of Ireland marketplaces, including both an extensive campaign and the innovative use of digital and social media is currently taking place.

To date £832,000 has been invested in the domestic campaign in Northern Ireland and £1.32 million in the Republic of Ireland marketplace.

Tourism Ireland, which markets Northern Ireland worldwide, has invested £4.7 million specifically for marketing ni2012. The majority of this money will be spent in Great Britain, which is our most important market. £1 million of this investment has been invested in co-operative marketing campaigns with air and sea carriers.

Other overseas activity to promote ni2012 includes TV advertising on British terrestrial and satellite channels, a major promotional roadshow series in key access gateways such as London, Manchester and Glasgow and participation in trade and consumer travel shows in France, Spain and Germany.

Presbyterian Mutual Society: DETI Spend

Mr B McCrea asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment (i) why her Department is engaging senior legal figures from outside Northern Ireland in seeking the disqualification of the Directors of the Presbyterian Mutual Society; (ii) how much her Department has spent to date on this; and (iii) for an estimate of the final costs. (AQW 9234/11-15)

Mrs Foster: The Department has engaged Counsel both from England and Northern Ireland, experienced in the field, to advise and represent it in the disqualification proceedings. To date, the fees incurred have been £6985.13 inclusive of VAT. The proceedings are not yet listed for hearing and it is not possible at this stage to give an estimate of the costs which will be incurred.

Presbyterian Mutual Society: Directors

Mr B McCrea asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment what factors her Department assess to decide which Directors of the Presbyterian Mutual Society should be disqualified. (AQW 9236/11-15)

Mrs Foster: This is a live issue in relation to proceedings currently before the Court and it is therefore not appropriate to comment on PMS at this time.

DETI has a statutory obligation, following receipt of an Administrator's report, to consider whether disqualification proceedings should be commenced against any director of a company which has become insolvent. The Department must consider whether it is expedient in the public interest to initiate such proceedings under article 10 of the Company Directors Disqualification (Northern Ireland) Order 2002. It is a matter for the High Court, not the Department, to determine whether a disqualification order should be made. If the Court is satisfied that the conduct of a director is such as to make him unfit to be concerned in the management of a company, then it must make such an order.

The concept of the public interest is incapable of precise formulation. It is a question of judgement in any given case and will involve consideration of a number of factors including the purpose of the legislation (the main purpose being protection of the public), the nature of the allegations at issue, the directors responsibility in respect of such allegations together with any aggravating or mitigating factors and the prospects of success of proceedings should they issue. The Department reviews the position throughout the course of proceedings.

Hospitality: Spend

Mr Allister asked Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment, pursuant to AQW 6316/11-15, whether the figures provided include the Department's arm's-length bodies; and if not, to provide this information for each of the last five years.

(AQW 9245/11-15)

Mrs Foster: The Department's response to AQW 6316/11-15 did not include arms length bodies.

For Invest NI, hospitality expenditure for 2007-08 to 2010-11, and in the year to date was provided in response to AQW 6314/11-15.

The table below provides a breakdown of hospitality expenditure across the Department's other arms length bodies for each of the last five financial years:

|         | Health &amp; Safety ExecutiveNI(see note a) | Consumer Council NI (seenote b) | NI Tourist Board |
|---------|--|---|-------------------------|
| 2010-11 | £3,594   | £6,415                                      | £17,200                 |
| 2009-10 | £4,811   | £9,531                                      | £13,362                 |
| 2008-09 | £6,682   | £10,866                                     | £13,562                 |
| 2007-08 | £2,544   | not available                               | £13,704                 |
| 2006-07 | £5,073   | not available                               | £12,419                 |

Notes:

- (a) HSENI figures represent the programme element of the amount spent on hospitality.
- (b) Consumer Council figures for 2006-07 and 2007-08 are not available without incurring disproportionate cost.

'The Shore': Benefits to Tourism

Ms Ruane asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment what plans her Department has in place to build on the recent success of 'The Shore' film production, particularly in terms of the potential benefits to the tourism sector in the South Down area.
(AQW 9254/11-15)

Mrs Foster: TV and film are recognised as strong influencers on prospective visitors and often provide the opportunity to promote Northern Ireland as a holiday destination by highlighting the character of our landscapes. The success of The Shore will help lever positive exposure for Northern Ireland around the world. The US media coverage of the success of The Shore at the Oscars has already generated over $2 million in equivalent advertising value.

Building on this success writer and director Terry George and producer Orlagh George have agreed to feature in footage Tourism Ireland is currently filming at the St Patrick Centre and Down Cathedral for inclusion in its promotional activity overseas. Tourism Ireland is also highlighting The Shore on all of its Social Media channels, including Facebook.

The Northern Ireland Tourist Board has also included a news story about The Shore on its website www.discovernorthernireland.com and the South East Ulster/Mourne Mountains region is one of several key destinations NITB promotes both within Northern Ireland and the Republic of Ireland through its marketing campaigns, website, promotional literature, PR and social media outlets.

BIS: Ministerial Meetings

Mrs Overend asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment what discussions she has had with the Secretary of State for Business, Innovation and Skills regarding the trade visits that he has made on behalf of the United Kingdom; and whether Northern Ireland has been represented on any of these visits.

(AQW 9365/11-15)

Mrs Foster: Some Northern Ireland companies have participated on trade missions facilitated by UK Trade & Investment (UKTI), the organisation that delivers such missions on behalf of the Department of Business, Innovation and Skills (BIS). However, I understand there has been no Northern Ireland representation on the four occasions that the Secretary of State for BIS has accompanied business delegations overseas.

Invest NI's Chief Executive recently met with the Chief Executive of UKTI and among the matters discussed, it was agreed that both organisations should consider ways in which Northern Ireland might be represented on UKTI missions being led by Westminster Ministers.

Invest NI has its own programme of trade visits overseas and in the period March 2012 to March 2013 there are plans to organise 70 events worldwide.

Direct Flights: Belfast/Toronto

Mr B McCrea asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment what action she has taken to encourage and secure direct flights between Belfast and Toronto.

(AQW 9392/11-15)

Mrs Foster: The restoration of a direct service between Toronto and Belfast is a strategic priority for tourism and the broader economy. Tourism Ireland, in cooperation with Belfast International Airport, has continued to case-make for the restoration of a direct service from Toronto to Belfast. Meetings took place with both Air Transat and Air Canada last summer and further meetings will take place this year.

Indirect access from Toronto to Belfast (via New York or London) is currently being highlighted to potential visitors by Tourism Ireland.

Tourism Ireland: Canada/USA Spend

Mr B McCrea asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment (i) how much Tourism Ireland spends on an annual basis in (a) Canada; and (b) the United States; and (ii) how much of this spend is used for promoting Northern Ireland.

(AQW 9393/11-15)

Mrs Foster: Tourism Ireland has an extensive marketing programme in place in North America for 2012 and will invest approximately £7.2 million in this market this year to promote both Northern Ireland and the Republic of Ireland. It is not possible to split this spend between Northern Ireland and the Republic of Ireland.

However, I can confirm that Tourism Ireland will spend £450k on its dedicated ni2012 campaign in North America on co-operative marketing of the Continental Airlines New York/Belfast service, the NI "Home of Champions" golf campaign and specific NI engagement with the tourism trade and consumer promotion.

Hospitality Trade

Mr McGlone asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment what (i) financial assistance; (ii) advice; and (iii) training her Department or its arm's-length bodies provide for the hospitality trade.

(AQW 9394/11-15)

Mrs Foster: Hospitality businesses can access an extensive range of assistance via my Department's arm's length bodies - the Northern Ireland Tourist Board (NITB), Invest NI and Tourism Ireland. Examples of assistance provided to hospitality businesses include:

- NITB grant aid via the Tourism Development Scheme and Events Fund; NITB's Industry Development Programme (including Masterclasses and Learning Journeys); participation in an accommodation Quality Assurance Scheme; and a broad range of NITB advice such as start up guidance for B&B providers, signposting to initiatives and training opportunities, the provision of guidance on the development of sustainable tourism and green accreditation schemes;
- Invest NI grant support for qualifying tourist accommodation projects; Invest NI advice and financial support for qualifying businesses to help improve business processes, skills development and training, marketing, e-commerce, knowledge management, energy efficiency and environmental practices; and
- Tourism Ireland's assistance in helping to promote hospitality businesses in 22 markets overseas, including attendance at overseas consumer and trade fairs, co-operative marketing opportunities, features in consumer and business tourism ezines and publicity opportunities.

Financial Capability Strategy

Mr D McIlveen asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment whether he plans to introduce a strategic framework to improve consumers' basic financial knowledge.

(AQW 9399/11-15)

Mrs Foster: The final Programme for Government 2011-15 includes an Executive commitment to develop and implement a Financial Capability Strategy for consumers under Priority 2, Creating Opportunities, Tackling Disadvantage, and Improving Health and Wellbeing. The aim of the Financial Capability Strategy will be to equip consumers with the skills and knowledge to manage their finances effectively.

Woodland: UK Forestry Standard

Ms Lo asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment whether all the bodies or organisations within her Department's remit which own woodland are compliant with the UK Forestry Standard, including her Department, any arm's-length body and any organisation to which her Department provides grant aid.

(AQW 9436/11-15)

Mrs Foster: Of DETI's four Non Departmental Public Bodies, only Invest NI own land. Invest NI owns the freehold of 2830 acres of industrial land across Northern Ireland, which includes landscaped and woodland areas. The vast majority of this land has been let and lease conditions place the responsibility for retention and maintenance of trees within landscaping on the tenant and provides the right of inspection and challenge for Invest NI. Vacant land is regularly inspected, to ensure that it is free of trespass and maintained to a high level. Invest NI works in partnership with Planning NI, its professional service providers and various environmental agencies to ensure that biodiversity and sustainability are taken into account when planning maintenance and development works.

It is not possible to provide information on organisations to which DETI provides grant aid as this data is not held centrally.

Foresight Unit

Mr Copeland asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment to outline the timescale for the establishment of the Foresight Unit to identify emerging sectors and their specific skills needs.

(AQO 1585/11-15)

Mrs Foster: DETI's new Foresight Unit is already in place and is working with MATRIX to identify emerging high technology market priorities and opportunities. Its first study will be into the sustainable energy sector and will be published by the autumn. The unit has also engaged at national level with the UK's BIS' Foresight team and is now a partner in "UK Future of Manufacturing" study. As it develops its work programme the unit will also engage with businesses in other sectors to identify emerging markets and opportunities across the whole economy.

Gas Network: Expansion

Mr McKay asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment whether she has urged the gas industry to expand the gas network; and to which towns specifically.

(AQW 9524/11-15)

Mrs Foster: The majority of responses to my Department's 2011 consultation paper on extension of the natural gas network in Northern Ireland, particularly those from the natural gas sector, local industry and the public sector, supported extending the natural gas network and agreed that the areas outlined in the consultation, i.e. the main towns in the West and North West of Northern Ireland, namely Dungannon, Cookstown, Magherafelt, Omagh, Enniskillen/Derrylin and Strabane, and towns in East Down such as Saintfield, Ballynahinch, Crossgar and Downpatrick represent the key remaining areas in which the natural gas network might feasibly be developed.

Following the consultation, my officials have been having discussions with the Utility Regulator in relation to how best to take forward gas network extension. As part of this work, I plan to complete a detailed economic analysis covering the costs and benefits of extending the network to the above areas.

Gas Network: Viability

Mr McKay asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment which towns are the most economically viable for inclusion in an extended gas network.

(AQW 9525/11-15)

Mrs Foster: Responses to my 2011 consultation on extension of the natural gas network noted overall support from the energy industry and the wider community for bringing gas to the new areas outlined in the consultation paper, i.e. the main towns in the West and North West of Northern Ireland, namely Dungannon, Cookstown, Magherafelt, Omagh, Enniskillen/Derrylin and Strabane, and towns in East Down such as Saintfield, Ballynahinch, Crossgar and Downpatrick.

I now plan to complete a further detailed economic analysis which will consider the costs and benefits of the proposed extension.

Gas Network: East Antrim

Mr McMullan asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment whether any suppliers of natural gas have indicated a desire to provide natural gas to areas of East Antrim which they currently do not serve, such as Glenarm, Carnlough and the Glens.

(AQW 9580/11-15)

Mrs Foster: I am not aware of any plans by natural gas companies to take gas to Glenarm, Carnlough and the Glens in East Antrim.

Any extension of the gas network must be economically viable, and is very dependent on there being sufficient gas loads in the proposed new areas.

Gas Network: Availability

Mr D McIlveen asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment to detail the (i) percentage of availability to the gas network in the ten towns licence area; (ii) percentage of homes connected to the gas network within this area that are (a) owner-occupied; and (b) Housing Executive owned; and (iii) projected percentage of availability to the gas network in the ten towns licence area by 2015.

(AQW 9597/11-15)

Mrs Foster: firmus energy has advised that approximately 15% of the domestic properties in its 10 Towns gas licensed area have availability to the natural gas network.

firmus energy also advise that some 47% of its domestic customers in the 10 Towns area live in NI Housing Executive properties, with the remaining 53% of domestic customers living in owner-occupied or privately rented properties.

A number of factors will influence the projected percentage of domestic properties with availability to the natural gas network. firmus energy estimate that approximately 25% of domestic properties in their licensed area will have gas available to them by 2015.

Wind Turbines: Infrastructure Costs

Mr D McIlveen asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment who pays for the infrastructure to connect wind turbines to the grid.

(AQW 9602/11-15)

Mrs Foster: The cost of the infrastructure to connect wind turbines to the grid is met by the generating station owner. NIE, as network owner, is required to provide a connection offer to all generation considering connecting to the distribution system in line with its connection charging statement. These costs will include any necessary associated line upgrades required to accommodate the additional power generated.

City of Culture: Marketing Campaign

Mr Eastwood asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment for an update on the plans for a marketing campaign to promote tourism for Derry City of Culture 2013.

(AQW 9643/11-15)

Mrs Foster: I would refer the Member to the reply I gave to AQW 9221/11-15.

Independent News and Media: Job Creation

Ms J McCann asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment how many jobs were created at Independent News and Media PLC's Belfast and Newry sites as a result of InvestNI's investment of £3.5 million between 2005 and 2009; and whether any of the funding was used by Independent News and Media PLC for a programme of redundancies.

(AQW 9686/11-15)

Mrs Foster: Invest NI assistance to Independent News and Media from 2005-2009 was £3.66million. The number of jobs associated with the grants was 183.

The grants were paid out against vouched and approved capital expenditure on plant and equipment.

Economy: Cross-border Co-operation

Mr A Maginness asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment for her assessment of the potential for economic growth and job creation from cross-border economic cooperation.

(AQO 1596/11-15)

Mrs Foster: For Northern Ireland, with a small home market, we need to expand our horizons and look across the world to seize trading opportunities. To do this it is vital that local companies establish commercial links with partners outside of our borders. In the new NI Economic Strategy we have increased our target for export growth by 2014/15 from 15% to 20%.

The greatest potential for export led growth, in the coming years, will be in trading with emerging economies, which is why we have introduced a new stretching target in the Economic Strategy to increase our exports to these emerging markets by 60% by 2014/15. I have witnessed this potential myself at Trade Missions across the world, seeing first hand the opportunities for local companies to make new contacts, build alliances and ultimately access new markets.

Economic Strategy: Business Investment

Mr McNarry asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment for her assessment of the help that other Executive colleagues could give to her Department, in terms of policies, to assist in increasing business investment.

(AQO 1597/11-15)

Mrs Foster: The Northern Ireland Economic Strategy was developed by the Executive Sub-Committee on the Economy, and represents a shared commitment across all Departments to improve economic competitiveness and improve employment and prosperity.

The focus of activity is on supporting export-led economic growth making Northern Ireland more attractive for business investment.

I anticipate that the successful cross-departmental approach present during the development of the Strategy will continue throughout implementation.

Unemployment: Invest NI Assistance

Mr Brady asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment why InvestNI has delivered the lowest numbers of jobs in the constituencies with the highest numbers of unemployed and long-term unemployed people.

(AQO 1598/11-15)

Mrs Foster: The assertion that less jobs are promoted in areas which have higher rates of unemployment is not valid. For example, the Foyle constituency has a relatively high rate of claimant count compared to the Northern Ireland average, but has also received the third highest number of jobs assisted by Invest NI during the past five years. Newry and Armagh, which also has relatively high rates of unemployment, is ranked fourth out of the eighteen Parliamentary Constituency Areas in Northern Ireland in terms of jobs supported by Invest NI. During the past five years almost 60% of new jobs supported by Invest NI were located in areas of economic disadvantage – areas which account for around 30% of the Northern Ireland population.

Invest NI assistance has tended to reflect the concentration of companies in and around our main towns and cities. It is important for our economic growth that companies must be able to locate where they believe they can operate most profitably.

Economy: EU Regional Aid

Mr Weir asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment what impact the Review of EU Regional Aid Guidelines will have on economic development.

(AQO 1599/11-15)

Mrs Foster: Any steps to further reduce Regional Aid ceilings or coverage in Northern Ireland, through the possible removal by the Department of Business, Innovation and Skills of Northern Ireland's automatic assisted area status, will have a significant impact on our ability to support business competitiveness and growth. It is particularly concerning that, while one part of the United Kingdom Government is seeking to rebalance the Northern Ireland economy and grow our private sector, another part is taking steps which will have a significant detrimental effect on our ability to encourage private sector growth. We have raised our concerns with the United Kingdom Government and will continue to do so.

Credit Unions: Financial Services Authority

Mr Murphy asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment whether there have been any developments in alleviating concerns that credit unions have over the Financial Services Authority's regulations.

(AQO 1600/11-15)

Mrs Foster: On 1 February 2012 I wrote to the Financial Secretary to the Treasury to reiterate my concerns regarding the investment potential of Northern Ireland Credit Unions under Financial Services Authority regulation. As a result the Financial Secretary to the Treasury has offered to facilitate a meeting between Northern Ireland MPs and the Financial Services Authority in order that concerns can be raised with the Regulator directly.

Additionally, the Financial Services Authority have agreed to host a series of 'information surgeries' in Belfast between 21-23 May 2012. All Northern Ireland credit unions have been invited to attend and will be afforded the opportunity to raise queries and discuss concerns they may have about Financial Services Authority regulation.

Invest NI: North Belfast

Ms P Bradley asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment what assistance InvestNI has given to small and medium sized enterprises in North Belfast in the last year.

(AQO 1601/11-15)

Mrs Foster: The SME sector is the lifeblood of our local economy and helping our SMEs to develop and expand into new markets is one of Invest NI's key objectives. Invest NI therefore offers a wide range of financial assistance to SMEs which are at the growth stage and which can demonstrate that their plans will contribute to increasing Northern Ireland's productivity.

Between 1st March 2011 and 29th February 2012, Invest NI approved offers worth almost £950,000 to SMEs in North Belfast.

You may also be aware that in November 2011, I launched the Jobs Fund with the specific aim of boosting job creation. The Jobs Fund includes a measure aimed at young people aged 16-24 not in employment, education or training which offers a business start grant of £1,500 upon business start up. I am pleased to say that there has been a very positive uptake of this strand of the Jobs Fund in North Belfast with 11 offers having already been issued to young people in the constituency. The Jobs Fund also includes a business start grant of £1,000 for people living in a Neighbourhood Renewal Area and 45 offers have been issued in the last year to people living in North Belfast, creating 15 new jobs to date.

There are also several more projects at varying stages of negotiation and I can assure you that we are committed to helping our North Belfast-based SMEs grow and develop in the months and years ahead.

Business: Energy Costs

Mr Storey asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment what measures she can take in conjunction with her Executive colleagues to reduce costs for large energy consumers in the business community.

(AQO 1602/11-15)

Mrs Foster: I appreciate the concerns of consumers regarding energy prices, however my Department does not set electricity and gas tariffs. Rather, it works with the Utility Regulator to develop market conditions to put downward pressure on prices.

I have been examining the feasibility of Invest NI providing financial assistance to a limited number of Large Energy Users who could show that by making a significant capital investment, they could reduce their energy costs. As I advised the Assembly on 13 March 2012, Invest NI is willing to consider providing financial assistance on a pilot basis, under its normal Selective Financial Assistance schemes, to Large Energy Users who have proposals for capital expenditure which will make a significant impact on energy efficiency and therefore reduce their costs and improve competitiveness.

Invest NI: SMEs

Mr McElduff asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment how her Department is encouraging InvestNI to play a greater role in providing support to local small and medium sized enterprises.

(AQO 1603/11-15)

Mrs Foster: My Department has taken the lead in working with the Executive Sub-group on the Economy and Invest NI to develop a coherent Economic Strategy whose ultimate aim is to improve the economic competitiveness of the Northern Ireland economy.

The Northern Ireland Economic Strategy aims to develop an economy based on innovative firms competing in export markets.

As part of the Economic Strategy my Department is currently developing an Enterprise Strategy which will set out what we are doing to improve the local business environment for all companies in all sectors, not just those who are exporting. There will be a focus on promoting enterprise, entrepreneurship, creating the necessary conditions and providing access to finance to enable businesses across all sectors of the economy, including SMEs, to grow.

The Executive's Economic priority is to improve economic competitiveness in order to increase employment and prosperity. The Northern Ireland Economic Strategy aims to develop an economy based on innovative firms competing in export markets. The Strategy contains a number of measures which aim to grow indigenous SMEs.

Business Start-ups: South Antrim

Mr Girvan asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment what action she is taking to encourage more investment in business start-ups in the South Antrim constituency.

(AQO 1604/11-15)

Mrs Foster: Invest NI works directly, and with partner organisations in the South Antrim area, to promote investment in business start ups and provides a range of support, both financial and advisory.

While Invest NI is not currently delivering a Business Start Programme, it has put in place appropriate arrangements to respond to business start enquiries to ensure potential entrepreneurs can access the relevant advice and support that they need. This activity is supporting the needs of potential entrepreneurs as they move into self employment.

In addition, Invest NI's Boosting Business initiative, encompassing support under five themes: Jobs, R & D, Exports, Technology and Skills, is available to new start businesses. Its Jobs Fund which provides rapid support for employment creation, would be particularly relevant to export focused new start entrepreneurs, at a time when cashflow is often strained.

Invest NI's North Eastern Regional Office is also working closely with Councils in the South Antrim area to develop a range of new programmes, supported by the Local Economic Development Measure of the Sustainable Competitiveness Programme, targeted at small businesses that have not traditionally been able to avail of Invest NI support. Start up businesses would be eligible to participate.

Department of the Environment

Tree Protection Orders

Mr Agnew asked the Minister of the Environment how many trees, which were under Tree Protection Orders, were felled or destroyed in each of the last five years, broken down by council area; and how many prosecutions resulted from the destruction of these trees.

(AQW 7438/11-15)

Mr Attwood (The Minister of the Environment): The Department will investigate all alleged breaches of planning control. However, when determining what (if any) action is to be taken, the Department has a general discretion on whether to take enforcement action against a breach of planning control. It does so when it considers it expedient, having regard to the provisions of the development plan and any other material consideration. Priority will be given to those breaches where, in the Department's opinion, the greatest harm is being caused. Where the extent of the breach is considered by the Department to be minor in nature and the impact on the environment minimal, the Department may consider that it is not expedient to take formal enforcement action. This consideration must be made on a case by case basis.

The Department's IT system was upgraded in March 2009 and only live case information as of 1 April 2009 was backdated into the upgraded system; hence information is only available from that date. Furthermore, information is not captured within the Department's IT system in such a way as to enable the Department to identify how many trees, protected by Tree Protection Orders were felled or destroyed in each of the last five years broken down by council area.

However, during the last three business years, the number of enforcement cases investigated relating to the alleged cutting down, uprooting or wilfully destroying a tree, or wilfully damaging, topping or lopping a tree protected by a Tree Preservation Order (TPO) are set out in Table 1 below.

Table 1: Number of Enforcement Cases relating to Tree Protection Orders or Trees in Conservation Area (Prosecution)

It is important to note that the vast majority of breaches of planning control are resolved informally through negotiation with the owner/occupier or through the submission and consideration of a retrospective planning application.

Of these 121 cases, one prosecution resulted from the destruction of trees protected by a TPO. In November 2011, a Co Tyrone man was fined £5,000 with court costs of £85 at Omagh Magistrates' Court for a breach of a DOE Planning Tree Preservation Order.

Whilst only one prosecution has resulted from the above investigations on cases opened in the last three business years, 43% of the 121 cases when investigated did not breach planning control; and, 14% were remedied/received planning permission. A summary of closure reasons are set out in the Table 2 below.

Table 2: Reason for Closure

|                                | Cases closed |
|--------------------------------|---------------------|
| No Breach                      | 52                  |
| Not Expedient                  | 19                  |
| Planning Permission Granted    | 3                   |
| Remedied Resolved              | 14                  |

| Total                   | 89           |

As of the 28 February, 32 of the 121 cases relating to the alleged cutting down, uprooting or wilfully destroying a tree, or wilfully damaging, topping or lopping a tree protected by a Tree Preservation Order (TPO) remain 'live'.

Listed Buildings: Breakdown by Grade

Miss M McIlveen asked the Minister of the Environment to detail (i) the number of listed buildings, broken down by grade; and (ii) whether the buildings are (a) private homes; (b) commercial premises; or (c) public buildings.

(AQW 7514/11-15)

Mr Attwood: The last published figures (31 March 2011) in relation to listed buildings indicates a total of 8472 listed buildings. The breakdown by grade is as follows;

| Grade      | A   | B+  | B1   | B2   | B    |
| Total 8472 | 204 | 556 | 3512 | 2515 | 1685 |

The recently published Northern Ireland Environmental Statistics Report published by the department also contains statistics on the number of listed buildings. This information is available online at <http://www.doeni.gov.uk/statistics>.

It should be noted that in some cases a record can cover more than one building, such as terraces or estates, so it not possible to state exactly how many separate buildings may be listed; but I understand that the figure would be in the region of 8500.

If a property has been through the Second Survey process, then information is available on the previous and current use of the building. However, this is recorded as the particular building type, and does not detail commercial, public or privately owned property. Only limited information is available for buildings which have not been second surveyed.

I have asked officials to consider how statistical information on such buildings can be increased.

AQW 5351/11-15

Mr Allister asked the Minister of the Environment why the answer to AQW 5351/11-15 was provided to the press before it was provided to the MLA who tabled the question.

(AQW 7721/11-15)

Mr Attwood: When the press query was received, my Press Office sought out the draft reply to your AQW (AQW5351/11-15) to use as the source for the Department's answer to the media query. It was then discovered that due to an oversight the AQW had not been answered. A reply was immediately drafted, which I then approved.

The reply was sent to the Business Office and delivered to your pigeon hole in Parliament Buildings. As the media query had to be answered the Press Office provided a reply. The reply may not have reached your pigeon hole prior to it being released to the media. I trust this explains the situation.

Council Staff: Redundancy or Retirement Packages

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of the Environment, pursuant to AQW 5798/11-15, to detail (i) the former pay scale of each of the local council staff when they retired or took a redundancy package, and whether they were employed on a (a) full-time; or (b) part-time basis; and; (ii) the current pay scale of each person who returned to work, and whether they are employed on a (a) full-time; or (b) part-time basis.

(AQW 8062/11-15)

Mr Attwood: In AQW 5798/11-15 it was recorded that three council employees who took retirement packages were subsequently re-employed. The details of these are as follows:

Person A was originally employed on a scale £54,540 to £60,576 on a full time basis. The officer returned on the same scale, but was employed on a part time pro rata basis.

Person B was originally employed on a scale £24,402 to £30,356 on a full time basis. On their initial return to the council, the employee worked on a casual part time basis, but was then subsequently employed on a full time basis for four months to cover maternity leave before returning to part time. The rate of pay for the part time post was pro rata £19,621 to £23,708 and for full time post was £23,708 per annum.

Person C was originally employed on a scale £38,961 to £41,616 on a full time basis. The person has since been re-employed on a casual ad hoc basis at a rate of £8.3211 per hour.

AQW 5798/11-15 had also referred to one employee who took a redundancy package and was re-employed at a later stage. Further investigation indicated that this person had not been re-employed. The response to AQW 5798/11-15 is, therefore, being corrected.

Questions for Written Answer: Failure to Meet Time Limits

Mr Allister asked the Minister of the Environment why he consistently fails to comply with the requirements of Standing Order 20B(4) in relation to the time limits for answering written Assembly Questions.

(AQO 1427/11-15)

Mr Attwood: I fully appreciate the requirement to answer all written assembly questions within the time limits as set out in Standing Order 20B (4), and I acknowledge some delays on occasions. I believe this situation has all been rectified.

My main aim is to ensure that members' questions are fully considered and addressed and that all relevant issues are integrated into any reply. Standing Order 19(5) addresses the content of Ministerial replies where "A question must be answered as clearly and as fully as possible". I consider that my reply to AQ's fulfil this standard, as I try to include and disclose as much information as possible. This may mean that deadlines suffer.

I am committed to ensuring that any issues raised by members are dealt with fully in line with the requirements of Standing Orders. I will also continue to work with officials to ensure that processes and procedures for dealing with Assembly Questions are as effective and efficient as possible.

Cycling By-laws: North Down

Mr Lyttle asked the Minister of the Environment for an update on the process to amend the No-Cycling By-Laws in the North Down Borough Council area.

(AQW 9153/11-15)

Mr Attwood: The bye-laws that currently regulate cycling in the district of North Down are the Pleasure Ground Bye-laws, which were confirmed jointly by this Department and the Department of Education in 1995. The 1995 bye-laws regulate cycling only in relation to pleasure grounds designated by the Council and listed in the Schedule to those bye-laws.

North Down Borough Council has indicated its intention to replace the 1995 bye-laws with a new set of Bye-laws for Pleasure Grounds, Public Walks and Open Spaces. The proposed bye-laws will include provision to regulate cycling in designated areas, as well as other matters such as horses and animals, field sports and games, camping, trading, and the use of metal detectors. The bye-laws will need confirmation by this Department and the Department for Culture, Arts and Leisure, which has lead responsibility for one of the enabling powers under which the bye-laws are to be made.

Following advice from the Department, the Council submitted a re-drafted set of bye-laws, together with supporting information, on 27 October 2011.

Officials have scrutinised this draft and are currently awaiting further comment from Departmental Solicitor's Office, which is expected shortly. This will be conveyed to the Council at the earliest opportunity.

When the bye-laws have been agreed by all parties involved, the Council will be required, by section 91 of the Local Government Act (Northern Ireland) 1972, to advertise the bye-laws in two newspapers circulating in the locality, and to make copies available for public inspection, in its offices, at least one month before submitting them for confirmation.

Listed Building: 1 Stewart's Place, Holywood

Mr Lyttle asked the Minister of the Environment how much funding was allocated for the repairs to the listed building at 1 Stewart's Place, Holywood, and whether this funding has been accepted and spent.

(AQW 9155/11-15)

Mr Attwood: The NIEA Historic Buildings Unit (HBU) has been in contact with the owners of 1 Stewarts Place (Wilson Group) since 13 Oct 2008, when a site meeting was held to agree the scope of urgent remedial works.

Subsequent to that meeting, and after the issue of a dangerous structure notice from building control - as well as a warning letter from HBU - some urgent repair works were carried out. Following this first intervention, an application for NIEA listed building grant-aid was made to carry out further urgent repairs, along with some less urgent works, to address repairs to the building.

After prolonged negotiations with the Wilson group - as to the extent of the works - a letter of offer was made on 3 October 2011, for the sum of £2,010. This offer of grant-aid has been declined, and the owners have stated that - due to the difficult economic environment - they do not intend to proceed with the works agreed in the grant-aid application.

On the 5 February, the Wilson Group indicated, in a telephone conversation with the NIEA Area Architect, that they would be willing to carry out the minimum works necessary to fulfil their statutory obligations, to secure the fabric of the building. An 'Urgent Works' warning letter will be issued to the owners by the NIEA Conservation Architect on 12 March, confirming the works which must be undertaken to safeguard this building.

Listed Building: 131 Hillsborough Road, Dromore

Mr Lyttle asked the Minister of the Environment what action has been taken to safeguard and restore Turnpike Cottage (Toll House), a listed building at 131, Hillsborough Road, Dromore, HB Ref No: HB19/05/124.

(AQW 9156/11-15)

Mr Attwood: Planning Policy Statement 6 states '...while there is not a specific duty on owners to keep their buildings in a good state of repair it will normally be in their best interests to do so'. The Department has statutory powers to take action where a historic building has deteriorated, to the extent that its preservation may be at risk. In practice the department will normally try to enter into dialogue with the listed building owner, in an attempt to find a way to rectify the situation before resorting to legal action.

This building is graded B1 and is on the Built Heritage at Risk Northern Ireland (BHARNI) Register. It was sold to the present owner in 2007. Officials in NIEA have been engaging with the owner's representatives since then, to seek action to secure this important listed building, and with a local Building Preservation Trust, to try to find a solution to arrest its deterioration.

My officials have advised that the owner has not demonstrated an intention to carry out works to secure this building, despite repeated efforts by the NIEA: Historic Buildings Unit to encourage him to do so.

NIEA is in the process of serving an Urgent Works Notice on this property.

Allotments

Mr Weir asked the Minister of the Environment how much land each council currently makes available for public allotments.

(AQW 9160/11-15)

Mr Attwood: Following AQO 1420, a paper documenting the number of allotments provided by councils was placed in the Assembly Library. That paper advised that there were 602 allotments provided by 11 councils. The following table identifies the amount of land currently provided by councils in relation to those allotments.

| District Council           | Area of Allotments in Square Metres |

Listed Buildings: North Down

Mr Weir asked the Minister of the Environment to detail the listed buildings in the North Down constituency.

(AQW 9161/11-15)

Mr Attwood: Based upon the 1974 ward boundaries, which is how the department holds such records, the total number of listed buildings in the North Down Borough Council Area is 255. The North Down constituency also includes two electoral wards of Ards Borough Council in Donaghadee, which contain a further 58 listed buildings (highlighted in bold). This gives a total of 313 listed buildings in your constituency.

It should be noted that North Down is currently being reviewed under the second survey process, and this figure may change again, when all records have been reviewed.

To provide the detail of all of these listed buildings by hard copy would be unwieldy however the information that you have sought may be accessed electronically at the following link www.doeni.gov.uk/niea/other-index/content-databases/content-databases-build.htm.

Once you have accepted the terms and conditions of the site, a search may be carried out by Council area – in this case Ards and North Down.

You will be aware, however, that there have been boundary changes since 1974, and therefore the figures should not be taken as definitive in relation to the current boundaries. For that reason I have appended, for your information, a table which shows the number of the listed buildings within each ward of the North Down and Ards Borough Council Areas.

You may also wish to note that NDBC – which is a statutory consultee in the listing process - has been provided with a copy of each listing in its area, as the listing process has proceeded over the years since the introduction of the legislation in the early 1970's.

Areas of Special Scientific Interest: Prosecutions

Mr Girvan asked the Minister of the Environment whether there is automatic prosecution of parties that are found to have destroyed an Area of Special Scientific Interest.

(AQW 9206/11-15)

Mr Attwood: The decision as to whether to prosecute parties suspected of having destroyed an Area of Special Scientific Interest ultimately rests with Public Prosecution Service.

Article 46 of the Environment (Northern Ireland) Order 2002 (as amended) defines the offences in relation to Areas of Special Scientific Interest, which include carrying out or permitting to be carried out an operation requiring the written consent as defined in the declaration documents, and the damage or destruction of the special features of the ASSI, without reasonable excuse.

Following criminal investigations if there is found to be significant, non-rectifiable environmental damage or destruction to the special site selection features, where there is evidence of an offence under the Environment Order and a suspect or suspects can be identified, the Department will refer the case to Public Prosecution Service (PPS) for their consideration for prosecution through the courts.

MOT Test Centres: CCTV

Mr I McCrea asked the Minister of the Environment whether any MOT centres have CCTV installed.
(AQW 9208/11-15)

Mr Attwood: CCTV cameras have been installed in the reception areas at two Driver & Vehicle Agency test centres: Balmoral Road, Belfast, and Jubilee Road, Newtownards.

Hospitality: Arm's-length Bodies

Mr Allister asked the Minister of the Environment, pursuant to AQW 6360/11-15, whether the figures provided include the Department's arm's-length bodies; and if not, to provide this information for each of the last five years.
(AQW 9218/11-15)

Mr Attwood: The response to AQW 6360/11-15 included hospitality expenditure in relation to meetings held by the Department's three Statutory Advisory Councils (the Historic Monuments Council, Historic Buildings Council and the Council for Nature Conservation and Countryside).

The figures, however, did not cover the Department's two Non Departmental Public Bodies (NDPB's), the Northern Ireland Local Government Officers Superannuation Committee (NILGOSC) and the Local Government Staff Commission (LGSC). Hospitality is not provided to guests who attend NILGOSC functions. LGSC hospitality expenditure is detailed in the table below.

|                                   | 2006/07 | 2007/08 | 2008/09 | 2009/10 | 2010/11 |
|-----------------------------------|---------|---------|---------|---------|---------|
| NDPB                              | £       | £       | £       | £       | £       |
| Local Government Staff Commission | 1,427   | 1,508   | 1,226   | 778     | 1,103   |

Buses: Consumption of Alcohol

Mrs Overend asked the Minister of the Environment to detail (i) whether he is aware of bus operators continuing to allow young passengers, often below the legal drinking age, to consume alcohol in their vehicles; (ii) how many times, in each of the last two years, enforcement officers have spoken to bus operators about the consumption of alcohol in their vehicles; and (iii) the circumstances, including all allegations, investigations and any subsequent penalties imposed on each bus operator.
(AQW 9267/11-15)

Mr Attwood: As Minister responsible for road safety, the problem of alcohol on buses and coaches is of great concern to me, and I intend to take whatever action is necessary to deal with it.

I met with representatives of the nightclub industry on 7 March 2012 to discuss ways in which the owners of pubs and clubs could improve the management of their activities in order to address my concerns about the related issues of health, safety and public order, particularly in relation to young people. This was a frank meeting and the key issues were raised.

I am also meeting with a number of licensed bus operators on 14 March 2012 to highlight my concerns to them and to identify what further action might be taken to address the problem. Again, this was a straight talking meeting. During both meetings, I stated that the public, political and media spotlight was on them and that the irresponsible proprietors needed to get their house in order.

I have also instructed my officials to identify and explore any options that may be available, including any changes to the relevant legislation or to the regulatory regime, in consultation as necessary with partner organisations such as the Department of Health, Social Services and Public Safety, the Department for Regional Development and the Police Service of Northern Ireland, as well as with the industry itself.

Responsibility for enforcement in this area lies primarily with the PSNI, and for that reason the Department does not hold any statistical information in relation to advice given or action taken on operators regarding the consumption of alcohol on their vehicles.

I shall update the Committee of the short term and longer term interventions I propose.

Buses: Access NI Disclosures

Mrs Overend asked the Minister of the Environment to detail (i) how his Department ensures that all bus operators request an Access NI enhanced disclosure on bus drivers, who are responsible for transporting children to and from school before they are hired; and (ii) whether he is aware that bus drivers do not have to be registered with the Independent Safeguard Authority; and for his assessment of this situation.
(AQW 9268/11-15)

Mr Attwood: A person who applies to the Department of the Environment for a driving licence to drive a passenger-carrying vehicle (PCV) must provide a recent basic disclosure certificate issued by AccessNI. This certificate will show any unspent convictions, and may therefore indicate that the applicant is not a fit person to hold such a licence. The Department has a statutory duty, under Article 71 of the Road Traffic (Northern Ireland) Order 1981, to carry out such conduct checks before issuing PCV drivers' licences.

The driving of buses which carry children to and from school is a regulated activity for the purposes of the Safeguarding Vulnerable Groups (Northern Ireland) Order 2007. It is the responsibility of the employer of anyone who will be carrying out a regulated activity to ensure that a higher level of conduct check is undertaken. In general, the employer must be registered with AccessNI as a Registered Body.

In its capacity as the driver licensing authority, the Department of the Environment is not a registered body under the Order, and cannot therefore access the information which would be disclosed under AccessNI's Standard or Enhanced Disclosure schemes.

The Independent Safeguarding Authority maintains records of those who are barred from working with children and vulnerable adults. However, the Department, as it is not a registered employer, does not have access to that information.

Policy on protecting children and vulnerable adults in Northern Ireland is the responsibility of the Department for Justice, the Department for Education and the Department for Health, Social Services and Public Safety.

I have met with officials recently on this general issue and am looking at what more needs to be done to build public confidence.

Newry River: Bridge Project

Ms Ruane asked the Minister of the Environment (i) for an update on his Department's role in the Narrow Water Bridge Project; (ii) what discussions have taken place within his Department, or with its arm's-length bodies, in relation to the project; and (iii) whether his Department intends to support the planning applications for the project.

(AQW 9273/11-15)

Mr Attwood:

- (i) An application for the erection of a new single carriageway bridge across Newry River was received by DOE Planning on 09 February 2012 and is being processed by the Southern Area Planning Office. The application is accompanied by an Environmental Statement and is at the initial stages of consideration. Consultations have been issued to the relevant bodies and following receipt of their comments an opinion will be formed on the proposal at the earliest opportunity.
- (ii) The project has been the subject of considerable pre-application discussion between Planning, the applicant and agents and interested consultees including NIEA, Roads Service etc. Senior Planning Officials have also met with Officials from Louth County Council and Newry and Mourne Council, to discuss the project.
- (iii) In reaching an opinion, Planning are fully aware of the social and economic benefits that would follow from the development of the bridge and these will be taken into consideration in the decision making process, along with the other normal planning and environmental criteria. I recognise that the Mournes and wider area is a wonderful natural asset which should be protected and positively developed. The Bridge Project is an important application and Planning will very carefully consider the proposal.

Belfast Metropolitan Area Plan: Adoption Timescale

Mr Girvan asked the Minister of the Environment whether the new Belfast Metropolitan Area Plan will be adopted before the end of 2012, given that the development plan process began in 1999; and to outline the reasons for his position on this issue.

(AQW 9276/11-15)

Mr Attwood: All outstanding information regarding the BMAP Public Inquiry has now been received by my Department. The PAC has reported on the considerable number of objections and highlights the complexity of the strategic issues.

The Department has a small dedicated team considering all the information presented and working towards adoption of the Plan. Consideration of the strategic issues is on-going and much of the work on the individual Districts is well progressed.

I am considering if it is legally feasible and operationally appropriate to see the rollout of the plan in an earlier timescale.

Belfast Metropolitan Area Plan: Adoption Timescale

Mr Girvan asked the Minister of the Environment to provide a timescale for the final preparation and adoption of the new Belfast Metropolitan Area Plan; and if he can offer an assurance that there will be no further delays.

(AQW 9277/11-15)

Mr Attwood: The Planning Appeals Commission (PAC) has now delivered all outstanding information to my Department relating to the BMAP public inquiry that finished in May 2008.

A dedicated team is currently working through the extensive PAC recommendations in order to prepare the Plan for adoption. Significant work in relation to individual Districts has already been progressed. At present it is anticipated that adoption will take place early in 2013.

I am considering if it is legally feasible and operationally appropriate to see the rollout of the plan in an earlier timescale.

Snares: Regulations

Mr Wells asked the Minister of the Environment when he intends to introduce regulations to control the use of snares.
(AQW 9283/11-15)

Mr Attwood: The Department aims to begin a consultation process on proposed regulations to control the use of snares by the summer of 2012.

Metal Theft

Mrs Cochrane asked the Minister of the Environment what action his Department is taking to (i) combat the escalation in metal theft; and (ii) reduce the opportunities to sell stolen metal.
(AQW 9310/11-15)

Mr Attwood: The primary responsibility for combating theft (including of metal) lies with the PSNI and the Department of Justice. However, DOE recognises the benefit of using the environmental legislation that it is charged with enforcing to assist in tackling the problem using a multi-agency approach.

Through a strategic partnership, the Northern Ireland Environment Agency is working with the PSNI on all environmental crime and the harm it does to communities. The issue of metal theft has been identified as one where the environmental legislation implemented by DOE has a role to play in tackling the issue of metal theft. As a result of the Department's officers sharing knowledge on DOE's waste enforcement powers and working with PSNI colleagues, a number of cases involving suspected metal theft are currently being progressed through the Courts where defendants have breached environmental legislation as part of their activities.

The Department has a robust monitoring system for licensed waste management facilities including those that can accept scrap metal, and will also be participating in an inter-agency group, to be led by the Department of Justice, examining possible responses to tackling the issue of metal theft in Northern Ireland.

Away-days and Team-building Exercises: Cost-effectiveness

Mr S Anderson asked the Minister of the Environment how his Department assesses the cost-effectiveness of awaydays and team-building exercises.
(AQW 9336/11-15)

Mr Attwood: Occasionally, officials in my Department may organise time away from the office, but for business reasons only. For example, as part of the business planning cycle, senior officials including the Permanent Secretary have set aside time away from DOE HQ to consider the Department's contribution to the 2011-2015 Programme for Government and to identify other key priorities for the 4 year period covered by PfG. Existing DOE premises were used for this purpose, as is currently the case in most instances away from the office. I am advised by officials that this Department has not engaged in away days for team building purposes for some years.

I am satisfied with the cost effectiveness of away days where they are restricted to business related activities and where unnecessary expense is not incurred in the form of rental of private premises. I have instructed officials to remind staff that these criteria must be adhered to.

Council Elections: Female Candidates

Mr Weir asked the Minister of the Environment what percentage he intends to set for the proposed quota of female candidates for the council elections.
(AQW 9372/11-15)

Mr Attwood: I believe in quotas for female candidates and I am pleased that there has been considerable support for the proposal.

As I have said previously, I am awaiting legal advice on where the legislative competency for the introduction of a quota resides, before considering this matter further.

Cycling Proficiency Courses

Mr Swann asked the Minister of the Environment how many cycling proficiency courses were held at schools in (i) the 2010/11 academic year; and (ii) this academic year to date.
(AQW 9390/11-15)

Mr Attwood: In the 2010 – 2011 academic year 575 schools participated in the Cycling Proficiency Scheme (CPS) and 8,760 were trained. In the current academic year to date, 12 schools have already participated in the scheme, compared to 14 in the previous academic year. This is not unusual as most schools choose to deliver CPS training during the final academic term of each year.

In recent years the number of schools participating in CPS has remained steady at approximately 580, with an average of 8,880 – 9,000 children trained each year. The current indications are that numbers will be similar this year.

Road Safety Education Officers

Mr Swann asked the Minister of the Environment how many Road Safety Education Officers are employed by his Department. (AQW 9391/11-15)

Mr Attwood: There are currently ten Road Safety Education Officers and three Senior Road Safety Officers employed in the Department.

Driving Licences

Mr Gardiner asked the Minister of the Environment how many people currently hold a driving licence. (AQW 9672/11-15)

Mr Attwood: On 15th March 2012, a total of 1,151,487 people held valid Northern Ireland driving licences, 110,618 of which are provisional driving licences with no full entitlement to drive cars or motorcycles.

Department of Finance and Personnel

Special Adviser: Pay Band

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel (i) where and when the proposal to increase the upper limit of the Band B salary scale for Special Advisers to £90,000 originated; (ii) whether the First Minister and deputy First Minister were consulted about the decision taken by his Department on 18 July 2011 in relation to the increase; (iii) what input the First Minister and deputy First Minister had to the decision; and (iv) whether other Ministers were consulted. (AQW 1711/11-15)

Mr Wilson (The Minister of Finance and Personnel): I took the decision in my role as Minister with responsibility for civil service pay to set the upper limit of the pay band B for Special Advisers at £90,000.

Special Adviser: Specialism

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel (i) to outline the specialism which his Special Adviser brings to his office and (ii) whether his Special Adviser holds any role or post outside of his office for which he is remunerated. (AQW 1805/11-15)

Mr Wilson: The Special Adviser provides a significant level of policy and political advice and undertakes strategic policy and political analysis. He is a Councillor in Lisburn City Council and a member of Libraries NI.

Special Adviser: Pay Band

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel whether his Special Adviser is paid within Band A or Band B of the his Department's salary scale; and, if it is within Band B whether, in light of the decision to increase the upper limit of the Band B scale to £90,000, there has been an increase in salary or an increase is planned. (AQW 2038/11-15)

Mr Wilson: Information on the remuneration of the Special Adviser is published in the Note on Staff Numbers and Related Costs in the Department's Annual Resource Accounts.

Special Adviser: Ministerial Meetings

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel, since the appointment of his current Special Adviser to date, how many meetings (i) he has had with his Special Adviser; (ii) his Special Adviser has had with departmental officials; and (iii) he has attended, accompanied by his Special Adviser. (AQW 2596/11-15)

Mr Wilson: The information requested is not readily available and can only be compiled at disproportionate cost.

Civil Servants

Mr Flanagan asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel to detail the number of civil servants, broken down by (i) grade; and (ii) council area. (AQW 7012/11-15)

Mr Wilson: The numbers of civil servants, broken down by (i) grade; and (ii) council area are set out in the attached tables. In view of the large number of grades within the Northern Ireland Civil Service the tables of permanent staff show general service and analogous grades.

Staff (Headcount) by Grade at 1 April 2011

| Analogous Grade Level             | Staff Headcount |

Notes:

Data sourced from HR Connect & Additional DOJ databases 1st Apr 2011.

Figures are Staff Headcount.

Figures comprise Staff Headcount for staff working in the 13 Northern Ireland Departments and in the Health and Safety Executive for Northern Ireland, the Office of the Attorney General for Northern Ireland, and staff of The Assembly Ombudsman for Northern Ireland/The Northern Ireland Commissioner for Complaints

Includes all Permanent NICS staff for whom Work Location information is available with the exception of uniformed Prison Service staff.

Staff on career break are excluded.

*Unknown are staff whose work location was not recorded at the time the information was extracted by the NI Statistics and Research Agency.

Departments: Pooling Budgets

Mr Agnew asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel whether his Department is aware of any instances of Departments, or their agencies, pooling budgets to commission or deliver services in the previous budgetary period; and (ii) whether his Department is aware of any Departments wish to pool budgets to commission or deliver services at any time in the 2011-15 budget period.

(AQW 8992/11-15)

Mr Wilson: I am aware of a number of areas involving Departments routinely pooling resources across a range of areas in both the previous and the current budget period. Front line service delivery examples include DHSSPS and DE pooling budgets to provide Children's Services; and another example led by DE, but also involving DSD, DHSSPS, OFMDFM and DCAL is the North Belfast City Learning Centre, which provides community and youth facilities at the Girls and Boys' Model Schools.

In terms of back office functions my Department provides shared services to all NICS Departments and Agencies for the functions of finance, personnel and ICT.

I am sure there is scope to do more in specific service areas and I would always encourage a collective approach, however, you would need to ask the respective Ministers for that level of detail.

Special EU Programmes Body: External Consultant Spend

Mr Nesbitt asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel, for each of the last five years, to detail (i) how much the Special European Union Programmes Body has spent on external consultants in total and as a percentage of its budget; and (ii) how this compares with his Department's spending on consultants.

(AQW 9030/11-15)

Mr Wilson:

| Year | Consultancy Spend (£'000) | % of consultancy spend against annual budget |
|-------------|----------------------------------|---|
| 2007        | 726                              | 1.07%   |
| 2008        | 824                              | 1.77%   |
| 2009        | 886                              | 1.79%   |
| 2010        | 485                              | 0.7%  |

SEUPB expenditure on consultancy for each of the years 2007-2011 is set out in the table below.

The costs shown are based on contracts awarded within the relevant calendar year. More than half of the costs incurred in any year relate to the engagement of consultants to carry out economic appraisals on allocations to projects seeking PEACE III or INTERREG IVA funding.

All consultancy costs associated with the Programmes are co-funded between the European Regional Development fund (ERDF), Northern Ireland and the Republic of Ireland. The Northern Ireland contribution is 16-20% of the overall costs.

My Departments expenditure on consultancy for each of the years 2006-07 to 2010-11 is set out in the table below.

| Year    | Consultancy Spend (£m) | % of consultancy spend against annual expenditure |
|---------|------------------------|---|
| 2006-07 | 4.4                    | 1.8%  |
| 2007-08 | 6.3                    | 2.4%  |
| 2008-09 | 4.5                    | 1.5%  |
| 2009-10 | 1.1                    | 0.4%  |
| 2010-11 | 0.1                    | 0.05%   |

Unemployment: Derry

Mr Durkan asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel how many people (i) were unemployed last year; and (ii) are currently unemployed, in the Derry area.

(AQW 9112/11-15)

Mr Wilson: The official measure of unemployment is sourced to the Northern Ireland Labour Force Survey (LFS). However, the sub-regional and annualised LFS estimates for 2011 are, as of yet, unavailable.

As an alternative, the table overleaf provides information from the claimant count measure of unemployment. It shows the number of persons claiming unemployment related benefits, in the Foyle Parliamentary Constituency Area, for each month of 2011, as well as the number of persons claiming unemployment related benefits in February 2012.

Table - Numbers claiming Job Seeker's Allowance, Foyle PCA

| Month          | Number |
|----------------|--------|
| January 2011   | 5,266  |
| February 2011  | 5,305  |
| March 2011     | 5,298  |
| April 2011     | 5,211  |
| May 2011       | 5,178  |
| June 2011      | 5,207  |
| July 2011      | 5,501  |
| August 2011    | 5,679  |
| September 2011 | 5,798  |
| October 2011   | 5,816  |
| November 2011  | 5,633  |
| December 2011  | 5,517  |
| February 2012  | 5,769  |

Unemployment: Northern Ireland

Mr Durkan asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel how many people (i) were unemployed last year; and (ii) are currently unemployed.

(AQW 9113/11-15)

Mr Wilson: The official measure of unemployment is sourced to the Northern Ireland Labour Force Survey (LFS). The most recent LFS data available, for the period November 2011 – January 2012, estimate that there were 56,000 people, aged 16 and over, unemployed. An annualised 2011 LFS estimate of unemployment is, as of yet, unavailable.

As an alternative, the table overleaf provides information from the claimant count measure of unemployment. It shows the number of persons claiming unemployment related benefits for each month of 2011, as well as the number of persons claiming unemployment related benefits in February 2012.

Table - Numbers claiming Job Seeker's Allowance, Northern Ireland

| Month          | Number of claimants |
|----------------|---------------------|
| January 2011   | 59,689              |
| February 2011  | 60,447              |
| March 2011     | 59,961              |
| April 2011     | 59,162              |
| May 2011       | 58,644              |
| June 2011      | 58,704              |
| July 2011      | 60,635              |
| August 2011    | 61,805              |
| September 2011 | 61,412              |
| October 2011   | 59,973              |
| November 2011  | 59,373              |
| December 2011  | 59,113              |
| February 2012  | 62,778              |

Disciplinary Action: DFP Staff

Mr Kinahan asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel to detail the number of staff disciplinary actions taken by his Department in each of the last two years, at Staff Officer level and above, including details of the offence and the disciplinary sanctions applied.

(AQW 9124/11-15)

Mr Wilson: The information requested is detailed below:

2010

| No. of staff | Offence             | Sanction               |
|--------------|---------------------|------------------------|

2011 - Nil*VAT/PAYE-registered Businesses

Mr Weir asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel to detail the number of registered businesses in each constituency.

(AQW 9166/11-15)

Mr Wilson: The number of VAT and/or PAYE registered businesses, including agriculture, can be obtained from the Interdepartmental Business Register (IDBR). Table 1, overleaf, provides a breakdown of active businesses in Northern Ireland by Parliamentary Constituency at January 2012. Where a business has more than one local unit (site) the location of the business is based on the postcode of the Head Office reporting for all local units within Northern Ireland.

Table 1: Numbers of VAT and/or PAYE registered businesses in Northern Ireland, by Parliamentary Constituency<sup>1</sup>

|--------------------------|-------------------|
| Belfast East             | 2,330             |
| Belfast North            | 2,185             |
| Belfast South            | 4,465             |
| Belfast West             | 1,430             |
| East Antrim              | 2,360             |
| East Londonderry         | 3,900             |
| Fermanagh & South Tyrone | 6,610             |

|                | No. of Businesses |
|----------------|--------------------------|
| Foyle          | 2,205                    |
| Lagan Valley   | 3,765                    |
| Mid Ulster     | 5,695                    |
| Newry & Armagh | 5,405                    |
| North Antrim   | 4,790                    |
| North Down     | 2,310                    |
| South Antrim   | 3,445                    |
| South Down     | 5,050                    |
| Strangford     | 3,190                    |
| Upper Bann     | 3,535                    |
| West Tyrone    | 5,095                    |
| Total   | 67,765            |

- 1 In addition, there were 795 businesses active in Northern Ireland at January 2012 for which the reporting Head Office was outside Northern Ireland. Therefore a Parliamentary Constituency for these businesses could not be determined.

Renewable Energy: Public Sector Organisations

Mr Flanagan asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel what steps his Department and particularly the Central Procurement Directorate has taken to improve the uptake of renewable energy amongst public sector organisations.

(AQW 9209/11-15)

Mr Wilson: Central Procurement Directorate (CPD) in its guidance on Procurement of Construction Works and Services sets a Building Research Establishment Environmental Assessment Method (BREEAM) target of 'Excellent' for new build projects and 'Very Good' for refurbishment projects procured by Departments, Agencies and NDPBs.

Where CPD itself acts as the Centre of Procurement Expertise (CoPE) on behalf of public sector clients, construction procurement practitioners are proactive in advising their construction clients on the scope for incorporating energy saving technologies into projects when initial appraisals indicate that this is both economically and technically feasible.

My Department manages the government office estate and is working to improve the energy efficiency of the buildings within that estate and has put in place an Energy Efficiency/Carbon Reduction Plan (EE/CRP) which aims to achieve a 10% reduction in energy use over the period 2011–2014. A number of renewable technologies have also been trialled within the office estate, including installation of solar panels and biomass boilers. The results of these trials will be used to determine the viability of future installations.

Civil Servants: Council Areas

Mr Swann asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel to detail the number of civil servants based in each council area.

(AQW 9223/11-15)

Mr Wilson: I would refer the Member to the reply I provided to Mr Phil Flanagan in AQW 7012/11-15 issued on 20 March 2012.

Rates Capital Value Mechanism: Bottom Band

Mr Copeland asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel for his assessment of the potential benefits of introducing a bottom band in the Rates Capital Value mechanism.

(AQW 9232/11-15)

Mr Wilson: This particular issue is an interesting one but it is not something I wish to examine in any detail at this time because of the current uncertainty around the impact of welfare reform; particularly on the ability of the Executive and Assembly to maintain levels of means tested rates support. At the moment this matter is being examined by the Executive Sub Committee on Welfare Reform, amongst many other issues. Therefore, I have not made any assessment of the potential benefits of adopting a bottom band for the domestic rates system.

The issue of a minimum payment was something considered in the Executive's 2007 Review of the system. It was not brought forward at that time because it was not even short listed by the Finance and Personnel Committee as worthy of further consideration by the Executive. It may be something worth re-visiting in the medium or longer term.

I enclose as an appendix a copy of the relevant text from the Committee's report in 2007, together with the Department's analysis of the issue at that time.

Appendix

Extract from:

Finance and Personnel Committee's Report in response to the 2007 Executive Review of the Domestic Rating System (7 November 2007)

(b) Introduction of a Minimum Payment

13. The Committee identified the following views on this option from the Department's report on the consultation and from the evidence provided to the Committee:

| Arguments For   | Arguments Against  |
|---|--|
| Recognises that there is a basic level of local and regional government services that are consumed by households.   | Those below the capital value threshold would experience a slight increase in rates, whilst those above would experience a slight reduction. |
| Would ensure those in lower value properties, who can afford to pay, make an appropriate contribution to the cost of providing those services.  | Disproportionate impact on lower paid.   |
| Those on low incomes would continue to be supported by the housing benefit system and the rate relief scheme introduced in April 2007.  | Could run counter to new TSN policies.   |
| Setting a minimum payment would significantly increase the cost of housing benefit – could be a funding gain for NI from annually managed expenditure (normally needs Treasury approval). | Caps benefit the very wealthy and/or the very poor with those in the middle left to cover shortfall.   |
|   | Would add to the cost of local rate relief scheme.   |
|   | Potential need for new IT systems may delay introduction.  |

14. In addition to the above arguments the Committee noted the advice from the IRRV that there is presently no need to introduce a minimum payment rule. Under the existing system the payment liability is driven by the person's ability to pay as determined by the value of their house, the local rate relief scheme and the housing benefit scheme.
15. In considering this option, the Committee has also taken account of DFP's summary analysis of the associated costs, benefits, and impacts. (see Annex A)
16. Having considered the available evidence, the Committee recommends that a minimum payment/capital value is not introduced as it is not required given the capacity of the present domestic rating system to determine payment liability, taking account of capital value and entitlement to rate relief and housing benefit.

ANNEX A

DFP's Analysis (2007) - Introduction of Minimum Capital Value

Background

While the domestic rating system is considered to be purely a property tax, the introduction of a minimum capital value would recognise the fact that there is a minimum limit to the level of local and regional government services that can be consumed by a household. As with the maximum capital value, the minimum capital value would be set in terms of capital values. That is, once the limit is chosen, any property with a capital value below that limit would be rated as if its capital value is at that limit.

Options

The options examined were:

- Introduce a minimum capital value at £75,000 (the lowest such council tax bill in 2007/08 is £454. Based on the average rate in Northern Ireland, this would relate to a property with a capital value of approximately £75,000)
- Introduce a minimum capital value at £50,000 (this relates to the lowest council tax band which exists in Wales, uplifted to January 2005 values)
- Introduce a minimum capital value at £62,500.

Impact

The following table shows the revenue gain associated with a minimum capital value and the number of properties faced with a higher rate bill as a result:

| Minimum CV | Revenue increase(compared with current system) | No. properties less than Minimum CV |
|------------|--|-------------------------------------|
| £50k       | £6 - £6.5m   | 56,000                              |
| £62.5k     | £13 - £14m   | 125,000                             |
| £75k       | £27 - £28m   | 210,000                             |

Redundancies

Mr Weir asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel how many people in each constituency were made redundant in each of the last three years.

(AQW 9278/11-15)

Mr Wilson: The table overleaf details the number of confirmed redundancies by parliamentary constituency in each of the last 3 years.

| Parliamentary Constituency | 2009         | 2010         | 2011         |
|----------------------------|--------------|--------------|--------------|
| Belfast East               | 609          | 367          | 163          |
| Belfast North              | 352          | 224          | 97           |
| Belfast South              | 443          | 377          | 318          |

Procurement Process: Costs

Mr Flanagan asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel how many times, in each of the last five years, the cost of carrying out a procurement exercise for a contract has been greater than the value of the contract.

(AQW 9333/11-15)

Mr Wilson: The cost of a procurement exercise includes direct costs incurred by the client; the cost of any professional advisers; and the costs to industry in preparing tender submissions. The total cost depends on the procurement route and the number of firms expressing an interest or submitting a tender.

Central Procurement Directorate does not capture these costs in relation to the procurements that it undertakes on behalf of client bodies and therefore it is not possible to provide the information that you seek.

While individual contracts vary in scale, value and complexity, generally speaking the cost of procuring a low value contract will tend to be higher, relative to the contract value, than the cost of procuring a larger contract. In recognition of this, Central Procurement Directorate has developed guidance on the simplified procurement of contracts under the respective European thresholds for works, services and supplies. I expect this guidance to be published shortly.

Vacant Non-domestic Properties: North Down

Mr Weir asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel to detail the number of vacant non-domestic properties in each ward of the North Down constituency.

(AQW 9429/11-15)

Mr Wilson: Information on the number of vacant non-domestic properties in each ward of the North Down constituency is not available as data is collated at District Council and Ward level only.

As at 11th March 2012 there were 583 and 446 non-domestic properties recorded as vacant in the Ards and North Down District Council Areas respectively. The tables attached indicate the number of vacant non-domestic properties for each ward area within the two Council areas.

Woodland: UK Forestry Standard

Ms Lo asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel whether all the bodies or organisations within his Department's remit which own woodland are compliant with the UK Forestry Standard, including his Department, any arm's-length body and any organisation to which his Department provides grant aid.

(AQW 9437/11-15)

Mr Wilson: The Stormont Estate is the only managed woodland area for which DFP is directly responsible. The Estate is compliant with the UK Forestry Standard.

None of the Department's arm's-length bodies own woodland.

The Department provides grant aid to the Somme Association who own woodland in France. The Association is not required to comply with the UK Forestry Standard however the woodland is managed in a manner that complies with French forestry legislation.

Professional Indemnity Insurance: Architects

Mr Lunn asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel why it is necessary for architects and other professionals to carry professional indemnity insurance of £5 million to tender for minor works contracts of up to £0.5 million.

(AQW 9498/11-15)

Mr Wilson: The setting of the level of Professional Indemnity Insurance (PII) cover is a matter for the department procuring the professional services. The decision should be based on an assessment of the risks associated with the particular project. There is no requirement for departments to insist on £5 million cover in all cases. Higher or lower levels of cover may be appropriate, depending on the circumstances. Potential losses by a public body resulting from professional negligence may exceed the consultant's fee or the value of the construction contract, particularly where the project has a low value. CPD is currently finalising a Procurement Guidance Note which will provide advice on the levels of PII cover that should be sought by departments. I expect the guidance to issue shortly.

Professional Indemnity Insurance: Republic of Ireland

Mr Lunn asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel for his assessment of the disparity between the practice in the Republic of Ireland, where an architect or other professional has to produce evidence of £1 million professional indemnity cover to tender for a public works contract to a value of £1 million, compared with Northern Ireland where the requirement is £5 million indemnity. (AQW 9499/11-15)

Mr Wilson: The setting of the level of Professional Indemnity Insurance (PII) cover is a matter for the department procuring the professional services. The decision should be based on an assessment of the risks associated with the particular project. There is no requirement for departments to insist on £5 million cover in all cases. Higher or lower levels of cover may be appropriate, depending on the circumstances. Potential losses by a public body resulting from professional negligence may exceed the consultant's fee or the value of the construction contract, particularly where the project has a low value. CPD is currently finalising a Procurement Guidance Note which will provide advice on the levels of PII cover that should be sought by departments, including that for lower value, lower risk projects. I expect this guidance to issue shortly.

Professional Indemnity Insurance: Requirements

Mr Lunn asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel whether he will undertake a review of the requirements for professional indemnity insurance cover, given the current cost of such cover, the contradiction between the contract value and the limit of indemnity required for minor works contracts, and the subsequent difficulties imposed on smaller professional firms in tendering for Government contracts. (AQW 9500/11-15)

Mr Wilson: I am aware of the potential for disproportionate levels of Professional Indemnity Insurance (PII) cover to act as a barrier to small professional practices competing for government contracts. In light of this, a review has already been carried out and Central Procurement Directorate is finalising a Procurement Guidance Note on Liability and Insurance in Government contracts, which will provide advice on the levels of PII cover that should normally be sought by departments. The key principle will be that the cover should be proportionate to the risks associated with the project. I expect the guidance to issue shortly.

Royal Ulster Constabulary Athletic Association: Funding

Mr Hussey asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel what funding his Department provides to the PSNI for the Royal Ulster Constabulary Athletic Association; and whether he intends to withdraw any funding should the Association not change its name. (AQW 9504/11-15)

Mr Wilson: My Department does not provide specific funding to individual bodies. Funding is allocated to the Department of Justice and it is for the Minister of Justice to decide how he allocates his budget.

Media Communications Protocols

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel what media communications protocols exist between his Department and each of its arm's-length bodies; and to publish these protocols. (AQW 9657/11-15)

Mr Wilson: No written media communications protocols exist within the Department and its arm's-length bodies.

Economy: Joint Ministerial Working Group

Mr Elliott asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel for an update on the second Joint Ministerial Working Group Meeting on Rebalancing the NI Economy held on 7 March 2012. (AQO 1608/11-15)

Mr Wilson: We had a constructive discussion at the second meeting of the Joint Ministerial Working Group earlier this month, particularly around the potential costs and practical implications of transferring corporation tax powers. I have always maintained that it is vital that any devolution of these powers is at a fair and reasonable cost to Northern Ireland. Considerable progress has been made on the work programme agreed at the first meeting but there is still work to be done over the coming months. That said, the work programme remains on course and is still anticipated to be completed in time for the Ministerial Working Group to produce a report for a decision in the summer.

Corporation Tax/Air Passenger Duty

Ms S Ramsey asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel for an update on discussions with Treasury on the transfer of Corporation Tax and Air Passenger Duty powers.

(AQO 1606/11-15)

Mr Wilson: We had a constructive discussion at the second meeting of the Joint Ministerial Working Group earlier this month, particularly around the potential costs and practical implications of transferring corporation tax powers. I have always maintained that it is vital that any devolution of these powers is at a fair and reasonable cost to Northern Ireland. Considerable progress has been made on the work programme agreed at the first meeting but there is still work to be done over the coming months. That said, the work programme remains on course and is still anticipated to be completed in time for the Ministerial Working Group to produce a report for a decision in the summer.

Turning to Air Passenger Duty, discussions with the Treasury are ongoing to finalise the precise arrangements for the devolution of these powers, including the associated costs and necessary administrative changes. The necessary legislative changes in Westminster will be made in the 2012 Finance Bill, the draft clauses of which have been published for consultation. I would expect this to have Royal Assent by early autumn and a Legislative Consent Motion will be required to seek Assembly agreement in this regard.

Following that, an Assembly Bill will be required to enable the Executive to follow through on the commitment to reduce Air Passenger Duty to zero.

Civil Service: Pensions

Mr McGimpsey asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel for an update on the proposed changes to the Northern Ireland Civil Service Pension Schemes.

(AQO 1613/11-15)

Mr Wilson: There are two proposed changes to the Principal Civil Service Pension Scheme in Northern Ireland.

Firstly, in line with the decision by the Executive on 22 September 2011 on the proposals for increasing member contributions for public service pension schemes, and, following a formal consultation, employee contributions will be increased with effect from April 2012 for the Principal Civil Service Pension Scheme in Northern Ireland.

Secondly, on 8 March 2012 the Executive agreed to wider reform proposals for public service pension schemes. This will mean a move from final salary to career average pension scheme, with the Normal Retirement Age linked to State Pension Age.

Consultants: Spend

Mr D McIlveen asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel what checks his Department has in place to monitor spending on consultants.

(AQO 1615/11-15)

Mr Wilson: My Department issues guidance on the Use of External Consultants which provides a framework for establishing the need for, and the procurement and management of external consultants - but the decision to incur expenditure on external consultants is a matter for individual departments and ministers. In addition, my Department commissions an annual exercise from departments in order to monitor compliance with the DFP guidance, and the results of this exercise are published annually. The most recent report, in respect of the 2010-11 financial year, was published in February 2012.

It noted that in 2010-11 the total spend on external consultancy across departments and their Arms Length Bodies was less than £16 million. This was a reduction of 56% from the level reported in 2007-08. Looking forward, as part of Budget 2011-2015 the Executive set a target of year-on-year reductions of 10% for external consultancy spend over this budget period and a drop of 56% therefore shows the significant level of reduction already achieved.

All proposed external consultancy spend of £10,000 or above now requires the specific prior approval of the relevant Minister. Individual Ministers remain free to lower this threshold even further within their own departments as they may see fit.

External Consultants: Non-ministerial Departments

Miss M McIlveen asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel whether his Department holds information on the external consultancy projects undertaken by non-ministerial departments.

(AQO 1616/11-15)

Mr Wilson: My Department requests returns from all Departments, on an annual basis, as regards the use of external consultants. This information is collated and published in DFP's Annual Compliance Report on the Use of External Consultants. My Department also requests this information from the non-ministerial Departments, that is: the Assembly Ombudsman/Commissioner for Complaints, the Foods Standards Agency; the Northern Ireland Assembly Commission, the Northern Ireland Audit Office, the Northern Ireland Authority for Utility Regulation and the Public Prosecution Service. The Northern Ireland Audit Office is the only body which declines to take part in this exercise.

Performance and Efficiency Delivery Unit

Mr Dallat asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel to outline the work currently being undertaken by the Performance and Efficiency Delivery Unit.

(AQO 1617/11-15)

Mr Wilson: The work of the Performance and Efficiency Delivery Unit (PEDU) is currently focused on the delivery strand of the unit's remit following the recent completion of two major reviews in respect of the Education and Health & Social Care sectors.

In particular, PEDU has worked closely with officials in OFMDFM to put in place robust monitoring arrangements to drive delivery of the new Programme for Government (PfG), covering the period 2011-15. The first stage of this work involved the development of a Delivery Framework covering all aspects of planning, monitoring and reporting. This was agreed by the Executive on 9 February 2012. There is now ongoing engagement with departments on the production of Delivery Plans for each commitment, which build on and clarify the milestones and outputs contained in the PfG 2011-15 document.

Going forward, PEDU will continue to be closely involved in the PfG monitoring process, and in accordance with its remit, the unit will provide support to departments seeking to constructively address performance issues.

Welfare Reform

Mr Brady asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel whether the issue of welfare reform and its implications for the local economy were discussed at the recent meeting with Treasury.

(AQO 1618/11-15)

Mr Wilson: I assume the Member is referring to the recent 5th March 2012 meeting of Devolved Administration Finance Ministers and HM Treasury Ministers. The agenda for this meeting included employment, infrastructure, local pay and pension reform issues. However, at this meeting I also took the opportunity to express concern about the localisation of Council Tax benefit and the impact that this will have in Northern Ireland.

In terms of the wider welfare reform agenda, the Member will be aware that the Executive has established a sub-group to consider the issues involved. There is also ongoing engagement with relevant Whitehall departments at ministerial and official level.

Performance and Efficiency Delivery Unit: Social Disadvantage

Ms Boyle asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel whether the Performance and Efficiency Delivery Unit has looked at measures and targets within Departments in relation to tackling social disadvantage.

(AQO 1619/11-15)

Mr Wilson: The Performance and Efficiency Delivery Unit (PEDU) has not previously been asked to examine departmental measures and targets aimed at tackling social disadvantage. However, as part of the unit's broader work on monitoring progress against Programme for Government (PfG) 2008-11, PEDU did prepare a delivery assessment to inform an accountability review on progress against the child poverty targets.

Department of Health, Social Services and Public Safety

Prisoners: Hospital Trips

Mr B McCrea asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety to detail (i) the average number of weekly prisoner trips to local hospitals; and (ii) the number of hospital trips made by each prisoner in the last 12 months.

(AQW 9237/11-15)

Mr Poots (The Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety): In the 12 months from February 2011 to February 2012 there were an average of 17 trips to hospital per week.

It has not been possible to determine the number of trips by each prisoner. However, a total of 909 prisoners were escorted to hospital in the 12 months between February 2011 and February 2012.

Health Promotion

Mr Agnew asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety to detail (i) as a percentage of the overall budget, how much his Department currently spends on health promotion; (ii) how much his Department has spent on health promotion in each of the last three years; (iii) how much his Department intends to spend on health promotion in the next three years; and (iv) whether his Department is aware of the comparative statistics on the percentage of the health budget spent on health promotion in England, Scotland, Wales and the Republic of Ireland.

(AQW 9242/11-15)

Mr Poots:

(i) & (ii)

Health Promotion expenditure for the 2011/12 financial year is not yet available. The expenditure for the financial years 2009/10 and 2010/11 amounted to £94 million and £89 million respectively, representing approximately 2.3% and 2.1% of the Department's current budget allocation in those years (and reflecting spend by the Trusts, Public Health Agency and Health and Social Care Board). However, total overall spend on Health Promotion activities will be greater than this, as it is inherent within and across all aspects of health and social care provision in Northern Ireland.

- (iii) My commitment to increasing public health expenditure is evident in the Programme for Government. I will invest an additional £5m, £7.5m and £10m over the three years to 2014/15 through the Public Health Agency when compared to their actual spend in 2011/12. In addition, I plan to have the new Public Health Strategic Framework in place by the end of 2012.
- (iv) We cannot directly compare health promotion expenditure with other UK administrations. Budgets associated with such outcomes are, by their very nature, delivered through a wide and differing range of hospital and social care solutions making true and direct comparisons problematic.

Hospitality: Spend

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety, pursuant to AQW 8074/11-15, whether the figures provided include his Department's arm's-length bodies; and if not, to provide this information for each of the last five years.

(AQW 9265/11-15)

Mr Poots: I can confirm that my answer to AQW 8074/11-15 did not include information in respect of arm's length bodies. Information on hospitality expenditure within each of my Department's arm's length bodies is provided in the following table:

|                                | 2006/07£k  | 2007/08£k | 2008/09£k | 2009/10£k | 2010/11£k |

* Trusts were re-organised on 1 April 2007 under the Review of Public Administration and information in respect of the old Trusts can only be obtained at disproportionate cost.

^ These bodies were formed on 1 April 2009 but information is available for some of the bodies which operated prior to 1 April 2009.

1 Following review, these figures have now been updated from the previous public information.

Due to the wide ranging operational nature of the Department's ALBs, hospitality may also include other expenditure associated with the provision of refreshments, for example room hire and equipment hire

Community-based Initiatives: Funding

Mr Durkan asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety to detail the total level of funding his Department allocated for community based initiatives in 2007/08; 2008/09; 2009/10; and 2010/11 in the (i) Erne North; (ii) Erne West; and (iii) Erne East wards in Co Fermanagh.

(AQW 9275/11-15)

Mr Poots: It is not possible to provide this information by ward, as funding is not allocated on this basis.

However, Funding allocated by the HSC Board and Western HSC Trust to voluntary and community organisations which are located in or are providing a service or community initiative to the Fermanagh and Omagh areas, was as follows:

|      | 2010-11£ | 2009-10£ | 2008-09£ | 2007-08£ |
| HSCB | 655,837             | 696,961             | 600,033             | 683,891             |
| WHST | 4,528,226           | 3,480,013           | 3,703,267           | 3,676,413           |

No other Trust has allocated funding to any voluntary or community organisation in the Fermanagh area or for any community initiative in the area.

Food Safety Promotion Board: Staff Community Background

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety, pursuant to AQW 1254/11-15, to detail the outcome of the monitoring of the community background of staff in the Food Safety Promotion Board.

(AQW 9357/11-15)

Mr Poots: None of the North-South Implementation Bodies has historically monitored the community background of its southern based employees.

At present the Food Safety Promotion Board employs 29 staff, all of whom are based in the Republic of Ireland. Acting on legal advice FSPB has not asked individual employees to state their 'community background'. In the absence of a direct question method or any reliable proxy indicator of employees' perceived religious affiliation, the Chief Executive of FSPB indicated in August 2011 that he was of the view that the community background of the staff complement of FSPB broadly reflected the general community, taking account of location and the disciplines and professions within the organisation.

MRI Scanner: Royal Victoria Hospital

Ms Lo asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety, pursuant to AQW 8481/11-15, to detail (i) how many children required an MRI scan in 2010; (ii) how many adults are currently waiting for an MRI scan in each Health and Social Care Trust area; and the current average waiting time; (iii) how many children are currently waiting for an MRI scan in each Trust area, and the current average waiting time; (iv) the provisions that are in place for children who require an MRI scan in each Trust area; and (v) what action he is taking to reduce the waiting time for an MRI scan.

(AQW 9387/11-15)

Mr Poots:

- (i) I have been informed by the Health and Social Care Trusts in Northern Ireland, that a total of 1,892 children received an MRI scan during 2010.
- (ii) MRI waiting time data are collected in aggregate time bands; therefore it is not possible to calculate an average waiting time. It is, however, possible to calculate the median time band, a similar statistical measure.

The number of adults currently waiting for an MRI scan at each HSC Trust, and the median waiting time band, is outlined in the table below:

| HSC Trust | No. adults currently waiting for MRI scan<sup>1</sup> | Median waiting time band (weeks) |
|------------------|--|---|
| Belfast          | 1,751  | 6-9 weeks                               |
| Northern         | 286  | 0-6 weeks                               |
| South Eastern    | 912  | 0-6 weeks                               |
| Southern         | 847  | 0-6 weeks                               |
| Western          | 429  | 0-6 weeks                               |
| Northern Ireland | 4,225  | 0-6 weeks                               |

Source: HSC Trusts

- (iii) The number of children currently waiting for an MRI scan at each HSC Trust, and the median waiting time band, is outlined in the table below:

| HSC Trust        | No. children currently waiting for MRI scan <sup>1</sup> | Median waiting time band (weeks) |
|------------------|--|----------------------------------|
| Belfast          | 332  | 6-9 weeks                        |
| Northern         | 11   | 0-6 weeks                        |
| South Eastern    | 17   | 0-6 weeks                        |
| Southern         | 72   | 0-6 weeks                        |
| Western          | 58   | 0-6 weeks                        |
| Northern Ireland | 490  | 6-9 weeks                        |

Source: HSC Trusts

- 1 Children are categorised as patients aged between 0 and 16 years of age, with adults categorised as patients over 16 years of age.

- (iv) The provisions that are in place for children who require an MRI scan in each Trust are detailed in the table below:

| HSC Trust     | Provision in place for Children who require an MRI scan  |
|---------------|--|
| Belfast       | There are a total of 7 scanners within the Belfast Trust. The majority of children receive their scan within the Imaging Centre of the RVH as this is the only facility with a scanner equipped with the provision to administer General Anaesthetic (GA) scans to those children who require it.  |
| Northern      | Children as with adults may receive MRI scans at the Northern Trust's MRI scanner at Antrim Area Hospital. Children from 3 months old to 5 years old who are suitable for sedation can also be accommodated at this facility.However children requiring GA MRI scans are referred by their GP directly to the Belfast Trust as the Northern Trust does not provide a GA service.   |
| South Eastern | The Trust provides a GA MRI scan session every 2 weeks. Three children are usually imaged during this session. The associated appointment slots are protected and the appointments are categorised as planned. The average waiting time for this examination type is usually 4 to 5 weeks.   |
| Southern      | The Trust's Radiology Department do not attempt to scan babies from 3 months to children of 6 years – they are referred to the Belfast Trust. The Southern Trust's Radiology Department are able to perform scans for neonates where they 'wrap and feed' so that the baby lies still for the scan. The Trust's Radiology Department do attempt to scan children from 6 years up to see if they will lie still enough for the scan, if not they are also referred to the Belfast Trust for GA scans, as the Southern Trust does not routinely give sedation to children. |
| Western       | The Trust currently provides access for MRI scans for all patients in the catchment area regardless of age. In order to facilitate scanning of children who cannot co-operate the Trust offers an MRI GA service in Altnagelvin Hospital.GA scanning occurs on two mornings per month with additional sessions being created as and when required to stay within the 9 week waiting time standard. The Trust expects no child to have waited more than 9 weeks for an MRI scan by the end of March 2012.   |

- (v) The action being taken by each Trust to reduce the waiting time for an MRI scan is detailed in the table below:

| HSC Trust | Action taken to reduce waiting time for an MRI scan  |
|-----------|--|
| Belfast   | There are four GA MRI scan lists provided per week. In addition to this, there is non-recurrent funding from the HSCB to perform additional general anaesthetic lists during weekends. This funding has been extended into quarter one of 2012/13. |

|---------------|---|
| Northern      | All patients requiring an MRI scan receive their scan within the 9 week waiting time standard. Up to 30 additional unfunded sessions per month are required to meet current demand on the single Northern Trust Scanner. The Trust's Radiology Service has completed Investment Proposal Cases for: i 4 additional MRI weekend sessions; and ii. 2 breast and biopsy sessions per week The radiology department is finalising a major capital and revenue business case for a second MRI scanner in Antrim Hospital, including the provision of GA and Breast MRI services.   |
| South Eastern | The Trust has implemented various initiatives in order to reduce outpatient waiting times. These include: i The implementation of 4 seamless working days each week (funded by non recurrent waiting list initiative). ii. The implementation of 4 to 5 evening sessions each week (funded by non recurrent waiting list initiative). iii. During Consultant annual leave/study leave, MRI radiographers undertake unsupervised sessions, working to approved protocols. iv. The Trust is currently in discussion with the HSCB regarding the possibility of expanding MRI capacity through a second scanner.  |
| Southern      | The Southern HSC Trust is taking no additional action to reduce the waiting time for an MRI scan as Trust end of year performance is anticipated to be within the 2011/12 9 week waiting time standard.  |
| Western       | There are a number of initiatives being taken forward by the Trust which may reduce MRI scan waiting times for children. These are: I. An extended working day on the scanner in Altnagelvin. This includes evenings, and Saturday and Sundays when required. II. The Trust has a contractual arrangement with an Independent Service provider to deliver MRI scanning in the Erne Hospital for the local population and also the population of the whole trust to minimise waiting times. This service will run to 15 June 2012. III. A new MRI scanner will be operational in the Southwest Acute Hospital from 21 June 2012. IV. The Trust is currently developing plans with the HSCB to install a second MRI scanner on the Altnagelvin site to deal with the increase in demand as well as ensure resilience of services |

Cancer Patients: East Antrim

Mr McMullan asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety to detail the number of cancer patients (i) who are receiving treatment; and (ii) who have died in each of the last three years, in the East Antrim area, broken down by electoral ward. (AQW 9432/11-15)

Mr Poots:

- (i) Table A below outlines the number of cancer patients<sup>1</sup> who received surgery, chemotherapy and/ or radiotherapy in the years 2007-2009 in East Antrim Assembly Area by Electoral Ward. For patient confidentiality reasons, the years have been grouped. The figures have been supplied by the Northern Ireland Cancer Registry and are the most up to date available.
- (ii) Table B below outlines the number of deaths registered due to cancer<sup>1</sup> in East Antrim Assembly Area for each year between 2008 and 2010 by Electoral Ward. The figures have been supplied by the General Registry's Office and relates to the year of registration of death.

Ms Lo asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety whether all the bodies or organisations within his Department's remit which own woodland are compliant with the UK Forestry Standard, including his Department, any arm's-length body and any organisation to which his Department provides grant aid.

(AQW 9439/11-15)

Mr Poots: All HSC bodies that own areas of woodland apply appropriate land management for these woodland areas as outlined in my Department's guidance 'Land Management for the Conservation and Creation of Biodiversity in Health, Social Care and Public Safety (HSC&PS) Estates'. This guidance document broadly covers the same principles as the UK Forestry Standard. The update of the Departmental guidance will fully reflect all aspects of the UK Forestry Standard.

Human Papilloma Virus: Screening

Ms Brown asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety to detail (i) where women can be tested for the Human Papilloma Virus; (ii) whether testing is available for all women; and (iii) whether his Department has any plans to include the test as part of the NI Cervical Screening Programme.

(AQW 9444/11-15)

Mr Poots: HPV testing is not currently part of the cervical screening programme in Northern Ireland, however, the Western HSC Trust is using HPV testing on a pilot basis as part of cervical screening. This will provide useful information on the implications of introducing such a test on a wider scale in Northern Ireland.

In the other Trust areas, HPV testing is one of a number of diagnostic tests that can be used for second line investigation of specific conditions. A decision whether to refer a sample from a patient for the HPV test will be made on the basis of the individual case and clinical judgement.

The potential role of HPV testing within the NI Cervical Screening Programme was considered in May 2011 by the Northern Ireland Screening Committee (NISC) which is chaired by the Chief Medical Officer. The Public Health Agency has been developing proposals and associated costs for introducing HPV testing into the Programme, and these were considered by NISC in January 2012. The UK National Screening Committee (NSC) is due to consider HPV testing at a meeting in April 2012 and NISC has recommended that the Department should await the NSC recommendations before decisions are taken on the introduction of HPV testing into the Northern Ireland Cervical Screening Programme.

Human Papilloma Virus: Diagnosis and Treatment

Ms Brown asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety how many women have been diagnosed and treated for the Human Papilloma Virus in each of the last five years, broken down by Health and Social Care Trust area.

(AQW 9445/11-15)

Mr Poots: The number of women diagnosed and treated for the Human Papilloma Virus is not available.

Information on a number of STI diagnoses is published by the Public Health Agency and can be found at the following link:

http://www.publichealth.hscni.net/sites/default/files/HIV\_and\_STI\_Report\_12\_2011.pdf

Human Papilloma Virus: Diagnostic Tests

Ms Brown asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety under what circumstances a woman would be tested for the Human Papilloma Virus; and whether this varies across each Health and Social Care Trust area.

(AQW 9446/11-15)

Mr Poots: HPV testing is one of a number of diagnostic tests that can be used for second line investigation of specific conditions. A decision whether to refer a sample from a patient for a HPV test will be made on the basis of clinical judgement on the individual case. Such decisions will therefore vary from case to case and will not necessarily vary significantly between geographical areas.

HPV testing is not currently part of the cervical screening programme in Northern Ireland. The Western HSC Trust is using HPV testing as part of the cervical screening programme on a pilot basis. This will provide useful information on the implications of introducing such a test on a wider scale in Northern Ireland.

Cervical Cancer: Screening

Ms Brown asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety how many women between the age of 25 and 49 are currently overdue their regular cervical screening appointment; and what is the average length of time since their last appointment.

(AQW 9450/11-15)

Mr Poots: Women who are eligible for cervical cancer screening in Northern Ireland are sent reminders when their next cervical screening test is due. It is then the responsibility of the woman to make an appointment with her GP or a family planning clinic to have the test carried out. The screening programme does not issue appointments.

Until January 2011, women aged 25 to 49 years were recommended to have a cervical screening test every 5 years. From January 2011, this recommendation has changed to every 3 years. It should be noted that it will take 3 years for this change in practice to be fully implemented, therefore current data relates to a five year screening interval.

Given this service delivery model, it is not technically accurate to estimate the number of women overdue a regular cervical screening appointment. It is possible, however, to present an estimate of the number of eligible women who have not undergone adequate cervical screening in Northern Ireland during the last five years.

These data are estimated based on coverage, for example, the percentage of eligible women with an adequate screening result recorded in last five years. The position at 31st October 2011, the most recent position for which robust data are available, are outlined in the table below.

| Eligible Northern Ireland population aged 25 to 49 years | Number and percentage of eligible women with an adequate screening test result in the last 5 years | Number and percentage of eligible women with no adequate screening test result in the last 5 years |

Information on the average length of time between cervical screening tests is not available.

Fire Stations: Refurbishments/Newbuilds

Mr McKay asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety which fire stations have undergone major refurbishments or have had capital new builds in each of the last ten years.

(AQW 9527/11-15)

Mr Poots: All Northern Ireland Fire & Rescue Service (NIFRS) Fire Stations meet the general requirements of the Health & Safety at Work (Northern Ireland) Order 1978. Each NIFRS workplace is subject to a 6-monthly health & safety audit and workplace audits are carried out by competent NIFRS personnel.

The table shows the total cost of the project against the year in which the project was completed. In some cases, the expenditure was incurred across more than one year.

Note: The total cost of the Omagh project is £5.619m, of which £500k is in 2011/12.

Fire Stations: Health and Safety Standards

Mr McKay asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety which fire stations do not meet health and safety standards; and how often this is monitored.

(AQW 9528/11-15)

Mr Poots: All Northern Ireland Fire & Rescue Service (NIFRS) Fire Stations meet the general requirements of the Health & Safety at Work (Northern Ireland) Order 1978. ### Healthcare Workers: Code of Dignity

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety for his assessment of the benefits of a signed Code of Dignity for health workers caring for elderly patients.

(AQW 9534/11-15)

Mr Poots: The concept of treating all patients, irrespective of their age, with dignity and respect at all times is integral to the training of all healthcare professionals. All registered professions have very clear Codes of Conduct built into the regulatory requirements, and all registrants must maintain those standards in order to remain on their professional register. I remain to be convinced about the value of a Code of Dignity for a specific group of patients over and above these arrangements.

Fire and Rescue Service: Business Services Organisation Report

Mr Campbell asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety what discussions he will have (i) within his own Department; and (ii) with the Assembly Committee for Health, Social Services and Public Safety regarding the recent report by the Business Service Organisation into the Fire and Rescue Service.

(AQW 9551/11-15)

Mr Poots: I have requested the Northern Ireland Fire and Rescue Service to submit the Business Service Organisation's report as soon as possible. Once I have had an opportunity to consider it, I shall ensure that the Health, Social Services and Public Safety Committee is briefed appropriately.

HEMS/Air Ambulance

Mr Flanagan asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety for his assessment of the need for an air ambulance to cover the geographical northern half of the island of Ireland.

(AQW 9554/11-15)

Mr Poots: I can only comment about health and social care provision in Northern Ireland. I can confirm that, at my predecessor's request, the Health and Social Care Board (HSCB) commissioned consultants to undertake a feasibility study on the need for and sustainability and affordability of an HEMS/air ambulance for Northern Ireland. The HSCB expects the consultants to present a final report in April this year after which it will be submitted to my Department to consider.

In the meantime, the Department's policy remains that investment to modernise ground ambulance services to provide the best possible response to people in life threatening situations must be a priority.

Once the HSCB feasibility study is available, I will assess its conclusions and decide if the Department's existing policy should be revised.

Paediatric Surgery: Anaesthetist Services

Mr Hussey asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety whether a second anaesthetist is on site on every occasion when day-case paediatric surgery is carried out.

(AQW 9562/11-15)

Mr Poots: The deployment of medical staff within the Western HSC Trust is an operational matter for the Trust. I am advised by the Trust that following a clinical incident on 22nd February, it was decided that pending a full incident review two anaesthetists would be required on site to strengthen clinical support during paediatric surgery.

The Trust has advised that during paediatric surgery at Altnagelvin and Erne hospitals, 2 anaesthetists are on site and that paediatric surgery continues at the Tyrone County Hospital when a second anaesthetist is on site.

Hospitals: Hygiene Standards

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety (i) who is responsible for setting the hygiene standards for each hospital; (ii) how these standards have been set; and (iii) who is responsible for checking the hygiene standards for each hospital.

(AQW 9563/11-15)

Mr Poots:

- i. Hygiene and environmental cleanliness standards are set regionally by the Department of Health Social, Services and Public Safety, (with the Minister having overall responsibility).
- ii. Environmental cleanliness standards have been set out in "Cleanliness Matters 2005-2008 - A Regional Strategy for Improving the Standard of Environmental Cleanliness in HSS Trusts". Hygiene standards, which include hand washing, patient linen, waste and sharps, patient equipment, general environment, hygiene facilities, organisational systems and governance, and hygiene practices, have been set out in "Regional Healthcare Hygiene and Cleanliness Standards" which was issued to Trusts in July 2011.
- iii. For environment cleanliness, daily checks and departmental (ward) audits are the responsibility of the ward manager. Managerial audits are the responsibility of a team consisting of senior management from cleaning services, estates and nursing. These may also include ward managers, infection control professionals and service users. Trust internal audit staff may also audit a sample of areas as part of the yearly Controls Assurance Standard process; compliance with the Controls assurance Standards is signed off by Trust Chief Executives. Ward managers are responsible for hygiene checks/ audits; arrangements are in place to ensure that issues are addressed in a timely and effective manner as set out in the "Regional Healthcare Hygiene and Cleanliness Standards". The Regional Quality and Improvement Authority carry out announced or unannounced inspections of hygiene and cleanliness and use the Regional Healthcare Hygiene and Cleanliness Tool as part of those inspections.

Hospitals: Hygiene Standards

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety what is the process of remediation, should it be discovered that hygiene standards in a hospital or on a ward have not been met.

(AQW 9564/11-15)

Mr Poots: In relation to environmental cleanliness, the DHSSPS "Cleanliness Matters 2005-2008 - A Regional Strategy for Improving the Standard of Environmental Cleanliness in HSS Trusts" sets out the timescales for rectifying cleaning problems identified in an audit as follows.

| Priority  | Timeframe for rectifying problem  |
|---|---|
| A) Constant – Cleaning critical (very high risk and high risk functional areas)                             | Immediately, or as soon as is practically possible. Where domestic/ cleaning staff are not on duty this should be the responsibility of other ward or department personnel and these responsibilities should be clearly set out and understood. |
| B) Frequent – Cleaning important and requires maintaining (significant risk functional areas).              | 0-3 hours for patient areas (to be rectified by daily scheduled cleaning service for non-patient areas)   |
| C) Regular – On a less frequent scheduled basis, and as required between cleans (low risk functional areas) | 0-48 hours  |

In relation to hygiene, which includes hand washing, patient linen, waste and sharps, patient equipment, general environment, hygiene facilities, organisational systems and governance, and hygiene practices, Trusts are required to have robust arrangements in place to ensure that issues identified during internal monitoring and audit are addressed in a timely and effective manner. These should include lines of accountability and escalation as set out in the DHSSPS "Regional Healthcare Hygiene and Cleanliness Standards" which were issued to Trusts in July 2011.

Hospitals: Hygiene Standards

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety to detail the standard process that is used to check hospital hygiene standards, including details of any microbiological tests that are routinely carried out as part of this process.
(AQW 9565/11-15)

Mr Poots: In relation to environmental cleanliness, daily checks and departmental (ward) audits are carried out by ward managers based on 49 elements (surfaces, articles or fixtures) which have been defined in DHSSPS "Cleanliness Matters 2005-2008 - A Regional Strategy for Improving the Standard of Environmental Cleanliness in HSS Trusts", using a risk-based approach which sets out the risk category of each area. Managerial audits are carried out by a team consisting of senior management from cleaning services, estates and nursing. These may also include ward managers, infection control professionals and service users. All areas should be covered at least once a year. Trust internal audit staff may also audit a sample of areas as part of the yearly Controls Assurance Standard process. Compliance with the Controls assurance Standards is signed off by Trust Chief Executives. Ward managers are responsible for hygiene checks/audits; arrangements are in place to ensure that issues are addressed in a timely and effective manner as set out in the "Regional Healthcare Hygiene and Cleanliness Standards" which were issued to Trusts in July 2011.

The Regulation and Quality Improvement Authority also carry out announced or unannounced inspections of hygiene and cleanliness and use the Regional Healthcare Hygiene and Cleanliness Tool as part of those inspections.

Microbiological testing is not routinely carried out by Trusts but is carried out where an infection outbreak is suspected or confirmed.

Fire Stations: Newbuilds

Mr McKay asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety how much has been spent on new builds for fire stations in each of the last ten years.
(AQW 9575/11-15)

Mr Poots: All Northern Ireland Fire & Rescue Service (NIFRS) Fire Stations meet the general requirements of the Health & Safety at Work (Northern Ireland) Order 1978. Each NIFRS workplace is subject to a 6-monthly health & safety audit and workplace audits are carried out by competent NIFRS personnel.

The table shows the total cost of the project against the year in which the project was completed. In some cases, the expenditure was incurred across more than one year.

| Year    | Project              | Total Cost (£M's) |

Medical Staff: Doctor/Nurse Positions

Mr Agnew asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety (i) for each of the last three years, to detail (a) the number of qualified medical staff who, following an application for a position as a doctor or a nurse in the Health Service, were unsuccessful; (b) the average number of vacancies for junior doctors and nurses; and (c) the average number of hours per month that junior doctors and nurses have been required to work over and above their contracted hours; and (ii) the current number of vacancies for junior doctors and nurses; and (iii) the current number of qualified doctors and nurses who are seeking employment.

i Mr Poots:

- a. The number of qualified medical staff who were unsuccessful in an application for a position as a doctor or nurse within Northern Ireland Health and Social Care over the last three years could only be provided at disproportionate cost.
- b. Information on the number of vacancies within Northern Ireland Health and Social Care is collected bi-annually (as at 31st March and 30th September) by means of a survey and is published on the Departmental web site at http://www.dhsspsni.gov.uk/index/stats\_research/workforce-statistics/stats-hsc.htm. The latest information available is 30th September 2011. The number of vacancies for doctors in training (Specialty Registrar and Foundation House Officer grades) and qualified nurses over the last three years is given below.

Number of current vacancies for doctors in training and qualified nurses – March 2009 to September 2011

| Date                | Doctors in Training |      | Qualified Nurses |       |
|---------------------|---------------------|------|------------------|-------|
|                     | Headcount           | WTE  | Headcount        | WTE   |
| 31st March 2009     | 50                  | 50.0 | 214              | 200.0 |
| 30th September 2009 | 39                  | 39.0 | 225              | 212.0 |
| 31st March 2010     | 41                  | 41.0 | 158              | 146.4 |
| 30th September 2010 | 19                  | 19.0 | 127              | 119.6 |
| 31st March 2011     | 28                  | 27.5 | 250              | 237.6 |
| 30th September 2011 | 34                  | 33.0 | 259              | 224.8 |

Source: Northern Ireland Health and Social Care Vacancy Survey

Notes:

WTE=Whole-time equivalent

A current vacancy is a post which at the survey date the organisation was trying to fill.

Medical Training grades are subject to high levels of turnover, therefore the vacancy levels can be subject to significant fluctuation throughout the year.

- c. The average number of hours per month that junior doctors and nurses have worked over and above their contracted hours could only be provided at disproportionate cost. Please note that extra hours are worked on a voluntary basis and not a required basis.
- ii. The latest information available (at 30th September 2011) on the number of vacancies is provided in the table above.
- iii. The number of qualified doctors and nurses who are seeking employment is not available.

Post-traumatic Stress Disorder: Facilities

Mr Cree asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety for his assessment of the adequacy of the facilities that are available to deal with post-traumatic stress disorder cases, given that the number of cases is likely to increase as a result of military personnel returning from active service.

(AQW 9648/11-15)

Mr Poots: A recent study found that Northern Ireland has the highest level of post traumatic stress disorder (PTSD) among all comparable studies undertaken across the world, including other areas of conflict.

Cognitive Behavioural Therapy (CBT) is recognised as an effective treatment for PTSD. A Strategy for the Development of Psychological Therapies Strategy was published by my Department in 2010 and has been underpinned by an additional £4.4m per annum.

While it is not possible to quantify separately the resources provided by Health and Social Care services for the treatment of PTSD, in the year 2010/11 year £228 million was spent on specialist services for people with mental health problems. This does not include expenditure on primary care services and voluntary organisations which may treat and support patients with post traumatic stress disorder.

The adequacy of the facilities that are available to deal with post-traumatic stress disorder cases is primarily for the Health & Social Care Board to address as part of its commissioning role.

The Armed Forces Healthcare protocol ensures that Armed Forces personnel, their families and Veterans receive equality of access to health and social care services, including PTSD services, across Northern Ireland.

Media Communications Protocols

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety what media communications protocols exist between his Department and each of its arm's-length bodies; and to publish these protocols.

(AQW 9659/11-15)

Mr Poots: There are no written media communications protocols between the Department of Health and each of its arm's length bodies. However, a number of planning, monitoring and alert arrangements are in place to support the flow of information in both directions.

Community Pharmacy Northern Ireland: Judicial Review

Mr Durkan asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety to provide an estimate of the cost of the appeal against the decision of the judicial review brought by Community Pharmacy Northern Ireland.

(AQW 9679/11-15)

Mr Poots: It is not possible to estimate how much the appeal against the decision of the judicial review brought by Community Pharmacy Northern Ireland will cost. The overall costs of the judicial review, including the costs of the appeal, will not be determined until all the legal processes are concluded and liability for costs has been decided by the Court of Appeal.

Hospitals: Hygiene Audits

Mr G Robinson asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety what action he intends to take to ensure that hygiene audits of hospitals are completed on time and that the results are monitored so that issues are dealt with urgently.

(AQW 9715/11-15)

Mr Poots: The requirements for environmental cleanliness audits are defined in "Cleanliness Matters 2005-2008 – A Regional Strategy for Improving the Standard of Environmental Cleanliness in HSS Trusts". The responsibility for auditing and monitoring rests with the Health & Social Care Trusts. Trust internal audit staff may also audit a sample of areas as part of the yearly Controls Assurance Standard process. Compliance with the Controls Assurance Standard is signed off by Trust Chief Executives.

Hospitals: Regulation and Quality Improvement Authority Inspections

Mr G Robinson asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety whether he will grant enforcement powers to the Committee for Health, Social Services and Public Safety so that it can request a Regulation and Quality Improvement Authority inspection of a hospital when it receives a serious complaint regarding hospital hygiene.

(AQW 9717/11-15)

Mr Poots: It is not legally within my gift to add to or amend the function or powers of statutory committees of the Northern Ireland Assembly.

The Health and Personal Social Services (Quality, Improvement and Regulation) (Northern Ireland) Order 2003 places a duty of quality on all HSC Trusts. As Minister for Health, Social Services and Public Safety I can require the Regulation and Quality Improvement Authority to conduct reviews, inspections and investigations into the management, provision or quality of services for which statutory bodies and service providers have responsibility, and to make a report to me.

I have already exercised these powers in the past and will continue to do so in the future where and when it is warranted.

Children's Emergency Department: Royal Belfast Hospital for Sick Children

Dr McDonnell asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety what is the average waiting time for patients attending the Children's Emergency Department at The Royal Belfast Hospital for Sick Children.

(AQW 9720/11-15)

Mr Poots: Information on the average waiting time for patients attending the Children's Emergency Department at the Royal Belfast Hospital for Sick Children is not currently available and could only be provided at disproportionate cost. However, information is available on the number of new and unplanned review attendances at the Royal Belfast Hospital for Sick Children according to specified time bands (Less than 4 hours, 4 to 12 hours and 12 hours or more), and is available to view or download from:

http://www.dhsspsni.gov.uk/index/stats\_research/hospital-stats/emergency\_care-3/emergency\_care-monthly\_waiting\_times.htm

Provisional information for February 2012 indicates that 67.6% of new and unplanned attendances at the Royal Belfast Hospital for Sick Children were either treated and discharged home, or admitted within 4 hours, with 2 patients waiting over 12 hours.

Antrim Area Hospital: Public Health Agency Inspection

Mr Swann asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety to detail (i) the inspections/investigations carried out by the Public Health Agency into the Antrim Area Hospital in the last six months; (ii) the results or recommendations of any such inspections/investigations; and (iii) what follow-up actions, including management reviews, have been carried out and what conclusions have been communicated to the Northern Health and Social Services Trust and his Department.

(AQW 9721/11-15)

Mr Poots: The Public Health Agency has confirmed that it has not carried out any inspections/investigations into the Antrim Area Hospital in the last 6 months.

In January 2012 the Health and Social Care Board (HSCB) asked the PHA to provide professional advice and support to the Northern Health and Social Care Trust (NHSCT) for a 6 week period.

This support and assistance was provided by Mrs Mary Hinds, Director of Nursing at the PHA and had a particular focus on unscheduled care at Antrim Area Hospital.

Mrs Hinds has now concluded this work and is finalizing her report. I expect this report to be made available to the Department, the HSCB and the NHSCT shortly.

Antrim Area Hospital: Patient Discharges

Mr Swann asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety how many patients have been kept in the Antrim Area Hospital since 1 January 2012 due to the absence of social support in the community; and how many nights, in total, the patients remained in hospital without medical necessity.

(AQW 9735/11-15)

Mr Poots: The information requested is not currently available and could only be provided at disproportionate cost.

My Department currently monitors information on delayed discharges from acute hospitals against the standard that:

'90% of complex discharges from an acute hospital setting take place within 48 hours of the decision to discharge; all non-complex discharges from an acute hospital setting take place within six hours of being declared medically fit; and, no discharge from an acute hospital setting takes longer than seven days.'

A delayed discharge refers to any patient remaining in hospital after the time they were deemed medically fit for discharge.

During February 2012, 15.6% (229) of patients with complex care needs waited longer than 48 hours to be discharged from an acute hospital setting following a decision to discharge and 4.1% (618) of patients with non-complex care needs waited longer than 6 hours. Of these delays (both complex and non-complex), 112 waited longer than 7 days.

Marian Price: Move to Hydebank Wood

Mr S Anderson asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety whether he discussed the transfer of Marion McGlinchey to Hydebank Wood with the (i) Prison Service; and (ii) South Eastern Health and Social Care Trust prior to the transfer.

(AQW 9740/11-15)

Mr Poots: The decision to transfer a prisoner from one establishment to another is a matter for the NI Prison Service. In this case it was taken based upon the ongoing clinical assessment of Marian Price/ McGlinchey's needs.

I did not discuss this matter with either the NI Prison Service or the South Eastern Health and Social Care Trust. The South Eastern Health and Social Care Trust has ensured that my Department is up to date on developments in this case.

Prisoners: Healthcare

Mr S Anderson asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety to outline his role in the provision of healthcare for prisoners.

(AQW 9741/11-15)

Mr Poots: My Department has a duty to promote a system of healthcare designed to secure improvement in the physical and mental health and in the prevention, diagnosis and treatment of illness, for all people in Northern Ireland, including those in prison.

In relation to prison healthcare services, this duty is discharged by the Health and Social Care Board and South Eastern Health and Social Care Trust, which, respectively, commission and provide healthcare services across the 3 prison establishments.

I am accountable to the Assembly for the manner in which this duty is discharged.

Altnagelvin Hospital: Loading Bay

Mr McCartney asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety why the new £2 million loading bay at Altnagelvin Hospital is still not in use, given that patients, who are being taken to theatre and x-ray, have to pass the temporary loading bay which gives rise to health and safety issues.

(AQW 9746/11-15)

Mr Poots: The new loading bay was designed as part of a new Receipt and Distribution (R&D) facility for receipt of goods and onwards distribution. This R&D centre is located at some significant distance from the core hospital distribution lifts and requires additional resources to transfer goods over greater distances and to bring the centre fully into operation.

It is anticipated that the R&D centre, including the new loading bay, will be brought into use in the 2012/13 financial year.

Defibrillators: Foyle

Mr Durkan asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety how many defibrillators are available to support clubs in the Foyle area.

(AQW 9835/11-15)

Mr Poots: Any organisation or individual may purchase a defibrillator. There is no requirement to register the purchase, possession or location of a defibrillator. It is therefore not known how many defibrillators are available to sports clubs in the Foyle area.

A pilot programme to train people to use defibrillators, which my Department is currently running, has had the additional benefit of raising awareness, in some sporting organisations and District Councils, of the location and accessibility of defibrillators purchased by their organisation and also the need for maintenance of the defibrillator and training of staff in their use.

Belfast City Hospital: Accident and Emergency Department

Ms Lo asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety in light of the temporary closure of the Accident and Emergency Department at Belfast City Hospital, due to senior staffing problems, what steps his Department is taking to recruit staff to allow the Department to reopen.

(AQW 9838/11-15)

Mr Poots: The temporary closure of the emergency department at the City Hospital, from 1 November 2011, was for safety reasons and in order to sustain high quality services for the population of Belfast.

These changes are operational matters which will apply until there is a full public consultation and a longer term strategic decision taken by me on the permanent configuration of such services for the greater Belfast area.

I will only take that decision after I have listened carefully to stakeholders in a process of effective engagement and open and transparent consultation

Department of Justice

Drugs: Accessories and Abettors Act 1861

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice how many convictions have been secured for aiding, abetting counselling or procuring the commission of drugs offences under the Accessories and Abettors Act 1861, in each of the last ten years.

(AQW 9196/11-15)

Mr Ford (The Minister of Justice): Section 8 of the Accessories and Abettors Act 1861 provides that anyone who aids, abets, counsels or procures shall be liable to be tried, indicted and punished as a principal offender. This might be recorded as a prosecution for the substantive offence or it might be recorded as aiding and abetting the substantive offence. It would not be the normal practice to quote the Accessories and Abettors Act 1861 in the charge or indictment.

It is not therefore possible to answer the question.

Bangor Courthouse: Capital Spend

Mr Weir asked the Minister of Justice to detail the level of capital spend on Bangor Courthouse in each of the last five years; and what this represents as a percentage of the total capital spend on courthouses during this period.

(AQW 9205/11-15)

Mr Ford: The table below provides a breakdown of the capital spend on Bangor Courthouse in each of the last five years and the total capital spend on courthouses during the same period.

| Bangor                             | -        | £11,825    | £83,799    | £42,510    | £10,271              | £148,405   |
| Total capital spend on courthouses | £375,724 | £1,927,878 | £2,387,184 | £3,827,089 | £613,258             | £9,131,133 |
| % of total capital spend on Bangor | 0%       | 0.6%       | 3.5%       | 1.1%       | 1.7%                 | 1.6%       |

1 – Figures are for the 10 month period April 2011 to January 2012 inclusive.

Hospitality: Spend

Mr Allister asked Minister of Justice, pursuant to AQW 6361/11-15, whether the figures provided include the Department's arm's-length bodies; and if not, to provide this information for each of the last five years.

(AQW 9215/11-15)

Mr Ford: Spend on hospitality by the arm's-length bodies of the Department of Justice (DOJ) was not included in the answer to AQW 6361/11-15. Hospitality expenditure for the arm's-length bodies and Agencies of the DOJ for each of the last five years is set out in the table below.

|                     | 2006/07£ | 2007/08£ | 2008/09£ | 2009/10£ | 2010/11£ |
| Arm's-length Bodies | 17,068       | 18,660       | 25,688       | 33,665       | 13,344       |
| Agencies            | 90,117       | 67,981       | 85,008       | 87,384       | 47,717       |

This excludes hospitality expenditure for the Northern Ireland Police Fund and Independent Monitoring Boards prior to 2009/10. These figures could only be obtained at disproportionate cost.

Crime Prevention: Funding

Mr D McIlveen asked the Minister of Justice what groups have benefited from the recently announced £800,000 of funding to address the fear of crime in local communities; and why his Department only invited applications from within the Department and its arm's-length bodies.

(AQW 9226/11-15)

Mr Ford: I have provided a list of those organisations which benefited from the funding as an annex to this answer.

Under section 94 of the Justice Act (Northern Ireland) 2011, the Department of Justice has the power to allocate funds to prevent crime and reduce the fear of crime and to support the recovery of criminal assets. Applications were invited from within the Department and from its agencies and arm's-length bodies as the funding became available relatively late in the year. Existing funding streams were used to ensure that governance and accountability structures were in place. I have asked officials to consider seeking applications from a wider field in 2012/13.

Children and Vulnerable Adults: Independent Safeguarding Authority

Mrs Overend asked the Minister of Justice to detail, for each year since 2010 (i) the total number of barred individuals, as defined by the Independent Safeguard Authority and Access NI, who (a) have sought to undertake; or (b) have undertaken work with vulnerable groups; (ii) the number of employers who knowingly have employed barred individuals; (iii) the length of time each breach existed before being detected; and (iv) whether any penalties were imposed on the barred (a) employee; and (b) employer.

(AQW 9248/11-15)

Mr Ford: Since 2010 AccessNI has matched 11 applicants, who have been seeking work with children or vulnerable adults (regulated activity), with individuals on the lists of barred persons held by the Independent Safeguarding Authority as follow:

| Year           | Number of individuals matched |
|----------------|-------------------------------|
| 2010           | 6                             |
| 2011           | 2                             |
| 2012 (to date) | 3                             |

In relation to part (iv)(a) of the Question:

It is an offence under the Safeguarding Vulnerable Groups (NI) Order 2007 for anyone on these lists to seek employment in regulated activity. AccessNI passes details of all such suspected offences to PSNI. In relation to the eleven cases set out in the table above:

- Two cases were not referred to PSNI. In one the individual was seeking work in controlled activity rather than regulated activity. Those working in controlled activity can do so while barred. In the other case no application should have been made to AccessNI.
- Three cases had insufficient information to be referred by police for consideration of a prosecution as, for example, the applicant did not make the application him or herself, or he or she was applying for a position that he or she believed did not require work with children or vulnerable persons.
- One case was passed by police to the Public Prosecution Service (PPS) which recommended no prosecution.
- One individual received a police caution, directed by PPS.
- Two cases are pending with PPS.
- Two cases are currently under police investigation.

With regard to questions (i)(a) and (b), (ii), (iii) and (iv)(b), AccessNI operates in accordance with Part V of the Police Act 1997 to provide criminal history information to organisations. It has no information on these aspects.

Thomas Ward: Sexual Offences Prevention Order

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice what monitoring was in place following the release of Thomas Ward; and on how many occasions he breached his Sexual Offenders Prevention Order.

(AQW 9257/11-15)

Mr Ford: I cannot provide detail on any individual case.

Information in relation to multi agency public protection arrangements, including detail of risk assessment, risk management initiatives and court orders used in the risk management process are available on the PPANI website.

Breach of a SOPO is a criminal offence and a matter for the courts.

Jury Service: Financial Compensation

Mr McElduff asked the Minister of Justice whether people who are called for Jury Service will receive financial compensation for the working days they have lost while they are required to be available for service, even if they are not selected to sit on the jury.

(AQW 9269/11-15)

Mr Ford: People who are called for jury service may claim for loss of earnings whether or not they are sworn on a jury.

A Juror Information Booklet is sent to people summonsed for jury service and explains details of allowances and the claims process.

Policing and Community Safety Partnerships: Successful Applicants

Mr Weir asked the Minister of Justice, pursuant to AQW 8593/11-15, how many of the applicants in each constituency were successful at interview and were referred to the Policing Board as cleared for appointment.

(AQW 9280/11-15)

Mr Ford: The process of appointing independent members to Policing and Community Safety Partnerships (PCSPs) is a restricted function of the Northern Ireland Policing Board.

I have been informed by the Policing Board that the information you have requested is not yet available, however it can be provided to you once finalised.

Compensation Recovery Unit: Legal Aid

Mr Agnew asked the Minister of Justice how many compensation claims registered with the Compensation Recovery Unit have involved plaintiffs in receipt of legal aid in each of the last ten years.

(AQW 9326/11-15)

Mr Ford: Legal aid is administered through the Northern Ireland Legal Services Commission (the Commission). The Compensation Recovery Unit (CRU) provides compensators and customers with details of Social Security benefits paid in respect of accidents, injury or disease for which compensation is awarded. The personal data held by CRU is subject to Data Protection legislation and the Commission does not have access to these records. The Department therefore cannot provide details on who received legal aid in these cases.

Thomas Ward: Reoffending

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice whether he will an order an investigation into the release of Thomas Ward, to include (i) how he presented himself as reformed to Probation Officers; (ii) whether any prison staff expressed concerns about his release; (iii) the monitoring that was in place following his release; (iv) how he was able to repeatedly breach his Sexual Offences Prevention Order requirements; (v) why he was allowed to reside close to his victim following his release; and (vi) how he was able to commit a second sexual assault whilst under restrictions.

(AQW 9331/11-15)

Mr Ford: It is always regrettable when an offender chooses to reoffend despite best efforts on the part of agencies to reduce risk.

The Departmental guidance to agencies on public protection arrangements (PPANI), issued under Article 50 of the Criminal Justice (NI) Order 2008, requires the agencies to consider commissioning a serious case review where an individual whose risk of serious harm is being managed through the arrangements, is charged with a serious sexual or violent offence, or where a significant failure occurs in their risk management. The definition of a serious sexual offence is provided in the PPANI Manual of Practice. Both documents are available on the PPANI website.

I understand that the agencies have examined the matter and do not believe that there are sufficient issues in the PPANI process which need to be addressed through the serious case review procedure in the context of this case.

Prison Service: Unannounced Inspections

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice, pursuant to AQW 8563/11-15, to outline the position in relation to unannounced inspections from external inspectors and agencies, which the 2009 Pearson Review Team Report raised as a matter of concern.

(AQW 9337/11-15)

Mr Ford: The Criminal Justice Inspection Northern Ireland (CJINI) is the primary agency for the inspection of organisations within the criminal justice system, including prisons. CJINI undertakes both announced and unannounced inspections which, depending on the nature and scope of the inspection can involve other agencies.

Thomas Ward: Fit for Release

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice whether, prior to his release, Thomas Ward was deemed rehabilitated or reformed by the relevant authorities after serving a sentence for sexual assault in 2006; and on what date he was classed as fit for release.

(AQW 9418/11-15)

Mr Ford: The information requested constitutes sensitive personal data as defined at section 2 of the Data Protection Act 1998. The disclosure of such information is likely to breach the data subject's rights under the Act and would be incompatible with the Data Protection Principles. The information cannot therefore be provided as requested.

For those sentenced to a determinate sentence prior to the introduction of the Criminal Justice (NI) Order 2008 there was no discretion to release any individual other than on the earliest date of release as calculated in accordance with NIPS Sentence Calculation policy.

Marian Price: Move to Hydebank Wood

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice, pursuant to AQW 8561/11-15, who authorised the expenditure; and why the alterations were deemed necessary.

(AQW 9458/11-15)

Mr Ford: The alterations were authorised by Senior Management at Prison Service Headquarters. They were deemed necessary following a security and regime review.

Prisons: Deliberate Damage Caused by Inmates

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice how much has been spent in each of the last five years in each prison facility, including Hydebank Young Offenders Centre and in juvenile justice units, on repair or replacements following deliberate damage caused by inmates.

(AQW 9460/11-15)

Mr Ford: It is not possible to detail the cost of repair or replacements following deliberate damage caused by inmates except at disproportionate cost to the public purse.

Bench Warrants: Court Divisions

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice, pursuant to AQW 8086/11-15, in which court division each of these warrants was issued. (AQW 9462/11-15)

Mr Ford: The table below details the breakdown sought.

| Warrant Issued | Number Outstanding | County Court Division               |
|-----------------------|---------------------------|--|
| 1 to 5 years          | 2                         | Belfast                                    |
| 5 to 10 years         | 3                         | AntrimArmagh & South DownCraigavon |

Parole Process: Timescales

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice what is the minimum length of time before a prisoner can re-apply for parole after a refusal. (AQW 9472/11-15)

Mr Ford: The release arrangements for prisoners serving indeterminate or extended custodial sentences are set out in article 18(5)(b) of The Criminal Justice (Northern Ireland) Order 2008. The minimum period is two years before a prisoner can re-apply for parole. However, on refusing an application, the Parole Commissioners indicate when the case should be referred to them again and the Northern Ireland Prison Service makes a referral in line with this timescale. Cases must be reconsidered within a maximum period of two years from refusal.

Courthouse Closures: Impact on Travel Arrangements

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice, pursuant to AOW 8726/11-15, to detail the travel arrangements of court users broken down by (i) defendants; (ii) legal representatives; (iii) press; (iv) witnesses; (v) police; and (vi) other court users.
(AOW 9533/11-15)

Mr Ford: The travel arrangements of court users attending Magherafelt and Strabane Courthouses as collected on the day of the 2011 Exit Survey are set out in the following tables:-

Magherafelt

Occupy Belfast Movement: Investigations/Charges

Mr Weir asked the Minister of Justice how many members of the Occupy Belfast movement have been (i) charged with offences; and (ii) convicted of an offence.

(AQW 9714/11-15)

Mr Ford: The PSNI have no completed or ongoing investigations in relation to the Occupy Belfast Movement.

Drugs: Ocean Snow

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice whether he intends to introduce legislation to outlaw the sale, supply and possession of the 'legal high' Ocean Snow, given that it was found to contain the Class A drug p-methoxymethylamphetamine.

(AQW 9762/11-15)

Mr Ford: It is the substance or substances in a product that are illegal, not the product name itself. If the product is found to contain p-methoxymethylamphetamine (PMMA), which is a class A drug, it is already illegal and therefore no further legislation is required.

Department for Regional Development

Cars: For Sale on a Public Road

Mr Craig asked the Minister for Regional Development what action he is taking to address the issue of cars marked for sale being parked in public spaces.

(AQW 2812/11-15)

Mr Kennedy (The Minister for Regional Development): As Minister with responsibility for roads, your question has been passed to me to reply. My Department's Roads Service has advised that offering of cars for sale on a public road is unlawful and constitutes an offence under Article 90 of The Roads (Northern Ireland) Order 1993. Offenders shall be guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine.

While legal powers do exist, Roads Service's policy and procedures in relation to its response to the selling of vehicles along the road side are aimed at ensuring the safety of the public. Therefore, particular attention is given to matters concerning the obstructions of sightlines, footways etc. The objective of enforcement is not so much to secure convictions and impose penalties, as to remove the offending vehicle and or discourage other potential offenders.

Roads Service generally contacts car sellers on an informal basis and advises of the restrictions on offering vehicles for sale, as covered by the Roads Order. Such approaches are generally successful and it has not been necessary to divert any resources in pursuit of prosecution cases.

With regard to cars marked for sale being parked in public spaces my colleague, Nelson McCausland MLA, Minister for Social Development has advised that under the Street Trading Act (Northern Ireland) 2001, a person selling cars in a public place as a business is required to have a street trading licence issued by the district council in which the trading is taking place.

It is an offence for a person to engage in street trading without a licence issued by the council in which the trading is taking place, or to contravene the conditions of a licence in relation to the trading location or the days and times during which trading can take place. An authorised officer of a council or a police constable may seize goods and any receptacle or equipment being used in the course of the trading, and on summary conviction of any of the above offences, a court may impose a fine of up to £1000.

Cycle Lane: Beersbridge Road

Mr Agnew asked the Minister for Regional Development (i) why cars are permitted to park on the Beersbridge Road bicycle lane at all times except rush hour; (ii) for his assessment of the safety of cyclists using this bicycle lane when cars are parked along the route; (iii) why this bicycle lane begins and ends intermittently along the route; (iv) for his assessment of the value of this bicycle lane when cars are parked along the route; and (v) to outline any plans his Department has to prohibit cars from parking along this bicycle lane and to provide adequate car parking spaces elsewhere.

(AQW 9175/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: My Department's Roads Service has advised that the Beersbridge Road is subject to Clearway regulations, which prohibit parking during the morning and afternoon peak periods of traffic flow. Advisory cycle lanes are usually installed on roads with Clearway regulations, so that when traffic levels and the number of cyclists are at their highest, cyclists effectively have their own road space. This makes cycling safer, and at times of congestion, allows cyclists to make time savings over those using vehicular modes.

During times when traffic levels are at their lowest and the Clearway restrictions do not apply, it is legally permissible to park across cycle lanes. During these off-peak times, the levels of traffic and cyclists are at their lowest and it is therefore considered that cyclists can successfully share the remaining roads space. This arrangement is intended to provide the best balance between the needs of cyclists and the adjoining businesses/properties.

Whilst it would, in my view, be desirable to install a continuous cycle lane along Beersbridge Road, a balance has to be struck and the needs of all other road users, with the result that such an arrangement can be difficult to achieve. For example, the provision of a continuous cycle lane would have reduced the capacity of junctions and narrowed stretches of the Beersbridge Road, resulting in queues and delays, maybe up to twice those presently experienced.

The provision of a mandatory cycle lane, which would be marked by a solid white line, would provide a clear route for cyclists and would also restrict vehicles, subject to certain exceptions, from parking along the road. However, the introduction of waiting restrictions, or mandatory cycle lanes, can be a contentious issue and would generally lead to a displacement of parking, often to other locations that are less able to accommodate it, such as residential streets in the general vicinity. Therefore, Roads Service currently has no plans to further prohibit parking at the Beersbridge Road cycle lane, or to provide additional car parking spaces in this vicinity.

I can, however, advise that it remains Roads Service's intention to continue to implement, in so far as resources permit, the cycling infrastructure as set out in the Belfast Metropolitan Transport Plan (BMTP) and the Regional Transportation Strategy, which will complement the existing National Cycle Network.

Cycling: 'Building an Active Travel Future for Northern Ireland'

Mr Eastwood asked the Minister for Regional Development for his assessment of the consultation document 'Building an Active Travel Future for Northern Ireland'; and whether we should have an independent target to increase cycling by 5 percent by 2020. (AQW 9213/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: The draft Active Travel Strategy 'Building an Active Travel Future for Northern Ireland' aims to build upon the many programmes and initiatives that have already been successful – both in Northern Ireland and elsewhere. I want the Strategy, when agreed, to provide the foundations, over the longer term, to build a travel culture in which walking and cycling are seen as the natural choice for most of the journeys most of us make.

The public consultation on the draft Strategy ended on 9th March 2012. Informed by the views expressed by respondents, we are currently considering whether a specific target is required in respect of cycling. My Department will also draw up a detailed action plan to coordinate and monitor delivery and the impact of the actions through the current budget period, 2012 – 2015.

Hospitality: Spend

Mr Allister asked Minister for Regional Development, pursuant to AQW 8070/11-15, whether the figures provided include the Department's arm's-length bodies; and if not, to provide this information for each of the last five years. (AQW 9246/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: The response to AQW 8070/11-15 did not include the Department's arm's-length bodies. Expenditure on hospitality by the Department's arm's-length bodies, in each of the last five financial years, is provided below.

| Year | NITHC£'000 | NI Water£'000 | Total Cost£'000 |

* The NI Transport Holding Company (NITHC) is the parent company of Northern Ireland Railways, Metro and Ulsterbus all operating as Translink. Expenditure by the holding company is excluded as it transferred to a new accounting system in 2009/10, prior to which hospitality expenditure was not separately identifiable.

For completeness Translink has advised that there may also be occasions when executives and senior management provide working lunches at meetings which are paid for and claimed back through expenses. These come out of payroll and to extract such detail would involve disproportionate cost.

Newry River: Bridge Project

Ms Ruane asked the Minister for Regional Development for an update on his recent meetings with the Warrenpoint, Dundalk and Kilkeel Chambers of Commerce in relation to the Narrow Water Bridge Project. (AQW 9255/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: I can confirm that I met with representatives of the Warrenpoint, Dundalk and Kilkeel Chambers of Commerce on Monday 27 February 2012, with no officials present, when the Narrow Water Bridge project was discussed. Those attending the meeting confirmed their support for the bridge linking the Mourne and the Cooley Peninsula, describing its primary benefit as addressing the under-performance of the tourist industry in Northern Ireland and the Republic of Ireland.

I advised that, whilst I understood the benefits that the bridge might be expected to provide, I had responsibility for roads infrastructure and tourism did not fall within my remit. I also highlighted the substantial benefits the proposed Newry Southern Relief Road project would bring, if that scheme was progressed.

I confirmed that, I was not in a position to contribute any funds to the Narrow Water Bridge scheme. While I undertook to reflect on the detailed business case when it is provided, I also advised the delegation to ensure they made representations to other significant players in the Northern Ireland Executive.

Newry River: Bridge Project

Ms Ruane asked the Minister for Regional Development for an update on his recent meetings with Newry and Mourne District Council and Louth County Council in relation to the Narrow Water Bridge Project.

(AQW 9256/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: I can advise the Member that I met with a delegation from Newry and Mourne District Council and Louth County Council on Wednesday 22 February 2012 to discuss Narrow Water Bridge. I was advised that Planning Applications for the scheme, including a comprehensive Environmental Statement (Environmental Impact Statement), had been submitted in both jurisdictions.

The delegation advised the primary benefit of the bridge as enhancing the tourist potential of the area, particularly Cooley Peninsula and the Mourne. They also advised how it was envisaged the project's estimated cost of €17.369 million would be funded and confirmed that an application for EU Interreg funding had recently been submitted, with Louth County Council as the lead partner and having responsibility for the operation and maintenance of the bridge and associated costs.

I advised that, whilst I understood the benefits that the bridge might provide, I had responsibility for roads infrastructure and tourism did not fall within my remit. I also highlighted the substantial benefits the proposed Newry Southern Relief Road project would bring, if that scheme was progressed.

The delegation understood that as the proposed bridge did not improve or extend Northern Ireland's Strategic Road Network, it would therefore not attract a high priority compared to other schemes in my Department's current programme for road improvements.

I confirmed that I was not in a position to contribute any funds to the scheme. I undertook to reflect on the detailed business case when it became available and advised the delegation to ensure they made representations to other significant players in the Northern Ireland Executive.

A55: Knock Road Upgrade

Mr Lyttle asked the Minister for Regional Development for an update on the outcome of the public inquiry into the proposed A55 Knock Road upgrade.

(AQW 9321/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: My Department's Roads Service has advised that it has been considering the Inspector's report since March 2011. The report recommended that further detailed consideration be given to some engineering issues, however, this involved traffic surveys which could only be carried out during autumn 2011. Analysis of the information is now nearing completion.

My Department intends to release its response to the Inspector's recommendations by way of a Departmental Statement and the Inspector's report will be made available to the public at the same time.

It is intended to publish the Departmental Statement and the Inspector's report in spring 2012.

Cycling Strategy: Update

Mr Lyttle asked the Minister for Regional Development for an update on the Northern Ireland Cycling Strategy.

(AQW 9329/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: In the 2007 Northern Ireland Cycling Strategy it was suggested that an opportunity existed locally to integrate both cycling and walking in one Sustainable Transport Forum.

My Department, in keeping with its objective of supporting and promoting both cycling and walking, established an inter-sectoral Active Travel Forum which has tasked with providing recommendations for a draft Active Travel Strategy. A public consultation on the draft Strategy entitled 'Building an Active Travel Future for Northern Ireland' concluded on 9th March 2012. The Strategy aims to build upon earlier initiatives such as the Northern Ireland Cycling Strategy and develop a new travel culture in which walking and cycling are seen as the natural choice for most of the journeys most of us make.

Away-days and Team-building Exercises: Cost-effectiveness

Mr S Anderson asked the Minister for Regional Development how his Department assesses the cost-effectiveness of awaydays and team-building exercises.

(AQW 9343/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: In my Department, away-days and team building events are generally arranged to support effective business planning and team working and in some cases involve working with a charity as part of a wider volunteering initiative.

Evaluations of interventions of this nature show that team events facilitate focussed and productive working and help enhance team effectiveness through improved communication, leadership and staff morale.

Parking: Enforcement

Mr Flanagan asked the Minister for Regional Development when the current contract with NSL is due to expire; and whether a decision has been made to continue with a similar scheme after this date.

(AQW 9353/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: My Department's Roads Service has advised that the current parking enforcement and car-park management services contract with NSL Services Group will expire in October 2012.

In order to ensure that services continue to be provided after that date, Roads Service is currently engaged with the Department of Finance and Personnel's Central Procurement Directorate, in a competitive tendering procurement project.

Ballymena Bus Station: Booking Office

Mr Allister asked the Minister for Regional Development how much it cost Translink to alter the Booking Office counter at the Ballymena bus station; and what use will be made of it in the future.

(AQW 9448/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: Translink advise that works to revise ticket counter facilities at Ballymena bus station cost £6,118.

The alterations to the booking office counter at Ballymena Bus Station were part of the Disability Discrimination Act (DDA) Project work which was carried out at all Translink operational locations. These works replaced an old counter which did not comply with DDA guidance. The new counter will allow less able bodied people to access all Translink services provided at 'Tickets and Information' in future.

Buses: North Down

Mr Weir asked the Minister for Regional Development how much his Department plans to invest in new buses for the North Down area over the next three years.

(AQW 9477/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: Translink has advised that it has no specific plans to invest in new buses for the North Down area over the next three years.

The possibility of providing funding for Translink's overall Bus Replacement Programme will be kept under review. Additional funding may become available during the period of the budget.

Department for Social Development

Capital Building Programme

Mr Easton asked the Minister for Social Development to detail his Department's planned major capital building programmes in each of the next three years.

(AQW 8052/11-15)

Mr McCausland (The Minister for Social Development): The table below provides details of my Department's planned major capital building programmes in each of the next three years.

|                         | 2012 - 13£k | 2013 - 14£k | 2014 - 15£k |

Double Glazing: Benefits

Mr Agnew asked the Minister for Social Development for his assessment of the benefits of double glazing a house which does not have cavity wall insulation.

(AQW 9064/11-15)

Mr McCausland: The installation of cavity wall insulation provides an excellent investment for any home. It is the Housing Executive's policy to insulate empty cavity walls, most of which were carried out before 1990, although a small number may not have been insulated where a tenant refused permission or where the construction is of single skin. The benefits from double glazing a house are better if the house has already had cavity wall insulation installed or where single skin walls have external wall insulation. Energy efficient double glazing keeps a home warmer and quieter as well as reducing energy bills, lowering carbon emissions and improving comfort levels by reducing drafts and condensation. Actual costs and savings will differ depending upon dwelling type, size of window and materials used. The most commonly used material is uPVC which is long lasting and can be recycled. I have therefore ensured that the Programme for Government has as a priority to improve the thermal efficiency of Housing Executive stock and ensure full double glazing in its properties.

Jobs and Benefits Offices: Staffing

Mr Durkan asked the Minister for Social Development whether all staff who offer face-to-face advice in Jobs and Benefits Offices will retain their posts, given the problems that might be encountered by claimants as a result of the proposed Welfare Reform changes and the likely increase in the demand for advice.

(AQW 9173/11-15)

Mr McCausland: The Social Security Agency is currently working with relevant impacted government organisations to consider how best to deliver a range of services through Jobs and Benefits offices as a result of the changes brought about by the reform of the welfare system.

Central to the planning for each of these changes is the need to ensure that customers continue to have access to the necessary advice and support channels they will need as these changes are introduced. This includes ensuring the right number of staff, with the right skills, in the right places to help meet the needs of our customers.

Work is also underway to consider the organisational and staffing considerations for each of these reform initiatives. Whilst it is too soon to determine the staffing requirement in detail, I can confirm that I remain committed to face to face services as one part of the benefit service which will be available following implementation of the changes proposed under Welfare Reform.

Alcohol Promotions

Mrs Overend asked the Minister for Social Development what plans he has in relation to his commitment to tackle the limiting of alcohol promotions.

(AQW 9271/11-15)

Mr McCausland: As Minister responsible for Liquor Licensing I have been concerned for some time about how alcohol is promoted and marketed and in particular promotions involving very cheap alcohol. The Licensing and Registration of Clubs (Amendment) Act (Northern Ireland) 2011 gave my Department the powers to ban irresponsible drink promotions. Therefore, I have decided to make regulations to ban irresponsible alcohol promotions such as, "All you can drink for £20" and supermarkets offering 8 bottles of beer/cider for the price of 6. A public consultation was launched on 12 March on the detail of these regulations.

My Department is currently working with various drinks trade representatives on developing a code of practice which seeks to promote best practice and to prevent alcohol being irresponsibly promoted, served or sold. The code will seek to end irresponsible promotions which encourage excessive consumption of alcohol, such as serving alcohol in large measures, promotions encouraging specific groups to drink for free or at a discount, "Half price drinks for under 25s", discount night for students, "Buy one get one free".

I intend to make compliance with the code a condition of holding a liquor licence.

Gnangara, Enniskillen: Housing Executive Referrals

Mr Flanagan asked the Minister for Social Development to detail the number of referrals to Gnangara, Enniskillen, since its opening, which were made by (i) self or family; (ii) care management; (iii) Community Social Work Teams; (iv) other elements of the Health Service; and (v) the Housing Executive.

(AQW 9293/11-15)

Mr McCausland: The information is not available in the format requested. However, Fold Group has advised me that referrals to Gnangara, Enniskillen were as follows;

- one person self referred for supported accommodation;
- 17 referrals were made by Care Management /Community Social Work Teams
- three referrals for the supported accommodation bungalows have been received through Western Health and Social Care Trust Community Teams / Care Management and,
- there have been no direct referrals from the Housing Executive

Fuel Poverty: St Vincent de Paul Society

Mr Flanagan asked the Minister for Social Development (i) to outline the role that Saint Vincent de Paul plays in tackling fuel poverty; (ii) for his assessment of its contribution to tackling fuel poverty; and (iii) how his Department intends to work with charitable organisations, such as Saint Vincent de Paul, to ensure that resources are best targeted to meet objective need.

(AQW 9295/11-15)

Mr McCausland: The Department for Social Development's new Fuel Poverty Strategy "Warmer Healthier Homes" gave a commitment to build partnerships to tackle fuel poverty and to work with partners to promote Oil Stamp Savings Schemes. Saint Vincent de Paul played a key role in the Fuel Poverty Advisory Group working in partnership with other government departments and colleagues from the voluntary sector. The Society also played a leading role in the development of Oil Stamp Saving Schemes. In relation to the question relating to working with charitable organisations the Department for Social Development has supported and will continue to support many charitable organisations in the Voluntary and Community sector through a range of funding programmes.

Energy Assessors: Funding

Mr Flanagan asked the Minister for Social Development what consideration his Department has given to funding energy assessors to examine domestic or commercial properties, to identify energy inefficiencies and save consumers money.

(AQW 9315/11-15)

Mr McCausland: Improving domestic energy efficiency is a key part of my Department's new Fuel Poverty strategy "Warmer Healthier Homes" which was launched in April 2011. The strategy is to take forward a pilot area based approach to tackling fuel poverty and this pilot scheme is due to commence later this year. I expect the pilot scheme to include an assessment of the energy efficiency of each home in the target areas and this will be carried out by a trained energy assessor.

On the commercial side, Invest NI can provide project management support which can include for example the assessment of energy, water and materials use with a view to identifying and prioritising projects that will reduce the cost of consumption. Invest NI also provides funding for an interest free Energy Efficiency Loan Fund managed and operated by the Carbon Trust. This fund provides unsecured business loans from £3,000 to £400,000 to help Northern Ireland businesses purchase energy saving equipment. The anticipated energy savings accrued in any particular project funded through the loan fund provide the means to repay the loan. Since the launch of the fund in 2003 over £18 million in interest free loans have been offered to over 330 Northern Ireland businesses, and leveraged an additional £20 million of private sector investment.

Crisis Loans: Criteria

Mr Swann asked the Minister for Social Development to detail the criteria used when considering an application for a crisis loan.

(AQW 9322/11-15)

Mr McCausland: If a person needs financial help with an emergency or disaster they may be able to get a crisis loan. The loans are decided on an individual basis and will have to be paid back, but are not subject to interest charges. The criteria used when considering an application for a crisis loan are – the person must: be aged 16 or over; not have enough money to meet their (or their family's) immediate short term needs in an emergency or as the result of a disaster; and without the loan there will be a serious damage or risk to their (or their family's) health or safety.

Social Housing: Bungalows

Mr Swann asked the Minister for Social Development to detail the number of social housing bungalows with (i) 1; and (ii) 2 bedrooms, broken down by council area.

(AQW 9323/11-15)

Mr McCausland: The information is not available in the format requested as the Housing Executive does not routinely collate these details by district council area. However, table 1 below details the number of Housing Executive bungalows with one or two bedrooms, by District Office area: -

Compensation Recovery Unit: Legal Aid

Mr Agnew asked the Minister for Social Development how much public money has been recouped by the Compensation Recovery Unit from cases where the plaintiff was in receipt of legal aid, in each of the last ten years.

(AQW 9327/11-15)

Mr McCausland: The Compensation Recovery Unit are not informed if legal aid has been applied for therefore this information is not held on any Department for Social Development Systems and cannot be obtained.

Rural Poverty

Mr Moutray asked the Minister for Social Development, pursuant to AQW 7987 11-15, why figures are not available for the total number of individuals in the Rural East area who are living in relative low income.

(AQW 9345/11-15)

Mr McCausland: The total number of individuals in the Rural East who are living in relative low income is not available for 2008/09 due to small sample sizes. The relative low income figures are produced from the Family Resources Survey, which has a sample size of around 1900 households. This sample size is sufficient to allow overall Northern Ireland analysis, but when broken down into smaller geographical areas, some areas may not have sufficient samples to allow us to produce meaningful results for total numbers in low income.

During the year 2008/09 the number and percentage of individuals living below the relative poverty line for rural areas is presented in Table 1. The results are produced using the Family Resources Survey datasets for Northern Ireland, and the Urban Rural Report for Northern Ireland.

Housing Executive: Kitchen Replacement Schemes

Mr Moutray asked the Minister for Social Development, pursuant to AQO 1327/11-15, to detail the level of investment in each of the kitchen replacement schemes planned for the (i) Craigavon; and (ii) Banbridge areas.

(AQW 9346/11-15)

Mr McCausland: The tables below provide details of the level of investment in kitchen replacement schemes planned by the Northern Ireland Housing Executive for the Craigavon and Banbridge areas.

Table 1 shows planned investment in kitchen replacement schemes in Craigavon

| Craigavon                   | Estimated Cost |

| Reilly Street, Banbridge   | £434,000       |

All schemes are dependent on available finance.

Regional Infrastructure Programme: Publicity

Mr Durkan asked the Minister for Social Development what action his Department has taken to advertise the Regional Infrastructure Programme.

(AQW 9367/11-15)

Mr McCausland: Following a review of the Regional Infrastructure Programme, new arrangements to support the voluntary and community sector (VCS) at a regional level across Northern Ireland are due to go live in October 2012.

To publicise this change I can confirm that adverts were placed in the Belfast Telegraph, Irish News and News Letter on 8 February 2012 seeking expressions of interest for a strategic partner from the VCS to deliver the new Regional Infrastructure Support Programme (RISP) aimed at providing generic support to the sector.

Adverts in respect of regional thematic support for faith sector engagement, voluntary generalist advice and women in disadvantaged areas were placed in Belfast Telegraph, Irish News and News Letter on 15 February.

A further advert in respect of regional support for volunteering will be placed in the Belfast Telegraph, Irish News and News Letter on Thursday 15 March.

Housing Benefit: Payment

Mr Wells asked the Minister for Social Development why the Housing Executive continues to pay Housing Benefit directly to landlords who have not provided a Tenancy Agreement or a rent book to their tenants.

(AQW 9376/11-15)

Mr McCausland: The payment of Housing Benefit requires confirmation of a liability on the part of the tenant to make payments to his/her landlord. The manner in which this confirmation is determined is not specified in the Housing Benefit legislation. The normal method of doing this is by way of a Certificate of Occupation completed by the landlord and a further section of the application form completed by the tenant. In some cases, the provision of a copy of the tenancy agreement and rent book is an acceptable alternative but not a requirement under the regulations. In the majority of cases, the Housing Executive would not be aware of whether or not such documents have been provided by the landlord and consequently, this would not be a factor in the decision on the payment of Housing Benefit.

For the Housing Executive to withhold payment to a landlord, it would need to determine that the landlord is not a "fit and proper" person to receive payments of Housing Benefit. To establish that this is the case, it would be necessary to show that the landlord has engaged in undesirable activity in relation to Housing Benefit, for example, a refusal to repay an overpayment or confirmed fraudulent activity. Whether or not a landlord has complied with the terms of the Private Tenancies (Northern Ireland) Order 2006, (which covers the issuing of a tenancy agreement and rent book) is not something that can be taken into account in arriving at such a determination. Responsibility for the enforcement of the terms and conditions of the Private Tenancies (Northern Ireland) Order 2006 rests with District Councils and not the Housing Executive.

Social Housing: Strabane

Ms Boyle asked the Minister for Social Development what steps he is taking to provide additional social housing in the Strabane District Council area to address the need as evidenced by the increase in waiting list applicants from 551 in June 2010 to 652 in June 2011, and the increase in the number of applicants in housing stress from 194 in June 2010 to 240 in June 2011.

(AQW 9382/11-15)

Mr McCausland: In Strabane, the majority of newly arising need for social housing is met through re lets of existing stock. I am however awaiting a complete version of the draft 3 year new build programme and as part of the approval process I will further interrogate the figures to make sure that housing need in Strabane, as well as every other part of Northern Ireland, is being adequately addressed.

Housing Executive Properties: Bangor

Mr Agnew asked the Minister for Social Development (i) pursuant to AQW 86/11-15 and AQW 201/11-15, what is the asset value of (a) the 12 Housing Executive flats in Rathgill Park, Bangor; and (b) the pensioner bungalows in the Bloomfield Estate, Bangor, which require multi-element improvements and are being considered for transfer to a housing association; and (ii) what was the asset value, at the time of transfer, of the 55 houses in Rinmore, Co Londonderry that were transferred from the Housing Executive to Apex Housing.

(AQW 9403/11-15)

Mr McCausland: I can confirm that the flats in Rathgill Park and the bungalows in Bloomfield Estate were last valued on 31 March 2011. Their values at that time were as follows:

- Rathgill Park flats in Bangor were valued at approximately £376,200;
- The bungalows in the Bloomfield Estate were valued at £2,023,500;
- The asset value of the 55 properties at Rinmore, Co Londonderry was £2,334,306 and the date of transfer to Apex Housing was 31 October 2011.

Welfare Reform: Communications

Mr Lunn asked the Minister for Social Development what plans his Department has to revise its communications strategy to take account of the need to inform people more effectively about the upcoming changes to the welfare system.

(AQW 9406/11-15)

Mr McCausland: My Department recognises how important it is to inform people about the upcoming changes to the welfare system. A Welfare Reform Stakeholder Engagement and Communications Strategy has been developed which includes a Communications Plan, the aim of which is to send clear, timely and relevant messages to all of those people that may be affected by upcoming changes to the welfare system. This strategy is being kept under review to ensure that the messages which are being conveyed are targeted at the right people and that appropriate messages are being issued on the changes to the welfare system.

Welfare Reform: Advice

Mr Lunn asked the Minister for Social Development what discussions he or his officials have had with advice organisations about the upcoming changes to the welfare system.

(AQW 9407/11-15)

Mr McCausland: My Department has, to date, engaged with in excess of 80 organisations (including advice organisations), through a range of activities such as workshops, project led presentations and speeches, regarding all aspects of the changes to the welfare system. This dialogue has been both general and specific in nature and in all cases has been tailored to the needs of the particular audience.

My Department has in place a Communications plan for Welfare Reform which outlines ongoing engagement activities with advice organisations throughout the passage of the Northern Ireland Welfare Reform Bill through the Assembly. This plan will be kept under constant review to ensure communication activities remain timely and relevant.

Welfare Reform: Preparedness

Mr Lunn asked the Minister for Social Development to provide information on the preparedness of third sector organisations, with offices on Northern Ireland, for the upcoming changes to the welfare system.

(AQW 9408/11-15)

Mr McCausland: I cannot comment on the preparedness of third sector organisations that have offices in Northern Ireland for the upcoming changes to the welfare system. However, I can affirm my Department's commitment to stakeholder engagement (AQW 9407/11-15 refers), the aim of which is to send clear, timely and relevant messages to people that may be affected by the upcoming changes to the welfare system and to organisations who provide advice on welfare services.

Portadown Gateway Sites

Mrs D Kelly asked the Minister for Social Development, pursuant to AQW 8455/11-15 (i) to detail the infrastructure improvements required in Portadown to allow a development brief to be issued; and (ii) to outline the timeframe and methodology for the completion of the infrastructure projects.

(AQW 9510/11-15)

Mr McCausland: My Department appointed consultants in June 2010 to undertake a viability study on issuing a development brief for the Portadown Gateway sites. The study concluded that proposals to develop the more attractive sites, primarily publicly owned car parks, would be likely to trigger the need for substantial infrastructure improvements as a condition of securing planning permission.

- (i) The main infrastructure improvements identified were for improved access at West Street on to the Northway and the strengthening of the Shillington Bridge. In addition, the need to replace existing car park provision and supplement that proposed for additional developments would need to be addressed, potentially in a multi-storey facility.
- (ii) Currently, the infrastructure improvements do not appear on any government programme of work. DSD are working closely with Craigavon Borough Council to explore new mechanisms, such as Accelerated Development Zones, which might help to deliver the required infrastructure improvements. Workshops to explore the potential of this approach have been arranged for April 2012.

Housing Executive: Vacant Properties

Mr Lyttle asked the Minister for Social Development whether he has considered the creation of a scheme to bring empty homes back into use, similar to the UK Empty Homes Scheme.

(AQW 9530/11-15)

Mr McCausland: There is no single scheme for dealing with empty homes in the UK. In Great Britain each jurisdiction and indeed each local authority area uses a variety of interventions, ranging from advice and guidance, through innovative leasing arrangements, to enforcement action, to bring homes back into use and to stop empty houses becoming sources of blight.

The reasons empty homes are left vacant are varied and sometimes complex. However, I am determined that in Northern Ireland all possible interventions are tested so that those that work best can be put into practice. This will ensure that any scope to bring empty homes back into use is maximised.

I have therefore tasked the Northern Ireland Housing Executive to test the effectiveness and cost of various interventions in two pilot areas in Belfast.

The results from the pilots will inform a revised empty homes action plan for Northern Ireland.

Housing Executive: Ministerial Meetings

Ms Ritchie asked the Minister for Social Development how many times he has met with the Board of the Housing Executive since May 2011; and what subjects were discussed.

(AQW 9536/11-15)

Mr McCausland: Whilst I have met the Chairman and other individual members of the Board at various meetings, I have formally met the Board of the Housing Executive once on the 29 February 2012 about the fundamental review of the NIHE and my housing priorities.

Welfare Reform Bill: EQIA

Mrs D Kelly asked the Minister for Social Development whether his Department has carried out an impact assessment on the proposals contained within the Welfare Reform Bill; and if so, to detail the outcome for each constituency.

(AQW 9561/11-15)

Mr McCausland: Section 75 of the Northern Ireland Act 1998 (the 1998 Act) requires Government Departments to promote equality of opportunity. In order to comply with this requirement and in accordance with Schedule 9 to the 1998 Act my Department carried out an Equality Impact Assessment of the proposals contained in the draft Welfare Reform Bill and issued the findings for consultation on 5 September 2011.

The responses to the consultation are currently subject to Departmental consideration and a completed Equality Impact Assessment will be issued prior to the introduction of the Bill.

Data is not collected on a constituency basis.

Social Housing Development Programme 2011-15

Mr Durkan asked the Minister for Social Development for an update on the Social Housing Development Programme 2011-15.

(AQW 9680/11-15)

Mr McCausland: While I am now in receipt of a draft Social Housing Development Programme I am disappointed it remains incomplete and is simply not yet approvable. This is unacceptable and I have advised the Housing Executive of this.

Further meetings have been arranged and I remain hopeful of publishing the new 3 year programme in April/May, subject to the Housing Executive completing the necessary work to allow me to make a proper assessment.

Employment and Support Allowance: Foyle Claimants

Mr Durkan asked the Minister for Social Development how many Employment and Support Allowance claimants in the Foyle constituency have appealed against a decision made as a result of a Work Capability Assessment in the last six months.

(AQW 9681/11-15)

Mr McCausland: The information requested is not available by Parliamentary constituency.

Northern Ireland Assembly Commission

Assembly Chamber: Use of Laptops

Mr McKay asked the Assembly Commission whether laptops can now be accommodated in the Assembly Chamber.

(AQW 9141/11-15)

Mr McElduff (The Representative of the Assembly Commission): All desks used by MLAs in the Assembly Chamber are fitted with electrical sockets which could allow laptops to be powered during plenary meetings. However, the Committee on Procedures is currently considering the use of electronic devices in the Chamber. If it is recommended that laptops may be used in the Chamber, the IS Office will consider how best to facilitate such use.

MLA Salaries

Mr Beggs asked the Assembly Commission whether a salary is paid to an MLA who receives an MP's salary; and whether any Member, who is also an MP has declined the MLA salary.

(AQW 9830/11-15)

Mr Weir (The Representative of the Assembly Commission): Provision for Members' salaries is contained in the Northern Ireland Assembly (Members' Salaries) Determination 2000 and is subject to the provisions of section 47 of the Northern Ireland Act 1998 (as amended). If an MLA receives a salary as an MP, no salary as a Member of the Assembly is payable. Any salary payable to the MLA by virtue of holding an Office within the Assembly (for example, a Minister or Chairperson of a Committee) remains in payment.

From 1 April 2012, Members' salaries will be paid in accordance with the Northern Ireland Assembly Members' Salaries, Allowances, Expenses and Pensions Determination as issued by the Independent Financial Review Panel. The provisions of the 2012 Determination mirror those in place under the 2000 Determination.

Given that no salary as a Member is payable to an MLA who is also an MP, such a Member is not in a position to decline his or her MLA salary.

Written Answers to Questions

Office of the First Minister and deputy First Minister

Play and Leisure Policy: Funding

Mrs Overend asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister to detail the funding that is available for the implementation of the Play and Leisure Policy.

(AQW 6818/11-15)

Mr P Robinson and Mr M McGuinness (The First Minister and deputy First Minister): A total of £1.5m is available in the 2012-13 financial year for activities related to children and young people, including implementation of the Play and Leisure Policy.

Officials are currently developing and costing options for delivery of our children and young people commitments, including actions for which OFMDFM is responsible under the Play and Leisure Implementation Plan. The outcome of this will dictate the how the available resources are distributed between children and young people priorities, including Play and Leisure.

Sexual Orientation/Gender Identity: Discrimination

Mr Eastwood asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister, in light of the UK Government's pledge to combat discrimination on the grounds of sexual orientation and gender identity, what consideration they have given to improving conditions for young lesbian, gay, bisexual, and transgender people, with particular focus on (i) eradicating homophobic bullying in schools; and (ii) improving the delivery of sexual health and relationship information within schools.

(AQW 9233/11-15)

Mr P Robinson and Mr M McGuinness: We will publish the draft Sexual Orientation Strategy and Action Plan for consultation later this year.

We understand that the Department of Education has issued Circular 2010/01 advising schools to take account of guidance produced by the Equality Commission on "Eliminating Sexual Orientation Discrimination in Northern Ireland".

We are aware of a range of concerns which transgender people wish to see addressed.

Northern Ireland Judicial Appointments Commission: Lay Members

Mr Weir asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister what remuneration Lay Members of the Northern Ireland Judicial Appointments Commission receive.

(AQW 9491/11-15)

Mr P Robinson and Mr M McGuinness: Lay members receive a daily rate of £294. This is a non-pensionable position.

Woodland: UK Forestry Standard

Ms Lo asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister whether all the bodies or organisations within their Department's remit which own woodland are compliant with the UK Forestry Standard, including their Department, any arm's-length body and any organisation to which their Department provides grant aid.

(AQW 9496/11-15)

Mr P Robinson and Mr M McGuinness: The UK Forestry Standard defines a forest or woodland as trees with canopy cover of at least 20 percent. Tree canopy cover on the regeneration sites owned by OFMDFM does not exceed this limit, and as a consequence, the UK Forestry Standard does not apply to OFMDFM regeneration land.

However as owner of several key regeneration sites, our Department complies with a range of ecology and biodiversity legislation. In addition, all OFMDFM regeneration sites land will be regenerated in line with the Executive's agreed strategy for sustainable development, "Everyone's Involved", which was published in 2011. A copy of the sustainable development strategy can be found at: www.ofmdfmi.gov.uk/sustainable-development-strategy-lowres\_\_2\_.pdf.

Police Ombudsman: Appointment Process

Mr Copeland asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister to detail the appointment process for the current Police Ombudsman.

(AQW 9701/11-15)

Mr P Robinson and Mr M McGuinness: The outgoing Police Ombudsman was appointed on the recommendation of the Secretary of State in 2007, under arrangements which applied before devolution of policing and justice responsibilities. We now have statutory responsibility for recommending a person for appointment.

The process for appointing a new Police Ombudsman is being conducted in accordance with the principles and procedures contained in the Code of Practice of the Commissioner for Public Appointments and is subject to regulation and audit by the Commissioner. The post was widely advertised in December 2011 and an appointment panel, chaired by the Head of the Civil Service, interviewed twelve eligible candidates in February/March. We have since met with a number of candidates considered suitable for appointment by the panel.

Police Ombudsman: Appointment Process

Mr Copeland asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister (i) how candidates were assessed for the role of Police Ombudsman; and (ii) for their assessment of the suitability of candidates who applied for the post.

(AQW 9702/11-15)

Mr P Robinson and Mr M McGuinness: The process of appointing a new Police Ombudsman is ongoing, and the successful candidate will be selected on merit, based on the requirements of the post. An appointment panel has considered over 30 applications and interviewed twelve eligible candidates, conducting its assessment against the defined competences for appointment, which were agreed by us and detailed in the information provided to candidates.

Police Ombudsman: Appointment Process

Mr Allister asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister what were the travel costs and associated costs of interviewees for the post of Police Ombudsman.

(AQW 9747/11-15)

Mr P Robinson and Mr M McGuinness: The Police Ombudsman position is a key element in the policing architecture. The post was advertised widely in the press in December 2011 with the aim of attracting high calibre candidates at local, national and international level. Those candidates travelling to interview were eligible for reimbursement of economy travel, subsistence and, in the case of overseas candidates, overnight accommodation costs incurred as appropriate at rates agreed in advance with officials administering the process. To date, these costs have amounted to approximately £4,010. Exchange rate variations may impact slightly on the final outturn of this figure.

Police Ombudsman: Appointment Process

Mr Allister asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister why the independent assessor on the interview panel for the short-listing of applicants for the post of Police Ombudsman was a voting member of the panel.

(AQW 9748/11-15)

Mr P Robinson and Mr M McGuinness: The process for appointing the Police Ombudsman for Northern Ireland is being conducted in accordance with the principles and procedures contained in the Code of Practice of the Commissioner for Public Appointments and is subject to regulation and audit by the Commissioner. The Code requires that all public appointments must include a demonstrable element of independent participation in the assessment of applicants. At the outset of the process, the Commissioner appointed an independent assessor to serve as a full participating member of the selection panel during sift and interview stages. Independent assessors are allocated by the Commissioner from a pool of trained individuals managed by the Commissioner's office with the expectation that the assessor will play a full, visible and active part in a public appointment process.

Jurisdictional Position: Lough Foyle and Carlingford Lough

Mr Allister asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister, pursuant to AQW 9135/11-15, what is the current jurisdictional position of Carlingford Lough and Lough Foyle,

(AQW 9749/11-15)

Mr P Robinson and Mr M McGuinness: Any articulation of the jurisdictional position of both Loughs is a matter for the UK and Irish Governments.

Antisocial Behaviour

Mr Eastwood asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister (i) why the Programme for Government commitment to improve community safety is only articulated through a focus on anti-social behaviour; and (ii) why this is only assigned to the Department of Justice to take forward, given that early intervention and family support are essential in improving community safety.

(AQW 9776/11-15)

Mr P Robinson and Mr M McGuinness: The Programme for Government (PFG) has a clear priority to “Protect Our People, the Environment and Creating Safer Communities” and emphasises the inter-relationships between all priorities in the document and the need for collaboration in and beyond Government to deliver outcomes. Our work to improve community safety goes far beyond the single commitment to addressing anti-social behaviour.

For example, in Priority 3, there are a range of commitments including reducing the level of serious crime, and tackling crime against older and vulnerable people. Taken together, this range of measures will empower communities, and reduce the incidence and the fear of criminal and anti-social behaviour.

In addition, in Priority 2, among the relevant measures are the commitments to invest £40 million to improve pathways to employment, tackle systemic issues relating to deprivation, increase community services and implement a £13 million package to tackle rural poverty and social and economic isolation. All of these will contribute to the creation of safer communities.

While a lead Department has been assigned to each commitment, this does not mean working in isolation. The PFG is predicated on an expectation that departments will work together to achieve its outcomes.

Investment Zones: Derry/Londonderry/Greater North-west

Mr Eastwood asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister whether Derry will be regarded as an Investment Zone under the Social Investment Fund, or will it be included as part of the Greater North West Investment Zone.

(AQW 9809/11-15)

Mr P Robinson and Mr M McGuinness: A number of potential zones, which included Derry/Londonderry and the Greater North West as potentially one or two separate zones, were proposed in the consultation document.

Having had an opportunity to consider the consultation responses, we recognise that the geographical spread of the zones has been one of the issues which received the most comment and on which people had raised key concerns.

Whilst decisions have not yet been taken in respect of the final location of the Zones, including whether Derry/Londonderry will be a zone, we can assure you that, in light of the consultation responses, we are giving careful consideration to this aspect of the Fund.

We hope to have the Fund operational as early as possible this year.

Department of Agriculture and Rural Development

Hospitality: Spend

Mr Allister asked Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development, pursuant to AQW 6317/11-15, whether the figures provided include the Department's arm's-length bodies; and if not, to provide this information for each of the last five years.

(AQW 9247/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill (The Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development): Details of hospitality spend provided in response to AQW 6317/11-15 included figures relating to the Department's two Non-Executive Non Departmental Public Bodies (NDPBs), the Agricultural Wages Board and Drainage Council. The response did not include information relating to the Department's other Arms Length bodies;

Executive NDPBs:

- Agri-Food and Biosciences Institute
- NI Fisheries and Harbour Authority
- Livestock and Meat Commission for NI

North/South Body:

- Foyle Carlingford and Irish Lights Commission (Loughs Agency)
- Hospitality costs for these Arms Length Bodies in each of the last 5 years were:

|         |         |
|---------|---------|
| 2006/07 | £9,895  |
| 2007/08 | £28,552 |
| 2008/09 | £19,959 |
| 2009/10 | £9,310  |
| 2010/11 | £8,720  |

We have been unable to include figures for the Livestock and Meat Commission (LMC) for Northern Ireland. The LMC maintains records of hospitality expenditure, in relation to each specific work areas which provide hospitality in the course of their business activity and is not collated as an overall figure.

To collate these figures over the last five years would place a significant pressure on the small number of staff in the organisation and would not be possible within the required timeframe.

Single Farm Payment: Average Amount

Mrs D Kelly asked Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development to detail the average Single Farm Payment, per hectare, broken down by county.

(AQW 9420/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: As my Department is continuing to process claims to Single Farm Payment for the 2011 Scheme year, I will use information relating to the 2010 year in order to provide the most complete figure. During the 2010 scheme year 38,421 farm businesses submitted applications to the Single Farm Payment Scheme activating 965,963 eligible hectares of land for payment. The aggregate gross value of Single Farm Payments Entitlements activated and eligible for payment in 2010 amounted to £268,508,753, resulting in an average SFP payment of £277.96 per hectare. As SFP is not directly linked to individual field parcels it is not possible to provide information in respect of the amount of SFP attributed to field parcels on a county basis.

Single Farm Payment: CAP Impact

Mrs D Kelly asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development what modelling her Department has carried out on Single Farm Payments in advance of the Common Agricultural Policy proposals for post 2014.

(AQW 9421/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: Analysis of the potential impacts of the legislative proposals for reform of the Common Agricultural Policy is an important consideration when establishing a response and negotiating position. I have been able to draw on work done by my economists, which was made available to all in the recent consultation document on CAP reform and presented at a stakeholder conference held on 7 December 2011 at Greenmount and at various other stakeholder events since then.

I have also been able to draw on previous economic modelling work carried out by the Agri-Food and Biosciences Institute in conjunction with the Food and Agricultural Policy Research Institute of the University of Missouri (known as the FAPRI Project). The FAPRI team has been asked to analyse the market impact of the current proposals and the results are expected to be available later in the summer.

Further analysis as necessary will be undertaken as the negotiations evolve and, of course, will form an important part of the stakeholder engagement process when decisions have to be taken at a local level on the implementation options that will be available to us under the eventual reform agreement.

Single Farm Payment: Small Farmers

Mrs D Kelly asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development, for each county, to detail (i) the number of small farmers; and (ii) the average Single Farm Payment for small farmers.

(AQW 9422/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: At present, for the purposes of the Single Farm Payment Scheme, there is no definition as to what would constitute a small farmer. Therefore, while it is possible to provide a breakdown of current claims by amount paid or number of entitlements activated, it would not be possible to categorise these into the particular category of small farmers given that this is not defined.

Under the CAP reform proposals, a Small Farmers Scheme has been suggested. Farmers participating in this scheme would receive a single payment, the value of which would be set by Member States according to certain criteria subject to a minimum of €500 and maximum of €1,000. This single payment would replace all other payments that they would otherwise receive under CAP Pillar 1. In theory all farmers could apply to this scheme but only those who would otherwise receive similar or lower amounts compared to the Small Farmers Scheme payment would be likely to do so. Further detail on this scheme and the impact on the north of Ireland is included in the Department's consultation document on the CAP Reform proposals.

Rural Development Programme: Administrative Costs

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development, pursuant to AQW 8570/11-15, to provide a breakdown of how much each cluster has spent on administering the programme.

(AQW 9443/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: I would refer you to the table that formed part of my response to AQW 8570/11-15 and repeated below. The administrative spend is clearly shown under the column heading 'Admin Spend'.

| Cluster | Allocation | Project Spend | Admin Spend |
|---------|------------|---------------|-------------|
| GROW    | 8,890,899  | 1,480,765     | 579,973     |
| NER     | 13,181,300 | 2,198,665     | 962,112     |
| LRP     | 8,691,556  | 872,406       | 689,283     |

| Cluster      | Allocation        | Project Spend     | Admin Spend      |
|--------------|-------------------|-------------------|------------------|
| DRAP         | 13,498,066        | 1,665,270         | 921,019          |
| SOAR         | 16,731,839        | 1,775,988         | 1,256,558        |
| ARC          | 18,484,112        | 2,659,993         | 1,389,390        |
| SWARD        | 20,522,227        | 3,379,960         | 1,646,689        |
| Total | 99,999,999 | 14,033,047 | 7,445,024 |

Farming Community: Financial Assistance

Mr Frew asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development what financial assistance is available to assist the farming community to (i) advertise sales in the agricultural press in Scotland, Wales, England and the Republic of Ireland; (ii) provide transport for purchased stock; and (iii) provide transport for potential buyers from airports and ports.

(AQW 9454/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: The Department of Agriculture does not provide financial assistance to advertise sales in the agricultural press, provide transport for purchased stock or for potential buyers from airports and ports.

Support is however available for groups of farmers through the Supply Chain Development Programme to investigate new market opportunities and improve existing marketing arrangements. The programme is part of the NI Rural Development Programme and is managed by Countryside Agri-Rural Partnership.

Breeders: Genetics, Nutrition and Health Updates

Mr Frew asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development what support and information her Department gives to update breeders about genetics, nutrition and health matters.

(AQW 9457/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: My Department, through the College of Agriculture, Food and Rural Enterprise (CAFRE), is providing support to breeders through industry training and knowledge and technology transfer (KTT) programmes. These programmes are underpinned by the DARD directed AFBI research work programme, which is worth approximately £8 million per annum.

For the 2011-12 year to date, almost 4000 farmers representing the beef, sheep, dairying, pigs and equine sectors have participated in training and KTT events to help them improve their skills and to be updated on the latest technological developments in relation to genetics, nutrition and health issues. CAFRE also provides extensive information in support of these programmes and publishes it in the farming and local press and on the www.ruralni.gov.uk website.

Rural Development Programme: Measure 3.6

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development, pursuant to AQW 8703/11-15, how many decisions on the eligibility for funding under each Measure of the Rural Development Programme have been taken at departmental level.

(AQW 9485/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: Decisions on both the eligibility and funding of projects are ultimately taken by the JCC, following a recommendation by the LAG. When requested, my officials provide advice on eligibility, to help inform eligibility decisions. Whilst my officials have offered advice on the eligibility of a number of projects, no decisions on eligibility have been taken at Departmental level.

Dogs: Microchipping

Mr McCallister asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development how her Department will enforce the compulsory microchipping of dogs.

(AQW 9487/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: The control of dogs here is legislated for by the Dogs Order 1983, as amended by the Dogs (Amendment) Act 2011. Local Councils are responsible for enforcing all aspects of the legislation.

Section 2 of the Dogs (Amendment) Act 2011 introduces compulsory microchipping of dogs as a condition of a dog licence when commenced on 9 April 2012. From the same date, the Dog (Licensing and Identification) Regulations 2012 also make it compulsory to microchip dogs kept under a block licence.

Before applying for a dog licence from 9 April 2012, dog owners must ensure that their dog is microchipped and the valid microchip number is stated on the application form. It is a condition of a dog licence for the dog to be microchipped and an unmicrochipped dog will be considered unlicensed.

Council officers will have the power to scan any dog, including those held under a block licence, and to check their microchip details to establish the identity details of the owner.

It is an offence for anyone to own an unlicensed dog, unless the dog is exempted under the legislation. A Council officer has the power to require the production of a dog licence for examination. Powers exist in the Order to either prosecute or issue a fixed penalty to the owner of any unlicensed dog. It is also an offence under the Dogs Order 1983 not to comply with any provisions in Regulations made under Article 31 of that Order and this applies to an unmicrochipped dog held under a block licence, unless the dog is exempted under the legislation. A person found guilty of an offence shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding £1,000.

Crossmaglen Republican Monument

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development, pursuant to AQW 8704/11-15, to detail the advice given by her Department on 26 January 2012.

(AQW 9489/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: The advice given by my Department on 26 January 2012 to the SOAR Joint Council Committee (JCC) regarding the application from Crossmaglen Memorial & Heritage committee to upgrade a monument, including the erection of 4 plaques, was that having considered representations from the JCC itself which comprises elected representatives from across the political spectrum and having viewed the precise wording that would go onto the plaques the Department's view was that the project could be considered eligible.

Axis 3 Claim Errors and Payment Delays

Mr Swann asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development to outline the Axis 3 claim errors and payment delays that were noted in the letter from her Department to the Joint Council Committee Chairpersons on 2 March 2012.

(AQW 9508/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: Details of the errors with claims submitted to DARD for payment as set out in the letter to Joint Council Committee Chairs on 2nd March 2012 are as follows:-

Strategic Projects: Funding Applications

Mr Swann asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development how many applications for funding for strategic projects have been received by (i) her Department; and (ii) Local Action Groups; and how many of these have been assessed as being ineligible.

(AQW 9509/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: No applications have been received for funding for strategic projects by either my Department or Local Action Groups therefore eligibility checks have not been carried out. Joint Council Committees were asked to forward details of potential strategic projects to the Department to allow my officials to assess the type and number of potential projects that could come forward through an open call.

Land Keepers, Land Wardens and Wildlife Rangers: Funding

Mr Frew asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development what funding is available from her Department for full-time Land Keepers, Land Wardens or Wildlife Rangers.

(AQW 9514/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: My Department does not provide funding for full-time Land Keepers, Land Wardens or Wildlife Rangers.

Countryside Management Scheme: Staff Training

Mr Frew asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development what training staff within her Department receive on the Countryside Management Scheme.

(AQW 9516/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: All staff who deliver the Countryside Management Scheme receive in-house training on an ongoing basis during team briefings and staff updates. In addition to this, staff may attend technical courses where a training need is identified. Within the last three years, staff training on the Countryside Management Scheme has included:

- Breeding Wader Habitats Management
- Field Boundary Management
- Grassland Management
- Heather Management
- Farm Waste Management
- Land Eligibility and Agri-environment Schemes
- Claiming Agri-environment Schemes on the Single Application Form

Red Grouse

Mr Frew asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development what studies her Department has conducted, or are ongoing, on the Red Grouse.

(AQW 9517/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: The main work being carried out by my Department on red grouse is that being conducted as part of the Glenwherry Hill Regeneration Project (GHRP).

The GHRP aims to develop, implement and promote sustainable habitat management practices on the Greenmount Hill Farm to meet the needs of the wide range of habitats in line with sustainable livestock production.

The GHRP board membership consists of staff from the College of Agriculture Food and Rural Enterprise (CAFRE) the Royal Society for the Protection of Birds (RSPB) and the Irish Grouse Conservation Trust (IGCT).

In addition to the main project partners, the GHRP Board also receives technical expertise and support from other organisations when deemed necessary – Northern Ireland Environment Agency (NIEA), Agri-Food and Biosciences Institute (AFBI), DARD's Countryside Management Unit (CMU) and The Game and Wildlife Conservation Trust (GWCT).

One of the objectives of GHRP is to contribute to the requirements of the Red Grouse Species Action Plan, through creation of a sustainable grouse moor in the Glenwherry area.

The targets agreed by the GHRP Board include increasing the initial 9 pairs of red grouse to 15 pairs by 2014. This is in line with the 50% target contained within the Northern Ireland Red Grouse Species Action Plan (i.e. an increase from 200 to 300 pairs across the north of Ireland).

The project is showing early signs of success with numbers of red grouse having increased considerably with the current estimate being between 200 and 300.

Glenwherry: Burning Blanket Bog

Mr Frew asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development what studies her Department has conducted on the burning blanket bog in the Glenwherry area of North Antrim; and when the studies will be completed and the findings published.

(AQW 9518/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: Work is being carried out on burning of blanket bog at the College of Agriculture, Food and Rural Enterprise's (CAFRE's) Hill Farm at Glenwherry as part of the Glenwherry Hill Regeneration Project (GHRP).

The GHRP board membership consists of staff from the College of Agriculture Food and Rural Enterprise (CAFRE), the Royal Society for the Protection of Birds (RSPB) and the Irish Grouse Conservation Trust (IGCT). In addition to the main project partners, the GHRP Board also receives technical expertise and support from other organisations when deemed necessary – the NI Environment Agency (NIEA), Agri-Food and Biosciences Institute (AFBI), DARD's Countryside Management Unit (CMU) and The Game and Wildlife Conservation Trust (GWCT).

At CAFRE's Hill Farm, Glenwherry, heather on blanket bog is being burned in a planned and controlled manner to benefit red grouse as part of the Glenwherry Hill Farm Habitat Management Plan 2009- 2014. This plan was conceived and has been agreed by the GHRP board. The effect on the vegetation is being monitored annually by AFBI and has been fully documented. Final reporting of the current phase of the project will be during 2015. However, due to the success of the current phase, the willingness of external partners to continue, and the extended time frame of effects on blanket bog, it is hoped that this project will continue beyond 2015 and so provide valuable information on upland habitat management for many years to come.

Rivers: Use by Farmers

Mr McDevitt asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development to outline her Department's guidance on the use of rivers by farmers for access to fields and for the transportation of animals; and whether her Department has conducted any studies on the environmental impact of tractors driving (i) along rivers; and (ii) across rivers for access.

(AQW 9541/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: Rivers Agency is the statutory drainage and flood protection authority for

NI. Under the terms of the Drainage (NI) Order 1973, the Agency has discretionary powers to maintain watercourses and sea defences which have been designated by the Drainage Council for NI, construct and maintain drainage and flood defence structures and administer advisory and enforcement procedures to protect the drainage function of all watercourses. Rivers Agency has no remit or role regarding the use of rivers by farmers for access to fields or for the transportation of animals and as such we have not undertaken any environmental studies.

Single Farm Payment Scheme: Payments/Fines

Mr McDevitt asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development, for each of the last three years, (i) how much was paid to farmers under the Single Farm Payment Scheme; and (ii) how many farmers have been fined for failing to comply with the Good Agricultural and Environmental Conditions.

(AQW 9542/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: To date, my Department has paid out to farmers under the Single Farm Payment Scheme the sums of £288.6, £268.3 and £246.7 million for the scheme years 2009, 2010 and 2011 respectively. This information will be subject to change.

The numbers of farmers who were the subject of a financial penalty for failure to comply with the Good Agricultural and Environmental Conditions, were 45 and 52 for the years 2009 and 2010 respectively. This information is taken from the data notified by my Department to the European Commission for the 2009 and 2010 scheme years in accordance with Article 84 of the European Council Regulation 1122/2009. Information in this respect for 2011 will be available in July of this year.

Omagh Show: DARD Attendance

Mr Hussey asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development whether her Department will be in attendance at the Omagh Show this year to provide a stand where farmers can raise issues of concern directly with departmental officials.

(AQW 9568/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: My Department is unable to attend every local agricultural show that takes place in the north in any one year. Unfortunately, Omagh Show is one of the few shows where we will not have a presence this year but my Department plan to have an exhibit there in 2013.

However, my Department always welcome the views of the agri-food industry and those in rural communities, at any time throughout the year. My officials are available can be contacted by phone or in person at the Omagh DARD Direct office.

Agricultural Shows: DARD Attendance

Mr Hussey asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development whether her Department will have a presence at all the agricultural shows in Northern Ireland in 2012, regardless of whether she is in attendance.

(AQW 9569/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: My Department will be taking trade space at eight local agricultural shows this year as well as the Balmoral Show, the Winter Fair and the International Ploughing Championships. The four local shows that we do not plan to attend this year will still receive Departmental financial support, subject to successful completion of the application process.

It is planned that my Department will have exhibited at all the local agricultural shows by the end of the summer next year and I plan to visit all the shows during my time in office.

Flooding: Finvoy Road, Rasharkin

Mr McKay asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development what work the Rivers Agency has carried out to alleviate flooding at Finvoy Road, north of Rasharkin; and on what dates the was work carried out.

(AQW 9573/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: My Rivers Agency is involved in administering an enforcement action in relation to ensuring the free flow of a watercourse which affects the Finvoy Road.

Job Advertisement: Irish

Mr Wells asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development, pursuant to AQW 9191/11-15, how much it cost to place the advert in the Sunday Life on 4 March 2012; and how many people have responded to the advert.

(AQW 9583/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: The advert which appeared in the Sunday Life cost £1,426.37. This included publication in the Belfast Telegraph on Friday 2nd March as well as the Sunday Life.

Of the 33 applications received, 6 applicants indicated that they had responded to newspaper advertisements with a further 7 applicants signifying that they were made aware of the post in the 'press'.

Media Communications Protocols

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development what media communications protocols exist between her Department and each of its arm's-length bodies; and to publish these protocols.

(AQW 9589/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: No media communications protocols exist between my Department and each of its arms-length bodies.

Land Keepers, Land Wardens and Wildlife Rangers: Spend

Mr Weir asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development how much her Department has spent on full-time land keepers, land wardens and wildlife rangers in each of the last three years.

(AQW 9603/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: My Department spent approximately £5620 per year in each of the last three years, for the rent and rates associated with the provision of a house for the gamekeeper at Glenwherry Hill Farm. My Department does not provide wages for the gamekeeper, who is employed by Antrim Estates.

Forestry Clearing Policy

Mr Lynch asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development whether her Department has any plans to improve its forestry clearing policy so that a cleared area is left in a more aesthetically pleasing state; and whether her Department has examined the policies in other regions, such as Scotland, to see how the policy can be improved.

(AQW 9613/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: My Department's woodlands are managed in line with the Forestry Standard which applies across all the devolved administrations.

The harvesting residues of brash and deadwood left on clearfell sites play an essential role in meeting our sustainable management objectives. Deadwood plays a vital role within forest ecosystems through their positive effects on biodiversity, carbon storage, recycling of soil nutrients, water movement and natural regeneration of trees. Deadwood also provides an important habitat for small vertebrates, cavity nesting birds, lichens, fungi and invertebrates.

The negative aesthetic effects of clearfelling can be mitigated through long term forest management plans by designing our forests to include buffer zones of native tree species along sensitive forest edges and riparian zones as well as considering lower impact harvesting systems on better soils where tree stability issues are less of a risk.

This approach is consistent with other regions, including Scotland.

Welfare of Laying Hens Directive: Non-compliant Eggs

Mr Swann asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development how many illegal eggs have been seized by her Department since the introduction of the Welfare of Laying Hens Directive in January 2012.

(AQW 9615/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: To date, my Department has seized no non-compliant eggs since the Welfare of Laying Hens Directive was introduced in January 2012.

EU Egg Marketing Regulations require all Class A eggs to be labelled with their method of production and this must be in conformity with production criteria specified in the Welfare of Laying Hens Directive. Any eggs produced in systems which do not meet these production criteria are prohibited from being placed on the Class A (shell egg) market but may be used for processing or disposed of as an Animal By-product.

To date, only a small number of consignments of eggs from other Member States have been encountered. Origin details of these consignments were checked against Member States' lists of compliant premises and inspectors examined the eggs under ultra-violet light. The eggs were found to be compliant with Egg Marketing regulations, including production method criteria.

Welfare of Animals (Dog Breeding Establishments) Regulations (Northern Ireland) 2012

Mr Moutray asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development what plans she has to ensure that small scale responsible breeders will not be unduly penalised by the proposals contained in the draft Welfare of Animals (Dog Breeding Establishments) Regulations (Northern Ireland) 2012.

(AQW 9667/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: The commercial breeding of dogs is a legitimate business both here and across these islands and I do not intend to place any unnecessary burden on small, medium or large scale dog breeders. The draft Welfare of Animals (Dog Breeding Establishments) Regulations set out the minimum standards required for commercial breeding establishments to ensure that the welfare needs of breeding bitches, dogs and pups are met. Where good responsible breeders are already operating to these minimum standards, the costs to them to implement these Regulations will be limited to the annual licence fee and microchipping their pups and these costs will be very low.

The new Regulations propose to introduce a new breeding establishment licence system which includes a sliding scale of fees, determined by the number of breeding bitches in the establishment. The introduction of the breeding establishment licence is to ensure that Councils, who will enforce these Regulations, recover their full costs when approving and inspecting breeding establishments. I intend to ensure that the fees, whilst allowing the Council to cover their costs, are kept at a realistic level. The proposed licence fee for a small breeding establishment, i.e. with no more than 10 bitches, is £150. Whilst microchipping pups will be a compulsory requirement before the pup leaves the breeder, the breeder can microchip their own pups once they are competent at microchipping, so the cost should only be a few pounds per pup.

A draft Regulatory Impact Assessment (RIA) was carried out prior to the public consultation which took place from October 2011 to January 2012. A specific question was included in the consultation seeking evidence based information on any future costs to breeders. Whilst some stakeholders commented on possible costs, other stakeholders were of the view that most breeders already operate to the proposed standards, so little if any cost would be incurred. No information was provided from any breeders on actual costs they would incur.

I wish to see all dog breeding establishments in the north operating to good welfare standards and in the consultation responses a number of breeders welcomed these draft Regulations. The proposed Regulations will ensure all commercially bred pups have the best possible start in life.

Farm Animals: Illegal Dumping

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development what legislation is in place for the prosecution of the illegal dumping of fallen farm animals; and what action she intends to take to address the increase in this type of dumping. (AQW 9694/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: The legislation covering the disposal of fallen animals is the Animal By-products (Enforcement) Regulations (NI) 2011 which implement EU Control Regulation (EC) No. 1069/2009 and Implementing Regulation (EC) No. 142/2011.

Under this legislation the disposal methods of fallen stock include rendering, incineration, utilisation for the feeding of dogs from recognised kennels or packs of hounds, with the residue disposed of by rendering or incineration. Provided there is prior authorisation by the Department, the disposal by burial or other means where access is practically impossible due to geography, climate or natural disaster may be carried out.

There is an authorisation allowing the burial of pets and equidae kept as pets.

Farmers must keep records of the disposal of fallen stock.

The responsibility for the disposal of fallen stock lies with the owner of the carcass. If this can not be determined, the occupier of the land on which the carcass has been dumped becomes responsible. This can include the local council, Forest Service, or a private landowner depending on the circumstances relating to where the carcass is dumped.

Failure to dispose of fallen stock by the lawful methods is an offence. If the person responsible for the disposal of the carcass fails to dispose of it, the Department as the Competent Authority may arrange for its disposal at the expense of the responsible person. If the person responsible cannot be determined, the Department may dispose of the carcass if it considers that there is a public or animal health risk.

The Department has no evidence to suggest an increase in the incidence of illegal dumping as records are not kept of these occurrences and there is no requirement on other public bodies to report these to the Department.

The Department monitors the disposal of fallen animals as part of the herd and flock audits it carries out. If any discrepancies are found, enforcement action is taken.

Tree Felling Licences

Mrs D Kelly asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development whether her Department's proposals for a felling licence will (i) offer protection for ancient and long-established woodland; (ii) offer protection for any ancient woodland site planted with non-native species; and (iii) ensure that there is no net loss in the area coverage of ancient and long-established woodland. (AQW 9699/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: My Department's proposals for a felling licence will offer protection for ancient and long-established woodland from unregulated felling by permitting felling under licence subject to conditions to be set out in a felling management plan. Section 18(5) of the Forestry Act makes special provision for ancient woodland by requiring my Department to "have regard to the desirability of maintaining the special character of that woodland". The felling management plan will include details as to the characteristics of the woodland within which the proposed felling is to take place, details of planned felling and re-establishment operations and the species of trees with which the land will be restocked.

A condition of any felling management plan will be that the land is restocked in accordance with the rules and practice of good forestry as set out in the Forestry Standard. This recommends that on ancient woodland sites the features of ancient woodland remnants are protected and consideration is given to the progressive restoration to native woodlands.

My Department cannot ensure that there is no net loss in the area coverage of ancient and long-established woodland. While I recognise the need to protect ancient and long-established woodlands, from time to time as part of normal sustainable management some felling will be appropriate or necessary.

Finally, a further protection is provided by my Department's Environmental Impact Assessment (Forestry) Regulations (Northern Ireland) 2006 which regulate deforestation for the purpose of converting to another type of land use.

Deer Stalking: Forestry Service Land

Mr McCallister asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development whether she has any plans to open up Forestry Service land for recreational deer stalking.

(AQW 9719/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: Although deer stalking is a sport in its own right, it is usually conducted as part of an overall deer management strategy which seeks to create a balance between maintaining a healthy population and limiting the economic and ecological damage which deer inflict.

As a result, I am very interested in the development and subsequent engagement with deer management groups or partnerships which can consensually implement effective deer control across multiple land and sporting right ownership. This is an area we would like to see developed and integrated with our arrangements where we own the shooting rights.

My officials in Forest Service have met representatives of shooting and deer welfare organisations to scope how these organisations could take an active role in developing such groups through the involvement of their members and I am content for this dialogue to continue.

Rural Development Programme: Grant Application Process

Mr Swann asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development why the grant application process under the Rural Development Programme is not open as requested by Local Action Groups; and for her assessment of the impact that this will have on her Department's communication to the Joint Council Committee Chairmen requesting the urgent review and completion of Implementation Plans for the 2012/13 financial year and subsequent years.

(AQW 9775/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: The grant application process is open under the Rural Development Programme, and at least two groups have opened calls within the past two weeks. However, officials are working proactively with each cluster to assist in clearing their backlogs of applications before opening calls so that there is a clear indication of the value of uncommitted funds. Presently the current backlog of applications stands at 481 worth £33 m. This work is helping to inform the clusters review and completion of Implementation Spending Plans for the 2012/13 financial year and indeed subsequent years, and will assist them re-focus their delivery of Axis 3 funding to ensure that it is invested effectively in rural communities.

Bovine Tuberculosis: Update

Mr Weir asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development for an update on her Department's measures to combat Bovine Tuberculosis.

(AQW 9780/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: My aim is to reduce and ultimately eradicate TB in cattle here and I will continue to work towards this end. My Department has a rigorous EC Commission approved programme for TB eradication in place. This eradication programme is vital in safeguarding our annual £1,000 million plus export-dependent livestock and livestock products industry.

Considerable work has been undertaken to enhance the TB eradication programme in recent years. We now remove as reactors those animals that give an inconclusive result to a second consecutive TB test rather than after a third test as before. We have improved communications with Private Veterinary Practitioners and strengthened the supervision process. We have improved DARD's own delivery of TB testing through monitoring Key Performance Indicators. We also use DNA identity tags on reactors to help reduce reactor identity queries, substitution fraud and associated disease risks.

However, TB is a very complex, multi-factorial and challenging disease that is difficult to eradicate. There is no simple, cost-effective, solution or 'quick-fix'. If there had been an easy solution, TB would have been eradicated before now.

Additional funding of around £4 million has been allocated in my Department's budget to conduct a programme of TB and wildlife research and studies to help ensure we have well informed and evidence based strategies to address the issue of cattle to cattle spread as well as the wildlife issue. We have engaged with industry and wider stakeholders to help us identify and refine our TB evidence needs and priorities.

The fieldwork for a TB Biosecurity Study was completed in 2011 in the County Down area. This Study is assessing selected cattle and wildlife risk factors for herds that have recently had a TB breakdown and herds that have no recent history of a breakdown in the same TB high incidence area. It is expected that the findings will become available later this year

The issue of TB in badgers and TB in cattle is a complex one. We know there is a link between bovine TB in badgers and bovine TB in cattle but we do not know the extent to which badgers contribute to the incidence of TB in cattle here. We will continue to monitor closely the progress in Britain on their proposals for badger control in areas with high and persistent levels of bovine TB. We shall be interested to see how the proposals evolve; how they are implemented; and whether they successfully withstand legal challenge.

We recognise that badger vaccination may be the most feasible solution in the longer term, but it could be some time before an effective oral badger vaccine becomes available, which can be deployed in a cost effective way. We will therefore continue to keep in close contact with the studies being conducted in the south of Ireland and in England to develop a viable oral badger vaccine and a cost-effective means of vaccine deployment. An international vaccination experts' scientific symposium is planned for 2012 to inform how best to proceed on badger vaccination.

We will similarly keep a close interest in developments to produce a viable cattle vaccine.

Brucellosis: Positive Tests

Mrs Dobson asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development (i) how many Brucellosis tests were conducted in each of the last three years; (ii) how many of these proved positive; and (iii) what was the cost of the test to the farmer.

(AQW 9783/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: (i) The number of animal blood tests for Brucellosis carried out in each of the last three years was as follows:

|      |                              |
|------|------------------------------|
| 2009 | 1,222,249 animal blood tests |
| 2010 | 1,177,898                    |
| 2011 | 1,171,045                    |

(ii) The number of herd level blood tests was as follows:

|      |              |
|------|--------------|
| 2009 | 19,666 herds |
| 2010 | 19,012       |
| 2011 | 19,555       |

From these herds, there were the following numbers of unique herd breakdowns:

|      |               |
|------|---------------|
| 2009 | 76 breakdowns |
| 2010 | 77            |
| 2011 | 25            |

The number of animal tests that resulted in a positive reactor being declared was as follows:

|      |                              |
|------|------------------------------|
| 2009 | 116 positive reactor animals |
| 2010 | 184                          |
| 2011 | 247                          |

[Of these results, the number of herd breakdowns is the most useful indicator of how disease eradication is progressing: there was a marked decrease in herd breakdowns from 2010 to 2011.]

(iii) The cost of the test to the farmer

At present DARD makes no charge to the farmer for the costs of routine surveillance or targeted testing. The Department covers the costs of taking the sample, transporting samples to the laboratory, the laboratory costs of testing, and administration, such as informing herd keepers of the test results.

The herd keeper is required by legislation to present animals for testing, hence must spend time mustering the required cattle.

Pre-movement testing is also required by legislation. Apart from the cost of laboratory testing, which the Department again covers, the responsibility for costs incurred lies with the herd keeper.

Brucellosis: Eradication

Mrs Dobson asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development for an estimate of when brucellosis will be eradicated; and whether she will commit to the cessation of testing for brucellosis and the financial burden that it places on farmers once brucellosis is eradicated.

(AQW 9788/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: Our Programme for Government objective is the eradication of brucellosis by 2014. Eradication will allow us subsequently to seek EU Officially Brucellosis Free (OBF) status.

Three years must elapse from the last confirmed brucellosis herd breakdown here, and at least 99.8% of our herds must have been brucellosis free for 5 consecutive years, before my Department can apply to the EU Commission to seek OBF status. These 2 time periods are not consecutive, but may run concurrently.

Achieving OBF status will benefit farmers from anticipated progressive reductions in the level of routine and pre-movement testing, which represents a £7 million per year compliance cost for farmers. To maintain OBF status, a reduced level of testing must be continued for a further 5 years, with some ongoing risk-based surveillance testing thereafter.

In order to secure these reductions it is essential for farmers to continue to observe good biosecurity practices and report any abortions in their cattle to DARD veterinarians.

Quangos

Mr Weir asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development to detail (i) the quangos to which her Department makes appointments; (ii) how many members are appointed; and (iii) the remuneration paid to (a) the Chair; and (b) other members. (AQW 9803/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: Full information about public appointments made by the Department of Agriculture and Rural Development is set out in the "Public Bodies and Public Appointments Annual Report", published by OFMDFM. The most recent report covers the period 2010/11 and is available from the OFMDFM website or from the Assembly library (Reference number R351.41609 NOR).

Rural Development Programme: Ministerial Meetings

Mrs Dobson asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development to detail the meetings or contact which she or departmental officials have had with representatives from the nine Local Rural Support Networks regarding the new Rural Development Programme, with specific reference to the avoidance of unnecessary redundancies during the transitional period. (AQW 9867/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: I am assuming that your question relates to the new local rural community development support services which come into effect on 1 April 2012. Neither I nor my officials have met or had any contact with representatives from any of the nine Local Rural Support Networks regarding the new local rural community development support service, with specific reference to the avoidance of unnecessary redundancies during the transitional period.

Welfare of Laying Hens Directive: Republic of Ireland Contact

Mr Wells asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development whether she has had any contact with her counterpart in the Republic of Ireland to ascertain whether their egg producers are complying with the EU Directive on the Welfare of Laying Hens. (AQW 9874/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: In the run-up to the implementation of the Laying Hens Directive I had discussions with Minister Coveney, as we both worked to ensure that our respective enforcement actions would result in full compliance of the Directive. In addition, my officials and their counterparts in Dublin have worked closely during the past year to ensure compliance with the Directive. I am pleased that Producers in both the north and south of Ireland are fully compliant with the Directive.

The south of Ireland had an EU Food and Veterinary Office audit week commencing 12 March 2012 on the evaluation of their compliance with the EU Welfare of Laying Hens Directive. The Food and Veterinary Office complimented the south on how it had implemented the legislation.

Coastal Erosion: Myroe and Magilligan

Mr Ó hOisín asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development, given that the sea has already claimed 56 acres of land in recent years, what protection will be given to landowners at Myroe and Magilligan against further erosion. (AQO 1621/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: My Rivers agency and their predecessors have previously carried out extensive works to the designated sea defences at Myroe which continue to provide a high level of protection to the land behind the structures.

There are currently no plans for future work at this location at Magilligan; however I will keep this situation under review.

Coastal Erosion: Protection

Mr McMullan asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development what protection against erosion exists for home owners whose properties adjoin waterways which are not managed by the Rivers Agency. (AQO 1622/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: Under current legislation, my Rivers Agency has no statutory obligation to undertake works on undesignated watercourses to arrest erosion. The responsibility for this type of work rests with the land owner.

Countryside Management Scheme: 2010 Payments

Ms Ritchie asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development how many Countryside Management Scheme payments for 2010 are outstanding; and what is the timescale for the release of these payments.

(AQW 10070/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: At 28 March 2012, there are 86 out of 913 (9%) claims that have not been paid for the 2010 new Countryside Management Scheme (NICMS). These payments have not yet been paid because processing of these payments has required detailed administrative and technical checks. These checks have been necessary because a high number of non-compliances and over-declarations were detected at claim inspections. Payments will be progressed as soon as my Department is satisfied that the outstanding claims have been fully verified and payment is fully justified.

Department of Culture, Arts and Leisure

Creative Industries: Budget

Mr Eastwood asked the Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure for her assessment whether the £4 million budget currently allocated to assist the creative industries is sufficient.

(AQW 9645/11-15)

Ms Ní Chuilín (The Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure): The diverse range of creative and cultural infrastructure, organisations and programmes funded by DCAL constitutes a creative pipeline from which creative people, creative ideas and creative businesses emerge and flourish. My Department's support to the creative industries should be considered within this wider funding framework and the vital role it plays in inspiring, nurturing and developing creative entrepreneurs and enterprises.

DCAL has limited resources with which to make its investments across the whole spectrum of culture, arts and leisure but over 2011-15 has prioritised significant resources to the Creative Industries Innovation Fund and wider sectoral initiatives to stimulate innovation, R&D and creativity and the sector's contribution to rebuilding and rebalancing the economy.

Creative Industries: Ebrington

Mr Eastwood asked the Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure what steps her Department will take to ensure that the Programme for Government objective of making Ebrington a hub for the creative industries is realised.

(AQW 9646/11-15)

Ms Ní Chuilín: My Department has provided funding and support to the Digital Derry initiative and its efforts to establish Derry as a leading place on the island to start and build a digital business.

This support has included innovative initiatives such as the pilot Culture Tech competition which supports local companies in developing commercially viable products and services involving digital technologies and culture. Funding has also been provided to Digital Derry to support the development of a major new conference and festival event devoted solely to digital culture and technology. This will take place in 2012 and 2013, as part of the city's tenure as City of Culture 2013.

The Culture Company 2013 Ltd is also being supported in taking the regional lead on Creativity Month in 2012 and 2013 and related year-long activities promoting creativity and innovation across the north. These initiatives, together with the Executive's commitment to City of Culture 2013, will support the sustainable development of Derry as a vibrant creative industries hub.

Sport NI: Board Members

Miss M McIlveen asked the Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure to outline the criteria used in the selection of members to the Board of Sport NI.

(AQW 9675/11-15)

Ms Ní Chuilín: The most recent competition to appoint Members to the Board of Sport NI was launched on 15 September 2011. The following essential criteria were used in the selection of members:

- an informed interest in sport and the development of sport in NI and appreciation of the contribution of sport for NI society;
- experience as a practitioner or advisor in sport, education, finance or marketing/public relations;
- experience in governance in the public or private sector including: overseeing the development and implementation of corporate strategies, annual business plans and holding executive teams to account for delivery;
- previous membership of a board/committee which has responsibility for staff and/or financial resources;
- experience of management of change; and
- experience of working in partnership with different stakeholders (for example, government departments, other funders, public, voluntary or private sector agencies).

Sport NI: Board Applications

Miss M McIlveen asked the Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure how many applications were received for appointment to the Board of Sport NI.

(AQW 9677/11-15)

Ms Ní Chuilín: The most recent competition to appoint Members to the Board of Sport NI was launched on 15 September 2011. A total of 29 applications were received for the positions.

Sport NI: Board Representation

Miss M McIlveen asked the Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure what steps were taken to ensure that the membership of the Board of Sport NI is representative of society in Northern Ireland.

(AQW 9678/11-15)

Ms Ní Chuilín: The most recent competition to appoint Members to the Board of Sport NI was launched on 15 September 2011. As part of the appointment process and to aim to ensure that the membership of the Board of Sport NI is representative of society in the north of Ireland, my Department wrote to all Section 75 groups prior to the launch of the competition encouraging them to promote applications from those within their sectors.

In the letter the Department reaffirmed its commitment to equality of opportunity and welcomed applications from all suitably qualified people irrespective of religious belief, gender, disability, ethnic origin, political opinion, age, marital status, sexual orientation or whether or not they have dependants. The letter also welcomed applications from women, people from minority ethnic groups and people with a disability for the positions of Member.

My Department is also committed to the principle of public appointments based on merit with independent assessment, openness and transparency of process. The competition to appoint Members to the Board of Sport NI was conducted in line with the Commissioner for Public Appointment NI's Code of Practice for Ministerial Public Appointments.

Community Relations

Mr Moutray asked the Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure what work her Department is carrying out to promote the improvement of community relations.

(AQW 9728/11-15)

Ms Ní Chuilín: The remit of my Department impacts on the lives of many throughout our community. Sport, arts and creativity and linguistic diversity make a direct and valuable contribution to good community relations and the creation of a shared and better future.

The steps taken by my Department to progress the good relations duty during the past year are detailed in our Annual Progress Report 2010/11 to the Equality Commission.

My Department and its Arms Length Bodies (ALBS) continue to mainstream good relations considerations into policy development and resource allocation. The key departmental programmes and initiatives that aim to promote the improvement of community relations are:

1 Intercultural Arts Strategy.

The Arts Council is currently developing its Intercultural Arts Strategy for the period 2012-2017. The principal aim of this strategy is to create as many avenues as possible for minority ethnic communities to access and participate in the arts in the north of Ireland. There are six strategic themes including:

- Using the arts to develop community cohesion.
- Using the arts to increase awareness of diversity.
- Developing programmes that use the arts to develop good relations and as a vehicle to tackle racism.

The Arts Council will launch the Intercultural Arts Programme in May 2012, with dedicated funds available to community and voluntary groups supporting the themes of the strategy.

2 Re-Imaging Communities Programme

The Re-imaging Communities programme, now in its fifth year of operation, aims to build positive relations by the transformation of visible signs of sectarianism and intercommunity separation.

The objective of the programme is to help people feel part of the communities in which they live by removing displays of sectarian aggression and intimidation. The programme aims to promote better relations between current and new communities across the north of Ireland, whilst allowing for cultural expression.

3 Museums

Museums can help communities understand each others diversity, interdependencies and culture which in turn helps to improve community relations. One of the principles of the Northern Ireland Museums policy is that museums should play an important role in creating a shared and better future.

4 Sport.

The Sport Matters strategy recognises that well-organised sport can make a significant contribution to community relations. It commits Government to promote community cohesion through sport in the context of a Shared and Better Future and also contains a number of actions to help achieve this. These include actions to encourage under-represented groups to participate in sport and the provision of shared spaces for sport that promote community integration.

5 Olympic/Paralympic Games

The Olympic and Paralympic Games have been used as an opportunity to reconnect culture and sport and have been a catalyst to inspire communities across the North to participate in a diverse range of sporting and cultural activities.

6 Cultural Awareness Strategy

A revised Cultural Awareness Strategy was adopted as DCAL policy in March 2011. The main aims of the strategy are to address historical tensions by developing greater understanding, tolerance and respect for indigenous cultural traditions.

7 World Police and Fire Games (WPFG)

Two of the objectives that have been identified to support the legacy aspect of the 2013 WPFG are:

- 1 To establish a diverse pool of skilled volunteers for future events in the north of Ireland.
- 2 To increase mutual respect and understanding of young people towards the emergency services.

UEFA/FIFA: Ministerial Meetings

Mr Moutray asked the Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure whether she has any plans to meet with (i) the UEFA; or (ii) FIFA in the near future.

(AQW 9733/11-15)

Ms Ní Chuilín: I have no engagements with UEFA or FIFA at this current time but may meet them in the future should this prove necessary.

Golf: Children

Mr D McIlveen asked the Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure (i) how she plans to increase the number of children who play golf, given that only 30 percent of children have played golf in the last 12 months; and (ii) how she plans to encourage more girls to play golf.

(AQW 9736/11-15)

Ms Ní Chuilín: Responsibility for increasing the number of children, including girls, who play golf in the north of Ireland rests, in the first instance, with the governing bodies for the sport, the Golfing Union of Ireland, Ulster Branch and the Northern District Irish Ladies Golf Union, NI Region. Given the range of sporting choices available in the north of Ireland, the current children's participation figures would suggest that these bodies are already succeeding in increasing the numbers of children and girls who play golf.

The governing bodies of golf can, if necessary, obtain assistance from Sport NI to help them further develop their sport. In the last three financial years Sport NI, which is responsible for the distribution of funding for sport in the north, has provided £412,855 to golf for this purpose.

Furthermore, the Irish Open is taking place in Portrush at the end of June this year. This will be a significant opportunity to promote the sport locally. My Department is part of the Irish Open Steering Group which is chaired by DETI.

Team or Club Membership: Girls

Mr D McIlveen asked the Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure how she plans to encourage more girls to become members of teams or clubs, both inside and outside school.

(AQW 9737/11-15)

Ms Ní Chuilín: The Department of Culture, Arts and Leisure, with the support of Sport NI and other stakeholders, including the Department of Education (DE), is currently implementing a 10 year strategy for sport, Sport Matters. Increasing the number of people in the north of Ireland, including girls, in membership of at least one sports club, is one of the key targets within Sport Matters. In addition, DE funds a Curriculum Sports Programme for pupils in Foundation Stage and Key Stage 1. This programme aims to develop the physical literacy of our youngest pupils and instil in them a love of sport from a young age. The programme has been running successfully in primary schools since 2007/08 and the number of pupils participating this year is over 37,000, of which over 18,000 are girls.

Team or Club Membership: Free School Meals Recipients

Mr D McIlveen asked the Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure how she plans to ensure that more children who are in receipt of free school meals become members of teams or clubs, both inside and outside school.

(AQW 9738/11-15)

Ms Ní Chuilín: The Department of Culture, Arts and Leisure, with the support of Sport NI and other stakeholders, including the Department of Education (DE), is currently implementing a 10 year strategy for sport, Sport Matters. Increasing the number of people in the north of Ireland, including children in receipt of free school meals, in membership of at least one sports club, is one of the key targets within Sport Matters. In addition, DE, through its Extended Schools Programme, provides additional resources to schools with 37% of more pupils with a Free School Meal entitlement. Such resources enable those schools to provide a range of services and activities outside of the normal school day which aim to support and motivate disadvantaged children and young people to achieve their full potential. This can include becoming members of a variety of teams and clubs, including sports clubs.

Loughgiel Shamrocks

Mr McKay asked the Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure how she plans to acknowledge the success of Loughgiel Shamrocks winning the All-Ireland Hurling Club Championship.

(AQW 9800/11-15)

Ms Ní Chuilín: I have already written to the Secretary of Loughgiel Shamrocks to congratulate the team on winning the 2012 All-Ireland Club Hurling Championships. Furthermore, I attended a reception at Parliament Buildings in January 2012 which was organised to mark the success of Loughgiel's hurling and camogie teams during the 2011/12 season.

Quangos

Mr Weir asked the Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure to detail (i) the quangos to which her Department makes appointments; (ii) how many members are appointed; and (iii) the remuneration paid to (a) the Chair; and (b) other members.

(AQW 9804/11-15)

Ms Ní Chuilín: Full information about public appointments made by the Department of Culture Arts and Leisure is set out in the "Public Bodies and Public Appointments Annual Report", published by OFMDFM. The report is available from the OFMDFM website or from the Assembly library (Reference number R351.41609 NOR).

Sport NI: Capital Funding

Mr Flanagan asked the Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure to detail the (i) amount of capital funding allocated by SportNI to each district council area in each of the last five years; and (ii) the amount of (a) capital; and (b) other funding that each sports club in Co Fermanagh has received from SportNI during this period.
(AQW 9846/11-15)

Ms Ní Chuilín: In the last five financial years Sport NI has allocated capital funding totalling £62,339,048 to district councils in the north of Ireland. A breakdown of this is provided in table 1 below. During the same period, Sport NI provided £1,746,701 of capital funding and £12,449 of revenue funding to sports clubs in Co Fermanagh. Details of funding provided to each club are provided in tables 2 and 3 below.

Boxing Clubs: Funding

Mr Weir asked the Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure what funding is currently available from her Department for boxing clubs; and whether she plans to make any additional funding available.

(AQW 9890/11-15)

Ms Ní Chuilín: Sport NI is responsible for the distribution of funding for sport in the north of Ireland. Sport NI currently has no funding programmes open to which boxing clubs could apply. I am aware, however, of the cultural importance of boxing to many people in the north and the benefits and opportunities it offers to young people, particularly those in areas of high social need. I have therefore asked Sport NI to bring forward a business case to help address the strategic facility needs of boxing clubs, some of which operate at the core of deprived communities across the north of Ireland and yet continue to deliver sporting success. As part of this process, Sport NI has identified an indicative funding provision within its Lottery reserves of up to £3m over the period 2012-15. The release of monies to boxing remains dependent, however, on the completion of a satisfactory business case.

Irish Football Association: Funding

Mr Easton asked the Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure which teams in the Irish League Championship Divisions 1 and 2 are classed as non-designated for the purpose of funding from the Irish Football Association.

(AQW 9989/11-15)

Ms Ní Chuilín: Responsibility for designating teams in the Irish League Championship Divisions 1 and 2 for the purpose of funding from the Irish Football Association (IFA) is a matter, in the first instance, for the IFA. Neither my Department nor Sport NI retains information on this matter.

Horse and Greyhound Racing and Breeding: Funding

Mrs D Kelly asked the Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure how much funding her Department has allocated to (i) horse racing and breeding; and (ii) greyhound racing and breeding, in each of the last three years.

(AQW 10062/11-15)

Ms Ní Chuilín: Sport NI is responsible for the distribution of funding for sport in the north of Ireland. Sport NI has provided no funding to horse racing or breeding in the last three years. Greyhound racing is not recognised as a sporting activity and it has therefore received no funding from Sport NI in the last three years.

Northern Visions: Funding

Mr A Maginness asked the Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure, given the Arts Council's recent and sudden ending of core funding to Northern Visions for 2012/13, what plans she has to provide alternative core funding to the organisation.

(AQW 10083/11-15)

Ms Ní Chuilín: My Department does not fund organisations directly. DCAL funding in support of arts and cultural activities is disbursed through its Arms Length Bodies such as the Arts Council.

Today's economic climate is very challenging for all arts and cultural organisations, with many organisations competing for funding and I understand from the Arts Council that Northern Vision's application to the Council's Annual Funding Programme did not, in a highly competitive round, demonstrate a sufficient level of arts content.

Northern Visions has been advised to contact the relevant officer to discuss the failings of the application with a view to applying to Lottery project funding which is currently open.

Department of Education

Schoolchildren: Non-attendance

Mr Storey asked the Minister of Education how many school-age children are currently not attending (i) primary school; and (ii) post-primary school, broken down by Education and Library Board area.

(AQW 9311/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd (The Minister of Education): The answer refers to:

- 1 Children with a bad absenteeism record;
- 2 Children receiving their education other than at school such as, hospital or young offenders;
- 3 Children who are home schooled; and
- 4 Children who do not fall into any of the above and are not registered.

Current numbers in categories 1 – 3 have been provided by the Education and Library Boards and are presented in the table attached. Data on school attendance for the 2010/11 school year will be published on the Department's website on 29 March 2012.

Parents of every child of compulsory school age are legally required to ensure that their child receives full-time education suitable to his or her age, ability and aptitude; either by regular attendance at school or otherwise. There is no legal requirement for them to register the child with a school.

If parents choose to home educate there is no legal requirement for them to advise their Education and Library Board or the Department of their decision. The information in the table refers to the number of children for whom the ELB has received notifications that they are being home educated. The numbers fluctuate during the course of a year and the figures provided by the ELBs therefore reflect the position on the date the information was requested.

The Department does not have information on children who do not fall into any of the above categories and are not registered with a school. However the establishment of the Education and Skills Authority may provide an opportunity to reconcile on a regional basis the children registered in school against the child health database.

To ask the Minister of Education how many school-age children are currently not attending (i) primary school; and (ii) post-primary school, broken down by Education and Library Board area -

AQW 9311/11-15

The answer was to include all the categories below:

- 1 Children with a bad absenteeism record
- 2 Children receiving their education elsewhere, such as, hospital or young offenders
- 3 Children who are home schooled

St Bronagh's Primary School, Rostrevor: Newbuild Fees

Mr D Bradley asked the Minister of Education for a breakdown of the £517,000 spent to date on consultancy and architects' fees for the proposed new build at St. Bronagh's Primary School, Rostrevor.

(AQW 9501/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: The Department's records in relation to expenditure on those schools which have been planned but not yet built show that a figure of £519k was spent on St Bronagh's Primary School, Rostrevor. However, in this particular case this includes an amount of £459k for enabling works to facilitate the amalgamation of the former Convent of Mercy Girls' School and St Mary's Boys' Primary School in Rostrevor to be known as St Bronagh's Primary School. These enabling works were listed under the same accounting code as that used for professional fees. The actual fees incurred in relation to the planning of the proposed new build for St Bronagh's Primary School amounts to £60,616.08 broken down as follows:

|--------------------------|-------------------|
| NI Water                 | £90.47            |
| BREEAM                   | £881.25           |
| Feasibility Study Review | £15,441.74        |
| Insurance                | £859.95           |
| Mechanical & Electrical  | £1,997.50         |
| Architect                | £13,789.51        |
| Structural Engineer      | £8,485.87         |
| Quantity Surveyor        | £1,586.25         |
| Project Manager          | £15,664.63        |
| Advertising              | £1,818.91         |
| Total             | £60,616.08 |

Area-based Planning: Seminars

Mr Storey asked the Minister of Education whether the other Education and Library Boards have followed the example of the North Eastern Board in holding seminars on the Area Based Planning process for school principals and governors.

(AQW 9523/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: It is the responsibility of the Education and Library Boards (ELBs) to determine the frequency and number of meetings required to deliver area plans. I would, however, expect that the ELBs in conjunction with CCMS and other sectors would keep all schools informed and seek appropriate participation throughout this process. My Department, through the Area Planning Co-ordination Group, will seek assurances that mechanisms are in place to facilitate effective engagement with the other sectors.

Schools: Viability Audit

Mr Weir asked the Minister of Education why the schools audit used different academic criteria for grammar and non-grammar schools.

(AQW 9535/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: The educational attainment criteria used in the viability audits were agreed by the Viability Working Group and were, in the professional judgement of those involved in the group, appropriate indicators of performance for the relevant categories of schools.

As I have already indicated in my response to oral questions on 13 March, Grammar schools that tell us that their academic ability outstrips all other sectors and they offer higher quality education. It is therefore entirely appropriate that they are measured against a higher benchmark than any other sector.

Schools: Temporary Teaching Positions

Mr Craig asked the Minister of Education how many temporary teaching positions at schools have been filled in each of the last three years.

(AQW 9584/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: The number of temporary teaching positions filled in each of the last three years is as follows:-

| Employing Authority | 2008/2009  | 2009/2010  | 2010/2011  |
|---------------------|------------|------------|------------|
| BELB                | 16         | 27         | 26         |
| WELB                | 42         | 37         | 30         |
| NEELB               | 45         | 39         | 33         |
| SEELB               | 72         | 99         | 75         |
| SELB                | 58         | 58         | 45         |
| CCMS                | 161        | 206        | 160        |

Schools: Substitute or Temporary Teachers

Mr Craig asked the Minister of Education, pursuant to AQW 8580/11-15, how many teachers at (i) primary school; and (ii) post-primary school levels, who have received enhanced redundancy or early retirement packages, have been re-employed to carry out substitute or temporary work in each of the last three years.

(AQW 9586/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: The information requested is as follows:

Number of teachers who have received enhanced compensation for redundancy or premature retirement benefits and have been re-employed in a substitute or temporary capacity

| Financial year | Primary Sector | Post-primary sector | Others | Total       |
|----------------|----------------|---------------------|--------|-------------|
| 2008/09        | 768            | 911                 | 52     | 1731 |
| 2009/10        | 696            | 867                 | 53     | 1616 |
| 2010/11        | 572            | 786                 | 51     | 1409 |

The "others" column includes teachers whose last school before receiving enhanced compensation for redundancy or premature retirement benefits did not fall specifically into either the primary or post-primary sector.

The above figures exclude teachers whose redundancy compensation was not paid through the Department's payroll.

Schools: Teaching Posts

Mr Craig asked the Minister of Education how many teaching posts advertised in the last three years required applicants to have (i) a minimum of one year's experience; and (ii) no teaching experience.

(AQW 9587/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: The number of teaching posts advertised in the last three years which required applicants to have (i) a minimum of one year's experience; and (ii) no teaching experience is as follows:-

| Employing Authority | 2008/2009  |            | 2009/2010  |            | 2010/2011  |            |
|---------------------|------------|------------|------------|------------|------------|------------|
|                     | (i)        | (ii)       | (i)        | (ii)       | (i)        | (ii)       |
| BELB                | 43         | 31         | 22         | 12         | 19         | 9          |
| WELB                | 6          | 1          | 2          | 3          | 15         | 1          |
| NEELB               | 30         | 11         | 28         | 14         | 27         | 11         |
| SEELB               | 61         | 32         | 51         | 20         | 45         | 30         |
| SELB                | 25         | 7          | 36         | 13         | 28         | 16         |

| Total        | 290 | 259 | 267 | 276 | 206 | 177 |

Shared Education Advisory Group

Mr Lyttle asked the Minister of Education to detail the (i) terms of reference; and (ii) timescale for the establishment of the Shared Education Advisory Group.

(AQW 9617/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: The terms of reference have not yet been drawn up. I intend to establish the group in the coming months.

Post-primary Schools: Governors Holding Elected Office

Mr Flanagan asked the Minister of Education to list each District Councillor, MLA, MP, or MEP who currently serves on a Board of Governors at a post-primary school, including the name of each school and whether the school currently uses academic selection as an admission criteria.

(AQW 9689/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: The Department does not collect information about the elected political offices held by school governors, nor are school governors required to provide such information to the Department.

Craigavon Area Learning Community: Financial Difficulties

Mrs Dobson asked the Minister of Education (i) what actions his Department and the Southern Education and Library Board has taken to work with the schools in the Craigavon Area Learning Community which are facing financial difficulties; and (ii) what guarantees he can give to the schools which have taken financially difficult decisions, including cost-cutting and redundancies, that they will not be adversely affected because of the financial difficulties faced by other schools.

(AQW 9725/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: All schools receive a fully delegated budget under the Common Funding Scheme arrangements on an equitable basis, irrespective of geographical location. I announced on 12 January 2012, that I had secured additional funding for the Education sector of £120m, which will go straight to school budgets over the next three years. My Departmental officials have written to all schools, including those in the Craigavon Area Learning Community, detailing the planned funding available for distribution to schools under the Common Funding Formula arrangements for the next three years. This information enables schools to review their own financial plans and to consider any actions, if required they need to take to ensure they are able to remain within budget. Whilst the additional allocations over the next three years are welcome, it is important to stress that these additional funds have alleviated rather than eradicated the financial pressures on all schools.

In addition to the notifications which have issued from my department, the Southern Education and Library Board continues to work with all schools in the Craigavon Area Learning Community to ensure that appropriate responses are made in relation to their financial position.

I continue to encourage schools to share their resources and expertise within Area Learning Communities for the benefit of pupils and the wider school community. Collaborative arrangements between schools that are viable and sustainable are more likely to guarantee the delivery of high quality education. I have therefore commissioned the Education and Library Boards working closely with CCMS and the other sectors to undertake strategic area planning to ensure that the education system comprises a network of viable and sustainable schools.

Ballykeigle Primary School, Comber: Future Viability

Mr McNarry asked the Minister of Education when he expects to make a decision on the future viability of Ballykeigle Primary School, Strangford.

(AQW 9744/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: The development proposal for the closure of Ballykeigle Primary School was published by the South Eastern Education & Library Board on 13 December 2011 and the statutory 2 month consultation period ended on 13 February 2012.

My decision on the development proposal was announced on Wednesday 21 March. I have approved the proposal for closure with effect from 31 August 2012 or as soon as possible thereafter.

I would like to pay tribute to all those connected with Ballykeigle Primary School who over many years have shown their commitment and dedication to pupils in the locality.

Education and Library Boards: Appointment of Chief Executive

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Education whether he will publish the agreed procedures for the appointment of a chief executive to an Education and Library Board.

(AQW 9771/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: I have arranged for the information requested to be placed in the Assembly Library.

Middletown Centre for Autism: Uptake of Services

Mr McKay asked the Minister of Education to detail the 37 special schools that have taken advantage of the services of the Middletown Autism Centre; and of which services each school has availed.

(AQW 9784/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: The services delivered to special schools by the Middletown Centre for Autism are shown in the table below:

Middletown Centre for Autism: Uptake of Services

Mr McKay asked the Minister of Education how many children have availed of the services of Middletown Autism Centre to date. (AQW 9814/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: Middletown Centre staff have provided direct interventions to 10 children on a rolling basis through an outreach service which offers trans-disciplinary assessment by advice and guidance teams, and have supported some 183 children with outreach support and a further 411 children by helping whole schools develop an ASD competent environment.

Schools Closures: NEELB

Mr McKay asked the Minister of Education (i) to list the closed schools in the North Eastern Education and Library Board area which have been vandalised in the last 24 months; (ii) what action the Board is taking to secure the sites; and (iii) for his Department's assessment of the action being taken to secure the sites.

(AQW 9816/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: The North Eastern Education and Library Board is responsible for securing the sites of closed schools in its area within the controlled sector only. Within the maintained sector responsibility is solely a Trustee matter.

Closed controlled schools vandalised within the last 24 months and the action taken by the Board to secure the sites are set out below.

| Closed School                 | Action taken to secure the building/site  |
|-------------------------------|---|
| Glenarm Primary School        | Windows and door boarded up.  |
| Ballee Primary School         | Site secured by existing 2.4m high boundary fence.  |
| Antiville Primary School      | The perimeter fence to secure the site is inspected and repaired as necessary.  |
| Ballypriormore Primary School | Windows and doors boarded up.   |
| Maghera High School           | Windows and doors boarded up. In light of several break-ins at this property, the Board has liaised with PSNI and is currently erecting fencing & signage around the school building. |

Boards are required to secure empty school sites while they seek to dispose of surplus properties, which should be within 3 years of a school closure. The department recognises the level of vandalism which persists with closed schools and expects all Boards to meet their obligations in relation to securing vacant sites.

My Department has facilitated discussions between the Strategic Investment Board's Asset Management Unit and the North Eastern Education and Library Board in pursuing efficient disposal of closed schools.

South Eastern Education and Library Board: Chief Executive

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Education (i) who sat on the interview panel for the post of Chief Executive of the South Eastern Education and Library Board; (ii) how many applications were received; (iii) how many candidates were interviewed; and (iv) to outline the role of his Department in the appointment of the successful candidate.

(AQW 9823/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd:

Temporary Appointment – SEELB Chief Executive

(I) Interview Panel

 Independent Assessor
 Deputy Secretary, Staff Commission ELBs

(ii) Applications Received

There was one application received for the post.

(iii) Number of Candidates Interviewed

There was one applicant interviewed.

(iv) ROLE OF THE DEPARTMENT

The role of the Department of Education is provided for in Article 30 of the Education and Libraries (N I) Order 2003.

The Department must approve the appointment. In order to obtain such approval the Board is required to submit to the Department the name(s), qualifications and previous experience of those applicants considered by the Board to be suitable for appointment, indicating the name of the person whom the Board proposes to appoint.

Article 30 of the above mentioned Order also provides for the role of the Staff Commission in the appointment of the Chief Executive of Education and Library Boards.

In accordance with the Appointments Procedure for Chief Executives, approved by the Staff Commission, the Permanent Secretary (or his/her nominee ) is entitled to attend the selection process as a non voting member of the panel.

Schools: Admissions to Preparatory Departments

Mr Douglas asked the Minister of Education to detail the number of admissions to the preparatory departments at (i) Campbell College, Belfast; (ii) Sullivan Upper School, Hollywood; (iii) Strathearn School, Belfast; and (iv) Bloomfield Collegiate School, Belfast, in each of the last five years.

(AQW 9829/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: The information requested is detailed in the table below.

Year 1 enrolments in specified preparatory departments, 2007/08 – 2011/12

| School name                       | 2007/ 08 | 2008/ 09 | 2009/ 10 | 2010/ 11 | 2011/ 12 |
|-----------------------------------|----------|----------|----------|----------|----------|
| Bloomfield Collegiate Prep. Dept. | 4        | 5        | n/a      | n/a      | n/a      |
| Campbell College Junior School    | 21       | 24       | 21       | 32       | 34       |

Note:

- 1 Bloomfield Collegiate preparatory department stopped admitting year one pupils in 2009/10 and closed in 2011/12.
- 2 Admissions taken as those pupils starting in Year 1.

School Leavers: Hearing Loss/Deafness

Mr Copeland asked the Minister of Education, for each of the last three years, to detail (i) the total percentage of school leavers with hearing loss/deafness who achieved at least five GCSEs at grades A*-C and who attended (a) a Hearing Impaired Unit; (b) Jordanstown School; (c) The Mary Hare School, Berkshire; and (d) a mainstream school, broken down by sector.

(AQW 9877/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: While the Department collects data on the achievement of school leavers with hearing impairments who attended schools here, the data does not identify separately those who had attended a hearing impaired unit.

The Department does not hold information on the attainment of pupils from here who attended the Mary Hare School but I understand that the school publishes information on the examination performance of all its pupils in its prospectus.

The table below provides information on the percentage of school leavers from (a) mainstream schools; and (b) Jordanstown School with hearing loss/deafness attending schools here who achieved at least five GCSEs at grades A*-C (including equivalents) in the years from 2007/08 to 2010/11:

% school leavers with hearing loss/deafness who achieved at least five GCSEs at grades A*-C (inc. equivalents)

School Leavers: Hearing Loss/Deafness

Mr Copeland asked the Minister of Education, for each of the last three years, to detail (i) the total percentage of school leavers with hearing loss/deafness who achieved three or more A Levels, or equivalent, at grades A-E and who attended (a) a Hearing Impaired Unit; (b) Jordanstown School ; (c) The Mary Hare School, Berkshire; and (d) a mainstream school, broken down by sector. (AQW 9878/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: While the Department collects data on the achievement of school leavers with hearing impairments who attended schools here, the data does not identify separately those who had attended a hearing impaired unit. It is important to note that Jordanstown School does not enter pupils for A Levels.

The table below provides information on the percentage of school leavers with hearing loss/deafness attending mainstream schools here who achieved three or more A Levels (including equivalents) in the years from 2007/08 to 2010/11:

| Year  | 2007/08 | 2008/09 | 2009/10 | 2010/11 <sup>2</sup> |
| % school leavers with hearing loss/deafness attending schools here who achieved three or more A Levels (including equivalents) <sup>1</sup> | 25      | 36      | 35      | Not yet available    |

1 School Leaver data for the 2010/11 academic year will be available by June 2012

Source: School Leavers Survey

The Department does not hold information on the attainment of pupils from here who attend the Mary Hare School but I understand that the school publishes information on the examination performance of all its pupils in its prospectus.

Schools: Ministerial Visits

Mr Storey asked the Minister of Education to detail the number of school visits he has made since coming into office, broken down by sector.

(AQW 9886/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: The numbers of schools I have visited since coming into office, broken down by sector are detailed below.

|                                     |    |
|-------------------------------------|----|
| Primary Controlled                  | 4  |
| Primary Maintained                  | 17 |
| Primary Other Maintained            | 3  |
| Secondary Roman Catholic Maintained | 13 |
| Secondary Controlled                | 5  |
| Secondary (Grammar) Voluntary       | 5  |
| Secondary Controlled Integrated     | 3  |
| Special School Controlled           | 5  |
| Special School Maintained           | 1  |

Schools: Promoting Healthy Eating

Mr Spratt asked the Minister of Education what action his Department is taking to promote healthy eating in schools.

(AQW 9887/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: My Department recognises that a healthy, balanced diet is vital for children's growth and development, and for their long term health and well being. It has been working for some time to improve the quality of food in schools here and compulsory nutritional standards for school lunches are now in place in all our schools. Standards for other food and drinks provided in schools (breakfast clubs, tuck shops, vending machines etc) have also been drawn up and schools are expected to adhere to them. They specify that items such as crisps, sweets and fizzy drinks should not be provided in school.

The revised curriculum also includes a Personal Development and Mutual Understanding strand for primary pupils and a Learning for Life and Work strand for postprimary pupils which allow pupils to explore issues such as the benefits of healthy eating and physical activity, the consequences of poor dietary choices, ways of achieving a healthy diet, the influences on their physical and emotional health and ways of developing their self-esteem.

In addition, it is a requirement of the revised curriculum for all children to undertake Home Economics at Key Stage 3. This provides opportunities for young people to develop their understanding of a healthy diet and the hygienic and healthy use of foods in the preparation of meals.

My Department is currently working with the Department of Health, Social Services and Public Safety (DHSSPS) to finalise a joint Food in Schools policy which advocates a whole school approach to all food and drinks provided in schools and that all children should develop the knowledge and skills necessary to make healthy food choices now and in later life.

Dunmurry High School: Proposed Closure

Mr Spratt asked the Minister of Education for an update on the proposed closure of Dunmurry High School.
(AQW 9889/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: The development proposal for the closure of Dunmurry High School was published by the South Eastern Education & Library Board on 13 December 2011 and the statutory 2 month consultation period ended on 13 February 2012.

Following the consultation period my officials collate responses and relevant information to inform my decision on a proposal. My aim is to make a decision within six weeks of the end of the consultation period. Nevertheless, given the significance of such decisions, particularly where, as for Dunmurry, they involve possible closure of a school, I will ensure that I take sufficient time to give the proposal the fullest consideration.

However, I do understand the need for certainty on the part of all those involved with the school and I will ensure that there is no delay in making my decision.

Secondary School Provision: South Belfast

Mr Spratt asked the Minister of Education what plans his Department has for secondary school provision in the South Belfast constituency in the next five years.
(AQW 9892/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: The management of the schools' estate is the responsibility of the relevant school managing authorities in the first instance.

I have commissioned the Education and Library Boards, working with CCMS and the other sectors, to undertake an Area Planning process which will result in a planned network of viable and sustainable schools to meet the needs of children and young people in an area. The initial Area Plans for the post-primary sector, which will include proposals for post-primary provision in the South Belfast area, are to be submitted to my Department by the end of March 2012.

Until the out workings of the Area Planning process have been determined and agreed, I cannot confirm how this will impact on future post-primary provision in the South Belfast area.

Quangos

Mr Weir asked Minister of Education to detail (i) the quangos to which his Department makes appointments; (ii) how many members are appointed; and (iii) the remuneration paid to (a) the Chair; and (b) other members.
(AQW 9895/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: The information requested is published in the Public Bodies and Public Appointments Annual Reports, which are available on the OFMDFM web-site. They can be accessed via the following link: <http://www.ofmdfmi.gov.uk/index/making-government-work/public-appointments/public-appointments-annual-reports.htm>

The most recent report covers the period 2010/11 and is also available from the Assembly Library.

Please note that, since the publication of the 2010/11 report, responsibility for the NI Special Educational Needs and Disability Tribunal transferred to the Department of Justice.

Cross-sectoral Education

Mrs Dobson asked the Minister of Education whether it is his intention to include a provision to enable new models of cross-sectoral education to be developed within the Bill to establish the Education and Skills Authority.
(AQW 9956/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: Existing legislation already provides scope for a range of approaches to sharing, including: integrated schools; joint-faith schools; area learning communities; and shared campus approaches such as the Lisanelly project.

I will shortly be establishing a ministerial advisory group on the promotion of sharing. I will consider the group's recommendations before deciding whether there is a need for legislative change.

Youth Policy: Priorities

Mr Agnew asked the Minister of Education (i) for an update on the Priorities for Youth Policy; (ii) to detail all meetings where the policy has been discussed; (iii) what actions were taken after the meetings, (iv) a timescale for the completion of the policy; and (v) what strategy is in place to guide youth services.

(AQW 9967/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd:

- (i) The draft policy is close to completion and will be published for public consultation in the near future.
- (ii) There have been a number of meetings where the policy has been discussed. The Department carried out extensive pre-consultation with young people, youth workers, volunteers and youth service managers. The draft policy has also been discussed as a formal agenda item, and on an ad-hoc basis, during a number of other meetings held during the policy pre-consultation phase. These discussions mainly involved youth organisational representatives providing specific views or seeking updates on the development of the policy.

In addition, a stakeholder group was established specifically to assist DE in the development of the draft policy and to enable officials to draw on the experience and involvement of the statutory and voluntary youth sector. This group has met on 7 occasions since April 2010 and will continue to meet until the policy is published in its final form.

- (iii) The outcomes of the discussions have had a significant influence on, and informed the development of, the draft policy document.
- (iv) The draft policy will be finalised as soon as possible following, and subject to the outcome of, the public consultation.
- (v) The sector continues to be guided by the Strategy for the Delivery of Youth Work 2005 – 2008 and the Department's priorities for education.

CPR Training: DE Staff

Mr Frew asked the Minister of Education what strategy is in place to train departmental staff in Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation. (AQW 9969/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: My Department ensures that a sufficient number of our staff complete a Health & Safety Executive approved '3 day First Aid at Work' training course. On completion of this training, successful candidates will be able to administer Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation.

Area-based Planning: Timescales

Mr Swann asked the Minister of Education whether he has directed his Department to expedite Area Planning in (i) any specific Education and Library Board; or (ii) within a specific area of any Education and Library Board.

(AQW 10039/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: I have not directed my Department to expedite Area Planning in any specific Education and Library Board or within a specific area of any Education and Library Board.

I have commissioned the five Education and Library Boards, working closely with CCMS and engaging with the other sectors, to undertake collective strategic planning of education provision on an area basis. The Terms of Reference and Guidance for the Area Planning process have been published on my Department's website (at <http://www.deni.gov.uk/area-planning-terms-of-reference.htm> and http://www.deni.gov.uk/area\_planning\_guidance\_-\_issued\_14\_february\_2012.pdf respectively).

Department for Employment and Learning

Unemployment: Craigavon

Mrs D Kelly asked the Minister for Employment and Learning, pursuant to AQW 7077/11-15, to outline the nature of the work that the 1718 unemployed people have been helped to attain; and for a breakdown of the age and gender of the participants in the Steps to Work programme.

(AQW 9557/11-15)

Dr Farry (The Minister for Employment and Learning): The Department does not track the nature of the work that unemployed clients attain.

A breakdown by age and gender of those who started on the Steps to Work programme in the Craigavon Local Government District from 1 April 2011 to 30 November 2011 is as follows:

Steps to Work starts in Craigavon Local Government District (LGD) (April to November 2011) (1) (2)

|--------------|------------|---------------------|------------|------------|---------------------------------|-----------------------|----------------------|
|              |            | Male                | Female     | % Male     | Less than 25 years of age       | 25 to 49 years of age | Over 50 years of age |
| Total | 711 | 502          | 209 | 71% | 332                      | 313            | 66            |

Notes:

- (1) Includes those who have received an invitation but have not yet attended their first interview.
- (2) Individuals were attributed to Local Government District on the basis of their postcode at date of data extraction from Client Management System (CMS). Clients with an incomplete postcode are recorded as 'Not Known'.
- (3) Participants age at start of Steps to Work episode.

St Mary's University College: Protected Status

Lord Morrow asked the Minister for Employment and Learning why St Mary's University College, Belfast is afforded protected status from any proposed merger.

(AQW 9638/11-15)

Dr Farry: The second stage of the study of the teacher education infrastructure in Northern Ireland will examine the options for a more shared and integrated system for the delivery and funding of teacher education. I have not announced nor referred to any form of protected status for any higher education institution.

Quangos

Mr Weir asked the Minister for Employment and Learning to detail (i) the quangos to which his Department makes appointments; (ii) how many members are appointed; and (iii) the remuneration paid to (a) the Chair; and (b) other members.

(AQW 9763/11-15)

Dr Farry: Full information about public appointments made by the Department for Employment and Learning is set out in the "Public Bodies and Public Appointments Annual Report", published by OFMDFM. The most recent report covers the period 2010/11 and is available from the OFMDFM website or from the Assembly library (Reference number R351.41609 NOR).

Training for Success: Contracts

Mr P Ramsey asked the Minister for Employment and Learning for an update on the current position of the Training for Success contracts that are due to expire at the end of March 2012.

(AQW 9987/11-15)

Dr Farry: To ensure that training provision under Training for Success and ApprenticeshipsNI continues to be in place, my Department has offered existing training suppliers an extension to their current contract for a short period after 31 March 2012.

Thereafter, it is envisaged that my Department, via the Central Procurement Directorate, will be in a position to issue Intention to Award letters in respect of the new training provision. However, I must emphasise that this proposed approach and way forward is subject to an on-going legal challenge.

Department of Enterprise, Trade and Investment*Debt Advice Service: Tender Process

Ms Ritchie asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment why there has been a delay in issuing a tender for Debt Advice 2012/15, initially due in November; and when the tender will be issued.

(AQW 9364/11-15)

Mrs Foster (The Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment): Since October 2011 officials from the Department of Enterprise, Trade and Investment have worked with the Central Procurement Directorate (CPD) to establish a public procurement competition for the provision of an integrated debt advice service.

CPD worked with DETI to review the lessons learned from earlier debt advice competitions and to ensure that the requirements and documentation for the new competition took account of any issues that were raised previously. In addition CPD asked the Departmental Solicitor's Office to review the final version of the documents. This process involved extensive consultation and extended the time taken to finalise this competition.

The Central Procurement Directorate finalised the documentation for the integrated debt advice service competition and issued these via eSourcingNI on 16 March 2012. The new service should be operational with effect from 1 July 2012.

In the meantime, the existing debt advice contracts delivered by A4e, Advice NI and the Northern Ireland Association of Citizens Advice Bureaux have all been extended until 30 June 2012.

Jobs: Creation

Mr Flanagan asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment, for each of the last five years, to detail (i) the number of jobs created or promoted by her Department or its arm's-length bodies; (ii) the number of jobs lost; and (iii) the net figure between both.

(AQW 9413/11-15)

Mrs Foster: Invest NI is the agency through which the Department of Enterprise Trade & Investment (DETI) provides funding to grow the private sector in Northern Ireland.

Invest NI's focus is to increase business productivity, the means by which wealth can be created for the benefit of the whole community. It does this by supporting projects that aim to create jobs, an aspect of the agency's work that is becoming increasingly important given the need to increase employment levels following the impact of the downturn, and those that promote innovation and capability development. Although not directly related to job creation, innovation and capability development activities are designed to increase business competitiveness which generates growth, leading eventually to increased employment opportunities.

Table 1 below shows the number of jobs promoted by Invest NI in each of the 5 years between 1st April 2006 and 31st March 2011.

Table 1: Invest NI Jobs Promoted (2006-07 to 2010-11)

| Financial Year | Jobs Promoted |
|----------------|---------------|
| 2006-07        | 5,343         |
| 2007-08        | 4,552         |
| 2008-09        | 5,293         |
| 2009-10        | 4,113         |
| 2010-11        | 5,312         |
| Total   | 24,612 |

Notes:

New Jobs represent the number of jobs expected to be created by the project.

Invest NI revises performance data on a regular basis to ensure that it reflects implemented projects; therefore, the data above may differ to previously published information.

In addition, Invest NI supported over 8,500 jobs through the Enterprise Development Programme (EDP), delivered in partnership with Enterprise NI. These jobs are detailed in Table 2 below.

Table 2: Invest NI Jobs Supported through EDP (2006-07 to 2010-11)

| Financial Year | Jobs Promoted |
|----------------|---------------|
| 2006-07        | 1,806         |
| 2007-08        | 2,058         |
| 2008-09        | 1,431         |
| 2009-10        | 1,321         |
| 2010-11        | 1,888         |
| Total   | 8,504  |

Notes:

Invest NI revises performance data on a regular basis to ensure that it reflects implemented projects; therefore, the data above may differ to previously published information.

These figures are based on an estimate of jobs created by an individual EDP offer. This estimation process is derived from an independent evaluation of the programme.

and (iii)

The number of jobs lost and the net change in employment in assisted clients is not available at present. Invest NI is currently developing its information systems to enable this data to be collated; and it is also working with external researchers to consider the feasibility of measuring these aspects of employment change using information from business survey data.

Aviation: International Flights

Mr Weir asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment how many international flights leave each week from (i) Belfast International Airport; (ii) the George Best Belfast City Airport; and (iii) the City of Derry Airport.

(AQW 9493/11-15)

Mrs Foster: The Department of Enterprise Trade and Investment (DETI) does not collect information in respect of the international flights which operate from Northern Ireland's three main airports. However, DETI understands that international flights proposed for Summer 2012 are as follows:

- 117 international flights (operated by easyjet, Aer Lingus, Jet 2 and Continental Airlines) will depart Belfast International Airport per week;
- 20 international flights (operated by bmibaby) will depart George Best Belfast City Airport per week; and
- 5 international flights (operated by Ryanair) will depart the City of Derry Airport per week.

Information is not available in respect of holiday charter flights.

Aviation: International Routes

Mr Weir asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment how many international routes are available each week from (i) Belfast International Airport; (ii) the George Best Belfast City Airport; and (iii) the City of Derry Airport.

(AQW 9494/11-15)

Mrs Foster: The Department of Enterprise Trade and Investment (DETI) does not collect information in respect of the international routes available from Northern Ireland's three main airports. However, DETI understands that international routes proposed for Summer 2012 are as follows:

- 18 international routes to destinations in 9 countries will be available each week from Belfast International Airport;
- 7 international routes to destinations in 3 countries will be available each week from George Best Belfast City Airport; and
- 3 international routes to destinations in 2 countries will be available each week from the City of Derry Airport.

Information is not available in respect of holiday charter flights.

Inward Investors: Visits to Northern Ireland

Mrs D Kelly asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment how many visits has InvestNI facilitated for Foreign Directors, in each of the last three years.

(AQW 9513/11-15)

Mrs Foster: In the last three years Invest NI has arranged 388 visits by potential inward investors. These visits are broken down as follows:

- 146 in 2008-09,
- 129 in 2009-10; and
- 113 in 2010-11.

In order to report on visit numbers Invest NI records the company name, where they visit and other relevant information, which does not include the visitors' position within the company; therefore, we cannot report on the number of 'Foreign Directors' that have undertaken visits.

Land Bank: Upper Bann

Mrs D Kelly asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment, pursuant to AQW 7079/11-15, how she is promoting the development of the remaining available land in the Land Bank.

(AQW 9515/11-15)

Mrs Foster: The remaining available land referred to in AQW 7079/11-15, as with all Invest NI owned property, is actively marketed to foreign and indigenous investors through the agency's NIBusinessInfo.co.uk website. This also identifies private sector provision.

Invest NI undertakes bespoke property searches for companies to try and identify suitable property solutions. These searches provide details of available property that meets the requirements of the inquiring business.

When foreign investors visit Northern Ireland, or indigenous businesses are progressing their property needs, the agency works closely with companies to arrange a visit programme to see, at first hand, a range of solutions to meet their specific business needs and any other particular requirements they might have.

From 2008/09 to 2010/11 there have been seven inward investor visits to the Upper Bann Parliamentary Constituency Area. Invest NI cannot keep accurate records of the number of local company visits as these businesses often carry out their own visits independent of the agency.

Whilst Invest NI does offer guidance, it must be stressed that it is the potential investor's decision to make the final selection of those locations on its visit programme itinerary. This may be based upon a number of factors, some of which are outside Invest NI's immediate control, including perceived availability of skills and workforce, transport links, availability of suitable property and the presence of existing sectoral clusters within Northern Ireland. Investors may choose to expand at locations where they have a pre-existing presence.

It is also important to recognise, that the final decision on location rests solely with the investor.

Football: Milk Cup

Mr Swann asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment, pursuant to AQW 882/11-15, to detail the results of the independent research survey on visitor numbers and the economic impact of the Milk Cup tournament; and how much public sector funding the commerciality strategy identified for the tournament.

(AQW 9545/11-15)

Mrs Foster: The results of the independent evaluation commissioned by Northern Ireland Tourist Board (NITB) have not yet been finalised.

Invest NI: Global Offices

Mr Flanagan asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment to detail (i) the location of each InvestNI office around the world; (ii) the number of staff employed in each office; (iii) the rental costs of each office; (iv) the employment costs associated with each office or location; and (v) the total annual running cost of each office.

(AQW 9552/11-15)

Mrs Foster: Invest NI has a network of overseas representation focused on supporting Northern Ireland businesses to grow and compete internationally and attracting new investment to Northern Ireland.

The following table lists all locations where Invest NI has an ongoing presence in the market. It indicates whether the office is leased by Invest NI and also provides, where appropriate, the number of representatives, rental costs, and total annual running costs including rates, telecoms and utilities etc. The total associated employment costs have been detailed separately below.

| Location   | Number of representatives | Rental costs (£000's) | Total annual running costs (£000's) |

Notes:

- 1 Rental costs are based on current annual cost of lease agreements in Invest NI's name, with the exception of Mumbai, Bangalore and Jeddah. These offices are co-located with the Foreign and Commonwealth Office and are based on a fixed cost per head. The rental costs detailed above for these offices are based on current headcount.
- 2 Invest NI engages contractors in Tokyo, Toronto, Shanghai and Tapei to provide representative services including provision of personnel and office accommodation. It is not possible to split the costs so the total annual amount is included in the table above under "Total Annual Running Costs".
- 3 Total annual running costs are based on actual and projected spend for the current financial year, with the exception of the Tokyo, Toronto, Shanghai and Tapei offices. As per note 2, the total annual running costs are based on the annual service provider fee.
- 4 Total annual running costs are also inclusive of rental costs as detailed in the table above.
- 5 The Taipei office is funded from the Shanghai office and it is not possible to split out costs.
- 6 All costs are calculated using exchange rates at 21 March 2012 (source: Oanda currency converter website).
- 7 Bangalore running costs are paid from Mumbai office and it is not possible to split out costs.

For data protection reasons we cannot disclose employment costs on a per office basis (as there are a number of offices with only one staff member). The total employment costs for the current level of overseas representation is £2,698,728 per annum. This does not include the cost of personnel provided by contractors in the Tokyo, Toronto, Shanghai and Tapei offices.

In addition to the above list, Invest NI has in-market advisors in Moscow, Johannesburg, Sao Paulo, Mumbai, The Nordics, Czech Republic, Bulgaria, Romania and Poland. However, these advisors are contracted on a call-off basis and there are no ongoing employment, rental or running costs. These advisors are not included in the table above.

Offshore Renewable Energy Leasing Rounds

Mr McMullan asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment what role she, or her Department, has in the Offshore Renewable Energy Leasing Rounds and in setting the leasing tariffs.

(AQW 9582/11-15)

Mrs Foster: The Crown Estate announced the formal launch of the Leasing Round in December 2011 and, as the owner of the seabed, operates a competitive tendering process which it has developed for all UK Leasing Rounds. DETI is not involved in this process, nor is it involved in setting the leasing tariffs as this is a commercial matter between The Crown Estate and the bidders.

Prior to the launch of the Leasing Round, my Department's work on the development of the Offshore Renewable Energy Strategic Action Plan and associated environmental studies has been an integral part of the development of this Round.

Media Communications Protocols

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment what media communications protocols exist between her Department and each of its arm's-length bodies; and to publish these protocols.

(AQW 9588/11-15)

Mrs Foster: The Department does not have a media communications protocol.

Small and Medium-sized Enterprises: £50 Million Growth Loan Fund

Mr McGlone asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment to detail the criteria that will be used to assess the applications for the £50 million loan fund for small and medium-sized enterprises as outlined in the Programme for Government.

(AQW 9606/11-15)

Mrs Foster: The £50 million Growth Loan Fund will be managed on a fully commercial basis by an independent FSA approved Fund Manager. Applicants will need a business plan and up to date historical financial records to progress and will need to clearly demonstrate their ability to service the loan repayments.

Loans will be approved by the Fund Manager and terms will be negotiated with applicants on a case by case basis, taking account of risk levels involved.

The Fund Manager is managing a similar fund in the North East of England and will adopt similar processes here.

Companies must meet the normal criteria for European Union funding support which is that they are involved in Manufacturing or Tradable Services.

The Fund will not have any specific sector specific bias or focus. Under the EU Risk Capital guidelines the following are, however, specifically excluded:

- Coal
- Steel
- Shipbuilding and

- Enterprises in difficulty (within the meaning of the Community guidelines on State Aid for rescuing and restructuring firms in difficulty).

Key aspects of the Fund include:

- A £50m Fund – the focus of the fund will be the provision of unsecured debt.
- Target range: individual investments of between £50k-£500k
- Target businesses: SMEs operating in manufacturing and tradable services. The focus of the Fund will be on SMEs with growth prospects (typical funding for working capital, product development, sales & marketing development and capital investment). The majority of deals are expected to be with established companies with positive (export) trading history, which are seeking access to growth finance.
- Other funding sources will have been exhausted.
- Price will be targeted to reflect unsecured/cashflow lending risk.
- The Fund will be managed on a fully commercial basis by the Fund Manager.

Invest NI: Business Start-up Programme

Mr B McCrea asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment for her assessment of the statement in the minutes of the InvestNI Top Management Team meeting on 5 October 2011 that the interim arrangements for the delivery of the Business Start Programme are working well.

(AQW 9607/11-15)

Mrs Foster: My assessment (and assumption) regarding this set of minutes is that they reflect an accurate record of Invest NI's Top Management Team Meeting of 5 October 2011.

Invest NI: Business Start-up Programme

Mr B McCrea asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment, pursuant to AQW 6708/11-15 which stated that Invest NI was not delivering a Business Start Programme, why the minutes of InvestNI's Top Management Team meeting on the 5 October 2011 states that the Managing Director of Clients reported that the interim arrangements for the delivery of the Business Start Programme were working well to date.

(AQW 9608/11-15)

Mrs Foster: As you are aware, Invest NI has had to put in place an interim service relating to business starts. This is as a result of ENI's legal action which prevents delivery of a business start programme.

The minutes of Invest NI's Top Management Team Meeting dated 5 October 2011 reflect the Invest NI view that arrangements for putting in place this interim service were progressing well.

Invest NI: Business Planning 1:1 Sessions

Mr B McCrea asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment, pursuant to AQW 6708/11-15 and given the reply stating that Invest NI is not providing mentoring hours, to explain what is meant by the phrase on the Go For It website that InvestNI will provide a business planning 1:1 session to review and finalise a business plan.

(AQW 9609/11-15)

Mrs Foster: Invest NI does, as part of its core service, meet individuals and businesses on a 1:1 basis to provide advice on a range of issues including planning for their business.

Invest NI is not mentoring these individuals but is providing information, advice and signposting as appropriate to help the individual develop and complete their business plan.

Invest NI: Start-up Business Plans

Mr B McCrea asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment, pursuant to AQW 6708/11-15, why InvestNI does not keep a record of the number of business plans produced by start-up businesses.

(AQW 9610/11-15)

Mrs Foster: Pursuant to AQW 6708/11-15, Invest NI has since been able to complete its records of the number of business plans produced by those who have enquired about starting a business since October 2011.

In the period October 2011 to February 2012 Invest NI responded to 3216 enquiries, held 88 business clinics, attended by 668 individuals and met another 444 individuals, which in turn resulted in 301 completed business plans.

Invest NI: Business Start-up Programme

Mr B McCrea asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment whether an interim Management Information System is in place to monitor activity on the current business start-up programme being offered by InvestNI.

(AQW 9611/11-15)

Mrs Foster: Invest NI is not delivering a Business Start Programme. Invest NI does have a system in place to track the start up enquiries which Invest NI is responding to during the period of delay as a result of the legal challenge by Enterprise Northern Ireland.

City of Culture 2013: NITB Financial Assistance

Mr Eastwood asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment for an estimate of the financial assistance the NI Tourist Board will inject into a tourism marketing campaign for Derry City of Culture 2013.

(AQW 9644/11-15)

Mrs Foster: Northern Ireland Tourist Board (NITB) has been supporting Derry City Council and ILEX in the run up to 2013, to ensure the City can develop an exciting and comprehensive events programme. NITB has committed £700,000 towards the UK City of Culture programme of events, subject to the necessary approval. In addition NITB's Tourism Events Fund 2013/14 will open Autumn 2012.

NITB will be working with the Londonderry Culture Company, to develop and align marketing campaign plans for 2013. Government approval of campaign expenditure 2012/13 and 2013/14 has not been secured. As a destination of significant importance to delivering the ni2012 programme, it is planned that Londonderry receives approximately 20% of NITB campaign marketing investment.

Our Time, Our Place: Fermanagh

Mr Flanagan asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment for her assessment of the level of promotion that Co Fermanagh has received from the Tourist Board as part of the 'Our Time, Our Place' programme.

(AQW 9647/11-15)

Mrs Foster: The Northern Ireland Tourist Board's (NITB) remit is to promote the whole of Northern Ireland to both the domestic and Republic of Ireland markets with a view to increasing visitor numbers and spend. Each year, NITB undertakes a series of seasonal marketing campaigns in both markets. The huge variety of products, regions and events featured from throughout Northern Ireland are based on what motivates our key customer segments, which have been identified through substantial research.

These award winning campaigns have successfully driven both domestic and Republic of Ireland visitor numbers and spend over recent years, with both markets performing extremely well. Last year's campaigns cumulatively delivered a return on investment of £1:£18.

To date Co Fermanagh has featured extensively across the ni2012 campaign in various media channels across both the Northern Ireland and Republic of Ireland marketplace. These media channels have included TV, outdoor, local and national press, press releases and digital activation through www.ni2012.com and other NITB social media channels.

Tourism Events Funding Programme 2011-12

Mr Flanagan asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment to detail, for each district council area, the (i) events that received funding from the Events Funding Programme in 2011/12; (ii) level of funding each event received; (iii) number of visitors each event attracted; (iv) value of the domestic and international media coverage each event received; and (v) level of economic return each event generated.

(AQW 9650/11-15)

Mrs Foster:

- (i) Events that received funding from the Northern Ireland Tourist Board's Tourism Events Funding Programme in 2011/12; and the
- (ii) Level of funding each event received is detailed below at Appendix 1.

NITB is still processing grant payments to applicants for the financial year 2011/12 so the final funding allocated cannot yet be confirmed. As part of the post event evaluation the following information is being collated:

- (iii) Number of visitors each event attracted: Applicants must provide a breakdown of actual spectator numbers, participant numbers and bed-nights compared to projected figures submitted at application stage;
- (iv) Value of the domestic and international media coverage each event received: Applicants must provide a breakdown of actual media coverage achieved compared to selected impacts at application stage; and
- (v) Level of economic return each event generated: The baseline economic return expected of events receiving funding is 5:1 for National Events and 8: 1 for International Events. The return on investment is calculated on the amount of funding NITB has contributed to an event and not calculated on the entire financial contributions received from other sources. For every £1 of NITB money invested in National Events - NITB would expect the event to generate an aimed £5 return on their investment. For every £1 of NITB money invested in International Events - NITB would expect the event to generate an aimed £8 return on their investment.

Tourism Events Funding Programme 2012-13

Mr Flanagan asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment to detail, for each district council area, the (i) events that will receive funding under the Events Funding Programme for 2012/2013; (ii) level of funding each event received or will receive; (iii) number of visitors each event is likely to attract; (iv) value of the domestic and international media coverage each event is predicted to generate; and (v) level of economic return each event is predicted to generate.

(AQW 9651/11-15)

Mrs Foster: Northern Ireland Tourist Board (NITB) has made offers totalling £1,309,500 to 51 events in 2012/13, 41 national events were awarded £754,500 and 10 international events where awarded £555,000.

The level of funding each event has been awarded is detailed below at Appendix 1.

As part of the post event evaluation the following information will be collated:

Applicants must provide a breakdown of actual spectator numbers, participant numbers and bed-nights compared to projected figures submitted at application stage.

Applicants must provide a breakdown of actual media coverage achieved compared to selected impacts at application stage.

The baseline economic return expected of events receiving funding is 5:1 for National Events and 8:1 for International Events. The return on investment is calculated on the amount of funding NITB has contributed to an event and not calculated on the entire financial contributions received from other sources.

Tourism Events Funding Programme 2012-13

Mr Flanagan asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment what alternative criteria have been considered for introduction for applications to the Events Funding Programme.

(AQW 9652/11-15)

Mrs Foster: The next open call for applications to the Tourism Events Funding Programme is likely to occur in autumn 2012. Events taking place between 1 April 2013 and 31 March 2014 will be eligible to apply for funding, subject to necessary budget approval.

No decision has yet been taken regarding the criteria which will apply, however these will be aligned to identify tourism priorities in the draft Tourism Strategy for Northern Ireland to 2020.

Twelfth of July: DETI Funding

Mr Flanagan asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment to detail the funding her Department has spent on promoting the Twelfth of July in each of the last five years; and from which budget was this funding sourced.

(AQW 9653/11-15)

Mrs Foster: The Northern Ireland Tourist Board has not received any request for funding from the Orange Order or the Royal Black Preceptory in the last five years. The current Tourism Events Fund closed on the 7 October 2011 and NITB plans to open its 2013/14 Tourism Event Fund in autumn 2012.

For six years the NITB has worked closely with Orange Order in developing the tourism flagship programme, this has involved staff time but no direct funding.

Invest NI: Business Start-up Programme

Mr B McCrea asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment what information is provided by the Interim Management System that is in place to monitor activity on the current InvestNI business start-up programme.

(AQW 9662/11-15)

Mrs Foster: Invest NI is not delivering a Business Start Programme. Invest NI does have a system in place to track the progress of start up enquiries which Invest NI is responding to during the period of delay as a result of the legal challenge by Enterprise Northern Ireland.

The system provides number of enquiries, number of business clinics and attendees, number of meetings with individuals and number of business plans completed by individuals.

Invest NI: Local Enterprise Agencies

Mr B McCrea asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment, pursuant to AQW 6708/11-15, to outline the nature of InvestNI's engagement with stakeholders; and whether this engagement has been extended to the Local Enterprise Agency network.

(AQW 9663/11-15)

Mrs Foster: Invest NI has an active and on-going relationship with DEL and its service providers, many of whom are Local Enterprise Agencies, in relation to the Self Employment strand of its Steps To Work programme. Participants on the Steps To Work programme are routinely referred to Invest NI for advice and support in relation to starting their businesses.

Invest NI also has an agreement with Princes Trust NI (PTNI) that all enquiries received from 18-24 years olds will be referred to the Trusts' Enterprise Programme through which they can receive additional support. Invest NI engages directly with these individuals through the Invest NI business clinics and 1:1 advisory sessions.

Invest NI is also referring individuals to the Local Enterprise Agencies where appropriate, particularly with reference to the Enterprise Northern Ireland Loan Fund.

Allied Irish Bank/First Trust Bank: Job Losses

Mr Flanagan asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment for an update on any discussions she has had with the management of Allied Irish Bank/First Trust Bank and the Irish Bank Officials Association regarding the recent announcement that 2,500 jobs are to be lost within the company.

(AQW 9690/11-15)

Mrs Foster: My Department recognises the importance of growing the financial sector in Northern Ireland. Indeed, the main Northern Ireland banks make an important contribution to financial sector employment here. I am therefore very concerned to learn of the recent announcements in relation to job losses in the banking sector, including the decision by Allied Irish Bank, the parent company of First Trust in Northern Ireland, to cut 2500 jobs across the company.

I fully recognise the challenges banks are facing as they seek to recapitalise and restructure and the implications this may have on local operations and staff. I will be meeting representatives from the Irish Bank Officials Association (IBOA) on 27 March to discuss these developments.

GAA, Rugby and Football Bodies: Meetings

Mr Flanagan asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment, for each of the last three years, to detail (i) the dates of any meetings she has held, or the Northern Ireland Tourist Board has held, with (a) the GAA; (b) Ulster Rugby or the Irish Rugby Football Union; and (c) the Irish Football Association; (ii) the reasons for any difference in the level of engagement; and (iii) what was discussed at each meeting.

(AQW 9692/11-15)

Mrs Foster: The information requested for the period 1 January 2009 – 31 December 2009 is not readily available and could only be obtained at disproportionate cost to the Northern Ireland Tourist Board (NITB). The following information however is readily available:

- NITB held meetings with the Gaelic Athletic Association (GAA) on 8 March 2011, 22 July 2011 and 22 March 2012.
- NITB held meetings with Ulster Rugby/the Irish Rugby Football Union (IRFU) on 10 January 2012 and 28 February 2012; and
- NITB held meetings with the Irish Football Association (IFA) on 12 April 2010, 18 November 2010 and 21 March 2012.

As part of the development of the ni2012 programme the main local sporting organisations have been identified as key stakeholders in delivering the core aims of the ni2012 campaign, that is, repositioning Northern Ireland as a positive place to work, live, invest, study and visit. NITB has been engaging with all key sporting organisations in 2011 and 2012 including the GAA, Ulster Rugby, The Irish Football Association and The European Golf Tour.

Discussions at each meeting has included:

- Opportunities for partnership in the ni2012 programme.
- Develop closer relationships and understand and develop opportunities for promoting Northern Ireland as a tourist destination through sport; and
- Driving an enhanced sense of civic pride across the population in line with a key ni2012 objective.

Renewable Energy: Newbuild Financial Incentives

Mr Dallat asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment what financial incentives are available to promote renewable energy in new builds, particularly in relation to solar panels and geothermal technology.

(AQW 9758/11-15)

Mrs Foster: My Department currently provides financial incentives for a range of renewable electricity technologies, through the Northern Ireland Renewables Obligation (NIRO), and intends to introduce incentives for renewable heating technologies through the Renewable Heat Incentive (RHI).

Solar PV panels are incentivised by the NIRO which provides a revenue stream for the renewable electricity generated in the form of Renewables Obligation Certificates (ROCs) which can be sold to electricity suppliers.

It has been proposed to incentivise the uptake of solar thermal panels, and other renewable heating technologies, under a Northern Ireland RHI. Under these proposals the RHI would support non-domestic installations in the first instance with domestic installations being eligible at a later date; in the interim, capital grants in the form of Renewable Heat Premium Payments would be available to domestic consumers. Geothermal technologies would also be eligible for incentives under the RHI, with specific grant support available for domestic customers wishing to install ground source heat pumps.

Following the consultation, further analysis was undertaken and I plan to make an announcement shortly on the final design of the Northern Ireland RHI. Further information on these measures can be found at www.energy.detini.gov.uk.

Invest NI: Market Research

Mr B McCrea asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment whether InvestNI commissioned IPSOS Mori to undertake market research into stakeholder perceptions of InvestNI in 2010/11; and if so, when the results of this research will be published. (AQW 9772/11-15)

Mrs Foster: Aside from dealing with businesses and client companies, Invest NI also engages with a wide range of stakeholders including elected representatives, business organisations and the media, financial and economic institutions and seeks feedback on its performance, communication and engagement with them.

In February 2011, Invest Northern Ireland (Invest NI) commissioned Ipsos MORI, an independent market research organisation, to conduct research and seek the views of a range of representatives from local business organisations, the media, financial and economic institutions and elected representatives.

Whilst the survey covered a broad range of stakeholders, with a diverse range of, sometimes competing, interests, it is encouraging that knowledge of Invest NI and its remit among its stakeholders is high and impressions of the organisation are generally positive. Opinions on Invest NI were considered to have improved over year prior to the report, despite the difficult economic climate.

Relationships with those stakeholders with whom Invest NI has the most engagement are clearly stronger than with the wider stakeholder group. This is not surprising and even inevitable, and I am aware that the Chief Executive and leadership team continually strive to improve relationships with the wider stakeholder group.

Fuel Poverty: Social Tariff System

Mrs D Kelly asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment what representations her Department has made to energy companies regarding the establishment of a social tariff for (i) older people; (ii) people classed as fuel poor; and (iii) any other group of people. (AQW 9905/11-15)

Mrs Foster: I am already on record as stating that the introduction of social tariffs would be extremely complex and unlikely to solve the hardships caused by fuel poverty. As such, I have made no representations to energy companies and have no plans to introduce social tariffs at this time.

Quangos

Mr Weir asked Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment to detail (i) the quangos to which her Department makes appointments; (ii) how many members are appointed; and (iii) the remuneration paid to (a) the Chair; and (b) other members. (AQW 9996/11-15)

Mrs Foster: The information requested is set out in the, "Public Bodies and Public Appointments Annual Report 2010-11", published by OFMDFM which lists all of my Department's non departmental public bodies, i.e. Invest NI, Northern Ireland Tourist Board, Health & Safety Executive NI and the General Consumer Council NI.

The Annual Report is available from the Assembly Library under Reference number, R351.41609 NOR.

Department of the Environment

NIEA: Staff

Mr Campbell asked the Minister of the Environment to detail (i) the number of staff currently employed by the Northern Ireland Environment Agency; and (ii) how many have (a) been recruited; and (b) left the agency in the last 12 months. (AQW 2496/11-15)

Mr Attwood (The Minister of the Environment): The number of staff working in the Northern Ireland Environment Agency at 1 October 2011 was 692. The Department is also seeking to fill 41 vacancies. In the past 12 months four staff have temporarily joined the Agency. During the same period 11 staff left the Agency.

Tamboran Resources Ltd: Planning Permission

Mr Agnew asked the Minister of the Environment whether his Department has granted permissions for Tamboran to carry out work within, or in close proximity to, an Area of Special Scientific Interest; and if so, to detail any permissions granted. (AQW 5644/11-15)

Mr Attwood: The Planning Statistics Team has undertaken an electronic search for planning applications under the name of Tamboran. This returned no results. Planning permission has not been applied for under the name of Tamboran.

In addition, NIEA has advised that Tamboran has not sought permission to work within or in close proximity to any Areas of Special Scientific Interest. I will pursue this matter if further information is provided.

Planning: Enforcement

Mr Swann asked the Minister of the Environment how many people have been evicted from (i) caravans; (ii) mobile homes; and (iii) permanent homes as a result of planning enforcement action in each council area, in each of the last three years.

(AQW 6336/11-15)

Mr Attwood: The Department does not have the power to carry out evictions. However, where development has been carried out without the benefit of planning permission, the Department has a general discretion to take enforcement action when it regards it as expedient to do so, having regard to the provisions of the development plan and any other material considerations. Enforcement Action may seek the cessation of a use or the removal of structures.

Planning: Enforcement in Bangor

Mr Easton asked the Minister of the Environment how many businesses in the Bangor area have had enforcement action taken against them as a result of starting building work before planning permission was granted, in each of the last two financial years.

(AQW 6611/11-15)

Mr Attwood: It is important to note that Enforcement Action has a precise legal meaning in Article 67A (2) of the Planning (Northern Ireland) Order 1991. For the purposes of the Order (a) the issue of an enforcement notice; or (b) the service of a breach of condition notice, constitutes taking enforcement action.

In the last two financial years, the Department has taken no enforcement action against any businesses in North Down.

Vehicle Licensing: Untaxed Cars

Mr Moutray asked the Minister of the Environment how many people were detected for driving an untaxed motor vehicle in each of the last three years, broken down by council area.

(AQW 6637/11-15)

Mr Attwood: Vehicle licensing is an excepted matter which is the responsibility of the Secretary of State for Transport. It is administered in Northern Ireland by the Driver & Vehicle Agency (DVA) under an agreement between the Department of the Environment and the Department for Transport.

DVA receives reports of vehicles allegedly being used on the roads without valid tax discs, and these are checked manually against the vehicle register. The Agency is unable to provide a breakdown of these detections by district council area. However, the total number of reports received for each of the last three years was as follows.

| Year | Unlicensed Detection Reports |
|------|------------------------------|
| 2009 | 40,103                       |
| 2010 | 34,360                       |
| 2011 | 37,779                       |

This work is part of a wider enforcement effort in which the PSNI are responsible for the detection of uninsured vehicles and vehicles being used without the appropriate test certificate.

Taxis: Driver Licences

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of the Environment to detail (i) the requirements for a person wishing to operate as a taxi driver; (ii) whether any specific criminal offences lead to a statutory bar for taxi drivers; and (iii) what security checks are carried out, and how often the checks are reviewed once a licence has been granted.

(AQW 6675/11-15)

Mr Attwood:

- (i) In determining applications for taxi driver licences, the law requires the Department to be satisfied that a prospective taxi driver is "a fit and proper person" to hold such a licence. There is no statutory definition of "a fit and proper person". Each individual's case is considered on its merits and the Department's objective is to seek to maintain a proper balance between the safety of the public and the need to allow for the rehabilitation of offenders.

Previous convictions, if any, provide an indication of an individual's propensity towards violence, dishonesty, or to other unacceptable conduct, and may also indicate their likely attitude towards the high level of responsibility placed upon, and expected of, a taxi driver. In assessing the merits of each individual's case, their convictions, if any, are taken at face value with the penalty imposed providing an indication as to the seriousness with which the Court viewed a particular offence.

For these reasons, the Department obtains details of applicants' criminal records via an enhanced disclosure procedure from ACCESS NI. These reveal not only details of all of an individual's convictions, both spent and unspent, but also details of any relevant 'non-conviction' information about him or her that the police are holding. In general, applicants are expected to have a clear record of at least three years for serious convictions and 12 months for more minor convictions. I have made clear to officials that non-conviction information must be material, reliable and certain before it can be relied upon in making judgments.

- (ii) At present, while there are no specific criminal offences which lead to a statutory bar for taxi drivers, those applicants with offences of a sexual nature are unlikely ever to be granted taxi driver licences. Where an application has not been granted, applicants have the statutory right of appeal to the Courts. However, I have asked officials to provide further advice on the issue of a bar on granting a license to those, e.g, on the sex offender register.
- (iii) Taxi licences last for 5-years, after which they must be renewed and fresh repute checks are required. In addition, as a condition of being licensed, taxi drivers must inform the Department of any convictions arising during the currency of the licence. The Department also receives details of convictions incurred by taxi drivers from the PSNI on a weekly basis, following successful prosecutions through the Courts and the Department can then take action, where appropriate, to suspend or revoke taxi driver licences.

Listed Buildings: Repairs

Miss M McIlveen asked the Minister of the Environment to outline the rationale behind the Environment's Agency's policy of offering financial assistance to a maximum of only 75 percent of the professional fees incurred during a course of repairs to a listed building.

(AQW 7520/11-15)

Mr Attwood: Historically, the rate of grant-aid for professional fees was lower, and matched that of the level of listed building grant-aid being offered. In the late 1980s, when the level of grant-aid being offered was reduced, the current rate of 75% was introduced. The rationale behind this policy was to encourage applicants to use professional advice to achieve better conservation schemes, along with a higher standard of workmanship. The current level of professional fees is one of the areas being considered in the ongoing review of listed building grant-aid; other areas include grant-aid provision and funding rates, specifically with regard to listed buildings at risk. This review will include a 12 week public consultation exercise - expected to start this July - with the finalised scheme in place by the start of 2013.

Wildlife Liaison Officers: NIEA/PSNI

Mr Agnew asked the Minister of the Environment whether the new environmental crime partnership between the PSNI and the Environment Agency will include the recruitment of more Wildlife Liaison Officers within the PSNI,

(AQW 7527/11-15)

Mr Attwood: The PSNI/NIEA partnership involves the two organisations working together to maximise the effective investigation of a wide range of environmental crime. At present PSNI and NIEA are running a pilot project in part of Northern Ireland and the results of this will inform both organisations about the best use of resources in the medium to long term. Neither organisation wishes to pre-judge the results of the pilot project.

Listed Buildings: Unauthorised Work

Mr Campbell asked the Minister of the Environment how many times unauthorised work has been carried out on listed buildings in each of the last five years; and the number of prosecutions as a result.

(AQW 7722/11-15)

Mr Attwood: The Department's IT system was upgraded in March 2009 and only live case information as of 1 April 2009 was backdated into the upgraded system; hence information is only available from that date. The number of cases investigated in each of the last 3 business years categorised on the Department's IT system with a breach type of Works to Listed Buildings is set out in the table below.

| Business Year   | 2009/10 | 2010/11 | 2011/12 | Total |
| Number of Case with Breach type of Works to Listed Building | 37      | 36      | 26      | 99    |

Of the 99 cases investigated 62 cases have been closed and 37 remain under investigation. Details of Reasons for Closure are set out in the table below.

| Reason For Closure          | Number of Case Closed |
|-----------------------------|-----------------------|
| No Breach                   | 20                    |
| No Expedient                | 19                    |
| Remedied                    | 15                    |
| Planning Permission Granted | 8                     |
| Total                | 62             |

The Department investigates all alleged breaches of planning control. It is important to note, however, that the vast majority of breaches of planning control are resolved informally through negotiation with the owner/occupier or through the submission and consideration of a retrospective planning application. Whilst no prosecutions have resulted from the above investigations, 20% of the 99 cases when investigated did not breach planning control; 15% were remedied and 8% received formal consent.

I believe that effective enforcement must be seen as a deterrent to individuals who flout planning legislation and I have sent out a strong message to my staff that robust enforcement is an essential element of a balanced planning system.

Northern Ireland Executive Office in Brussels

Mr Kinahan asked the Minister of the Environment how his Department will work alongside the four departmental staff recently appointed to the Northern Ireland Office in Brussels.

(AQW 7748/11-15)

Mr Attwood: The four Desk Officer posts have been created to assist the NICS to progress the Executive's "Winning in Europe" strategy. The post-holders will operate directly for, and to the benefit of, the four Thematic Priority Groups under the auspices of the NICS Interdepartmental Barroso Taskforce Working Group.

The secondment will provide each Thematic Group with a dedicated, embedded resource to strengthen our EU engagement and maximise our access to European funding opportunities.

The Desk Officer in Brussels assigned to the Climate & Energy Thematic Group will report directly to DOE officials who will be responsible for setting the objectives and priorities for the work to be undertaken in agreement with the other members of the cross departmental Climate & Energy Thematic Group.

The Desk Officer will work to develop EU contacts, knowledge and skills in line with the priorities set by the Thematic Group and will be in regular contact with their line management within the Department. The principal aim will be to identify funding opportunities and facilitate the application process to maximise the potential for successful drawdown of EU funds for Northern Ireland. The record of our drawdown of European funding programmes, particularly FP7, is capable of major improvement.

Listed Buildings: Differentiated Grant Aid Needs

Miss M McIlveen asked the Minister of the Environment what consideration his Department has given to the specific differentiated grant aid needs of those responsible for the maintenance of listed buildings which are (i) private homes; (ii) commercial premises; and (iii) public buildings.

(AQW 7842/11-15)

Mr Attwood: The listed buildings grant-aid scheme - for the repair and maintenance of historic fabric - is targeted at such works to the listed building itself. The rate of grant-aid is standardised at 35%. This percentage reflects the up-front difference in cost between using modern materials and techniques as opposed to appropriate and approved conservation based materials and techniques. However, in taking account of the needs of some private owners, a higher level of grant-aid is available for those on certain qualifying benefits, and also to owners of thatched buildings, for repair work to thatch roofs. Thatched properties are recognised as the equivalent of a 'threatened species'. Large commercial organisations are ineligible for grant-aid, as are buildings in public (government) ownership, and I intend that other organisations with significant assets – such as the Harbour Commission and the universities – should also not be entitled to grant aid.

Human Resources

Dr McDonnell asked the Minister of the Environment how many staff are employed in his Department's Human Resources section.

(AQW 7879/11-15)

Mr Attwood: 43 staff are employed in the Department's Human Resources section. A breakdown is shown below.

| Grade               | Headcount | FTE     |
|---------------------|-----------|---------|
| Grade 5             | 1.00      | *0.75   |
| Grade 6             | 1.00      | *0.75   |
| Grade 7             | 2.00      | 2.00    |
| Deputy Principal    | 7.00      | 7.00    |
| Staff Officer       | 9.00      | *8.10   |
| Executive Officer 1 | 4.00      | 4.00    |
| Executive Officer 2 | 4.00      | 3.75  |

* Role also includes non-HR activities including security, accommodation and communications.

** Includes part time workers.

Buses: Accidents Involving Schoolchildren

Miss M McIlveen asked the Minister of the Environment since 2006 how many school children have been killed or seriously injured immediately before boarding or after alighting from a bus.

(AQW 8138/11-15)

Mr Attwood: The table below gives the latest confirmed statistics for the years 2006 – 2010. The figures for 2011 will not be available until May/June 2012.

The figures provided include all those children aged 4-18 killed or seriously injured pedestrian casualties on a journey to/from school who were injured before boarding or after alighting from a bus.

| Year         | Killed   | Seriously Injured | Total     |
|--------------|----------|-------------------|-----------|
| 2006         | 1        | 4                 | 5         |
| 2007         | 0        | 2                 | 2         |
| 2008         | 0        | 4                 | 4         |
| 2009         | 0        | 8                 | 8         |
| 2010         | 0        | 5                 | 5         |
| Total | 1 | 23         | 24 |

PSNI Statistics Branch, Lisnasharragh, is the custodian of all source statistics on the number of people killed or injured on our roads. The exact information requested is not routinely available to the Department and would require a manual trawl of the records by PSNI to identify figures which fell within the parameters of the question. To establish the exact information requested may, in some circumstances, require a direct approach to the individual investigating officers. If a further breakdown of the figures presented is required a request should be sent to the Chief Constable.

Runkerry Golf Resort: Planning Application

Mr Campbell asked the Minister of the Environment, in relation to the Runkerry Golf Resort planning application, whether sufficient safeguards will be put in place to ensure that the biodiversity of the landscape is protected.

(AQW 8220/11-15)

Mr Attwood: My decision to grant planning permission for the proposed Golf Resort at Runkerry is accompanied by rigorous environmental conditions which will mitigate the impacts of the development on the ecology and biodiversity within the site and the local area. I believe that these safeguards are sufficient to minimise the immediate impact of the development on the nature conservation interests within the site and over time restore and even enhance biodiversity, particularly within the sand dune habitat.

Notably, an Environmental and Habitat Management Plan must be submitted and agreed by my Department before any work on site begins. This plan will be monitored throughout the construction and operational phases of the development through the submission of regular reports. The Environmental and Habitat Management Plan will include a scheme for the application of herbicide, pesticide and fertilizer in order to protect sensitive species within the sand dunes and some priority plants may also have to be relocated.

Other conditions will require the developer to avoid the most sensitive areas within the sand dunes completely and restrict their construction activities to minimise the impact on badgers and nesting birds, and to limit the potential for sediment release into adjoining watercourses. Lighting within the site will also be strictly controlled to minimise the impact on bats which use the site for commuting and foraging.

Historic Buildings: Tendering Process

Miss M McIlveen asked the Minister of the Environment what consideration his Department has given to any efficiencies that could be made to the Environment Agency tendering process in relation to historic buildings.

(AQW 8260/11-15)

Mr Attwood: Most of NIEA's work in regard to historic buildings relates to their identification and recording as listed buildings; their management as such; to the support of actions by private owners, not least through offering advice and grant aid, and; through outreach.

NIEA has tendered contracts for the Second Survey, and is intending to commission a baseline condition survey this year. In the past elements of engineering, planning and architectural advice has also been commissioned.

Procurement work carried out by the Agency is subject to legislation, NICS procurement rules and is in keeping with DFP guidance. This means that the process undertaken must comply with standard advice which includes efficiencies. However, irrespective of that the Agency has also worked to introduce efficiencies, where possible, in regard to the work commissioned. For example, the Second Survey contract issued in 2010 followed tests in 2008 and 2009, and as a result is much more focused and 'efficient' than previous contracts for this project. Further detail on this is provided in the answer to AQW 8259/11-15.

In relation to LB grant aid, in general, NIEA does not procure the work. Procurement is organized by the individual applicants. However in relation to a very small number of schemes that are funded by multiple government departments, with a majority of funding from government and as a result which fall within Central Procurement Directorate Procurement Guidance Note 01/07 The Use Of Grant For Procurement, other government departments (or, exceptionally, NIEA may) have a role to play in following public procurement requirements).

Another area in which the NIEA: Built Heritage Directorate (BHD) procures work to historic buildings – and also through CPD - is in relation to Urgent Works notices (these are small in number). For speed, the necessary works are carried out under the Maintenance Term Contract (MTC) using the CPD appointed maintenance contractor. This contractor is appointed for a five year period, under government procurement guidelines for works not exceeding £400K.

Finally, NIEA also owns a few historic buildings. These tend to be located within country parks such as Scrabo Country Park (Scrabo Tower) or the Roe Valley Country Park (multiple historic buildings including various ones that are roofless or derelict). Work has been undertaken in the past year to the Roe Valley Power Station and Scrabo Tower was conserved a few years ago. Specialist conservation work on these properties can be undertaken by the Agencies specialist conservation workforce, (which includes stone masons etc and which maintain specialist conservation skills that are not readily available in the construction industry in general) however other works are tendered through CPD and in accordance with standard government practice. The existing rules and EU requirements ensure various efficiencies.

Planning Policy Statement 6: Areas of Townscape Character

Mr Elliott asked the Minister of the Environment whether he intends to change the Areas of Townscape Character Planning Policy. (AQW 8303/11-15)

Mr Attwood: The addendum to Planning Policy Statement (PPS) 6 'Areas of Townscape Character' sets out the planning policy which applies within Areas of Townscape Character (ATCs). Operational experience is that this policy is generally working effectively to maintain or enhance the distinctive character of these designated areas.

I can therefore advise that I have no plans to change the policy at this time.

Planning: Enforcement Time Limits

Mr Craig asked the Minister of the Environment to outline the new time limits introduced for enforcement actions; and how they will affect long-term cases.

(AQW 8578/11-15)

Mr Attwood:

(i) new time limits introduced for enforcement action

The Planning Act (Northern Ireland) 2011 provides the legislative basis for the reform of the Northern Ireland planning system, including the transfer of the majority of planning functions to district councils. A key aim of the reform is to introduce a strengthened, balanced and simplified approach to planning enforcement.

The introduction of a standard 5 year time period and its introduction in advance of the transfer to councils are set out in sections 132 and 248 respectively. On the 1 December 2011 the single 5 year rule was brought in to provide a more efficient system of control, less confusion and greater clarity in dealing with breaches of planning control.

(ii) how they will affect long term cases

The new standard 5 year time limit rather than undermining the Department's enforcement activity actually extends the previous 4 year time period available to the DOE providing enforcement staff with an additional year for taking action against breaches of operational development such as unauthorised buildings, engineering and mining operations. The change of time limit for other breaches of planning control from 10 to 5 years will mean that action will be taken more quickly.

In anticipation of the new time period a review of enforcement cases was conducted which prioritised work on urgent cases which may have been close to gaining immunity under the 5 year limit. This work resulted in more than 40 notices being served for unauthorised waste and minerals cases and more than 70 enforcement notices issued from the local Area Offices over the period Sept – Nov 2011.

Crossmaglen Republican Monument: Planning Application

Mr Allister asked the Minister of the Environment when the Republican monument in Crossmaglen Square received planning permission.

(AQW 8584/11-15)

Mr Attwood: My officials have advised me that a planning application for a landscaping scheme in Crossmaglen square, including environmental improvements, was approved on 9 July 1985 (P/1985/0544). The approved drawing includes reference to an existing monument located at the north western part of the Square. The Department has no record of having received an application for the erection of the monument.

Crossmaglen Republican Monument: Planning Application

Mr Irwin asked the Minister of the Environment whether a planning application for the Republican monument in Crossmaglen Square was submitted; and what was the outcome.

(AQW 8640/11-15)

Mr Attwood: My officials have advised me that a planning application for a landscaping scheme in Crossmaglen square, including environmental improvements, was approved on 9 July 1985 (P/1985/0544). The approved drawing includes reference to an existing monument located at the north western part of the Square. The Department has no record of having received an application for the erection of the monument.

Planning Policy Statement 18: Community Benefits

Mr Flanagan asked the Minister of the Environment to list the organisations or individuals who advocated the removal of references to community benefits from the draft PPS 18.

(AQW 9297/11-15)

Mr Attwood: In total, 90 separate consultation responses were received to draft PPS18. Of these, TCI Renewables, RES, Renewables UK (formerly BWEA), and Turley Associates while not opposed to the concept of community benefits, all sought the removal of such references within the context of the policy document. The Royal Town Planning Institute sought the delivery of community benefits through Article 40 agreements only.

In addition, Lisburn City Council, Carrickfergus Borough Council, SWAMP and NILGA (supported directly by Newry and Mourne and Coleraine District Councils) all expressed reservations about citing community benefits within the PPS.

Planning Applications: Consultation Waiting Times

Mr Flanagan asked the Minister of the Environment to detail the average waiting time in each planning area in each of the last six years for a consultation on a planning application with (i) Roads Service; (ii) the Environment Agency; (iii) NI Water; (iv) the Environmental Health Department of Councils; and (v) Ofcom.

(AQW 9409/11-15)

Mr Attwood: Tables 1-5 below show the average consultation response times by planning area for Roads Service, the Environment Agency, NI Water, Environmental Health and Ofcom in each of the last six years.

Notes: The year 2011/2012 in Tables 1-5 above provides data up to 13th March 2012. For some areas there were one or two consultations only, hence the large average number of days to respond (for example, the Northern area Ofcom consultations in 2009/10). The figures provided were taken from information on the Planning Portal and includes transit times where relevant.

The advice provided by a consultee is one of a number of factors to be considered in reaching a balanced decision in any planning application. It is recognised that the final determination in relation to a planning application rests with the Planning Authority who will consider all relevant material considerations.

Limerick Point, Cushendall: Coastline Survey

Mr McMullan asked the Minister of the Environment whether his Department will conduct a survey and produce a report on the coastline known as Limerick Point, Cushendall.

(AQW 9427/11-15)

Mr Attwood: My Department has no current plans to survey and produce a report on the coastline at Limerick Point. My Department will consider conducting a survey on a coastline area, if there are reasons of nature conservation or earth science so to do. I would welcome hearing from public representatives in this regard.

Layde Graveyard, Cushendall

Mr McMullan asked the Minister of the Environment whether his Department will undertake a review and report on the condition of the Layde Graveyard, Cushendall, including the car park.

(AQW 9428/11-15)

Mr Attwood: Only the ruins of Layde Church itself is the responsibility of the Department, and it is looked after by the Northern Ireland Environment Agency Built Heritage Directorate, as a monument in State Care. The graveyard is in the ownership of Moyle District Council and the car park is in the ownership of the National Trust. Thus it would be more appropriate for those organisations, as owners, to review and report on the condition of the graveyard and car park.

Habitats Directive: Ministerial Meeting

Mr Weir asked the Minister of the Environment for an update on his meeting with EU officials on the Habitats Directive, with particular reference to Strangford Lough.

(AQW 9431/11-15)

Mr Attwood: I recently gave a full account to the Environment Committee, of my assessment on the position of DOE and DARD in relation to Strangford Lough following the Package Meeting held by the European Commission in January. At this briefing I indicated that the Commission was expected to renew its infringement action against the two Departments shortly. Officials advised the Committee on 15/3/12 that the EU had now written to confirm that the process of infraction was now commencing.

In the meantime Officials in the two Departments are considering additional measures to ensure that remaining Modiolus reefs are adequately protected.

Planning Application: Tesco Superstore at Castlereagh Road, Belfast

Mr Agnew asked the Minister of the Environment for an update on the status of the planning process for the proposed Tesco supermarket on the Castlereagh Road, Belfast.

(AQW 9519/11-15)

Mr Attwood: As you may be aware there is a long and protracted planning history to this site, dating back to the 1990s.

My officials are currently dealing with the discharge of planning conditions relating to a planning permission, which was granted in 2010, for a Tesco superstore on the site. If these conditions are discharged, the applicant will be in a position to commence development. The permission remains valid until 2015.

Council for Nature Conservation and the Countryside: Dr Tony Bazely

Mr Agnew asked the Minister of the Environment, given his position in Tamboran, why Tony Bazely was appointed to the Council for Nature Conservation and the Countryside; and whether he will reconsider this appointment.

(AQW 9520/11-15)

Mr Attwood: I reappointed Dr Tony Bazely to the Council for Nature Conservation and the Countryside due to his experience as a geological surveyor. My decision also took account of Dr Bazely's performance and conduct during his first term of appointment. His advice for example, to the Department on the designation of ASSIs for their earth science interests has been valuable. I believe that people should be judged and assessed in the context of all of their contributions and views. Given this I believe that Dr. Bazely has made many valuable contributions.

My officials have confirmed that any conflict or perceived conflict of interest for any members on the Council is, and would be, carefully managed. The declaration of potential conflicts of interest is a standing agenda item at the beginning of each CNCC meeting, and all conflicts of interest are managed appropriately by the Chair of the Council.

Any member of CNCC faced with a conflict of interest must acknowledge this interest when required and take no part in any of the discussions or ensuing decisions of the Council on the matter.

Driving Test: Importance of Cyclist Safety

Mr Weir asked the Minister of the Environment what importance is given to cyclist safety in the driving test.
(Aqw 9538/11-15)

Mr Attwood: The theory and practical elements of the driving test in Northern Ireland are based on European legislation and are similar in design to the rest of the UK. The test is designed to assess drivers' knowledge, ability and skills to drive safely.

The theory section of the car test is a two-part computer based test designed to assess candidates' knowledge of driving theory, the rules of the road and best driving practice. The first section consists of 50 multiple choice questions, which cover a wide range of topic areas, one of which is vulnerable road users including cyclists. When preparing for the theory test it is recommended that candidates study the learning material available. All publications include information and guidance relating to cyclists.

The second part of the theory test is a screen based hazard perception test during which the candidate is shown a series of video clips and asked to identify hazards. The video clips used contain a number of cyclist related hazards. However, there is no guarantee each candidate will be shown a clip which features a cyclist but the random usage of clips means they must be prepared to identify all types of hazards including those involving cyclists. The demonstration clip used, prior to commencing the test, is specifically designed and features a cyclist as the identifiable developing hazard.

The practical driving test is developed to assess a candidate's practical skills and understanding of the Highway Code. Driving test routes are designed to take account of different types of road layout, junctions and static hazards such as traffic lights, pedestrian crossing etc. There is no guarantee that cyclists will be encountered during the test.

All practical driving tests take account of a candidate's ability to cope with on-road situations. If they encounter a cyclist during test, they are assessed on their ability to deal with the situation safely.

Vehicle Licensing: Sale of Cherished Number Plates

Mr Flanagan asked the Minister of the Environment how much money his Department has generated through the sale of cherished number plates in each of last seven years.
(Aqw 9553/11-15)

Mr Attwood: The revenue generated through the sale of cherished number plates in each of the last seven years is detailed below. As vehicle licensing is an excepted matter, the revenue is remitted direct to the Department for Transport.

| Year | Total Revenue |
|-------------|----------------------|
| 2005        | £1,606,233.94        |
| 2006        | £2,200,390.58        |
| 2007        | £1,988,014.28        |
| 2008        | £1,084,976.14        |
| 2009        | £1,038,371.16        |
| 2010        | £1,051,082.78        |
| 2011        | £833,801.84          |

Councils: Items Valued at over £350,000 in Storage

Mr Flanagan asked the Minister of the Environment to list the items valued at over £350,000, including their individual value, that are held in storage by each district council.
(Aqw 9556/11-15)

Mr Attwood: Each council has reported that it does not hold in storage any item valued at over £350,000.

Listed Buildings: Disabled Access

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of the Environment what financial assistance is available to owners of listed buildings or buildings of historical importance, which are used as business premises and open to the public, for adaptations for disabled access in line with EU regulations.

(AQW 9591/11-15)

Mr Attwood: The department has authority under Article 106 of The Planning (NI) Order 1991 to provide grant-aid for the '... repair and maintenance of a listed building...' and therefore focuses on the repair of historic fabric. Adaptations for disabled access are not regarded as a 'repair', but as an alteration, and listed building grant-aid is not provided for assistance with such adaptations, for any type of listed building.

I understand that there is a reduced or zero rate of VAT for alterations to buildings for people with disabilities; the following link provides more detail, but it may only be applicable to private homes - <http://www.hmrc.gov.uk/vat/sectors/builders/disabled.htm>

The NIEA conservation architects are available to all owners of listed buildings for advice and guidance, including adaptation proposals to provide accessibility to their properties.

Cyclists: Road Accident Deaths

Mr Weir asked the Minister of the Environment how many cyclists have been killed in road accidents in each of the last five years and what is this figure as a percentage of all road deaths.

(AQW 9592/11-15)

Mr Attwood: PSNI Statistics Branch, Lisnasharragh, are the custodians of all source statistics on the number of people killed or injured on our roads.

PSNI have provided the following information, which gives the latest confirmed statistics for the years 2007 – 2011.

|       | Pedal cyclists killed | All road users killed | Cyclist deaths as proportion of all road deaths |
|-------|-----------------------|-----------------------|---|
| 2007  | 2                     | 113                   | 1.8%  |
| 2008  | 2                     | 107                   | 1.9%  |
| 2009  | 0                     | 115                   | 0.0%  |
| 2010  | 0                     | 55                    | 0.0%  |
| 2011* | 2                     | 59                    | 3.4%  |

* Note: 2011 statistics are provisional and may be subject to minor amendment.

High Hedges Act (Northern Ireland) 2011

Mr Weir asked the Minister of the Environment to provide an estimate of the number of applications under the High Hedges Act that might be lodged in its first year of operation.

(AQW 9600/11-15)

Mr Attwood: A scoping consultation carried out in 2005, identified that there could be a backlog of 800 hedge problem cases which would be required to be determined by the councils in the first 2-3 years that the legislation is in operation. These would be spread across Northern Ireland. However, it is hoped that the legislation coming into operation will encourage informal resolution of many of these potential complaints.

Once the backlog of complaints has been dealt with, it is anticipated that a much smaller number of new cases will arise each year.

Taxis: Rural Impact of Taximeters

Mr Lynch asked the Minister of the Environment whether any research or rural proofing has been carried out on the potential impact of introducing a taxi metering system and the subsequent on rural fares.

(AQW 9614/11-15)

Mr Attwood: In developing the proposals for the level of maximum fare, consultants carried out a significant level of research in both rural and urban areas of Northern Ireland on the costs of providing a taxi service. Their report concluded that there was no significant difference in the costs of providing a taxi service between urban and rural areas and that it would be appropriate to set a single maximum fare across the whole of Northern Ireland. I wish to stress that it is a "maximum" fare not a minimum fare as some have wrongly suggested.

The Department recognises that current fare rates in rural areas can be significantly lower than in urban areas and the setting of a maximum fare will allow drivers to choose to continue to set the rates as they do currently. At present the regulated fare for Belfast Public Hire licensed taxi drivers allows them to charge less than the metered fare either by agreeing a fare with a passenger in advance of the journey or by deciding on and providing for a regular discount which applies to all fares.

Prior to consulting on the Taxi Fare and Taximeter proposals, my Department researched the potential costs associated with the introduction of mandatory taximeters throughout Northern Ireland. A draft Regulatory Impact Assessment was completed and formed part of the consultation. The consultation on Taxi Fare and Taximeter regulations closed on 17 February and officials will now complete the Regulatory Impact Assessment taking into account any responses received to the consultation and further evidence of the impact of the proposals.

Taxis: Contract Accounts

Mr Lynch asked the Minister of the Environment how contract accounts would function under a taxi metering system. (AQW 9616/11-15)

Mr Attwood: The proposal is to introduce a maximum taxi fare across Northern Ireland to prevent overcharging. Contracts for which the cost of a journey would not exceed the maximum fare for that journey would be unaffected by the change. However, it would not be acceptable for the contract journey to be more expensive than the regulated fare.

The consultation on the Taxi Fare and Taximeter proposals closed on 17 February and once the responses have been fully analysed I will decide the way forward and will include the policy for contract accounts in my consideration.

Taxis: Rural Impact of Taximeters

Mr Lynch asked the Minister of the Environment (i) whether there are any plans to introduce a taxi metering system in rural areas; (ii) to provide an estimate of the costs of introducing a system; (iii) whether financial assistance would be offered to small businesses; and (iv) whether training would be provided for businesses on the use of the meters.

(AQW 9619/11-15)

Mr Attwood:

- (i) From November 2011 to 17 February 2012 the Department consulted on proposals to introduce a Northern Ireland wide maximum taxi fare and linked to this is a requirement to have all taxis fitted with taximeters regardless of whether they work in urban or rural areas.

The introduction of a regulated taxi fare would allow taxi drivers to cover their costs, including the cost of a taximeter, and protect customers from being overcharged for taxi journeys. Officials are currently analysing responses to the consultation and, based on this assessment, I will make my decision on the most appropriate means of bringing forward a regulated taxi fare to the benefit of taxi providers and users.

- (ii) It is estimated that a taximeter and receipt printer will cost between £450 and £600. Experience from other jurisdictions is that many drivers choose to hire the equipment.
- (iii) The Department is not able to offer direct financial assistance; however, the proposed maximum fare level has been calculated to allow the taxi driver to cover the costs of the taximeter and receipt printer.
- (iv) Taxi drivers will be able to choose the make and model of taximeter they use and the manufacturer or their agent will be able provide appropriate training on that particular machine.

Taxis: Fixed Penalty Notices

Mr Lynch asked the Minister of the Environment how many fixed penalty tickets the Driver and Vehicle Agency (DVA) issued to taxi drivers in the Fermanagh area in 2011; and what is the extent of the DVA's powers in relation to these cases.

(AQW 9621/11-15)

Mr Attwood: The Road Traffic (NI) Order 2007 secured new powers to aid enforcement of driver and vehicle related offences through the issue of fixed penalty notices as an alternative to prosecution.

Graduated fixed penalties are issued by Driver & Vehicle Agency enforcement officers. Depending on the nature of the offence, a driver found to be non compliant with legislative requirements may be offered a fixed penalty in lieu of prosecution at court.

Since February 2011, a total of 74 taxis have been scrutinised in the Fermanagh area for compliance with regulatory requirements. In that period, the following sanctions have been imposed.

| Nature of Sanction                           | Number Issued | Amount of Penalty |
|--|---------------|-------------------|
| Non Endorsable FPN (£30)                     | 2             | £60               |
| Endorsable FPN (£60 + 3PP)                   | 1             | £60               |
| Endorsable FPN (£200 +3 PP)                  | 1             | £200              |
| Partial Test (Prohibition Acquittal £ 19.50) | 19            | £310.50           |
| Full Test (Prohibition Acquittal £138.50)    | 11            | £1523.50          |

| Nature of Sanction  | Number Issued | Amount of Penalty      |
|---------------------|---------------|------------------------|
| Prosecution Reports | 3             | Awaiting Court Outcome |

In February 2012, the range of taxi related offences for which fixed penalty notices can be issued by a vehicle examiner was further extended as part of phase 2 of the graduated fixed penalty and deposit scheme.

Cycling Proficiency Scheme

Mr Agnew asked the Minister of the Environment (i) what proportion of primary school children participated in the Cycling Proficiency Scheme in each of the last three years; (ii) what steps will be taken to increase participation; (iii) for his assessment of whether the cycling proficiency scheme is offered at too late a stage for children, particularly given the Programme for Government's goal to see 36 percent of all primary school children walking or cycling as their main mode of transport; (iv) for his assessment of whether the cycling proficiency scheme should include road training, given that it is included in the Sustrans Bike It Scheme; and (v) what steps are being taken to integrate the promotion of cycling through the school travel plans, the Cycling Proficiency Scheme and cycling safety.

(AQW 9626/11-15)

Mr Attwood:

- (i) The Cycling Proficiency Scheme (CPS) is offered to all of the 849 primary schools in Northern Ireland. CPS is aimed mostly at children in Primary 7, although some schools do offer CPS to Primary 6 and occasionally Primary 5 children. However, they must be over nine years of age before they are allowed to sit the final test. In the academic year 2008/2009 569 primary schools and 8851 pupils participated in the scheme. In 2009/2010 581 schools and 9447 pupils participated and in 2010/2011 it was 575 schools and 8670 pupils.
- (ii) Road Safety Education Officers (RSEOs) actively promote all aspects of road safety education through the schools system. The ideal would be to have all primary schools delivering CPS but, as road safety is not a compulsory part of the school curriculum, my Department cannot require this. However, RSEOs will continue to attempt to persuade all primary schools to accept CPS as part of their road safety education programme.
- (iii) CPS is aimed primarily at Primary 7 pupils. This is consistent with best practice guidelines as established by a working group including the Royal Society for the Prevention of Accidents (ROSPA), the Department of the Environment, Transport and the Regions (DETR), the Association of Chief Police Officers (ACPO), Road Safety Officers and the Cyclists Touring Club (CTC). The guidelines state that a minimum age of nine years should be set for off-road cyclist training and a minimum age of ten years should be set for cyclist training courses that include an on-road training element. Below this age, children have difficulties in successfully coping with the twin tasks of managing a bicycle and negotiating traffic situations. Policy responsibility for encouraging cycling and modal shift rests with DRD and the DOE has no specific remit or statutory authority to promote or encourage the uptake of cycling. The DOE does have a statutory duty to promote road safety and one of the ways it does this is through the provision of CPS. It is solely concerned with the CPS as a road safety measure.
- (iv) The Sustrans Bike It scheme is a sustainable transport scheme with the principal aim of increasing the number of children who choose cycling as a means of travelling to and from school. CPS is purely a road safety scheme. CPS does have an on-road element to it. This is offered to every primary school, though many choose not to include the on-road cycling experience for safety and public liability reasons.

As already covered above at item (iii), policy responsibility for encouraging cycling and modal shift rests with DRD and the DOE has no specific remit or statutory authority to promote or encourage the uptake of cycling. It is worth noting however, that as cycling rates increase, so do fatalities and injuries to cyclists. This was a point made by the Prime Minister during a debate in the House of Commons on 22 February 2012, when he referred to a 7% increase in cyclists deaths over the previous year and stated 'Any one who has got on a bicycle, particularly in one of our busiest cities, knows that you are taking your life in your hands every day you do so'. As CPS is solely a road safety measure, there are no plans to integrate it with the promotion of cycling.

Taxis: Operator Licences

Mr Lynch asked the Minister of the Environment whether a controller employed by a taxi firm requires an operator's licence.
(AQW 9629/11-15)

Mr Attwood: From 1 September 2012 anyone operating a taxi service will require an operator licence. Taxi drivers must either have their own operator licence or be named on one as an affiliated driver. All taxi vehicles must also be registered on an operator licence. There is no requirement for managerial or administrative employees working for an operator to be named on that operator licence.

Taxis: Driver Tests

Mr Lynch asked the Minister of the Environment why an individual no longer has to take a test to acquire a taxi licence.
(AQW 9630/11-15)

Mr Attwood: The taxi driver test was withdrawn in 1996 due to the similarities with the category B car driving test, with the aim of reintroducing the test in a more robust and appropriate format at a later date. The Taxis Act 2008 contains powers to develop such a test, and it is currently planned for re-introduction from September 2014.

Dog Control Orders: Right to Appeal

Mr Moutray asked the Minister of the Environment what action he is taking to prevent a large volume of complaints about the lack of rights to appeal Dog Control Orders, given that the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 has led to a large volume of complaints being made in England and Wales.

(AQW 9664/11-15)

Mr Attwood: The right to appeal against a dog control order was not an issue raised by the vast majority of those who responded to the consultation exercise on the new regime under the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act (Northern Ireland) 2011. I note the apparent experience elsewhere but the Department has not received any notice that a large volume of complaints may arise following the introduction of dog control orders in Northern Ireland.

The Department is keen to provide a more streamlined system for dog control than that which currently exists under the dog byelaws regime. However, whilst the new system does not incorporate an appeal mechanism, it does require councils to consult with local residents on any proposal to make a dog control order. Departmental guidance on dog control orders prepared for district councils makes it clear that they must give due consideration to any representations they receive as a result of the consultation process and that failure to do so could make any subsequent dog control order vulnerable to challenge in the Courts.

Dog Control Orders: Overly Restrictive Approach

Mr Moutray asked the Minister of the Environment what action he intends to take to address the actions of local councils that are implementing overly restrictive Dog Control Orders under the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act ( Northern Ireland ) 2011.

(AQW 9665/11-15)

Mr Attwood: The Department has no evidence to suggest that councils will take an overly restrictive approach in implementing dog control orders.

District councils may make dog control orders, provided that they are satisfied that an order is justified, and they have followed the necessary procedures. The consultation process in the area where a proposed order is intended to be made will highlight any issues local residents, including dog owners, may have.

In comprehensive guidance for councils on dog control orders, the Department makes it clear that when deciding whether to make a dog control order, a council will need to balance the interests of those in charge of dogs against the interests of those affected by the activities of dogs. They will need to bear in mind the need for people, in particular children, to have access to dog-free areas and areas where dogs are kept under strict control, and the need for those in charge of dogs to have access to areas where they can exercise their dogs without undue restrictions. A failure to give due consideration to these factors could make any subsequent dog control order vulnerable to challenge in the Courts.

The Department's guidance also advises councils to bear in mind that the introduction of a dog control order may not always be the most appropriate course of action and that education also has an important part to play in promoting responsible dog ownership. The Department will wish to monitor the overall effectiveness of the new regime in due course.

Cycling Proficiency Scheme

Mr Weir asked the Minister of the Environment how many schools currently operate the Cycling Proficiency Scheme.

(AQW 9670/11-15)

Mr Attwood: The Cycling Proficiency Scheme (CPS) is offered to all of the 849 primary schools in Northern Ireland. The majority of schools prefer to deliver the training in the final term, therefore no figures are available for the 2011 – 2012 academic year. However, the scheme is active in approximately 580 primary schools.

Cycling Proficiency Scheme

Mr Weir asked the Minister of the Environment whether there are any plans to shift the focus of the Cycling Proficiency Scheme for pupils in P7 to pupils in P3 and P4.

(AQW 9671/11-15)

Mr Attwood: The Cycling Proficiency Scheme (CPS) is offered to all of the 849 primary schools in Northern Ireland and is aimed primarily at children in Primary 7, although some schools do offer CPS to Primary 6 and occasionally Primary 5 children. However, they must be over nine years of age before they are allowed to sit the final test.

This is consistent with best practice guidelines as established by a working group including the Royal Society for the Prevention of Accidents (ROSPA), the Department of the Environment, Transport and the Regions (DETR), the Association of Chief Police Officers (ACPO), Road Safety Officers and the Cyclists Touring Club (CTC). The guidelines state that a minimum age of nine years should be set for off-road cyclist training and a minimum age of ten years should be set for cyclist training courses that include an on-road training element. Below this age, children have difficulties in successfully coping with the twin tasks of managing a bicycle and negotiating traffic situations.

In line with the group's guidelines, it would therefore not be appropriate to train children in Primary 3 and Primary 4.

Animal Carcasses: Illegal Dumping

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of the Environment to what extent the illegal dumping of animal carcasses pollutes the environment and waterways; and whether he will engage with the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development to address this issue.

(AQW 9755/11-15)

Mr Attwood: Primary responsibility for all animal-related issues rests with the Department of Agriculture and Rural Development, outside the Department of the Environment's remit. DOE therefore has no legislative remit to collate details of any reports it receives of the dumping of animal remains. Instead, these are passed to DARD colleagues for action. However, the level of reports received by the Northern Ireland Environment Agency would suggest illegal disposal of animal carcasses is infrequent. This limits the impact on the environment. However, clearly the potential for environmental damage is significant.

Whilst the Department of the Environment's legislation is limited in respect of animal remains, I would be happy to discuss the issue with the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development and offer her Department any assistance possible.

Department of Finance and Personnel

Benefits: Unemployment-related Claimants

Mrs D Kelly asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel how many of the current unemployment-related benefit claimants have cited their previous employment as self-employed.

(AQW 9559/11-15)

Mr Wilson (The Minister of Finance and Personnel): Robust information on previous employment status is not available from either the Claimant Count datasets held by NISRA or the Labour Force Survey (LFS) for the most recent quarter.

The Labour Force Survey (LFS) does ask unemployed respondents if they claim unemployment related benefit and their employment status in their last job. However, the LFS sample size and design does not support the production of sufficiently reliable estimates from the most recent quarterly data given the small numbers recorded.

Construction Projects: Publicly Funded

Mr McGlone asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel, between 1 April 2011 and 13 March 2012, to detail (i) the publicly funded construction projects that were put out to tender to consultants or building and civil engineering contractors, and of these (a) the contracts that have been awarded; and (b) the accepted tender price of each contract awarded; and (ii) what publicly funded construction projects have been advertised inviting consultants or building and civil engineering contractors to submit expressions of interest, and of these (a) which consultants or building and civil engineering contractors have had tender documentation issued and returned; (b) when the tender documentation will be issued to the consultants or building and civil engineering contractors who are awaiting it; and (c) the estimated construction costs for each consultant or building and civil engineering contractor to date.

(AQW 9598/11-15)

Mr Wilson: The information requested in relation to tender exercises for construction projects undertaken, or commenced, by my Department is listed in the table overleaf.

Publicly funded DFP construction projects tendered in 2011/12

Rates: Small Business Rate Relief Scheme

Mr Weir asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel to detail the average level of reduction as a result of the Small Business Rate Relief Scheme and what is this reduction as a percentage.

(AQW 9599/11-15)

Mr Wilson: The Small Business Rates Relief Scheme comprises of two elements. The main scheme for small commercial premises and an enhanced scheme for small post offices or premises which include a post office counter.

The current main scheme has two levels of rebate dependant on the net annual value (NAV) of the eligible property. From April 2012 a third level of rebate will be introduced. The table below details the percentage and estimated average discounts at each level for the 2011/12 rating year and the expected average discounts for the 2012/13 rating year including for those businesses who will qualify for the scheme for the first time.

| Rating YearNAV     | 2011/12     |             | 2012/13 |             |
|------------------------|-------------|-------------|---------|-------------|
|                        | £0 – £2,000 | 50%         | £313    | 50%         |
| £2,001 - £5,000        | 25%         | £443        | 25%     | £453        |
| £5,001 - £10,000       | N/A         | N/A         | 20%     | £740        |
| Overall Average |             | £396 |         | £525 |

The post office scheme consists of two levels of rebate. The table below sets out the percentage discount available at each level, the estimated average rebates received during the 2011/12 rating year and the expected average rebates for the 2012/13 rating year.

| Rating YearNAV     | 2011/12     |              | 2012/13 |              |

Over the next three years under the main scheme (50% and 25% relief) an average of £1,259 and up to a maximum of £2,209 could be paid to eligible businesses. Those receiving relief under the extended main scheme (20% relief) could receive around £2,299 relief on average, and up to a maximum of around £3,534, over the three years through to 31 March 2015.

Public Sector Employment: Debt

Mr Eastwood asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel for his assessment of the research published by the Money Advice Trust which shows that regions with high levels of public sector employment are likely to see a sharp increase in personal debt problems in 2012 due to budget cuts.

(AQW 9633/11-15)

Mr Wilson: Clearly, depressed economic conditions and relatively high unemployment will have implications for indebtedness and the number of households experiencing debt problems. And in that regard, I welcome the report highlighting the benefits of seeking advice for those experiencing such difficulties.

I also fully recognise the challenge we face in the current tight fiscal environment and the importance of public sector employment in Northern Ireland. That is why I have taken steps to control the public sector pay bill – for example by implementing the two-year pay freeze and ending the bonus arrangements for senior civil servants – in order to protect public sector employment which the latest available statistics reveal only fell by 2.4 per cent over the last year compared to 4.3 per cent in the UK as a whole.

The Executive has made rebuilding and rebalancing the Northern Ireland economy its top priority in the Programme for Government and Economic Strategy. In the long term, increasing prosperity and living standards in Northern Ireland will be key in lifting people out of poverty and reducing the risk of debt problems.

Construction Contracts (Amendment) Act (Northern Ireland) 2011

Mr McGlone asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel for an update on the commencement of the Construction Contracts (Amendment) Act (Northern Ireland ) 2011; and which branch within his Department is responsible for this issue.
(AQW 9676/11-15)

Mr Wilson: DFP is currently carrying out a public consultation on proposals to amend the Scheme for Construction Contracts in Northern Ireland Regulations (Northern Ireland) 1999 (known as 'the Scheme'). The closing date for responses is 2 May 2012. Before the Commencement Order bringing the Construction Contracts (Amendment) Act (Northern Ireland) 2011 into operation can be made, it is necessary to amend the Scheme to bring its provisions into line with the Act.

Central Procurement Directorate expects to report on the outcome of this consultation exercise by mid to late May. Dependent on the responses received and subject to Assembly business planning and the requirements of the DFP Committee, this may enable the amending subordinate legislation to be laid before the Assembly before the summer recess.

The branch responsible for the Amendment Act and the preparation of this subordinate legislation is within the Policy and Performance Division of the Central Procurement Directorate.

Rates: Unoccupied Non-domestic Properties

Mrs Cochrane asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel to detail (i) the number of non-domestic properties currently unoccupied in each constituency, broken down by classification; and (ii) how the figures compare with the figures three years ago.
(AQW 9723/11-15)

Mr Wilson: Information on the number of unoccupied non-domestic properties by constituency is not available as data is collated at District Council and Ward level only.

The following tables list the number of unoccupied non-domestic properties by District Council area and classification as at 31st March 2010 and 18th March 2012 (the earliest and latest dates for which comparable information is available).

Public Sector: Regional Pay

Mr Weir asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel for his assessment of the potential financial impact on the Block Grant and the economy if regional pay rates for the public sector are introduced.

(AQW 9805/11-15)

Mr Wilson: I am very concerned that the introduction of regional pay and any associated block adjustment (if made) would harm Northern Ireland's economic recovery. The prospect of reduced public expenditure and a protracted pay freeze for public sector workers would reduce economic activity and damage consumer and business confidence in the region.

I made this point forcefully to the Chief Secretary when I met him along with Scottish and Welsh counterparts prior to the Budget in March. I also put on record my view that I don't accept that national pay agreements create problems for the private sector in terms of the recruitment or retention of staff.

I can assure you that I will be vigorously opposing any move to implement regional pay rates for public sector workers and I am confident that Ministers in the other two devolved administrations as well as representatives from a number of the English regions will be doing the same.

Public Sector: Regional Pay

Ms Ritchie asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel to detail any discussions his Department has had with the Treasury regarding regional pay rates.

(AQW 9817/11-15)

Mr Wilson: The Chief Secretary to the Treasury, Danny Alexander MP, wrote following the Autumn Statement in November 2011 and again in January 2012 to inform me of the work the Government had asked the Pay Review Bodies to take forward on the regional public sector pay issue and we discussed this along with Scottish and Welsh counterparts at a Finance Ministers Quadrilateral meeting on 5th March 2012.

We were advised that the work in this regard was at a very early stage and that there would be negotiations with each of the Devolved Administrations before a final decision is taken. However, I did take the opportunity to raise with the Chief Secretary my very significant concerns about any move towards regional pay, as did the Scottish and Welsh Finance Ministers.

I don't accept that national pay agreements create problems for the private sector in terms of the recruitment or retention of staff and I am very concerned about any suggestion of an associated regional pay block adjustment that would have a negative economic impact on Northern Ireland. I can assure you that I will vigorously oppose any such changes which I believe would harm Northern Ireland's economic recovery.

Public Sector: Regional Pay

Ms Ritchie asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel to detail any discussions that have taken place at the Joint Ministerial Consultative Committee in London regarding regional pay rates.

(AQW 9818/11-15)

Public Procurement: Predatory Pricing

Mrs Hale asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel what checks and balances are in place to protect companies from predatory pricing in relation to public sector tendering.

(AQW 9821/11-15)

Mr Wilson: Northern Ireland public procurement policy requires all procurement to be carried out by a Centre of Procurement Expertise (CoPE) or by means of a service level agreement with one.

EU and UK Procurement legislation and the Northern Ireland Public Procurement Policy, require competition, openness, transparency, fairness and non-discrimination in the contract award process.

The Directives and Regulations mandate that contracts must be awarded on the basis of either the Most Economically Advantageous Tender (MEAT), which is a combination of price and quality/non-price criteria, or on the lowest price to meet clearly stated contract requirements and minimum standards. In line with this all tender documentation must clearly state at the commencement of the process the contract requirements and the criteria to be used to assess tenders.

The use of the eSourcingNI system by Central Procurement Directorate (CPD) and the CoPEs prevents submitted tenders being accessed until after the deadline for submission of tenders. The system also provides a clear record of the tender process until the point of award.

Other checks and balances within the procurement process include -

- proportionate advertising to ensure sufficient tenders to provide genuine competition;
- allowing appropriate and proportionate time for responses to tendering opportunities;
- holding all commercial data within the secure eSourcingNI system;
- using the knowledge and skills of procurement professionals to identify any unusual trends; and
- ensuring that all specifications are non discriminatory.

Instances of unusual pricing would be treated on a case by case basis, bearing in mind the principles of transparency, fairness and a competitive process. If considered appropriate, investigations would be instigated to ensure that the tenderer had the resources and capacity to carry out the work as specified. Effective management of the contract post- award ensures that the work is being carried out as required and to the standard expected.

North/South Bodies: 2011 Business Cases

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel when the 2011 business cases for each of the North-South bodies were approved.

(AQW 9824/11-15)

Mr Wilson: I am making the assumption that you are referring to the Business Plans for each of the North South Bodies.

The table below sets out the North South Body and the date that the NSMC approved the 2011 Business Plans.

| North South Body                               | Date of NSMC Approval |

Rates: Small Business Rate Relief Scheme

Mr McGlone asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel (i) what plans there are for the extension of the Small Business Rates Relief scheme; (ii) whether there will be any changes to the qualifying criteria; and (iii) how much the scheme is expected to save small businesses each year.

(AQW 9827/11-15)

Mr Wilson: The Executive has approved the extension of the small business rate relief scheme through until 31 March 2015, which will enable a further 8,300 business ratepayers to benefit from the scheme over three years. As a result 20% relief will automatically be awarded on properties with a net annual value (NAV) of £5,001 - £10,000. The amount of relief under the main scheme will be broadly doubled, increasing the number receiving help by around 50%. The extension of the scheme will provide additional support of around £6 million per year. It is anticipated that in the 2012/13 rating year over £12m could be awarded to small businesses under the main scheme.

The average award under the expanded scheme will be in the region of £740 per year. I would refer the Member to my answer to AQW 9599/11-15 for more information on the average award under the scheme more generally.

The qualifying criteria for the scheme will remain broadly the same as at present, with relief to be awarded on qualifying properties with an NAV of £10,000 and below. Certain types of hereditaments such as ATMs, car parks, advertising hoardings and telecommunications masts among others will continue to be excluded from the scheme.

One change to the qualifying criteria will be made as a result of the consultation that was carried out last year. From 1 April, ratepayers occupying multiple hereditaments, that is more than three premises in total, will not be entitled to relief under the main small business rate relief scheme. Around 1,500 – 2,000 properties could be affected, with savings of around £1m a year. I will also consider this matter further, with a view to refining the criteria used, for the 2013/14 and 2014/15 rating years.

Should the savings from excluding 'multiples' be significant I will also look at providing increased relief under the expanded scheme in 2013/14 and 2014/15, including the savings from the 2012/13 rating year.

Unemployment: Inequality

Mr Flanagan asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel to (i) identify the 38 electoral wards with the highest rates of unemployment; (ii) the percentage of people from a (a) Catholic; and (b) Protestant community background in each of these 38 wards, according to the most recent census information; and (iii) what action will be taken to tackle any obvious inequalities that exist in these figures.

(AQW 9849/11-15)

Mr Wilson: The official measure of unemployment is sourced from the Northern Ireland Labour Force Survey (LFS). However, as a sample survey, the LFS is not designed to provide unemployment estimates at ward level.

Robust unemployment statistics can be produced at ward level from the claimant count measure of unemployment. An unemployment rate can be defined as the number of claimants expressed as a percentage of the working-age (16-64 years old) population. The table below lists the 38 electoral wards in Northern Ireland with the highest unemployment rates, based on the claimant count, at February 2012.

'Community background' was derived in the 2001 Census of Population, based on a combination of respondents' religion and – when respondents indicated that they had no religion - 'religion brought up in'. The percentage of the ward population that had a Catholic community background, and the percentage that had a Protestant community background, is also given for each of the 38 listed wards.

Table 1 – The 38 electoral wards with the highest unemployment rates (claimant count as a percentage of the population aged 16-64, February 2012)

Papers for Assembly Committees

Mr McKay asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel to detail all occasions in the last 12 months when his Department has made a presentation to an Assembly committee and provided papers pertaining to that presentation to the committee less than 48 hours beforehand.

(AQW 9930/11-15)

Mr Wilson: During the last 12 months my Department has provided papers to an Assembly committee within 48 hours of a presentation on the following two occasions:-

- i the Consultation on Claims for Wrongful Deaths on 29/06/2011; and
- ii the Report of the NI Law Commission on taking evidence from vulnerable witnesses in civil proceedings on 26/10/2011.

Budget Statement: Impact on Block Grant and Barnett Consequentials

Mr Weir asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel for his assessment of the impact on the Block Grant and the Barnett Consequentials of the Chancellor's Budgetary Statement.

(AQW 9941/11-15)

Mr Wilson: The Chancellor's 2012 UK Budget Statement was disappointing in that it resulted in very limited Barnett consequentials for Northern Ireland.

In terms of Resource DEL this amounted to £7.2 million over the next three years. The profile of these Barnett additions is £3.3 million in 2012-13; £2.3 million in 2013-14; and £1.6 million in 2014-15.

There were also £4.5 million of Capital DEL allocated to Northern Ireland over the next three years. However, these score as a financial transaction and can only be used to offer loans or equity investment. A further condition on this funding is that 60% must be repaid to the Exchequer by 2019-20.

Rates: Relief for Service Personnel

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel, in relation to the Council Tax Relief in Great Britain for service personnel serving abroad, what parallel rates relief exists in Northern Ireland or what plans his Department has to introduce similar provisions.

(AQW 10011/11-15)

Mr Wilson: The scheme operating in England, Wales and Scotland applies to Northern Ireland as well, notwithstanding that we have domestic rates instead of the Council Tax. It is administered by the Ministry of Defence (MOD). DFP and LPS has no involvement in the scheme, policy-wise or operationally.

Northern Ireland Personnel serving abroad are entitled to the same terms as those applying in the rest of the UK. All service personnel who own and rent a private property do however remain liable to pay full rates on their property to the Land and Property Services, the MOD scheme provides partial reimbursement, subject to their criteria, 'after the event', rather than an application of discount.

The MOD council tax relief scheme is paid as a tax-free lump sum on completion of duty, based on the number of days in the qualifying operational location.

I am advised that service personnel who wish to claim council tax relief from MOD are required to provide their Unit's human resources staff with a council tax bill (rates bill in Northern Ireland) for the periods in question, confirming they are liable for council tax / rates at that property and that they have not been given any other council tax / rates discount (such as a vacancy allowance) due to their deployment on operations.

Those eligible for the scheme include all regular service personnel, mobilised reserves and full-time reserve service (full or limited commitment) personnel serving in operational locations specified by the MOD who pay rates in Northern Ireland for a private property or contributions in lieu of council tax for service families accommodation

Stillbirths and Neonatal Deaths

Mr Spratt asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel to detail the number of (i) stillbirths; and (ii) neo-natal deaths in each of the last five years in the Belfast Health and Social Care Trust area, broken down by hospital.

(AQW 10073/11-15)

Mr Wilson: The tables overleaf give the number of stillbirths and neonatal deaths that occurred in the Belfast Health and Social Care Trust by place of stillbirth/death for each year between 2006 and 2011(Quarter 1–Quarter 3P).

P Provisional Data

Department of Health, Social Services and Public Safety

Hospitals: No Smoking Zones

Mr Hussey asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety what plans he has to make hospitals and hospital grounds no smoking zones.

(AQW 9711/11-15)

Mr Poots (The Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety): Hospitals, like virtually all enclosed or substantially enclosed public and workplaces, are already designated as smoke-free under the Smoking (Northern Ireland) Order 2006. Open spaces, such as hospital grounds, are currently outside the scope of the 2006 Order. The issue of smoking in hospital grounds is a matter for each Health and Social Care Trust to address through its workplace policy on smoking. I understand that these policies differ, ranging from those which do not permit smoking at all on Trust-owned property, to those where smoking is permitted in designated areas.

The issue of smoking outside hospital entrances was highlighted in my Department's new Tobacco Control Strategy. I expect implementation of the strategy to include measures aimed at gaining greater consistency on smoking policies with all health and social care sites moving towards smoke-free hospital grounds.

Diabetes: Insulin Pumps for Children

Mr Weir asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety what action is being taken to alleviate the delay in the allocation of insulin pumps to children in the South Eastern Health and Social Care Trust area, given the inadequacy of resources for the necessary education programme.

(AQW 9713/11-15)

Mr Poots: My Department has endorsed National Institute for Health and Clinical Excellence (NICE) guidance on the use of insulin pump therapy. The HSC has been working to implement the guidance and the South Eastern Health and Social Care Trust currently has 36 children and young people receiving insulin pump therapy. However further implementation has been temporarily suspended due to current demands and team changes within the Paediatric Diabetic Team. I am advised by the South Eastern Trust that it is assessing options across its diabetic provision to determine if there are internal opportunities to address this and resume the insulin pump implementation programme. The Trust further advises that it is currently discussing acute paediatric resource issues, including the paediatric diabetic service, with the service commissioner.

Hospitals: Hygiene Audits

Mr G Robinson asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety what consideration he has given to making areas of hospitals, which continually fail or have poor results in their hygiene audits, subject to weekly audits by the Regulation and Quality Improvement Authority until standards have been raised.

(AQW 9716/11-15)

Mr Poots: The requirements for environmental cleanliness audits are defined in "Cleanliness Matters 2005-2008 – A Regional Strategy for Improving the Standard of Environmental Cleanliness in HSS Trusts". Daily checks and weekly departmental ward audits are the responsibility of the ward manager. The Strategy also defines the timescale for rectifying problems identified in an audit. Managerial audits are the responsibility of a team consisting of senior management from cleaning services, estates and nursing. These may also include ward managers, infection control professionals and service users. Trust internal audit staff may also audit a sample of areas for the purpose of ensuring compliance with Controls Assurance Standards.

With regard to hospitals, under the terms of the HPSS (Quality, Improvement and Regulation) (NI) Order 2003, the RQIA's role is to conduct reviews and carry out inspections into the quality of services. Under the Order the RQIA's duty is to keep the Department informed about the provision of services and to encourage improvement in the quality of services. The RQIA carries out announced and unannounced inspections of hygiene and cleanliness, using the Regional Healthcare Hygiene and Cleanliness Tool. It is not the RQIA's role to carry out weekly audits, and the RQIA is not resourced to do so.

Accident and Emergency Departments: Staffing

Dr McDonnell asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety to detail the current allocation of doctors and nurses for day and night shifts in each hospital's Accident and Emergency Department; and whether all positions are filled. (AQW 9752/11-15)

Mr Poots: The information requested is provided in the tables below. All of this information has been obtained directly from individual Health and Social Care Trusts and has not been validated by the Department.

Ambulances: Downtime Statistics

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety to detail the downtime statistics for ambulances in the last month in each Health and Social Care Trust area.

(AQW 9768/11-15)

Mr Poots: For the purposes of this question, ambulance downtime has been taken to refer to the turnaround time measured from when an ambulance arrives at an A&E department until it has 'cleared' the location. This includes patient handover to relevant clinical personnel and making the vehicle ready for the next call.

Ambulance turnaround times during February 2012 are as follows:

| HSC Trust Area | Hospital/Site Attended           | Within 15 mins | Between 15 and 30 mins | Between 30 and 45 mins | Greater than 45 mins | Total |

Flu Vaccination: Cost-effectiveness Study

Mr Wells asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety when the cost effectiveness study of seasonal flu vaccination, undertaken by the Public Health Agency, will be published.

(AQW 9810/11-15)

Mr Poots: No cost-effectiveness study of seasonal flu vaccination has been carried out by the Public Health Agency, however a study has been completed by the Health Protection Agency (HPA) in England. The study is currently being prepared for publication in peer-reviewed scientific literature. The publication date is not yet known.

Flu Vaccination: Cost-effectiveness Study

Mr Wells asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety whether the Public Health Agency's cost effectiveness study of seasonal flu vaccination includes data from Northern Ireland.

(AQW 9811/11-15)

Mr Poots: No cost-effectiveness study of seasonal flu vaccination has been carried out by the Public Health Agency, however a study has been completed by the Health Protection Agency (HPA) in England. The study considered the cost-effectiveness of the programme from the perspective of the English National Health Service and did not include data from Northern Ireland.

Drugs: Admissions to Accident and Emergency Departments

Mr Durkan asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety how many people under the age of 18 have been admitted to Accident and Emergency Departments as a result of drug abuse in each of the last five years, broken down by Health and Social Care Trust area

(AQW 9834/11-15)

Mr Poots: It is assumed that this question refers to the number of people under the age of 18 who have attended Accident and Emergency Departments as a result of drug abuse in each of the last five years.

The information requested is not currently available and could only be provided at disproportionate cost.

Alcohol: Admissions to Accident and Emergency Departments

Mr Durkan asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety how many people under the age of 18 have been admitted to Accident and Emergency Departments as a result of the effects of alcohol in each of the last five years, broken down by Health and Social Care Trust area.

(AQW 9836/11-15)

Mr Poots: It is assumed that this question refers to the number of people under the age of 18 who have attended Accident and Emergency Departments as a result of the effects of alcohol in each of the last five years.

The information requested is not currently available and could only be provided at disproportionate cost.

Health and Social Care Board: Funding

Mr Agnew asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety (i) what percentage of his Department's funding is allocated to the Health and Social Care Board; (ii) whether the operations of the Health and Social Care Board are outside his Department's remit; and (iii) whether MLAs should direct enquiries about the Health and Social Care Board directly to the Board rather than to his Department.

(AQW 9848/11-15)

Mr Poots:

- (i) Approximately 88% of my Department's current expenditure budget is allocated to the Health and Social Care Board.
- (ii) Section 2 of The Health and Social Care (Reform) Act (NI) 2009 places a general duty on the Department to promote an integrated system of health and social care. In terms of service commissioning and provision, the Department discharges this duty primarily by delegating the exercise of its statutory functions to the Health and Social Care Board (HSCB), the Public Health Agency (PHA) and a number of other HSC Bodies. All of these bodies are accountable to the Department which in turn is accountable, through the Minister, to the Assembly for the manner in which this duty is performed.
- (iii) The organisation to which enquiries should be directed depends on the nature of the enquiry. Whilst MLAs are free to direct enquiries to any public body, any enquiry which requires a Ministerial response should be directed through the Department.

Pregnancies: Terminations outside Northern Ireland

Mr Agnew asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety to provide an estimate of the number of women with an address in Northern Ireland who had pregnancies terminated outside Northern Ireland in each of the last five financial years.

(AQW 9850/11-15)

Mr Poots: It is not possible to readily provide an estimate on the number of women with an address in Northern Ireland, who had pregnancies terminated outside Northern Ireland in each of the last five financial years.

However, information is available on the number of women with an address in Northern Ireland who had pregnancies terminated in the UK in each of the last five calendar years and is shown below;

| Year | Number of Abortions |
|------|---------------------|
| 2006 | 1,295               |
| 2007 | 1,343               |
| 2008 | 1,173               |
| 2009 | 1,123               |
| 2010 | 1,101               |

Source: Department of Health England and Wales

During 2006-2010, there were nine abortions carried out in Scotland where the woman gave an address in Northern Ireland.

Family Planning Association: Funding

Mr Wells asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety which Health and Social Care Trusts have provided funding to the Family Planning Association in each of the last five years.

(AQW 9855/11-15)

Mr Poots: The information requested is set out in the table below:

| Year      | Health and Social Care Trust              |
|-----------|---|
| 2007/2008 | Belfast; South Eastern; Southern; Western |
| 2008/2009 | Belfast; Western                          |
| 2009/2010 | South Eastern; Southern; Western          |
| 2010/2011 | Belfast; South Eastern; Southern; Western |
| 2011/2012 | Belfast; South Eastern; Southern; Western |

Ophthalmologists

Mr Wells asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety how many eye consultants, per head of the population, currently practise; and how this figure compares with the rest of the UK.

(AQW 9856/11-15)

Mr Poots: Information on the number of eye consultants employed within Northern Ireland Health and Social Care per 100,000 head of population compared with England, Scotland and Wales is given in the table below.

Number of Eye Consultants (Ophthalmologists) employed within Northern Ireland Health and Social Care per 100,000 Head of Population compared with England, Scotland and Wales (Whole-Time Equivalent) as at 30 September 2011

| Country            | WTE per 100,000 Population |
|--------------------|----------------------------|
| Northern Ireland   | 1.69                       |
| England            | 1.84                       |
| Scotland           | 1.96                       |
| Wales <sup>1</sup> | 1.85                       |

Nurse:Patient Ratio

Mr Wells asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety to detail the ratio of nurses to patients in each hospital.

(AQW 9857/11-15)

Mr Poots: There is no single applicable ratio of nurses to patients. The clinical need of the individual determines the appropriate treatment and care and the levels of nursing, medical or social care intervention.

Diabetes: Insulin Pump Waiting List

Mr McKay asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety how many people with Type 1 diabetes are on a waiting list for an insulin pump or consumables for the pump in each Health and Social Care Trust area.

(AQW 9860/11-15)

Mr Poots: As these figures are not available centrally within my Department, Tables 1 and 2 below detail the information supplied on request by each HSC Trust in reply to your questions relating to waiting lists, and insulin pumps and consumables provided in each of the last three years.

It should be noted with regard to the waiting lists (Table 1) not everyone on the list may have been assessed against the National Institute for Health and Clinical Excellence (NICE) criteria.

Table 1: Number of people with Type 1 Diabetes on a waiting list for an Insulin Pump or Consumables in each HSC Trust area as at 23 March 2012

| Health and Social Care Trust | Number on Waiting List |
|------------------------------|------------------------|
| Belfast                      | 40                     |

| Health and Social Care Trust | Number on Waiting List |
|------------------------------|------------------------|
| Northern <sup>2</sup>        | N/A                    |
| South Eastern <sup>3</sup>   | 32                     |
| Southern <sup>4</sup>        | 49                     |
| Western <sup>5</sup>         | 75                     |
| Total                 | 196             |

- 1 Figures provided by HSC Trusts in reply to this question have not been validated by the DHSSPS.
- 2 The Northern Trust advised that as an insulin pump service is under development there is no current waiting list, and that 25 patients have expressed an interest in commencing on insulin pumps subject to clinical assessment.
- 3 There are no adults currently waiting for an insulin pump or consumables.
- 4 Numbers are split between 31 adult and 18 paediatric patients.
- 5 Numbers are split between 50 adult and 25 paediatric patients.

Table 2: Number of Insulin Pumps and Consumables each HSC Trust has provided for people in each of the last three years<sup>6,7</sup>

| Health and Social Care Trusts | 2010      | 2011       | 2012       |

| Total                  | 99 | 166 | 211 |

- 6 Figures provided by HSC Trusts in reply to this question have not been validated by the DHSSPS. It has been assumed that data for 2010 and 2011 relates to year ending 31 March, and to 23 March for 2012.
- 7 Patients receive consumables on an ongoing basis, with replacement pumps provided every four to five years depending upon the manufacturer.
- 8 The Belfast Trust allocated 10 insulin pumps to new patients each year and 5 insulin pumps were used as replacements.
- 9 Adult patients in the Northern Trust receive insulin pump consumables from the Mid-Ulster Hospital.
- 10 The South Eastern Trust started 29 children on insulin pumps over the past three years, with 3 replacement pumps issued. They have started 10 adults on insulin pumps as part of a pilot programme.

Diabetes: Insulin Pump Provision

Mr McKay asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety whether there are any inconsistencies in the Health and Social Care Trusts' policies on the provision of insulin pumps and consumables for people with diabetes.

(AQW 9861/11-15)

Mr Poots: In June 2009 my Department endorsed for implementation in the HSC the National Institute for Health and Clinical Excellence's (NICE) Technology Appraisal No. 151 which sets out recommendations on the use of insulin pump therapy. Details of the NICE guidance can be found at www.guidance.nice.org.uk/TA151/PublicInfo/doc/English. This guidance applies to all Health and Social Care Trusts and the HSC has made significant progress towards fully implementing the guidance. Consumables are provided free of cost to the patient where insulin pump therapy is provided by the HSC; arrangements for the supply of consumables are a matter for individual Trusts, who will advise patients of their local arrangements.

Diabetes: Insulin Pump Consumables

Mr McKay asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety (i) which Health and Social Care Trusts currently provide consumables for insulin pumps for people with diabetes; and (ii) what plans there are to ensure that this is the case in each Trust.

(AQW 9862/11-15)

Mr Poots: All Health and Social Care Trusts with the exception of the Northern Ireland Ambulance Service Trust provide consumables for insulin pumps where the pump has been provided by the HSC.

Diabetes: Insulin Pump Consumables

Mr McKay asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety to detail how many insulin pumps and consumables each Health and Social Care Trust has provided for people with diabetes in each of the last three years.

(AQW 9863/11-15)

Mr Poots: As these figures are not available centrally within my Department, Tables 1 and 2 below detail the information supplied on request by each HSC Trust in reply to your questions relating to waiting lists, and insulin pumps and consumables provided in each of the last three years.

It should be noted with regard to the waiting lists (Table 1) not everyone on the list may have been assessed against the National Institute for Health and Clinical Excellence (NICE) criteria.

Fire and Rescue Service: Surrendered Funding

Mr McMullan asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety (i) whether the Northern Ireland Fire and Rescue Service has surrendered funding to his Department in this financial year; (ii) the reasons for any such funding not being used; (iii)

whether any surrendered funding was reallocated to other Departments; and (iv) whether the amount of surrendered funding will have an effect on the level of funding allocated to the Northern Ireland Fire and Rescue Service in the next financial year.

(AQW 9870/11-15)

Mr Poots: I can confirm that: (i) the Northern Ireland Fire and Rescue Service (NIFRS) surrendered £2.5m to the Department in 2011/12; (ii) the reduced expenditure relates to a range of areas, including a reduced number of retained firefighter operational call outs, staffing and community development; (iii) the resources were not reallocated to other Departments; and (iv) I am currently considering the NIFRS budget for future years.

Fire Stations: Newbuilds

Mr McMullan asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety (i) whether the current programme of new builds for fire stations will continue without delay; and (ii) for how long a business case for a new build fire station remains valid.

(AQW 9871/11-15)

Mr Poots:

- (i) In light of the constraints faced by NIFRS and taking account of their other needs, the Service has reviewed its capital programme and identified the replacement of Omagh and Dunmurry fire stations and the refurbishment of Rathfriland as top estates priorities. The other main capital priorities for the Service are in respect of red fleet, vehicles and ICT.
- (ii) In line with DFP guidance, project implementation is expected to proceed within 24 months of the timescale indicated in an approved business case. It is a standard condition of business case approval that, where this is not going to occur, my Department, and in appropriate cases DFP, must be notified to agree appropriate further action.

IVF Treatment: Availability to Lesbian Couples

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety when and why a change was made to the availability of IVF treatment to allow lesbian couples to avail of the publicly funded service.

(AQW 9880/11-15)

Mr Poots: Publicly funded fertility services are, and always have been, available to couples, including same sex couples, who have a medical cause for infertility. Those with a diagnosed cause of infertility can access the services immediately; those with an unexplained cause must have been actively trying to conceive for a period of three years.

I will give consideration to reviewing the access criteria for fertility services when NICE publishes revised guidance in July 2012.

Information on the number of same sex couples who have received publicly funded IVF treatment in Northern Ireland is not available.

IVF Treatment: Availability to Lesbian Couples

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety whether he intends to review the availability of publicly funded IVF treatment for lesbian couples.

(AQW 9881/11-15)

Mr Poots: Publicly funded fertility services are, and always have been, available to couples, including same sex couples, who have a medical cause for infertility. Those with a diagnosed cause of infertility can access the services immediately; those with an unexplained cause must have been actively trying to conceive for a period of three years.

I will give consideration to reviewing the access criteria for fertility services when NICE publishes revised guidance in July 2012.

Information on the number of same sex couples who have received publicly funded IVF treatment in Northern Ireland is not available.

IVF Treatment: Uptake by Lesbian Couples

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety how many lesbian couples have received publicly funded IVF treatment since 2009.

(AQW 9882/11-15)

Mr Poots: Publicly funded fertility services are, and always have been, available to couples, including same sex couples, who have a medical cause for infertility. Those with a diagnosed cause of infertility can access the services immediately; those with an unexplained cause must have been actively trying to conceive for a period of three years.

I will give consideration to reviewing the access criteria for fertility services when NICE publishes revised guidance in July 2012.

Information on the number of same sex couples who have received publicly funded IVF treatment in Northern Ireland is not available.

Prostate Cancer: Zytiga Availability

Ms Ritchie asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety whether the prostate cancer drug Zytiga is available; and if not, to detail the reasons why.

(AQW 9883/11-15)

Mr Poots: I can advise that the prostate cancer Zytiga (Abiraterone), whilst not currently approved by NICE, can be accessed by patients in Northern Ireland through the Individual Funding Request (IFR) process if their consultant considers the drug to be of benefit to them. All cases are dealt with on an individual basis and considered on its merits.

NICE published a draft technology appraisal on 1st February 2012 which does not recommend the use of Zytiga. This guidance has now been issued for consultation. NICE is due to publish the final guidance in June 2012; however this date may change should any revisions to the guidance be required as a result of the consultation.

Prostate Cancer: Zytiga Availability

Ms Ritchie asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety when the prostate cancer drug Zytiga will become available. (AQW 9884/11-15)

Mr Poots: I can advise that the prostate cancer Zytiga (Abiraterone), whilst not currently approved by NICE, can be accessed by patients in Northern Ireland through the Individual Funding Request (IFR) process if their consultant considers the drug to be of benefit to them. All cases are dealt with on an individual basis and considered on its merits.

NICE published a draft technology appraisal on 1st February 2012 which does not recommend the use of Zytiga. This guidance has now been issued for consultation. NICE is due to publish the final guidance in June 2012; however this date may change should any revisions to the guidance be required as a result of the consultation.

Obesity: Young Children

Mr Spratt asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety what action his Department is taking to tackle obesity in young children.

(AQW 9888/11-15)

Mr Poots: My Department launched the Framework for Preventing and Addressing Overweight and Obesity in Northern Ireland 2012-2022: A Fitter Future for All on 9th March 2012. This Framework aims to tackle the issue of overweight and obesity throughout the entire life course of the population and has a target specifically for children which is a 3% reduction of obesity and 2% reduction of overweight and obesity in children by 2022 (the target is in two parts; the proportion that are obese and the proportion that are overweight and obese).

Specific outcomes contained in the Framework which will work towards meeting this target include:

- Initiatives and programmes on nutrition and physical activity within all Early Years settings reviewed.
- Health and Social Care Professionals identify, and provide appropriate interventions or signposting, for young children who are, or are at-risk of overweight/obesity.
- New Breastfeeding Strategy in place and being implemented.
- Early Years settings supported to comply with the nutritional guidelines requirements outlined in the minimum standards for childcare providers.
- Increase practical skills, awareness and knowledge to enable young children and their parents/carers to make healthy choices.
- Implementation plan published to deliver the aims and objectives of the Play and Leisure Policy Statement.
- Children and families have access to safe facilities for play and physical activity in their locality, particularly in areas of deprivation.

Implementation of the non-departmental outcomes within the Framework will be taken forward by the Public Health Agency who already provide a wide variety of programmes, projects and initiatives to address the issue of overweight and obesity throughout the life course, including in Early Years and Children, throughout Northern Ireland. This work can be summarised in seven key areas:

- a) Give children a healthy start in life;
- b) Improve community access to healthy affordable food;
- c) Provide healthy food choices when outside the home;
- d) Provide opportunities to be physically active;
- e) Give adults, caregivers and children information and skills on nutrition and physical activity;
- f) Give key professional groups the information and skills they need to support individuals and groups they work with; and,
- g) Assist Government Departments and local government to develop policies and guidelines to provide a context for change

Meals on Wheels: Costs

Mr Eastwood asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety (i) what is the cost of a two-course meal provided by the Meals on Wheels Service in each Health and Social Care Trust area; and (ii) whether any of the Trusts are deviating from the £1.50 cost stipulated by the Department; and if so, to detail the reasons why.

(AQW 9894/11-15)

Mr Poots: The delivery and design of the community meals service varies from Trust to Trust therefore the information on costs in each Trust area is not available in the format requested. The table below outlines the range of costs of meal provision as well as charges to the service user in each Trust.

| Trust                | Costs£  | Charge      |
|----------------------|-------------|-------------|
| Belfast <sup>1</sup> | -           | 1.50        |
| Northern             | 4.76        | 1.50 - 2.20 |
| Southern             | 4.57 – 5.39 | 1.50        |
| South Eastern        | 4.91        | 2           |
| Western              | 2.60 – 5.00 | 1.40 - 4.25 |

1 Belfast Trust was unable to provide information on unit costs due to the range of variable costs involved.

My Department has written to the Chief Executive of each of the HSC Trusts to seek assurance regarding compliance with the Departmental Circular on charging, or to specify when they will bring their charging practice into compliance. All Trusts have now confirmed either current compliance with the Circular or compliance from 1st May 2102 at the latest.

GPs: Average Salary

Mr Weir asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety what is the average salary of a G.P.
(AQW 9897/11-15)

Mr Poots: The most recent information available from the NHS Information Centre report on GP Earnings and Expenses relates to 2009/10 and indicates the average income of a GP contractor in Northern Ireland was £91,400 before tax.

Pain Management: Spend

Mr Durkan asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety how much each Health and Social Care Trust spent on inpatient and outpatient pain management services in each of the last five years.

(AQW 9899/11-15)

Mr Poots: Pain management services are provided across inpatient, outpatient and daycase settings within each trust. Total expenditure for each trust for the Pain Management Speciality over the past five years was as follows:

| Financial Year | Pain Management Specialty -Total Annual Expenditure |                    |                         |                    |                   |           |
|----------------|---|--------------------|-------------------------|--------------------|-------------------|-----------|
|                | Belfast HSC Trust                                   | Northern HSC Trust | South Eastern HSC Trust | Southern HSC Trust | Western HSC Trust | Total     |
|                | £   | £                  | £                       | £                  | £                 | £         |
| 2010-11        | 1,324,513   | 1,410,419          | 715,311                 | 1,031,854          | 837,517           | 5,319,613 |
| 2009-10        | 1,552,841   | 967,038            | 739,382                 | 986,035            | 613,516           | 4,858,813 |
| 2008-09        | 1,722,125   | 1,021,542          | 768,838                 | 961,468            | 565,541           | 5,039,513 |
| 2007-08        | 1,482,021   | 818,250            | 615,663                 | 865,441            | 312,703           | 4,103,078 |
| 2006-07        | 1,096,323   | 697,418            | 567,628                 | 620,446            | 245,336           | 3,227,150 |

Note: the provision of pain management services is inherent within and across other specialties and in that context, expenditure will be higher than that noted above. It is not possible to separately extract such information.

Pain Management: Hospital Admissions

Mr Durkan asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety for his assessment of the sustained increase in the number of hospital admissions for pain management in the last ten years.

(AQW 9900/11-15)

Mr Poots: A number of specialist pain management clinics are provided by the HSC Trusts and GPs can refer patients to these clinics where they feel that their current pain management treatment is proving ineffective.

“Transforming Your Care” the report of the HSC Review, acknowledges the increasing prevalence of long term conditions in Northern Ireland such as chronic pain and sets out a series of proposals for improving services, including partnership working with patients to enable greater self care and prevention, personalised care pathways and integration of services across the community, primary and secondary care settings.

The Department has developed a policy framework for adults living with long term conditions. The framework will support commissioners and providers in developing and improving services. It is also intended to be a useful source of reference for people who live with long term conditions, setting out the services they and their carers should expect.

The policy framework will be launched in April 2012.

Smoking

Mr Ross asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety to provide an estimate of the number of smokers in each of the last ten years.

(AQW 9913/11-15)

Mr Poots: Information on the number of smokers is not available; however, information is available on the proportion of the Northern Ireland population who indicated that they smoked. The proportion of smokers in Northern Ireland aged 16 or over is tabled below:

Smoking prevalence in Northern Ireland

|----------------------|---------|
| 2000/01              | 27      |
| 2002/03              | 26      |
| 2004/05              | 26      |
| 2006/07              | 25      |
| 2007/08              | 23      |
| 2008/09              | 24      |
| 2009/10              | 24      |
| 2010/11              | 24      |

- 1 Data up to 2009/10 are taken from the Continuous Household Survey. Data for 2010/11 are taken from the Health Survey for Northern Ireland.
- 2 The Continuous Household Survey was carried out biennially up to 2004/05. From 2006/07, the survey was carried out annually.

Smoking: Packaging on Tobacco Products

Mr Ross asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety whether there is any evidence to suggest that plain packaging on tobacco products would have an impact on the number of people smoking.

(AQW 9914/11-15)

Mr Poots: A number of studies on the impact of plain packaging on smoking behaviour have been carried out in countries such as Scotland, Canada and New Zealand. Results from these studies have indicated that plain packaging reduces the appeal of tobacco products to both children and adults, as compared with branded packs.

The studies also revealed that those using plain packs felt more negative about smoking and reported behaviours such as: wanting to keep the packs out of sight of others; smoking less around others; thinking more about quitting; and actively wanting to quit. Research which compared the appeal of tobacco packaging for children with that of adults, found that younger participants were more affected by plain packaging.

As no country has yet introduced plain packaging for tobacco products, the evidence on whether and to what extent it would influence smoking behaviour is indirect. However, I believe that the results of studies carried out to date provide sufficient evidence to warrant Northern Ireland's participation in a UK-wide consultation on this issue.

IVF Treatment: Sex Selection

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety what measures are in place to prevent sex selection in publicly funded IVF treatment.

(AQW 9916/11-15)

Mr Poots: Under the provisions of the Northern Ireland Act 1998 the subject matter of The Human Fertilisation and Embryology (HFE) Act 1990 (amended by the HFE Act 2008) is a reserved matter. The HFE Act 1990, prohibits any practice designed to secure that any resulting child will be of one sex rather than the other except; in a case where there is a particular risk that any resulting child will have or develop –

- (i) a gender-related serious physical or mental disability,
- (ii) a gender-related serious illness, or
- (iii) any other gender-related serious medical condition

IVF Treatment: Destruction of Human Embryos

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety what procedures and guidelines govern the destruction of human embryos in relation to publicly funded IVF treatment.
(AQW 9918/11-15)

Mr Poots: Under the provisions of the Northern Ireland Act 1998 fertilisation and embryology are reserved matters. The Human Fertilisation and Embryology (HFE) Act 1990 (amended by the HFE Act 2008), regulates creation, keeping and use of embryos outside the human body and storage and use of gametes to create embryos.

Away-days and Team-building Exercises: Cost-effectiveness

Mr S Anderson asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety how his Department assesses the cost-effectiveness of awaydays and team-building exercises.
(AQW 9946/11-15)

Mr Poots: My Department assesses the cost effectiveness of away-days and team building exercises by evaluating the impact of the activity against the achievement of business objectives and by monitoring the cost of each activity to ensure that it offers value for money.

Alcohol: Admissions to Accident and Emergency Departments

Mr Moutray asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety how many people who were under the influence of alcohol have presented in each Accident and Emergency Department in the last year (i) in total; and (ii) during weekends.
(AQW 9952/11-15)

Mr Poots: The information requested is not currently available and could only be provided at disproportionate cost.

Accident and Emergency Departments: PSNI Call-outs

Mr Moutray asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety on how many occasions the PSNI have been called to each Accident and Emergency Department in the last year as a result of (i) verbal abuse; and (ii) physical assault of staff or patients by another patient.
(AQW 9953/11-15)

Mr Poots: Information on the number of occasions the PSNI were called to each Accident and Emergency (A&E) department in the last year as a result of (i) verbal abuse; and (ii) physical assault of staff or patients by another patient is not available, and could only be provided at disproportionate cost.

However, information is available on the number of times the PSNI attended an incident of verbal or physical abuse against staff in each hospital; although, it should be noted that this information relates to all hospital attendances and not specifically to emergency care departments.

The table below presents information on the number of times the PSNI have attended an incident of verbal or physical abuse against staff in those hospitals which have an emergency care department, between 1st October 2010 and 30th September 2011.

Table 1 - Number of times the PSNI attended an incident of verbal or physical abuse in hospitals (1st October 2010 - 30th September 2011)

CPR: Staff Training

Mr Frew asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety what strategy is in place to train departmental staff in Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation.

(AQW 9971/11-15)

Mr Poots: In line with Health & Safety Regulations, my Department maintains a sufficient number of staff who are trained and qualified as first aiders; this training includes Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation.

In addition, as the Department also provides Automated External Defibrillator (AED) facilities, a number of staff have specialist training in the use of these facilities and this includes Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation.

Refresher training is carried out annually.

CPR: Public Education

Mr Frew asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety what strategy is in place to educate the public on the use of Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation.

(AQW 9972/11-15)

Mr Poots: Standard 9 of the Cardiovascular Health and Wellbeing Service Framework requires Health and Social Care professionals to work with schools, workplaces and communities to raise awareness of, and access to, emergency life support skills. The implementation of this standard will mean that many more people will have access to ELS training.

In addition a regional business case application to fund Community Resuscitation Development Officers in each Trust is currently with the Health and Social Care Board for consideration.

Myalgic Encephalomyelitis: Treatment/Services

Mr Spratt asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety what treatments and services are available to people with Myalgic Encephalomyelitis.

(AQW 10000/11-15)

Mr Poots: The variability of symptoms in patients with Myalgic Encephalomyelitis(ME)/ Chronic Fatigue Syndrome (CFS) mean that they will need to access different parts of the health service, depending on their specific symptoms and the severity of their condition. The focus on treatment is therefore centred on close co-operation between patients, carers and the relevant health and social care professionals, which is essential to ensure that sufferers obtain the most suitable treatment for their particular needs.

In Northern Ireland treatment, for the most part, is provided by general practitioners; however patients have access to a wide range of treatment and support services in primary, secondary and community care settings, including specialist medical, neurology and mental health services, depending on their individual needs.

Any proposals for new service developments or allocation of resources is a matter for the Health and Social Care Board (HSCB), as commissioner of services, to consider.

To date the HSCB has established a commissioning team which will deal with, amongst other things, ME/CFS. I am aware that this team has already met with a number of ME/CFS service user representatives and discussed possible areas for service improvement.

Myalgic Encephalomyelitis: Treatment/Services

Mr Spratt asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety whether he has any plans to expand the treatments and services available for people with Myalgic Encephalomyelitis.

(AQW 10001/11-15)

Mr Poots: The variability of symptoms in patients with Myalgic Encephalomyelitis (ME)/ Chronic Fatigue Syndrome (CFS) mean that they will need to access different parts of the health service, depending on their specific symptoms and the severity of their condition. ### Child Protection Register: NEELB

Mr Swann asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety to detail the percentage of pupils at each school in the North Eastern Education and Library Board area who are currently on the Child Protection Register.

(AQW 10038/11-15)

Mr Poots: The figures requested are not available centrally and could only be provided at disproportionate cost.

Using the latest available mid-year population figures produced by the Northern Ireland Statistics and Research Agency and quarterly child protection statistics for the quarter ending December 2011, it is estimated that 0.3 percent of children aged 5 to 18 were on the Child Protection register in the Northern Health and Social Care Trust area.

Holywell Hospital, Antrim: Facilities

Mr McGlone asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety to outline the plans for the upgrade and improvement of the facilities, buildings and grounds at Holywell Hospital, Antrim.

(AQO 1642/11-15)

Mr Poots: The Northern HSC Trust in conjunction with the HSC Board and key stakeholders is currently developing proposals for Holywell Hospital. These discussions are at a very early stage and the Trust will be submitting an outline of their plans to my Department for consideration later in the year.

The Trust is also in the process of carrying out refurbishment work to some of the wards at Holywell Hospital to improve the patient environment.

Obesity

Mr G Robinson asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety what action he is taking to tackle the problem of obesity.

(AQO 1643/11-15)

Mr Poots: On the 9th March 2012 I launched the Framework for Preventing and Addressing Overweight and Obesity in Northern Ireland, entitled A Fitter Future For All. This cross-government, integrated framework incorporates action on food & nutrition and physical activity to tackle the issue of overweight and obesity throughout the population. The Public Health Agency will play a key role in the Framework's implementation and will lead on the delivery of its non cross-Departmental outcomes.

In addition, I am pleased that the Programme for Government commits us to investing £7.2million in support of the Framework over the next three years.

Accident and Emergency Departments: Performance

Mr Moutray asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety what action he is taking to improve performance at Accident and Emergency Departments.

(AQO 1644/11-15)

Mr Poots: The current situation in some of our emergency departments is unacceptable and I expect to see a significant improvement in performance.

I have asked the Health and Social Care Board to provide a robust plan of immediate actions to secure improvement. The Board, working with the Public Health Agency, will establish an Improvement Action Group with immediate effect to ensure that long waiting times are addressed and the patient experience improved. The Group will work with all Trusts in Northern Ireland to secure improvements.

Following the work of the Group I will expect 12 hour breaches in Emergency Departments to occur only in the most rare of circumstances. And consequently, I will be requiring an individual report to be provided on each patient who breaches the 12 hour waiting time target, outlining the reasons why. I will also give further consideration to sanctions for failure to meet the target.

I will continue to meet the HSC Board Chief Executive and senior officials on a very regular basis to be assured progress is made and sustained.

Human Trafficking: Detection Skills

Mrs Hale asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety whether there is specific training for health care professionals and fire service and ambulance crews on identifying the signs of sexual or labour exploitation as a result of human trafficking. (AQO 1645/11-15)

Mr Poots: Health care professionals, fire service and ambulance crews receive general training on recognising the signs of physical, emotional and sexual abuse and neglect, whatever the cause. They are also made aware of procedures for reporting concerns about possible abuse.

Stereotactic Ablative Radiotherapy

Mr P Ramsey asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety whether the referral of cancer patients for stereotactic ablative radiotherapy outside Northern Ireland is determined solely at the discretion of the relevant clinician. (AQO 1646/11-15)

Mr Poots: The decision to recommend a patient for stereotactic radiotherapy in the first instance is a matter for the clinical judgement of the referring consultant. This will be done on the basis of the patient's clinical condition, the best available evidence on the most appropriate treatment and discussions with the patient on his or her treatment options.

HIV: Patient Support

Mr McDevitt asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety what services are currently available to support patients who are diagnosed with Human Immunodeficiency Virus. (AQO 1647/11-15)

Mr Poots: The multidisciplinary team at the Regional Centre for HIV care and management based at the Royal Victoria Hospital offers a range of services including ongoing treatment, specialist support and advice, to support patients diagnosed with HIV in Northern Ireland.

In addition, my Department has published a Strategy for the Development of Psychological Therapy Services, which recognises the increasing evidence of the benefits of psychological therapies for people who have chronic illnesses. A policy framework has also been developed which will support commissioners and providers in developing and improving services for adults living with long term conditions.

A range of support services including a telephone helpline, counselling, information services, home support, respite, social events and advocacy services are available through voluntary organisations funded by my Department.

Audiology: Standards

Ms Brown asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety what action is being taken to improve existing audiology standards. (AQO 1648/11-15)

Mr Poots: As our population gets older, and advances are made in digital hearing aid technology, it follows that the demand for audiology services will increase. Faced with these challenges, I have decided to follow the example of our colleagues in Great Britain and begin to develop quality standards for audiology services here, to ensure that the service we provide in the future will continue to be of the highest quality possible, and focused on the needs of the patient.

As a fundamental first step in this process, my Department has asked the Health and Social Care Board to instigate a scoping study, which will look at where we are now in terms of audiology quality standards and make recommendations about where we want to be. They have agreed to report by the end of June 2012.

Department of Justice

Thomas Ward: Victim's Rights

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice, in relation to Thomas Ward who was released from custody after serving a sentence for sexual assault in 2006 (i) why he was permitted to reside close to the victim despite being barred from the area; (ii) why the victim was not informed in advance of his move; and (iii) what are the victim's rights in this matter.

(AQW 9417/11-15)

Mr Ford (The Minister of Justice ): Conditions attached to the granting of bail are a matter for the Courts.

SOPo prohibitions were already in place to prevent the offender from being within the area where the victim lived or to have any contact with the victim.

Policing: Areas of Responsibility

Mr Agnew asked the Minister of Justice for his assessment of the concerns raised by Matt Baggott on the 16 February 2012 in the Justice Committee which highlighted the ambiguous areas of responsibility in policing between the Executive and the Westminster Government.

(AQW 9466/11-15)

Mr Ford: I endorse the Chief Constable's view that policing is a complex business involving a number of key stakeholders, all of whom have an interest in ensuring the delivery of the best possible policing service. I do not believe that there is ambiguity about respective responsibilities, although there is no doubt that the national security dimension adds complexity.

The PSNI has a role in both excepted and transferred fields. The Chief Constable is accountable to the Policing Board for the exercise of the functions of the Police Service, as set out in the Police (Northern Ireland) Act 2000, and reports to the Secretary of State for Northern Ireland in respect of the delivery of national security-related objectives, in line with the St Andrews Agreement. Given the role that the Northern Ireland Office has in respect of excepted matters, I meet the Chief Constable and Secretary of State regularly through the Security Interface Meeting.

In recognition of the policing arrangements for Northern Ireland, a Policing Architecture document has been developed with the PSNI and the Policing Board setting out some basic principles governing the inter-relationship between my Department, the PSNI, the Policing Board and the Justice Committee. These have been cast in a draft Protocol on the Policing Architecture which we will shortly be presenting to the Justice Committee for their consideration and approval.

Chief Constable: Budget

Mr Agnew asked the Minister of Justice whether he has any plans to increase the timeframe of the budget of the Chief Constable to facilitate longer-term planning.

(AQW 9467/11-15)

Mr Ford: The timeframe for all budgets is set by the Executive and Budget 2011-15 allowed the Chief Constable to develop spending plans for the four year period from 2011-12 to 2014-15. Each year there is the option to revise budgets through monitoring rounds.

Saulius Petraitis, Vitalijus Petraitis and Audrius Sliogeris: Deportation

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice (i) whether Saulius Petraitis, Vitalijus Petraitis and Audrius Sliogeris had criminal convictions in their native country prior to the commission of their offences in Northern Ireland in 2006; (ii) if so, were they of a similar nature to those committed in Northern Ireland; and (iii) whether they will be deported upon completion of their respective sentences.

(AQW 9473/11-15)

Mr Ford: The Northern Ireland Prison Service does not hold information relating to previous convictions of foreign national prisoners in their native countries. Decisions on whether these prisoners are deported upon release are matters for the United Kingdom Borders Agency.

HMP Maghaberry: Fire

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice what caused the fire in the cell in HMP Maghaberry on 29 February 2012; and what was the extent of the damage.

(AQW 9474/11-15)

Mr Ford: On 29 February a prisoner in the Care and Supervision Unit attempted to set alight fire retardant bedding materials. His attempts resulted in smoke being generated in his cell which ignited when the cell door was opened by staff when bringing the prisoner to a safe place. The fire was quickly extinguished by staff using a fire extinguisher.

The cell bedding materials were destroyed with some smoke damage caused. Damage to the cell was minimal and was quickly cleaned with the cell returned to service.

Sex Offenders: Notification Requirements

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice (i) how many sex-offenders are currently unable to be located by the relevant monitoring agency; (ii) for how long they have been missing; (iii) what category of sex offender is each person; and (iv) whether warrants have been issued for their arrest.

(AQW 9475/11-15)

Mr Ford: Information concerning offenders who have failed to comply with the notification requirements of the Sexual Offences Act 2003 is a matter for the Chief Constable, who is accountable to the Northern Ireland Policing Board. I am committed to respecting the operational independence of the Chief Constable and the role of the Policing Board.

You may therefore wish to direct your question to the PSNI.

HMP Maghaberry: Full-body Imaging

Mr Campbell asked the Minister of Justice how many prisoners in HMP Maghaberry are currently in dispute with the Prison Authorities regarding full body searches; and of those, for which crimes were the ten prisoners with the longest sentences convicted.

(AQW 9482/11-15)

Mr Ford: 34 republican separated prisoners are in dispute regarding full body searches. 27 of them are actively engaged in protest action. Of the 34, the crimes of which the ten prisoners with the longest sentences were convicted are as follows:

| Length of Sentence         | Main Offence(s)   |
|----------------------------|---|
| Life (recall from license) | Murder  |
| 25 years                   | Murder  |
| 20 years                   | Attempted murder, possession of a firearm with intent to endanger life  |
| 15 years (3 Prisoners)     | Possessing explosives with intent to endanger life or cause serious injury  |
| 15 years                   | False imprisonment and robbery  |
| 8 years                    | Kidnapping  |
| 6 years                    | Causing an explosion likely to endanger life or cause serious injury  |
| 5 years (4 Prisoners)      | Possession of a firearm with intent to cause fear of violence, attempting to wound with intent to do grievous bodily harm and possession of explosives with intent to endanger life |

Prisons: Full-body Imaging

Mr McKay asked the Minister of Justice which countries use full-body imaging scanners in prisons.

(AQW 9526/11-15)

Mr Ford: I cannot provide definitive information regarding which countries use Full Body Imaging Scanners in their prisons but as far as I am aware, Millimetre Wave Scanners are in use in prisons in France. Transmission X Ray Equipment is used in Argentina, Australia, Brazil, Ecuador, Russia and Singapore, although I am advised it is not used in prisons in any country in Western Europe.

Kanram Jafar: Arrest Warrant

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice whether an arrest warrant has been issued for Kanram Jafar; (ii) when it was issued; and (iii) if a warrant has not been issued, to outline the rationale behind this decision.

(AQW 9531/11-15)

Mr Ford: An arrest warrant has not been issued for Kanram Jafar as he is not wanted in connection with any offences in this jurisdiction.

Bench Warrants: Outstanding

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice, pursuant to AQW 8086/11-15 and AQW 6826/11-15, why the Assistant Chief Constable's report to the Policing Board stated that there were no warrants outstanding for these offences.

(AQW 9532/11-15)

Mr Ford: The contents of reports to the Northern Ireland Policing Board are a matter for the Chief Constable and I am committed to respecting the operational independence of the Chief Constable and the role of the Policing Board.

However, although I am aware of the Assistant Chief Constable's comments, the court records continue to show that one arrest warrant for murder and five for attempted murder are currently recorded on court records as outstanding.

My officials have investigated this anomaly with the Public Prosecution Service (PPS) and Police Service (PSNI) and it would appear that the charges relating to the outstanding warrants were either amended (substituting a lesser charge) or a no prosecution decision was taken by the PPS subsequent to the arrest warrant being issued. However these cases were not referred back to court and it is the case that arrest warrants remain 'active' until such times as an application is made to the court to formally withdraw the warrant or the warrant is executed. In statutory terms, the answers given to the Member's previous questions are therefore correct.

Staff in the Courts and Tribunals Service, PPS and PSNI are currently working together on a reconciliation exercise to ensure that any outstanding warrants which require to be withdrawn or amended, are formally referred back to the issuing court.

Supporting Prisoners at Risk: Review

Mr Campbell asked the Minister of Justice how many random reviews of Supporting Prisoners At Risk documentation have been carried out as a result of recommendation No. 9 of the Review of the N.I. Prison Service in October 2011.

(AQW 9550/11-15)

Mr Ford: Recommendation nine of the Review of the Northern Ireland Prison Service stated that the Prisoner Ombudsman should be invited to carry out random reviews of Supporting Prisoners at Risk (SPAR) documentation. Following consultation with the Prisoner Ombudsman and the Chief Inspector of Criminal Justice in Northern Ireland (CJINI), it was agreed that CJINI should carry out an independent audit of SPAR documentation in liaison with the Prisoner Ombudsman. Criminal Justice Inspection completed an inspection of SPAR documentation in Autumn 2011. It is envisaged that CJINI will do two or three random reviews of SPAR documentation per year at each prison establishment.

Prisoners: Forensic Psychologist Assessments

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice, pursuant to AQW 7954/11-15, to outline the reasons for the delay in the assessment of these prisoners.

(AQW 9570/11-15)

Mr Ford: The Northern Ireland Prison Service has an increasing and dynamic population and consequently waiting lists pending assessment are not unusual. Assessments are prioritised according to risk, need and length of sentence (time available) to ensure that interventions are sequenced according to the needs of the individual.

Assessments and interventions inform the level of risk and the specific areas of offending that have to be addressed to assist the offender in reducing his/her level of risk to the public. There would never be a time when there would be no individual waiting for assessment and interventions.

Ronnie Graham: Release from Custody

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice whether Ronald Terence Graham has been released from custody; and if so, what monitoring measures have been put in place.

(AQW 9572/11-15)

Mr Ford: The information requested constitutes sensitive personal data as defined at section 2 of the Data Protection Act 1998. The disclosure of such information is likely to breach the data subject's rights under the Act and would be incompatible with the Data Protection Principles. The information cannot therefore be provided as requested.

Marian McGlinchey: Move to Hydebank Wood

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice whether the adjustments made to accommodate Marion McGlinchey in Hydebank Women's Prison were made to maintain her separated status.

(AQW 9576/11-15)

Mr Ford: As set out in my answer to AQW 9458/11-15 the adjustments made to accommodate Marion McGlinchey were made after a regime and security review during which her separated status was a consideration.

Prisoners: Categories

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice to list the different categories of prisoner and to provide the definition of each category.

(AQW 9577/11-15)

Mr Ford: All prisoner categories and their definition are listed below:

|             |  |
|-------------|--|
| Category A: | Prisoners whose escape would be highly dangerous to the public or the police or the security of the state, no matter how unlikely that escape might be, and for whom the aim of the Prison Service must be to make escape impossible.  |
| Category B: | Prisoners for whom the very highest conditions of security are not necessary, but for whom escape must be made very difficult.   |
| Category C: | Prisoners who cannot be trusted in open conditions, but who do not have the resources or the will to make a determined escape attempt.   |
| Category D: | Prisoners who can be reasonably trusted in open conditions.  |
| Category U: | All remand, awaiting trial or awaiting sentence prisoners/inmates will be placed in Category U (Unclassified). The only exception is those remand prisoners/inmates identified as Category A. All remand prisoners will be reviewed if and when sentenced and allocated to the appropriate Category. |

Hydebank Wood: Running Costs

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice, pursuant to AQW 6579/11-15, for a breakdown of the annual running costs of the courses that are held at the Alderwood Centre, Hydebank Wood, Belfast.

(AQW 9578/11-15)

Mr Ford: The annual running cost of the courses held at Alderwood Centre, Hydebank Wood, Belfast is £679,000. The table below provides a breakdown of this cost.

|   |                 |
|---|-----------------|
| Salaries & related costs                            | £460,000        |
| Centre running costs & overheads                    | £139,000        |
| Voluntary & Community Sector support for programmes | £ 80,000        |
| Total Annual Cost                            | £679,000 |

Hydebank Wood: Inmate Offences

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice, for each of the last three years, to detail the number of prisoners (i) on remand; and (ii) serving a sentence who have been (a) charged with; and (b) convicted of, committing an offence whilst in prison, broken down by prison facility, including Hydebank Young Offenders Centre and the Juvenile Justice Unit.

(AQW 9637/11-15)

Mr Ford: The information requested is not readily available and can only be collated at a disproportionate cost to the public purse.

Courts: Active Cases

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice to detail the number of cases currently in the (i) Magistrate's; (ii) Crown; and (iii) High Court systems.

(AQW 9640/11-15)

Mr Ford: As of 22 March 2012, the number of active cases recorded on the Integrated Court Operations System ICOS are as follows:

| Court Tier         | Number of Cases |
|--------------------|-----------------|
| Magistrates' Court | 34,223          |
| Crown Court        | 1,472           |
| High Court         | 62,673          |

Notes:

- (i) Figures include Criminal, Civil and Family Business.
- (ii) As data is drawn from a live operational IT system it will change on a daily basis.

Sex Offenders: Fit for Release

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice what is the accountability of agencies, in the interests of public protection, when they deem a sex offender to be fit for release and approve residencies if the offender then commits a similar sexual offence; and (ii) whether he will introduce legislation to allow victims who feel they were not protected to challenge those who made the release decision. (AQW 9695/11-15)

Mr Ford: Release in respect of sentenced offenders is made in line with statutory requirements. Decisions in relation to release on bail are a matter for the courts.

I have no plans to introduce any changes to legislation at this stage.

Trafficking Directive

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice what plans he has to bring Northern Ireland into line with England and Wales in compliance with the EU Trafficking Directive. (AQW 9696/11-15)

Mr Ford: Department of Justice officials have been working with colleagues in England and Wales and Scotland to consider the changes that are required to implement the EU Directive on “preventing and combating trafficking in human beings and protecting its victims...” (2011/36/EU). It has been established that changes to primary legislation are required both in England and Wales and in Northern Ireland to create new offences in two areas. I will shortly be launching a consultation exercise on those changes in Northern Ireland. The consultation document has been approved by the Justice Committee and Executive.

Parades or Processions: Active Cases

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice how many cases in relation to taking part in an unlawful parade or procession are currently in the court system, broken down by court division. (AQW 9697/11-15)

Mr Ford: As at 16 March 2012, there were 24 active cases relating to unlawful parades or processions. The table below details the breakdown by County Court Division.

| County Court Division | Number of Active Cases* |
|-----------------------|-------------------------|
| Armagh                | 16                      |
| Belfast               | 2                       |
| Craigavon             | 6                       |
| Total          | 24               |

* Data has been extracted from a live operational database and will be subject to change.

Community Safety Strategy: Antisocial Behaviour

Mr S Anderson asked the Minister of Justice, pursuant to AQW 8897/11-15, how he plans to ensure that improvements are made when indicators, such as police statistics on recorded crime, anti-social behaviour statistics, and findings on experiences and perceptions of crime from the Northern Ireland Crime Survey, fall short of commitments in the Programme for Government, including tackling anti-social behaviour, seeking local agreement to reduce the number of peace-walls and crimes against older and vulnerable people. (AQW 9739/11-15)

Mr Ford: The Community Safety Strategy will support the delivery of the Programme for Government commitments on tackling anti-social behaviour, seeking local agreement to reduce the number of peace-walls and crimes against older and vulnerable people.

The Programme for Government is supported by a delivery framework within which there are regular monitoring and reporting schedules. As agreed by the Executive, Departments will produce and publish a Delivery Plan for each Programme for Government commitment. The Delivery Plans are living documents and will be regularly reviewed to reflect changing circumstances. Final Delivery Plans will be published at the start of the 2012-13 financial year, when they have been approved by the PfG Programme Board.

Courthouse Closures: Single Jurisdiction

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice, pursuant to AQW 9077/11-15, how he plans to address the concerns of consultees that a single territorial jurisdiction could lead to court closures. (AQW 9764/11-15)

Mr Ford: The creation of a single jurisdiction would provide additional flexibility for listing Magistrates' Court and County Court business and was widely welcomed by consultees who responded to that consultation.

Courts: Cases Involving Proscribed Organisations

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice how many cases are in the court system for organising or managing a meeting of a proscribed organisation, broken down by court division.

(AQW 9765/11-15)

Mr Ford: There are currently six active cases before the courts relating to organising or managing a meeting of a proscribed organisation. One is before the Court of Appeal in the High Court, one is before Belfast Crown Court and four are before Londonderry Magistrates' Court.

Parole Applications: Second Attempt

Mr Weir asked the Minister of Justice how many applications for parole were (i) successful; and (ii) unsuccessful at the second attempt in each of the last five years.

(AQW 9767/11-15)

Mr Ford: Information in the form requested is not available at present. Statistics are currently being gathered as part of a wider exercise and will include information in relation to the number and outcome of reviews. This will be made available when the exercise is completed.

Court Cases: Human Trafficking

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice how many cases involving alleged human trafficking are currently in the (i) Magistrates'; and (ii) Crown court systems, broken down by court division.

(AQW 9790/11-15)

Mr Ford: As of 22 March 2012, there were four active cases involving offences of human trafficking. Two are before Belfast Crown Court, one is before Belfast Magistrates' Court and one is before Antrim Magistrates' Court.

Court Cases: Prostitution/Brothel-keeping

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice how many cases involving alleged prostitution or the running of brothels are currently in the (i) Magistrates'; and (ii) Crown court systems, broken down by court division.

(AQW 9791/11-15)

Mr Ford: As of 25 March 2012, there were twelve active cases involving alleged prostitution and brothel keeping. The table below sets out the breakdown sought.

| Division    | Court Tier         | Number of cases |
|-------------|--------------------|-----------------|
| Belfast     | Crown Court        | 2               |
| Belfast     | Magistrates' Court | 6               |
| Antrim      | Magistrates' Court | 1               |
| Londonderry | Magistrates' Court | 3               |

HMP Maghaberry: Separated Prisoners Protest

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice to what level the republican separated prisoners, who are on protest in HMP Maghaberry, have breached the conditions of the required compact for accommodation in separated conditions.

(AQW 9793/11-15)

Mr Ford: The terms of the compact for separated prisoners requires them to comply with all lawful instructions given by staff and to conform to the law, the terms of the compact and with Prison Rules. Those prisoners engaged in the current protest are in breach of this requirement.

Youth Justice Review: Implementation

Mr Eastwood asked the Minister of Justice, in relation to the commitment in the Programme for Government to implement 90 percent of the Youth Justice Review recommendations by 2013/14, (i) how the figure of 90 percent was identified and what evidence was used to inform this figure; and (ii) to confirm which recommendations will be implemented which will not.

(AQW 9795/11-15)

Mr Ford: Reform of the Youth Justice System in Northern Ireland is one of my key Ministerial priorities. The Youth Justice Review provides a solid basis on which to take this agenda forward. Subject to the outcome of the public consultation, liaison with the Justice Committee and the necessary agreement of Executive colleagues I intend to implement as many of the agreed recommendations as is possible within the Programme for Government timeframe and resources constraints.

The target for implementation of 90% of agreed recommendations was set with the intention of being pragmatic about what could realistically be achieved. Some recommendations may take longer to complete and others may not achieve full agreement. The target was not set with particular recommendations or outcomes in mind, but rather to demonstrate my Department's commitment to making substantial progress whilst being mindful of resource, time, capacity and other constraints. If we can do more we will.

It needs to be re-stated that Executive support and cross-Departmental working is vital if we are to achieve real and lasting success. Without a joined-up collaborative approach we will not be able to deliver all of the outcomes envisaged by the Review Team. Concerted, coherent and timely action will be needed across the board if we are to succeed in addressing the complex social issues that place children at risk of being caught up in crime and creating more victims.

Aidan Grew: Legal Aid Costs

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice, pursuant to AQW 7454/11-15, whether legal aid was applied for in this case and subsequently refused.

(AQW 9859/11-15)

Mr Ford: No legal aid application was made in respect of Mr Grew's trial for taking part in an illegal procession.

Juvenile Justice Centre, Bangor: Safety of Site

Mr Dunne asked the Minister of Justice whether his Department will take responsibility to secure and make safe the site of the former Juvenile Justice Centre at Rathgael Road, Bangor.

(AQW 9906/11-15)

Mr Ford: The Department of Justice has no responsibility for the site of the former Juvenile Justice Centre at Rathgael Road, Bangor which was sold by the NIO to a private developer in April 2007.

Prison Service: Uniform

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Justice whether the uniform for new staff being recruited to the Northern Ireland Prison Service will have a badge or a motif showing 'HMP' and the Crown.

(AQW 9915/11-15)

Mr Ford: As I have made clear, no decisions have been taken in relation to uniforms for new staff or emblems associated with the Northern Ireland Prison Service. However, as I have also made clear any proposals which are deemed to be controversial will be subject to approval by the Executive.

Hospital Staff: Assaults

Mr Moutray asked the Minister of Justice, for each of the last three years, to detail how many people have been (i) prosecuted and; (ii) convicted for an assault on (a) members of hospital staff; (b) members of Accident and Emergency Department staff; and (c) other patients, in each of the last three years, broken down by each hospital.

(AQW 9954/11-15)

Mr Ford: The information requested is not available from the Department of Justice's databases. Court conviction and sentencing datasets do not hold information on the victims of crime.

Prison Service: Change Manager

Mr Dallat asked the Minister of Justice what impact the change of person holding the post of Northern Ireland Prison Service Change Manager has had on the reform of the Service.

(AQO 1656/11-15)

Mr Ford: Colin Bennett took up the post of Northern Ireland Prison Service Change Manager on 19 December 2011. He subsequently stepped down from that post last month due to personal reasons.

Because of the timing of his arrival, and the interruption of the Christmas holidays, any immediate impact he could bring to the reform programme was limited, but I am grateful for the assistance and support he has been able to give since the start of the year, particularly in the areas of Strategic Business Planning and Corporate Governance.

However, given the brevity of Mr Bennett's time in post and the fact that the development of the SEE Programme was already well advanced before he was appointed, I believe that any negative impact arising from his early departure has been limited.

I am pleased that the speedy appointment of his successor has ensured that there is only a slight delay to the long term benefits that an experienced Programme Manager will bring to both NIPS and the wider Department of Justice as we press forward with fundamental reform of the prison system.

PSNI: Contracting Out

Mr McLaughlin asked the Minister of Justice to outline the arrangements made by his Department to consult on regulations governing the contracting-out of services by the PSNI.

(AQO 1650/11-15)

Mr Ford: The Department has no general powers to regulate the contracting out of services by the PSNI.

The one exception is a power to make regulations governing the engagement of an agency for the recruitment of police officers and support staff. These regulations were made in 2001 and 2002 respectively, that is, prior to the devolution of justice and would have been subject to consultation with the Board, the Chief Constable, the Equality Commission for Northern Ireland and the Police Association.

The Department has no plans to change the current regulations.

Prison Service: Custody Officers

Mr Lynch asked the Minister of Justice to outline any discussions he has had to ensure that prison officers receiving an enhanced redundancy package will not be able to apply for the new custody officer positions within the Prison Service.

(AQO 1652/11-15)

Mr Ford: Officials in NIPS have taken legal advice regarding the eligibility of those staff leaving under the Voluntary Early Retirement Scheme reapplying for the new Custody Officer grade. To exclude those staff from applying for Custody Officer vacancies would have left NIPS vulnerable to claims of indirect discrimination. NIPS are committed to ensuring all appointments are made solely on merit following fair and open competition and in line with NICS recruitment procedures.

Of the 4911 applicants for the Custody Officer competition only one is a serving member of NIPS.

HMP Magilligan: Literacy

Mr G Robinson asked the Minister of Justice what action he is taking to address the reported low level of literacy among prisoners in Magilligan Prison.

(AQO 1658/11-15)

Mr Ford: The recent Criminal Justice Inspectorate and Education and Training Inspectorate report highlighted education and skills deficits across the prison estate. This is not a new message, nor is it exclusive, to Northern Ireland and I am committed to putting in place measures that will provide quality education, skills training and work experience that are relevant both to prisoners' needs and to the employment market.

In doing so, I plan to build on the pockets of excellent and innovative practice recognised by the report and which have delivered successes within learning and skills provision. Taking Magilligan as an example, over 900 prisoners have gained a literacy-related qualification in the last three years.

As noted earlier though, we need to do more, and work has already begun on identifying and implementing the further measures required to deliver better learning and skills services. There is however both need and opportunity for more progress, particularly in collaboration with other Ministers.

I am pleased that we are already seeing some positive results emerging from this more collaborative approach, with links established between the prisons and DEL's providers of LEMIS – the Local Employment Intermediary Service, which is designed to help unemployed people in the community overcome issues - including low levels of literacy - that may be preventing them from finding and keeping a job.

A number of other measures are also already in train within NIPS and include:

- a review of the range of services available to prisoners and the method of their delivery which is expected to report in the Spring;
- the development of a draft Employability Strategy to ensure that NIPS services provide prisoners with a better opportunity to gain employment post-release;
- revised IT policies to enable greater prisoner access; and
- arrangements to address staff shortages.

Prison Service: Names and Symbols

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Justice whether he can confirm that, as part of any reform, the present name, badge, uniform and emblem of the Northern Ireland Prison Service, including the Crown, will be retained and that prisons will continue to be designated as Her Majesty's Prison.

(AQO 1659/11-15)

Mr Ford: There are currently no specific plans to make any such changes.

As I have made clear on a number of occasions, NIPS is undergoing fundamental end to end reform, and these are issues which I would expect to be considered as part of that ongoing review.

However, as I have also made clear, any proposals which are deemed to be controversial would be subject to approval by the Executive.

Marian McGlinchey

Mr A Maskey asked the Minister of Justice for an update on any discussions he has had with the Secretary of State in relation to the continued imprisonment of Marion McGlinchey.

(AQO 1660/11-15)

Mr Ford: The detention of Marian McGlinchey has been discussed as part of the regular Security Interface meeting which I have with the Secretary of State. In the absence of specific medical recommendations justifying compassionate release, I have no role to play in relation to any decision on the continued detention of Mrs McGlinchey, other than to ensure that her needs are being met whilst she is in the custody of the Northern Ireland Prison Service.

Drivers: Alcohol-related Offences

Miss M McIveen asked the Minister of Justice what consideration has been given to additional measures to ensure that people convicted of alcohol-related driving offences do not reoffend.

(AQO 1661/11-15)

Mr Ford: This is a matter for the DOE Minister, who has policy responsibility for drink driving issues. I share your concern that people who drive after consuming alcohol or drugs put everyone at risk. Therefore it is critical that the appropriate measures are in place both to deal with individuals who are convicted of these driving offences and to deter them from committing further offences in the future.

I sit as part of an Interdepartmental Group with DOE and DRD Ministers that is considering a range of Road Safety Matters. Whilst it falls to me to consider and endorse any proposals for additional offences and penalties, the substantive policy and law around drink driving remains a matter for the DOE Minister. I fully support and endorse the work being undertaken by ministerial colleagues taking the lead in this important area.

Prisons: Full-body Imaging

Mr Brady asked the Minister of Justice for an update on possible alternative methods of searching to replace full body searches in prisons.

(AQO 1662/11-15)

Mr Ford: Efforts continue to explore alternative search technologies.

In their final report the Prison Review Team concluded that “fully body searching is intrusive and invades the privacy of all prisoners, but is justified as proportionate and necessary to prevent the smuggling of contraband or weapons”. They go on to say that “if other less intrusive and more effective electronic methods become available, they should be piloted, and their use considered”.

In line with this, NIPS has subsequently conducted a further Review of Full Body Imaging Scanners for potential use in NIPS Prisons.

On the basis of that review, as I have previously said I intend to initiate a pilot of Full Body Imaging Scanners, subject to the necessary authorisation for use of this technology in prisons being obtained. However the use of Transmission X-Ray Equipment has not yet been approved for use in UK Prisons and authorisation must be obtained under the Justification of Practices involving Ionising Radiation Regulations 2004.

Department for Regional Development

Car Parks: Publicly Owned

Mr Flanagan asked the Minister for Regional Development to detail the number of publicly-owned car parks that are serviced by (i) huts where tickets are obtained on entrance and payment occurs at departure; (ii) a barrier system; and (iii) a pay and display system manned by traffic wardens.

(AQW 9411/11-15)

Mr Kennedy (The Minister for Regional Development): Details of my Department’s Roads Service charged car-parks are provided in the table below:

| Type of Car Park                | Number |
|---------------------------------|--------|
| Kiosk operated car-parks        | 30     |
| Pay on Foot car-parks (barrier) | 5      |
| Pay and Display car-parks       | 91     |

One Pay on Foot car-park and two kiosk operated car-parks are currently being converted to Pay and Display.

Gritting Fleet: Upgrade

Mr McMullan asked the Minister for Regional Development whether his Department intends to review the age of the gritting fleet; and what plans he has for upgrading the gritting fleet.

(AQW 9426/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: My Department's Roads Service has advised that it carries out an annual review of the age profile and condition of its entire fleet of vehicles and plant, including gritters.

Replacement and upgrading of the gritting fleet is subject to the availability of funding and has to compete with other priorities. However, the replacement of winter service vehicles and plant takes priority over the demands of the other vehicles and plant within Roads Service.

In this current financial year, Roads Service is in the process of replacing a total of 13 gritters. This represents an investment of over one million pounds in the continued delivery of this crucial service to the public and the local economy.

Street Lighting: Running Costs

Mr McDevitt asked the Minister for Regional Development to detail (i) the total running costs of street lighting in each of the last three years; (ii) the average amount of hours lights are switched on; and (iii) the cost, per kWh, his Department is charged for providing this service.

(AQW 9434/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: Details of street lighting running costs, which include scouting, routine and planned maintenance, inspection and testing, and energy for the last three years are provided in the table below:

| Year    | Street Lighting Expenditure  |
|---------|------------------------------|
| 2009/10 | £19.02 million               |
| 2010/11 | £20.41 million               |
| 2011/12 | £20.63 million (anticipated) |

My Department's Roads Service has advised that street lights operate on a dusk to dawn profile, which is on average, 10.71 hours per day.

In relation to the cost per kWh that my Department is charged, I should advise that this information is commercially sensitive, and I am therefore unable to provide this level of detail.

Woodland: UK Forestry Standard

Ms Lo asked the Minister for Regional Development whether all the bodies or organisations within his Department's remit which own woodland are compliant with the UK Forestry Standard, including his Department, any arm's-length body and any organisation to which his Department provides grant aid.

(AQW 9440/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: I have been advised by Northern Ireland Water (NIW) that a significant proportion of its land is forested and leased to Northern Ireland (NI) Forest Service for the commercial cropping of trees. The NI Forest Service has responsibility for management of land leased from NIW in accordance with the UK Forestry Standard (UKFS).

The remaining limited areas of forested land owned by NIW which are not leased to NI Forest Service are managed by NIW in accordance with its Environmental Policy and Environmental Management System.

Walking or Cycling to School

Mrs D Kelly asked the Minister for Regional Development what plans his Department has to help schools encourage pupils to walk or cycle to school in order to meet the target contained in the draft Programme for Government that, by 2015, 36 percent of primary school pupils and 22 percent of secondary school pupils should be walking or cycling to school.

(AQW 9511/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: I fully support the demanding school active travel commitment set out in the Programme for Government. I have tasked my officials with the development of an enhanced programme of engagement with schools so that we will have created the conditions to facilitate meeting the targets for children walking or cycling to school as their main mode of transport by 2015.

My Department through Travelwise NI have invited schools in Northern Ireland to take part in Walk to School Week which runs from Monday 21st to Friday 25th May 2012. In 2011 over 54,000 pupils across Northern Ireland stepped out and walked to school and Travelwise NI is looking forward to increasing the number participating in the 2012 venture.

Speed Restrictions: 20 Mph Zones

Mr Weir asked the Minister for Regional Development what progress has been made on the implementation of 20 miles per hour zones. (AQW 9537/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: My Department's Roads Service has advised that it has been installing 20 mph zones for a number of years. These zones contain self enforcing engineering measures, such as road humps, which have played a significant role in greatly reducing serious and fatal collisions in residential areas. Most social housing areas have been treated and Roads Service continues to install further traffic calming measures on routes where vulnerable road users are present.

The Northern Ireland Road Safety Strategy to 2020 contains action measures that encourage further roll out of 20 mph zones. There is also a commitment to pilot the implementation of 20 mph limits without additional self enforcing engineering measures. However, delivery has been delayed due to enforcement issues.

I can also advise that Roads Service's speed management strategy gives encouragement to local traffic managers to further extend 20 mph zones, where they are considered necessary.

Road Safety: Dangerous Junctions

Mr Weir asked the Minister for Regional Development what plans his Department has to improve road safety at dangerous road junctions, particularly for cyclists. (AQW 9539/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: My Department's Roads Service has, over many years, been investing significant levels of capital funding in collision remedial and traffic calming schemes. Traffic calming schemes have been particularly effective at reducing the number of casualties amongst vulnerable road users, such as pedestrians and cyclists.

Since 2004, the collision remedial programme has been targeted at specific collision types, such as right turning movements and rear end shunts, with the objective of reducing by 50% the number of target collisions occurring at treated sites over the three years following completion of the works.

My Department encourages increased use of travel by sustainable means, such as walking and cycling, through the establishment of an Active Travel Forum. Already, there has been an encouraging increase in the number of cyclists and the safety of these road users has required extra consideration in the development of the Northern Ireland Road Safety Strategy to 2020. This has resulted in the provision of a number of action measures that will seek to address safety concerns for cyclists. These consist of commitments, subject to the availability of funding, to further develop and maintain the cycling infrastructure with an emphasis on being separate from vehicular traffic, or on roads where a 20 mph speed limit is feasible.

'Green boxes' for cyclists have been provided at signalised junctions to make cycling safer and more convenient. These allow cyclists waiting for a green light to do so at the front of traffic, where they can more readily be seen by motorists and there is less exposure to exhaust fumes. They also help to reduce the conflict between cyclists and motorists when pulling away from the junction and make it easier and safer for cyclists to complete right turn manoeuvres.

I can also advise that research is currently underway in GB, on measures to alert drivers of HGV vehicles to the presence of cyclists when making turning movements and my Department awaits the outcome of this study.

Cycling: Infrastructure Budget

Mr Weir asked the Minister for Regional Development how much of the roads budget is allocated to the cycling infrastructure. (AQW 9540/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: My Department's Roads Service is committed to providing safer roads for vulnerable road users, including cyclists and pedestrians, by utilising a range of measures, such as road safety engineering, traffic calming and enhancement of the pedestrian and cycling network.

Roads Service's objective is to maximise the resources which it has available for cycling provision. In the 10 year period including this financial year, Roads Service will have invested almost £9 million in the provision of 225kms of cycle lanes.

Detailed budgets for subsequent years have not yet been finalised and it is therefore not possible to provide details of future programmes at this time. However, as I am sure you are aware, capital budgets for the period 2011-2015 are under pressure and my Department is faced with the difficult task of maximising outputs from the limited resources available. Therefore in these circumstances, it is not possible to continue to fund all of our functions at the same levels as in previous years.

Sewer System: Rasharkin

Mr McKay asked the Minister for Regional Development what areas of Rasharkin have been added to the public sewer system in the last five years. (AQW 9574/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: I have been advised by Northern Ireland Water that during the last five years 56 domestic connections were made to the public sewer system in the Rasharkin area. These were at Churchfields, Valley View and Glebe Road.

Roads: Cost of Salting the Network

Mr Craig asked the Minister for Regional Development, pursuant to AQW 7784/11-15, how much the additional 10,000 tonnes of rock salt will cost the Roads Service.

(AQW 9585/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: The purchase of rock salt by Roads Service is subject to tender and as such, I am not able to disclose the cost of purchase for reasons of commercial sensitivity and in the interests of securing best value for money.

Gritting Fleet: Trucks

Mr Weir asked the Minister for Regional Development how many gritting trucks have been used by Roads Service in each of the last five years.

(AQW 9604/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: My Department's Roads Service has advised that the total number of gritting trucks it has used, in each of the last five years, is detailed in the table below:

Total number of gritting trucks used by Roads Service in the last five years

| Year    | Number of trucks |
|---------|------------------|
| 2007/08 | 139              |
| 2008/09 | 145              |
| 2009/10 | 145              |
| 2010/11 | 144              |
| 2011/12 | 144              |

Sewer System: Rasharkin

Mr McKay asked the Minister for Regional Development how many homes on Finvoy Road, Rasharkin have been added to the public sewer system in the last five years.

(AQW 9605/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: I have been advised by Northern Ireland Water that no homes on Finvoy Road, Rasharkin were connected to the public sewer system in the last five years.

Gritting Fleet: Trucks

Mr Weir asked the Minister for Regional Development to detail the average age of the gritting trucks used by Roads Service in each of the last five years.

(AQW 9642/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: My Department's Roads Service has advised that the average age of gritting vehicles it has used, in each of the last five years, is detailed in the table below:

Average age of gritting trucks used by Roads Service in the last five years

| Year    | Average age of truck |
|---------|----------------------|
| 2007/08 | 5.1 years            |
| 2008/09 | 4.8 years            |
| 2009/10 | 5.5 years            |
| 2010/11 | 6.1 years            |
| 2011/12 | 7.1 years            |

Media Communications Protocols

Mr Allister asked the Minister for Regional Development what media communications protocols exist between his Department and each of its arm's-length bodies; and to publish these protocols.

(AQW 9661/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: The Department does not have any media communications protocols with its arms-length bodies.

Cycling Proficiency Scheme

Mr Weir asked the Minister for Regional Development what plans there are to integrate the School Travel Plans targets with the Cycling Proficiency Schemes in schools.

(AQW 9673/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: I continue to be a strong supporter of encouraging children to travel to and from school by sustainable modes and to cycle where this is a realistic option. My support for this is underscored in the Programme for Government commitment to facilitate an increase in the numbers of children walking and cycling to school. Policy responsibility for these things rests with my Department and I am currently considering ways in which we can engage with schools in order to achieve the targets set out in the Programme for Government.

The Department of the Environment (DOE) has no specific remit or statutory authority to promote or encourage the uptake of cycling. DOE does have a statutory duty to promote road safety and one of the ways it does this is through the provision of the Cycling Proficiency Scheme (CPS) which is active in approximately 580 primary schools with an average of 8,800 children trained each year at a cost of £84,000. DOE is concerned with the CPS as a road safety measure and the scheme is aimed mostly at children in Primary 7.

DOE recently commissioned an independent review of CPS to examine the content of the course and methods of delivery to ensure that these are up to date and are fit for purpose. The review will also evaluate the effectiveness of the scheme in terms of reducing child road safety casualties and to determine if the scheme appropriately addresses today's road safety issues. It is anticipated that the review team will report before the end of this calendar year.

Roadworks: Grass Areas

Mr McGlone asked the Minister for Regional Development (i) what procedures are in place for the reinstatement of grass areas which have been damaged during work carried out by Roads Service; (ii) how the need for reinstatement is assessed; (iii) to detail the tender process for this work; and (iv) what the set cost is per square metre for the reinstatement of these areas.

(AQW 9674/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: My Department's Roads Service has advised that Article 8 of the Roads (Northern Ireland) Order 1993, places a duty on Roads Service to maintain all public roads in reasonable condition giving due consideration to the finite level of available funding.

As a general rule of thumb, it is normally understood that the public road extends between, but does not include the boundaries. I should also explain that, under the 1993 Order, the term "road" includes all public adopted footways, islands, verges, etc.

Roads Service carries out verge maintenance / reinstatement operations for road safety reasons and not for cosmetic or amenity purposes, ensuring that visibility is not restricted and verges are free from obstructions and without defects that would be detrimental to the user. This is particularly important at road junctions and on the inside of bends where clear visibility for motorists is important.

Although road verges generally do not carry vehicular traffic, they may occasionally be used by pedestrians. Therefore, following adjacent road works, Roads Service usually restores verges to their original profile, which includes topsoiling, if necessary, reasonably levelling and seeding. Such works are regularly carried out by either Roads Service's in house contractor, Roads Service Direct, or an external contractor. An external contract can either be as part of a three to five year term contract or as part of a one off tender, depending on the nature of any associated works.

With regard to the set cost per square metre for reinstatements, Roads Service has advised that there is no composite item or square metre rate for verge reinstatement. Verge reinstatement works are measured and valued using a number of items as appropriate, such as importing topsoil, levelling and seeding.

All road maintenance activities are measured and valued upon completion, taking account of the volumes and types of work undertaken. Payment is based on the tendered rates for each work activity and rates usually vary from contract to contract. As I am sure you will appreciate, the rates in a particular contract at any given time are regarded as commercially sensitive and therefore cannot be made public.

Penalty Charge Notices: Revenue

Mr Flanagan asked the Minister for Regional Development to detail the revenue raised by the NSL Services Group in each of the last six years through the payment of (i) penalty charge notices; and (ii) parking charges; and (ii) any other sources of revenue the NSL Services Group receives under the parking enforcement and car park management contract.

(AQW 9691/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: My Department's Roads Service, not NSL Services Group (NSL), receives all revenue generated from parking charges and Penalty Charge Notices (PCNs). It also makes payments to NSL in accordance with its contract for the provision of parking enforcement and car-park management services.

I would refer the Member to my answer to his previous question (AQW 6669/11-15) which provided details of payments to NSL since the introduction of Decriminalised Parking Enforcement in Northern Ireland in October 2006.

Car Parking: Pavements

Ms Lo asked the Minister for Regional Development whether his Department has any plans to address the problem of cars parked on pavements which can cause inconvenience to pedestrians, particularly people with children and wheelchair users. (AQW 9722/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: My Department's Roads Service has advised that there is currently no general prohibition on parking on footways, except for the parking of heavy commercial vehicles which is prohibited and is a matter for the PSNI to enforce.

However, where there are parking restrictions on the adjacent carriageway, indicated by road markings and/or traffic signs, the restrictions also generally apply to the footway and are enforceable by Roads Service traffic attendants. Where there are no marked or signed parking restrictions on the carriageway, and parking on footways is creating an obstruction, the matter should be referred to the PSNI.

Beyond this, it is feasible that a general prohibition or individual prohibitions on footway parking could be introduced. However, the main difficulty that would arise from implementing such bans on footway parking is that many of our streets can only function when footway parking is tolerated. In these streets, the widths are such that cars need to be parked on the footway so that sufficient road space is available for other vehicles using the street. A general ban on footway parking would require a complementary waiting restriction on one side of the street which would severely reduce the availability of parking spaces. The displacement of parked vehicles presents other difficulties as in many areas there is no nearby alternative parking.

In these circumstances, and particularly since the PSNI already has the power to deal with obstruction of the pavement, I can advise that I currently have no plans to change the law on cars parking on footways.

Landslide: Marlborough Terrace, Londonderry

Mr Allister asked the Minister for Regional Development why there has been disparity in terms of a co-ordinated response to the landslide incident in the Marlborough Terrace area of Londonderry in December 2011, and the response to a similar landslide in the Linen Fields development, Banbridge in January 2010. . (AQW 9782/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: I can advise the Member that my Department's Roads Service was not involved in the response to the wall collapse that occurred in Marlborough Terrace area of Londonderry in December 2011. I have been advised by Northern Ireland Water (NIW) that its involvement in the response, which was led by Derry City Council, was purely advisory to ensure that the infrastructure affected was restored as part of the programme of remedial work initiated by the Council.

The incident at Linen Fields, Huntly Road, Banbridge relates to a wall collapse on private ground, which due to its proximity to a road in a new housing development that may ultimately be adopted, is of interest to Roads Service. Roads Service officials have been seeking to facilitate agreement between the relevant parties in respect of the replacement of the wall. This would allow completion of the outstanding road works and adoption of the roads and footways within the development to proceed. NIW is not involved in the response to the incident at the Linen Fields.

Penalty Charge Notices: NSL Payments

Mr Flanagan asked the Minister for Regional Development for a breakdown of the money paid to NSL in each of the last five years.

(AQW 9787/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: Details of the amounts paid to NSL, the service provider for enforcing parking restrictions, in each of the last five financial years is provided in the table below:-

|                 | 2006/07(£M) | 2007/08(£M) | 2008/09(£M) | 2009/10(£M) | 2010/11(£M) |
|-----------------|-----------------|-----------------|-----------------|-----------------|-----------------|
| Payments to NSL | 2.4             | 7.0             | 8.5             | 8.9             | 9.3             |

I can also advise that as the main elements of my Department's Roads Service contract with NSL, which include on-street enforcement, off-street enforcement, car-park management, equipment maintenance and cash collection, are all inter-related, payments are not broken down by function. These payments relate to the provision of contracted services across Northern Ireland and are not broken down by town, county, or region.

Quangos

Mr Weir asked the Minister for Regional Development to detail (i) the quangos to which his Department makes appointments; (ii) how many members are appointed; and (iii) the remuneration paid to (a) the Chair; and (b) other members. (AQW 9864/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: Full information about public appointments made by the Department for Regional Development is set out in the Public Bodies and Public Appointments Annual Report, published by OFMDFM. The most recent report covers the period 2010/11 and is available from the OFMDFM website or from the Assembly Library's reference collection (Reference number R351.41609 NOR).

Roadworks: Communication with Businesses

Mr McElduff asked the Minister for Regional Development if his Department will commit to direct communication with businesses regarding upcoming road works in their area which may cause disruption to their business.

(AQW 9865/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: My Department's Roads Service's arrangements for notifying commercial premises will vary according to the nature of works being completed. Where a roads scheme will cause traffic disruption, or inconvenience is expected to be prolonged, notification is provided by means of:

- a letter drop to all nearby properties and residents with information on the extent and timescale of the disruption and a contact point for further information;
- public notice in the local press; and
- through the Roads Service website.

When completing routine short term maintenance work, such as gully emptying and patching and the disruption to traffic is expected to be minimal, notification is not generally provided or considered necessary.

University of Ulster: York Street Campus Expansion

Ms P Bradley asked the Minister for Regional Development what discussions his Department has had with the University of Ulster regarding its expansion at the York Street campus.

(AQO 1663/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: As a former Minister of the Department for Employment and Learning, I am aware of the significance of this project and would, in principle, be supportive of it. However, the Member will also be aware of the role of my Department's Roads Service as a statutory consultee to the planning process and the importance of each application being assessed objectively based on its relative merits.

Roads Service officials have advised that, together with representatives from the University of Ulster, it has attended Pre-Application Discussions (PADs) with the Department of the Environment's Planning Division over the past year. The PADs dealt with the principle of the development proposal.

Roads Service officials report that they are currently assessing the transport and parking issues relevant to the development proposal and that meetings with the University's Transport Consultants were held on 1 June 2011 and 4 January 2012.

Comments relating to Roads Service's consideration of the Transportation Assessment were uploaded to the Planning Service public webpage on 19 January 2012.

More recently, on the 2 February 2012, I met with Professor Alastair Adair, the University's Pro-Vice-Chancellor, when he outlined the University's proposals to relocate to the York Street area.

Sewerage: Ballyclare

Mr Girvan asked the Minister for Regional Development how many homes in Ballyclare have been added to the public sewer system in the last five years.

(AQO 1670/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: I have been advised by Northern Ireland Water that 131 new properties have been connected to the public sewer network in Ballyclare in the last five years.

Road Noise Action Plan: Update

Mr Givan asked the Minister for Regional Development for an update on identifying clusters as part of the Roads Noise Action Plan.

(AQO 1671/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: As required by the Environmental Noise Directive, my Department's Roads Service prepared a Road Noise Action Plan that became effective in March 2010. Using the Plan, Roads Service is currently working towards the identification of Noise Management Areas, or to use the Member's term, 'clusters', across Northern Ireland, based on strategic noise mapping. This will highlight locations where mitigation measures could be considered.

It is expected that the Road Noise Action Plan will take another 12 months to complete.

Until the work of the Road Noise Action Plan progresses further, the Department is, at this stage, unable to commit to the provision of mitigation measures. If an area is highlighted within a Noise Management Area, Roads Service will consider action at any site identified, including measures to reduce the effect of noise, in conjunction with a planned scheme in that area.

Roads: Salt

Mr G Kelly asked the Minister for Regional Development how much road salt was used this winter, to date, in comparison to previous winters.

(AQO 1672/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: My Department's Roads Service has advised that as of Friday 16 March 2012, it has used approximately 46,000 tonnes of salt during the current winter season.

In each of the past three years commencing 2008/09, some 82,431, 100,632 and 110,351 tonnes of salt were used respectively.

Bilingual Traffic Signs: Equality Impact Assessment

Mr McMullan asked the Minister for Regional Development whether the Equality Impact Assessment on bi-lingual traffic signs has been completed.

(AQO 1673/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: My Department's Roads Service issued a draft Policy and draft Equality Impact Assessment for Bilingual Traffic Signs for consultation between January and March 2011.

Officials have submitted a first draft of the policy consultation report to me and I plan to make an announcement on the way forward in due course.

Public Transport: Accessibility

Mr McCartney asked the Minister for Regional Development for an update on research into the accessibility of the transport network for older people and people with a disability.

(AQO 1674/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: My Department sponsors the Inclusive Mobility Transport Advisory Committee (IMTAC) to provide advice and information on transport issues that affect the mobility of older people and disabled people. This includes undertaking research into their transport needs.

IMTAC has recently undertaken research which has focused on the specific barriers that make travel difficult for these groups including; the transport needs of people with learning disabilities, improving web based travel information for disabled people and researching blue badge use in Belfast City centre.

Research is currently being undertaken on a range of topics including; flexible transport, encouraging the development of travel training and barriers to the pedestrian environment.

Cyclists: Road Safety

Mr Dickson asked the Minister for Regional Development what work his Department will undertake in conjunction with the Department of the Environment to improve road safety for cyclists.

(AQO 1675/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: I meet regularly with Assembly Colleagues, including Minister Attwood in the Ministerial Road Safety Group, to discuss all aspects of road safety including road safety for cyclists. Specifically, my Department's Travelwise team is working with the Department of the Environment's Road Safety team to produce a joint publication aimed at providing advice for cyclists about safely interacting with other road users.

My Department's Roads Service is committed to providing safer roads for all road users, particularly vulnerable road users such as pedestrians and cyclists. This is achieved, by utilising a range of measures, including road safety education and engineering, traffic calming and enhancement of the pedestrian and cycling network.

A1 Roundabout, Hillsborough

Mr Craig asked the Minister for Regional Development what short, medium, and long term plans his Department has to combat peak-time traffic flow issues at the A1 roundabout, Hillsborough.

(AQO 1676/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: My Department's Roads Service has advised that it has considered a number of options to improve the capacity of the roundabout at the junction of the A1 Hillsborough Bypass with the Lisburn Road, in particular, to cater for traffic during the morning peak.

Detailed assessments have confirmed that a free-flow lane, similar to that provided at the A1/A101 Sprucefield roundabout, is not suitable for this roundabout due to the number of road junctions and private accesses in the vicinity of the roundabout.

Roads Service is currently considering the feasibility of installing part time traffic signals at the roundabout and in this regard, recently attended a meeting with a local representative to discuss the proposal and to consider how best to gauge local support for the scheme. A number of issues were raised and discussions are still on-going.

I have asked Roads Service officials to include you in any future meetings on the issue.

In the longer term, Roads Service plans include the provision of a fly-over type junction as part of the M1/A1 Sprucefield Bypass proposals. However, delivery of such a project will be dependent on funding levels envisaged in the Investment Strategy for Northern Ireland 2011-2021, which is currently under consideration, following the recent consultation process.

Roads: Investment in Rural Areas

Mr McGlone asked the Minister for Regional Development what plans he has to invest in improvement schemes for small and medium rural roads in Mid Ulster and west of the Bann.

(AQO 1677/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: The detailed budget for the 2012/13 financial year has not yet been finalised and it is, therefore, not possible to provide details of future works programmes at this time.

However, when works programmes are finalised, information on proposed roads schemes for each financial year can be found in Roads Service's Spring and Autumn Reports to Councils. These reports can be accessed from my Department's internet site at the following web address:

http://www.drni.gov.uk/index/freedom\_of\_information/customer\_information/cinformationtype-results.htm?signpost=Customer+information&informationType=Roads+Service+reports+to+councils

Information on completed and proposed schemes for the current financial year can also be found in Roads Service's Spring and Autumn Reports to Councils at the internet site above.

Department for Social Development

Woodland: UK Forestry Standard

Ms Lo asked the Minister for Social Development whether all the bodies or organisations within his Department's remit which own woodland are compliant with the UK Forestry Standard, including his Department, any arm's-length body and any organisation to which his Department provides grant aid.

(AQW 9495/11-15)

Mr McCausland (The Minister for Social Development): My Department owns woodland areas in Poleglass and Ligoniel which are managed by Belfast Regeneration Office. These wooded areas are designated as Local Landscape Policy Areas within the Lisburn and Belfast Metropolitan Area Plans and are maintained to an appropriate standard for the benefit of the community. My Department has adopted all legal responsibilities as landowner and the work currently undertaken in these woodlands is consistent with the requirements of the UK Forestry Standard. The lands are included in a programme of regular inspections to address any health and safety issues with any remedial work carried out when required. Some tree, shrub and wildflower planting is also carried out which contributes to the sustainability of the woodland areas.

The Housing Executive, through its support for the 2006 Department of Agriculture and Rural Development forestry strategy, "NI Forestry: A Strategy for Sustainability and Growth" has a programme of new native woodlands creation. This is implemented under the Woodland Grant Scheme which is administered by the Northern Ireland Forest Service and is compliant with the UK Forestry Standard and in accordance with the specifications therein.

The scheme is part financed by the European Agricultural Fund for Rural Development under Axis 2 of the NI Rural Development Programme 2007-13. Guidance on site suitability, selection of tree species, local provenance and compliance with the UK Forestry Standard is provided and monitored by the Northern Ireland Forest Service. Additionally this programme contributes to targets set within the NI Biodiversity Strategy.

Housing: St Patrick's Barracks Site, Ballymena

Mr D McIlveen asked the Minister for Social Development when the housing at the St Patrick's Barracks site in Ballymena will be ready for allocation.

(AQW 9596/11-15)

Mr McCausland: I understand the Business Case to approve the transfer of these units from Office of the First Minister and Deputy First Minister for social housing is nearly complete. Once the transfer is complete, Fold Housing Association have already been appointed to take forward the necessary improvement work to the homes and infrastructure, and expect the first handover of units to take place at the end of the contract, which has an indicative time of 10 months to complete.

Housing Executive Properties: Sold on the Open Market

Mr Agnew asked the Minister for Social Development how many ex-Housing Executive properties which transferred to a Housing Association, in each of the last ten years, have been sold on the open market to private purchasers.

(AQW 9627/11-15)

Mr McCausland: No ex-Housing Executive properties that were transferred to Housing Associations in each of the last ten years have been sold on the open market to private purchasers.

Planning Application: Eco-village in Enniskillen

Mr Lynch asked the Minister for Social Development for an update on the development of an eco-village in Enniskillen.
(AQW 9632/11-15)

Mr McCausland: An outline planning application for 200 housing units has been submitted for the Grosvenor Barracks site and is currently being assessed by Planning Service.

Clanmil Housing Association has refurbished the 10 existing former MoD houses at Ballaghmore Heights and have all now been allocated to tenants. The Association has also submitted a planning application for a further 16 units on the adjacent undeveloped land.

Mortgage Relief Scheme: Cost Analysis

Mr P Ramsey asked the Minister for Social Development whether his Department has carried out a cost analysis on the creation of a mortgage relief scheme.
(AQW 9634/11-15)

Mr McCausland: My Department has indeed carried out a cost analysis for the creation of a mortgage relief scheme and, as I have previously outlined, it would help only a small number of those facing repossession at a disproportionate cost to the public purse.

I believe our Mortgage Debt Advice Service, operated by Housing Rights Service, provides greater and more practical support to the increasing number of people facing repossession. Since its introduction last year, 992 people have been directly supported through the scheme and I am already looking to see what more we can do to further support this work.

Mortgage Rescue Scheme

Mr P Ramsey asked the Minister for Social Development whether his Department has considered introducing a scheme, similar to that in Britain, where owner-occupiers are granted assistance to keep their homes rather than being granted temporary accommodation.
(AQW 9635/11-15)

Mr McCausland: I have considered the introduction of a full mortgage rescue scheme but, believe it would either help only a small proportion of those owner-occupiers facing repossession or would be extremely expensive to operate. I believe our Mortgage Debt Advice Service, operated by Housing Rights Service, provides greater and more practical support to the increasing number of people facing repossession. Since its introduction last year 992 people have been directly supported and it has increased the level of advice for people experiencing difficulty making mortgage payments.

My Department also funds a range of advice networks not just within the social security agency, but the Law Centre, Advice Northern Ireland and Citizens Advice Bureau helping people with other debt problems, which often have knock-on effects on their ability to pay their mortgage.

Housing Executive: Temporary Accommodation

Mr P Ramsey asked the Minister for Social Development how many owner-occupiers are currently living in temporary accommodation provided by the Housing Executive as a result of losing their homes, broken down by each district council area.
(AQW 9636/11-15)

Mr McCausland: The Housing Executive does not hold the information in the format requested as previous accommodation tenure is not typically a determining factor when assessing homelessness and the Housing Executive does not differentiate between tenures.

Housing Executive Properties: Cookstown

Mr I McCrea asked the Minister for Social Development how many Housing Executive properties are currently vacant in the Cookstown district area, broken down by town/village.
(AQW 9682/11-15)

Mr McCausland: The Housing Executive has advised that as at 29 February 2012 they had six vacant properties in the Cookstown area. The table below provides a breakdown: -

| Cookstown Area          | Number | Reason                          |
|-------------------------|--------|---------------------------------|
| Ballyronan              | 1      | Repairs                         |
| Cookstown South         | 3      | Repairs and planned improvement |
| Labourers Cottage Coagh | 1      | Sale pending                    |
| Tully Hogue Tullywiggan | 1      | Repairs                         |

Housing Executive Properties: Magherafelt

Mr I McCrea asked the Minister for Social Development how many Housing Executive properties are currently vacant in the Magherafelt district area, broken down by town/village.

(AQW 9683/11-15)

Mr McCausland: The Housing Executive has advised that as at 29 February 2012 they had sixteen vacant properties in the Magherafelt area. The table below provides a breakdown: -

| Magherafelt Area | Number | Reason                         |
|------------------|--------|--------------------------------|
| Castledawson     | 3      | Lettable                       |
| Desertmartin     | 1      | Difficult to let               |
| Draperstown      | 1      | Difficult to let               |
| Innistrush       | 1      | Lettable                       |
| Maghera          | 5      | Lettable                       |
| Magherafelt      | 5      | 4 lettable; 1 difficult to let |

Housing Executive: Waiting List in Cookstown

Mr I McCrea asked the Minister for Social Development how many people are on the Housing Executive waiting list in the Cookstown district area.

(AQW 9684/11-15)

Mr McCausland: At the 30 June 2011 there were 415 applicants on the waiting list for the Cookstown district area. The Housing Executive has advised that this is the most up to date figure available.

Housing Executive: Waiting List in Magherafelt

Mr I McCrea asked the Minister for Social Development how many people are on the Housing Executive waiting list in the Magherafelt district area.

(AQW 9685/11-15)

Mr McCausland: At the 30 June 2011 there were 514 applicants on the waiting list for the Magherafelt district area. The Housing Executive has advised that this is the most up to date figure available.

Portas Review: Implementation

Mrs Cochrane asked the Minister for Social Development, pursuant to AQW 6154/11-15, for his assessment of the Portas Review; and whether he has considered any of the recommendations with a view to implementation.

(AQW 9724/11-15)

Mr McCausland: I announced on 7 February 2012 that I would be taking the following steps following an initial consideration of the Portas Review:

- 1 Setting up a taskforce of senior officials to respond to the difficult trading challenges facing Northern Ireland's High Streets. The taskforce will review the support which the Department already provides to regenerate town centres to see whether this might be further strengthened in light of the recommended actions identified by Portas, and also reflect Northern Ireland trading circumstances.
- 2 Meeting with representatives of business, local government and my DFP, DRD and DOE Ministerial colleagues to develop a NI Executive action plan to boost the performance of Northern Ireland's high streets.
- 3 Inviting Mary Portas to Northern Ireland to advise on the content of the Northern Ireland action plan.
- 4 Presenting a Report and Action Plan to the NI Executive by April 2012 for endorsement.

Following an initial workshop to consider the issues impacting on the performance of Northern Ireland's high streets, my Department proposes to hold a series of 'high street meetings' around Northern Ireland during April to provide an opportunity for traders to put their views directly to the Department and to test reaction to the issues identified at the workshop.

The time required to complete the above steps means that completion of the report to the NI Executive is now likely to be June 2012.

At that stage I will be in a position to state my Department's assessment of the Portas Review including the 28 recommendations made within the report.

High Street Landlords: Public Register

Mrs Cochrane asked the Minister for Social Development whether he will introduce a public register of high street landlords.
(AQW 9726/11-15)

Mr McCausland: I have established a taskforce of senior officials to respond to the difficult trading challenges facing Northern Ireland's High Streets. The taskforce will review the support which the Department already provides to regenerate town centres to see whether this might be further strengthened in light of the recommended actions identified by Mary Portas in her recent report to the UK Coalition Government ('The Portas Review: An independent review into the future of our high streets'), and also reflect Northern Ireland trading circumstances. Ms Portas's recommendation to introduce a public register of high street landlords will be considered by the DSD taskforce.

Boiler Replacement Scheme

Mr S Anderson asked the Minister for Social Development for his assessment of the pilot Boiler Replacement Scheme.
(AQW 9742/11-15)

Mr McCausland: The pilot Boiler Replacement Scheme has been hugely successful. £2 million has been invested installing new boilers which will significantly increase the energy efficiency of over 1,330 pensioners' homes. At a time of rising fuel prices I am committed to doing all I can to improve the energy efficiency of vulnerable peoples' homes. As well as improving domestic energy efficiency, the pilot has also provided a much need boost to the local plumbing industry.

The pilot will now be subject to a full evaluation which will be used to inform development of any future schemes.

Boiler Replacement Scheme

Mr S Anderson asked the Minister for Social Development how many households benefited from the pilot Boiler Replacement Scheme (i) in total; and (ii) broken down by council area.
(AQW 9743/11-15)

Mr McCausland: At 20 March 2012 there had been 1,265 boiler replacement installations completed. I am confident that the target of 1,330 boiler installations will be met by the end of the financial year.

The table below provides a breakdown by District Council Area.

| District Council Area                    | Installations |
|--|---------------|
| Antrim Borough Council                   | 29            |
| Ards Borough Council                     | 52            |
| Armagh City and District Council         | 60            |
| Ballymena Borough Council                | 94            |
| Ballymoney Borough Council               | 23            |
| Banbridge District Council               | 38            |
| Belfast City Council                     | 81            |
| Carrickfergus Borough Council            | 16            |
| Castlereagh Borough Council              | 62            |
| Coleraine Borough Council                | 75            |
| Cookstown District Council               | 18            |
| Craigavon Borough Council                | 86            |
| Derry City Council                       | 58            |
| Down District Council                    | 45            |
| Dungannon & South Tyrone Borough Council | 54            |
| Fermanagh District Council               | 54            |
| Larne Borough Council                    | 23            |
| Limavady Borough Council                 | 15            |
| Lisburn City Council                     | 102           |

| District Council Area          | Installations |

Single Farm Payment: Income-related Benefits

Mr Swann asked the Minister for Social Development how his Department assesses Single Farm Payments in relation to income related benefits.

(AQW 9778/11-15)

Mr McCausland: A Single Farm Payment is considered for income related benefits as part of the total income from a farming business, less any allowable expenses and deductions for tax and national insurance. If the basic conditions for receipt of an income related benefit are satisfied, a weekly net income figure is calculated. Any amount in excess of the earnings disregard is then deducted from the weekly rate of benefit payable.

Town Centre Regeneration: Lisburn Road, Belfast

Mr Spratt asked the Minister for Social Development whether he will include the Lisburn Road South Belfast, in the action plan to regenerate town centres which will include input by Mary Portas, to tackle challenges faced by traders in the area.

(AQW 9789/11-15)

Mr McCausland: I announced on 7 February 2012 that I had established a taskforce of senior officials to respond to the difficult trading challenges facing Northern Ireland's High Streets. The taskforce will review the support which the Department already provides to regenerate town centres to see whether this might be further strengthened in light of the recommended actions identified by Portas, and also reflect Northern Ireland trading circumstances. My Department has received requests for Ms Portas to visit several towns across Northern Ireland. Once we have established a timetable for a visit by Ms Portas my Department will give consideration to which towns it would be possible for her to visit in the limited time available. Full consideration will be given to including the Lisburn Road, South Belfast in any visit programme. I am grateful to you for bringing to my attention the challenges that traders are experiencing in the area. I assure you that my Department will do all that it can to revitalise our high streets across the Province.

Sunday Trading

Mr Weir asked the Minister for Social Development whether any decisions on Sunday opening hours are the responsibility of the Executive as a whole.

(AQW 9802/11-15)

Mr McCausland: The Shops (Sunday Trading &c.) (NI) Order 1997 regulates the Sunday opening of large shops. Any proposal to change the law on Sunday opening hours would require primary legislation to be agreed by the Executive and approved by the NI Assembly.

Special Purchase of Evacuated Dwellings Scheme

Mr McKay asked the Minister for Social Development whether a homeowner, who has a document signed by the Chief Constable stating that their home is unsafe and who would be given full duty applicant status if they applied as homeless, would qualify for an emergency grant under the Scheme for the Purchase of Evacuated Dwellings as detailed on the HousingAdviceNI website.

(AQW 9815/11-15)

Mr McCausland: The Housing Executive has advised that homeowners do not qualify for an emergency grant under the Special Purchase of Evacuated Dwellings scheme. The Housing Executive has advised the Housing Rights Service, who administers the Housing Advice NI website, to ensure that clear details are provided on this issue.

Employment and Support Allowance: Reassessments

Mr McGlone asked the Minister for Social Development how many people, who were previously in receipt of Incapacity Benefit, and who have been assessed for the Employment and Support Allowance (i) met the criteria; (ii) did not meet the criteria and their cases are currently under review; and (iii) have been refused the Allowance on appeal.

(AQW 9819/11-15)

Mr McCausland:

- (i) The reassessment of an estimated 76,000 existing Incapacity Benefit customers commenced on 28 February 2011. 9,328 customers had completed reassessment by 29 February 2012 with 7,126 customers successfully transferring to Employment and Support Allowance after going through the Work Capability Assessment process.
- (ii) 2,202 customers had their Incapacity Benefit disallowed. A total of 1,368 customers have lodged an appeal.
- (iii) 247 appeals have been heard by an Independent Tribunal. 97 people have been successful in their appeal and 150 have been upheld in the Department's favour.

Employment and Support Allowance: Reassessments

Mr McGlone asked Minister for Social Development how many people, who were previously in receipt of Incapacity Benefit, and who have been assessed for the Employment and Support Allowance (i) did not meet the criteria; (ii) had their payments reduced as an interim measure while their cases are pending review or appeal; and (iii) have had their payments discontinued.

(AQW 9822/11-15)

Mr McCausland:

- (i) The reassessment of an estimated 76,000 existing Incapacity Benefit customers commenced on 28 February 2011. As of 29 February 2012, 9,328 customers had completed reassessment. 2,202 have had their Incapacity Benefit award disallowed following a Work Capability Assessment.
- (ii) The computer systems used to process and maintain Employment and Support Allowance and other benefits cannot identify the number of customers who have not met the criteria for Employment and Support Allowance and have had their benefit payments reduced pending the outcome of an appeal.
- (iii) 2,202 customers had their Incapacity Benefit award disallowed. However 1,368 of these customers subsequently appealed the decision. Pending the outcome of their appeal customers can either continue to submit medical evidence and be paid an assessment rate of Employment and Support Allowance, claim Jobseekers Allowance or not claim any other benefit. On 29 February 2012, our records show that of the 1,368 customers who had appealed, 237 customers were not receiving payment of another benefit.

Business Improvement Districts: Introduction

Mr Copeland asked the Minister for Social Development to detail (i) the reasons for the delay in the introduction of Business Improvement Districts; (ii) what actions his Department has taken since the consultation ended on 28 February 2011; and (iii) when he intends to bring forward proposals for the introduction of Business Improvement Districts.

(AQW 9833/11-15)

Mr McCausland:

- (i) There has been no unnecessary delay in the introduction of Business Improvement Districts (BIDs). Drawing up proposals for a BID is a decision for local businesses to make, in partnership with their local council. My Department's role is to put in place legislation to provide a statutory framework for BIDs, but businesses could and indeed have already established BIDs on a voluntary basis. Therefore work on developing proposals could start, if businesses so wished, in advance of any legislation being in place and I understand that that has already been the case in some areas.
- (ii) Following the public consultation which ended on 28 February, the Department carried out a detailed analysis of the consultation responses. One of my first actions after taking office in May 2011 was to review the outcome of that public consultation and decide on the way forward. This involved finalising the policy, briefing the Social Development Committee and seeking Executive agreement to draft the necessary legislation. A draft Bill has been received and is currently being considered by my officials.
- (iii) As I have previously indicated in responses to a number of written AOs and indeed during Assembly question time on 12 March 2012, Executive agreement to the BIDs policy proposals was secured in November 2011 and I intend to introduce the draft Bill in the Assembly before the Summer Recess. Subject to its speed of passage through the Assembly, I hope that the Bill will receive Royal assent by the end of the year.

Warm Homes Scheme

Mr McElduff asked the Minister for Social Development to list the contact details of the companies which deliver the Warm Home Schemes.

(AQW 9875/11-15)

Mr McCausland: The Warm Homes Scheme is delivered on behalf of the Department for Social Development by Bryson Energy and H&A Mechanical Services. The Warm Homes Scheme contact number is 0800 9880559.

Housing Executive Properties: Rathkeele Way, Derry

Mr McCartney asked the Minister for Social Development how many houses in Rathkeele Way, Derry, are owned by the Housing Executive. (AQW 9893/11-15)

Mr McCausland: I can advise that the Housing Executive currently own 26 properties in Rathkeele Way, Londonderry.

Disability Living Allowance: Chronic Pain

Mr Durkan asked the Minister for Social Development how many people are currently in receipt of Disability Living Allowance because they suffer from chronic pain.

(AQW 9898/11-15)

Mr McCausland: The information requested is not held by my Department. Entitlement to Disability Living Allowance is not based on a medical condition or illness but assessment of how much help someone needs with personal care and/or mobility needs because of their disability.

Fuel Poverty: Social Tariff System

Mrs D Kelly asked the Minister for Social Development what representations have been made to energy companies regarding the establishment of a social tariff for (i) older people; (ii) those classed as fuel poor; and (iii) any other group of people.

(AQW 9903/11-15)

Mr McCausland: Representatives from the energy companies sit on the Fuel Poverty Forum, which I chair, and formerly sat on the Fuel Poverty Advisory Group. Social tariffs were a regular topic of discussion at the Fuel Poverty Advisory Group and the issue remains on the agenda of the Fuel Poverty Forum.

Quangos

Mr Weir asked Minister for Social Development to detail (i) the quangos to which his Department makes appointments; (ii) how many members are appointed; and (iii) the remuneration paid to (a) the Chair; and (b) other members.

(AQW 9991/11-15)

Mr McCausland: Full information about public appointments made by the Department for Social Development is set out in the Public Bodies and Public Appointments Annual Report, published by OFMDFM. The most recent report covers the period 2010/11 and is available from the OFMDFM website or from the assembly Library's reference collection (Reference number R351.41609 NOR).

Northern Ireland Assembly Commission

Overtime: Security and Usher Services

Mr Agnew asked the Assembly Commission for a breakdown of the £160,000 overtime paid to ushers and security staff in the last year; and (ii) why there is insufficient staff to ensure that all working hours are covered on the basis of a regular salary.

(AQW 9521/11-15)

Mr Weir (The Representative of the Assembly Commission): The amount of overtime paid can be broken down as follows:

- (a) ~£60K Arising from a number of vacant posts.
- (b) ~£100K Arising from operational demands which require staff attendance at times outside the current shift pattern including, for example, Member-sponsored events in the evenings or at weekends.

The Security & Usher Services business area has been carrying a number of vacancies throughout 2011/12 which remain unfilled. The Assembly Commission has a reducing budget over the period of the Spending Review which restrains its ability to recruit for vacancies in the Assembly Secretariat. The Commission has instigated a Business Efficiency Programme which has carried out a review of the Security & Usher Services business area. The outcome of the review, may impact upon staffing levels and the need to use overtime.

Parliament Buildings: Irish Language Community

Mr Flanagan asked the Assembly Commission what measures it intends to implement in Parliament Buildings to address the needs of the Irish Language Community.

(AQO 1686/11-15)

Mr Weir (The Representative of the Assembly Commission): A draft Language Policy has been under consideration by the Assembly Commission and the views of Parties have been sought. Following further discussions at Assembly Commission meetings, it was agreed that Parties would review the draft Language Policy in anticipation of ratifying an agreed Language Policy. The Commission will also consider this issue when it next meets to discuss Good Relations in April 2012.

Ormiston House, Belfast

Mr McCartney asked the Assembly Commission for an update on its efforts to dispose of Ormiston House.
(AQO 1688/11-15)

Mr P Ramsey (The Representative of the Assembly Commission): Ormiston House has been for sale on the open market since January 2011. There has been interest in the site from a number of people for a range of uses but as yet no sale has been concluded. The property remains open to offers.

The Assembly Commission is simultaneously pursuing planning permission for limited development of the site. The Planning Service has forwarded a favourable opinion on this proposal to Belfast City Council for consideration.

Parliament Buildings: Irish National Flag

Mr A Maskey asked the Assembly Commission what consideration has been given to the flying of the Irish National Flag in order to better represent Nationalist and Republican communities who use Parliament Buildings.
(AQO 1690/11-15)

Mr Weir (The Representative of the Assembly Commission): The Assembly Commission has not given consideration to the flying of the Irish National Flag.

However, the Assembly Commission is designated as a public authority under Section 75 of the Northern Ireland Act 1998 (the Act) and under Section 75(2) of the Act, the Commission has a statutory duty to have regard to the desirability of promoting good relations between persons of different religious belief, political opinion or racial group.

The Commission has agreed to have a future meeting specifically to consider Good Relations issues.

Parliament Buildings: Good Relations Strategy

Mr McDevitt asked the Assembly Commission, in light of the Good Relations Strategy, what consideration has been given to ensuring that Parliament Buildings reflects both sections of the community in historical terms.
(AQO 1692/11-15)

Mr Weir (The Representative of the Assembly Commission): Under section 75 (2) of the Northern Ireland Act 1998, the Northern Ireland Assembly Commission is required to have regard to the desirability of promoting good relations between persons of different religious belief, political opinion or racial group. The Commission is committed to equality of opportunity and good relations. The Commission has recently conducted an internal Good Relations Audit. This audit was completed in late 2011. The Commission has agreed to have a future meeting specifically on Good Relations issues.

Written Answers to Questions

Office of the First Minister and deputy First Minister

Northern Ireland Memorial Fund: Underspend

Mr Lyttle asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister to detail any underspend by the Northern Ireland Memorial Fund since 2001.

(AQW 8348/11-15)

Mr P Robinson and Mr M McGuinness (The First Minister and deputy First Minister): The Northern Ireland Memorial Fund has never declared an underspend from 2001 to date. Where projected spend within the NIMF is lower than the amount awarded, we work with them to identify options to ensure the benefit of funding is maximised to victims and survivors. As an independent charity, the NI Memorial Fund has also historically carried forward reserves.

We continue to provide unprecedented levels of funding to both individuals and groups within the sector. In the last two financial years we provided the Memorial Fund with a total £7.3 million in funding. Under the current round of applications the fund has awarded grants up to 31 March 2012.

The new funding scheme will be opening shortly.

Ebrington Parade Ground: Tender Applications

Mr P Ramsey asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister, pursuant to AQW 7925/11-15, to detail (i) the names of the 74 successful companies; (ii) the cost of each contract; and (iii) the services each company will provide.

(AQW 8693/11-15)

Mr P Robinson and Mr M McGuinness: An Events Management company was procured by Ilex through an open competition in line with Central Procurement Directorate (CPD) protocol to manage the opening of the Ebrington Parade Ground. This Events Management company appointed the 74 companies that provided services for the opening ceremony. OFMDFM does not therefore hold the information requested.

Child Poverty

Mr Weir asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister to define (i) child poverty; and (ii) severe child poverty.

(AQW 8758/11-15)

Mr P Robinson and Mr M McGuinness: The Child Poverty Act 2010 states that a child is to be taken to be living in poverty if the child experiences socio-economic disadvantage.

A child is to be taken to experience socio-economic disadvantage during any period in which –

- (a) the child lives in a household that falls within the relevant income group for the purposes of section 3 (the relative low income target) or section 5 (the absolute low income target), or
- (b) the child lives in a household that falls within the relevant income group for the purposes of subsection (1)(a) of section 4 (combined low income and material deprivation target) and is regarded for the purposes of subsection (1)(b) of that section as experiencing material deprivation.

Severe Child Poverty

The Programme for Government 2008-2011 contained a commitment to 'work towards the elimination of severe child poverty by 2012'. In order to meet this commitment, a definition of 'severe' child poverty and a method of targeting vulnerable children for additional help was developed.

Definition as agreed by the Executive on 16 December 2010:

A headline figure based on a 60% median household income (before housing costs) and a material deprivation score of 35 or more is used as the definition of severe child poverty.

Fort George: Location

Mr Eastwood asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister why the regeneration of Fort George is included in the Investment Strategy for Northern Ireland - Investing Activity Report for East Londonderry, when the site is located within the Foyle constituency. (AQW 8882/11-15)

Mr P Robinson and Mr M McGuinness: During the public consultation on the Investment Strategy for Northern Ireland it was brought to the attention of the Strategic Investment Board that the regeneration of Fort George was included in the Investment Strategy for Northern Ireland – Investing Activity Report for East Londonderry instead of the Foyle constituency in error and this has now been corrected.

Northern Ireland Memorial Fund: Financial Assistance

Mr Nesbitt asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister (i) for their assessment of the efficacy of the NI Memorial Fund's distribution of financial help; and (ii) whether the proposed Victims and Survivors Service is expected to offer similar financial assistance.

(AQW 8987/11-15)

Mr P Robinson and Mr M McGuinness: We continue to provide unprecedented levels of financial help to both individuals and groups. In the last two financial years we provided the NI Memorial Fund with a total £7.3 million in funding for three application processes between April 2010 and October 2011 that gave awards up to 31st March 2012. The new funding application process will commence shortly.

We have also agreed a transitional plan which will see the administration of any schemes pass from the NI Memorial Fund to the new Victims and Survivors Service during the year.

Maze/Long Kesh: Peace-building and Conflict Resolution Centre

Mr Allister asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister whether they can offer an assurance that displays at the Peace Building and Conflict Resolution Centre at the Maze site will not suggest that people convicted of terrorist offences were political prisoners. (AQW 9093/11-15)

Mr P Robinson and Mr M McGuinness: No detailed content for the exhibition and archive element of the Peace Building and Conflict Resolution Centre has been developed or approved.

Programme for Government: Consultation Responses

Mr Swann asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister how many consultation responses were received on the draft Programme for Government.

(AQW 9180/11-15)

Mr P Robinson and Mr M McGuinness: We received 432 written responses to the draft Programme for Government. Of this number, 149 were transcripts of a verbatim reply on behalf of the environmental group 'Step Up for Nature'.

Ethnic Minority Development Fund 2012-13

Ms Lo asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister to detail (i) the timescale for funding for the Ethnic Minority Development Fund 2012-2013 to commence; (ii) how panel members and the public will be updated on the Ethnic Minority Development Funding 2012-2013 application process; (iii) whether they would consider hiring temporary staff to minimise the delay in allocating funding, given that the application process has not yet commenced; and (iv) what measures they will put in place to minimise the negative impact the gap in funding may have on groups that are currently in receipt of funding.

(AQW 9307/11-15)

Mr P Robinson and Mr M McGuinness: The delivery of the Minority Ethnic Development Fund and ensuring continuity of funding for the sector is a priority for us. In line with the findings of the recent evaluation of the Fund, we intend to establish a longer funding period rather than on a yearly cycle. We believe that this will lead to greater stability and capacity building within the sector.

Work to this end is well advanced and we expect to inform relevant parties about future funding arrangements soon.

We are conscious that any gaps in funding resulting from the introduction of the new fund may have a detrimental impact on services provided to the minority ethnic community and to that end we have extended funding for a further six months for those groups currently in receipt of development funding.

We do not consider that the hiring of temporary staff is necessary at this time.

Youth Unemployment

Mr D McIlveen asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister what research their Department has carried out on the potential destabilising effect of youth unemployment on the political situation.

(AQW 9317/11-15)

Mr P Robinson and Mr M McGuinness: To date, our Department has not carried out nor commissioned any specific research on the potential destabilising effect of youth unemployment on the political situation.

However, addressing issues that may lead to the disengagement of our young people will be a key component of the Cohesion, Sharing and Integration Strategy as it develops. The finalised Strategy will inform any additional actions required in respect of further research.

Social Investment Fund: Applications

Mr Byrne asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister how many groups have submitted bids to the Social Investment Fund for the 2012/13 financial year.

(AQO 1455/11-15)

Mr P Robinson and Mr M McGuinness: We are currently considering final proposals for the operation of the Fund. Groups will not be applying individually for funds; rather, it is envisaged that each social investment zone comprising of community, political, business and statutory representation will bring forward an area plan setting out their priorities.

Victims and Survivors of Historical Institutional Abuse: Forum

Mr Moutray asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister for an update on the establishment of an acknowledgement forum for victims and survivors of institutional abuse.

(AQW 9348/11-15)

Mr P Robinson and Mr M McGuinness: Work is ongoing to establish an acknowledgement forum through which victims and survivors of historical institutional abuse will have the opportunity to recount their individual experiences, within a sensitive and confidential environment.

We have secured suitable accommodation in Belfast to house the acknowledgment forum and have recruited an inquiry secretary and office manager to the inquiry team. We will shortly be appointing panel members to the acknowledgment forum.

Work is ongoing to identify suitable offices for the acknowledgement forum in Derry/Londonderry and we hope to identify the most appropriate location shortly.

The launch of the acknowledgment forum and the inquiry will be advertised widely via local and national media and we anticipate that the work of the forum will commence by the beginning of the summer.

Legislative Programme: OFMDFM

Mr Beggs asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister to outline their legislative programme for this Assembly mandate.

(AQO 1526/11-15)

Mr P Robinson and Mr M McGuinness: At this time we have already stated our intention, subject to the agreement of the Executive, to bring forward three Bills during the current Assembly mandate.

On 29 September last year, we announced that we will be introducing legislation in the Assembly to confer statutory powers on the Inquiry and Investigation into Historical Institutional Abuse.

On 18 January this year, we announced that we had asked our officials to prepare the necessary legislation to abolish the Department for Employment and Learning and transfer its functions.

Members will also be aware that the Programme for Government, which the Assembly is considering today, contains our commitment to progress legislation to extend age discrimination legislation to the provision of goods, facilities and services. The Programme also contains our commitment to introduce any legislation necessary to implement any agreed changes to post-2015 structures of Government, and this will be confirmed in due course.

Other requirements for primary legislation relating to OFMDFM responsibilities may arise during this mandate and these will be reviewed on a regular basis.

We have also sought and obtained proposals from other Executive Ministers for Bills which they would wish to introduce during the current mandate, and following agreement to the Programme for Government, we intend to present the overall position to the Executive for its consideration. Subsequently, we will write to the Speaker to advise him of our intentions in relation to an overall Executive legislative programme.

Media Communications Protocols

Mr Allister asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister what media communications protocols exist between their Department and each of its arm's-length bodies; and to publish these protocols.

(AQW 9594/11-15)

Mr P Robinson and Mr M McGuinness: Our Department has no media protocols in place with any of its arms length bodies.

Minority Ethnic Communities: Funding

Mr Kinahan asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister (i) what action is being taken to ensure that minority ethnic communities will receive funding after 31 March 2012; and (ii) what interim funding will be available should there be a delay.
(AQW 9623/11-15)

Mr P Robinson and Mr M McGuinness: The delivery of the Minority Ethnic Development Fund and ensuring continuity of funding for the sector is a priority for us. In line with the findings of the recent evaluation of the Fund, we intend to establish a longer funding period rather than on a yearly cycle. We believe that this will lead to greater stability and capacity building within the sector.

Work to this end is well advanced and we expect to inform relevant parties about future funding arrangements soon.

We are conscious that any gaps in funding resulting from the timing of the introduction of the new fund may have a detrimental impact on services provided to minority ethnic communities and to that end we have extended funding for a further six months for those groups currently in receipt of development funding.

WAVE Trauma Centres: Victims and Survivors

Mr Cree asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister whether the WAVE Trauma Centres are in a position to provide the services necessary for military personnel who have medical problems and mental health issues as a result of active service.
(AQW 9649/11-15)

Mr P Robinson and Mr M McGuinness: WAVE receives funding via the Community Relations Council to be used for the benefit of Victims and Survivors who have suffered as a result of the conflict here. The definition of those who can be assisted is contained within Article 3 of the Victims and Survivors (Northern Ireland) Order 2006.

Questions for Written Answer: Failure to Meet Time Limits

Mr Allister asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister why they consistently fail to comply with the requirements of Standing Order 20B(4) in relation to the time limits for answering written Assembly Questions.
(AQO 1524/11-15)

Mr P Robinson and Mr M McGuinness: There are considerable administrative implications of researching, preparing and processing answers to the over 470 questions which have been tabled to us since the beginning of this mandate. It is also a task which must be undertaken by Ministers alongside all the other responsibilities which they carry.

Apart from the sheer volume of questions, delays can arise in particular cases from the nature of the question, including the range and complexity of information provided and the need to give careful consideration to answers on sensitive issues.

Inquiry into Historical Institutional Abuse: Progress

Mr P Maskey asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister what progress has been made on the Inquiry into Historical Institutional Abuse.
(AQO 1530/11-15)

Mr P Robinson and Mr M McGuinness: As a part of our preparations we reported to the Assembly last month, we have started to prepare the legislation that will give the investigation and inquiry panel the necessary powers to compel people and documents.

Work is underway to establish an acknowledgement forum, through which victims and survivors will have the opportunity to recount their individual experiences to the inquiry, within a sensitive and confidential environment. Consideration is at an advanced stage looking at potential candidates for the inquiry panel and the acknowledgement forum.

The inquiry will have premises in Belfast City Centre and in Derry/Londonderry.

We are also committed to establishing an advocacy service that will provide support to victims and survivors before, during and after the inquiry. We have arranged for interim support to be provided to victims and survivors, whilst this service is established, through Lifeline, which can be contacted on 0808 808 8000. Further information on support available to victims and survivors is detailed on the NI Direct website.

We intend that the inquiry and investigation will conclude within two and a half years of its commencement. The chairperson will then be required to provide a report to the Executive within six months.

Police Ombudsman: Appointment Process

Mr Copeland asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister to detail (i) the individuals involved in overseeing the appointment process for the current Police Ombudsman; and (ii) any remuneration which they received.
(AQW 9703/11-15)

Mr P Robinson and Mr M McGuinness: The appointment of a Police Ombudsman is regulated by the Commissioner for Public Appointments, and an independent assessor was assigned by the Commissioner to serve as a full participating member of the appointment panel during the sift of applications and interview of eligible candidates, and to report to the Commissioner at the end of these stages. The assessor was paid a total of £1,625.00 for this work in accordance with scale rates set by the Commissioner's office.

Police Ombudsman: Appointment Process

Mr Copeland asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister to provide a breakdown of the cost to date for the appointment process of the future Police Ombudsman.

(AQW 9704/11-15)

Mr P Robinson and Mr M McGuinness: The Police Ombudsman position is a key element in the policing architecture. The post was advertised widely in the press in December with the aim of attracting high calibre candidates at local, national and international level. Those travelling to interview were eligible for reimbursement of economy travel, subsistence and, in the case of overseas candidates, overnight accommodation costs incurred, as appropriate, at rates agreed in advance with officials administering the process.

Total identifiable costs for the competition, as at 2 April 2012, amount to £25,944.85 consisting of the following:

- £16,134.45 (advertising)
- £4,900.00 (approximate travel costs, as exchange rate variations may impact on this figure)
- £4,875.00 (appointment panel fees, including for the Independent Assessor)
- £35.40 (ancillary expenses)

Landslide: Marlborough Terrace, Londonderry

Mr Allister asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister, pursuant to AQW 8201/11-15, whether their Department had any role in initiating a co-ordinated response to the landslide incident in the Marlborough Terrace area of Londonderry in December 2011; and if so, to provide details.

(AQW 9750/11-15)

Mr P Robinson and Mr M McGuinness: In order to advise us of progress, OFMDFM made contact at official level across the range of departments, agencies and other bodies to obtain information on their response to the incident.

Programme for Government: Early Intervention

Mr Eastwood asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister why the Programme for Government does not include a commitment to prioritise funding for early intervention to reduce the potential for young people to engage in offending behaviour.

(AQW 9779/11-15)

Mr P Robinson and Mr M McGuinness: We recognise and acknowledge that early interventions are the most effective means of addressing issues that might otherwise affect the ability of young people to fulfil their potential. This includes the discouragement of offending.

The Programme for Government seeks to address the wider issues in a coherent and systemic manner. The Delivery Plans which Departments are producing, in relation to PfG Commitments, will provide further detail including specific reference to a number of proven early interventions.

It is clear from all of this that the Executive has committed and targeted significant levels of funding to support the achievement of positive outcomes for children and young people.

One Plan: Ilex Urban Regeneration Company

Mr Eastwood asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister for an update on Quarter 1 2011/12 of the Ilex Urban Regeneration Company Limited's One Plan, including the (i) Regeneration Fund Working Group; (ii) Virtual Learning Environment Pilot; (iii) Early Intervention Partnership; (iv) European Youth Capital 2014 application; (v) New City Regeneration Unit; (vi) Ebrington Culture Hub funding application; and (vii) Skills Strategy and Action Plan document.

(AQW 9831/11-15)

Mr P Robinson and Mr M McGuinness: Developing the 'One Plan' for the regeneration of Derry/Londonderry, incorporating the key sites at Fort George and Ebrington, is a commitment in the Programme for Government and, since its publication, progress in Quarter 1 has been made on a number of objectives including the following areas.

- i Regeneration Fund Working Group

The Regeneration Fund Working Group has been established and is currently exploring other alternative models for financing and funding regeneration. It is working with the Strategic Investment Board (SIB) to prepare Terms of Reference and commission consultants to assess practical actions around alternative models for financing/funding of the two sites, Ebrington and Fort George, including the consideration of recycling of receipts, with a view to seeking a determination from HM Treasury and Office of National Statistics (ONS) on the appropriateness of the proposed practical actions identified. In addition, the Working Group will work with Derry City Council to prepare Terms of Reference and commission expert financial and legal advice to determine the feasibility, including proof of concept, of the proposed Regeneration Fund for Derry~Londonderry.

ii Virtual Learning Environment (VLE) Pilot

Foyle Cloud (formally VLE) is now entering its 3rd year and is on schedule and delivering outcomes as specified, including:

- Roll out to all 14 schools in 2012/13;
- School Principals wish to expand range of courses on Foyle Cloud in discussions with DE on support.

iii Early Intervention Partnership

Early Intervention Partnership has been established comprising representation from Derry Healthy Cities, Neighbourhood Renewal, DSD, Public Health Agency, SureStart, Western Education and Library Board (WELB) and Ilex, with Derry City Council taking the lead. At its meeting of 27 March, the Partnership agreed that further work was required to identify quantifiable actions against baseline for objectives within the draft Action Plan. The additional work is to be delivered by mid-May 2012, with a view to finalising the Action Plan in June 2012.

iv European Youth Capital 2014 Application

This is being taken forward by Derry City Council as the lead partner on this project.

v New City Regeneration Unit

The Regeneration Programme Unit has been established and is meeting regularly. The Unit is made up of the Chief Executive of Derry City Council, Chief Executive of Ilex, an Officer from North West Development Office and representatives from the Regeneration Forum and the Business Leaders Group.

vi Ebrington Culture Hub Application

Works on the former Parade Ground have been completed and the new Ebrington Square was opened on 14 February 2012. In addition, funding has been secured for a pilot Animation Programme based on DSD/Custom House Square Model. A business case for the development of a Creative Hub at Buildings 80 & 81 is currently being considered. A Business Case for the Vital Venue at Ebrington for 2013 is awaiting approval.

vii Skills Strategy and Action Plan

The Skills Directorate was established December 2011 and a draft Skills Escalation and Employment Action Plan for Derry~Londonderry 2011-2015 has been developed. The World Host is progressing well within the City and a working group has been established to maximise uptake in the North West. Derry City Council is the lead partner on this project. Ilex is currently exploring with Chamber of Commerce and North West Regional College (NWRC) the roll-out of tailored leadership and management programme to local SMEs.

One Plan: Ilex Urban Regeneration Company

Mr Eastwood asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister for an update on Quarter 2 2011/12 of the Ilex Urban Regeneration Company Limited's One Plan, including (i) the first meeting of the new City Regeneration Strategy Board; (ii) delivery of the Local Development System; (iii) the launch of integrated place marketing for Derry City; (iv) funding secured for the Quayside development and commenced; (v) establishment of the North West Ireland Working Group to pursue UNESCO World Heritage Status; (vi) the launch of the Diaspora Hall of Fame project at Milwaukee Irish Fest; (vii) the launch of the Creative Classroom project; (viii) the establishment of the Skills Directorate; (ix) the creation of the UNICEF Child Friendly City Framework; and (x) the Tourism and Hospitality Skills Programme underway.

(AQW 9868/11-15)

Mr P Robinson and Mr M McGuinness: Developing the 'One Plan' for the regeneration of Derry/Londonderry, incorporating the key sites at Fort George and Ebrington is a commitment in the Programme for Government and, since its publication, progress in Quarter 2 has been made on a number of objectives including the following areas.

(i) First Meeting of the new City Regeneration Strategy Board

The first meeting of the new Strategy Board took place in September 2011 and will meet quarterly.

(ii) Delivery of the Local Development System (LDS)

A number of the constituent groups of the LDS have already met and are currently finalising the structure of the remaining groups.

(iii) Launch of the Integrated Place Marketing for the City

Marketing proposition is currently being progressed and developed by Derry City Council.

(iv) Funding Secured for the Quayside development and commenced

Phase I of this development is complete and Phase II went on site February 2012 and is due for completion April 2012. The Department for Social Development is the lead partner on this project.

(v) Establish North West Ireland Working Group to pursue UNESCO World Heritage Status

Derry City Council is the lead partner on this project and they are currently working to establish the working group to pursue World Heritage Status.

(vi) Launch Diaspora Hall of Fame project at Milwaukee Fest

Representatives from Ilex, Derry City Council, Failte Ireland, University of Ulster, Letterkenny Institute of Technology and Derry Visitor and Convention Bureau attended this event in August 2011 to promote Derry~Londonderry and Donegal to a global audience.

- (vii) Creative classroom project launched

A keynote event led by Sir Ken Robinson was held in March 2011. This is an ongoing project in association with Culture Company 2013. A follow-up event was held on 26 March 2012 – One Day Learning Conference held in St Mary's College.

- (viii) Skills Directorate established

A Skills Directorate was established December 2011 and a draft Skills Escalation and Employment Action Plan for Derry~Londonderry 2011-2015 has been developed.

World Host Training is progressing well within the City and a working group has been established to maximise uptake in the North West.

Ilex is currently exploring with Chamber of Commerce and North West Regional College roll-out of tailored leadership and management programme to local SMEs.

- (ix) UNICEF Child Friendly framework created

UNICEF has replaced this framework with the "Child Rights Partners Programme" which has the same principles as the Child Friendly Framework. Derry City Council was invited to participate and is the only public authority here to have been invited onto it.

The project is at the initiation stage and the Children's Officer in Derry City Council is leading on this.

- (x) Tourism and Hospitality skills programme underway

Ilex was instrumental through the Skills Directorate in identifying the needs for skills in the tourism and hospitality industry in the lead up to 2013. Working closely in partnership DEL Learning and Skills Sector, Derry City Council, Northern Ireland Tourist Board, and the Department Skills Solutions Services have worked to put in place World Host Customer Services Training across NI.

World Host Training is progressing well within the City and a working group has been established to maximise uptake in the North West.

Derry City Council is the lead partner on this project.

One Plan: Ilex Urban Regeneration Company

Mr Eastwood asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister for an update on Quarter 3 2011/12 of the Ilex Urban Regeneration Company Limited's One Plan, including (i) the operation of the Local Development Strategy; (ii) the Smart Economy in the North West; (iii) the awarding of the decontamination contract for Fort George; (iv) funding for the North West Regional Science Park; (v) the completion of the business case for Phase 1 of the university expansion; (vi) the establishment of the Literacy and Numeracy pilot scheme; (vii) the establishment of the Family Support pilot scheme; (viii) the completion of the City of Culture programme; (ix) the thermal mapping of Derry City; and (x) the Digital City Action Plan underway.

(AQW 9869/11-15)

Mr P Robinson and Mr M McGuinness: Developing the 'One Plan' for the regeneration of Derry/Londonderry, incorporating the key sites at Fort George and Ebrington is a commitment in the Programme for Government and since its publication progress in Quarter 3 has been made on a number of objectives including the following areas.

- (i) Operation of Local Development Strategy

A number of the constituent groups for the Local Development Strategy have already met and are currently finalising the structure of the remaining groups.

- (ii) Smart Economy in the North West

An Economic appraisal has been completed by Derry City Council and will be presented to the Steering Committee following the resolution of a number of queries raised by SEUPB.

- (iii) Awarding of the Decontamination Contract for Fort George

Consultants have been appointed and the draft remedial strategy is to be agreed with the Northern Ireland Environment Agency by June 2012. The tender for the decontamination contract is due to be advertised in September 2012 with tenders to be returned by January 2013.

- (iv) Funding for the North West Regional Science Park

A €14m application has been submitted to SEUPB and a response is expected in May 2012.

- (v) Completion of the Business Case for Phase I of the University Expansion

A Working Group chaired by the Vice Chancellor of the University, Professor Richard Barnett, has been established. The Working Group is currently developing a plan in line with Minister Farry's recent announcement.

- (vi) Establishment of the Literacy and Numeracy pilot scheme

Early Intervention Partnership is developing an Action Plan which will include consideration of a Literacy and Numeracy pilot.

(vii) Establishment of the Family Support Pilot Scheme

This is being progressed as part of the development of the Action Plan for the Early Intervention City Catalyst Programme.

(viii) Completion of the City of Culture Programme

The Culture Company will launch the highlight Programme of Events for 2013 in May 2012 with the full Programme to be released in September 2012.

(ix) Thermal Mapping of the City

Thermal mapping contract was awarded February 2011 but as yet has not been completed as there must be very specific weather conditions for it to be carried out.

(x) Digital City Action Plan underway

An Action Plan is being developed and underway to be delivered by Digital Derry.

One Plan: Ilex Urban Regeneration Company

Mr Eastwood asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister for an update on Quarter 4 2011/12 of the Ilex Urban Regeneration Company Limited's One Plan, including (i) the Fort George and Ebrington Planning Development Frameworks; (ii) the completion of the City Health Plan; (iii) the completion of the Neighbourhood Development Plans; (iv) the completion of the Sustainable City Study; (v) the Charter of Rights for older people; (vi) the Retrofitting Action Plan; and (vii) the Maritime Museum building.

(AQW 9876/11-15)

Mr P Robinson and Mr M McGuinness: Developing the 'One Plan' for the regeneration of Derry/Londonderry, incorporating the key sites at Fort George and Ebrington is a commitment in the Programme for Government and, since its publication, progress in Quarter 4 has been made on a number of objectives including the following areas.

(i) Fort George and Ebrington Planning Development Frameworks

The Fort George Framework is due to be completed in April 2012.

The Ebrington Framework proposal is currently being developed by Ilex and is expected to be out to tender by June 2012.

(ii) Completion of the City Health Plan

The Draft City Health Plan is due to be completed by June 2012, subject to resources being made available to Derry Healthy Cities.

(iii) Completion of the Neighbourhood Development Plans

Neighbourhood Renewal Action Plans have been realigned by the North West Development Office and the Neighbourhood Renewal Partnerships to the objectives and outcomes of the One Plan.

(iv) Completion of the Sustainable City Study

This project is being considered by the North West Development Office.

(v) Charter of Rights for Older People

Derry Healthy Cities is the lead partner on this project and will be taking this forward.

(vi) Retrofitting Action Plan

This will be taken forward subject to the completion of the Sustainable City Study.

(vii) Maritime Museum Building

A Business Case for the Maritime Museum/Archive/Genealogy Centre is currently being developed by Derry City Council.

Childcare: Average Cost

Mr Agnew asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister to provide an estimate of the average cost of childcare per hour.

(AQW 9966/11-15)

Mr P Robinson and Mr M McGuinness: OFMDFM does not currently have access to official statistics on the average cost of childcare per hour. The net cost of childcare to parents will vary according to individual circumstances.

We intend to carry out a consultation later in the year on proposals for a strategy to promote the availability of good quality, accessible, integrated and affordable childcare. This issue will be raised in the consultation and an aim of the strategy will be to provide clearer information on the cost and availability of childcare.

Papers for Assembly Committees

Mr McKay asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister to detail all occasions in the last 12 months when their Department has made a presentation to an Assembly committee and provided papers pertaining to that presentation to the committee less than 48 hours beforehand.

(AQW 9974/11-15)

Mr P Robinson and Mr M McGuinness: The information requested is detailed in the table below and is provided from the start of the current mandate, May 2011.

| Date of Committee Meeting | OFMDFM Business   | Date Papers sent to Committee |
|---------------------------|---|-------------------------------|
| 06 July 2011              | Qualification of the Department's Resource Accounts                                       | 06 July 2011                  |
| 28 Sept 2011              | October Monitoring Round Proposals  | 27 Sept 2011                  |
| 05 Oct 2011               | Review of the European Division   | 04 Oct 2011                   |
| 16 Nov 2011               | Departmental Accounting (including Ministerial Direction in relation to Shackleton Site). | 15 Nov 2011                   |

Quangos

Mr Weir asked First Minister and deputy First Minister to detail (i) the quangos to which their Department makes appointments; (ii) how many members are appointed; and (iii) the remuneration paid to (a) the Chair; and (b) other members.

(AQW 9993/11-15)

Mr P Robinson and Mr M McGuinness: Information on public bodies, the number of appointees and the remuneration paid to them is set out in the Public Bodies and Public Appointments Annual Report published by our Department.

The most recent Report covers the 2010/11 financial year and is available from the OFMDFM website at www.ofmdfmi.gov.uk/public-appointments-annual-report-2010-2011.pdf or from the Assembly Library (reference number R351.41609 NOR).

Not included in the OFMDFM section of the Annual Report is the Commissioner for Older People who took up post on 14 November 2011 and receives a salary of £60,000 per annum.

Questions for Written Answer: Average Time Spent

Mr Allister asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister, for the last year, to detail (i) the average time; and (ii) the longest time it has taken their Department to answer ordinary and priority Assembly Written Questions tabled by MLAs from (a) the DUP; (b) Sinn Féin; (c) the Alliance Party; (d) the TUV; (e) the Green Party; and (f) independent MLAs.

(AQW 10013/11-15)

Mr P Robinson and Mr M McGuinness: The information requested is not readily available in the format requested.

Questions for Written Answer: Average Time Spent

Mr Swann asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister, for the last year, to detail (i) the average time; and (ii) the longest time it has taken their Department to answer ordinary and priority Assembly Written Questions tabled by MLAs from (a) the Ulster Unionist Party; and (b) the Social Democratic and Labour Party.

(AQW 10107/11-15)

Mr P Robinson and Mr M McGuinness: The information requested is not readily available in the format requested.

Minority Ethnic Development Fund

Mr Eastwood asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister whether development and project grants will be made available under the Minority Ethnic Development Fund for the 2012/13 financial year.

(AQW 10207/11-15)

Mr P Robinson and Mr M McGuinness: We announced an extension of awards of development funding for a further 6 months on 3 April.

This is gap funding, pending the introduction of a revised Minority Ethnic Development Fund which will take account of the recommendations of a recent evaluation of that Fund.

While the details of the revised fund are yet to be finalised, both development and project funding are likely to be available. The details will be discussed with the minority ethnic sector and other key stakeholders over the coming weeks.

Capital/Revenue Costs: Departmental Spend

Mr Copeland asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister for an estimate of the annual additional cost to their Department of providing its services in our divided society, broken down by (i) capital; and (ii) revenue costs.

(AQW 10218/11-15)

Mr P Robinson and Mr M McGuinness: Due to the number of variables involved, it is not possible for our officials to calculate the annual additional cost of service delivery.

Victims and Survivors Service: Transfer of Skills

Mr Lyttle asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister how the skills and experience developed by the NI Memorial Fund and the Community Relations Council will be transferred to the new Victims and Survivors Service.

(AQW 10238/11-15)

Mr P Robinson and Mr M McGuinness: It is intended that the staffing structure of the new Victims and Survivors Service will fully address the Service's objectives in the most efficient and effective way possible.

The Service's interim management team have formally initiated the Transfer of Undertakings (Protection of Employment) (TUPE) process with the Northern Ireland Memorial Fund and the Victims Unit of the Community Relations Council.

One Plan: Departmental Co-ordination Group

Mr P Ramsey asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister for an update on the work of the Inter-departmental Co-ordinating Group in delivering the One Plan for the regeneration of the North West area.

(AQW 10266/11-15)

Mr P Robinson and Mr M McGuinness: Developing the 'One Plan' for the regeneration of Derry/Londonderry, incorporating the key sites at Fort George and Ebrington is a commitment within the Programme for Government. A key performance indicator in delivery of the Commitment is to establish a Departmental Co-ordination Group to progress the implementation of Central Government enabled projects under each of the eleven Catalyst Programmes in the 'One Plan'.

Our Department is leading in this exercise. Nominations were sought from other departments for membership of the group and an initial meeting of the group took place in early April.

This group will work closely with other key delivery partners including the Derry-Londonderry Strategy Board, Ilex and Derry City Council in ensuring progress against the 'One Plan' objectives.

Peace Bridge, Derry: Costs

Mr P Ramsey asked the First Minister and deputy First Minister to detail the costs of opening the Peace Bridge in Derry, broken down by (a) service provider; and (b) all other associated costs.

(AQW 10276/11-15)

Mr P Robinson and Mr M McGuinness: Ilex Urban Regeneration Company has built the Peace Bridge as part of the city's regeneration programme. Funded by the European Union's PEACE III programme (Shared Space initiative), the Peace Bridge is a living landmark and a lasting legacy.

Construction of the bridge commenced in January 2010 and was officially opened on June 25th 2011. The costs of opening the Peace Bridge were as follows:

| Peace Bridge Opening Expenditure |   |           |

Department of Agriculture and Rural Development

EU Fiscal Treaty: Impact on Northern Ireland

Mr Storey asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development for her assessment of the potential impact on the farming and agri-food sectors if the electorate in the Republic of Ireland votes against the EU fiscal treaty in the forthcoming referendum. (AQW 9107/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill (The Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development): The Austerity Treaty does not affect the Common Agricultural Policy and, therefore, if the agreement is not ratified in the south of Ireland, then I do not anticipate any direct impact on the farming and agri-food sectors in the north.

Crossmaglen Republican Monument: Plaques

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development, pursuant to AQW 8721/11-15, why it is not appropriate to divulge the content of the plaques, in that there can be no commercial confidentiality; and (ii) whether her Department is aware of the content.

(AQW 9442/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: Whilst my Department are aware of the proposed content of the plaques we do not normally consider it good practice to release information about projects which are still under assessment with no decisions made regarding funding. However with the applicant's permission I attach the proposed wording for each plaque:

PLAQUE A

Background

The idea to erect a memorial to commemorate all those who had contributed in any way to Ireland's struggle for freedom had long been the aim of Crossmaglen Memorial Committee which first began meeting in 1947.

By 1965, the Committee began in earnest to work towards the realisation of this memorial. In June 1970 the site was generously donated by The Market Committee and is now held in trust by Crossmaglen Memorial Committee.

The cost of the memorial was gathered through fundraising by the local community. Many people contributed their time and expertise to the creation of the monument which was cast by Dublin Art Foundry, granite work to the plinth was done by Mickey Keenan, Newry and engraving was completed by Byrne Monumental Works. All site works were completed by donation by McParland Brothers and the sculptor was Yann Goulet.

The monument, entitled 'Glory', was finally erected during the night in 1979.

PLAQUE B

The Sculptor - Yann Goulet

Yann Goulet, sculptor and Breton activist, was born in August 1914 in Brittany and died August 1999 in Bray, Ireland. He was a staunch Breton nationalist who worked tirelessly for the liberation of Brittany.

Throughout his life Goulet spent time in many French and Breton prisons, and at one stage undertook a Hunger Strike which lasted for three weeks. Having eventually fled France for Ireland in the early 40's he was sentenced to death in absentia.

Goulet's artistic career began at the École Nationale Supérieure des Beaux Arts, where he won a scholarship to study art and architecture. In 1952, having been granted Irish citizenship, Goulet became an art professor. He was commissioned to create public works commemorating Irish freedom fighters, including the Custom House Memorial in Dublin, the Ballyseedy Memorial in Kerry and the Glory Memorial in Crossmaglen. He exhibited regularly at the Royal Hibernian Academy, eventually becoming Professor of Sculpture. He was made a member of Aosdána in 1982.

PLAQUE C

The Phoenix

The phoenix is a mythical bird demonstrating rebirth, renewal and immortality. It can live for up to 1000 years and at the end of its life legend has it that the Phoenix builds itself a nest which then ignites. The Phoenix burns ferociously until only its ashes remain. From these ashes arises a new, young and vibrant Phoenix.

In Yann Goulet's words,

"The blending of phoenix and freedom fighter is unique in its composition. Surging out of the heritage of Nationalist Ireland, they merge in complete unity, figure and symbol completing each other."

PLAQUE D

The Figure

The figure in the sculpture is that of a man striving onwards. There is a sense of movement and energy in the figure, in his striding forward, facing the future.

This sculpture portrays a proud, brave and determined individual embodying the aspirations of the community.

Rural Tourism

Mr Campbell asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development to outline her strategy for rural tourism.
(AQW 9548/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: Tourism has the potential to make a substantial contribution to our economy and can bring immense benefits to rural areas. My Department supports rural tourism in a number of ways, such as promoting local produce and supporting the provision of recreational activities in our Forest Parks. Under Axis 3 of the Rural Development Programme 2007- 2013 my Department has set a budget of £12m for 'Encouragement of Tourism Activities'. Presently this measure has commitment in the region of £7.7 million for delivery of 138 different projects aimed at enhancing Tourism potential of our rural areas.

The Loughs Agency which is co-sponsored by my Department continues to develop marine tourism and angling in the Foyle and Carlingford areas and is currently progressing a number of important initiatives including the development of a marine event platform and city centre cruise ship quay which will form the centre piece of the 'Clipper 11-12 Round the World Yacht Race' in July of this year, a visitor facility at Benone Beach near Limavady, and canoe trails on the River Foyle and Carlingford Lough.

Dogs: Microchipping

Mr Moutray asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development, in light of the final provisions of The Dogs (Amendment) Act (Northern Ireland) 2011 which come into effect in April 2012, what plans she has to promote the compulsory microchipping of dogs.
(AQW 9666/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: The control of dogs here is legislated for by the Dogs Order 1983, as amended by the Dogs (Amendment) Act 2011. Local Councils are responsible for enforcing all aspects of the Dogs Order 1983, as amended.

The Dogs (Amendment) Act 2011 introduced a number of provisions including making compulsory microchipping of dogs a condition of a dog licence. Microchipping is an essential part of dog control and will assist Council dog wardens to help to reunite stray and stolen dogs with their owners and also to trace the owners of dogs that are dangerous and out of control more quickly.

On 27 June 2011, I attended an event hosted at Parliament buildings by the dog welfare charity, Dogs Trust, to raise awareness of compulsory microchipping. The Dogs Trust provided free microchipping for dog owners at the event and it was attended by a number of MLAs who were encouraged to promote microchipping within their constituency. The event proved to be a great success and in the press release issued by the Dogs Trust, I stated that microchipping was an essential part of dog control here and encouraged dog owners to make use of the free microchipping being provided by the Dogs Trust.

In September 2011, I issued a press release to inform dog owners of the forthcoming provisions of the Dogs (Amendment) Act 2011 and to advise them of changes to the dog licensing rules coming into effect from 3 October 2011. This was a joint press release with the Councils' Dog Advisory Group. It also advised dog owners of the introduction of compulsory microchipping from April 2012 and encouraged them to take advantage of the free microchipping being provided by the Dogs Trust through local Councils and participating veterinary practices. The press release was extensively covered in local newspapers.

My officials have continued to work closely with Councils and the Dog Advisory Group, who have had a number of ongoing publicity campaigns to advise dog owners of the introduction of compulsory microchipping from 9 April and the free microchipping service being provided by the Dogs Trust, who are working alongside the Councils. The Dogs Trust free microchipping service is also available in 12 pet stores here. For those dog owners unable to get to the pet stores or veterinary practices, the Dogs Trust works in conjunction with local Councils to visit housing areas in their mobile unit.

On 7 March I participated with the Dogs Trust in one of their microchipping campaigns and had my own dog microchipped. At this event, I again took the opportunity to encourage all dog owners to take advantage of the Dogs Trust's generous offer of free microchipping before it becomes a compulsory requirement from 9 April. I conveyed this message in the accompanying press release for the event. I also expressed my gratitude to the Dogs Trust for the invaluable work their organisation carries out in relation to dog welfare and their promotion of microchipping here.

Most recently on 21 March, I issued a press release to announce that the powers for compulsory microchipping of dogs will commence on 9 April. The commencement has also been formally notified to the Agriculture and Rural Development Committee, Chief Executives of all District Councils, Dogs Trust and the Dog Advisory Group.

I am delighted the Dogs Trust has recently announced that they will be extending their free microchipping campaign for dog owners in the north until the end of 2012.

Greyhounds: Welfare

Mr Dallat asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development what plans she has to introduce a Bill to enhance animal welfare in relation to the (i) breeding; (ii) working life; and (iii) homing of greyhound dogs at the end of their racing life.
(AQW 9769/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: The Welfare of Animals Act 2011 provides for the welfare of all animals throughout their life, which includes greyhounds and any other vertebrate animal, and protects them from unnecessary suffering. In addition, powers exist within the 2011 Act to regulate any activity involving animals to protect their welfare and this could include the welfare of racing greyhounds should this prove necessary in the future.

My Department issued a 12 week consultation on proposals in the draft Welfare of Animals (Dog Breeding Establishments) Regulations 2012 which was carried out between 19 October 2011 and 10 January 2012. The draft Regulations specifically focus on the standards required for any dog breeding establishment, including greyhound breeding establishments here. The draft Regulations include a proposed minimum and maximum age for breeding a bitch and the maximum number of litters.

This consultation was wide ranging and issued to over 2000 consultees. Along with registered breeders, a number of specific greyhound organisations were included, such as Greyhound Welfare NI, Society of Greyhound Veterinarians and the Irish Greyhound Board (Bord na gCon).

Some responses to the consultation proposed exempting greyhounds from these draft Regulations and suggested separate Regulations specifically for greyhound breeding. My officials are currently analysing all the responses received. I will want to consider all stakeholders' views before deciding how to proceed.

I am aware that there are a number of organisations here, in the south of Ireland and in Britain dedicated to rehoming greyhounds when their racing days are over.

Pony Trekking

Mr Wells asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development, pursuant to AQW 8850/11-15, who provided her Department with the legal advice on the level of public liability insurance for users of Forest Service land.
(AQW 9798/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: The Departmental Solicitors Office provides legal advice relating to land and property matters. The quotation in AQW 8850/11-15 was from a licence prepared by DSO, acting on Forest Service instructions, to prepare the legal documentation underpinning the use of forests by 3rd parties.

The Forest Service Instructions specified the £5 million cover, which is a long standing standard requirement for the use of forestry land by third parties. There was no special consideration given to pony trekking businesses.

As some considerable time has passed since that requirement was set I have asked officials to review the amount to make sure it continues to be appropriate for the activities now taking place in forests within the guidance and general principles provided by the Department of Finance and Personnel on such matters.

Farm Modernisation Programme: Under-represented Groups

Mr Swann asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development, pursuant to AQW 8939/11-15, to list the groups that were under-represented in the previous tranches of the Farm Modernisation Programme.

(AQW 9801/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: In developing the proposed selection criteria for Tranche 3 of the Farm Modernisation Programme my Department has considered the results of the Section 75 monitoring of beneficiaries of the previous two Tranches and population information relating to the equality composition of the farming industry here or society as a whole. A statistical summary of the Section 75 information collated by NISRA for Tranches 1 and 2 is presented in Table 1 below. An assessment of the impacts of these Tranches of the Farm Modernisation Programme on each of the Section 75 groups is summarised at pages 17-20 of the Farm Modernisation Tranche 3 Equality Impact Assessment which closes for consultation on 18 April 2012. A copy of this document can be found on the Department's website at: www.dardni.gov.uk/index/consultations/active-consultations/farm-modernisation-tranche-3-equality-impact-assessment.htm.

The cumulative response rate to the Section 75 monitoring forms, issued to successful applicants in these tranches, is approximately 21%. I would encourage all applicants to return their monitoring forms to help improve the reliability and representativeness of the data used for Section 75 monitoring.

ASSESSMENT OF IMPACTS

Gender

Our Section 75 monitoring shows that 91% of beneficiaries under Tranche 1 and 2 are male. Population information shows that 92% of farmers are male. There is no significant imbalance between FMP beneficiaries and the contextual information. Due to the make up of the farming industry as a whole, it is likely that the majority of applicants will be male. DARD will, however, ensure that women are alerted to the FMP through ways that are easily accessible to women e.g. rural women's organisations.

Marital Status

Our Section 75 monitoring, shows that 77% of Tranche 1 and 2 beneficiaries are married. Population data show that 71% of farmers are married. This indicates that there is an over-representation of married people amongst beneficiaries to date. We are not aware of any aspects of the delivery or criteria for FMP which may have caused an adverse impact in terms of marital status and would welcome any comments on this point.

Disability

Our Section 75 monitoring shows that 5.8% of Tranche 1 and 2 beneficiaries have stated that they have a disability, (similar to the proportion in T1) although the population information shows that 27% of farmers have a disability. This may indicate non-declaration on the forms, or a lower response rate from farmers with a disability or an under-representation of farmers with a disability amongst beneficiaries to date.

In Tranche 2, the Department put in place mitigation actions to assist those who may be unable to access a computer or to use one to submit an application electronically. DARD also put in place measures to ensure widespread access to DARD offices or other support, and promoted the scheme in different formats. There was widespread discussion and support for these actions. Over 600 farmers used the mitigation actions to submit FMP applications online. It is our intention to use these methods again for Tranche 3. Our delivery agent, Countryside Agri-Rural Partnership (CARP), will have a helpline in place and farmers who call this number will be directed to a range of local sources of support.

Dependants

Our Section 75 monitoring shows that 42% of Tranche 1 and 2 beneficiaries have no dependants, similar to T1. Population information shows that 27% of farmers have no dependants. This indicates an over-representation of farmers without dependants amongst beneficiaries. However, as we are not aware of any aspect of the delivery or criteria in Tranche 2 which may have caused an adverse impact in terms of dependants, we would welcome comments on this point. The fact that Tranche 3 will have additional marks to favour young farmers (those under 40), who are more likely to have young dependants, may have a positive influence on this group.

Racial Groups

Our Section 75 monitoring shows that 98% of Tranche 1 and 2 beneficiaries identify as white. Population information shows that 99% of farmers are white. There is no significant imbalance between beneficiaries and the contextual information and we therefore are not proposing any mitigating actions in respect of racial groups.

Country of birth

Our Section 75 monitoring shows that 97% of Tranche 1 and 2 beneficiaries were born in the north, and population information (census) shows that 91% of people were born here. We consider that this reflects the realities of farm ownership here, rather than any adverse equality impact created by the Tranche 2 application process or criteria. The vast majority of our farms are family owned, and are traditionally passed down from father to son/daughter, remaining in the family. This may explain the high number of beneficiaries born locally. We do not propose any mitigating action with regard to country of birth.

Sexual Orientation

Our Section 75 monitoring shows that 97% of Tranche 1 and 2 beneficiaries identify as heterosexual. There is no significant imbalance between FMP beneficiaries and the contextual information, and we do not intend to propose any mitigating actions with regard to sexual orientation.

Religion

The low response rate of the monitoring forms (21% T1 and T2) and the lack of information on how representative these returns are of all beneficiaries, mean that the data must be interpreted with great care and that it is not possible to draw definitive conclusions.

The Section 75 monitoring suggests that 61% of Tranche 1 and 2 beneficiaries are Protestant. The Farmers and Farm Families Survey 2001/02 indicates that 54% of farms were owned by a member of the Protestant community and 44% by a member of the Catholic community. This suggests an over-representation of Protestants amongst beneficiaries to date, although less than in Tranche 1. One of the objectives of Tranche 2 was to prioritise those areas where incomes are lower and the need for support for modernisation is greater i.e. Less Favoured Areas (LFA). The apparent change in representation may reflect the impact of this land classification criterion in Tranche 2, as farmers in the SDA are predominantly Catholic, those in DA are broadly 50:50 Catholic:Protestant and farmers in lowland areas are predominately Protestant. DARD analysis of Tranche 2 shows that the approach taken has been very successful in targeting those in Less Favoured Areas in most need of assistance to modernise. Given the high proportion of Letters of Offer not taken up by applicants (25%), the data suggest that the targeting through the land classification criterion has met the greater part of the effective demand amongst this group. Moreover, the additional marks for those not successful in previous tranches should act to mitigate any remaining imbalance by increasing success among groups under-represented in the programme to date.

Political Opinion

Our Section 75 monitoring suggests that 53% of Tranche 1 and 2 beneficiaries identify as Unionist, 30% as Nationalist and 17% did not state a political opinion. The Westminster election has been used by the Department as a guide to political opinion and in 2010 50.5% voted Unionist and 42% Nationalist. Against this, our monitoring data suggests a slight overrepresentation of Unionists and a substantial under-representation of Nationalists amongst beneficiaries to date. Both figures have changed significantly from Tranche 1. The change in representation may again reflect the impact of the land classification criterion in Tranche 2 as referred to above. However, with such a low response rate and a significant proportion of "not stated" it is not possible to draw firm conclusions about the extent of under-representation of Nationalists over the two tranches. Again, the 20 additional marks for those not successful in previous tranches should act to increase success among groups under-represented in the programme to date.

Age

Our Section 75 monitoring shows that 5% of Tranche 1 and 2 beneficiaries are aged 25 and under. Contextual information shows that 1% of farmers are less than 25 years old. DARD analysis of the young farmer criterion shows that 24% of beneficiaries were aged under 40 in Tranche 1 and 54% in Tranche 2 compared to the nearest available comparator of 25% aged under 45 (from the EU Farm Structure Survey). This shows that the priority given to young farmers in the criteria has had a substantial impact. We recognise the importance of supporting young farmers and propose to continue to encourage young farmers by retaining the selection criteria which awards additional marks for young farmers aged 40 years or under. We have also consulted with the Young Farmers Clubs of Ulster (YFCU) and other stakeholders on this criterion and they are supportive of this approach.

Renewable Energy and Leisure: Business Case

Mrs Cochrane asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development, pursuant to AQW 7100/11-15, (i) when the business case for testing commercial opportunities in renewable energy and leisure, including caravan and camping, was completed; (ii) to detail the timescale for the conclusion of the approvals process; and (iii) to outline the associated budgetary limitations and expenditure to date on this project.

(AQW 9837/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: Consultants presented the Business Case for commercial opportunities in renewable energy and leisure in March 2011. This was reviewed within the Department and was recently sent to the Department of Finance & Personnel for approval. At this stage I am unable to provide a timescale for completion of the necessary approvals. The contractual budgetary provision put in place by my Department and the Strategic Investment Board for preparation of the Business Case was £100k. Approximately 50% of this has been paid.

Camping: Commercial/Non-commercial

Mrs Cochrane asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development to outline the rationale in classifying over-night camping as commercial as opposed to non-commercial.

(AQW 9839/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: The Forest Service is directed by the Department of Finance and Personnel to comply with Managing Public Money NI (MPMNI) which sets out the main principles for dealing with resources used by public sector organisations in NI (NI).

As directed by MPMNI, the standard approach to setting charges for public services is to aim for full cost recovery. Where services are supplied into competitive markets, the charges should be set at a commercial rate, including delivering a proper return on the use of resources acquired with public funds.

MPMNI directs public suppliers of commercial services to respect competition law. Otherwise public services using resources acquired with public funds might disturb or distort the fair operation of the market, especially where the public sector provider might be in a dominant position.

The provision of caravan and camping is a service of this kind therefore classification as commercial recreation is appropriate.

Non-commercial recreation refers to visits to all of our forests with entrance charges only levied for the 9 Forest Parks, therefore full cost recovery cannot realistically be achieved in the foreseeable future and the short term objective is to recover at the maximum level that the market will bear.

Forest Recreation Provision

Mrs Cochrane asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development whether statutory requirements exist for leisure facilities to be categorised within the commercial forest industry.

(AQW 9840/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: The Forest Service is directed by the Department of Finance and Personnel to comply with Managing Public Money NI (MPMNI) which sets out the main principles for dealing with resources used by public sector organisations in NI.

This provides the statutory basis for forest recreation provision to be classified as either commercial or non-commercial.

Netting: Lough Neagh

Mr Kinahan asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development what role her Department or its arm's-length bodies have in the (i) regulation of netting in Lough Neagh; and (ii) enforcement of such regulations.

(AQW 9841/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: DARD or its arm's-length bodies have no role in the regulation of netting in Lough Neagh. It is the responsibility of the Department of Culture, Arts and Leisure (DCAL) to regulate netting in Lough Neagh and for the enforcement of such regulations. On one occasion on 15 March 2012 DARD contributed a boat and two staff to assist DCAL at their request to look for nets on Lough Neagh.

Genetically Modified Food

Mr Flanagan asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development for her assessment of the impact that the introduction of genetically modified food would have on the agricultural sector.

(AQW 9845/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: The European Union operates a control regime for the evaluation and approval of genetically modified (GM) ingredients for food and feed. Only GM varieties that have been scientifically assessed by the European Food Safety Authority (EFSA) as safe can be approved for use in the EU. However, none of the GM crop varieties that are approved for growing in the EU are currently grown in the north of Ireland. Market forces and consumer preferences will also have a part to play in determining demand for food derived from genetically modified material.

The local livestock industry, particularly the pig and poultry sectors, relies heavily on imported feed material such as soya from North and South America where GM varieties are widely used. Only feed material containing GM varieties that have been approved through the EU control regime can be imported into the north of Ireland.

In the north of Ireland roles and responsibilities for the full range of issues raised by the genetic modification of food and animal feed are distributed across several local Departments and agencies, including the Department of the Environment (DOE) and the Food Standards Agency (FSA).

The safety of GM material for human consumption is a matter for the FSA, so the FSA is in the lead on GM authorisations. The DOE is responsible for policy and legislation on the environmental safety of GM material and therefore would be the lead on any request to grow GM crops in the north.

DARD's role is strictly limited to the enforcement of European law governing the importing of animal feeding stuffs and seed certification. DARD implements EU regulations which require labelling of all feed products derived from genetically modified material. Approval of GM seed is at European Union level and decisions are not made locally.

I am both personally and politically opposed to the growing of GM crops on the island of Ireland.

Eggs: Imported into Northern Ireland

Mr Wells asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development whether she has any evidence of eggs being imported into Northern Ireland which have been produced by hens kept in battery cages.

(AQW 9873/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: My Department has no evidence of eggs being imported into the north, which have been produced by hens kept in battery cages since the Welfare of Laying Hens Directive came into force on 1 January 2012.

From 1 January 2012 my Department's inspectors have not identified any batches of non-compliant Class A eggs, either of domestic origin or from other EU Member States. To date, only a small number of consignments of eggs from other Member States have been encountered. Origin details of these consignments were checked against Member States' lists of compliant premises and inspectors examined the eggs under ultra-violet light. The eggs were found to be compliant with Egg Marketing Regulations, including production method criteria.

EU Egg Marketing Regulations require all Class A eggs to be labelled with their method of production and this must be in conformity with production criteria specified in the Welfare of Laying Hens Directive.

Any eggs produced in systems which do not meet these production criteria are prohibited from being placed on the Class A (shell egg) market but may be used for processing or disposed of as an Animal By-product.

Field Boundary Restoration

Mr Swann asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development to detail the make, manufacture and specification of measuring wheels used by her Department in the verification of measurements for Field Boundary Restoration work under the Countryside Management Scheme.

(AQW 9907/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: The details of measuring wheels that are used to measure Field Boundary Restoration work for the Countryside Management Scheme (CMS) are provided in Table 1. In 2011 my Department also used mobile mapping and Global Positioning System (GPS) technology to accurately measure Field Boundary Restoration work during inspections for the 2010 claims to the new Countryside Management Scheme (NICMS).

Table 1

| Make                      | Manufacture         | Specification  |
|----------------------------------|----------------------------|-----------------------|
| Trumeter 5000 - 611              | Trumeter Technologies Ltd  | Accuracy $\pm$ 1%     |
| Trumeter Measurimeter            | Trumeter Technologies Ltd  | Accuracy $\pm$ 1%     |
| NEDO Lightweight Measuring Wheel | NEDO Nestle & Fischer GMBH | Accuracy $\pm$ 0.05 % |

Field Boundary Restoration

Mr Swann asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development to detail (i) which certified body is responsible for the calibration of the measuring wheels used by her Department in the verification of measurements for Field Boundary Restoration work under the Countryside Management Scheme; (ii) how often each wheel is calibrated; and the permissible tolerance.

(AQW 9908/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: My Department uses measuring wheels to measure Field Boundary Restoration work for the Countryside Management Scheme (CMS). My Department also uses mobile mapping and Global Positioning System (GPS) technology to measure Field Boundary Restoration work during inspections for the new Countryside Management Scheme (NICMS).

- (i) My Department does not use a certified body to calibrate measuring wheels.
- (ii) Measuring wheels are examined before every inspection for signs of damage which may cause reduced accuracy. This year DARD intends to commence an in-house calibration exercise for measuring wheels. Measuring wheels are purchased with a tolerance of  $\pm$  0.05% or  $\pm$  1% depending on the manufacturer.

Field Boundary Restoration

Mr Swann asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development which certified body completed the training for of departmental staff in the use of measuring wheels used by her Department in the verification of measurements for Field Boundary Restoration work under the Countryside Management Scheme.

(AQW 9909/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: My Department does not use a certified body for the training of Departmental staff in the use of measuring wheels, but rather training is completed in-house. Measuring wheels are bought with a tolerance of  $\pm$  0.05% or  $\pm$  1% depending on the manufacturer.

Field Boundary Restoration

Mr Swann asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development (i) how many measuring wheels are used by her Department in the verification of measurements for Field Boundary Restoration work under the Countryside Management Scheme; and (ii) whether her Department holds calibration and maintenance records for each wheel to allow full traceability and audit.

(AQW 9910/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill:

- i) My Department uses 27 measuring wheels to measure Field Boundary Restoration work for the Countryside Management Scheme (CMS). These wheels were also used for rapid field visits for the new Countryside Management Scheme (NICMS). However in 2011, my Department also used mobile mapping and Global Positioning System (GPS) technology to measure Field Boundary Restoration work during inspections for the 2010 claims for the new Countryside Management Scheme (NICMS).
- ii) My Department does not hold calibration and maintenance records for these wheels, however this year DARD intends to commence an in-house calibration exercise for measuring wheels.

Animals: Disposal

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development how many farmers have been prosecuted for failing to properly dispose of dead animals in each of the last five years.

(AQW 9923/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill:

| Dates of Conviction | Number of persons convicted | Number of offences |
|----------------------------|------------------------------------|---------------------------|
| 23/03/2007-22/03/2008      | 8                                  | 18                        |
| 23/03/2008 – 22/03/2009    | 3                                  | 9                         |
| 23/03/2009 – 22/03/2010    | 3                                  | 3                         |

| Dates of Conviction     | Number of persons convicted | Number of offences |
|-------------------------|-----------------------------|--------------------|
| 23/03/2010 – 22/03/2011 | 4                           | 5                  |
| 23/03/2010 – 22/03/2012 | 6                           | 8                  |
| Total            | 24                   | 43          |

31 offences of failure to dispose of carcasses – 19 persons convicted

7 offences of allowing animals access to carcasses – 5 persons convicted

5 offences of failure to comply with a notice to dispose of carcasses - 3 persons convicted

Bovine Tuberculosis: Cattle Slaughter

Mr McMullan asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development how many (i) beef; and (ii) dairy cattle have been slaughtered as a result of Bovine Tuberculosis in each of the last three years.

(AQW 9925/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: The Department does not routinely record the detailed information sought. However, for the purpose of this question, dairy cattle reactors have been defined as female animals of a recognised dairy production breed and beef cattle reactors taken as all other TB reactors.

| Year | All Reactors | Beef Cattle Reactors | Dairy Cattle Reactors |
|------|--------------|----------------------|-----------------------|
| 2011 | 8136         | 4328                 | 3808                  |
| 2010 | 6404         | 3912                 | 2492                  |
| 2009 | 8198         | 4239                 | 3959                  |

Beef and Dairy Industries: Departmental Advisers

Mr McMullan asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development how many Departmental advisers are currently servicing the (i) beef; and (ii) dairy industry.

(AQW 9926/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: My Department currently has (i) 12 advisory posts to assist beef farmers and (ii) 16 advisory posts to assist dairy farmers.

EU Welfare of Laying Hens Directive

Mr Moutray asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development for an update on the meetings she has had in relation to member states' compliance with the EU Welfare of Laying Hens Directive.

(AQW 9950/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: I have had discussions with Minister Simon Coveney and Minister Jim Paice on several occasions about compliance with and enforcement of the Welfare of Laying Hens Directive. I have also had meetings with the Ulster Farmers' Union and the British Egg Industry Council to discuss my enforcement strategy in relation to the Directive.

The Welfare of Laying Hens Directive was also raised by the Defra Minister of State, Jim Paice, when he met EU Commissioner John Dalli in London on 6 February 2012.

All Member States' Action Plans have been discussed at the monthly EU Standing Committee on the Food Chain and Animal Health (SCoFCAH) meetings, which took place in January, February and March 2012. At the SCoFCAH meeting in Brussels on 8-9 March, it was reported that 13 Member States remain non-compliant with the Laying Hens Directive.

The Commission has undertaken the actions that we were pressing for; formal infraction letters have been sent to all 13 non-compliant Member States; these Member States have been required to submit action plans for achieving compliance and they have agreed not to export any conventional caged eggs (just the food or industrial product made with those eggs). The Commission is targeting its EU Food and Veterinary Office Audit Missions in the non-compliant Member States.

Papers for Assembly Committees

Mr McKay asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development to detail all occasions in the last 12 months when her Department has made a presentation to an Assembly committee and provided papers pertaining to that presentation to the committee less than 48 hours beforehand.

(AQW 9975/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: Since May 2011, the Department has provided papers relating to a Committee presentation in less than 48 hours as outlined below:-

| Description/Topic                                     | Date paper issued to Committee | Date of presentation to Committee |
|--|---------------------------------------|--|
| Budget Settlement (including Savings Plan)                   | 31 May 2011                           | 31 May 2011                              |
| DARD Business Plan 2011/12                                   | 27 June 2011                          | 28 June 2011                             |
| Non-Commercial Movement of Pet Animals Regulations (NI) 2011 | 28 November 2011                      | 29 November 2011                         |
| DARD Business Plan 2011/12                                   | 9 January 2012                        | 10 January 2012                          |
| Schmallenberg Virus update                                   | 28 February 2012                      | 28 February 2012                         |

The Department aims to provide information to Assembly Committees in accordance with existing guidelines and subject to any specific timescales which may have been agreed with the Committee Clerk.

Badger Diggers: Threat

Mr Frew asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development what action her Department has taken to counter the threat posed by badger diggers; and what effect the movement of badger diggers has had on the spread of disease in farm animals and wildlife.

(AQW 10005/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: While the badger is a protected species under the Wildlife (NI) Order 1985, the statutory and enforcement responsibility does not rest with my Department. I am aware of the recent allegations made about interference with badger setts and badger baiting and I deplore any such illegal activity.

Movement of personnel between farms will represent a risk if biosecurity advice is not followed. There is no scientific evidence that would enable my Department to measure the effect of the movement of badger diggers on the spread of disease in farm animals or wildlife. However, I am not aware of any TB breakdown in any cattle herd that can be attributed to such alleged activity.

CPR: Staff Training

Mr Frew asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development what strategy is in place to train departmental staff in Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation.

(AQW 10006/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: To comply with the Health and Safety (First-Aid) Regulations 1982, an assessment of the requirement for fully trained and certified First Aiders is conducted at each departmental location and the relevant number of staff appointed. All departmental First Aiders are fully trained in Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation as part of their certification course.

In addition, due to the large number of students and customers who use the College of Agriculture Food and Rural Enterprise Campuses, defibrillators are available at each site. A number of staff have been trained to operate the defibrillators to ensure that there is coverage at all times.

Hydroelectric Scheme: River Camowen

Mr Hussey asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development whether she has any concerns about the recently installed hydroelectric scheme on the River Camowen in Omagh. [R]

(AQW 10007/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: My Rivers Agency are satisfied that all necessary precautions in respect of drainage and flood risk were met to allow the scheme to progress. Any issues raised have been addressed during the planning and consent process, to comply with schedule 6 of the Drainage (Northern Ireland) Order 1973.

Hydroelectric Scheme: River Camowen

Mr Hussey asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development whether her Department was fully involved in the consultations on the installation of the hydroelectric scheme on the River Camowen by Omagh District Council. [R]

(AQW 10008/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: My Rivers Agency were fully consulted by Planning Service as a consultee in respect of the drainage and flood risks associated with this development. My Rivers Agency also worked with the developer on this project who provided a flood risk assessment to my Rivers Agency.

Dogs: Licensing and Microchipping

Mr Copeland asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development what action her Department is taking to increase the compliance rates for dog licensing and microchipping.

(AQW 10045/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: The control of dogs here is legislated for by the Dogs Order 1983, as amended by the Dogs (Amendment) Act 2011. Local Councils are responsible for enforcing all aspects of the legislation. The Dogs (Amendment) Act 2011 introduced a number of provisions including making the microchipping of dogs a condition of the licence.

Local Councils provide my Department with statistics relating to enforcement of the Order on a quarterly basis. These statistics have shown a steady rise in the number of dog licences issued each year. In 2005 over 95,000 licences were issued. This has increased every year with almost 135,000 licences issued in 2011.

During the past year I have taken part in a number of initiatives aimed at increasing public awareness and encouraging voluntary uptake before microchipping became compulsory on 9 April 2012.

For example, on 27 June 2011 and 7 March 2012, I attended events hosted by Dogs Trust as part of their campaign to provide free microchipping. At both of these events I took the opportunity to encourage dog owners to take advantage of Dogs Trust's generous offer of free microchipping.

In September 2011, I issued a joint press release with the Councils' Dog Advisory Group advising dog owners of the forthcoming provisions of the Dogs (Amendment) Act 2011 and to advise them of changes to the dog licensing rules which came into effect on 3 October 2011. The press release was extensively covered in local newspapers and the media.

Most recently, on 21 March 2012, I issued a press release to announce that the powers for compulsory microchipping of dogs commenced on 9 April. The commencement has also been formally notified to the Agriculture and Rural Development Committee, Chief Executives of all District Councils, Dogs Trust and the Dog Advisory Group.

My officials have continued to work closely with Councils and the Dog Advisory Group, who have had a number of ongoing publicity campaigns advising dog owners of the introduction of compulsory microchipping and the free microchipping service being provided by Dogs Trust.

I am delighted Dogs Trust has recently announced that they will be extending their free microchipping campaign for dog owners in the north until the end of 2012.

My Department will continue to monitor the statistics provided by Councils relating to the enforcement of the Order, which will include the new requirement for microchipping since 9 April 2012.

Dogs (Amendment) Act (Northern Ireland) 2011

Mr Copeland asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development, in relation to the Dogs (Amendment) Act (Northern Ireland) 2011, how her Department will address the consequences of breed specific provisions including (i) the breeding of 'status' dogs; (ii) the number of stray dogs; (iii) a false sense of security for owners of other types of dogs; and (iv) the unnecessary public expenditure on the seizure of dogs because they are of a certain breed, rather than having displayed aggression; and whether she will make a statement on this issue.

(AQW 10049/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill:

- (i) The control of dangerous dogs, is regulated under the Dogs Order 1983 ("the Order"), as amended. The Order designates certain dog types which it is an offence to own. These are dogs that are of a type bred for fighting, including Pit Bulls, Japanese Tosas, Dogo Argentinos and Fila Brasilieros. Councils are responsible for enforcing this legislation and may seize any dog that appears to be of a prohibited type. The Dangerous Dogs Order 1991, which banned ownership of Pit Bulls and Japanese Tosas, and the Dangerous Dogs (Designated Types) Order 1991, which banned Dogo Argentinos and Fila Brazilieros, were both introduced in October 1991.

The issue of the ban on certain dangerous dogs was considered during the Committee for Agriculture and Rural Development's scrutiny of the Dogs (Amendment) Act 2011 ("the 2011 Act"), and was raised in debates during the Act's passage through the Assembly, but ultimately no change to the ban was proposed. The 2011 Act made no changes to the existing prohibition, but it provided some clarification to the circumstances in which an exemption from the prohibition could be made available through the courts.

The 2011 Act has strengthened the provisions to deal with the issue of uncontrolled dogs and dog attacks regardless of the breed of dog involved. It has introduced a new system of control conditions that Council dog wardens may impose where there has been a breach of dog control law. These controls include keeping the dog securely fitted with a muzzle when in a public place; keeping it under control (leashed) when in a public place; keeping the dog securely confined in a building, yard or other enclosure when not under control; keeping it away from any place; and/or having the dog neutered (if male).

- (ii) Under the Order it is an offence to allow a dog to stray, regardless of its type. The 2011 Act introduced compulsory microchipping from 9 April 2012. This, along with robust control conditions, the new offence of a dog attack on another pet, more substantial penalties and stiffer fixed penalties, will help dog wardens enforce the law. It will also hold careless or irresponsible owners and keepers to account where they have failed to exercise adequate control of their dogs. The new provisions will help protect the public, promote responsible ownership and penalise irresponsible owners.

- (iii) During consultation on the 2011 Act, some stakeholders raised concerns about the prohibition on certain dog types only. While certain types of dogs are prohibited because of the specific risk they pose, this does not imply that other dogs are not dangerous. The legislation provides protection to the public from dangerous dogs regardless of their breed.
- (iv) In my view it is not a waste of public money to remove dangerous dogs from harming the public whether they are of a prohibited type or not. Public safety is my key priority. It was for this reason that the 2011 Act increased the resources available for enforcement by Councils through an increase in the level of the dog licence fee. In addition, the Act provided for an increase in the levels of fixed penalties, the receipts from which are, for the first time, kept by Councils.

Loughs Agency: Prosecutions

Mr Frew asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development, in relation to the 161 illegal nets seized by the Loughs Agency, how many prosecutions have been brought and how many are ongoing.

(AQW 10063/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: 10 cases relating to 18 individuals have been presented to the Loughs Agency's solicitors for ongoing processing through the courts.

Loughs Agency: Prosecutions

Mr Frew asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development, in relation to the 12 boats seized by the Loughs Agency, how many prosecutions have been brought and how many are ongoing.

(AQW 10064/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: 11 boats were persons unknown or abandoned by persons fleeing the scene of an incident. 1 boat is the subject of an ongoing case.

Loughs Agency: Prosecutions

Mr Frew asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development, in relation to the 36 bags of Oysters seized by the Loughs Agency, how many prosecutions have been brought and how many are ongoing.

(AQW 10065/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: 12 bags of oysters seized resulted in persons being formally cautioned, 2 bags were seized owner unknown, and 22 bags of oysters are the subject of ongoing court proceedings against 2 persons.

Loughs Agency: Prosecutions

Mr Frew asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development, in relation to the two cars seized by the Loughs Agency, how many prosecutions have been brought and how many are ongoing.

(AQW 10066/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: In relation to the two cars seized by the Loughs Agency, there are 2 ongoing prosecutions involving three individuals.

Countryside Management Scheme: Payments

Ms Ritchie asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development whether her Department is on target to make the 2011 Countryside Management Scheme payments.

(AQW 10071/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: My Department makes Countryside Management Scheme (CMS) payments on an on-going basis. CMS is claimed throughout the year around the anniversary date of the agreement. The new Countryside Management Scheme (NICMS) is claimed annually on the Single Application Form. DARD aims to begin making payments for 2011 claims for NICMS by September 2012. DARD is currently on target to meet this date.

Countryside Management Scheme: Payments

Ms Ritchie asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development how many Countryside Management Scheme payments have been issued for 2011; and what is the timescale for release of all payments.

(AQW 10072/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: My Department makes Countryside Management Scheme (CMS) payments on an on-going basis. CMS is claimed throughout the year around the anniversary date of the agreement. The new Countryside Management Scheme (NICMS) is claimed annually on the Single Application Form. My Department has not yet issued payments for 2011 claims for the NICMS. In line with EU requirements, all inspections must be completed before any claims can be paid. I expect that inspections will be completed by August 2012 after which payment processing will begin. The timescale for all payments will be determined by the findings of the inspections.

Capital/Revenue Costs: Departmental Spend

Mr Copeland asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development for an estimate of the annual additional cost to her Department of providing its services in our divided society, broken down by (i) capital; and (ii) revenue costs.

(AQW 10090/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: Due to the number of variables involved, it is not possible for the Department of Agriculture and Rural Development (DARD) to calculate the annual additional cost of service delivery.

Crossmaglen Republican Monument: Plaques

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development, pursuant to AQW 9489/11-15, whether the representations from the Joint Council Committee had the support of both its unionist and nationalist membership; and what is the wording planned for the plaques.

(AQW 10101/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: The SOAR Joint Council Committee is an incorporated body empowered by my Department to deliver funding under Axis 3 of the Rural Development Programme. Its internal decision making process is governed by its Standing Orders i.e. each decision must have a proposer, seconder and have the support of the majority present to vote. The request to the Department to review its decision on the eligibility of the proposed Crossmaglen Monument project was conveyed on behalf of the JCC by its Chairman.

The proposed wording for the plaques has been provided in response to your AQW 9442-11-15.

Fishing Gear: Seizures

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development, further to her statement on 26 March 2012 on the North-South Ministerial Council meeting, over what period the (i) 161 illegal nets; (ii) 12 boats; and (iii) 2 cars were seized.

(AQW 10102/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: The seizures were made between the 1st January 2011 and the 13th November 2011.

Fishing Gear: Seizures

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development, further to her statement on 26 March 2012 on the North-South Ministerial Council meeting, how many people have been (i) arrested or questioned; (ii) charged; and (iii) processed through the courts and with what result, in relation to the (a) 161 nets; (b) 12 boats; and (c) 2 cars that were seized; and what happened to the seized items.

(AQW 10103/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: No one was arrested as the Loughs Agency does not have the power of arrest.

18 people have been charged with all cases remaining pending.

In relation to the seized items, 80 nets and 5 boats have been the subject of destruction orders by the courts and 81 nets, 7 boats and 2 cars are in the process of being presented to the courts for orders for their forfeiture and destruction.

DARD Headquarters: Suitable Locations

Mr Campbell asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development whether she has established a shortlist of suitable locations for her new departmental headquarters.

(AQW 10182/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: As you will be aware the advancement of the relocation of the Headquarters of the Department of Agriculture and Rural Development (DARD) is one of the commitments set out in the Executive's Programme for Government 2011-2015. Work on delivering this important commitment is progressing. The Programme Board for DARD HQ Relocation recently submitted a paper to me with views on possible shortlisting criteria to ensure alignment with the key Executive Strategies and policies. I am currently considering this with a view to establishing a shortlist of suitable locations. This will help to inform the way ahead including the options to be considered in the outline business case.

Administration Costs

Mr G Robinson asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development how much of her Department's total allocation from the European Commission is directed to administration.

(AQW 10196/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: Of the income received from the European Commission, there is only one area where my Department directs income to administration, i.e. NI Rural Development Programme (NIRDP) Axis 1 and Axis 3.

The amounts DARD has directed to administration from the European Commission from the start of the NIRDP i.e. 2007, to the end of January 2012 are as follows:

| Axis 1  | Axis 3  |
|---------|---------|
| £2.082m | £3.725m |

Dogs (Amendment) Act (Northern Ireland) 2011

Mr Agnew asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development for her assessment of the impact of the Dogs (Amendment) Act (Northern Ireland) 2011, specifically the provision to allow dog wardens to attach conditions to dog licences where a dog's behaviour has led to a breach of the legislation; and whether there are any plans for an extension of dog control legislation to include private land.

(AQW 10210/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: The control of dogs here is legislated for by the Dogs Order 1983 ("the Order"), as amended by the Dogs (Amendment) Act 2011 ("the Act"). The new provisions, which give powers to council dog wardens to attach control conditions to dog licences where an offence under the Order has been committed, came into operation on 3 October 2011.

The purpose of these provisions is to give council dog wardens greater powers to enforce changes to the management of a dog and so help to protect the public from dangerous or problem dogs. These provisions received widespread support during consultation.

My Department will monitor the enforcement of the new provisions through the quarterly statistical information that Councils are required to provide regarding the enforcement of the dog control legislation generally. Councils will be required to provide information regarding the new provisions of the Act starting from June 2012. At present, it is too early to make an objective assessment of the impact the new provisions are having.

Many of the provisions within the Dogs Order 1983, as amended, apply to private land. For example, under Article 25C, a magistrate may issue a warrant authorising a dog warden to enter and search premises in order to seize a dog of a banned type. Under Article 28, a person is guilty of an offence if they set a dog on another person, livestock or any animal owned by another person; this applies no matter where the attack takes place unless the person attacked is trespassing. Article 42 gives dog wardens the power to enter any land, other than a dwelling house, in order to prevent a dog attacking a person, livestock or another dog.

We now have the most robust dog control legislation in these islands and I have no plans to extend the legislation any further at this time.

Flooding: South Antrim

Mr Kinahan asked the Minister of Agriculture and Rural Development what work has been (i) proposed; (ii) commenced; and (iii) completed following the flooding in the South Antrim constituency in 2008.

(AQW 10324/11-15)

Mrs O'Neill: My Rivers Agency has commenced and completed various schemes to improve flood protection to urban areas within the Sixmilewater catchment since August 2008. Works completed at Antrim and Muckamore include raising of the floodwall and flood bank at Meadowside, culvert replacement at Abbeyview and the removal of a bridge across the river at Grangers Mill. Culvert works have also been completed at Edenduff and Ballynure. Work to improve the flood alleviation at Fourmile Burn is in progress. In October 2010, my Rivers Agency also completed a major Feasibility Study, with an Economic Appraisal which has been approved by DFPNI. Any further schemes identified, will be prioritised alongside other such schemes and taken forward as financial resources permit. My Rivers Agency has no further works planned for this area at this time.

Department of Culture, Arts and Leisure

Media Communications Protocols

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure what media communications protocols exist between her Department and each of its arm's-length bodies; and to publish these protocols.

(AQW 9567/11-15)

Ms Ní Chuilín (The Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure): The Department is presently seeking agreement with its ALBs on a Communications Protocol. The Department will publish the document once finalised.

SportNI has drafted and asked for the Department's agreement on two communications protocols.

Communications Protocol

Mr Wells asked the Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure whether she will publish the memo on press guidelines which she sent to her Department's arm's-length bodies.

(AQW 9655/11-15)

Ms Ní Chuilín: The Department is presently seeking agreement with its ALBs on a Communications Protocol. The Department will publish the document once finalised.

Communications Protocol

Mr Wells asked the Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure why she issued the memo on press guidelines to her Department's arm's-length bodies.

(AQW 9658/11-15)

Ms Ní Chuilín: The Department has issued a letter to ALBs on a communications protocol in order to promote best practice in communication to ensure that the media and the general public are fully informed about DCAL and the work of the ALBs.

IFA/GAA: Ministerial Meetings

Mr Moutray asked the Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure what meetings she has had with (i) the Irish Football Association and (ii) the GAA in 2012 to date.

(AQW 9730/11-15)

Ms Ní Chuilín: During 2012 I have met with the Gaelic Athletic Association to discuss the Líofoa 2015 initiative. I met with Patrick Nelson from the Irish Football Association on 23 August 2011 and I plan to meet with the IFA in the near future to discuss the Líofoa initiative.

I have also had a meeting on cultural awareness at which GAA officials were present.

Special Advisers: Selection Process

Mr Moutray asked the Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure to detail the selection process that will be followed for the appointment of her new special adviser.

(AQW 9731/11-15)

Ms Ní Chuilín: The DCAL Special Adviser will be appointed in accordance with the Code of Practice on the Appointment of Special Advisers and the Civil Service Commissioners (NI) Order 1999 as amended.

Cultural Events: Ministerial Attendance

Mr Moutray asked the Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure what cultural events she plans to attend during 2012.

(AQW 9734/11-15)

Ms Ní Chuilín: To date in 2012 I have attended the following open air cultural events:

| Event  | Date          |
|--|---------------|
| Opening of Ebrington Square, Derry               | February 2012 |
| GAA Participation in Derry City of Culture event | March 2012    |
| Switch on of the Global Rainbow                  | March 2012    |

At this time it is my intention to attend the following events later this year:

| Event  | Date        |
|--|-------------|
| School Games at Olympic Park                 | May 2012    |
| Unveiling of the Olympic Rings               | May 2012    |
| "La Boheme" at Belfast and Derry sites       | May 2012    |
| Newry Olympic Torch Relay Celebration        | June 2012   |
| London 2012 Festival – Peace One Day Concert | June 2012   |
| Land of Giants Main Event                    | June 2012   |
| Paralympic Flame Festival                    | August 2012 |

These intentions may be subject to change, and further events will be added to my diary as the year progresses.

Sports Clubs: Grant Funding

Mr Wells asked the Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure how much grant funding has been awarded by her Department or its arm's-length bodies, in each of the last five years, to sports clubs that are named after people who took part in the Maze Prison hunger strikes.

(AQW 9797/11-15)

Ms Ní Chuilín: The name of a sporting organisation is not part of any assessment criteria for funding and Sport NI, which is responsible for the distribution of funding to sport, does not monitor awards that it provides to sporting clubs on the basis of whether or not they are named after people who took part in any Long Kesh/Maze hunger strike. I am, however, aware that in 2009/10 an award of £245,000 was made to one club, Kevin Lynch's Hurling Club, towards the construction of changing rooms and toilet facilities.

Decade of Centenaries: Ulster-Scots Academy

Mr Swann asked the Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure whether she has received or sought any advice from the Ministerial Advisory Group on the Ulster Scots Academy in relation to how the decade of centenaries should be commemorated or celebrated.

(AQW 9961/11-15)

Ms Ní Chuilín: On 15 March 2012, Ministers agreed that it was appropriate and necessary for the Executive to set the tone and provide leadership in putting an official acknowledgement process in place to mark the forthcoming Decade of Commemorations. It was unanimously agreed that I and the Minister for Enterprise, Trade and Investment will jointly bring forward a programme based on the principles of; educational focus, reflection, inclusivity, tolerance, respect, responsibility and interdependence.

Our arts and cultural base can play a key role in telling the stories behind these centenaries and other significant anniversaries. The knowledge and skills within the arts, museums, libraries, public records, the creative industries and, indeed, the MAGUS, can help us to explore historical facts, review different interpretations, and gain a better understanding of who we are and how our past shapes our relationships today.

MAGUS is considering commissioning research studies into various aspects of those centenaries of relevance to Ulster-Scots history, heritage and culture. Should these studies go ahead, then they will provide further insight into our connected past and help inform the broader official acknowledgement process being put into place by the Executive. There is a diverse range of significant events from the distant and more recent past that are important to many people. The key issue is not whether these events are remembered but how they are remembered in the context of a shared and accepting society.

Theatres: Lottery Funding

Mr I McCrea asked the Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure how many of the Local Authority controlled regional theatre venues were built with Arts Council lottery funding.

(AQW 9962/11-15)

Ms Ní Chuilín: Thirteen Local Authority controlled regional theatre venues (including multi-purpose arts centres containing performance spaces) received lottery funding from the Arts Council towards the cost of building or refurbishment.

See attached table:

| Local Authority                          | Project  | Grant      |
|--|--|------------|
| Antrim Borough Council                   | Antrim Castle Gardens -Clotworthy House Arts Centre                  | £241,862   |
| Antrim Borough Council                   | Refurbishment/Conversion - Old Antrim Courthouse                     | £500,407   |
| Armagh City & District Council           | Marketplace Theatre  | £3,672,452 |
| Ballymena Borough Council                | The Braid Arts Centre  | £2,000,000 |
| Coleraine Borough Council                | Extension to Flowerfield Arts Centre                                 | £1,387,875 |
| Cookstown District Council               | Burnavon Arts Centre   | £1,125,585 |
| Down District Council Arts Service       | Extension to Down Arts Centre  | £620,510   |
| Dungannon & South Tyrone Borough Council | Castle Hill Development; Refurbishment & Extension of Ranfurly House | £500,000   |
| Larne Borough Council                    | Refurbishment of Carnegie Library for arts provision                 | £269,976   |
| Lisburn City Council                     | Island Arts Centre   | £1,301,571 |
| Newtownabbey Borough Council             | Theatre at the Mill  | £371,309   |
| Omagh District Council                   | Strule Arts Centre   | £4,000,000 |

| Local Authority           | Project           | Grant    |
|---------------------------|-------------------|----------|
| Strabane District Council | Alley Arts Centre | £763,250 |

Theatres: Arts Council Funding

Mr I McCrea asked the Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure how many of the Local Authority controlled regional theatre venues currently receive arts funding from the Arts Council to assist in the programming of the venues.

(AQW 9963/11-15)

Ms Ní Chuilín: No Local Authority controlled regional theatre venues currently receive arts funding from the Arts Council.

In March 2009, due to budgetary pressures, the Arts Council ceased providing annual funding to local authority owned theatre venues in order to concentrate its funding on the independent arts sector.

Local authority owned theatres can apply to other programmes but are a low priority.

Theatres: Capital Funding

Mr I McCrea asked the Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure what plans there are to enable regional theatre venues outside Belfast to access capital funding to develop their arts facilities.

(AQW 9964/11-15)

Ms Ní Chuilín: My Department has no plans to fund capital arts projects over the next three years. There has been a significant investment in capital arts projects in recent years as a result of which there are a number of high quality arts venues across the north of Ireland including the Crescent Arts Centre, Lyric Theatre, Playhouse Theatre and Waterside Theatre.

There is however, capital funding of £200k available per year over the next three years which will enable regional venues and other arts organisations to apply for minor refurbishment and equipment.

This funding will be administered by the Arts Council.

Papers for Assembly Committees

Mr McKay asked the Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure to detail all occasions in the last 12 months when her Department has made a presentation to an Assembly committee and provided papers pertaining to that presentation to the committee less than 48 hours beforehand.

(AQW 9976/11-15)

Ms Ní Chuilín: From the start of the current mandate, on one occasion my Department provided papers pertaining to a presentation to an Assembly Committee less than 48 hours beforehand. The Departmental briefing was on the Review of Core Funding by Foras na Gaeilge.

Arrangements for the provision of papers are discussed and agreed in line with the guidelines for the provision of information between Departments and Assembly Committees.

European Framework Convention for the Protection of National Minorities: Advisory Committee

Mr Swann asked the Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure how her Department communicates or interacts with the Advisory Committee for the European Framework Convention for the Protection of National Minorities.

(AQW 9978/11-15)

Ms Ní Chuilín: A DCAL official met Members of the Advisory Committee for the European Framework Convention for the Protection of National Minorities during its visit to Belfast on 7 March 2011.

Interaction between DCAL and the Advisory Committee in written form is through OFMDFM.

European Framework Convention for the Protection of National Minorities: Irish Language

Mr Swann asked the Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure, over the last 5 years, what advice on the Irish language her Department has provided to the Advisory Committee for the European Framework Convention for the Protection of National Minorities.

(AQW 9979/11-15)

Ms Ní Chuilín: DCAL provided input to the second report submitted by the British Government pursuant to Article 25, paragraph 2 of the Framework Convention for the Protection of National Minorities which was received by the Council of Europe 22 February 2007.

The full report can be viewed on their website at the link below.

http://www.coe.int/t/dghl/monitoring/minorities/3\_FCNMdocs/PDF\_2nd\_SR\_UK\_en.pdf

The third report was received on 23 March 2010 without Northern Ireland input. The Northern Ireland input was not agreed.

A DCAL official met Members of the Advisory Committee for the European Framework Convention for the Protection of National Minorities during its visit to Belfast on 7 March 2011.

The Committee was advised of the commitment in the Northern Ireland Act 1998 Section 28D which states:

“(1) The Executive Committee shall adopt a Strategy setting out how it proposes to enhance and protect the development of the Irish language.”

European Framework Convention for the Protection of National Minorities: Ulster Scots

Mr Swann asked the Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure, over the last 5 years, what advice on Ulster-Scots her Department has provided to the Advisory Committee for the European Framework Convention for the Protection of National Minorities.
(AQW 9980/11-15)

Ms Ní Chuilín: DCAL provided input to the second report submitted by the British Government pursuant to Article 25, paragraph 2 of the Framework Convention for the Protection of National Minorities which was received by the Council of Europe 22 February 2007.

The full report can be viewed on their website at the link below.

The third report was received on 23 March 2010 without Northern Ireland input. The Northern Ireland input was not agreed.

A DCAL official met Members of the Advisory Committee for the European Framework Convention for the Protection of National Minorities during its visit to Belfast on 7 March 2011.

The Committee was advised of the commitment in the Northern Ireland Act 1998 Section 28D which states:

“(2) The Executive Committee shall adopt a Strategy setting out how it proposes to enhance and develop the Ulster Scots language, heritage and culture.”

Creative Industries: Duplication of Activities

Mr Swann asked the Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure for her assessment of the duplication of activities across her Department, its arm's-length bodies and other agencies and initiatives in relation to the Creative Industry sector.
(AQW 9981/11-15)

Ms Ní Chuilín: The challenges facing the creative industries in the north of Ireland include a fragmented sector with insufficient scale and engagement in international markets, and diverse government interventions which at times lack effective coordination.

The diversity within the creative industries means that no one department, agency or representative body can fully realise the sector's potential in isolation.

My Department, in partnership with DETI and Invest NI, is developing a collaborative framework to define the structures, roles and principles guiding strategic collaborations and investment across the creative industries. This aims to harness the region's creative skills and knowledge and support businesses in developing innovative content, products, services and experiences capable of competing in global markets.

The framework will constitute a strategic partnership between industry, government and academia to realise the potential of the creative industries and their contribution to rebuilding and rebalancing the economy.

Big Screen, Derry

Mr P Ramsey asked the Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure who is responsible for the programming shown on the Big Screen in Derry.
(AQW 10004/11-15)

Ms Ní Chuilín: The Derry Live Sites Programme is managed by the BBC, the London Organising Committee of the Olympic Games & Paralympic Games (LOCOG) and Derry City Council.

The Live Site programme brings the public the latest news in the lead-up to the 2012 Games and is at the centre of action during the Games this summer.

Sporting fixtures and music performances will also be part of the programme.

Toome Eel Fishery: Hook Sizes

Mr Molloy asked the Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure, in relation to the recent incident in which hooks were measured and removed from the Toome eel fishery, (i) whether the hooks were an unacceptable size; (ii) whether the fishery concerned asked for an amnesty for the remainder of the year; and (iii) whether any amnesty was granted.
(AQW 10014/11-15)

Ms Ní Chuilín:

- (i) The Agri-Food and Biosciences Institute (AFBI) has carried out sampling of hook sizes currently being used by long-line eel fishermen on Lough Neagh and has found that some hooks did not meet the regulatory specifications as prescribed in the Eel Fishing Regulations (NI) 2010.

- (ii) On being informed of the outcome of the sampling above, the Lough Neagh Fishermens Co-operative Society (LNFCS) asked that DCAL consider permitting the continued use of irregular hooks until such supplies become exhausted.
- (iii) The Department could not sanction the use of hooks which were not compliant with the regulatory specifications.

I would also advise that the LNFCS provided samples of stocks of hooks it held for measurement and no hooks were removed from LNFCS premises.

Salmon Fishery Conservation Measures: Consultation

Mr Swann asked the Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure, in relation to the consultation on additional salmon fishery conservation measures, (i) when the draft terms of reference of the consultation will be presented to the Committee for Culture, Arts and Leisure; (ii) how the framework will be established and what it will contain; and (iii) how the consultation will be communicated to the general public.

(AQW 10085/11-15)

Ms Ní Chuilín:

- (i) The Department is at an advanced stage on the development of the consultation on salmon conservation measures and details will be forwarded to the Committee for Culture, Arts and Leisure in the following weeks.
- (ii) The consultation will contain a range of options for control of the exploitation of wilds Atlantic salmon by both commercial fishermen and recreational anglers. The range of options is based on scientific analysis carried out by the Agri-Food and Biosciences Institute.
- (iii) The consultation will be communicated to the public through stakeholder groups, the NI Angling website and the press. It is planned that the consultation will be web based and arrangements will be in place to enable those without internet access to participate.

Capital/Revenue Costs: Departmental Spend

Mr Copeland asked the Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure for an estimate of the annual additional cost to her Department of providing its services in our divided society, broken down by (i) capital; and (ii) revenue costs.

(AQW 10091/11-15)

Ms Ní Chuilín: Due to the number of variables involved, it is not possible for the Department of Culture, Arts and Leisure to calculate the annual additional cost of service delivery.

CPR: Staff Training

Mr Frew asked the Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure what strategy is in place to train departmental staff in Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation.

(AQW 10162/11-15)

Ms Ní Chuilín: Under the Health and Safety (First Aid) Regulations (NI) 1982, DCAL as an employer must train suitable first-aiders in the workplace who have undergone training from an approved organisation and received a certificate confirming this. There are currently 37 staff in DCAL who have received this training which includes Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation (CPR). The Department has arrangements in place to ensure certificates are up-to-date and refresher training is arranged as appropriate.

Special Adviser: Resignation

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure (i) when her former Special Adviser left her post; (ii) to outline the process by which she left the post; and (iii) whether she received a severance package.

(AQW 10185/11-15)

Ms Ní Chuilín: I advised the Department that my Special Adviser resigned from her post on 19 March 2012. In these circumstances, under the Code of Practice for the Appointment of Special Advisers, a severance package is not applicable.

Special Adviser: Cost to Public Purse

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure what was the total cost to the public purse of her former Special Adviser's tenure.

(AQW 10189/11-15)

Ms Ní Chuilín: The Special Adviser referred to was appointed on 16 May 2011 and was placed on pay band B of the Special Adviser pay scale, that is, within the range £57,300 to £90,000. Employer National Insurance and Superannuation costs have also been paid in accordance with the appropriate scheme guidance.

Salmon Hatchery in the Classroom Project

Mr Swann asked the Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure whether her Department has any plans to replicate or adopt the 'salmon in the classroom' project, which was recently delivered by the Rivers Agency, to schools across Northern Ireland to highlight and educate school children about the importance of salmon in our rivers.

(AQW 10195/11-15)

Ms Ní Chuilín: It is my understanding that the Rivers Agency has not been involved in the delivery of the Salmon Hatchery in the Classroom Project.

My Department currently supports the Salmon Hatchery in the Classroom Project, which is an education programme aimed at Controlled and Maintained Primary Schools located in the same towns and villages in the Lower Bann catchment area.

The Department supplies the schools with salmon eggs from the Department's River Bush Salmon Station. The Department also allocates staff time (technical, industrial and administrative) to school visits to the Bushmills Salmon Station, which is an integral part of the project. The children are given a tour of the facilities by DCAL staff and learn more about the life cycle of the wild Atlantic salmon.

Special Adviser: Job Description

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure, in regard to the appointment of her current Special Adviser, to detail (i) the job description deployed; (ii) the person specification; (iii) how the vacancy was made known; (iv) how many candidates were considered; (v) the criteria against which candidates were judged; (vi) what regard was given to avoiding any imbalance of religious belief; and (vii) what documentation exists pertaining to the appointment.

(AQW 10240/11-15)

Ms Ní Chuilín: The DCAL Special Adviser was appointed in accordance with the Code of Practice on the Appointment of Special Advisers and the Civil Service Commissioners (NI) Order 1999 as amended.

Special Adviser: Appointment

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure (i) who is her current Special Adviser; (ii) when and how he was appointed; (iii) when he took up office; and (iv) within which salary band he is being paid.

(AQW 10241/11-15)

Ms Ní Chuilín: Jarlath Kearney was appointed Special Adviser in DCAL on 2 April 2012.

The Special Adviser was appointed in accordance with the Code of Practice on the Appointment of Special Advisers and the Civil Service Commissioners (NI) Order 1999 as amended.

The salary of DCAL's Special Adviser has yet to be finalised.

Special Adviser: Permanent Secretary Notification

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure, in regard to the appointment of her current Special Adviser, when and how the Permanent Secretary was informed of the Minister's choice.

(AQW 10242/11-15)

Ms Ní Chuilín: The Permanent Secretary was notified orally by me of the intended appointment of my current Special Adviser on Tuesday 13th March 2012.

Special Adviser: Vetting

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Culture, Arts and Leisure, in regard to the appointment of her current Special Adviser, whether any vetting or character checking was applied to the appointed person, including details of how, when and by whom.

(AQW 10243/11-15)

Ms Ní Chuilín: The DCAL Special Adviser was appointed in accordance with the Code of Practice on the Appointment of Special Advisers and the Civil Service Commissioners (NI) Order 1999 as amended.

Cycling Proficiency Scheme

Mr Weir asked the Minister of Education what percentage of primary school children have completed the Cycling Proficiency Scheme.

(AQW 9669/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd (The Minister of Education): The Cycling Proficiency Scheme is operated by the Department of the Environment and I understand is aimed primarily at pupils in Year 7, although some schools do offer the scheme to pupils in other year groups in Key Stage 2.

DoE has advised that, during the 2010-11 academic year 575 primary schools participated in the scheme. We do not hold information on the precise number of pupils who participated.

There is also an opportunity for pupils who have not completed the scheme and who are aged 9 or over to take a Cycling Proficiency Test. Figures from DoE show that, during the 2010-11 academic year 8,670 pupils took the test. This represents 19.7% of those pupils aged 9 and over in primary schools in 2010/11.

Note:

- 1 Information on numbers of pupils who sat the test provided by DOE, who have a statutory responsibility for road safety education.
- 2 Total eligible pupils taken as those pupils in primary schools and preparatory departments of grammar schools aged 9 or more at 1 July 2010.

Teachers: Cost of Substitutes

Mr Storey asked the Minister of Education to detail the cost of substitute teachers in each of the last five years, broken down by (i) sector; and (ii) Education and Library Board.

(AQW 9885/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: The cost of substitute teachers in each of the last five financial years, broken down by (i) sector; and (ii) Education and Library Board is detailed in the attached table.

Buses: Use outside of School Year

Mr D McIlveen asked the Minister of Education, pursuant to AQW 9227/11-15, for a breakdown of the all-year-round youth activities for which the buses are used; and how frequently the buses are used outside the 38 week school year. (AQW 9902/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: The all-year-round youth activities for which buses are used include: camping, scouting, youth hostelling, outdoor pursuits, girl-guiding, outdoor education programmes, and attendance at sports such as ice skating, bowling, horse riding, swimming, orienteering, hill walking, canoeing, and rock climbing, as well as trips to cultural activities and venues, community based activities and many other youth work curriculum-based projects, youth work programmes, visits and residential schemes. The combination of these activities is unique to each Board.

I have been advised by Education and Library Boards that data relating to the frequency of Board bus use is available for only some of the Boards and for only some of the activities listed. The figures quoted below for buses used outside the 38 week school period are for 2011.

BELB

- (a) 29 buses supported special school summer schemes at six schools for periods ranging from one to three weeks in July and August.
- (b) 80 school trips to youth outdoor pursuit centres.
- (c) 5 buses to support a range of activities from those listed above.

NEELB

- (a) 44 buses, each for a two week period to support a number of special and mainstream school summer schemes in July and August.
- (b) 22 buses to support other youth related trips.

SELB

246 youth trips conducted during the period July to August.

SEELB

196 youth trips in July and August.

WELB

An average of 48 trips per week during the months of July and August, excluding summer schemes for special schools.

Papers for Assembly Committees

Mr McKay asked the Minister of Education to detail all occasions in the last 12 months when his Department has made a presentation to an Assembly committee and provided papers pertaining to that presentation to the committee less than 48 hours beforehand.

(AQW 9928/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: The details of papers provided by the Department to Assembly committees less than 48 hours beforehand are detailed in the table below:

| Date of Committee Meeting | Issue Date of Paper(s)     |
|---------------------------|----------------------------|
| 1 June 2011               | 31 May 2011                |

Away-days and Team-building Exercises: Cost-effectiveness

Mr S Anderson asked the Minister of Education how his Department assesses the cost-effectiveness of away-days and team-building exercises.

(AQW 9948/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: In the Department of Education, away days in the main are used for Business Planning purposes. As an Investor in People it is important to involve people when developing the organisation's business plan and when agreeing team and individual objectives. The Department seeks to use venues where costs are minimal or nil. Where costs cannot be avoided, the Department would secure a competitive rate.

Where team-building exercises are undertaken, these are normally within the terms of the Department's Employer Supported Volunteering (ESV) policy and are arranged in consultation with the Voluntary Service Bureau (VSB) at nil cost. Team objectives are set prior to undertaking the volunteering activity to inform the evaluation process.

Education and Skills Authority: Legislation

Mrs Dobson asked the Minister of Education to detail (i) the key stages completed on the current Bill to establish the Education and Skills Authority; and the timescale and scope for a public consultation on the Bill.

(AQW 9955/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: Subject to Executive agreement, I intend to introduce the Bill in the Assembly in the very near future. As there has already been extensive public consultation on the policy proposals, I do not intend to consult on the Bill.

The Bill will go through normal Assembly scrutiny and debate.

CPR Training: Teachers

Mr Frew asked the Minister of Education what strategy is in place to train staff in schools in Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation.

(AQW 9968/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: The following strategies are in place to train staff in schools in Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation.

Schools in BELB and SEELB board areas:

The BELB and SEELB provide a comprehensive First Aid training package for both teaching and non-teaching staff and Cardiopulmonary resuscitation is an integral part of these Training courses.

Schools in WELB, SELB and NEELB board areas:

Schools in the WELB, SELB and NEELB areas use the "Heartstart Schools Programme" in partnership with the British Heart Foundation (BHF), which includes training staff on key medical emergencies:

- How to recognise the signs & symptoms of a Heart Attack
- How to deal with an unconscious casualty who is breathing (Recovery position)
- How to deal with an unconscious casualty who is NOT breathing (CPR)
- How to deal with a casualty who is severely bleeding
- How to deal with a casualty who is choking.
- Emergency Life Support
- Coronary Heart Disease
- The Four Stage Approach
- Infection Control Protocol

In all Board areas, The Board's Health and Safety Manual for Principals and Governors includes specific guidance on First Aid, stipulates the level and number of first aiders required and reminds schools of the requirement to have staff trained in First Aid, including CPR.

I have arranged for a copy of the full BHF "Heartstart Programme" and the BELB/SEELB Provision of First Aid Training Courses contract, to be placed in the Assembly library.

School Principals: Panel

Ms Lo asked the Minister of Education, pursuant to AQW 8475/11-15, whether the Department made an agreement, before he came into office, to establish a panel of school principals.

(AQW 10018/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: My Department has not made an agreement to establish a panel of school principals. My intention is to support new and existing representative bodies for the various school sectors, which may include school principals.

Schools: Formal Intervention in NEELB Area

Mr Swann asked the Minister of Education which post-primary schools in the North Eastern Education and Library Board area are under formal intervention; and what additional support has been (i) offered to; (ii) accepted by; and (iii) delivered at each school.

(AQW 10042/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: In the North Eastern Education and Library Board (NEELB) area the following post-primary schools are currently in the Formal Intervention Process (FIP): Ballee Community High School (CHS); Crumlin Integrated College (IC); and Cambridge House Grammar School (GS). One further school is in the process of entering the FIP and preparing an action plan, and I will write to the member regarding that school before the inspection report is published.

The purpose of the FIP is to provide the school with the support and guidance it needs to improve. When a school enters the FIP the Department writes to instruct the local Education and Library Board (ELB) to work with the school to develop and implement an action plan to address the areas for improvement identified during the inspection.

This action plan will include details of the type and level of support to be provided by the ELB. The action plan is agreed between the school and the ELB before being submitted to the Department, to be quality assured by the ETI. Therefore the support offered by the ELB, accepted by the school and subsequently delivered by the Board is detailed in the agreed action plan. The ETI monitor the implementation of the action plan and report on the school's progress in addressing the areas for improvement detailed in the inspection report.

The NEELB has advised that it has provided support to Ballee CHS, Crumlin IC and Cambridge GS as detailed below:

Ballee CHS

Educational Psychologists: Vacancies

Mr Copeland asked the Minister of Education to detail (i) the current number of vacancies for educational psychologists in the (a) Belfast Education and Library Board; and (b) South Eastern Education and Library Board; and (ii) when the vacancies were created. (AQW 10051/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: I have been advised by the Chief Executives as follows:

(i)(a)

There are no vacancies in the Belfast Education and Library Board educational psychology service.

(i)(b)

There are 5 vacant educational psychologist posts in the South Eastern Education and Library Board.

- (ii)
- 1 post vacant since October 2010
  - 1 post vacant since August 2011
  - 2 posts vacant since November 2011
  - 1 post vacant since February 2012

In November 2011 the Board undertook a recruitment exercise which resulted in the filling of 3 posts. The Board will be advertising the remaining vacant posts in the very near future.

Coláiste Feirste, Belfast: Transport Arrangements

Mr McKay asked the Minister of Education for his Department's assessment of the recent ruling in relation to Coláiste Feirste, Belfast. (AQW 10105/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: As indicated in my reply to AQW 6276/11-15, published in the Official Report on 27 January 2012, this is a significant and important judgment which requires careful and detailed consideration before I can be in a position to provide an overall assessment on the outcome.

In line with the court judgment, Department officials have been re-examining the transport arrangements for all pupils travelling to Coláiste Feirste, a process which has involved consultative discussions with the school. This re-examination process is at an advanced stage and will in the near future bring recommendations to me for consideration.

Schools: Gaelic Games

Mr McKay asked the Minister of Education what percentage of (i) primary schools; and (ii) post-primary schools in each sector offer Gaelic games as part of Physical Education.

(AQW 10108/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: Physical Education (PE) is a compulsory element of the revised curriculum for all pupils of compulsory school age and Department of Education guidance recommends that schools should provide a minimum of 2 hours PE per week.

The Department does not prescribe specific sports or games to be delivered within a school's PE curriculum as this is a matter for each school. However, legislation does detail that PE provision to pupils should cover different types of physical activity. Namely in Primary Schools, provision should include athletics, dance, games and gymnastics with the addition of swimming at Key Stage 2. For Key Stage 3 pupils in Post-Primary School, provision should include athletics, games, gymnastics and swimming. For pupils in Key Stage 4 schools should facilitate pupils' participation in a regular, frequent and balanced programme of physical activity.

The Department does not collect information on the individual sports or games provided by each school.

Schools: Irish Language

Mr McKay asked the Minister of Education what percentage of (i) primary schools; and (ii) post-primary schools in each sector offer Irish language as a subject at Key Stages 3, 4 and 5.

(AQW 10109/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: Modern languages are a statutory requirement at Key Stage 3, and a qualification choice at Key Stage 4 and sixth form. Schools can choose to deliver any of the languages of the 27 EU member states, including Irish. However, it is up to individual schools to decide which languages they choose to offer to meet the needs of their pupils.

The Department does not hold information on the languages schools choose to teach in Primary Schools or Post-Primary schools. However, we do have information on Key Stage 2 & 3 assessments in Irish returns for 2010/11 and examination entries for Irish in 2010/11 and this is detailed in the tables below:

Key Stage 2 Assessment in Irish Language

To support primary schools wishing to deliver language learning the Primary Language Programme was introduced in 2007 to give pupils at Foundation Stage/Key Stage 1 the opportunity to learn an additional language in school. The programme offers primary schools the opportunity to work with peripatetic language tutors to deliver Irish, Spanish and Polish. As at 20 March 2012, 92 primary schools are learning Irish through this programme, 91 of which are from the Maintained sector and 1 from the Grant Maintained Integrated sector.

In addition, we have also commissioned an Irish language primary pilot programme for pupils in Key Stage 2 which aims to build upon and complement the provision made available via the Primary Languages Programme. The programme involves 10 primary schools from the Maintained sector in the Derry/North West area and will run for 4 years.

Capital Assets: Disposal

Mr Weir asked the Minister of Education to list the capital assets that his Department intends to dispose of in each of the next three years.

(AQW 10113/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: Publicly-owned properties in the education estate fall within the Controlled sector and are owned by Education and Library Boards. Properties in other sectors are owned by Trustees and the disposal of those properties is the Trustees' responsibility.

While Boards are obliged to dispose of surplus property within 3 years of a school closure the determining factor in trying to realise capital receipts has tended to be the lack of market interest.

Currently planned disposals by Education and Library Boards in each of the next three years are listed below.

Area-based Planning

Mr Flanagan asked the Minister of Education what action his Department intends to take to ensure that any proposals submitted by communities outside the formal area planning process will receive a fair hearing compared with the proposals submitted by statutory agencies.

(AQW 10126/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: The area planning process is an important driver for achieving my Department's vision for education which is to ensure that every learner fulfils their full potential at each stage of development.

I encourage everyone to embrace the Area Planning process and to engage fully in the consultation exercise which will provide schools, parents, wider communities and others with the opportunity to comment and present their views and alternatives before plans are finalised. I want to stress that there will be no alternative area plans to those drawn up, consulted and agreed upon through the Area Planning process. There will therefore be no scope for proposals to be considered outside the Area Planning process.

I will continue to make my decisions on all Development Proposals taking account of the merits and issues pertinent to each individual case and mindful of my Department's policies and priorities.

Schools: Financial Deficits

Mr Flanagan asked the Minister of Education what action his Department intends to take to address the issue of the outstanding deficits that schools have accrued to allow such schools to move forward with agreed amalgamations with other schools.

(AQW 10127/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: Under the current Common Funding Scheme arrangements, any budget deficits will be met from Funding Authority centre funds providing that each of the Board of Governors involved, in conjunction with the Employing Authority, can demonstrate that in preparing the school for amalgamation it complied with any requirements, direction or advice issued by the Funding Authority.

Funding Authorities should work closely with schools, and CCMS in the case of Catholic maintained schools, in the period leading up to amalgamation to ensure that appropriate decisions are taken, effective financial monitoring arrangements are in place and the risk of significant deficits minimised.

In this respect, amalgamating schools should, as early as possible, draw up an Amalgamation Implementation Plan which should include details of the various financial actions to be addressed in the period prior to the amalgamation.

Schools: Enrolment Figures

Mr Flanagan asked the Minister of Education to detail (i) the approved, maximum, and current enrolment number (a) at each school; and (b) in each Education and Library Board area; and (ii) any differences in the figures provided for (a) each school; (b) each Board; and (c) the overall total.

(AQW 10128/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: The information requested has been placed in the Assembly Library.

Schools: Hurling

Mr McKay asked the Minister of Education what percentage of (i) primary schools; and (ii) post-primary schools in each sector offer hurling as part of Physical Education.

(AQW 10150/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: Physical Education (PE) is a compulsory element of the revised curriculum for all pupils of compulsory school age and Department of Education guidance recommends that schools should provide a minimum of 2 hours PE per week.

The Department does not prescribe specific sports or games to be delivered within a school's PE curriculum as this is a matter for each school. However, legislation does detail that PE provision to pupils should cover different types of physical activity. Namely in Primary Schools, provision should include athletics, dance, games and gymnastics with the addition of swimming at Key Stage 2. For Key Stage 3 pupils in Post-Primary School, provision should include athletics, games, gymnastics and swimming. For pupils in Key Stage 4 schools should facilitate pupils' participation in a regular, frequent and balanced programme of physical activity.

The Department does not collect information on the individual sports or games provided by each school.

Education Systems: Best Performing

Mr McKay asked the Minister of Education whether he has carried out an assessment of the education systems in other countries that have broken the link between socio-economic background and educational underachievement; and if so, what lessons could be learnt.

(AQW 10157/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: International evidence, in the form of the PISA 2009 results, shows that the best performing school systems manage to provide high-quality education to all students.

PISA 2009 Results: What Makes a School Successful? Resources, Policies and Practices Vol IV, reports that "successful school systems - those that perform above average and show below-average socio-economic inequalities - provide all students, regardless of their socio-economic backgrounds, with similar opportunities to learn. Systems that show high performance and an equitable distribution of learning outcomes tend to be comprehensive, requiring teachers and schools to embrace diverse student populations through personalised educational pathways. In contrast, school systems that assume that students have different destinations with different expectations and differentiation in terms of how they are placed in schools, classes and grades often show less equitable outcomes without an overall performance advantage."

A previous OECD Policy Brief Ten Steps to Equity in Education looked at how to improve equity in education in three key policy areas: the design of the education systems, practices both in and out of school, and resourcing. The report cautions against streaming or academic selection as this can increase inequalities and inequities particularly if it takes place early in the education process. This is also reported in the latest OECD (2012) report 'Equity and Quality in Education: Supporting Disadvantaged Students and Schools' which states that selection widens achievement gaps and inequities and that pupils from lower socio-economic backgrounds are the group most adversely affected by selection.

I want all our young people to achieve to their full potential. Therefore, I want to drive out the inequities that exist in our education system and end academic selection.

The OECD Policy Brief also recommends strengthening the links between school and home to help disadvantaged parents help their children to learn. I want to stress the value of education and work with local communities to ensure young people receive positive messages about the importance of doing well at school and are encouraged to have high expectations.

I am equally determined to take action to break the link between social disadvantage and educational underachievement - through encouraging schools to set high expectations for their pupils and supporting and, where necessary, challenging schools to improve.

Middletown Centre for Autism: Research

Mr McKay asked the Minister of Education what research is currently being undertaken at the Middletown Centre for Autism.
(AQW 10158/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: The Middletown Centre is currently undertaking four areas of research:

- 1 A pilot study in mainstream schools across north and south to assess the working memory of children on the autism spectrum.
- 2 An all-Ireland project to research the sensory processing difficulties of children aged 4-11 on the autism spectrum.
- 3 A research bulletin targeted at both parents and professional is being developed on this issue of social communication for those children on the autism spectrum.
- 4 A series of case studies based upon the children receiving intensive trans-disciplinary support from the Centre in the north.

Middletown Centre for Autism: Services

Mr McKay asked the Minister of Education how his Department intends to increase awareness of the services provided by the Middletown Centre for Autism.

(AQW 10159/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: Primary responsibility for the promotion and advertising of the Middletown Centre for Autism is delegated to the Centre in order to ensure a consistent approach across the north and south.

To facilitate such promotion, the Department of Education has recently authorised the Centre to use the C2k system to promote its support and services in schools. C2k will also enable the Centre to provide online learning for schools and will enable online learning materials to be provided.

Primary Schools: Enrolments

Mrs Hale asked the Minister of Education whether the temporary variation in enrolment numbers for primary schools is quantified by the number of pupils or the percentage of pupils attending a school.

(AQW 10160/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: Requests from primary schools to the Department for temporary variations to increase enrolment and/or admissions numbers are considered on an individual basis and are not quantified by the number of pupils or the percentage of pupils attending a school.

A school will request a temporary variation for the total number of additional places it requires. In consideration of this request the Department takes into account factors including:-

- (1) the teaching accommodation available for use by pupils, to be satisfied that the school could deliver the statutory curriculum effectively to all its pupils;
- (2) the availability of places in other schools within reasonable travelling distance of the address(es) of the child(ren) for whom additional place(s) are being sought; and
- (3) the statutory requirement that all classes in Foundation and Key Stage 1 (Years 1 to 4) are limited to a maximum of 30 pupils - except where an exception is approved by an Education and Library Board.

In considering all such requests, the Department will consult with, and take into account the views of, the appropriate Education and Library Board and (in the case of catholic maintained schools) the Council for Catholic Maintained Schools.

Capital/Revenue Costs: Departmental Spend

Mr Copeland asked the Minister of Education for an estimate of the annual additional cost to his Department of providing its services in our divided society, broken down by (i) capital; and (ii) revenue costs.

(AQW 10168/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: Due to the number of variables involved, it is not possible for the Department of Education to calculate the annual additional cost of service delivery.

Special Educational Needs Review: Reference Groups

Mr McDevitt asked the Minister of Education to outline the agreed process which led to organisations being invited to the Special Educational Needs Review Reference Groups.

(AQW 10183/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: In January 2012, I published a Summary Report of Responses to the Consultation on Every School a Good School - The Way Forward for Special Educational Needs and Inclusion and the associated Equality Impact Assessment. In the Ministerial foreword to the report I stated that I had asked Departmental officials to further engage with parents, schools and other stakeholders to discuss how best the policy proposals as outlined in the foreword could be progressed.

As part of this engagement, a series of reference group meetings was arranged in each Education and Library Board area, inviting a mixture of voluntary organisations, schools and parents. The voluntary organisations invited were those which had responded to the consultation and/or had contacted the Department concerning the Review of SEN and Inclusion, or were known to have a particular interest in SEN issues. Invitations were initially sent to schools, selected at random from those which had responded to the consultation, in order to provide representation from each school sector – early years, primary, post primary and special schools, maintained, controlled, integrated, Irish medium and grammar school sectors across the boards. The parents who were invited included those who had been in contact with the Department in the past 2 years regarding a SEN issue or were chosen at random from parents who had responded to the original consultation, according to the board area in which they lived. Those voluntary organisations invited were also given the opportunity to bring along parent representatives.

The purpose of the reference groups was to hold small meetings with interested stakeholders to provide an update on my key proposals and to explore suggestions as to how these could best be taken forward. The participants in the meetings were asked if they would be willing to participate in future meetings to examine any issues that may arise with the implementation of the proposals. It was felt that these meetings could provide a forum to keep stakeholders informed of developments and to continue to seek their input.

The process and timescales for the Review of Special Educational Needs and Inclusion are as follows:

May 2012 - SEN and Inclusion Policy Memorandum to Education Committee;

August 2012 - Final Equality Impact Assessment;

September 2012 - SEN and Inclusion Policy Memorandum to other Departments and the Executive;

December 2012 - Legislation drafted for Ministerial clearance, including primary and subordinate legislation;

October 2013 - Assembly process from Bill clearance through to Royal Assent; and

September 2015 - Transitional arrangements, including development of revised code of practice and associated guidance.

Special Educational Needs Review: Reference Groups

Mr McDevitt asked the Minister of Education to detail (i) the purpose of the Special Educational Needs Review Reference Groups; and (ii) whether there are any plans for further engagement on the Special Educational Needs proposals.
(AQW 10197/11-15)

Special Educational Needs Review: Reference Groups

Mr McDevitt asked the Minister of Education to detail the process and timescale that the Special Educational Needs Review Reference Groups are working towards in relation to primary legislation, Statutory Rules, guidance, and equality.
(AQW 10198/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: In January 2012, I published a Summary Report of Responses to the Consultation on Every School a Good School - The Way Forward for Special Educational Needs and Inclusion and the associated Equality Impact Assessment. ### Child Protection Clearance: Substitute Teachers

Mr Swann asked the Minister of Education what is the average waiting time for a new teacher on the substitute register to achieve child protection clearance; and whether this delay affects the placement of substitute teachers in schools.

(AQW 10226/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: Access NI aims to deliver 90% of correctly completed applications for Enhanced Disclosure Checks within four weeks of receipt. For requests made between September 2011 and February 2012 the average time for a check to be returned to the NI Substitute Teachers Register (NISTR) was 25 days.

In certain circumstances an enhanced disclosure check is not required for a teacher to join NISTR. This is the case for: newly qualified teachers from teacher training colleges in the north of Ireland who apply to join NISTR within three months of completing their training; teachers joining directly from previous teaching service in the north of Ireland provided that the relevant employing authority can confirm that the individual has previously been vetted; part-time teachers wishing to join NISTR to undertake substitute teaching outside of their normal contracted hours; and teachers with an Enhanced Disclosure Certificate dated within the last three months.

Enrolment Figures: NEELB

Mr Swann asked the Minister of Education to detail the maximum enrolment number for each (i) primary school; and (ii) post-primary school in the North Eastern Education and Library Board area.

(AQW 10227/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: The maximum enrolment number for each primary school and post-primary school in the North Eastern Education and Library Board area for the 2011/12 school year are as detailed in the attached tables.

(i)

North Eastern Education and Library Board Primary School Approved Enrolment Numbers

Portadown College: Cost of Refurbishment and Repairs

Mr S Anderson asked the Minister of Education how much was spent on refurbishment and repairs at Portadown College in the 2010/11 financial year.

(AQW 10265/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: The total amount spent on refurbishment and repairs at Portadown College during 2010/11 was £49,134.

Post-primary Education: Children from the Republic of Ireland

Mr Durkan asked the Minister of Education whether his Department has any plans to allow children living in the Republic of Ireland to avail of post-primary education.

(AQW 10267/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: Pupils from the south can already apply for admission to a post-primary school in the north. Currently 402 young people who live in the south attend post-primary schools here and all applicants for the 2011/12 school year were accepted for places.

This is reflective of how people in the border areas live and avail of services, including education. My Department and the Department of Education and Skills are both planning for schools into the future and it is important to do so in a sustainable way that is able to meet parental preference in the border region. At the North South Ministerial Council education sectoral meeting in February 2012 it was agreed that the Departments will jointly conduct a survey in the autumn of potential cross border pupil movement to inform school planning.

Portadown College: Cost of Refurbishment and Repairs

Mr S Anderson asked the Minister of Education how much was spent on refurbishment and repairs at Portadown College in the 2011/12 financial year.

(AQW 10278/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: The total amount spent on refurbishment and repairs at Portadown College during 2011/12 was £ 400,216.

Sure Start: Bangor

Mr Easton asked the Minister of Education (i) what plans he has to extend the Sure Start provision in Bangor to include the Dufferin and Whitehill electoral wards; (ii) when this will take place; and (ii) how much funding has been set aside to deliver the provision in these areas.

(AQW 10314/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: Under the draft Early Years Strategy there is an intention to extend Sure Start provision on a gradual basis over time, and as budgets allow, to the top 25% most disadvantaged wards. As the Dufferin and Whitehill wards fall within the top 25%, work is being progressed through the Eastern Childcare Partnership to scope existing provision and develop proposals for Sure Start services, based on an analysis of local needs through engagement and consultation with local representatives, organisations and parents. The proposal for the introduction of Sure Start to these areas will be considered by the Department in light of the available resources at that time.

Sure Start: Bangor

Mr Easton asked the Minister of Education, given that Sure Start provision is delivered to the Harbour and Rathgill areas of Bangor, why this information is not on the Eastern Childcare Partnership website to promote access to the service and to demonstrate his Department's investment in the areas.

(AQW 10315/11-15)

Mr O'Dowd: Sure Start services were introduced to the Harbour and Rathgill areas of Bangor during 2010/2011, through an expansion of the reach of Sure Start to the top 20% Super Output areas.

The Eastern Childcare Partnership (ECP) website provides information about childcare and family support services in the areas it serves, including an overview of Sure Start Projects. I am advised that the current website is in a period of transition as a new regional website for Sure Start is under development. Therefore the areas of Harbour and Rathgill are not included in the website in its current form.

Department for Employment and Learning

Stranmillis University College: Ministerial Meeting

Lord Morrow asked the Minister for Employment and Learning, pursuant to AQW 7953/11-15, (i) why he did not attend the meeting with staff from Stranmillis University College on 19 January 2012; (ii) who initiated the cancellation and when; and (iii) when he intends to meet with the staff.

(AQW 9193/11-15)

Dr Farry (The Minister for Employment and Learning): The meeting was cancelled as the format was considered inappropriate. As I have stated previously, I remain open to meeting with all stakeholders.

Steps to Work: Participation

Mr B McCrea asked the Minister for Employment and Learning whether he will seek to widen participation in the Steps to Work programme by reducing the compulsory hours for people on Job Seekers Allowance from 30 hours per week in order to help employers give people who are currently out of work the necessary experience to gain employment.

(AQW 9806/11-15)

Dr Farry: It is important that participants on the Steps to Work programme get the opportunity to undertake a meaningful level of participation to provide them with a realistic and relevant workplace experience.

The current attendance requirement of 30 hours per week gives participants exposure to the normal weekday and weekly routine of the organisation or employer with whom they are placed and enables participants to acquire the employability skills sought by prospective employers.

As Steps to Work contracts end in March 2013 the Department is currently considering what will be delivered in the future. Attendance requirements will be considered as part of the development work for the new programme.

Queen's University Belfast and Stranmillis University College: Proposed Merger

Lord Morrow asked the Minister for Employment and Learning, pursuant to AQW 7182/11-15, whether he will take cognisance of the unions which are opposed to the proposed merger, such as Stranmillis University College UCU Branch.

(AQW 9858/11-15)

Dr Farry: I have taken cognisance of all responses to the public consultation.

Queen's University Belfast and Stranmillis University College: Proposed Merger

Lord Morrow asked the Minister for Employment and Learning, pursuant to AQW 9075/11-15, how many people will be involved in carrying out the study; and from where the £50,000 budget will be obtained.

(AQW 9921/11-15)

Dr Farry: The first stage of the study is being procured through the Central Procurement Directorate of the Department of Finance and Personnel. It is likely that the work will be awarded to a company and at this stage one cannot predict the size of the team that may be tasked with undertaking the work. The budget will come from the normal administrative resources made available to my department.

Theatre Courses: University Provision

Mr P Ramsey asked the Minister for Employment and Learning why technical theatre courses, such as set design and lighting, are not provided by universities.

(AQW 9933/11-15)

Dr Farry: Higher Education Institutions are responsible for their own policies and procedures, including course provision. Queen's University and the University of Ulster have, however, stated that, while they do not offer stand-alone Technical Theatre courses, a number of degree courses include modules teaching technical theatre skills.

Details of this are included in the information provided by the Universities and attached at Annex A.

Annex A

University of Ulster

School of Media, Film and Journalism

The University of Ulster has traditionally not offered bespoke programmes in set design or lighting. Historically, the University has produced graduates from its School of Art and Design in design, fine art and applied arts that have applied their creative skills and are currently working within film set and theatre set design. A number of these graduates have been working in this area for over 25 years.

Having a modest theatre provision and a traditionally small film production operation in Northern Ireland there has not been a local industry set-up large enough to employ the throughput of specialist graduates required to make a bespoke set and lighting design programme viable in its own right.

The Media Studies and Production programme in Coleraine covers a limited aspect of set lighting for television studio. However, the current provision in architecture, interior design, product design, fine art, fashion/textiles, and applied arts make the University well placed to produce graduates suited to work within technical theatre/film.

One Master of Architecture student is currently designing a theatre on the Crumlin Road jail site and in the past some interior design students have elected to produce theatre set designs as part of their final-year portfolio submission. However, international productions generally bring together partners from across the globe and often film directors/producers will have their own preferences for set designers/lighting designers – who they will source worldwide.

The University is acutely aware of the huge benefits of the developing film and production facilities in Northern Ireland and have set up a new BAHons Interaction Design and Animation for the purposes of training for post-production. The first cohort of undergraduates will commence in autumn 2012. This programme is led by internationally renowned animator and Professor of Animation, Greg Maguire. A number of students studying at masters level under his tutelage (MA Multidisciplinary Design [Animation]) are producing work for high profile film productions internationally.

If the need arises, and there are sufficient cross-linkages with partnership organisations that can facilitate the access to specialist facilities (the MAC/Lyric/Opera House/Playhouse etc.) then a postgraduate offering in this area may be considered. This would of course require the recruitment of further specialist staff and the added resource required to ensure a course of appropriate quality could be delivered in Northern Ireland.

School of Creative Arts

The University of Ulster teaches set design and lighting on the BA Drama on the University's Magee campus. The two first-year core modules DRA111 Issues in Performance 2: The Theatrical Space and DRA110: Performance Technologies are the most relevant modules in year 1 for introducing Drama students to fundamental skills and concepts in scenography and technical theatre production respectively, and DRA309: Production Process in year 2 requires Major and Single Honours students to research, develop and apply skills across the whole range of production roles appropriate to professional theatre production. A number of graduates from the Drama programme are now working professionally in technical theatre roles.

Queen's University Belfast

Queen's University offers a module in 'Stage Management and Theatre Production' (DRA2056) which runs across two semesters of the undergraduate degree in Drama Studies. The main thrust of the modules is to equip students with a basic grounding in all aspects of technical theatre.

Similar modules are offered at all levels of the Film Studies undergraduate degree programme – with the focus on technical issues, including lighting and film craft. As part of the Music Technology degree programme, modules are offered which provide training in location sound, theatre sound, and recording and editing.

Away-days and Team-building Exercises: Cost-effectiveness

Mr S Anderson asked the Minister for Employment and Learning how his Department assesses the cost-effectiveness of away-days and team-building exercises.

(AQW 9949/11-15)

Dr Farry: The Department has a policy on organisational development (away-days) and team building exercises, and issues guidance to all staff. The policy and guidance include information on how all events must be evaluated against output-based objectives. This evaluation exercise is led by management in business areas. Events are only approved where appropriate objectives are set in advance and financial resources are available. The policy and guidance are regularly reviewed, updated and circulated to staff.

Papers for Assembly Committees

Mr McKay asked the Minister for Employment and Learning to detail all occasions in the last 12 months when his Department has made a presentation to an Assembly committee and provided papers pertaining to that presentation to the committee less than 48 hours beforehand.

(AQW 9977/11-15)

Dr Farry: During the period 1 March 2011 to 29 February 2012 there were eight occasions when officials from the Department for Employment and Learning made a presentation to the Assembly committee and papers were provided less than 48 hours before the meeting. The attached table lists the meeting dates, topics and dates of issue. An asterisk marks each of the eight occasions.

Training for Success: Contract Providers

Mr P Ramsey asked the Minister for Employment and Learning what discussions his Department has had with Training for Success contract providers in relation to the continuation of their contracts post March 2012.

(AQW 9988/11-15)

Dr Farry: To ensure that training provision under Training for Success and Apprenticeships NI continues to be in place, my Department has written to all existing training suppliers offering an extension to their current contract for a short period after 31 March 2012.

In terms of the new training provision my Department, via the Central Procurement Directorate, issued Intention to Award letters to all successful tenderers on 2 April 2012. It is my Department's intention to have the new provision in place as soon as possible, in line with the principles and procedures of public procurement.

Further Education Facilities: Safeguarding Procedures

Lord Morrow asked the Minister for Employment and Learning whether he has ordered a review of the relevant procedures in further education facilities to avoid a recurrence of the issues surrounding Stuart Townsend's attendance at Belfast Metropolitan College and the allegations made at the North West College.

(AQW 10022/11-15)

Dr Farry: My officials have requested a sector-wide policy, in respect of safeguarding at the six further education colleges. This will ensure that coherent, joined-up procedures are in place, to avoid any recurrence of this situation.

Queen's University Belfast and Stranmillis University College: Proposed Merger

Lord Morrow asked the Minister for Employment and Learning whether he will seek clarification from the Chair of the Board of Governors of Stranmillis University College on his statement that the college was "in a dire situation, on a life support machine" and whether he was referring to the College's long-term future or the proposed merger with Queen's University, Belfast.

(AQW 10023/11-15)

Dr Farry: I will not be seeking any clarification on the statements made in November 2011 by the Chair of the Governing Body of Stranmillis University College.

Training for Success: Independent Assessors

Mr Weir asked the Minister for Employment and Learning who were the independent assessors for his Department's application to the European Social Fund Programme for the Training for Success initiative; and how they were appointed.

(AQW 10031/11-15)

Dr Farry: The independent assessors appointed to undertake the selection process for Priority 1 of the Northern Ireland European Social Fund (NIESF) Programme, 2007-2013 (the Government Managed Programme Application for the Training for Success Programme administered by my Department's Training Programmes Branch) were FPM Consultants. They were appointed by single Tender.

Training for Success: European Social Fund Allocation

Mr Weir asked the Minister for Employment and Learning how much of the European Social Fund allocation has been spent to date on the Training for Success initiative; and how much is indicated on the spend database.

(AQW 10032/11-15)

Dr Farry: The Northern Ireland ESF Managing Authority has a letter of Offer with Training Programmes Branch, worth £8.67m, for the Programme Led Apprentices project. This amount, once vouched, verified and claimed in keeping with EU regulations will be recorded on the spend database in due course and no slippage is currently expected.

Training for Success: Letters of Offer

Mr Weir asked the Minister for Employment and Learning, in relation to his Department's Training for Success initiative and the European Social Fund, whether there is an opportunity to amend the letter of offer allocation to the Training for Success initiative should slippage be identified; and whether other projects are eligible to bid should slippage occur.

(AQW 10033/11-15)

Dr Farry: The regulations applying to the Northern Ireland European Social Fund Programme (NIESF), 2007 -2013 allow for the amendment of all Letters of Offer, including the offer to the Training for Success Programme. It is not anticipated that slippage will occur in expenditure committed to the Training for Success Programme and there are no plans to hold further competitions for funding over the remaining duration of the NIESF Programme 2007-2013.

Freedom of Information Act: Review

Mr Allister asked the Minister for Employment and Learning to detail his Department's position in relation to the submission made by the Civil Service to the Westminster Justice Committee's review of the Freedom of Information Act.

(AQW 10040/11-15)

Dr Farry: My Department provided input to the NICS submission underlining that, where the Freedom of Information Act is used appropriately, it serves a useful purpose. The Department for Employment and Learning's input raised a number of points, however, where it felt that the operation of the Act could be improved. These included: a suggestion that fees provisions be amended to include time spent analysing information before release, and to allow the aggregation of costs to individual departments in responding to 'round robin requests'. In addition, my Department's response proposed that the definition and criteria around both the issue of vexatious requests and the application of the section 35 exemption be reviewed.

I continue to support Freedom of Information and believe that when used properly it is an important tool in achieving accountability and transparency in government.

North West Regional College: Enrolments

Mr P Ramsey asked the Minister for Employment and Learning to detail the enrolment figures for the North West Regional College for the (i) 2007/08; (ii) 2008/09; (iii) 2009/10; and (iv) 2010/11 academic years, broken down by (a) curriculum area; and (b) school.

(AQW 10068/11-15)

Dr Farry: The number of professional and technical enrolments at the North West Regional College by Subject Area from 2007/08 to 2010/11 is detailed in Annex A. The Department does not hold enrolment data by school within Further Education Colleges, and so I am not in a position to provide this information.

- 1 Latest validated data held by my Department pertains to the 2010/11 academic year.
- 2 Professional and technical provision relates to those courses which have a qualification aim attached.
- 3 Recreational provision is not included in the above table.
- 4 It is important to note that whilst ICT Essential Skills provision was included in the answer to AQW 10069/11-15 (which requested information on ICT enrolments by Levels 0, 1 and 2) that Essential Skills ICT provision in the above table is included under the Subject Area 'Education and Training'.

North West Regional College: ICT Enrolments

Mr P Ramsey asked the Minister for Employment and Learning to detail the enrolment figures in ICT/Computing Levels (i) 0; (ii) 1; and (iii) 2 in the North West Regional College for the (a) 2007/08; (b) 2008/09; (c) 2009/10; and (d) 2010/11 academic years. (AQW 10069/11-15)

Dr Farry: The number of ICT professional and technical enrolments for levels 0, 1 and 2 under the Subject Area ICT as well as those for ICT in Essential Skills at the North West Regional College from 2007/08 to 2010/11 is detailed in Annex A.

European Social Fund: Eligibility

Mr Weir asked the Minister for Employment and Learning whether applications to the European Social Fund Programme were open only to agencies associated with his Department. (AQW 10080/11-15)

Dr Farry: No. Applications to the European Social Fund were open to all organisations who met the regulatory requirements of the Northern Ireland ESF Operational Programme Document.

European Social Fund: Nil Spend Projects

Mr Weir asked the Minister for Employment and Learning which projects, awarded funding under the European Social Fund Programme, currently have a nil spend on the EU spend database; and how this will impact on the departmental N+2 target and expenditure figures.

(AQW 10098/11-15)

Dr Farry: A total of three projects offered funding under the Northern Ireland European Social Fund Programme, 2007-2013 have not yet submitted claims and have not yet recorded spend on the European Programmes database system. All three projects have commenced and incurred expenditure that will be claimed from the programme and reimbursed, subject to vouching and verification of regulatory eligibility. The projects are anticipated to spend during the current year and to contribute to the achievement of the N+2 expenditure target for 2012.

European Social Fund: N+2 Expenditure Targets

Mr Weir asked the Minister for Employment and Learning what remedial action plan his Department has in place to meet the N+2 targets in cases where an underspend is anticipated.

(AQW 10099/11-15)

Dr Farry: The Department has achieved all N+2 expenditure targets since the commencement of the Northern Ireland European Social Fund Programme, 2007-2013 and is satisfied that sufficient funding has been committed to meet future N+2 targets.

European Social Fund: Match Funding

Mr Weir asked the Minister for Employment and Learning whether any of his Department's match funding for the European Social Fund Programme has been surrendered to the Executive.

(AQW 10100/11-15)

Dr Farry: In 2008/09 and 2009/10 £813k and £300k respectively of the Department's 25% contribution to the Northern Ireland Social Fund (NIESF) was surrendered to DFP as part of the monitoring round process. No ESF funding was lost as a result of these easements.

European Social Fund: Recommitted Funding

Mr Weir asked the Minister for Employment and Learning whether any of the funding allocated from the European Social Fund Programme has been recommitted and surrendered to the EU.

(AQW 10106/11-15)

Dr Farry: None of the funding €165.7 million allocated to the Northern Ireland European Social Fund Programme, 2007-2013 has been recommitted or returned to the European Commission.

CPR: Staff Training

Mr Frew asked the Minister for Employment and Learning what strategy is in place to train departmental staff in Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation.

(AQW 10161/11-15)

Dr Farry: The Department is committed to maintaining a safe and healthy working environment and has published a Strategy for Workplace Health and Safety (2011- 2014). In line with Health & Safety regulations the Department actively trains designated first aiders in the skills they need to carry out this role. First Aid training includes current instruction in administering Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation.

St Mary's University College: Proposed Merger

Lord Morrow asked the Minister for Employment and Learning, pursuant to AQW 9638/11-15, (i) whether St Mary's University College, Belfast, is part of the proposed merger; (ii) whether a public consultation on its inclusion has been completed or will be completed; and (iii) how many of its staff or members of the Board of Governors have been detailed with pursuing a proposed merger.

(AQW 10232/11-15)

Dr Farry: As outlined during my statement in the Assembly, the proposals put forward by Stranmillis University College did not include merger with St Mary's University College Belfast. The second stage of the study of the teacher education infrastructure in Northern Ireland will examine the options for a more shared and integrated system for the delivery and funding of teacher education.

European Social Fund: Procedures

Mr Weir asked the Minister for Employment and Learning to outline the (i) departmental procedures; and (ii) EU guidance in relation to the distribution of allocated funds from the European Social Fund when projects do not accept the funding or withdraw from the European Social Fund Programme.

(AQW 10250/11-15)

Dr Farry: The procedures for the application, distribution and allocation of funding under the NIESF Programme were agreed by the ESF Monitoring Committee, EU Commission and the NI Executive and are set out in the Operational Manual. The distribution and allocation of ESF funding is subject to ongoing review by the Managing Authority to take account of spending across the current 82 projects in the second call and to ensure that we meet our N+2 targets.

European Social Fund: Surrendered Moneys

Mr Weir asked the Minister for Employment and Learning to detail the total level of funding allocated but not accepted in the second round of the European Social Fund Programme.

(AQW 10251/11-15)

Dr Farry: A total of £1,270,337 ESF and DEL funding was allocated under the second call of the NIESF Programme to 2 organisations that subsequently withdrew from the Programme.

European Social Fund: Successful Projects

Mr Weir asked the Minister for Employment and Learning, in relation to the second round of the European Social Fund Programme, (i) how many projects were scored as successful by the assessment team, but were not allocated funding due to oversubscription; and (ii) the total value of the unallocated funding for the successful but unfunded projects.

(AQW 10252/11-15)

Dr Farry: In the second round of the European Social Fund Programme a total of 17 projects were scored as successful but not allocated funding, the total eligible value of the ESF and DEL funding sought was £ 9,744,700.

European Social Fund: Allocation Mechanism

Mr Weir asked the Minister for Employment and Learning what mechanism was used to allocate the funds identified in his Department's value for money exercise on the European Social Fund Programme.

(AQW 10300/11-15)

Dr Farry: The Department carried out an affordability exercise on the second call for funding under the Northern Ireland European Social Fund. In addition all 83 projects, selected for reduced funding of 75% had to achieve a satisfactory economic appraisal rating determined against DFP standards.

The second call was significantly over-subscribed in terms of both the number of applications received and the funding sought. A total of 112 applications were received under the second call compared with 86 for the first call, an increase of over 30%.

The total value of ESF funding sought amounted to almost £50 million, against an ESF budget of £30 million over a three-year period. The Department applied a cut – off point of 134 marks to ensure that available funds were distributed to as many projects as possible i.e. fund the greatest number of projects, but at a reduced level that would still be feasible for the projects.

This arrangement resulted in a much greater number of projects funded than would have been the case. Had all top scoring projects been allocated the full amount bid for, only 49 projects would have been supported in the second call.

European Social Fund: Value for Money

Mr Weir asked the Minister for Employment and Learning whether his Department's instruction, that projects successful in the European Social Fund Programme required a 25 percent value for money reduction in costs, was implemented across all the projects; and if not, what are the reasons for any inconsistency.

(AQW 10301/11-15)

Dr Farry: I can confirm that all successful projects in the second call of the NIESF Programme were required to make a 25% reduction to their costs without exception.

Step Ahead Initiative

Mr P Ramsey asked the Minister for Employment and Learning whether he plans to recommence the Step Ahead initiative before the dissolution of his Department.

(AQW 10308/11-15)

Dr Farry: I am considering making a bid in the June monitoring round for additional resources. If successful this will allow me to introduce a targeted Step Ahead initiative.

Department of Enterprise, Trade and Investment

Public Procurement in Northern Ireland: Inquiry Report

Mr B McCrea asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment in relation to paragraph 258 of the Report on the Inquiry into Public Procurement in Northern Ireland about her Department's lead responsibility in terms of the small business and social economy sectors, what guidance is available to a panel assessing a tender if it is unsure about any element of an application or the applicant's ability to meet the criteria.

(AQW 8793/11-15)

Mrs Foster (The Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment): The Central Procurement Directorate (CPD) has published two guidance notes in relation to the selection and assessment of tenders. They are "The Selection and Pre-qualification of Contractors" (Procurement Guidance Note 04/10) and "The Procedures and Principles for the Evaluation of Tenders" (Procurement Guidance Note 02/09).

The guidance sets out a clearly defined process which must be followed by evaluation panels to ensure consistency of approach, transparency and equality of treatment. Tender evaluation panels are required to assess each tender on the basis of the information supplied.

In line with the guidance the Chair of the assessment panel may seek clarification via the Centre of Procurement Expertise (CoPE) in relation to any element of the application on behalf of panel members, if required. In so doing CoPEs ensure that other applicants are not placed at a disadvantage.

Energy Efficiency: Small and Medium-sized Enterprises

Mr Flanagan asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment what support her Department provides to small and medium-sized enterprises that wish to make their properties more energy efficient.

(AQW 9688/11-15)

Mrs Foster: Invest NI supports Northern Ireland businesses (including SMEs) to improve their competitiveness, productivity and sustainability by delivering a range of measures to identify and achieve cost savings in the consumption of water, energy and raw materials. The degree of support will depend on the savings that are likely to be achieved in any particular business.

As well as advice and information delivered through Invest NI's website – www.investni.com and through www.nibusinessinfo.co.uk Invest NI can provide tailored support to appropriate businesses to assess energy, water and materials use with a view to identifying and prioritising projects that will reduce the cost of resource consumption.

Further technical expertise and support can also be offered to help individual business take forward projects and realise cost savings.

Specifically in relation to energy saving projects Invest NI also provides the funding for interest free, energy efficiency loans for businesses which are delivered by the Carbon Trust. This funding option offers unsecured business loans from £3k to £400k over four years to help Northern Ireland businesses install energy saving equipment. The size of loans depends on the energy saving potential of any particular project.

Business Start-ups

Mrs Overend asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment, pursuant to AQW 9229/11-15, to give a breakdown by constituency of the 5,321 businesses started and the circa 4,257 of these which survived for more than 12 months.

(AQW 9700/11-15)

Mrs Foster: Invest NI does hold the data necessary to determine the exact location of those new business starts which continued to trade after one year.

In order to provide an approximate estimate of the total number of new business starts that survive beyond the first year, a formula is applied. This formula was developed by KPMG during a previous evaluation of the Enterprise Development Programme (formerly the Start a Business Programme) and is considered to be appropriate.

The formula is based on the number of approvals that were estimated to proceed to starting a business (68%) and the number that were then estimated to survive for more than 1 year (80%).

Tourism: Greyhound Industry

Mr Dallat asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment what financial assistance is available to the greyhound industry to promote its development in relation to tourism and job creation.

(AQW 9770/11-15)

Mrs Foster: The Northern Ireland Tourist Board offers financial assistance to tourism and events projects through the Tourism Development Scheme and the Tourism Events Fund.

Applications are invited from those who require assistance and who meet the criteria of the application process.

The criteria for each call for applications is aligned to identified tourism priorities, currently based on the draft Tourism Strategy for Northern Ireland to 2020.

No application for funding was received from the Greyhound Industry for either of these funding streams.

There is no current funding to the greyhound industry from DETI or its other Non Departmental Public Bodies.

Tourist Board: Capital Investment

Mr Flanagan asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment to detail the amount of capital investment by the Tourist Board in each council area in each of the last five years.

(AQW 9785/11-15)

Mrs Foster: The total amount of financial assistance paid to tourism related businesses by the Northern Ireland Tourist Board in each of the last five financial years is broken down in the table attached at Annex A.

Annex A

Breakdown of capital investment for District Council areas by financial year.

| District Council Area | 2006/07            | 2007/08              | 2008/09              | 2009/10               | 2010/11               | Total                 |

Invest NI: Advertising Spend

Mr Flanagan asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment (i) how much InvestNI has spent on advertising in each month of the current financial year; (ii) how much of this spend was planned; and (iii) how much was spent to use up the budget.
(AQW 9786/11-15)

Mrs Foster:

(i) How much Invest NI has spent on advertising in each month of the current financial year.

In the current financial year, Invest Northern Ireland (Invest NI) has been responsible for delivering 11 separate advertising campaigns, covering a broad range of activities to support delivery of corporate targets and ensure that individuals and businesses are aware of relevant support available from Invest NI.

Monthly advertising expenditure for these campaigns, inclusive of VAT, media rebate and advertising levies, is as follows:

FY 2011-12 Q1 and Q2

(ii) How much of this spend was planned.

All advertising expenditure associated with Invest NI campaigns is planned and aligned to Corporate Plan priorities and annual Operating Plan targets.

(iii) How much was spent to use up the budget.

All advertising expenditure associated with Invest NI campaign is covered by the organisation's annual, existing baseline budget. None of Invest NI's advertising expenditure was spent to use up its annual budget.

Tourism: Hurling

Mr McKay asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment what consideration she has given to making hurling part of the north coast's tourism product, involving clubs such as Loughgiel Shamrocks.

(AQW 9799/11-15)

Mrs Foster: My department through the work of the Northern Ireland Tourist Board (NITB) has already identified hurling as an integral part of the tourism product in the north coast area. NITB has encouraged the development of Scullion Hurls as a visitor attraction and supported their aspiration to become part of the prestigious Économusée network which celebrates and promotes the work of artisan workers across Canada and Northern Europe. Phase 1 of the development is due to open in July 2012.

If Loughgiel Shamrocks wish to engage in tourism there are plenty of opportunities for them to do so. They need to engage at a local level and get involved in the destination planning for the Causeway Coast and Glens region through their local council, Ballymoney Borough Council.

Business Improvement Districts: Proposals

Mr Copeland asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment for her assessment of the opportunities that would be afforded to local businesses as a result of the introduction of Business Improvement Districts; and what discussions her officials have had with the Department for Social Development with a view to progressing its proposals.

(AQW 9832/11-15)

Mrs Foster: Vibrant town and city centres create the incentive for the further development of tourism by offering more opportunities for visitors to spend in shops, restaurants, pubs and other attractions. In turn, this will support business growth.

I welcome the establishment of Business Improvement Districts with their potential to help Northern Ireland's high streets to reposition themselves to provide attractive vibrant environments which add value to the overall consumer experience.

DSD officials are keeping me informed as the primary legislation is taken forward and will be seeking their input as the secondary legislation and guidance are developed. I am keen to support DSD to ensure the potential of this important enabling legislation is realised..

Titanic Festival

Mr Flanagan asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment to detail, for each of the last five years, (i) the funding that has been allocated by the Tourist Board to promote the Titanic Building and festival; and (ii) the funding that has been provided to each organisation to carry adverts highlighting the Titanic Building and festival.

(AQW 9844/11-15)

Mrs Foster: NI 2012 is a major opportunity to leverage from a series of significant events, including the Titanic Festival, and anniversaries to create a platform which will reposition Northern Ireland as a positive place to live, work, invest, study and visit.

The campaign supporting the ni2012 programme has been developed to maximise investment efficiencies and impact effectiveness across TV, Radio, Outdoor, Print, and Digital advertising. As a key focal point for the Titanic Festival, the Titanic Belfast building is one of a number of visual references being used in the current campaign. To date the NITB has allocated £402,508 to promote the Titanic Festival in both the Northern Ireland and Republic Of Ireland marketplaces.

Regarding the previous five years, the NITB has not developed campaigns featuring or promoting the Titanic Belfast building and has not provided funding for external organisations to develop advertising for the Titanic Building or Festival.

Energy Costs

Mrs Dobson asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment, pursuant to AQW 9158/11-15, what action her Department is taking to assist new companies in their decision to invest in Northern Ireland, and to ensure that high energy costs do not become a negative factor in their decision to do so.

(AQW 9957/11-15)

Mrs Foster: Invest NI has a successful record in attracting high quality inward investment with a proposition that is based on a number of factors, including its proximity to customers, cultural compatibility, cost competitiveness, a highly educated, skilled, English speaking workforce and a robust infrastructure. Invest NI targets investment in sectors that play to these strengths, including financial services, business services and ICT/software. Energy costs are not a significant factor in the investment decisions of companies operating in these sectors.

The Strategic Energy Framework 2010 recognises the impact that high energy costs have on the local business economy and commits to developing a more competitive energy market across Northern Ireland.

From my previous answer to AQW 9158/11-15, you will be aware that although my Department does not set electricity and gas tariffs, it works closely with the Utility Regulator to develop market conditions to put downward pressure on prices. Engagement with the Utility Regulator includes discussions and meetings around the review of regulated energy tariffs, and in relation to price controls, to ensure that retail energy costs are kept as low as possible.

All energy consumers are encouraged to seek out the best deals available from competing supply companies, and business customers are encouraged to use the energy buyers' guides which have been produced by the Utility Regulator and Manufacturing NI.

Northern Ireland businesses can also access capital support for investment in energy saving projects through the Invest NI funded, interest-free, Energy Efficiency Loan Fund managed by Carbon Trust as well as through the UK-wide finance scheme provided by Carbon Trust Implementation Services and Siemens Financial Services.

My Department, along with Invest NI, is considering if direct capital support beyond what is currently available can be provided to existing high energy users within the limits of the EU's State Aid Regulations. Revenue support for deployment of renewable energy technologies is provided through the existing NI Renewable Obligation Certificates (NIROC) regime managed by my Department.

In addition, the UK Government is currently taking steps to establish the "Green Investment Bank" which may be able to assist businesses take steps to reduce the cost of energy consumption in future.

CPR: Staff Training

Mr Frew asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment what strategy is in place to train departmental staff in Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation.

(AQW 10015/11-15)

Mrs Foster: The Department follows Health and Safety guidance to ensure that there is an adequate number of certified First Aiders operating across all locations. The Department has currently 19 staff trained in First Aid, including Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation, and has systems in place to ensure this training is updated by the training provider every three years.

Tourism Ireland: Airport Funding

Mr McCarthy asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment, pursuant to AQO 1595/11-15, (i) how much of the £1 million invested in Tourism Ireland is directed towards Belfast International Airport; and (ii) what mechanisms are in place to monitor the delivery of Tourism Ireland funding to ensure that the investment is sufficiently proportionate between Northern Ireland's international airport and the Republic of Ireland's international airports.

(AQW 10017/11-15)

Mrs Foster: Tourism Ireland cannot specify how much of its £1 million co-operative marketing investment has been allocated to Belfast International Airport (BIA), as this information is commercially sensitive. However, I can confirm that a number of airlines which operate services from BIA are participating in the initiative. These are Aer Lingus, easyJet, Jet2 and United.

The £1million co-operative marketing initiative relates to air and sea carriers which operate out of Northern Ireland's airports and ports. No element of this funding has been used to support the marketing activities of carriers which operate out of airports and ports in the Republic of Ireland.

Papers for Assembly Committees

Mr McKay asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment to detail all occasions in the last 12 months when her Department has made a presentation to an Assembly committee and provided papers pertaining to that presentation to the committee less than 48 hours beforehand.

(AQW 10035/11-15)

Mrs Foster: The details are contained in the table below:

Invest NI: Funding in North Antrim

Mr McKay asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment how much funding InvestNI has allocated to the North Antrim area in each of the last three years; and to list the businesses that have received funding.

(AQW 10089/11-15)

Mrs Foster: Table 1 shows the amount of assistance, or funding, that Invest NI has offered to companies in the North Antrim Parliamentary Constituency Area (PCA) in each of the last three financial years.

Table 1: Invest NI Assistance Offered in North Antrim PCA (2008-09 to 2010-11)

Capital/Revenue Costs: Departmental Spend

Mr Copeland asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment for an estimate of the annual additional cost to her Department of providing its services in our divided society, broken down by (i) capital; and (ii) revenue costs.

(AQW 10092/11-15)

Mrs Foster: Due to the number of variables involved, it is not possible for the Department of Enterprise, Trade and Investment to calculate the annual additional cost of service delivery.

Tourism Ireland: Promotion of Northern Ireland

Mr Kinahan asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment what proportion of the Tourism Ireland budget is spent specifically on promoting Northern Ireland.

(AQW 10139/11-15)

Mrs Foster: DETI has allocated £14.85million to Tourism Ireland for 2012 to promote Northern Ireland as part of the island of Ireland overseas. Tourism Ireland's total budget for 2012 is £54.57million*. Tourism Ireland features Northern Ireland prominently as part of its extensive global destination marketing programme.

DETI has also provided an additional £4.7million to boost Tourism Ireland's ni2012 specific promotional activity for Northern Ireland overseas.

* €62.727million converted at €1:0.87p as per Tourism Ireland 2012 Business Plan

Belfast International Airport

Mr Kinahan asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment what initiatives and support her Department has provided to Belfast International Airport in order to attract new airlines to use the airport.

(AQW 10141/11-15)

Mrs Foster: There are a number of ways in which my Department works with Belfast International Airport (BIA). For example, BIA and airlines which operate services from the airport, are participating in a Tourism Ireland Northern Ireland Access Initiative aimed at promoting ease of access, competitive fares and the great range of festivals and events taking place in Northern Ireland as part of ni2012. BIA based airlines participating in the initiative are Aer Lingus, easyJet, Jet2 and United. Another example of co-operation with BIA is Tourism Ireland's continued work with the airport in case-making for the restoration of routes such as a direct service from Toronto to Belfast.

My Department has also been working with BIA to build on the reduction in the rate of Air Passenger Duty (APD) applied to direct long haul flights operating in Band B. This has sent a very positive message to long haul airlines that Northern Ireland is a viable option for long haul business. The Programme for Government has reinforced this message by setting an objective to eliminate the duty applied to direct long haul flights once APD is devolved.

Tourism: Irish Open

Mr Campbell asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment, given the expected influx of visitors for the Irish Open Golf Tournament at Portrush, what additional action is being taken to maximise business and tourism potential before, during and after the competition.

(AQW 10184/11-15)

Mrs Foster: The Northern Ireland Tourist Board (NITB), Tourism Ireland and Invest NI are all working to maximise the opportunities presented by the Irish Open for tourism and business.

In April 2012 NITB will deliver the 'Our Time to T-Off' Irish Open Information Day in the North Coast area aimed at local frontline tourism industry. In addition, a bespoke World Host Customer service training course will be rolled out to front line industry staff over the coming months in partnership with the Northern Regional College, People 1st and Department of Employment and Learning.

NITB is also working closely with the European tour and other stakeholders to ensure that all visitor information messages are sent out via social media and web channels before during and after the Irish Open event.

Tourism Ireland, as part of its "Home of Champions" golf campaign, is urging overseas golf enthusiasts to come and attend the Irish Open and to extend their trip to try out some of our other world class courses.

A specific campaign for GB has been developed to promote the Irish Open and will include a series of advertisements and advertorials promoting a number of special offers to Northern Ireland around the Irish Open on a new website www.discoverireland.com/irishopen.

In the North American market, Tourism Ireland's new 60-second Northern Ireland golf ad kicked off on the Golf Channel in February, airing to millions of golf enthusiasts. Tourism Ireland has arranged three separate Golf Channel special half-hour programmes on Rory McIlroy, Graeme McDowell and Darren Clarke which are each airing three times this spring. Tourism Ireland's media event at the US Masters in Augusta in April will include a special focus on the Irish Open; and key American golf journalists will be invited by Tourism Ireland to visit Northern Ireland in June.

Invest NI is also working alongside NITB and Tourism Ireland on a series of events around the Irish Open that will maximise the potential business opportunities arising from the tournament. The events will help to build and reinforce relationships with key decision makers within companies who are considering investing in Northern Ireland.

Belfast International Airport: Police Presence

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment, in light of the importance of tourist confidence, what discussions she has had with Belfast International Airport concerning its proposal to reduce the police presence at the airport. (AQW 10186/11-15)

Mrs Foster: The Airport Constabulary is a private service recruited and paid for by the owners of Belfast International Airport and is independent of Government. I will be meeting with the airport regarding the proposed reduction in the level of Airport Constabulary given the importance of tourism to the economy.

Tourism: Irish Open

Mr McKay asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment what action is being taken to encourage visitors to the Irish Open to stay in accommodation in the Ballycastle area. (AQW 10222/11-15)

Mrs Foster: The Northern Ireland Tourist Board's (NITB) remit is to promote the whole of Northern Ireland to both the domestic and Republic of Ireland markets with a view to increasing visitor numbers and spend.

As one of the key events in the ni2012 programme the Irish Open will be promoted through a bespoke campaign to maximise participation and visitor numbers for the event. The campaign will be developed in conjunction with regional tourism partners, promoting accommodation offers provided across the north coast.

Renewable Heat Incentive: Introduction

Mr Givan asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment for an update on the proposed Northern Ireland Renewable Heat Incentive; and when it will be introduced. (AQW 10239/11-15)

Mrs Foster: Following the consultation last year on proposals, my Department has been undertaking further analysis on the potential design of the RHI, including a re-assessment of tariff levels, eligible technologies and banding.

This work has been completed and the design of the RHI scheme is being finalised and all necessary approvals are being sought. This includes the necessary State Aid approval, without which the scheme cannot be introduced. The Department is in contact with Brussels on this matter, while the timing of the approval is outside of our control, I would be hopeful that this would be obtained by June. I will therefore provide further information on the launch of the scheme as soon as all approvals are in place.

Our Time, Our Place: 'Irish News' Funding

Mr Frew asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment how much money the Irish News has received to market NI 2012 'Our time, Our Place'. (AQW 10259/11-15)

Mrs Foster: To date the Northern Ireland Tourist Board (NITB) has invested £832,000 in promoting the ni2012: Our Time, Our Place campaign. Of this £25,000 has been specifically channelled through the Irish News.

Fuel: Driver Strike

Mr Eastwood asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment, in light of recent events in England regarding the striking of fuel tanker drivers, what contingency plans are in place to secure the supply, storage and distribution of fuel. (AQW 10262/11-15)

Mrs Foster: The Department has a Major Emergency Response Plan in place if a national or regional disruption of oil, electricity, gas and other fuels affects Northern Ireland. It would undertake a lead role for fuel supplies under the Northern Ireland Civil Contingencies Framework, coordinated by the Office of First Minister and deputy First Minister.

Geological Survey of Northern Ireland

Mr Agnew asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment to detail (i) how the Geological Survey of Northern Ireland (GSNI) is constituted; and (ii) whether there is a legal separation between the GSNI and her Department or whether they are the same entity.

(AQW 10270/11-15)

Mrs Foster: The Geological Survey of Northern Ireland (GSNI) provides advice to DETI on matters relating to geological mapping, assessment of mineral and energy resources and licensing of prospecting activities. It is currently staffed by 15 geologists and professionals seconded to DETI by the British Geological Survey, a component part of the Natural Environment Research Council.

GSNI is established in accordance with The Minerals (Miscellaneous Provisions) Act, 1959, which states that: 'The Ministry of Commerce [now DETI] shall be the Ministry responsible for the establishment of the Geological Survey and for the administration of all matters relating thereto'.

Social Tariffs: Energy Service Providers

Mr McGlone asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment what discussions have taken place regarding the introduction of a social tariff for energy service providers.

(AQW 10275/11-15)

Mrs Foster: I am already on record as stating that the introduction of social tariffs would be extremely complex and unlikely to solve the hardships caused by fuel poverty. As such, I have had no recent discussions regarding the introduction of social tariffs and have no plans to introduce social tariffs at this time.

Gas Extraction

Mr Agnew asked the Minister of Enterprise, Trade and Investment to detail the revenue streams that will flow to the Executive directly from any company extracting gas onshore.

(AQW 10330/11-15)

Mrs Foster: I would refer the Member to the reply I gave to AQW 3910/11-15.

Department of the Environment

Schools: Recyclable Waste

Mr Agnew asked the Minister of the Environment to detail the rate charged by each local council for the collection of recyclable waste from schools.

(AQW 2129/11-15)

Mr Attwood (The Minister of the Environment): It is at the discretion of councils whether to charge for collection of recyclable waste from schools or to provide this service free of charge.

Decisions on the collection of waste are a matter for district councils as set out in The Waste and Contaminated Land (Northern Ireland) Order 1997.

A breakdown of the charges levied by council area is attached for your information. At present 14 councils provide collections from schools free of charge.

Taxi Licences: Eligibility

Mr Easton asked the Minister of the Environment whether people with criminal convictions are eligible to apply for a taxi licence. (AQW 6353/11-15)

Mr Attwood: Applicants with criminal convictions are eligible to apply for taxi licences. However, the Department, in assessing such applications through a robust process of checking, is required to assess whether an applicant can be considered to be a fit and proper person to hold a taxi licence, and in practice seeks to maintain a balance between the need to ensure the safety of the public and the need to allow for the rehabilitation of offenders. I have asked officials to advise if fuller guidance or further legislation is required on this issue. In the meantime I attach an Annex outlining the current criteria for assessment. I accept that there is a need for clarity and certainty on this issue.

Criteria for the Licensing of PSV Drivers and Operators

Each individual's case will be considered on its merits and the Department's objective is always to ensure that the travelling public are not subjected to unnecessary risk from taxi drivers or operators. The basic statutory requirement placed on the Department of being satisfied that an individual is a "fit and proper person" to hold a taxi licence is best summarised by asking the question "would one be happy to have a member of one's family travel in a vehicle driven or operated by the particular individual".

Each individual must satisfy the relevant Licensing Officer that they are of good character and their previous convictions, if any, provide a good indication of an individual's mental or moral nature, tendency towards violence, dishonesty, or to other unacceptable conduct, together with their likely attitude towards the high level of responsibility placed on, and expected of, each taxi driver or operator. In assessing the merits of each individual's case their convictions, if any, will be taken at face value with the penalty imposed providing an indication as to the seriousness with which the Court viewed a particular offence.

Insofar as PSV licensing is concerned an individual's convictions are graded into "serious" or "minor" categories depending on the nature of the conviction. The brief guide set out below provides some examples of the typical classification given to particular offences:

| Serious Convictions |   | Minor Convictions   |
|----------------------------|---|--|
| *                          | Murder or Manslaughter  | Excess Speed   |
|                            | Any Alcohol related Driving offence   | Careless or Inconsiderate Driving                                      |
| *                          | Any offence involving Violence such as Wounding or Assault, Threats to Kill, Robbery, Criminal Damage or Harassment | Other Minor breaches of the Road Traffic and other related legislation |
| *                          | Any Public Order offence  | Minor breaches of the Taxi Licence legislation                         |
| *                          | Any Sexual offence such as Rape, Gross Indecency, Indecent Assault, Indecent Behaviour                              | Insurance offences   |
| *                          | Any Dishonesty offence such as Burglary, Theft, Handling, Fraud or State benefit related offences                   | Minor State Benefit related offences                                   |
| *                          | Any Drugs related offence   |  |
| *                          | Any Arms or Explosive offence   |  |

| Serious Convictions |   | Minor Convictions |
|----------------------------|---|--------------------------|
| *                          | Any Terrorist related offence such as membership of a proscribed organisation   |                          |
| *                          | Any serious driving offence such as Causing Death by Dangerous Driving or Dangerous Driving                                 |                          |
|                            | Regular and repeated minor offending  |                          |
|                            | Any series of motoring or other offences such as to reveal a low level of responsibility                                    |                          |
| *                          | Particular consideration would apply where offences of this nature are involved and a longer period than 3 years may apply. |                          |

New Applicants

Individuals applying for PSV licences are generally expected to have a clear record for at least 3 years in the case of a “serious” conviction and 12 months for “minor” convictions. In respect of “serious” convictions the Department, in the exercise of its discretion, when assessing the merits of each individual case, may require a much longer clear period than 3 years from the date of an individual’s last conviction, release from prison, or entitlement to an ordinary driving licence, for the individual to demonstrate that they are now a “fit and proper person” to hold a taxi licence. This would almost inevitably be so where the most serious of convictions are involved such as murder or serious sexual offences. Similarly, the Department may require a longer clear period than 12 months for a “minor” conviction. Equally, the Department may require a shorter period than 3 years or 12 months depending on the merits of each individual’s case. Further, in the exercise of the Department’s discretion, some “minor” convictions may be allowed subject to a Warning Letter being issued to the individual.

Offences committed by an individual during the Currency of a Licence

The above principles apply equally to convictions occurring during the currency of a licence that will result in the licence being suspended for the appropriate period or revoked entirely. Again, the Department may allow some “minor” convictions during the currency of a licence subject to a Warning Letter being issued. It will be a relevant consideration for the Department in reaching its decision as to whether a particular offence was committed while driving a Public Service Vehicle. Where an ordinary driving licence has been suspended by the Courts consideration will be given to whether the Court has restricted the suspension to certain vehicles for an employment related reason.

Failure to Declare Convictions to the Department

Failure by an individual to declare all convictions on an application, of whatever type, is taken seriously and is seen as an attempt to mislead the Department and obtain a licence by misrepresentation. In the case of “minor” convictions individuals will generally be given a second opportunity to declare their convictions although this will not preclude the Department from refusing, suspending or revoking a licence as appropriate because of the nature of the conviction or from the Department viewing the failure to declare as an attempt to mislead and a reason in itself for refusal, suspension, or revocation. For “serious” convictions the individual’s failure to declare will generally be taken as another reason to refuse an application, or suspend or revoke a current licence as appropriate.

Other Reasons for the Suspension or Revocation of a Current Licence

It should also be noted that Regulations provide for suspension or revocation of a licence in any of the following circumstances:

- a If the licence has been obtained by misrepresentation
- b If an individual fails to comply with any of the conditions upon which the licence has been granted
- c If the individual has been convicted of an offence under the legislation or any regulations made there under
- d If the individual, for any medical reason is unable to exercise his calling without risk to the public
- e If the individual by his conduct demonstrates that they are not a fit and proper person to hold a licence

Decision Making Process in respect of Taxi Licence Applications for Applicants with convictions

- 1 Consider each individual case on its own merits
- 2 Consider the contents of the Applicant’s application form
- 3 Consider any representations made by the Applicant or any other person on his behalf
- 4 Compare and contrast the Applicant’s application form against the PV8 obtained from the CRO
- 5 Apply the Guidelines in relation to the Applicant’s convictions and his disclosure of same
- 6 Decide whether the conviction/s of the Applicant, if any, should be classed as serious or minor
- 7 Apply the appropriate general period of rehabilitation under the Guidelines to the Applicant’s case

- 8 In making the assessment required by statute as to whether the specific Applicant is a "fit and proper person" to hold a taxi licence, consider whether there is any reason to depart from the Guidelines in the specific case by requiring the Applicant to undergo a shorter or longer rehabilitation period than would normally be the case under the Guidelines.
- 9 Make the decision and inform the Applicant in the normal way always stating the reason for the refusal and, if applicable at the time of the decision, the time when the Department will return the licence if suspended.
10. Be prepared to provide fuller reasons by reference to the Criteria etc. if asked by the Applicant or his legal representative.

Dipped Headlights

Mr Flanagan asked the Minister of the Environment whether his Department has considered requiring drivers to drive with dipped headlights on, at all times between October and March.

(AQW 7242/11-15)

Mr Attwood: Drivers are required, under the Road Vehicles Lighting Regulations (NI) 2000, to use dipped headlights (in addition to their use at night) during daytime when visibility is seriously reduced, for example in adverse weather conditions or in dull daytime weather.

Under Directive 2008/89/EC all new types of passenger cars and small delivery vans must, from 7 February 2011, be equipped with Daytime Running Lights (DRL). New types of trucks and buses will be required to do so from 7 August 2012. Such lights are expected to increase road safety as they raise the visibility of motor vehicles for other road users. They also have a low energy consumption rate compared with existing "dipped-beam" headlights.

I consider it appropriate to rely on the requirement for manufacturers to fit dedicated DRL lights rather than dictate that drivers should turn on their headlamps during the day. Headlamp bulbs have a limited life and using them during the day would increase the frequency of bulb failure. The European Commission has estimated that headlight bulbs used in such a way would need to be replaced twice as frequently. This could result in a rise in the number of vehicles driven at night with malfunctioning headlights.

In addition, headlamps generally consume more power than DRL so there would also be an increase in fuel consumption as well as CO<sub>2</sub> emissions. I understand from research carried out by Transport Research Laboratory (TRL) that dipped beam headlights consume approximately 160 watts of electrical power whereas DRL lights using filament lights consume 42 watts. It is therefore estimated that DRL lights consume 74% less power than dipped beams with the associated fuel consumption increase for DRL likely to be between 0.3% and 0.5%, and for daytime dipped beams between 1% and 1.8%.

I understand that the average driver uses around 1,275 litres of fuel each year, so even a 1% increase in fuel used could result in additional usage per driver of 12.75 litres per annum – at a price of over £1.40 per litre this could cost an NI motorist an extra £18 a year and NI motorists collectively in excess of £15 million per year. A requirement to use dipped headlights would effectively add a further 1.4p a litre to the NI fuel price. It could be argued that such an increase would inevitably be borne by the less well off, that is those who are more likely to have an older car.

I also consider that a requirement for drivers to switch on headlights during daytime hours could be time consuming and difficult for the police to enforce. In addition, the cycle and motorcycle lobbies are likely to be concerned at the relative lack of conspicuity that would be imposed on them were such a requirement to be imposed and the possible increase in accidents as a consequence. Pedal cycles do not have dipped headlights and motorcycles currently rely on being brighter than other vehicles to improve their conspicuity.

There might be some safety benefits from such a requirement, though most likely not as many as in countries with northern climates and daylight patterns or with large forest areas where vehicles can "vanish" into the background. The main benefits would be the ability to see other vehicles better and to distinguish the moving vehicle from parked ones.

I have sought the advice of the PSNI and AA on this issue. Both organisations are cautious about the proposal. Consequently, I do not intend to take this issue forward.

Hydraulic Fracturing

Mr Agnew asked the Minister of the Environment, pursuant to AQW 6424/11-15, (i) to detail the chemical constituents, including CAS numbers, of the chemical compounds; and (ii) whether his Department has any more specific information on (a) where the fresh water was obtained; and (b) the disposal of the waste water and how it was treated prior to disposal.

(AQW 7524/11-15)

Mr Attwood: It has come to the attention of my Private Office that this AQW has not been answered. When the question was tabled on 1 February 2012, it should have been transferred to the Department of Enterprise, Trade and Investment (DETI) as the department which answered the original AQW (6424/11-15).

This transfer did not take place. To receive an answer to this AQW, the Member is requested to retable the question to DETI.

The Department's Private Office procedures have been reviewed and amended to ensure that a similar situation does not reoccur.

Ulster Way: Extension

Mr Flanagan asked the Minister of the Environment what plans he has to hold discussions with the Dublin Government in relation to the extension of the Ulster Way to all nine counties in Ulster.

(AQW 8166/11-15)

Mr Attwood: Officials have been in contact with the relevant County Councils in the Republic of Ireland, Fáilte Ireland and the National Trails Office and they have all indicated that they have no current plans to develop further off-road routes which could connect with or create new sections of the Ulster Way. The Republic of Ireland's future plans for long distance, quality trails are outlined in "Setting New Directions, a review of National Waymarked Ways in Ireland" published in 2010 by the National Trails Office and the Irish Sports Council.

However, there are a number of National Waymarked Ways in the Republic of Ireland which have linkages to the Ulster Way or which are within 10 miles of it. These are:

- The Tain Way, a circular route around the Cooley Mountains, overlaps with a short part of the Ulster Way in Co Louth;
- The Monaghan Way which commences less than 10 miles from the Ulster Way;
- The Cavan Way which meets the Ulster Way in Blacklion and leads from Blacklion to Dowra; and
- The Bluestack Way from Donegal to Ardara which commences less than 10 miles from the Ulster Way.

While these provide interesting additional walking options none are well suited to be part of the circular Ulster Way. There are options to update the Ulster Way website to inform walkers of these routes and how they can connect with them and officials will arrange for this to be undertaken.

I am aware that there are two cross border proposals to use part of the current route of the Ulster Way. A route for the International Appalachian Trail from Slieve League to Ballycastle has been described but not signed. Officials in the Northern Ireland Environment Agency have received a request to discuss development of this route and a steering group meeting has been organised for 5 April 2012. The proposed St Patrick's Trail from Downpatrick to Armagh is under development by the Northern Ireland Tourist Board as a pilgrimage route which may be extended to Croagh Patrick, however officials understand that the Republic of Ireland is not currently in a position to develop this route.

I also met with Jimmy Deenihan, Minister for Arts, Heritage & Gaeltacht Affairs in Dublin on 28 March 2012 to discuss this matter.

District Councils: Legal Services

Mr Dickson asked the Minister of the Environment to detail the district councils that (i) tender; and (ii) do not tender for legal services.

(AQW 8684/11-15)

Mr Attwood: The information requested is provided in the attached table.

| Tender                           | Do not tender                              |
|----------------------------------|--|
| Antrim Borough Council           | Ballymoney Borough Council                 |
| Ards Borough Council             | Banbridge District Council *               |
| Armagh City and District Council | Belfast City Council ^                     |
| Ballymena Borough Council        | Carrickfergus Borough Council              |
| Cookstown District Council       | Castlereagh Borough Council                |
| Craigavon Borough Council        | Coleraine Borough Council *                |
| Lisburn City Council             | Derry City Council                         |
| Newtownabbey Borough Council     | Down District Council ^                    |
| North Down Borough Council       | Dungannon and South Tyrone Borough Council |
|                                  | Fermanagh District Council *               |
|                                  | Larne Borough Council                      |
|                                  | Limavady Borough Council                   |
|                                  | Magherafelt District Council               |
|                                  | Moyle District Council                     |
|                                  | Newry & Mourne District Council **         |
|                                  | Omagh District Council                     |

| Tender | Do not tender             |
|--------|---------------------------|
|        | Strabane District Council |

^ Please note Belfast City Council has its own in-house legal department and therefore does not need to tender. Down District Council also uses this legal facility.

* reported that although they do not formally tender they seek competition from a formal approved panel of solicitors.

** reported that it does tender for HR legal services.

I have asked for further information on this issue which may raise questions.

Marine Bill: Crown Estate

Mr McMullan asked the Minister of the Environment whether his Department has consulted or has had any discussions with the Crown Estate in relation to the Marine Bill; and to outline what was consulted upon or discussed.

(AQW 8970/11-15)

Mr Attwood: The Crown Estate is routinely consulted by the Department on a range of marine issues, such as the new marine licensing system which became operational in April 2011 and the Marine Policy Statement which was adopted in March 2011 under the Marine and Coastal Access Act 2009. The Department consulted the Crown Estate on the policy proposals for the Northern Ireland Marine Bill.

The Crown Estate has also been notified of the intention to produce a Northern Ireland marine plan.

In addition, the Department has ongoing discussions on the Marine Bill and other marine issues with the adjoining administrations in Dublin, Edinburgh, London and Cardiff. Notification of the intention to produce a marine plan has also been sent to these administrations.

Marine Bill: Leasing Rights

Mr McMullan asked the Minister of the Environment whether the Marine Bill continues to give the Crown Estate, or its agent, exclusive leasing rights to the sea-bed.

(AQW 8971/11-15)

Mr Attwood: The Crown Estate was established as a trust at arm's length from Government, which operates under a commercial mandate contained in the Crown Estate Act 1961.

The Northern Ireland Marine Bill does not alter the Crown Estate Act 1961.

Of course I have been following with interest the Scottish Government's attempts to press for devolution of the Crown Estate in Scotland.

I am of the view that the administration and revenues of the crown estate should be devolved to NI.

Wild Birds: Invasive Alien Species

Mr Girvan asked the Minister of the Environment to outline the EU rules and regulations on Invasive Alien Species.

(AQW 9178/11-15)

Mr Attwood: It is currently a requirement under both the 'Wild Birds' and 'Habitats' Directives that Member States seek to prevent the introduction of Invasive Alien Species that may pose a threat to native flora and fauna.

The European Commission (EC) recognises there is currently no comprehensive instrument at EU level to tackle invasive alien species from the perspective of protecting biodiversity. Responding to this gap, the EC adopted a Communication in 2008: "Towards an EU Strategy on Invasive Species" I

In 2011, the EU biodiversity strategy to 2020 was launched, including the targets:

- by 2020, Invasive Alien Species (IAS) and their pathways are identified and prioritised,
- priority species are controlled or eradicated,
- pathways are managed to prevent the introduction and establishment of new IAS

There is an overall action aimed at filling policy gaps in combating IAS by developing a dedicated legislative instrument by 2012. The EC launched a consultation on a dedicated legislative instrument on 27 January 2012.

The Department is monitoring developments carefully in order to assess what legislative implications may arise.

Aarhus Convention

Mr Wells asked the Minister of the Environment to outline the terms of the Aarhus Convention in Northern Ireland.
(AQW 9189/11-15)

Mr Attwood: The Aarhus Convention establishes a number of rights of the public (individuals and their associations) with regard to the environment. The Parties to the Convention are required to make the necessary provisions so that public authorities (at national, regional or local level) will contribute to these rights to become effective. The UK ratified the Convention on 24 February 2005 and, in line with the Convention's procedures, became a full party to the Convention 90 days after this date, in May 2005. The Convention provides for:

- the right of everyone to receive environmental information that is held by public authorities ("access to environmental information").
- the right to participate in environmental decision-making ("public participation in environmental decision-making");
- the right to review procedures to challenge public decisions that have been made without respecting the two above mentioned rights or environmental law in general ("access to justice").

The Aarhus Convention is applied throughout Europe mostly by way of a number of EU Regulations or Directives, which are required to be transposed into domestic legislation by Member States.

The most specific pieces of EU legislation which address the Aarhus Convention are the Environmental Information Directive (2003/4/EC), the Public Participation Directive (2003/35/EC) and the Industrial Emissions Directive (2010/75/EC), which replaces the old Integrated Pollution Prevention and Control Directive.

The Environmental Information Directive was transposed on a UK-wide basis by way of the Environmental Information Regulations 2005, under which public authorities must make environmental information available to the public by electronic means which are easily accessible. All public authorities – not just government departments - must also take reasonable steps to organize the environmental information they hold relevant to their functions with a view to the active and systematic dissemination of the information to the public. DOE and most other government departments have achieved this by way of publication schemes which are available on the various departmental websites.

The Environmental Information Regulations also require any public authority that holds environmental information to make it available on request, as soon as possible and no later than 20 working days after the date of receipt of the request, unless there are specific circumstances which prevent a reply within the timescale or there are exceptions to disclosure as set out in Part 3 of the Regulations. There is also a right of appeal for anyone who is not content with the information they receive, through the Information Commissioner.

The Public Participation Directive (PPD) has been transposed in a number of ways. For example, in 2009, public participation requirements were inserted after Article 19 of the Waste and Contaminated Land (NI) Order 1997 and these changes ensure that all plans and programmes, such as the Northern Ireland Waste Management Strategy and NI Waste Prevention Programmes will undergo public participation activities and consultation during development. In fact, as part of the process of revising the NI Waste Management Strategy, which is required to be revised under the Waste Framework Directive by December 2012, DOE has held focus group meetings with key stakeholders in keeping with PPD requirements. Article 31 of the Waste Framework Directive specifically attracts the PPD.

So too do Articles 24 and 25 of the Industrial Emissions Directive, which has only recently come into force across Europe and, for the most part is not required to be transposed into NI legislation until January 2013. These requirements will, of course, be included in the transposing legislation, which, incidentally, is shortly to be consulted upon.

In summary, by placing documents and legislation on websites, by developing publications schemes and by making public registers readily available electronically, by responding to environmental queries in a timely and informative manner, by engaging in public participation activities in environmental decision making, such as carrying out consultation exercises and by proving access to justice, the Department of the Environment and other Government Departments, are continually striving to ensure compliance with the Aarhus Convention.

Tree Preservation Orders: Convictions

Mr Weir asked the Minister of the Environment how many people have been convicted for breaches of Tree Preservation Orders in each of the last five years.
(AQW 9373/11-15)

Mr Attwood: The Department's IT system was upgraded in March 2009 and only live case information as of the 1 April 2009 was backdated into the upgraded system; hence information is only available from that date.

During the last three business years, the number of enforcement cases investigated relating to the alleged cutting down, uprooting or wilfully destroying a tree, or wilfully damaging, topping or lopping a tree protected by a Tree Preservation Order (TPO) are set out in the table below.

| Table 1: Cases investigated   | 2009/10 | 2010/11 | 2011/12 | Total |
|--------------------------------------|----------------|----------------|----------------|--------------|
| Work to Tree(s) in Conservation Area | 5              | 8              | 7              | 20    |

| Table 1: Cases investigated | 2009/10 | 2010/11 | 2011/12 | Total |
|------------------------------------|----------------|----------------|----------------|--------------|
| Work to Tree(s) with TPO           | 38             | 32             | 39             | 109   |
| Total                       | 43      | 40      | 46      | 129   |

It is important to note that the vast majority of breaches of planning control are resolved informally through negotiation with the owner/occupier or through the submission and consideration of a retrospective planning application.

Of the 129 cases, one prosecution resulted from the destruction of trees protected by a TPO. In November 2011, a Co Tyrone man was fined £5,000 with court costs of £85 at Omagh Magistrates' Court for a breach of a DOE Tree Preservation Order.

Whilst only one prosecution has resulted from the above investigations on cases opened in the last three business years, 53 (41%) of the 129 cases when investigated did not breach planning control; and 17 (13%) were remedied/planning permission granted.

A summary of closure reasons are set out in table 2 below.

Table 2: Reason for Closure

|              | No Breach | Not Expedient | Planning Permission Granted | Remedied/ Resolved | Immune from Enforcement Action | Total |
| Cases Closed | 53               | 20                   | 3                                  | 14                        | 1                                     | 91    |

As of the 20 March 2012, 38 of the 129 cases relating to the alleged cutting down, uprooting or wilfully destroying a tree, or wilfully damaging, topping or lopping a tree protected by a Tree Preservation Order remain 'live'.

Car Parks: Operating Illegally in Belfast

Mr Weir asked the Minister of the Environment how many illegal car parks have operated outside Belfast since 2007; and how many have been closed down.

(AQW 9374/11-15)

Mr Attwood: Since becoming Minister I have made it clear that enforcement must be given high priority across my Department and have implemented a number of measures aimed at providing a more robust approach to unauthorised development.

Based on confirmation provided by each Area Office (excluding Belfast Area Office) 20 enforcement cases relating to alleged unauthorised car parks were investigated since 1 April 2009.

Of the 20 enforcement cases investigated since 1 April 2009, 8 have now been closed for the following reasons: -

In four cases, the breach was remedied/resolved in that the use ceased; no breach was identified in two cases and planning permission was granted in two cases.

The Department is committed to resolving all cases involving alleged unauthorised development, including any consequent enforcement action without undue delay.

Questions for Written Answer: Departmental Delay

Ms Lo asked the Minister of the Environment, pursuant to AQW 740/11-15, why there was a delay of over eight months in answering this question.

(AQW 9384/11-15)

Mr Attwood: I accept that there was an inordinate delay in providing a response to Assembly Question 740/11-15. Procedures have now been put in place to avoid such a reoccurrence. I regret the situation that arose.

In your original question you asked about cuts to two separate work areas – (a) the Historic Monuments Scheduling Programme, and (b) the Countryside Management Scheme, and for my assessment of how any cuts might impact on the conservation of archaeological sites and monuments.

At that time, you also asked about other cuts affecting the built heritage, specifically the archaeological heritage: AQWs 220/11-15 and 739/11-15 refer. The issues raised in the above AWQs were all inter-related.

The financial reductions that were being considered at the beginning of the 2011-12 financial year, which impacted on all areas of the Department, were as a consequence of the challenging financial position the Department faced following the outcome of the Executive's Budget process and the continuing decline in planning income which the Department was seeking to make good through internal reductions to other budgets. However, as previously stated, through the careful management of my Department's budget during the financial year, I have been able to re-instate some archaeological support in the areas concerned for the entire financial year.

The difficulties arising from the financial uncertainty were compounded by the ending of one set of contracts that had been used to deliver professional support to a range of work areas, and subsequent delays in the initiation of new contracts that would have covered, at least in part, some of those work areas. The alternative delivery mechanism has now been secured, as a result of a new Framework contract awarded in December 2011. The current position is that we now have a number of temporary workers in post, focusing on discrete work areas, including the Scheduling Programme and work on DARD's Countryside Management Scheme.

Road Safety Education Officers: School Visits

Mr Swann asked the Minister of the Environment how many visits Road Safety Education Officers have made to schools in the (i) 2009/10 academic year; (ii) 2010/11 academic year; and (iii) this academic year to date.

(AQW 9388/11-15)

Mr Attwood: The numbers of schools visits made by Road Safety Education Officers (RSEOs) are as follows:-

| Academic Year | 2009 - 2010 | 2010 - 2011 | 2011 - 2012 (to date) |
|               | 4420        | 3677        | 238                   |

School visits for the current academic year are significantly reduced due to the prioritisation being given to the implementation of the recommendations of a recent independent review of the Road Safety Education Officer Service.

Road Safety Education Officers (RSEOs) continue to provide schools with the same level of support for the various road safety schemes, such as the Cycling Proficiency Scheme, the Practical Child Pedestrian Safety Training Scheme and the Motor Vehicle Road User GCSE course, as they develop mechanisms to evaluate their effectiveness and efficiency.

However, in order to implement the recommendations and create a modernised Service, it has been necessary to make changes to how RSEOs currently operate in the short term. It is therefore not generally possible to facilitate routine visits to schools for the purpose of conducting road safety talks or interactive presentations.

In the current academic year, the traditional first contact visit by RSEOs was made through the post and the subsequent follow up contact was by way of phone or e-mail. This accounts for approximately 2,400 visits that do not appear in this year's figure of 238 visits. RSEO's are still available to provide advice, guidance and support throughout the year, by means of telephone and e-mail contact.

Recognising the service that RSEOs would not be able to provide during the implementation period, all schools were informed of the position and additional assistance to teachers was provided in the form of new Skooter Assembly Packs which were delivered to Primary Schools at the end of last academic year. This pack is interactive and covers the full range of road safety topics appropriate to all levels of Primary School Education. The modules contained within the Assembly Packs can be used by teachers as standalone modules or as part of a full road safety presentation.

In addition RSEO's are developing 'Road Safety' presentations which can be used by teaching staff to deliver road safety messages. These new resources should allow for the delivery of the road safety message, in line with the best practice guidelines, by professional teaching staff on a regular structured way through the curriculum to continue.

It is the Department's aim to emerge from this transitional phase with a modern, improved Road Safety Education Officer Service that is more integrated, results focussed and better placed to play a key role in delivering evidenced based and fully evaluated activities that meet the demands of the Northern Ireland Road Safety Strategy to 2020.

Cycling Proficiency Scheme: Teacher Training

Mr Swann asked the Minister of the Environment for his Department's assessment of the training for teachers who are taking part in the National Cycling Proficiency Scheme, and whether the training ensures an acceptable overall standard throughout Northern Ireland.

(AQW 9389/11-15)

Mr Attwood: Approximately 580 primary schools participate in the Cycling Proficiency Scheme (CPS) with an average of 8,800 – 9,000 children trained each year. Teachers who are new to the subject are given extensive training on how to deliver the course. This training includes i) briefing on the forms and materials used and the general administrative requirements, ii) instruction on how to check bicycles for road worthiness and safety, iii) assistance on how to instruct the children complete the various exercises and iv) the final assessment, which places particular emphasis on the standard to be attained in order to pass the test. A training DVD is also provided, along with an instructor's pack, which is used by the teacher to prepare for and design future lessons.

Once the scheme starts further assistance is on hand, should the teacher require it, and the Road Safety Education Officer (RSEO) returns to the school to check on progress and to ensure that standards are maintained throughout the course. The RSEO carries out the initial testing of the pupils with the teacher observing. Only when the RSEO is satisfied that the teacher is capable of taking the course on their own are they allowed to carry out the training unsupervised. Teachers are assessed every four years as part of a rolling assessment programme carried out by the RSEO, all of which is designed to ensure that an acceptable overall standard is maintained throughout Northern Ireland.

Following a recent review of the Road Safety Education Officer Service, the Department commissioned an independent review of CPS to examine the content of the course and methods of delivery to ensure that these are up to date and are fit for purpose. The review will also evaluate the effectiveness of the scheme in terms of reducing child road safety casualties and to determine if the scheme appropriately addresses today's road safety issues. It is anticipated that the review team will report to the Department before the end of this calendar year.

Taxi Drivers: Mandatory Requirements

Mr Agnew asked the Minister of the Environment for his assessment of the benefits of (i) introducing mandatory requirements for taxi drivers to ensure that vehicle engines are running efficiently and thus creating fewer emissions; (ii) introducing a taxi clean-up programme which would involve cleaning the fuel pump and injectors, engine, gearbox, and EGR systems and the replacement where necessary of fuel, oil and air filters; (iii) demonstrating the effectiveness of such measures by carrying out an emissions test and fuel efficiency test before and after the clean-up; (iv) requiring taxi drivers to undertake the programme and introduce a charge to recoup the costs; and (v) promoting the programme with reference to studies which show that fuel efficiency can be increased by between 5-10 percent.

(AQW 9404/11-15)

Mr Attwood: I am committed to encouraging all drivers to maintain their vehicles in good condition, one of the results of which is to support limiting the levels of vehicle emissions.

Turning specifically to taxis, they are subject to annual testing from new and not just from 4 years old as with the normal car MOT test. A more rigorous assessment therefore already exists for taxis than for private cars. Construction and Use Regulations require such vehicles to be maintained in good and efficient working order and indeed it is an offence to use a taxi if its emissions exceed the emissions standards it was designed to meet due to inadequate maintenance.

Such taxi vehicle tests are intended to identify vehicles with major emissions control system failures. Whilst the test is not sensitive enough to detect or quantify small changes in emissions performance and cannot give an indication of fuel economy, using good quality fuel should nonetheless prevent excessive build-up of deposits on fuel injectors that may interfere with their good working. Regular engine lubricating oil changes may also minimise wear that can increase emissions.

There are a range of actions that taxi drivers – and indeed all drivers – can take to improve engine performance. I believe that these are best undertaken by individual drivers, taking appropriate advice from vehicle manufacturers and suitable qualified mechanics. These will include replacing oil in the gearbox and transmission system which might achieve a slight improvement in fuel economy, although I understand it is best to follow the manufacturer's recommendations as to how this can be achieved. Carrying out a programme as described in the question has appeal and may produce benefits, but may also result in increased fares to cover the cost, be placing an additional responsibility on an industry already facing difficulties in the current economic climate and at a time of radical change in taxi regulation. Clearly, making vehicles more efficient is desirable on financial and environmental grounds, but the measures suggested may be more than can be justified in current circumstances.

Quoile River: Water Management and Pollution

Mr Agnew asked the Minister of the Environment to detail (i) the issues identified in the Environment Agency's leaflet 'Quoile: Local Area Management Information' in relation to the water management and pollution of the Quoile River; and (ii) what action it has taken to address the issues.

(AQW 9405/11-15)

Mr Attwood: River Basin Management Plans (RBMPs) were published in December 2009 to meet one of the key requirements of the Water Framework Directive. The Plans, which cover all of Northern Ireland, identify where the water environment needs to be protected or improved, the timeframe to make these improvements and how that can be achieved. The Plans included information leaflets for 26 Local Management Areas (LMAs).

The implementation of the RBMPs is being taken forward through the development and implementation of 26 LMA action plans over a three year rolling programme from 2010/11 to 2012/13. The Quoile LMA action plan is due to be completed by the end of March 2012. The main issues identified include elevated phosphorus levels, low dissolved oxygen and impacts in invertebrate communities. Implementation actions include additional targeted biological monitoring, awareness raising, targeted river walks to identify pollution hotspots and inspections of premises where there is the potential to cause water pollution.

Following a major fish kill in 2008, a Quoile Catchment Working Group was set up. The Group discussed the need to model different management options for improving water quality in the Quoile Pondage.

NIEA has recently commissioned the development of a computer model to assess different management scenarios (for example, improvements to the barrage, siphoning out deep de-oxygenated water, dredging etc.) to reduce the risk of the dissolved oxygen in the Pondage falling below the critical 4mg/l level required to support fish. This should be available for use by April 2012.

In addition, Agri-Food & Biosciences Institute operates a 'real time' telemetry buoy in the Quoile. If Dissolved Oxygen values change uncharacteristically then a call is automatically logged on the NIEA Water Pollution hotline so that it can be investigated.

All this work is coordinated through the Strangford & Lecale Catchment Management Officer and presented at bi-annual Catchment Stakeholder Group meetings. The Quoile LMA Action Plan, and an updated on the computer model will be discussed at the spring meeting, scheduled for 2 May 2012. Details of the meetings including a presentation given at the autumn meeting on water quality planning in the Quoile LMA are available on the DOE website. http://www.doeni.gov.uk/niea/water-home/wfd/public\_partic\_3/catchment\_stakeholder\_groups/strangford\_and\_lecale.htm.

Woodland: UK Forestry Standard

Ms Lo asked the Minister of the Environment whether all the bodies or organisations within his Department's remit which own woodland are compliant with the UK Forestry Standard, including his Department, any arm's-length body and any organisation to which his Department provides grant aid.

(AQW 9581/11-15)

Mr Attwood: The significant areas of woodland within DoE ownership lie within the properties managed by The Northern Ireland Environment Agency (NIEA) as country parks, nature reserves and historic monuments in state care or by other environmental bodies with which it has management agreements.

While NIEA has not yet applied to DARD Forest Service to register under the UK Forestry Standard the woodlands which it or its agents manage, the Agency believes that were it to do so the management would be compliant with all relevant legislation and with the UKFS guidelines save those relating to commercial timber production, in which neither NIEA nor its agents are engaged. As staff resources allow, NIEA intends to register its woodland holdings under the UKFS.

NIEA provides grant aid or management payments to approaching fifty organisations including: Local Councils, environmental NGOs, schools, community groups and education providers. Only a few have any involvement in forestry or woodland management. NIEA has provided grant support to one council and four e-NGOs for nine woodland projects since January 2011. It has management agreements with three NGOs over areas of woodland. Of the two main recipients, one is accredited under the independent UK Woodland Assurance Scheme and the other under the international Forest Stewardship Council.

NIEA letters of offer contain the following standard condition to ensure compliance with any relevant laws: The Applicant must comply with the provisions of all enactments, statutory provisions and other laws operating in Northern Ireland including, but not only, those relating to planning, nature conservation, animal welfare, access, equal opportunities, fair employment and health and safety. European law, where applicable, must also be followed.

This condition should ensure that any project currently funded by NIEA's natural heritage grant programme complies with any legislation included in the UKFS. NIEA will consider adding a condition requiring the registration under UKFS of woodlands for which it offers grant aid.

Rural Dwellers: Non-farming

Mr McKay asked the Minister of the Environment what action he is taking to ensure that non-farming rural dwellers are able to build a dwelling in their local area.

(AQW 9593/11-15)

Mr Attwood: PPS21 already offers considerable development opportunities for non-farming rural people wishing to build a dwelling in the countryside, not just farmers. It does this by providing for: Replacement dwellings (Policy CTY 3); The conversion and reuse of non-residential buildings as dwellings (Policy CTY 4); New dwellings within an existing cluster or ribbon of buildings (Policy CTY 8); Social and affordable housing schemes (Policy CTY 5); Development within designated Dispersed Rural Communities (Policy CTY 2); and a dwelling to meet compelling personal or domestic circumstances (Policy CTY 6).

However, in recognition of the continued interest in this issue, I met with 3 of the members of the Independent Working Group on Non-farm Rural Dwellers set up by the previous Executive as part of my review of the operation of PPS21. I was interested to hear their expert perspectives first hand as too the views of MLAs, councillors and others with knowledge and interest and have taken these into account in the review. Work on the review is now nearing completion and I will be making a statement to the Assembly in the near future.

Vehicle Tax Renewal Fees

Ms Lo asked the Minister of the Environment whether he intends to discuss the differing rates of vehicle tax renewal fees with the Secretary of State for Transport, given that people who are unable to afford the annual renewal fee opt for the six month option which is more expensive.

(AQW 9622/11-15)

Mr Attwood: I am very aware of the difficulties being faced by many motorists from households and business across Northern Ireland in meeting the costs of keeping vehicles on the road.

The method of calculating the amount of duty chargeable for a six-month tax disc, at the rate of 55% of the annual rate, is set in the Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994.

As responsibility for vehicle excise duty rests with the Department for Transport and the Treasury, I will write to the Secretary of State for Transport, highlighting the difficulties that many people in Northern Ireland are facing and urging her to review the charging mechanism for a six-month tax disc and to reduce the additional charge faced by drivers who cannot afford to buy 12-month discs.

Planning Permission: Special Circumstances

Mr Lynch asked the Minister of the Environment (i) how many people have been granted planning permission under special circumstances in each of the last three years; and (ii) to provide details of the special circumstances.

(AQW 9631/11-15)

Mr Attwood: Table 1 below shows the number of planning applications approved under special circumstances in each of the last three years.

Table 1

| Year   | 2009/10 | 2010/11 | 2011/12 |
|--|---------|---------|---------|
| Total no. of planning applications granted under special circumstances | 35      | 21      | 13      |

Note: 2011/12 figures are up to December 2011.

Policy CTY6 (Personal and Domestic Circumstances) of Planning Policy Statement 21 Sustainable Development in the Countryside will allow a dwelling to be permitted in the countryside for the long term needs of an applicant, where there are compelling and site specific reasons for this related to the applicant's personal or domestic circumstances.

Personal circumstances can include the debilitating effects of a slow illness and the consequent need for care by family. Such cases could also include instances where a young adult requires a continuing and high level of care, but who could also benefit from a greater degree of independent living. All permissions granted under Policy CTY 6 are subject to a condition restricting the occupation of the dwelling to a named individual and their dependents.

Of the 69 applications approved in Table 1, 58 were approved under personal and domestic circumstances.

Policy CTY 7 (Dwellings for Non-Agricultural Business Enterprises) of Planning Policy Statement 21 states that planning permission will be granted for a dwelling house in connection with an established non-agricultural business enterprise where a site specific need can be clearly demonstrated that makes it essential for one of the firm's employees to live at the site of their work.

Of the 69 applications approved in Table 1, 11 were granted subject to a condition restricting occupation of the dwelling for the use of the business.

There are a number of factors including special circumstances to be considered in reaching a balanced decision in a planning application. It is recognised that the final determination in relation to a planning application rests with DOE Planning who will consider all relevant material considerations.

Media Communications Protocols

Mr Allister asked the Minister of the Environment what media communications protocols exist between his Department and each of its arm's-length bodies; and to publish these protocols.

(AQW 9656/11-15)

Mr Attwood: No media communications protocols exist between my Department and each of its arm's-length bodies.

Cycling Proficiency Scheme: Road Training

Mr Weir asked the Minister of the Environment whether there are plans to include road training in the Cycling Proficiency Scheme in schools.

(AQW 9687/11-15)

Mr Attwood: The Cycling Proficiency Scheme (CPS) already has an on-road element built into the training programme. It is offered to all of the 849 primary schools in Northern Ireland each year; however, the majority of teachers have been reluctant to include the on-road cycling experience for safety and public liability reasons. The CPS scheme equates to level 2 of the National Standards if on-road training is taken up by the school.

Road Safety: DOE Spend

Mr Weir asked the Minister of the Environment how much his Department has spent in total on road safety in each of the last five years.

(AQW 9712/11-15)

Mr Attwood: The Department undertakes a wide range of activities to improve road safety which include:

- bringing forward a range of policy & legislation;
- employing Road Safety Education Officers;
- commissioning advertising and other media campaigns;
- engaging with stakeholders through various Forums;
- operating a community road safety grant scheme;

- undertaking research; and
- coordinating the implementation of the Road Safety Strategy.

The Department's estimated total expenditure within these activities in each of the last 5 years is as follows:

| Year              | 2006/07 | 2007/08 | 2008/09 | 2009/10 | 2010/11 |
|-------------------|---------|---------|---------|---------|---------|
| Total Expenditure | £5.151m | £4.968m | £4.713m | £4.819m | £5.205m |

The Road Safety campaign – particularly the 'Crashed Lives' campaign – has been a factor in the reduction of road deaths and serious injuries over recent years. That is why I believe the campaign budget of DOE needs to be safeguarded. That said, I am interrogating campaign costs, delivery options, the appropriate balance between television and other campaign outlets etc.

AQW 6675/11-15

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of the Environment when he intends to provide an answer to AQW 6675/11-15 which was due on 2 February 2012.

(AQW 9754/11-15)

Mr Attwood: The response to AQW 6675/11-15 issued on 29 March 2012.

Rural Areas: Building Use

Mr Dallat asked the Minister of the Environment what incentives are available to encourage the improved use of buildings in rural areas with a view to providing accommodation.

(AQW 9756/11-15)

Mr Attwood: The Department of the Environment provides funding for the repair and maintenance of listed buildings in the North, including those in rural areas. However, it does not offer financial incentives specifically for the improved use of buildings in rural areas for accommodation.

The existing planning policy framework does however support development proposals for the conversion and reuse of existing buildings in the countryside for the purposes of providing residential accommodation, including proposals for the use of existing buildings for tourism purposes.

PPS 21 'Sustainable Development in the Countryside' supports the sympathetic conversion and re-use of existing buildings in the countryside principally through policies CTY 3 'Replacement Dwellings', CTY 4 'The Conversion and Reuse of Existing Buildings', and CTY 11 'Farm Diversification'. Additional guidance and advice on 're-use' is contained within draft Supplementary Planning Guidance to PPS21 titled 'Building on Tradition' which will soon be published in final form, subject to Executive Committee endorsement.

PPS 6 'Planning, Archaeology and the Built Heritage' provides planning policies which support the retention of Listed Buildings with provisions for change of use, extensions and alterations where such development will safeguard the character of the building and secure its upkeep.

Draft PPS 16 'Tourism' provides for various forms of tourist accommodation through the sympathetic conversion and re-use of existing buildings in the countryside.

Finally, the Addendum to PPS 7 'Residential Extensions and Alterations', seeks to promote high quality design in such proposals and to ensure that development respects the character of the local area. This policy applies to both urban and rural areas.

Lifetime Homes Standard

Mr Dallat asked the Minister of the Environment whether he has any plans to encourage the concept of homes for life in terms of layout, design and access.

(AQW 9757/11-15)

Mr Attwood: Planning Policy Statement 7 (PPS 7) Quality Residential Environments and subsequent addendums, along with Creating Places sets out the current planning policy and supplementary planning guidance for the consideration and assessment of planning applications for residential development.

The application of space standards to all private housing as per the Lifetime Homes Standard is beyond the scope of current planning policy and is additional to that that required by Part R of the Northern Ireland Building Regulations.

Applying Lifetime Homes Standards is a fundamental change in approach to the provision of private housing and would require new planning policy and guidance. It would also necessitate a thorough economic analysis of the impact on the development industry.

The Department is supportive of and will encourage this concept where possible.

Landslide: Marlborough Terrace, Londonderry

Mr Allister asked the Minister of the Environment why there has been disparity in terms of a co-ordinated response to the landslide incident in the Marlborough Terrace area of Londonderry in December 2011, and the response to a similar landslide in the Linen Fields development, Banbridge in January 2010.

(AQW 9766/11-15)

Mr Attwood: A landslip is a common factor in these two incidents, but the wider circumstances are different.

The Marlborough Terrace incident developed very suddenly, with the council having to react quickly to an emergency situation in order that public safety was restored. The Council also had to take steps to ensure the longer term safety of the area and to fund the works necessary to achieve both these objectives. The Department of the Environment's legislation enables it to provide supporting funding to councils in such an emergency situation. The funding was made against the condition that every attempt would be made to recover costs from private owners/insurers. Additionally, the departmental support funding was not to provide any betterment.

The situation at Linen Green is not an emergency situation as with Derry, has been on-going for some time and the local council has not been acting in relation to it.

Badger Baiting

Mr Weir asked the Minister of the Environment what action his Department is taking to combat badger baiting.

(AQW 9781/11-15)

Mr Attwood: Badgers are listed under Schedule 5 of the Wildlife (NI) Order 1985 providing them with legal protection. The Department has made recent amendments to this legislation bringing in potential custodial sentences for certain offences including killing or injuring badgers. While it is the Police Service of Northern Ireland (PSNI) who undertake any wildlife crime investigations, wildlife experts within Northern Ireland Environment Agency provide scientific support and advice on request to the investigating team.

The Department also plays a key role in Partnership for Action Against Wildlife Crime (PAW NI). PAW membership comprises relevant Government Departments including the PSNI, Forest Service, DCAL, as well as representation from the local wildlife and animal welfare charities. The aim of PAW is to raise public awareness of wildlife crime, to publicize reporting mechanisms, to provide advice, information and expertise, and collect wildlife information.

The Department encourages anyone who sees what they suspect is badger baiting, or any other possible wildlife crime, to report the details to their nearest PSNI station 0845 600 8000 or by using the Crimestoppers number 0800 555 111.

Councils: Independent Advisers or Consultants

Mr Kinahan asked the Minister of the Environment (i) whether his Department will issue guidance to local councils advising them of best practice in relation to the employment of independent advisors or consultants under the Reform of Public Administration; and (ii) whether advisors or consultants will be granted full independence to report their findings.

(AQW 9842/11-15)

Mr Attwood:

- (i) The employment of consultants by local councils, which are stand alone corporate public bodies, essentially involves tendering to buy in services. The matter is therefore governed by public procurement law, notably the Public Contract Regulations 2006 (as amended) and various EU procurement Directives. I shall raise with councils the requirements of best practice and procurement law in relation to this issue in the context of RPA. (ii) The terms of any consultancy awarded following a public procurement exercise would typically include a requirement to report findings to the public body based on their evidence gathering and assessments. It is to be hoped that independence will be at the heart of any work.

Quangos

Mr Weir asked Minister of the Environment to detail (i) the quangos to which his Department makes appointments; (ii) how many members are appointed; and (iii) the remuneration paid to (a) the Chair; and (b) other members.

(AQW 9896/11-15)

Mr Attwood: As Minister of the Environment I have responsibility for appointing individuals to the following public bodies:

- The Northern Ireland Local Government Officers' Superannuation Committee (NILGOSC);
- The Local Government Staff Commission for Northern Ireland (LGSC);
- The Council for Nature Conservation and the Countryside (CNCC);
- The Historic Buildings Council (HBC) and
- The Historic Monuments Council (HMC).

The number of members appointed to each of the bodies, as well as the names of the individuals appointed is detailed in the table below:

| Public Body | Number of Members Appointed | Names of Individuals Appointed  |
|--------------------|------------------------------------|--|
| NILGOSC            | 12                                 | Trevor SalmonJulie ErskineJoe DonaghyCeline McCartanColin O'HareBumper GrahamLinda NeilanDavid JacksonCiaran QuigleyPeter CaldwellPeter McMurrayTom Irvine   |

Remuneration for the Chair and members of each of the body is detailed as follows:

- NILGOSC – Chair receives £12,000 per annum. Members receive a daily allowance not exceeding £113 plus expenses;
- LGSC – Chair receives £14,114 per annum. Members receive a daily allowance not exceeding £113 plus expenses;
- CNCC – Chair receives £9,740 per annum. Deputy Chair receives £6,525 per annum. Members receive expenses;
- HBC – Chair and members receive expenses; and
- HMC – Chair and members receive expenses.

Papers for Assembly Committees

Mr McKay asked the Minister of the Environment to detail all occasions in the last 12 months when his Department has made a presentation to an Assembly committee and provided papers pertaining to that presentation to the committee less than 48 hours beforehand.

(AQW 9929/11-15)

Mr Attwood: Since the start of the current Assembly mandate my Department has made presentations to the Environment Committee on thirty one separate occasions. All related papers, as agreed with Environment Committee staff, were provided at least 48hrs in advance.

Additionally, my Department has made one presentation to the Agriculture and Rural Development Committee. No supporting papers were provided for Committee members for this presentation.

Planning Application: Sprucefield Centre Ltd

Mr Gardiner asked the Minister of the Environment for an update on the Sprucefield Centre Limited planning application; and how many jobs the development is likely to create.

(AQW 9937/11-15)

Mr Attwood: This planning application was submitted to the Department on 26 October 2009. On 17 December 2009 the Department requested that the Planning Appeals Commission (PAC) hold a public local inquiry to consider the application. However, the convening of the Inquiry has been delayed by a combination of judicial review proceedings and a need to consider further environmental information submitted by the applicant.

Further environmental information was submitted in August 2011 and again in February 2012. The details of the information have been advertised by the Department in accordance with statutory requirements and the information is presently under consideration by the Department. Once this stage of the process has been completed, the Department will be writing to the PAC to request a new date for the Inquiry.

With regard to job creation opportunities associated with the proposed development, the applicant estimates that up to 890 jobs will be created during the construction phase of the development with up to a further 1,616 jobs created when it is operational.

Tourism: Cross-departmental Links

Mr Gardiner asked the Minister of the Environment to outline the formal links which exist between his Department and other Departments in relation to tourism issues.

(AQW 9938/11-15)

Mr Attwood: The Department has a number of formal links with other departments in relation to tourism issues including:

- ongoing consultation with DETI, including the Northern Ireland Tourist Board (NITB) since the publication of draft PPS 16 – Tourism Development;
- consultation with the NITB on tourism related planning applications to ensure full consideration of development proposals citing a tourist need or other tourism related issue; and
- membership alongside NITB of the Historic Environment Strategic Ministerial Forum along with its Economic Sub Group and a Departmental Sub Group chaired by the Permanent Secretary.

The Department is also working with OFMDFM, DCAL and DETI (NITB) to promote NIEA's events, sites and properties. This activity will be mutually beneficial, in terms of the London 2012 Olympics and the NITB 2012 campaign 'Our Time Our Place'.

Countryside Access: Council Staff

Mr Weir asked the Minister of the Environment which councils have (i) staff whose sole responsibility is in relation to access to the countryside; and (ii) staff who are responsible for access to the countryside as part of their wider duties.

(AQW 9940/11-15)

Mr Attwood: The information that has been provided by Councils is set out in Table 1.

TABLE 1

| Council       | Sole Duty | Wider Duties  |
|---------------|-----------|---|
| Antrim BC     |           | Countryside Recreation Officer  |
| Ards BC       |           | Project Officer   |
| Armagh C & DC |           | Leisure Facilities Manager  |
| Ballymena BC  |           | (1)Assistant Director Development, Leisure & Cultural Services.(2)Countryside and Access Officer. |

| Council              | Sole Duty                        | Wider Duties   |
|-----------------------------|---|---|
| Ballymoney BC               | Access Officer (Part Time)              |   |
| Banbridge DC                | Countryside Officer                     |   |
| Belfast CC                  | Countryside Officer                     |   |
| Carrickfergus BC            |   | Parks & Countryside Officer   |
| Castlereagh BC              |   | Countryside Officer   |
| Coleraine BC                |   | Countryside & Marine Manager  |
| Cookstown DC                |   | Tourism Officer   |
| Craigavon BC                |   | Recreation Development Officer  |
| Derry CC                    | Access Officer                          |   |
| Down DC                     | Countryside Access Officer              | Also has Warden of Delamont Country Park & Tyrella who is responsible for delivering access to the country in respect of these two locations. |
| Dungannon & South Tyrone BC |   | Presently handled by Manager within Parks & Tourism. Council is restructuring and the function of an Access Officer will be addressed.        |
| Fermanagh DC                |   | Environment Officer   |

Planning Permission: EQIAs

Mr Agnew asked the Minister of the Environment, in light of the announcement by the Republic of Ireland's Minister Hogan that, following the European Court of Justice ruling C-125-06, he is introducing legislation that will no longer allow developers to apply for retention planning permission when an Environmental Impact Assessment (EIA) is required under the Environmental Assessment Directive 85/337/EEC, for his assessment of the implications that the judgement will have on the many retrospective applications for EIA development currently in the planning system.

(AQW 9965/11-15)

Mr Attwood: Part 7 of the the Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) Regulations (Northern Ireland) 2012 provide for the consideration of EIA for development which is the subject of a planning enforcement notice. Where such development requires EIA, it is referred to as unauthorised EIA development. A failure to enforce where a development is unauthorised EIA development would be in breach of the Directive.

In Ardagh Glass v Chester City Council, the High Court held, on 8 April 2009, that retrospective planning permission could lawfully be granted for EIA development as long as the competent authorities paid careful regard to the need to protect the objectives of the EIA Directive.

This was upheld by the Court of Appeal on 29 January 2010 for three reasons -

- i) Common sense - It would not make sense to require all unlawful EIA development to be removed. At one extreme, development causing serious environmental damage with flagrant disrespect for the Directive should be the subject of removal. However, at the other extreme, there might have been an inadvertent failure to comply with the Directive, and the development may not be causing environmental harm and may actually be enhancing the environment. In such circumstances the Court of Appeal held that it would be an affront to common sense to require its removal.
- ii) Disproportionate - It is a fundamental principle of European Community law that any measures taken are proportionate. A prohibition on the grant of retrospective permission for EIA development, regardless of the circumstances and the environmental consequences thereof, would be wholly disproportionate.
- iii) The Ireland case - The Court of Appeal accepted passages from the Court of Justice of the European Union case (ECJ) in Commission v Ireland (a case relied upon by both sides in the High Court) to the effect that, subject to certain conditions, there may be exceptional circumstances in which a retrospective permission may be granted for EIA development.

Having considered both the Ireland case and the Ardagh Glass Ltd ruling, I am content that the acceptance of retrospective applications is not in itself a breach of the EIA Directive and that there are no implications for cases to arise from past decisions as a result of the acceptance of such applications.

Alcohol: Public Service Vehicles

Mrs Dobson asked the Minister of the Environment, in relation to his plans to curb illegal drinking, whether he will consider provisions to allow newly married couples to enjoy a wedding toast whilst travelling in vehicles operated by private hire companies and coach operators.

(AQW 9998/11-15)

Mr Attwood: Currently regulation 51(1)(k) of the Public Service Vehicles Regulations (Northern Ireland) 1985 prohibits passengers on public service vehicles (PSVs) from consuming alcohol.

The department is currently undertaking a wide ranging review of arrangements for licensing bus operators with a view to developing a fair and proportionate regulatory regime. Extensive public consultation has been undertaken and the issue of alcohol being carried in public service vehicles as well as the issue of wedding toasts have been raised and are being considered.

In parallel with this review, officials from the Department are working with PSNI and the bus industry to agree shorter-term appropriate changes to the current legislative and enforcement regimes to tackle irresponsible drinking on public service vehicles. This process will take full account of the safety of passengers.

I acknowledge the proposal outlined by the Member, would have sympathy with the sentiment, but have to ensure that mixed messages are not conveyed by me and the department about alcohol consumption in a vehicle.

Hydroelectric Scheme: River Camowen

Mr Hussey asked the Minister of the Environment to detail any environmental concerns in relation to the recently installed hydroelectric scheme on the River Camowen, Omagh, by Omagh District Council.[R]

(AQW 10002/11-15)

Mr Attwood: Omagh District Council's hydroelectric scheme on the Camowen River was issued with an Abstraction and Impoundment Licence by the Northern Ireland Environment Agency (NIEA) on 23 June 2011 under the Water Abstraction and Impoundment (Licensing) Regulations (Northern Ireland) 2006. The licence specifies the maximum amount of water the turbine can take and also the amount of water that must remain in the river when the turbine is operating.

In determining this licence, NIEA consulted both internally in relation to Natural Heritage, Built Heritage, and hydrology and externally with the Department of Culture, Arts & Leisure, DARD Rivers Agency, the Lough's Agency, the Ulster Angling Federation and the Foyle Association of Salmon and Trout Anglers.

An assessment under The Conservation (Natural Habitats, etc) Regulations (Northern Ireland) 1995 [as amended], conducted by NIEA to meet the requirements of the Habitats Directive, found that the scheme, as proposed, would have no likely significant effects on the environment.

A hydrology assessment indicated that, with the application of appropriate water resource standards in the licence, this activity would be unlikely to impact upon the hydrological status of the water body in which it operates.

As a result NIEA determined that there were no significant environmental concerns so long as the conditions of the licence are adhered to.

On 16 March 2012, NIEA was made aware of a potential breach of the licence conditions. In relation to this incident, a Stop Notice was issued to Omagh District Council by NIEA on 21 March 2012 under the Water Abstraction and Impoundment (Licensing) Regulations (Northern Ireland) 2006.

Omagh District Council has 28 days to formally respond. In the interim, NIEA will be gathering further evidence as part of the investigation in accordance with its Enforcement Policy into this incident and it would not be appropriate to comment further at this time.

Planning Service: Council Meetings

Mr F McCann asked the Minister of the Environment whether arrangements for Planning Service meetings are standard across all 26 council areas.

(AQO 1633/11-15)

Mr Attwood: Arrangements for consultation with Councils are standard across the 26 Council areas in that Council meetings are held on a monthly basis with the exception of Belfast city Council which meets every 2 weeks.

The Department has established consultation arrangements designed to ensure that elected representatives have an important input to the decision-making process. Guidance on this agreed process has been made available to all DOE Planning staff and Councils which helps to ensure greater consistency and more meaningful consultation with councils.

If a Council opposes the Department's opinion on a planning application it can seek a deferral at a council meeting. Where an application is deferred, an office meeting, or exceptionally a site meeting, will be arranged to discuss the issues.

While it is important that Councils provide planning reasons for seeking a deferral in line with the Departments established guidelines, the Department will apply a flexible interpretation of the agreed criteria, where appropriate, to ensure that Councils continue to have a full and meaningful role in the development management process.

Belfast Hills: Access

Mr Humphrey asked the Minister of the Environment what action his Department has taken to ensure that residents of the Greater Shankill area have access to the Belfast Hills.

(AQW 10142/11-15)

Mr Attwood: The DOE supports district councils in developing and promoting access to the countryside. The Department also currently funds the Belfast Hills Partnership. The City Council has been working with the Belfast Hills Partnership to negotiate with a local landowner to allow for access from the greater Shankill area to the Belfast Hills. It has not proved possible for them to reach agreement with the landowner to date. The Department would consider a grant application to contribute to developing an access route in this area once landowner agreements are in place. I am however looking to help in other ways in the short and medium terms.

CPR: Staff Training

Mr Frew asked the Minister of the Environment what strategy is in place to train departmental staff in Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation.

(AQW 10155/11-15)

Mr Attwood: Under the Health and Safety (First Aid) Regulations (NI) 1982 the Department must provide adequate first aid cover for all its employees. There are currently 326 staff trained to administer first aid to the whole Department including those staff who work outside or whose duties require them to travel frequently across Northern Ireland.

Managers within the Department carry out assessments to determine the level of first aid cover required within their business area and practitioners are then sought to provide that cover.

Two levels of training are provided - 'Emergency First Aid' which lasts one day and 'First Aid at Work' which lasts three days. The more advanced course is approved by the Health and Safety Executive and on successful completion, staff are issued with an accredited certificate of competence which is valid for 3 years. Refresher training is provided once the certificate expires.

We have 249 accredited staff, but both levels of training referred to above cover Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation and on completion of these courses, practitioners are competent in administering this procedure.

Planning Policy Statement 21: Supplementary Planning Guidance

Mr Molloy asked the Minister of the Environment to give an overview of the responses to the consultation on PPS21 draft Supplementary Planning Guidance.

(AQO 1626/11-15)

Mr Attwood: 'Building on Tradition' a draft sustainable rural design guide for the Countryside was published for 3 months public consultation ending on 8 July 2011. There was a good response to the public consultation exercise with the Department receiving a total of 28 responses from a broad range of interests.

Overall, the draft guidance has been positively received, with around two-thirds of respondents expressing broad support for its contents. Many respondents made suggestions however on how particular aspects of the draft guidance could be improved upon. In the main, the comments received related to relatively minor points concerning for example, terminology and the use of language, as opposed to fundamental concern with the overall approach,

I have recently agreed amendments to the Design Guide which has been refined and improved. Subject to Executive endorsement, it is my intention that the design guide is published in final form before the summer recess.

Marine Bill: Marine Management Organisation

Mr McCarthy asked the Minister of the Environment for his assessment of the possible inclusion of a Marine Management Organisation provision in the Marine Bill.

(AQO 1627/11-15)

Mr Attwood: I intend to continue my conversations with the Executive as the Marine Bill is making its passage through the Assembly. I hope that it will ultimately include provisions on a Marine Management Organisation.

I believe strongly that a Marine Management Organisation is a necessary managerial model going forward. It is the best vehicle by which to manage and reconcile the many interests and needs of the marine environment.

Planning Policy Statement 21: Farm Dwellings

Mr Irwin asked the Minister of the Environment to outline any plans he has to relax PPS21 to allow more suitable placement of dwellings on farms, given the difficulties in relation to clustering new dwellings with existing farm buildings.

(AQO 1628/11-15)

Mr Attwood: Members will be aware that in June last year I launched a review of how PPS21 was operating in practice.

I will shortly complete this review with the intention of ensuring consistency of application of the PPS and appropriate flexibility on its operation in line with its content and substance.

I intend to make a statement to the Assembly in that regard as soon as practicable.

Antrim, Ballymena, Larne Area Plan 2016

Mr Frew asked the Minister of the Environment for an update on the Antrim, Ballymena and Larne Area Plan 2016.[R]

(AQO 1629/11-15)

Mr Attwood: Work on the draft Antrim Ballymena Larne Area Plan 2016 ceased during 2008. This was due to implications arising from a High Court decision relating to the transposition of European Directive 2001/42/EC on Strategic Environmental Assessment into Northern Ireland law. When the Department subsequently appealed this judgement the NI Court of Appeal decided to seek a preliminary ruling from the European Court of Justice. The ruling in October 2011 broadly found in favour of the Department's position. The Department is now awaiting the final ruling of Court of Appeal. If the outcome is as is anticipated, then the Department will need to review its overall Development Plan Programme considering the competing demands arising from the current plan coverage and resource implications before committing to and commencing any new development plan work.

Cyclists: Road Safety

Mr Lyttle asked the Minister of the Environment what additional resources his Department will allocate to improving road safety for cyclists.

(AQO 1630/11-15)

Mr Attwood: The DOE has a statutory duty to promote road safety. One of the ways it raises awareness of road safety issues is through the Department's road safety advertising campaigns.

Cyclists are particularly vulnerable and as such the Department has recently allocated resources to increase awareness amongst all road users, including drivers, of the risks cyclists face on the road.

In October 2011 the Department launched the 'Be Cycle Aware' campaign, employing radio and bus rear advertising, in order to remind drivers and cyclists alike to pay attention when sharing the road.

A radio advert targets drivers as they travel in the car during daytime hours when they would be expected to share the road with cyclists.

A second radio advert and bus rear advertising targets cyclists, reminding them of their vulnerability and the need to pay attention and stay safe on the roads.

This activity is in line with Action Measure 124 of the Road Safety Strategy 2020 - "We will give consideration to measures that improve the safety of cyclists; including what cyclists can do to keep themselves safe and what other road users can do".

Currently all road users are provided with detailed guidance through the current edition of the Highway Code which contains rules, information and advice that helps prepare them for the demands of today's roads. Advice on how drivers should treat vulnerable road users, including cyclists, with extra care and attention is covered specifically by Rules 204 to 218 of the Code. Advice for cyclists can be found under Rules 59-82.

Resources have been directed towards the 'Be Cycle Aware' campaign so that it will be added to the monthly road safety intervention radio activity throughout the coming year.

All of this is in addition to the Department's Cycle Proficiency Scheme (CPS) which is delivered to approximately 580 primary schools with an average of 8,800 – 9,000 children trained each year at a cost of around £84,000 per annum.

Review of Public Administration: Resources

Mr G Kelly asked the Minister of the Environment what discussions he has had with NILGA about resources to implement the changes resulting from the Review of Public Administration.

(AQO 1631/11-15)

Mr Attwood: I am meeting NILGA on 27 March 2012 to discuss a number of business issues relating to the reform of local government that will include resources for the Association over the next three years.

I have also informed Council representatives, including NILGA, of the Executive's decision that the implementation of the reform programme will not be financially assisted by central government. In doing so, I have confirmed that I agree with this approach and that collectively we need to look at other funding opportunities, including early savings from the sector's Improvement, Collaboration and Efficiency programme, as well as the use of reserves and loans.

I wish to assure you of my commitment to working closely with the local government sector in identifying practical models to finance the programme.

Built and Natural Heritage: Economic Development

Mr A Maginness asked the Minister of the Environment to outline how built and natural heritage assets can be leveraged, including relevant enforcement activity, to contribute to general economic development.

(AQO 1632/11-15)

Mr Attwood: The Built and Natural Heritage constitutes an important resource which already makes a significant contribution to the Northern Ireland economy. A report quantifying impact in regard to the Built Heritage has been commissioned by the Historic Environment Strategic Forum which I chair, and this will be published later this year.

Areas to which the sector makes a significant contribution include:

- Stimulating Tourism. All of the 'Signature Projects' currently being promoted by the Northern Ireland Tourist Board have a strong built and natural heritage element. NITB research has shown that both built and natural heritage are a major draw-particularly for visitors from outside the region.
- Added Value to regeneration schemes. Historic buildings and monuments and natural heritage features provide great character to a place. Such character can have a positive impact upon rents, and also upon the reputation of businesses or agencies located in them.
- Attracting business. Inward investment is increasingly mobile. The historic and natural environments help to distinguish Northern Ireland from elsewhere. This can contribute to attracting business to the region.
- Direct contribution to economy. Significant funds are invested in the historic environment every year in Northern Ireland. This sustains jobs, skills and knowledge. For example, NIEA's listed building grant scheme, leverages an average investment of £7.65 for every £1 of grant-aid provided for the repair and maintenance of historic fabric. This is an important contribution to sustaining the building industry.

Realising and leveraging this potential requires action across a range of fronts:

- Government can lead by example and ensure that the Monuments in State Care and Country Parks - which it owns - are well interpreted and are able to realise their full potential as a tourism draw.
- Government can continue to work strategically with key partners to ensure tourism potential is realised for initiatives such as the Signature Projects, the Irish Open Golf Tournament; and the City of Culture in Derry/Londonderry.
- DOE can highlight the potential of the historic and natural environment to others, through its publications, events, and website.
- Owners can ensure that the historic buildings they own are kept to a good standard and, as a result, contribute – positively - to the character of their surroundings. DOE can encourage this through grant-aid for repairs to listed buildings, and in the worst cases, help deter deterioration and neglect through actions such as the issue of Urgent Work's notices.
- DOE can help stimulate the construction sector, through ensuring that its grant-aid schemes are well targeted.
- The Department will investigate all alleged breaches of planning control. However, when determining what (if any) action is to be taken, the Department has a general discretion on whether to take enforcement action against a breach of planning control. It does so when it considers it expedient, having regard to the provisions of the development plan and any other material consideration.
- Priority will be given to those breaches where, in the Department's opinion, the greatest harm is being caused. Where the extent of the breach is considered, by the Department, to be minor in nature and the impact on the environment minimal, the Department may consider that it is not expedient to take formal enforcement action. This consideration must be made on a case by case basis.
- In terms of enforcement, all breaches are categorised on the Planning Portal with a Breach Type value of Works to Listed Building.

Planning Process: Renewable Energy

Mr Dickson asked the Minister of the Environment whether he would consider speeding up the planning process for renewable energy applications.

(AQO 1634/11-15)

Mr Attwood: The Department welcomes the contribution that renewables make to the drive to reduce carbon emissions and acknowledges the importance of processing these types of applications in a timely manner.

A number of short term reform measures have been initiated to improve performance and speed in decision making and to stimulate and support economic recovery in the region. A range of measures are currently in place which is intended to improve the speed of decision making for renewable energy project applications.

A Sub Group of the Planning Forum is considering development proposals for renewable energy development in the context of planning applications, licensing requirements and resources and structures for dealing with such proposals.

Planning staff are actively engaging with consultees to the planning process to ensure that any relevant information required in respect of renewable energy is submitted at the beginning of the process and consultation is focused and timely.

The specialist teams in Planning Headquarters who deal exclusively with specific types of renewable energy applications ensure that a consistent approach is taken. Specific training to planning staff on the assessment of planning applications for single wind turbines has just been completed and this will ensure consistency throughout Area Planning Offices.

In preparation for the transfer of planning functions to Local Councils, the Department will be fundamentally reviewing the system for measuring planning application processing targets.

North/South Electricity Interconnector: Planning Application

Mr Agnew asked the Minister of the Environment for an update on the planning application for a North-South electricity interconnector, following the recent public inquiry.

(AQW 10273/11-15)

Mr Attwood: The Department asked the Planning Appeals Commission (PAC) to conduct a public inquiry for the purpose of considering representations made in respect of this major planning application. The inquiry opened on 6 March 2012 but was adjourned on 20 March 2012. The PAC recommended that the ES and addendum should be readvertised, and that the environmental statement is consolidated and updated to take account of changes put forward by the applicants in their evidence to the inquiry. The PAC proposes to take no further action in relation to the inquiry until the application and environmental statement have been readvertised and the PAC has been so advised.

Prior to the inquiry being adjourned, on 16 March 2012 objectors to the planning application applied for a judicial review of decisions taken by the Planning Appeals Commission and by the Department of the Environment. This application is currently on hold.

Department of Finance and Personnel

Civil or Public Servants' Salaries

Mr McNarry asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel whether any civil or public servants, including staff in arm's-length bodies, salaries are paid through private companies.

(AQW 8394/11-15)

Mr Wilson (The Minister of Finance and Personnel): All NICS departments have confirmed that they are not aware of any civil or public servants in departments or arm's-length bodies whose salaries are paid into private companies. It should be noted that staff have the facility to alter their own bank account details through the online HR facility, although no salaries are paid outside the PAYE system.

Wind Energy Production: Jobs

Mr D McIlveen asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel how many jobs have been created as a result of wind energy production over the past five years.

(AQW 9601/11-15)

Mr Wilson: The UK Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) 2007 used in surveys that provide estimates of employee jobs classifies businesses by the type of economic activity in which they are engaged. Wind energy production is grouped with similar businesses and therefore it is not possible to determine how many employee jobs there are in this industry alone.

Civil or Public Servants' Salaries

Mr McNarry asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel to detail (i) how many civil or public servants', including staff in arm's-length bodies, salaries are currently paid through private companies and not through the PAYE arrangements, broken down by (a) Department; (b) arm's-length body; and (c) grade; and (ii) how many civil or public servants', including staff in arm's-length bodies, salaries have been paid through private companies and not through the PAYE arrangements in each of the last five years, broken down by (a) Department; (b) arm's-length body; and (c) grade.

(AQW 9668/11-15)

Mr Wilson: All Northern Ireland Civil Service departments have confirmed that they have no staff, and that their arm's length bodies have no staff, whose salaries have been paid through private companies and not through the PAYE arrangements in any of the last five years, with the exception of OFMDFM. One of OFMDFM's arm's length bodies, the Strategic Investment Board (SIB), previously had 4 staff members who were employed on fixed term contracts and were paid through their own companies. As at 31 March 2011, SIB no longer had any staff being paid in this way and will not employ people on this basis in the future. For ease of reference I have detailed this information in the table overleaf.

|                                |                    | 2007/2008 | 2008/2009 | 2009/2010 | 2010/2011 | 2011/2012 |

Employment

Mr Eastwood asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel, pursuant to AQW 8540/11-15, why his Department can only provide estimates of the percentage and number of people of working age who are employed in each district council area; and (ii) what plans he has to provide accurate figures on employment statistics broken down by council area.

(AQW 9759/11-15)

Mr Wilson: The Labour Force Survey (LFS) is a voluntary sample survey carried out by interviewing individuals in private households and is the most comprehensive source of information on their circumstances and work. It is the largest regular household survey in Northern Ireland, providing a rich source of information on the labour force using internationally agreed concepts and definitions.

There is no legislative basis for carrying out a census of households on a monthly basis in order to provide accurate employment information and the cost in terms of finance and staff resource would outweigh any benefits that would accrue. Survey estimates, such as the Labour Force Survey, provide valuable information in regular timely intervals, at much less cost than a complete census and through a relatively less resource intensive process.

Accurate figures for employment will however be available from the Census of Population. The most recent Census of the population in Northern Ireland took place on Sunday 27 March 2011. Data from the Census will provide important information on the population and nature of Northern Ireland as well as small areas and population groups.

Public Sector Tenders: Under-pricing

Mrs Hale asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel what processes and procedures are in place to prevent companies from under-pricing public sector tenders in order to secure work.

(AQW 9820/11-15)

Mr Wilson: Where the tender is assessed as being abnormally low the Contracting Authority, before rejecting the tender, will seek an explanation from the tenderer as to how the contract can be delivered for the offer price.

The Contracting Authority may ask for details of the proposed methodology or technical solution proposed and any exceptionally favourable factors which the tenderer is reliant upon.

The evidence provided by the tenderer will be taken into account and the tender either accepted, where appropriate justification has been provided, or rejected, where the offer has been verified with the tenderer as being abnormally low.

Providing the tenderer is able to provide assurance that the contract can be satisfactorily met, the submission of a low price in order to secure work would not normally constitute grounds for rejection of the tender.

North/South Bodies: 2012 Business Plans

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel when the 2012 business cases for the North-South bodies were approved; and how many have been approved to date.

(AQW 9825/11-15)

Mr Wilson: I am making the assumption that you are referring to the Business Plans for each of the North South Bodies.

To date, the NSMC has approved one North South Body 2012 Business Plan. Tourism Ireland's 2012 Business Plan was approved on 1st March 2012.

Properties: Vacant in Larne

Mr Hilditch asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel to detail the number of vacant non-domestic properties in Larne town centre.

(AQW 9828/11-15)

Mr Wilson: Information on the number of vacant non-domestic properties in Larne Town Centre is not available as information is collated by Land & Property Services at District Council and Ward levels only. The number of vacant non-domestic properties in each Ward in the Larne Borough Council area as at 18th March 2012 is given in the table overleaf.

| Ward/Council                 | Number of Vacant Non-Domestic Properties |

Hamill/Brennan v DFP Tribunal

Mr Agnew asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel, in relation to the Hamill/Brennan versus DFP Tribunal (i) whether the complaint was withdrawn by the claimants or a settlement was reached; (ii) whether his Department conceded in order for the case to be withdrawn or settled; (iii) for how many days the case ran before being withdrawn or settled; and (iv) to provide an estimate of the cost of the tribunal and who will bear the costs.

(AQW 9847/11-15)

Mr Wilson: The cases were withdrawn by the claimants. This was without settlement or concession. The Industrial Tribunal sat for four days.

In accordance with normal procedures in the Industrial Tribunal each side met its own costs. DFP's legal costs amounted to £68,260. The Department has no record of the claimants' costs.

Special Advisers: Pay Increase

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel, pursuant to AQW 1711/11-15, to detail (i) whether the First Minister and deputy First Minister were consulted about the increase; and (ii) whether other Ministers were consulted.

(AQW 9919/11-15)

Mr Wilson: I took the decision in my role as Minister with responsibility for civil service pay to set the upper limit of the pay band B for Special Advisers at £90,000.

Income Tax Personal Allowance: Reduction

Mr Weir asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel for his assessment of the number of pensioners that will be impacted by the reduction in Income Tax Personal Allowance.

(AQW 9942/11-15)

Mr Wilson: HMRC have published a summary of impacts of the reduction in the Income Tax Personal Allowance which states that in 2013-14, 4.41 million people aged 65 and over will be worse off compared to 2012-13 when RPI indexation to the age-related allowances is taken into account.

Corporation Tax: Devolution of Powers

Mr Weir asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel for his assessment of the potential impact of the cost of devolving corporation tax, following the Chancellor's announcement of a reduction in corporation tax.

(AQW 9943/11-15)

Mr Wilson: Full revised estimates of the impact of the Chancellor's announcement in the budget of a further percentage point reduction in the UK's main rate of corporation tax on the cost of devolving these powers to Northern Ireland have not yet been produced. This will be done as part of the work of Joint Ministerial Working Group on Rebalancing the Northern Ireland Economy which has a specific workstream on costs.

Broadly speaking, the lower rate for the UK has a first downward effect as the difference between the UK rate and any reduced rate for Northern Ireland will be smaller. However, alongside the budget, the Office of Budget Responsibility published revised increased (since their last estimate in November) estimates of future UK Corporation Tax receipts. Together these changes will impact on the other elements of the cost estimates such as profit shifting, tax motivated incorporation and the revenues from other taxes such as income tax and national insurance.

The Joint Ministerial Working Group aims to report during the summer and a decision will be taken by the Government on whether it will agree to the devolution of these powers following this. No updated cost estimates will be available until the final report of the Working Group.

Tax: Reduction in Top Rate

Mr Weir asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel for his assessment of the number of people in Northern Ireland that will be affected by the reduction in the top rate of tax from 50 percent to 45 percent.

(AQW 9944/11-15)

Mr Wilson: There are currently no estimates of the number of people in Northern Ireland affected by the reduction in the top rate of tax from 50 per cent to 45 per cent. However as part of Budget 2012, HMRC published a paper on 'The Exchequer effect of the 50 per cent additional rate of income.' This paper was used to inform the Exchequer estimates for the Budget 2012 measure to reduce the top rate of tax and gives further information on the reasons behind the reduction.

Suicide: Upward Trend

Mr S Anderson asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel, pursuant to AQW 9335/11-15, what analysis he has carried out on the upward trend in suicide among the (i) under 25; and (ii) over 45 age groups.

(AQW 9945/11-15)

Mr Wilson: The number of deaths registered and the death rate due to 'suicide and self-inflicted injury'<sup>1</sup> or 'undetermined injury whether accidentally or purposefully inflicted'<sup>2</sup> has more than doubled between 2003 and 2010 – Table 1.

Table 1: Registered deaths due to 'suicide and self-inflicted injury'<sup>1</sup> or 'undetermined injury whether accidentally or purposefully inflicted' and rate per 1,000 population, 2003-2010.

Over the last eight years the number of suicides registered has increased across all age-groups. However the proportion of suicides by age group has not changed markedly – Table 3.

Suicide varies by area. Generally the more deprived an area the more suicides there are to people living there. Over the last eight years 10% of suicides were to people living in the 20% least deprived areas. Three times more suicides (32%) were to people living in the 20% most deprived areas. In addition whilst the numbers have increased, the distribution across deprived areas has not changed over the last eight years – Table 4.

CPR: Staff Training

Mr Frew asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel what strategy is in place to train departmental staff in Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation.

(AQW 9970/11-15)

Mr Wilson: There is no statutory requirement for employers to train their staff in CPR techniques. There is however a statutory requirement to comply with first aid at work regulations – The Health and Safety (First Aid) Regulations (Northern Ireland) 1982. Employers have a legal duty to make arrangements to ensure their employees receive immediate attention if they are injured or become ill at work.

In compliance with those regulations, DFP has a network of first aiders across the various departmental sites. All these staff are trained in CPR as part of their first aider training.

Quangos

Mr Weir asked Minister of Finance and Personnel to detail (i) the quangos to which his Department makes appointments; (ii) how many members are appointed; and (iii) the remuneration paid to (a) the Chair; and (b) other members.

(AQW 9990/11-15)

Mr Wilson: Information about public appointments made by my Department to the Northern Ireland Building Regulations Advisory Committee, the Statistics Advisory Committee, the NI Authority for Utility Regulation and the Lay Observer for NI is set out in the Public Bodies and Public Appointments Annual Report, published by OFMDFM. The most recent report covers the period 2010/11 and is available from the OFMDFM website or from the Assembly Library's reference collection (Reference number R351.41609 NOR).

There are a further two bodies for which my Department makes appointments, the Public Service Commission and the Principal Civil Service Pension Scheme (NI) Governance Group. The number of members appointed to each body and the remuneration paid is listed in the table below.

| Bodies for which DFP make appointments                       | Number of members and remuneration |   |         |               |

Special Adviser: Ministerial Meetings

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel, pursuant to AQW 2596/11-15, whether the information requested is available and can be provided only for the period from the date of appointment of his current Special Adviser to 27 September 2012.

(AQW 10010/11-15)

Mr Wilson: The information requested is not readily available and can only be compiled at disproportionate cost.

Small Business Rate Relief Scheme: Multiple Premises

Mr Campbell asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel how many businesses in each council area, with more than three premises at the same address, will not qualify for the Small Business Rate Relief Scheme from 1 April 2012 but would have qualified if the premises housed separate businesses.

(AQW 10050/11-15)

Mr Wilson: Land & Property Services (LPS) is currently preparing to issue rate demands for the 2012/2013 rating year. In line with the Rates (Small Business Hereditament Relief) (Amendment) Regulations (Northern Ireland) 2012, LPS has taken steps to exclude businesses who occupy more than three premises (multiples) from entitlement to Small Business Rate Relief (SBRR).

Provision has been made, reflecting concerns raised during consultation, to deal with cases where a number of low value properties are situated together in one location. The Regulations provide that where each property within a group of properties is contiguous (generally adjoining) with another property in the group, the properties in the group have a combined Net Annual Value (NAV) not exceeding £10,000 and are occupied by the same person, the properties can still be treated as a single property for the purpose of the multiples exclusion. This is in line with the upper threshold for the scheme.

It has not been possible, in the time available and based solely on existing data, to determine exactly which of the properties excluded by LPS might be multiple units at the same location. It is anticipated that the numbers affected are very small.

Where LPS is made aware that the multiple properties are adjoining properties (contiguous) and the above criteria are met, LPS will amend the ratepayer's account to ensure that the relevant properties benefit from SBRR.

Apartment Management Companies: Reform

Mr McCarthy asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel, pursuant to AQW 5197/11, what progress has been made on the reform of apartment development management companies.

(AQW 10055/11-15)

Mr Wilson: I indicated in response to AQW 5081/11-15 that the Northern Ireland Law Commission had agreed to issue its consultation paper on multi-unit developments in June of this year.

My officials are in ongoing contact with the Commission and the stated timescale still stands.

Council Tax Relief: Service Personnel

Mr Swann asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel, in relation to the Council Tax Relief in the rest of the UK for service personnel serving abroad, whether he intends to introduce similar provisions.

(AQW 10110/11-15)

Mr Wilson: I would refer the Member to the reply I gave to AQW 10011/11-15 on 30 March 2012.

Public Sector: Regional Pay

Mr Storey asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel, in light of the Budget Statement, what discussions he intends to have with Treasury about regional pay for the public sector.

(AQW 10125/11-15)

Mr Wilson: I have already raised a number of serious concerns about any plans to move towards regional public sector pay rates, as did the Scottish and Welsh Finance Ministers, when we met with the Chief Secretary to the Treasury, Danny Alexander MP, prior to the Budget in March. I am very concerned the introduction of such a measure and any related block adjustment would have damaging implications for our local economic recovery. I also made it clear that I do not accept that national pay agreements harm the private sector in terms of staff recruitment or retention.

The Chancellor has asked the independent Pay Review Bodies to look at this issue and report their findings by July 2012. We have been advised that this work is at a very early stage and that there will be negotiations with each of the Devolved Administrations before a final decision is taken.

I can assure you that I will oppose any changes that I believe would harm Northern Ireland's economic recovery and I am sure that my Scottish and Welsh counterparts as well as representatives from a number of English regions will be doing the same.

Civil or Public Servants' Salaries

Mr McNarry asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel, in relation to the delay in answering AQW 8394/11-15 and AQW 9668/11-15, whether he can confirm that the delay is not due to the existence of individuals being paid through limited companies in the last five years.

(AQW 10130/11-15)

Mr Wilson: I can confirm that the delay in answering AQW 8394/11-15 and AQW 9668/11-15 is not due to the existence of individuals being paid through limited companies in the last five years.

Unemployment: North and West Belfast

Mr Humphrey asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel how many young people in (i) North; and (ii) West Belfast are currently unemployed; and what these figures represent as a percentage of the unemployed people in each constituency.

(AQW 10137/11-15)

Mr Wilson: The official measure of unemployment is sourced from the Northern Ireland Labour Force Survey (LFS). However, as a sample survey the LFS is not designed to provide unemployment for young people at parliamentary Constituency Area.

The following table is sourced to the claimant count measure of unemployment. This shows the number of young people (under 24) claiming unemployment related benefits in Belfast North and Belfast West at February 2012 and these figures as a percentage of the total claimant in each constituency.

| Parliamentary Constituency Area | Number Of Youth Claimants | Total Claimants in that Area | Percentage of Total Claimant |
|---------------------------------|---------------------------|------------------------------|------------------------------|
| Belfast North                   | 1,515                     | 5,235                        | 28.9                         |
| Belfast West                    | 1,660                     | 5,220                        | 31.8                         |

Data rounded to 5.

Figures do not include clerical claimants which make up less than 1% of total.

Percentage of total claimants is calculated using unrounded data.

Peace III Funding: Applications

Mrs McKeivitt asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel to detail (i) the women's organisations that applied to the Special EU Programmes Body for Peace III funding in the last five years; (ii) the successful applications; and (iii) the level of funding awarded to each organisation.

(AQW 10143/11-15)

Mr Wilson: Women's organisations that have applied for PEACE III funding in the past five years.

The following women's organisations applied directly to the Special EU Programmes Body (SEUPB) for PEACE III funding.

- Shankill Women's Centre
- Training for Women Network (TWN)
- Women's Aid Foyle

The following women's organisations applied for PEACE III funding under the Programme Theme Acknowledging and Dealing with the Past. This is delivered on behalf of SEUPB by a Consortium comprising the Community Relations Council (CRC) and Pobal.

- Falls Women's Centre
- Inishowen Women's Information Network
- Newry and Mourne Women Ltd
- South Armagh Rural Women's Network
- Training for Women Network (TWN)
- Women in Agriculture
- Women's TEC

Finally, there are 14 Peace and Reconciliation Action Plans developed at local authority level and approved by SEUPB. The following women's organisations applied for funding under these Plans.

- ATLAS Women's Centre
- Ballybeen Women's Centre
- Cookstown & District Women's Group
- Falls Women's Centre
- Irish Country Women's Association
- Kilcooley Women's Centre
- Kilcooley Women's Education & Development Group
- Louth Women's Network
- Mid Ulster Women's Network
- Newry and Mourne Women Ltd
- North Down & Ards Women's Forum
- North Leitrim Women's Centre
- Omagh Women's Area Network
- Second Chance Education for Women
- Shannon Valley Women's Group
- South Armagh Rural Women's Network
- Training for Women Network (TWN)
- Women of the World
- Women's Aid Foyle
- Women's Information Northern Ireland
- Women's Resource and Development Agency
- Women's TEC

Successful applications and level of funding awarded.

The following women's organisations were successful with their PEACE III applications and were awarded the amounts indicated.

Peace III Funding: Complaints

Mrs McKeivitt asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel to detail (i) the number of complaints his Department has received about the Special EU Programmes Body's Peace III Managing Authority; (ii) the nature of each complaint; and (iii) what action his Department has taken in relation to each complaint.

(AQW 10144/11-15)

Mr Wilson: The Department of Finance and Personnel has received eight complaints regarding the Special EU Programmes Body in its role as PEACE III Managing Authority.

The nature of each complaint and the action taken by the Department are detailed overleaf.

| Year | Nature of complaint  | Action taken  |
|------|--|---|
| 2007 | Insufficient guidance for local authorities in relation to PEACE III cluster arrangements.                 | Written response from Minister's Private Secretary advised of the guidance in place and responded to the specific queries raised.   |
| 2007 | Community background of PEACE III Monitoring and Steering Committee members.                               | Written response from Minister advised of the membership structure and the nominations process, and confirmed the responsibilities of SEUPB and DFP Minister to ensure that all groups are appropriately represented and all voices heard.  |
| 2008 | Community uptake of PEACE III funding.   | Written response from Minister noted importance of participation by all sections of the community and outlined research findings showing both main communities participating significantly. Also advised of SEUPB's outreach work with previously under-represented groups and communities.   |
| 2008 | Community background of PEACE III Steering Committee members.  | Written response from Minister.   |
| 2009 | Implementation of Freedom of Information Code of Practice.   | Written response from Minister noted that a DFP review of appropriateness of Freedom of Information Code of Practice to the North South and European Programmes work of SEUPB was in progress. Advised that consideration of the correspondent's request for information would be considered following completion of the review.  |
| 2009 | Implementation of Freedom of Information Code of Practice.   | Written response from Minister's Private Secretary advised of DFP review of Freedom of Information Code of Practice, and advised that SEUPB would contact the correspondent following conclusion of the review.   |
| 2011 | European Regional Development Fund publicity associated with an event perceived to be political in nature. | Correspondent's concerns raised with SEUPB. Written reply from Minister advised that SEUPB had written to the project expressing concern and requesting no such inappropriate use of Programme logos should be made in future. Minister also noted recent introduction by SEUPB of a code of conduct for projects in receipt of PEACE funding which should allow action to be taken in the event of similar situations in future. |
| 2012 | SEUPB handling of withdrawal of funding from PEACE III projects with irregular expenditure.                | Correspondent's concerns noted and raised with SEUPB.   |

Special EU Programmes Body: Staffing Review

Mrs McKeivitt asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel when a further review of the Special EU Programmes Body's staffing will take place.

(AQW 10145/11-15)

Mr Wilson: A further review of the Special EU Programmes Body's staffing will begin summer 2012 and will report before the end of the year.

Vacant Retail Premises: County Fermanagh

Mr Flanagan asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel to detail (i) the number and percentage of vacant retail premises in Co Fermanagh in each of the last eight years; (ii) the total floor space of all the current vacant retail premises; (iii) what action is being taken to ensure that the vacant premises do not detract from the appearance of towns and villages; and (iv) what action is being taken to fill the premises.

(AQW 10156/11-15)

Mr Wilson: Information on the number of vacant retail premises by county is not available as data is collated at District Council and Ward level only. Information is not available for the past eight years.

The table overleaf lists (i) the number, and (ii) associated floor space, of vacant retail premises in Fermanagh District Council as at 31st March 2010, 31st March 2011 and 25th March 2012 (which includes the earliest and latest dates for which comparable information is available).

Information on the total number of retail premises, and therefore the percentage which is vacant, in Fermanagh District Council is not available.

Vacant Retail Premises in Fermanagh District Council

|                       | Number of Vacant Retail Premises | Total Floor Space (m2) |
|-----------------------|----------------------------------|------------------------|
| As at 31st March 2010 | 147                              | 71,368                 |
| As at 31st March 2011 | 162                              | 66,014                 |
| As at 25th March 2012 | 178                              | 81,442                 |

Government at any level, is unable to interfere with the rights of private property owners, unless the property in question is dangerous in terms of posing a significant public safety or health risk. However, the Assembly has recently passed legislation from my Department that will encourage long term empty retail property back into use. 50% empty property relief will be available to new occupiers for the first year and this concession can be applied for during the current rating year, that is, to the end of March 2013. To qualify, the property must have been empty for at least a year and last used for retail purposes, however, there are no restrictions on the use that the property can be put to when reoccupied. Also, from 1st April, window displays in empty shops can be used to brighten up shopping areas without incurring full occupied rates. The display must be for community, artistic or non-commercial purposes in order to avail of the relief.

In addition, the Enterprise Minister recently announced that she will be carrying out a comprehensive consultation with the independent retail sector to identify areas of difficulty, develop a co-ordinated approach to helping the sector and explore what the Executive can do to help.

It is a matter for individual property owners to take action to encourage occupation of their premises. However, the measures outlined above should assist property owners to do so.

Capital/Revenue Costs: Departmental Spend

Mr Copeland asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel for an estimate of the annual additional cost to his Department of providing its services in our divided society, broken down by (i) capital; and (ii) revenue costs.

(AQW 10170/11-15)

Mr Wilson: Due to the number of variables involved, it is not possible for my Department to calculate the annual additional cost of service delivery.

Departmental Staff: Re-employment

Mr McGlone asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel, pursuant to AQW 7969/11-15, to detail (i) which branch each of the staff were employed in (a) prior to retirement; and (b) after retirement; and (ii) why the role for which they were rehired could not be carried out by a current member of staff.

(AQW 10245/11-15)

Mr Wilson: The information requested is detailed in the attached tables.

Person 1

|      |   |
|------|---|
| (ia) | Central Support Division  |
| (ib) | Information Management Unit   |
| (ii) | Section 45 of the FOI Act Code of Practice places a duty on the Department to put in place an appeals process to ensure applicants are able to ask for an internal review, if they are not content with the Department's decision on release. The review must be a fair and impartial means of reviewing decisions made during the original consideration. These reviews are time consuming and it is difficult for nominated senior staff to fit into their normal duties. This individual was rehired to carry out these reviews. |

Person 2

|      |   |
|------|---|
| (ia) | Departmental Solicitors Office  |
| (ib) | Departmental Solicitors Office  |
| (ii) | The Business Case, approved by the Permanent Secretary, demonstrated that the officer had specific skills and intimate knowledge of the project on which he was involved prior to retirement. No other member of staff possessed the necessary mix of skills and knowledge. |

Person 3

|      |  |
|------|--|
| (ia) | Land Registry (LPS)  |
| (ib) | Land Registry (LPS)  |
| (ii) | Land Registry was experiencing unprecedented demand for services and the number of applications received was at its highest ever. Many of the applications were complex and required consideration by the small legal team in Land Registry. At this time, the legal team were reduced in numbers due to staff being away from the office on maternity leave. The retired individual has extensive knowledge of Land Registration legislation, Land Registry practice and procedure and had previously used the Land Registry IT system on a daily basis. The Legal Team are qualified Solicitors/Barristers who deal with the most difficult cases in the Registry. There were no other staff within the Registry who could undertake work of this complexity. |

|      |   |
|------|---|
| (ia) | Census Office (NISRA)   |
| (ib) | Census Office (NISRA)   |
| (ii) | There were no appropriate members of staff available to carry out the role. |

Person 5

|      |  |
|------|--|
| (ia) | DSD - Analytical Services  |
| (ib) | Demography and Methodology Branch (NISRA)  |
| (ii) | The work was part of the review of the Noble or NI Multiple Deprivation Measures 2010. The work had a deadline for completion of the review and there were limited staff available. The retired person had five years experience in the Department for Social Development in a key element of the review having published a number of NICS wide reports in the period prior to his retirement. |

Banks: Redundancies

Ms Ritchie asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel what discussions he has had with his counterpart in the Republic of Ireland in relation to the negotiations between the Irish Bank Officials Association, the Allied Irish Bank and the First Trust Bank regarding the settlement for bank officials who face the prospect of redundancy, following the announcement by the Chief Executive of AIB to cut 2,500 jobs in the AIB/First Trust Group in order to deliver a fair and reasonable outcome for all stakeholders, including customers and staff.

(AQW 10280/11-15)

Mr Wilson: The Department of Finance and Personnel has no role in redundancy settlement negotiations for any staff group and I have not been involved.

Banks: North/South Ministerial Council Discussions

Ms Ritchie asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel what steps he will take to ensure that the decision of Allied Irish Bank Ltd to cut jobs in the banking sector on the island of Ireland, which will impact on the First Trust Bank, will be discussed at the next North-South Ministerial Sectoral Finance meeting and the North-South Ministerial Council meeting,

(AQW 10281/11-15)

Mr Wilson: I wrote to the Irish Minister for Finance on banking issues on 26th March 2012 and suggested in that we have a bilateral meeting in the margins of the next North-South Ministerial Council Plenary or Institutional meeting that we both attend. The next Institutional Meeting is scheduled for 27 April 2012 and the next Plenary meeting for 15th June 2012. I can assure you that we will discuss the issue of staffing levels at both AIB and First Trust.

In my previous discussions with Michael Noonan TD (Irish minister for Finance) and his predecessor regarding the potential impact of restructuring we have agreed that Northern Ireland should not be disproportionately affected.

There is no North South Ministerial Finance Sector. Special EU Programmes Sector meetings are attended by the Irish Minister for Public Expenditure and Reform and not the Minister of Finance.

Small Business Rate Relief Scheme: Multiple Premises

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel how many small businesses previously in receipt of the Small Business Rate Relief have been excluded from the scheme under the three or more premises rule introduced in 2012.

(AQW 10304/11-15)

Mr Wilson: The agreed policy is that businesses that occupy four or more properties (multiples) will be excluded from Small Business Rate Relief.

The number of small businesses previously in receipt of Small Business Rate Relief that have now been excluded from the scheme under the 'multiples' rule is 770.

This information is based on LPS initial investigations and may be subject to change after rate demands issue in April 2012.

Common Strategic Framework: Update

Mrs McKeivitt asked the Minister of Finance and Personnel for an update on the status of the Common Strategic Framework. (AQO 1766/11-15)

Mr Wilson: The Common Strategic Framework, a key guide to producing Cohesion Policy Programmes post 2014, is defined in Article 10 of the European Commission's draft Common Provisions Regulation for the 2014-2020 period which says: In order to promote the harmonious, balanced and sustainable development of the Union, a Common Strategic Framework shall translate the objectives and targets of the Union Strategy for smart, sustainable and inclusive growth into key actions for the CSF Funds.

The Common Strategic Framework will be adopted in final form only once the legislative package on Cohesion Policy Funding for the next Multiannual Financial Framework period 2014-2020, proposed on 6th October 2011, has been agreed by the European Parliament and the Council.

On 14 March 2012 the European Commission published a 'Staff Working Document on the Common Strategic Framework' and invited comments from European Institutions. As 'staff working documents' have no formal status this is for the purpose of promoting discussion.

The method by which the Common Strategic Framework will be adopted has not yet been agreed.

Department of Health, Social Services and Public Safety

Abortions: Statistics

Mr Wells asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety why detailed records are not available to explain why individual abortions are carried out at hospitals.

(AQW 9812/11-15)

Mr Poots (The Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety): At present, details explaining why abortions are carried out in Northern Ireland are held on the patient's medical records. This information is not currently recorded on the Patient Administration System (PAS) which provides data for the statistics collected by the Department.

Statistics collected by the Department do not currently allow for analysis of the reason that an abortion was carried out.

Given the clear public interest in this issue, I have asked officials to bring forward options for developing a new recording system.

Pain Management: Clinical Lead Specialist

Mr Durkan asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety whether he plans to appoint a clinical lead specialist for pain management.

(AQW 9901/11-15)

Mr Poots: There are no plans to appoint a clinical lead specialist for pain management in Northern Ireland at the present time; a number of specialist pain management clinics are provided by the HSC Trusts and GPs can refer patients to these clinics where they feel that their current pain management treatment is proving ineffective.

Human Embryos

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety how many human embryos have been destroyed in each year since the introduction of publicly funded IVF treatment.

(AQW 9917/11-15)

Mr Poots: It should be noted that the most common reasons that embryos are allowed to perish include that embryos are of poor quality and not suitable for transfer to the patient or cryopreservation, the end of the legal consent period for embryo storage has been reached or the couple withdraw consent to continued storage.

The figures for the numbers of embryos that have been discarded in the course of publicly funded treatment in Northern Ireland are given below (only available from 2006) –

| Year of treatment | Number of embryos discarded |
|-------------------|-----------------------------|
| 2006              | 1                           |

| Year of treatment | Number of embryos discarded |

Papers for Assembly Committees

Mr McKay asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety to detail all occasions in the last 12 months when his Department has made a presentation to an Assembly committee and provided papers pertaining to that presentation to the committee less than 48 hours beforehand.

(AQW 9931/11-15)

Mr Poots: Since the beginning of the current mandate, my Department's records indicate that there have been 44 evidence sessions where my Department has made a presentation to the Committee for Health, Social Services and Public Safety.

Of these, there have been four occasions where unavoidable circumstances meant that the relevant papers were provided to the Committee less than 48 hours beforehand. These were as follows;

- (i) A paper on Capital Priorities and 2011/12 Resource Budget was provided to the Committee on the morning of 15 June 2011 for consideration at its meeting held on the afternoon of 15 June 2011;
- (ii) A paper on 2010/11 Resource Spend and 2011/12 Budget was provided to the Committee on 19 September 2011 for consideration at its meeting held on 21 September 2011;
- (iii) A paper on the October Monitoring Round was provided to the Committee on 24 October 2011 for consideration at its meeting on 26 October 2011; and
- (iv) A paper on Primary Care Partnerships was provided to the Committee on 28 November 2011 for consideration at its meeting on 29 November 2011.

My Department endeavours to adhere at all times to the timescales set in Executive guidance for the provision of information between departments and committees.

Lambrum Tear Hip Surgery

Mr McElduff asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety to detail (i) the procedure from diagnosis to surgery of a lambrum tear to the hip; (ii) where surgery would take place; and (iii) all associated costs.

(AQW 9958/11-15)

Mr Poots: A labrum tear to the hip can be treated in a number of ways including a hip arthroscopy procedure.

Hip arthroscopy is a relatively new procedure and is currently only being performed by a few orthopaedic surgeons in the UK with the equipment and training available to carry out the procedure.

A hip arthroscopy service is not currently commissioned in Northern Ireland. In these circumstances the Health and Social Care Board (HSCB) has a process in place which supports referrals from clinicians to NHS providers in Great Britain. This process is facilitated via the Extra Contractual Referral (ECR) arrangements and requires a clinician responsible for the care and treatment of an individual patient to write to the HSCB making a request on clinical grounds for treatment by another provider.

The majority of transfers have been to Addenbrooke's Hospital Cambridge, Epsom General Hospital, Great Ormond Street Hospital for Children, Nuffield Orthopaedic Centre NHS Trust, and Wrightington Hospital.

The cost of a hip arthroscopy procedure is £ 5795.00. Due to the nature of travel arrangements for patients it is not possible to identify all costs specific to ECRs relating to this procedure.

The HSC Board is currently exploring opportunities with HSC Trusts to introduce this service locally.

Lambrum Tear Hip Surgery

Mr McElduff asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety why lambrum tear surgery is not carried out in out hospitals; and why all such surgery is carried out in England.

(AQW 9959/11-15)

Mr Poots: A labrum tear to the hip can be treated in a number of ways including a hip arthroscopy procedure.

Lambrum Tear Hip Surgery

Mr McElduff asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety to provide estimated comparative costings for lambrum tear surgery, if it was available in our hospitals, with the cost of the surgery and travel for patients who have travelled to England, in each of the last three years.

(AQW 9960/11-15)

Mr Poots: A labrum tear to the hip can be treated in a number of ways including a hip arthroscopy procedure.

Hip arthroscopy is a relatively new procedure and is currently only being performed by a few orthopaedic surgeons in the UK with the equipment and training available to carry out the procedure.

Quangos

Mr Weir asked Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety to detail (i) the quangos to which his Department makes appointments; (ii) how many members are appointed; and (iii) the remuneration paid to (a) the Chair; and (b) other members.

(AQW 9992/11-15)

Mr Poots: In my capacity as Minister for Health, Social Services and Public Safety I have responsibility for the appointment of the 17 Chairs and 138 Members of Arm's Length Bodies as detailed in Table 1 below: in addition, a Safeguarding Board for Northern Ireland is to be established in 2012 and a Chair 'Designate' has been appointed.

MRI Scans: Transfer to Republic of Ireland

Ms Lo asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety how many children were transferred by ambulance to the Republic of Ireland for an MRI scan (i) in 2011; and (ii) to date this year.

(AQW 10019/11-15)

Mr Poots: The information requested is not currently available and could only be provided at disproportionate cost.

However, information is available on the number of children currently waiting<sup>1</sup> for an MRI scan at each HSC Trust, and is given in the table below with the median waiting time band:

| HSC Trust               | No. children currently waiting for MRI scan <sup>2</sup> | Median waiting time band (weeks) |
|-------------------------|--|----------------------------------|
| Belfast                 | 332  | 6-9 weeks                        |

Group B Streptococcus: New-born Babies

Ms Brown asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety to detail the measures of prevention and services provided for new-born babies with a Group B Streptococcus infection.

(AQW 10020/11-15)

Mr Poots: The approach used throughout the UK to prevent Group B Streptococcal (GBS) in newborn babies is based on the identification of clinical risk factors.

The Royal College of Obstetricians and Gynaecologists (RCOG) published a guideline in 2003 on the "Prevention of Early Onset Neonatal Group B Streptococcal Disease". It advises healthcare professionals on the clinical assessment of individual women, including risk factors for GBS, and the indications for offering antibiotics during labour. Over 60% of cases of early-onset GBS infection are associated with identifiable risk factors and it is thought that the majority of severely affected cases could be prevented by targeting this group. The RCOG are currently updating their guideline and the revised version is expected to be published in the near future.

In Northern Ireland, the Chief Medical Officer and the acting Chief Nursing Officer have written to healthcare professionals to highlight the clinical management of GBS in pregnancy to ensure that those who are at risk are managed appropriately, and to emphasise the importance of pregnant women being made aware of the risks of GBS in pregnancy as part of their routine antenatal care.

All babies that are unwell will be assessed and treated depending on their clinical needs. Assessment will include testing for infections if this is clinically indicated. A baby with confirmed Group B Streptococcus infection will have treatment based on his or her individual clinical condition. This may include admission to a neonatal unit and treatment with antibiotics

Group B Streptococcus: Screening Programme

Ms Brown asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety for his Department's assessment of the benefits of introducing a Group B Streptococcus screening programme.

(AQW 10021/11-15)

Mr Poots: In Northern Ireland routine screening for Group B Streptococcal infection (GBS) is not provided. This policy is based on the advice of the UK National Screening Committee (NSC), the National Institute for Health and Clinical Excellence and the Royal College of Obstetricians and Gynaecologists.

The NSC is an expert body which advises the four UK Health Departments on screening programmes. The NSC has kept under review the evidence for screening for GBS infection and following the most recent review in 2008 the NSC re-affirmed its earlier advice that screening for GBS should not be offered. A further review is currently underway and the review report is expected to be available for consultation this spring.

I will consider carefully all opinions and scientific advice presented to me before making a final decision for Northern Ireland.

South Eastern Health and Social Care Trust: Payment of Sub-contractors

Mr McCarthy asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety what procedures the South Eastern Health and Social Care Trust has in place to check (i) if main contractors have paid electrical and mechanical sub-contractors; and (ii) the timescale within which the sub-contractors are paid.

(AQW 10057/11-15)

Mr Poots: Construction contracts entered into by the South Eastern Health and Social Care Trust after March 2010 contain a number of provisions that relate to the payment of subcontractors. These are as follows:

- A requirement that the Contractor will comply with the 'Code of Practice for Government Construction Clients and their Supply Chains' that includes a 'Model Fair Payment Charter' which sets out the values and arrangements relating to Fair Payment commitments and practices; and
- The Contractor will provide the (Design Team ) Lead Consultant with access to accounts to allow timeliness of payments to subcontractors and suppliers to be verified.

Construction contracts entered into by the South Eastern Health and Social Care Trust after January 2012 require the Contractor to provide at monthly intervals, an update on the payment status of first tier subcontractors using a 'Contractor's Subcontract Payment Report' template.

Patients: Treated in Great Britain

Mr Spratt asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety, for each of the last five years, to detail (i) the number of times patients from Northern Ireland have received treatment in hospitals in Great Britain; and (ii) the types of treatment received.

(AQW 10074/11-15)

Mr Poots: The table below shows, for each year and specialty, the number of times patients from Northern Ireland have been transferred to hospitals in Great Britain for inpatient treatment.

| Specialty                                     | Year      |           |           |           |           |

Prisoners: Prescription Medicine Overdoses

Mr B McCrea asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety how many prisoners have overdosed on prescription medicines in each of the last three years.

(AQW 10076/11-15)

Mr Poots: The South Eastern Health and Social Care Trust is responsible for the provision of prison healthcare services. The number of prisoners who have overdosed on prescription medicines across the three prison establishments is detailed in the table below:

| Year    | Number of prisoners who have overdosed on prescription medicines <sup>1</sup> |
|---------|---|
| 2009/10 | 23  |
| 2010/11 | 25  |
| 2011/12 | 35  |

1. These figures include confirmed overdoses along with alleged and suspected overdoses on prescription medicines.

Accident and Emergency Departments: Good Practice

Mr Kinahan asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety whether he has any plans to bring Accident and Emergency Department managers together to share good practice.

(AQW 10077/11-15)

Mr Poots: I want to ensure that the A&E services as currently commissioned maximise the opportunity for delivery of standards at acceptable levels of quality and safety and therefore the HSC Board has been asked for an assessment of each Trust's application of evidence based good practice in respect of optimising unscheduled care. In addition, the Health and Social Care Board, in liaison with the Public Health Agency has been asked to provide a robust action plan with immediate effect. A key initiative is to establish an Improvement Action Group with the aim of ensuring that long waiting times are addressed and the patient experience is improved. The Group will work with all Trusts across Northern Ireland and is intended to support Trusts in developing sustainable approaches to managing patient flow and will deal with all issues affecting emergency departments.

Accident and Emergency Departments: Waiting Times

Mr Kinahan asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety to outline the process through which patients are kept informed of waiting times whilst in triage at Accident and Emergency Departments.

(AQW 10078/11-15)

Mr Poots: I am advised that the clinical staff in emergency departments keep patients regularly informed of expected waiting times. Monitors located in emergency departments also display the expected length of wait.

I have asked the HSC Board to provide a robust plan of immediate actions to secure Improvement in Emergency Departments. A key initiative is the establishment of an Improvement Action Group. The aim will be to ensure that long waiting times in Emergency Departments are addressed. I want to see a number of areas explored including the triage process.

Accident and Emergency Departments: Triage Process

Mr Kinahan asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety whether he has any plans to reform the triage process for patients at Accident and Emergency Departments.

(AQW 10079/11-15)

Mr Poots: I am advised that the clinical staff in emergency departments keep patients regularly informed of expected waiting times. Monitors located in emergency departments also display the expected length of wait.

I have asked the HSC Board to provide a robust plan of immediate actions to secure Improvement in Emergency Departments. A key initiative is the establishment of an Improvement Action Group. The aim will be to ensure that long waiting times in Emergency Departments are addressed. I want to see a number of areas explored including the triage process.

Human Trafficking: Services for Victims

Mr Lyttle asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety how he is implementing the Human Rights Commission 2009 recommendation that a multi-agency approach led by the Department of Health, Social Services and Public Safety, together with the PSNI, should be established to co-ordinate services for victims of trafficking to and within Northern Ireland.

(AQW 10112/11-15)

Mr Poots: Responsibility for implementing the Council of Europe "Convention on Action against Trafficking in Human Beings" in Northern Ireland primarily falls to the Department of Justice. In February 2011, my Department with the Police Service of Northern Ireland (PSNI) issued "Working Arrangements for the Welfare and Safeguarding of Child Victims/Suspected Victims of Human Trafficking".

This Guidance sets out the actions to be taken by the PSNI and Health and Social Care Trusts in relation to lone or unaccompanied children, children in the care of an unsuitable adult and children who are recovered during Police operations where there is reasonable cause to believe that the child may be the victim of trafficking. The arrangements outlined in the Guidance are consistent with current child protection and looked after children guidance in Northern Ireland and the principles of the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child.

My Department, in partnership with the Department of Justice, is currently developing guidance with regard to responding to the needs of adult victims of human trafficking. We expect to be in a position to consult on this guidance later in the year.

Cancer Patients: North Antrim

Mr McMullan asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety to detail the number of cancer patients in the North Antrim area (i) who are currently receiving treatment; and (ii) who have died in each of the last three years, broken down by electoral ward.

(AQW 10115/11-15)

Mr Poots:

- (i) Table A below outlines the number of cancer patients<sup>1</sup> who received surgery, chemotherapy and/ or radiotherapy in the years 2007-2009 in North Antrim Assembly Area by Electoral Ward. For patient confidentiality reasons, the years have been grouped. The figures have been supplied by the Northern Ireland Cancer Registry and are the most up to date available.
  - (ii) Table B below outlines the number of deaths registered due to cancer<sup>1</sup> in North Antrim Assembly Area for each year between 2008 and 2010 by Electoral Ward. The figures have been supplied by the General Registry's Office and relates to the year of registration of death.
- 1 The ICD10 codes used to classify cancer are C00-C97. For a listing and explanation of ICD-10 codes see International Classification of Diseases for Oncology, 3rd Edition, World Health Organisation, Geneva, 2000. In total, out of 12,798 attendances by a resource at a hospital, turnaround time exceeded two hours on 72 occasions (this represents 0.6% of all attendances across the region).

Minimum Price Structure for Alcohol

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety for his assessment of the potential impact of EU competition rules on the introduction of a minimum price structure for alcohol.

(AQW 10117/11-15)

Mr Poots: Addressing the harm related to alcohol misuse is a key priority for my Department. To drive forward action on this issue, I recently launched the New Strategic Direction for Alcohol and Drugs Phase 2 (NSD), which is a cross-sectoral strategy to reduce the harm related to alcohol and drug misuse.

I am particularly concerned about how some alcohol products are priced, promoted and marketed, and the NSD Phase 2 raises these issues. Therefore, my Department has been working closely with the Department for Social Development who led a joint consultation on the principle of introducing minimum unit pricing in Northern Ireland.

Given the link between consumption and harm and the evidence that affordability is one of the drivers of increased consumption, addressing price could be a key component in any long-term strategic approach to tackling alcohol misuse. I believe that minimum unit pricing has the potential to be compatible with EU Competition requirements, however, the challenge is finding an appropriate balance between the promotion and protection of population health while not disproportionately interfering in the market or affecting competition.

That is why my Department and the Department for Social Development will shortly commission research to model the likely impact of this in Northern Ireland. This will help inform our future decisions in this area, and allow us to bring forward proposals which are proportionate, have a positive impact on mental and physical health and wellbeing and the criminal justice system, and are compatible with EU competition regulations.

It is important to note, however, that minimum unit pricing is only one part of our approach to this issue, and it is important we take a range of actions to address alcohol misuse across the population.

Holywell Hospital, Antrim: Building Assessment

Mr McGlone asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety when the last assessment of the structure, décor, patient comfort and safety and overall suitability of the main building at Holywell Hospital, Antrim, was carried out; and to detail its findings.

(AQW 10118/11-15)

Mr Poots: The latest assessment carried out by the Northern Trust and issued to my Department was received in May 2011. This recorded the following assessment for the Main Building at Holywell Hospital, Antrim.

The Block was assessed and graded under the following headings:

|                        |   |
|------------------------|---|
| Physical Condition     | Building Graded 'D' (Unacceptable)Engineering Graded 'D' (Unacceptable)   |
| Functional Suitability | Graded 'CX' (Below a standard that is reasonable and adequate and would be impossible or impractical to improve.)             |
| Statutory Standards    | Graded 'C' (Does not conform to statutory legislation but is capable of being upgraded to that level with minor expenditure.) |
| Space Utilisation      | Graded '3' (Adequate, in both provision and use.)   |

Overall Condition Indicators based on Physical Condition:

Rated as Red (Will reflect a building that is, or is becoming largely untenable as a point for the delivery of an HSS service or contains serious inherent risks to life.)

In addition, separate Patient Environment Surveys were carried out by the Department in March 2010. These surveys considered internal finishes and fittings including ceilings, walls, floors, lighting and sanitary ware etc. The following wards which are within the main block were graded as follows:

|         |                          | Beds | Rating |
|---------|--------------------------|------|--------|
| Inver 4 | Continuing care/dementia | 18   | 2      |

|           |                            | Beds | Rating |
|-----------|----------------------------|-------------|---------------|
| Inver 3   | Male continuing care       | 12          | 2             |
| Inver 1   | PICU female                | 6           | 2             |
| Carrick 1 | Addictions                 | 10          | 2             |
| Carrick 3 | Rehab                      | 14          | 2             |
| Carrick 4 | Male challenging behaviour | 12          | 2             |
| Lissan 1  | Male PICU                  | 9           | 2             |

Rating 2 – Good condition, minor upgrade required such as repair and repaint <25% of walls/replace <10% of floor finishes/minimal replacement of furniture, notice boards etc.

The Department is progressing the replacement of this facility and has asked the Northern Trust to submit a Strategic Outline Case for this project.

Patients: Transfer from Downe Hospital, Downpatrick, to Belfast

Ms Ritchie asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety how many patients have been transferred from the Downe Hospital, Downpatrick, between the hours of 10.00 pm and 8.00 am, to hospitals in Belfast in each month between 1 April 2011 and 29 February 2012.

(AQW 10119/11-15)

Mr Poots: In responding to this question, ‘hospitals in Belfast’ include those within the greater Belfast area (Royal Victoria, RBHSC, Mater, Royal Maternity and Ulster).

Information on the number of patients transferred from the Downe hospital to hospitals in the greater Belfast area between 10pm and 8am, each month since April 2011, is detailed below:

| Month   | Number of Patients |

Patients: Transfer from South Down to Belfast

Ms Ritchie asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety how many patients have been transferred from the South Down area, between the hours of 10.00 pm and 8.00 am, to hospitals in Belfast in each month between 1 April 2011 and 29 February 2012.

(AQW 10120/11-15)

Mr Poots: In responding to this question, ‘hospitals in Belfast’ include those within the greater Belfast area (Royal Victoria, RBHSC, Mater, Royal Maternity and Ulster), and the ‘South Down area’ is defined as the South Down Parliamentary Constituency.

It should be noted that information relates to calls responded to by the Northern Ireland Ambulance Service (NIAS) in the South Down Parliamentary Constituency, excluding transfer activity from Downe and Downshire hospitals.

Information on the number of patients transported by the NIAS to hospitals in the greater Belfast area from the South Down Parliamentary Constituency between 10pm and 8am, each month from April 2011, is detailed below:

| Month          | Number of Patients <sup>1</sup> |
|----------------|---------------------------------|
| April 2011     | 47                              |
| May 2011       | 36                              |
| June 2011      | 43                              |
| July 2011      | 51                              |
| August 2011    | 64                              |
| September 2011 | 54                              |
| October 2011   | 63                              |
| November 2011  | 43                              |
| December 2011  | 58                              |
| January 2012   | 61                              |
| February 2012  | 52                              |

Rare Diseases: Public Consultation

Mrs Overend asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety for an update on the public consultation on a UK plan for rare diseases.

(AQW 10121/11-15)

Mr Poots: The UK-wide public consultation on the UK plan for rare diseases was launched on 29 February 2012. All responses to the consultation are being submitted directly to the Department of Health in England to co-ordinate on behalf of the four UK Health Departments. When the consultation period ends on 25 May 2012, the four UK Health Departments will assess these responses to inform the final version of the plan and resulting implementation plan.

Accident and Emergency Departments: Impact of Patient Alcohol Intake

Mr Storey asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety what analysis he has carried out of the impact of patients' excessive alcohol intake on the pressures on Accident and Emergency Departments.

(AQW 10122/11-15)

Mr Poots: A study undertaken at Altnagelvin Hospital in 2009 indicated that around one third of all attendances had a direct link to alcohol. Studies in England and Scotland have sought to quantify the proportion of emergency department visits which are linked to alcohol misuse but these estimates showed a wide degree of variation. The Scottish Government has estimated that 25% of all attendances at emergency departments are alcohol related.

The alcohol consumption of people attending emergency departments, particularly those who accompany patients, can often result in nuisance and disturbance behavior which affects both staff and patients. I am meeting with the Minister of Justice on 16 April to discuss further how the problems caused by those threatening staff and patient safety can be addressed

I have not carried out an analysis of the impact of alcohol pricing on pressures on emergency departments.

Accident and Emergency Departments: Impact of Alcohol Pricing

Mr Storey asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety whether he has carried out any analysis of the impact of alcohol pricing on the pressures on Accident and Emergency Departments.

(AQW 10123/11-15)

Mr Poots: A study undertaken at Altnagelvin Hospital in 2009 indicated that around one third of all attendances had a direct link to alcohol. ### Hospital Beds

Mr Storey asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety to detail how Health and Social Care Trusts work together to ensure that best practice is followed when freeing up hospital beds

(AQW 10124/11-15)

Mr Poots: Trusts adhere to a hospital discharge policy whereby hospital, social work and community staff work closely together to undertake a multidisciplinary assessment in partnership with patients and families. Depending on this assessment, the Trust will discharge the patient either into intermediate care or other discharge pathways.

The HSC Board works with Trusts in a variety of ways to help ensure that best practice is followed when freeing up hospital beds. On an ongoing basis the Board works with Trusts to ensure that best practice approaches are deployed. The Board's unscheduled care audit team conducts a comprehensive audit with hospitals to ensure demonstrable improvement is evidenced.

In addition the HSC Board, in liaison with the Public Health Agency, have established an Improvement Action Group with the aim of ensuring that long waiting times are addressed and the patient experience is improved. The Group will work with all Trusts across Northern Ireland and is intended to support Trusts in developing sustainable approaches to managing patient flow and will deal with all issues affecting emergency departments

Pain Management: Training

Mr Durkan asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety what steps he intends to take to improve education and training for healthcare professionals in pain management.

(AQW 10133/11-15)

Mr Poots: Specific training in pain management in undergraduate and postgraduate education programmes is carried out across the range of healthcare professions. The training provided is subject to regular review and updated as necessary in line with emerging technologies.

Accident and Emergency Departments: Admissions due to Drug Abuse

Mr Durkan asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety how many patients, under the age of 18, have been treated in Accident and Emergency Departments in the Western Health and Social Care Trust area for the effects of illegal drugs in each of the last 12 months.

(AQW 10134/11-15)

Mr Poots: The information requested is not currently available and could only be provided at disproportionate cost.

Accident and Emergency Departments: Admissions due to Alcohol Abuse

Mr Durkan asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety how many patients, under the age of 18, have been treated in Accident and Emergency Departments in the Western Health and Social Care Trust area for the effects of alcohol in each of the last 12 months.

(AQW 10136/11-15)

Mr Poots: It is assumed that this question refers to the number of people under the age of 18 who have attended Accident and Emergency Departments in the Western Health and Social Care Trust area as a result of the effects of alcohol in each of the last 12 months.

The information requested is not currently available and could only be provided at disproportionate cost.

Alcohol Consumption

Mr Ross asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety to detail any statistics his Department holds on the level of alcohol consumption per capita; and how this compares with the Irish Republic, the United Kingdom as a whole, and other EU regions.

(AQW 10146/11-15)

Mr Poots: Information on the level of alcohol consumption per capita is not available for Northern Ireland. However, information from the following sources is available on the proportion of the Northern Ireland population who drink alcohol:

1. Adult drinking patterns in Northern Ireland - This report examines the amount of alcohol respondents consumed, when, where and what they drank, who they drank with, together with binge and problem drinking. The latest report is available at: http://www.dhsspsni.gov.uk/adult\_drinking\_patterns\_in\_northern\_ireland\_2011.pdf.

2. Health Survey Northern Ireland – Summary information on the percentage of respondents who reported drinking in excess of the weekly drinking limits can be found at: http://www.dhsspsni.gov.uk/health\_survey\_northern\_ireland\_-\_first\_results\_from\_the\_2010-11\_survey.pdf

Information on the proportion of people who drink alcohol in each UK jurisdiction and the Republic of Ireland is presented below:

Alcohol Consumption

Mr Ross asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety to detail the level of alcohol consumption per capita in each of the last ten years.

(AQW 10147/11-15)

Mr Poots: Information on the level of alcohol consumption per capita is not available. However, information is available on the proportion of the Northern Ireland population who drink alcohol and those who exceeded the daily and weekly recommended drinking levels for 2005, 2008 and 2011.

Proportion of Northern Ireland population who drink alcohol and those who exceeded the daily and weekly recommended drinking levels

|------|---|--|--|
| 2005 | 73  | 82   | 29   |
| 2008 | 72  | 81   | 24   |
| 2011 | 74  | 78   | 23   |

- 1 The current daily sensible drinking levels are no more than 4 units of alcohol for males and no more than 3 units of alcohol for females.
- 2 The current weekly sensible drinking levels are no more than 21 units of alcohol for males and no more than 14 units of alcohol for females.

Accident and Emergency Departments: Admissions due to Alcohol Abuse

Mr Ross asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety to detail the number of alcohol related admissions for Accident and Emergency Departments in each of the last ten years, broken down by hospital.

(AQW 10148/11-15)

Mr Poots: It is assumed that this question refers to the number of alcohol related attendances at Accident and Emergency Departments in each of the last ten years, broken down by hospital.

The information requested is not currently available and could only be provided at disproportionate cost.

Antrim Area Hospital: Delayed Discharges

Mr Swann asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety to provide a breakdown of the reasons for delayed discharges from the Antrim Area Hospital in each of the last three years.

(AQW 10151/11-15)

Mr Poots: My Department currently monitors information on delayed discharges from acute hospitals against the standard that:

'90% of complex discharges from an acute hospital setting take place within 48 hours of the decision to discharge; all non-complex discharges from an acute hospital setting take place within six hours of being declared medically fit; and, no discharge from an acute hospital setting takes longer than seven days.'

A delayed discharge refers to any patient remaining in hospital after the time they were deemed medically fit for discharge.

The table below presents information on the main reasons for discharges being delayed longer than the agreed length of time outlined above, at Antrim Area Hospital, during each of the last three years.

| Reason for Discharge Delay                              | 2009/10 | 2010/11 | 2011/12 <sup>1</sup> |

Accident and Emergency Departments: Acute Hospitals

Mr Campbell asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety to detail the change in the numbers and percentage increase of patients who presented at Accident and Emergency Departments in each of the acute hospitals between 1 September and 1 March in (i) 2011; and (ii) 2012.

(AQW 10152/11-15)

Mr Poots: The table below details the change in the number of new and unplanned review attendances at emergency care departments for the six month period from the start of September to the end of February in (i) 2010/11; and (ii) 2011/12:

Change in the Number of Attendances at Emergency Care Departments

Capital/Revenue Costs: Departmental Spend

Mr Copeland asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety for an estimate of the annual additional cost to his Department of providing its services in our divided society, broken down by (i) capital; and (ii) revenue costs.

(AQW 10171/11-15)

Mr Poots: Due to the number of variables involved, it is not possible for DHSSPS to calculate the annual additional cost of service delivery.

Antrim Area Hospital: Dr Ian Rutter

Mr Swann asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety to detail (i) Mr Ian Rutter's role at the Antrim Area Hospital in the last three months; (ii) when he was appointed to the role; (iii) whether his role was related to the assessment carried out by Mrs Mary Hinds; (iv) when he will report his findings; (v) to whom he will report; and (vi) whether his report will be published.

(AQW 10179/11-15)

Mr Poots: The Northern HSC Trust has advised that Dr Ian Rutter visited the Trust on 1 March 2012. He has been asked by the Trust and the HSC Board to provide support to the Trust in reviewing the interface between the acute sector and primary care. This role is in no way related to the recent support and assistance provided by Mrs Mary Hinds, which had a particular focus on unscheduled care at Antrim Area Hospital. Dr Rutter will report to the HSC Board public meeting in April 2012 and details of this report will be published

Accident and Emergency Departments: Admissions due to Drug Abuse

Mr Durkan asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety how many people under the age of 18 have been admitted to Accident and Emergency Departments in the Southern Health and Social Care Trust area as a result of drug abuse in each of the last 12 months.

(AQW 10201/11-15)

Mr Poots: It is assumed that this question refers to the number of people under the age of 18 who have attended Accident and Emergency Departments in the Southern Health and Social Care Trust area as a result of drug abuse in each of the last 12 months.

The information requested is not currently available and could only be provided at disproportionate cost.

Accident and Emergency Departments: Admissions due to Alcohol Abuse

Mr Durkan asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety how many patients, under the age of 18, have been treated in Accident and Emergency Departments in the Southern Health and Social Care Trust area for the effects of alcohol in the last 12 months.

(AQW 10202/11-15)

Mr Poots: It is assumed that this question refers to the number of people under the age of 18 who have attended Accident and Emergency Departments in the Southern Health and Social Care Trust area as a result of the effects of alcohol in each of the last 12 months.

The information requested is not currently available and could only be provided at disproportionate cost.

Dementia Services: Funding

Mr Durkan asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety whether any of the enhanced budget for research into dementia recently announced at Westminster will benefit dementia services in Northern Ireland.

(AQW 10203/11-15)

Mr Poots: I welcome the recent announcement from Mr Cameron detailing an increase in funding for dementia research. Research into dementia is vitally important if we are to provide improved diagnosis, more effective treatments and better outcomes for people living with dementia. Any developments resulting from research into this condition, whether they are made locally or internationally, will benefit people living with dementia everywhere through good practice and dissemination of new ideas.

While this research budget will have no direct impact on the levels of funding in Northern Ireland, the impact of dementia in the UK, and indeed world-wide, calls for a co-ordinated approach to research. Northern Ireland researchers and professionals will continue to collaborate with others to maximise the impact of research funding and expertise.

Rathfriland Fire Station: Smoke Alarm

Mr Brady asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety (i) whether smoke alarms are routinely installed in all fire stations; and (ii) whether a smoke alarm was installed at Rathfriland Fire Station where fire damage occurred recently.

(AQW 10205/11-15)

Mr Poots:

- (i) All two-storey and refurbished Fire Stations are fitted with fire alarms; these alarms include both smoke and heat detection. Non-refurbished single storey Fire Stations do not have a fire alarm system.
- (ii) Rathfriland Fire Station was a single storey station and, at the time of the fire in July 2009, no fire alarm was fitted. The current refurbishment programme for Rathfriland includes a fire alarm system providing smoke and heat detection.

Dental Services: Mid-Ulster Hospital

Mr McGlone asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety, in relation to the salaried dental service at the Mid-Ulster Hospital, Magherafelt, to detail (i) the number of adult and child patients currently registered; (ii) the costs, including building and capital costs, incurred in the set-up of this service; (iii) the total running costs incurred by the service in the last 12 months, including staff, maintenance, laboratory and materials; and (iv) the gross Health Service item of service fees generated by the service, including the patient contribution to Health Service charges, between 1 February 2011 and 31 January 2012.

(AQW 10208/11-15)

Mr Poots: The information to answer this question is set out below:

- (i) At 29 March 2012 there were 1,593 adult patients and 336 child patients registered with the Salaried Dental Service at the Mid-Ulster Hospital.
- (ii) The building costs for conversion of Ward 1 at the Mid-Ulster Hospital, including construction work and Estates Services costs, to two dental surgeries with a local decontamination unit, store, waiting area, reception and plant house was £161,137. The equipment/medical devices costs for two fully equipped dental surgeries including digital radiography were £101,415.

- (iii) The total running costs for the service in the last 12 months were £89,700.
- (iv) The gross Health Service item of service fees generated by the service, including the patient contribution to Health Service charges for the period 1 February 2011 to 31 January 2012 were £52,370. These fees are for activity associated with a dentist in place 3 days a week for 8 months, and 1 full time for the remaining 4 months.

Departmental Staff: Salaries

Mr Durkan asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety how many departmental staff are paid over £100,000 per annum.

(AQW 10213/11-15)

Mr Poots: Two senior officials in my Department are currently paid in excess of £100,000 per annum.

Gastroenterology: Consultants

Mr Copeland asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety how many consultants specialising in gastroenterology are employed by the Health Service.

(AQW 10219/11-15)

Mr Poots: The Northern Ireland Health and Social Care Trusts have advised that at April 2012, there were a total of 36 (34.0 Whole-time equivalent) consultants specialising in Gastroenterology employed within Northern Ireland Health and Social Care (Belfast Health and Social Care Trust return included joint academic appointments and Hepatology).

Healthy Food: Displays in Shops

Mr McKay asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety what steps his Department is taking to encourage shops to display fruit and other healthy foods more prominently where customers queue to pay for goods.

(AQW 10221/11-15)

Mr Poots: I launched the cross-sectoral Framework for Preventing and Addressing Overweight and Obesity in Northern Ireland 2012-2022: A Fitter Future for All on 9 March 2012. This Framework contains outcomes regarding the accessibility of foods within a variety of settings and includes specifically:

- food retailers encouraged and enabled to consider reducing point of sale placement of foods which are high in fat, salt, sugar and increasing exposure to promotion of healthier foods;
- increased availability and consumption of healthy foods, particularly fruit and vegetables; and
- healthier food options are available and accessible to the whole population.

My Department has no specific authority to impose restrictions on what is available to customers at Point-of-Sale, however we are working closely with key stakeholders to encourage shops make healthier options more accessible. Implementation of the outcomes above will be primarily led by the Food Standards Agency Northern Ireland (FSANI) and the Public Health Agency (PHA).

The FSANI is working towards encouraging the promotion of healthy foods in a variety of settings and is working with the PHA to achieve this. In relation to Point-of-Sale choices the FSANI are currently:

- arranging one-to-one information meetings with retailers;
- setting up a retailing forum group representing retailers in Northern Ireland; and
- working jointly with the PHA to support Dietitians and Environmental Health Officers in the delivery of food labelling workshops and supermarket tours for targeted groups of consumers.

At present, the PHA is not engaged in activity directly with retailers, however it is engaged in a range of activity focussed on the wider food sector and in particular the catering sector including actions such as:

- working in partnership with HSC Trusts and the Food Standards Agency to deliver accredited nutrition training for Environmental Health Officers from local councils;
- working in partnership with local councils and HSC Trusts to develop a new healthier catering award for Northern Ireland; and
- contributing to the implementation of policies and guidelines for a number of key groups and settings, including health service facilities, leisure facilities in councils and schools.

Mental Health: Assistance for Families

Mr Ross asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety what assistance is provided for families in which members suffer from mental health problems.

(AQW 10233/11-15)

Mr Poots: Community mental health staff are encouraged to involve families in treatment and care plans where this is acceptable to all parties. Carer advocates can also provide support and advice.

Northern Ireland is well served by a number of voluntary organisations working in the mental health field. The key organisations include: The Northern Ireland Association for Mental Health, Action Mental Health, Aware Defeat Depression, Threshold, Mindwise and CAUSE. Each organisation provides a range of advice, community services to help individuals, families and carers with mental health needs recover from their illness and rehabilitate them to enjoy fulfilling lives in the community. CAUSE provides services specifically for carers of people with mental health problems.

Brain Injuries: Assistance for Families

Mr Ross asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety what assistance is provided for families in which members suffer from brain injuries.

(AQW 10234/11-15)

Mr Poots: The HSC across NI provides a comprehensive range of services both for people who have suffered brain injuries and their families. Services provided range from domiciliary care, respite care, day opportunities, in-patient care, supported living options, multi-professional support, and aids and equipment commensurate with their assessed needs.

In addition, my Department published a two-year Acquired Brain Injury Action Plan on 5 July 2010, following public consultation the previous year. The main purpose of the Action Plan was to provide clear, time-bound goals to drive service improvement and to coordinate action in order to improve outcomes for patients (regardless of age), their families and carers.

Brain Injuries and Mental Health Problems: Respite Services

Mr Ross asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety what respite services are available for people with (i) brain injuries; and (ii) mental health problems who are aged (a) under 35; (b) between 35 and 60; and (c) over 60.

(AQW 10235/11-15)

Mr Poots: The information is not available in the format requested.

Brain Injuries: Numbers Treated

Mr Ross asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety how many people have been treated for brain injuries in each of the last five years.

(AQW 10236/11-15)

Mr Poots: The number of people who have been treated in an inpatient setting during each of the last five years where brain injury was recorded as the primary diagnosis is shown in the following table:-

| Year | Individuals Treated for Brain Injuries |
|-------------|---|
| 2006/07     | 466   |
| 2007/08     | 555   |
| 2008/09     | 578   |
| 2009/10     | 568   |
| 2010/11     | 537   |

Oasis Dental Care

Mr McGlone asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety, in relation to Oasis Dental Care, to detail (i) the number of adult and child patients currently registered; (ii) the costs, including building and capital costs, incurred in the set-up of this service; (iii) the total running costs incurred by the salaried dental service at Oasis Dental Care in the last 12 months, including staff, maintenance, laboratory and materials; and (iv) the gross Health Service item of service fees generated by Oasis Dental Care, including the patient contribution to Health Service charges, between 1 February 2011 and 31 January 2012.

(AQW 10247/11-15)

Mr Poots: The information to answer this question is set out below:

- (i) In March 2012, there were 37,938 adult and 9,423 child patients registered with Oasis Dental Care practices.
- (ii) & (iii) The set up and running costs for Oasis Dental Care practices are met by Oasis Dental Care as part of their contract with the HSC Board and are not held by my Department or the HSC Board. The value of the contract with Oasis Dental Care for the provision of dental services is £5.7 million per year.
- (iv) Oasis Dental Care are paid on the basis of their contract with the HSC Board and do not receive item of service payments. However, based upon the item of service treatments carried out by Oasis practices between 1 February 2011 and 31 January 2012, the gross Health Service item of service fees, including patient contributions, which would have been generated by Oasis Dental care work is estimated at £1,520,000.

Prostate Cancer Patients: Abiraterone

Mr McCarthy asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety what consideration his Department has given to providing abiraterone for prostate cancer patients, given that it has been made available on prescription in Wales.

(AQW 10257/11-15)

Mr Poots: Any decision on the provision of abiraterone for prostate cancer patients is a matter for each Health jurisdiction to determine separately.

I can advise that the prostate cancer abiraterone whilst not currently approved by NICE, can be accessed by patients in Northern Ireland through the Individual Funding Request (IFR) process if their consultant considers the drug to be of benefit to them. All cases are dealt with on an individual basis and considered on its merits.

NICE published a draft technology appraisal on 1st February 2012 which does not recommend the use of abiraterone. This guidance has now been issued for consultation. NICE is due to publish the final guidance in June 2012; however this date may change should any revisions to the guidance be required as a result of the consultation.

Occupational Therapy: Review of Provision

Mrs Cochrane asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety for an update on the Public Health Agency review of occupational therapy provision at special educational needs and mainstream schools.

(AQW 10258/11-15)

Mr Poots: Following Belfast Health and Social Care Trust's review of occupational therapy provision in special schools in Belfast, the Public Health Agency (PHA) on behalf of the Health and Social Care Board (HSCB) has been tasked to undertake a regional review of how Allied Health Professional (AHP) services, including occupational therapy, are accessed by children in mainstream and special schools. The aim is to ensure equity of access to these key services for all children across Northern Ireland, based on need and irrespective of what kind of school they attend. It is hoped that the review will get under way shortly and the PHA will seek to employ a collaborative, multi-agency approach and plans to work in partnership with the Department of Education and the Education Library Boards.

Pharmacies: Annual Rural Payment

Mr Durkan asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety to list the pharmacies that will receive an annual rural payment from his Department.

(AQW 10268/11-15)

Mr Poots: I announced to the Assembly on the 13 March 2012 that an additional £8m funding was to be made available in the 2011/2012 financial year to support new services, improve premises and support staffing of community pharmacies particularly in rural and deprived areas. I can confirm that some 73 pharmacies have received the rural support payment in 2011/12. This payment, the criteria for which will be subject to review, is tiered to reflect dispensing activity and payable to pharmacies greater than 1km away from the nearest pharmacy.

Under the Data Protection Act 1998 it would be inappropriate for me to release data relating to payments made to any named pharmacy practice or individual as the information is considered commercial in confidence.

Slievemore Nursing Unit

Mr Durkan asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety whether his Department has any plans to close the Slievemore Nursing Unit in the Foyle constituency.

(AQW 10269/11-15)

Mr Poots: Slievemore Nursing Unit is a unit providing specialist services for people with dementia who present with challenging behaviour. Placements in the unit are allocated on a temporary basis and are kept under continual review with a view to returning people to their own accommodation or nursing care home where their needs can be met appropriately in the long term.

The Trust is currently in the process of reviewing Older Peoples Mental Health Services for both inpatient and community services including Slievemore Nursing Unit. No decision has been made regarding the future provision of services at Slievemore Nursing Unit

Abortions

Mr Agnew asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety, for each of the last five financial years, to detail (i) the number of pregnancies terminated in each Health and Social Care Trust area, and the reasons for the procedures; (ii) for an estimate of the number of pregnancies terminated in the private sector; and (iii) the number of patients treated by each Health and Social Trust area in connection with a termination not carried out by Trust.

(AQW 10274/11-15)

Mr Poots:

- i) The number of pregnancies terminated, in each Health and Social Care Trust, in each of the last five years is shown below. Information on the reasons for the procedures is not collected currently centrally, but I have asked officials to consider how this can be introduced.

| HSC Trust              | Number of Abortions |         |         |         |         |

Source:- Hospital Inpatient System (HIS)

- * In line with the Office of National Statistics (ONS) guidance, appropriate cells have been masked to protect patient confidentiality.
- ii) It is not possible to provide an estimate of the number of pregnancies terminated in the private sector.
- iii) Information is not available on the number of patients treated by each Health and Social Care Trust area in connection with a termination not carried out by the Trust.

Accident and Emergency Department: Causeway Hospital

Mr McKay asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety how many staff worked in the Accident and Emergency Department at the Causeway Hospital, Coleraine, in January (i) 2004; (ii) 2006; (iii) 2008; (iv) 2010; and (v) 2012.

(AQW 10286/11-15)

Mr Poots: The information requested is provided in the tables below. This information has been obtained directly from the Northern Health and Social Care Trust and has not been validated by the Department.

Medical staff employed at Causeway Hospital by Grade and Year

| Grade | Causeway Hospital Medical Staff |                      |                       |

Ministerial Cars and Drivers

Mr Copeland asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety to detail (i) the number of departmental staff who have availed of ministerial cars and drivers in each of the last three years; (ii) the cost of providing the service; and (iii) whether the benefit derived is subject to income tax.

(AQW 10296/11-15)

Mr Poots: The Department does not maintain detailed records of officials who use the Ministerial car. At all times, however, the car is used only for Departmental business.

During 2011/12 the cost to the Department of providing the service was £34,178. Prior to April 2011, DFP met the cost of the Ministerial car service.

The occasional use of the Ministerial car by officials provides good value for money for the Department, as it reduces the level of travel costs incurred by those officials. There are no income tax implications.

Nursing Homes: Running Costs

Mr Elliott asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety to detail the percentage increase in the running costs of nursing homes for elderly people in each of the last two years.

(AQW 10317/11-15)

Mr Poots: All nursing homes for elderly people in Northern Ireland are run by the independent sector. As such the Department does not have details of the costs of running these homes.

Dental Screening: Schools

Mr Agnew asked the Minister of Health, Social Services and Public Safety to detail (i) his Department's policy in relation to the screening of school children to collect data on oral health; (ii) what school screening was carried out in 2011/12 and who provided the service; and (iii) what programme of school screening is planned for 2012/13 including who will provide the service.

(AQW 10326/11-15)

Mr Poots:

- The DHSSPS discontinued routine school dental screening in 2008 following advice from the National Screening Committee (NSC) to the UK Chief Dental Officers that there is no evidence to support the continued population screening for dental disease among children aged 6-9 years. The Health and Social Care Board plan to pilot new arrangements to collect robust oral health data from school children and it is hoped to commence this pilot in autumn 2012.
- No school screening was carried out in 2011/12.
- The HSCB is planning a pilot programme in 2012/13 for the collection of oral health data from school children. It is proposed that the pilot programme will be undertaken by general dental practitioners contracted to the HSCB.

Department of Justice

Drivers: Fines for No Insurance

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice, pursuant to AQW 7874/11-15, on how many occasions in the last ten years a fine of £5000 has been imposed for driving without insurance; and, in the absence of a maximum fine being imposed during this time, what was the highest fine imposed.

(AQW 8658/11-15)

Mr Ford (The Minister of Justice): Uninsured driving is an offence under Article 90(4) of the Road Traffic (Northern Ireland) Order 1981.

The table below gives the maximum fines imposed for the offence of using a motor vehicle without insurance for the calendar years 1999 to 2008 (the latest year for which figures are currently available).

Maximum fines for uninsured driving, 1999-2008

| Year | Size of maximum fine | Frequency of convictions |
|------|----------------------|--------------------------|
| 1999 | £2000                | 1                        |
| 2000 | £1500                | 1                        |
| 2001 | £1000                | 2                        |
| 2002 | £5000                | 1                        |
| 2003 | £800                 | 2                        |
| 2004 | £1000                | 5                        |
| 2005 | £5000                | 1                        |
| 2006 | £3505                | 1                        |
| 2007 | £1500                | 1                        |
| 2008 | £1000                | 9                        |

Data are collated on the principal offence rule; only the most serious offence for which an offender is convicted is included.

Data for 1999-2006 should not be directly compared with data from 2007 to 2008 as the data sets are sourced from different systems.

HMP Maghaberry: Incident on 30 June 2011

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice, in relation to the incident in HMP Maghaberry on 30 June 2011 (i) what damage was caused; (ii) what was the cost of repairing the damage; (iii) in what section of the prison the incident occurred; (iv) whether any staff were injured; (v) how many prisoners were involved; and (vi) what action was taken against those involved.

(AQW 9693/11-15)

Mr Ford: Parts (i), (iv), (v) and (vi) were answered in AQW 4125/11-15. Part (ii) was answered in AQW 3777/11-15. (iii) Roe House.

Badger Baiting

Mr Weir asked the Minister of Justice what action his Department is taking to combat badger baiting.

(AQW 9777/11-15)

Mr Ford: The most relevant statutory protection for badgers is contained in the Wildlife (Northern Ireland) Order 1985. In particular, Article 10 of the Order makes it an offence intentionally to kill, injure or take a badger. The maximum punishment for this summary offence is a level 5 fine (currently £5,000). Policy responsibility for the protection of wild animals does not lie with my Department, but the police have powers of enforcement under the Order. The exercise of these powers is an operational matter for the Chief Constable.

Sex Offenders: Release from Prison

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice whether, as a matter of public protection, he will communicate to victims through the Department's agencies the reasons why sex offenders are being released from prison.

(AQW 9792/11-15)

Mr Ford: Sentenced offenders are released in line with statutory requirements.

A range of information on release dates and conditions is provided to those victims who register with the statutory victim information schemes run by the Northern Ireland Prison Service, the Probation Board for Northern Ireland and the Department of Justice.

Prisoners: Release of Murderers/Sex Offenders

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice to outline the standard procedure that is followed when a prisoner convicted of murder or a sexual offence is being (i) prepared for release; and (ii) released; and whether such prisoners will remain on licence after they are released.

(AQW 9794/11-15)

Mr Ford: Following a prisoner's assessment and committal, a sentence plan is devised which sets out the work to be undertaken in custody to address offending behaviour and meet other needs. The prisoner would then be referred to appropriate interventions to assist them address their risk of re-offending and support their resettlement. Prior to release their risk of reoffending is assessed and plans developed for their release from custody. Where appropriate, cases are referred to the Parole Commissioners for Northern Ireland and/or to Local Area Public Protection Panel meetings.

In many cases individuals will be released on licence and supervised by the Probation Board for Northern Ireland. The length of the licence period is dependent on the type of sentence imposed. Life sentence prisoners remain on licence for the rest of their lives.

Prison Service Staff: Personal Protection

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Justice whether Prison Service staff will continue to receive firearms and security equipment for their homes for personal protection.

(AQW 9808/11-15)

Mr Ford: It is not appropriate for me to comment on issues of personal protection.

Prison Service: Voluntary Early Retirement Scheme

Mr Allister asked the Minister of Justice to outline the decision process used to select the first officers to leave under the Strategic Efficiency and Effectiveness Programme.

(AQW 9813/11-15)

Mr Ford: A Voluntary Early Retirement Panel, which included representatives from the Department of Finance and Personnel and the Department of Justice ensured that individuals were released from NIPS in line with the criteria outlined in the Voluntary Early Retirement Scheme launch documentation. The criteria followed are:

- 1 the number of staff, as far as possible, to match the required reductions in the number of posts in that grade;
- 2 account to be taken of the NIPS operational requirements;
- 3 in the event of a greater number of eligible staff applying than can be released for each grade, selection to be made on a least cost basis.

During the selection process a number of staff at the Principal Officer and Main Grade Officer grades were identified as being of equal ranking in terms of cost and operational requirements. The VER Panel used a random selection process to determine which officers would leave on the 31 March 2012. This is in line with the Northern Ireland Civil Service procedures.

Ewa Pietrzycka: Case Costs

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice for a breakdown of the costs associated with the case of Ewa Pietrzycka, who was acquitted of a charge of theft for goods totalling £10.18.

(AQW 9852/11-15)

Mr Ford: Final costs in the case of Ewa Pietrzycka are not yet known. A breakdown of the estimated costs associated with the case is set out in the table below.

| Cost Type                                 | Estimated Cost   |
|---|------------------|
| PPS Prosecution <sup>1</sup>              | £500.00          |
| PSNI Prosecution <sup>2</sup>             | £714.30          |
| Defence (Legal Aid Costs) <sup>3</sup>    | £7,140.00        |
| Court: Judiciary, Staff                   | £871.16          |
| Jury Costs                                | £201.89          |
| Facilities (e.g. Courtroom Accommodation) | £220.00          |
| Total                              | £9,647.35 |

Notes:

- 1 The PPS does not hold records of total time spent preparing the case but the final cost of the case is unlikely to exceed £500.00.

- 2 These are the only identifiable PSNI costs and include the investigation of the offence, attendance at court and administrative costs.
- 3 As this case only concluded on 5 March, the claims for payment have just recently been submitted. As such, the final legal aid fees have not yet been assessed and paid.

Sexual Offences Prevention Orders: Breaches

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice how many cases involving alleged breaches of Sexual Offences Prevention Orders are currently in the (i) Magistrates'; and (ii) Crown Court systems, broken down by court division.

(AQW 9853/11-15)

Mr Ford: As of 25 March 2012 there were 18 prosecutions for breach of a Sexual Offences Prevention Order before the courts. The table below details the breakdown by court tier and County Court Division.

| Court Tier            | Division            | Number of Cases |
|-----------------------|---------------------|-----------------|
| County Court (Appeal) | Craigavon           | 1               |
| Crown Court           | Antrim              | 2               |
|                       | Belfast             | 1               |
| Magistrates' Court    | Antrim              | 2               |
|                       | Ards                | 1               |
|                       | Armagh & South Down | 1               |
|                       | Belfast             | 4               |
|                       | Fermanagh & Tyrone  | 1               |
|                       | Londonderry         | 5               |
| Total          |                     | 18       |

Forensic Evidence: Delays

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice how many Magistrates' Court cases, in each of the last five years, have been adjourned two or more times due to forensic evidence delays, broken down by court division.

(AQW 9854/11-15)

Mr Ford: The reasons for adjournments in the Magistrates' Court are not recorded in this level of detail and therefore information is not available to answer the question in the format sought.

However, an adjournment monitoring exercise is currently operating in Londonderry Magistrates' Court and records cases where the reason for an adjournment is that the case is 'Not Ready – Forensics'.

As of 29 February 2012 there were ten cases in Londonderry Magistrates' Court which were adjourned on two or more occasions for this reason. The table below sets out the breakdown by calendar year.

| Year <sup>[1]</sup>     | Number of cases adjourned on two or more occasions |
| 2010 <sup>[2]</sup>     | 1  |
| 2011                    | 8  |
| 2012 (up to 29.02.2012) | 1  |

[1] 2011 and 2012 figures are provisional

[2] Fully operational in late 2010

Prisons: Contraband Items

Mrs D Kelly asked the Minister of Justice to list every contraband item discovered in each prison facility in the past 12 months. (AQW 9904/11-15)

Mr Ford: A list of contraband items discovered in the 12 months up to 29 February 2012 is set out in the tables at Annex A. The finds are grouped according to type. Many of the items confiscated are not prohibited items but were in excess of entitlements.

Cigarettes: Illegal Import

Mr Ross asked the Minister of Justice how many prosecutions and convictions there have been for the sale or importing of illegal 'white' cigarettes in each of the last five years.

(AQW 9911/11-15)

Mr Ford: The information requested is not available from the Department of Justice's databases. Court conviction and sentencing datasets do not distinguish cigarette smuggling from other evasion of duty or intent to defraud offences which would be prosecuted under the Customs and Excise Management Act 1979 and/or the Criminal Attempts and Conspiracy (Northern Ireland) Order 1983.

HM Revenue & Customs has provided the following data on tobacco duty convictions. These convictions relate to all types of non UK duty paid tobacco products including cigarettes and hand rolling tobacco. It is not possible to identify the numbers of prosecutions brought nor is it possible to distinguish the brands or type of goods involved in each of these individual cases.

Number of convictions for UK duty paid tobacco product offences by calendar year, 2006/07 – 2010/11

| Calendar year | Convictions |
|----------------------|--------------------|
| 2006/07              | 8                  |
| 2007/08              | 16                 |
| 2008/09              | 25                 |
| 2009/10              | 12                 |
| 2010/11              | 7                  |

Cigarettes: Illegal Import

Mr Ross asked the Minister of Justice what action his Department has taken, in conjunction with the PSNI, to tackle the increasing prevalence of illegal 'white' cigarettes.

(AQW 9912/11-15)

Mr Ford: Tobacco fraud is primarily a matter for HMRC; however in 2009 at the Cross Border Organised Crime Seminar law enforcement agencies on both sides of the border formed a Cross Border Tobacco Fraud Enforcement Group. The aim of the group is to identify key criminal gangs involved in this activity and to use a partnership approach to ensure their disruption.

Members of the Enforcement group include representatives of HMRC, Revenue Commissioners, An Garda Síochána, PSNI, SOCA, UKBA and the Criminal Assets Bureau.

Gerry McGeough

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice, pursuant to AQW 3357/11-15, what action he intends to take to address the disparities in the matter.

(AQW 9920/11-15)

Mr Ford: In AQW 3357/11 I provided an answer which clearly set out the conditions for this prisoner. This information is a matter of public record and I do not intend to take any further action.

Pre-sentence Reports: 2011

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice how many pre-sentence reports were ordered at (i) Magistrates Courts; and (ii) Crown Courts in 2011, broken down by court division.

(AQW 9922/11-15)

Mr Ford: The table below details the total number of court ordered pre-sentence reports ordered during calendar year 2011, broken down by court tier and County Court Division.

Table: Number of Pre-Sentence Reports Ordered in calendar year 2011

| Court Tier         | Division            | Total        |
|--------------------|---------------------|--------------|
| Crown Court        | Antrim              | 174          |

Thomas Ward: Serious Case Review

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice (i) why Thomas Ward qualified as rehabilitated on release; (ii) why, in spite of assessments, he remained classed as a Category 3 sex offender; and (iii) whether he will order a Serious Case Review into this matter.

(AQW 9924/11-15)

Mr Ford: I cannot comment on the detail of individual cases, but refer the Member to my answers to AQW 9695/11-15 and AQW 9331/11-15.

Policing and Community Safety Partnerships: Costs

Mr P Ramsey asked the Minister of Justice to detail the cost of (i) restructuring the District Policing Partnerships; and (ii) recruiting independent members of the reformed Policing and Community Safety Partnerships.

(AQW 9932/11-15)

Mr Ford:

- (i) There is no cost directly attached to this reform, as activity and funding previously related to DPPs will now be transferred directly to PCSPs.
- (ii) The process of appointing independent members to Policing and Community Safety Partnerships (PCSPs) is a function of the Northern Ireland Policing Board. As the process is not yet complete, the final costs are not available.

Prisoners: Drug Use

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice, pursuant to AQW 9007/11-15, what quantity of the stated drugs were found and over what period of time.

(AQW 9982/11-15)

Mr Ford: Pursuant to AQW 9007/11-15 the tables below outline the quantities of drugs found for the period 1 January 2009 to 31 December 2011.

| Maghaberry | No. of Finds | Amount   |

| Non specified   | 348             | 3 tabletsunspecified |

* Non specified drugs – not identified at time of find.

* Unspecified amounts – finds not counted or weighed.

Drugs: Legal Highs

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice whether he will introduce legislation to ban the sale, possession and supply of legal highs.

(AQW 9983/11-15)

Mr Ford: Under section 151 and Schedule 17 of the Policing and Social Responsibility Act 2011, legislative amendments were made to the Misuse of Drugs Act 1971 to introduce Temporary Class Drug Orders to tackle the issue of legal highs across the whole of the United Kingdom. These Orders, which commenced on 15th November 2011, temporarily ban, up to a maximum period of twelve months, any substance or product that was not already a classified substance under the Misuse of Drugs Act and any substance that could be misused and is having or is capable of having harmful effects.

Northern Ireland is subject to these regulations and it is my understanding that there is no need for separate legislation at this time.

Forensic Science NI: Average Analysis Times

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice what is the average time taken by Forensic Science NI to analyse evidence; and what case is currently waiting the longest within the system.

(AQW 9984/11-15)

Mr Ford: It is not possible to provide an average time taken for the analysis of evidence as FSNI conducts a broad range of examinations and analyses across many different science specialisms. Many of the investigations are also bespoke and involve multiple sequential examinations on multiple exhibits.

The oldest case currently being analysed relates to an exhibit submitted to FSNI for drugs analysis on 6 July 2011. The case involves a new designer drug and FSNI is awaiting production by a national reference standard synthesis laboratory of a certified reference sample of the new substance in order to finalise the analysis and interpretation to evidential standards.

Prisoners: Deliberate Damage to Prisons

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice, pursuant to AQW 9460/11-15, how many instances of deliberate damage have occurred in these facilities in the last five years; and how many criminal charges were brought as a result.

(AQW 9985/11-15)

Mr Ford: Table A below details the number of instances of deliberate damage which have occurred in each prison facility in the last five years.

Table A

|               | 2007 | 2008 | 2009 | 2010 | 2011 |
|---------------|-------------|-------------|-------------|-------------|-------------|
| Maghaberry    | 86          | 53          | 70          | 208         | 197         |
| Magilligan    | 6           | 15          | 22          | 12          | 26          |
| Hydebank Wood | 45          | 89          | 101         | 142         | 190         |

Woodlands does not hold separate records regarding deliberate damage caused by a child. The majority of work would be deemed as operational routine maintenance.

There have been a total of 50 crimes reported to the police over the past five years regarding damage caused at each prison facility.

Table B below shows the progress to date in investigating and prosecuting individuals for these offences:

Table B

|   |    |
|---|----|
| Persons convicted   | 1  |
| Persons charged   | 3  |
| Reported to PPS – decision pending                                      | 12 |
| Reported to PPS – summons issued  | 11 |
| Reported to PPS – no prosecution decision returned                      | 2  |
| Investigation ongoing   | 6  |
| Investigation filed pending further evidence                            | 1  |
| Investigated – no persons made amenable                                 | 9  |
| Prison declined to make statement/dealing with through internal process | 5  |

Woodlands may report incidents of criminal damage to the PSNI when deemed necessary. There have been five reported incidents since 2007.

Juvenile Court Cases

Lord Morrow asked Minister of Justice how many cases involving juveniles are currently in the (i) Magistrates'; and (ii) Crown Court systems, broken down by court division.

(AQW 9986/11-15)

Mr Ford: As of 26 March 2012 1,018 cases involving 1,022 youth defendants were in the court system. The table below details the breakdown by court tier and County Court division.

| County Court Division | Crown Court | Magistrates' Court | Totals      |
|-----------------------|-------------|--------------------|-------------|
| Antrim                | 3           | 112                | 115         |
| Ards                  | 6           | 146                | 152         |
| Armagh & South Down   | 2           | 76                 | 78          |
| Belfast               | 7           | 332                | 339         |
| Craigavon             | 0           | 121                | 121         |
| Fermanagh & Tyrone    | 5           | 138                | 143         |
| Londonderry           | 0           | 70                 | 70          |
| Total          | 23   | 995         | 1018 |

Notes:

- 1 Data is extracted from a live operational database and will change on a daily basis.
- 2 Data includes cases where a youth defendant is charged with an adult

For the purposes of this question, a youth defendant is defined as a defendant under the age of eighteen years.

Firearms (Northern Ireland) Order 2004

Mr Swann asked the Minister of Justice when he intends to consult on the amendments to the Firearms (Northern Ireland) Order 2004, particularly in regard to Sections 104 and 105.

(AQW 9994/11-15)

Mr Ford: A consultation document on proposals to vary firearms licensing fees and on a limited number of miscellaneous amendments to the Firearms (Northern Ireland) Order 2004 is currently being finalised. There are ongoing exchanges on the fees element with PSNI and the Department of Finance and Personnel consultant. When a final draft of the document is available, comments will be invited from the Justice Committee and, subject to those comments, a public consultation will follow.

Prisons: Offensive Weapons

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice, pursuant to AQW 8930/11-15, (i) how many prisoners did this involve in each facility; (ii) how many were charged with criminal offences; and (iii) how each case was handled.

(AQW 10024/11-15)

Mr Ford: Possession of unauthorised or prohibited articles would ordinarily be dealt with as a breach of Prison Rules. The information requested is not available without an individual check on each adjudication record for offences under Prison Rule 38 (12) Possession of Unauthorised Articles. Not all finds have occurred in circumstances where a prisoner can be made amenable.

There is no cross referencing of finds with charges dealt with under prison rules or referred to the police.

Firearms (Northern Ireland) Order 2004

Mr Swann asked the Minister of Justice from which bodies, individuals, consultative or representative groups his Department is awaiting feed back before a public consultation is launched on the proposals to amend the Firearms (Northern Ireland) Order 2004, specifically in regard to Sections 104 and 105.

(AQW 10026/11-15)

Mr Ford: A consultation document on proposals to vary firearms licensing fees and on a limited number of miscellaneous amendments to the Firearms (Northern Ireland) Order 2004 is currently being finalised. There are ongoing exchanges on the fees element with PSNI and the Department of Finance and Personnel consultant. When a final draft of the document is available, comments will be invited from the Justice Committee and, subject to those comments, a public consultation will follow.

Firearms (Northern Ireland) Order 2004

Mr Swann asked the Minister of Justice whether there is any legislative or other reason for not proceeding with a public consultation on the proposals to amend the Firearms (Northern Ireland) Order 2004, specifically in regard to sections 104 and 105.

(AQW 10027/11-15)

Mr Ford: A consultation document on proposals to vary firearms licensing fees and on a limited number of miscellaneous amendments to the Firearms (Northern Ireland) Order 2004 is currently being finalised. There are ongoing exchanges on the fees element with PSNI and the Department of Finance and Personnel consultant. When a final draft of the document is available, comments will be invited from the Justice Committee and, subject to those comments, a public consultation will follow.

Prison Service Staff: Inmate Complaints

Mr McKay asked the Minister of Justice, pursuant to AQW 8928/11-15, for his assessment of why the number of complaints against Prison Service officers rose from 382 in 2010 to 665 in 2011.

(AQW 10028/11-15)

Mr Ford: The complaints procedure was changed in 2010 to ensure that all complaints were recorded on the prison service Prison Record Information and System Management (PRISM) database. This includes verbal as well as written complaints. Previously many of these would have been resolved informally without being recorded.

The change in the complaints procedure was accompanied by additional training for staff and management, including use of PRISM. The change was also communicated to prisoners.

Police Injury Award Arrangements: Review

Mr Campbell asked the Minister of Justice what was the outcome of the Review of Police Injury Award Arrangements which was to be undertaken after June 2010.

(AQW 10043/11-15)

Mr Ford: The Panel responsible for conducting the Review of the Police Injury Award Arrangements issued an interim report in June 2010. The final report, which issued on 30 September 2010, included 17 recommendations for improving the injury on duty award process. A copy of the report is available on the Department's website.

The average appeal processing time at the time of the Review was 62 weeks.

Since June 2010 the average processing time has been reduced to 24 weeks.

Gerry McGeough: Legal Aid

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice, pursuant to AQW 9334/11-15, for a breakdown of the £8034.78 paid from legal aid on disbursements.

(AQW 10053/11-15)

Mr Ford: The amounts paid in disbursements at the Crown Court total £6,851.67 and are detailed as follows:

|                     |                 |
|---------------------|-----------------|
| Cardiologist report | £350.00         |
| Cardiologist report | £400.00         |
| Hospital Notes      | £30.00          |
| GP report           | £60.00          |
| Law searcher        | £5250.00        |
| Translation         | £761.67         |
| Total        | £6851.67 |

The amounts paid in respect of the Judicial Review total £660.65 and are detailed as follows:

|                 |                |
|-----------------|----------------|
| Stamp Duty      | £598.65        |
| Copy Order      | £10.00         |
| Ex parte Docket | £52.00         |
| Total    | £660.65 |

Disbursements were paid under the Green Form Scheme in relation to advice and assistance provided in relation to the Court of Appeal as follows:

Copy transcript of original trial - £419.64

In addition mileage paid under The Green Form Scheme (PACE) is treated as a disbursement. The amount paid in respect of mileage was £102.82.

Gerry McGeough: Dirty Protest

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice whether prisoner Gerry McGeough is on protest; and if so, when his protest began and what is the nature and manner of his protest.

(AQW 10054/11-15)

Mr Ford: Gerry McGeough is not currently engaged in the “dirty protest” that is being staged by a number of separated prisoners in Roe House, Maghaberry Prison.

Human Trafficking: Prevention/Prosecution

Mr Lyttle asked the Minister of Justice what his Department is doing to assist in the prevention of human trafficking, the protection of victims and survivors and prosecution of the perpetrators of this crime.

(AQW 10081/11-15)

Mr Ford: The OCTF, which I chair, has an Immigration and Human Trafficking sub group which brings together a range of organisations, including representatives from the Department of Justice, to work in partnership to identify opportunities to arrest, disrupt and seek prosecution of traffickers.

A number of initiatives have either been taken or are in train. For instance, I launched the “Blue Blindfold” campaign last year to raise awareness of human trafficking. The OCTF has also produced a leaflet for potential victims, “Visitor or Victim?” Opportunities are taken to raise awareness by attendance at conferences and other events on human trafficking. For example, a police representative and I spoke at an event, “Beautiful Slave” in Bangor on 29 March.

The OCTF is also taking forward an initiative called “Changing the Mindset” which is a research project seeking to identify ways in which the OCTF can better engage with the public to raise awareness of organised crime, including human trafficking. In addition, I will be consulting shortly on proposed offences concerning trafficking to ensure that Northern Ireland is compliant with the EU Directive on Human Trafficking. This consultation document will also invite comments on how the Department might better engage with non-governmental bodies on the topic.

My Department funds a comprehensive support package for adult victims of human trafficking, currently delivered by Migrant Helpline and Women’s Aid, and is working with DHSSPS, Amnesty International and the Law Centre on a guide for frontline health service staff who engage with adult victims of human trafficking.

Gerry McGeough: Legal Aid

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice, pursuant to AQW 9334/11-15, whether the total amount paid includes solicitor and counsel expenses; and how much was claimed on (i) mileage; and (ii) travel time.

(AQW 10084/11-15)

Mr Ford: The total amount stated in AQW 9334/11-15 included payments made to solicitor and counsel.

The amounts paid in respect of travel and mileage are detailed below:

Representation provided under the Police and Criminal Evidence Act:

Mileage            £102.82 (No VAT payable)

Travel Time       £279.24 (excluding VAT).

Fees paid to the solicitor for representation at the Magistrates' Court include:

Mileage            £323.82 (excluding VAT)

Travel Time       £744.58 (excluding VAT).

Fees paid to the solicitor for representation at the Crown Court include:

Mileage            £80.68 (excluding VAT)

Travel time       £622.07 (excluding VAT).

No fees have been paid to the Senior or Junior Counsel in respect of travel or mileage for the Crown Court proceedings.

Under the Civil Legal Aid Scheme mileage and travel time were paid to the solicitor in respect and the breakdown is as follows:

Mileage            £15.71 (excluding VAT)

Travel time       £110.25 (excluding VAT).

Youth Offenders: Day Release

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice to outline the procedure to monitor convicted youth offenders whilst they are on day release; and what management exists to ensure that (i) release terms are adhered to; and (ii) no further offences are committed.

(AQW 10086/11-15)

Mr Ford: The power to grant leave (and to attach conditions) rests with the Director of Woodlands Juvenile Justice Centre in accordance with Schedule 2 Article 4 of the Criminal Justice (Children) (Northern Ireland) Order 1998.

Home leave and other absences from the Centre are granted in accordance with policies and procedure for home leave and mobility. Each episode of home leave or mobility, except in the case of emergency medical treatment, is planned and agreed in advance with partner agencies such as PBNI and PSNI as part of a programme to re-integrate and rehabilitate the young person.

Home leave can either be escorted or unescorted and a contract is agreed in advance with the young person and their parents or carers. The amount of contact will vary depending on the risk assessment that is undertaken and the stage in their sentence. Consideration will also be given to the young person's behaviour whilst in custody and on previous home leave if any. Most home leave will involve meetings with Youth Justice Agency and/or PBNI staff, and involve contact with the young person and their parents or carers during their period of absence from the Centre.

Prisoners: Drug Use

Lord Morrow asked Minister of Justice, pursuant to AQW 9007/11-15, (i) how many prisoners did this involve in each facility; (ii) how many were charged with criminal offences; and (iii) how each case was handled.

(AQW 10087/11-15)

Mr Ford: Possession of drugs in prison would ordinarily be dealt with as a breach of Prison Rules unless the quantities involved were such that a charge of Possession with Intent to Supply was warranted. The information requested is not available without an individual check on each adjudication record for offences under Prison Rule 38 (12) Possession of Unauthorised Articles. Not all drugs finds have occurred in circumstances where a prisoner can be made amenable. There is no cross referencing of finds with charges dealt with under prison rules or referred to the police.

Prisons: Full-body Imaging

Mr McKay asked the Minister of Justice when the pilot scheme using full body imaging scanners in Maghaberry Prison will begin.
(AQW 10088/11-15)

Mr Ford: In my statement to the Assembly on 26 March I made clear my intention to initiate a pilot of Full Body Imaging Scanners, as soon as the necessary authorisation for use of this technology in prisons is obtained.

I am not yet in a position to be definitive about the detail of the pilot.

Capital/Revenue Costs: Departmental Spend

Mr Copeland asked the Minister of Justice for an estimate of the annual additional cost to his Department of providing its services in our divided society, broken down by (i) capital; and (ii) revenue costs.

(AQW 10094/11-15)

Mr Ford: At my request there is an ongoing exercise within the Department of Justice to identify and quantify the costs incurred within the Department's expenditure as a result of divisions. I will not be in a position to answer this question until that exercise has been completed, at which time I will write to the Member.

Airport Constables

Mr Beggs asked the Minister of Justice how many airport police constabulary officers have been employed in the (i) Belfast International Airport; (ii) George Best Belfast City Airport; and (iii) City of Derry Airport in each of the last five financial years.

(AQW 10129/11-15)

Mr Ford: Airport constables are employed at Belfast International Airport only. Article 19 of the Airports (Northern Ireland) Order provides that they are appointed by and are under the exclusive control of the private airport operator. The number of those employed is not routinely held by the Department. The PSNI has primacy for policing throughout Northern Ireland including the airports at Belfast International, Belfast City and the City of Derry.

Airport Constables: Belfast International Airport

Mr Beggs asked the Minister of Justice for his assessment of the security implications and the repercussions for PSNI resources as a result of the reported compulsory redundancies of 8 of the 21 Airport Constabulary Officers based at Belfast International Airport.

(AQW 10131/11-15)

Mr Ford: Security arrangements and risk assessments are continually reviewed by airport management in conjunction with the PSNI and other key partners in line with a UK-wide framework. Any implications for policing by the Police Service of Northern Ireland at Belfast International Airport are an operational matter for the Chief Constable, who is accountable to the Northern Ireland Policing Board.

Prisoners: Political Prisoner Classification

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice whether the term 'political prisoner' is recognised by his Department and the Prison Service; whether all prisoners are treated the same regardless of their perception regarding status.

(AQW 10164/11-15)

Mr Ford: Neither my department nor the Prison Service recognises the term "political prisoner". There is no such prisoner classification. There are however offenders in prison who claim to be politically motivated. Prisoners in Northern Ireland are treated equally according to the rules and procedures that apply to them.

Human Trafficking: Cannabis Factories

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice how many people convicted of operating cannabis factories over the last five years have been found to be victims of human trafficking.

(AQW 10165/11-15)

Mr Ford: The Department of Justice came into existence on 12 April 2010. Statistics on the number of people convicted of operating cannabis factories who have been found to be victims of human trafficking before that date are a matter for the previous department.

The Public Prosecution Service (PPS) has confirmed that the status of a suspect of this offence as a victim of human trafficking is not held in a form that enables statistics to be gathered. If a prosecutor considers that a defendant is the victim of human trafficking and therefore takes a decision not to prosecute in the Public Interest then a note to that effect is held on the file. The PPS is developing a policy which will include guidance for prosecutors on how to make decisions in relation to possible offences committed by those who have been trafficked. The draft policy states that the PPS will consider each case on its own merits and having regard to the seriousness of the offence committed. The policy further states that evidence or information to support the fact that the suspect has been trafficked and has committed the offence whilst in a coerced situation, will be considered as a strong public interest factor mitigating against prosecution.

Barry Boardman/Francis Peter Carleton: Legal Aid

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice how much has been paid in legal aid in the cases of Barry Boardman and Francis Peter Carleton; and what is the estimated final total.

(AQW 10166/11-15)

Mr Ford: To date, a total of £19,840.70 has been paid to the solicitors representing the defendants in the Magistrates' Court.

The case has been listed for hearing in the Crown Court and both defendants have pleaded not guilty. It is not possible to provide an accurate estimate of the final cost of the Crown Court trial at this time.

Prisoners: Day Release

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice, pursuant to AQW 9145/11-15, to outline the nature of the reporting restrictions that are in place and how they relate to specific charges against juveniles rather than the protection of individual identities.

(AQW 10167/11-15)

Mr Ford: Article 22 of the Criminal Justice (Children) (Northern Ireland) Order 1998 sets out the restrictions on the reporting of criminal proceedings against children. Section (a) of Article 22 of the Order requires that

“no report shall be published which reveals the name, address or school of the child or includes particulars likely to lead to the identification of the child”.

Further reporting restrictions may be imposed by a Court depending on the nature of the alleged offence and/or for the protection of the identity of the defendant, the injured party or vulnerable witnesses.

Hydebank Wood: New Facility

Mr Copeland asked the Minister of Justice to outline his plans for a new women’s facility at Hydebank Wood; and what sites in Hydebank are available for such a facility.

(AQW 10172/11-15)

Mr Ford: I plan to publish an Outline Estate Strategy for the Northern Ireland Prison Service later this month. As that strategy has not yet been finalised I do not think it is appropriate for me to pre-empt its conclusions although I intend that the strategy will address the issue of a new facility for women offenders.

It is also my intention that the outline strategy will be subject to public consultation.

Courthouse Closures: Service Users

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice what is the average weekly number of service users at each of the courthouses which are under consultation for proposed closure, including staff, legal representatives, defendants, witnesses, probation officers, the PSNI and the press.

(AQW 10228/11-15)

Mr Ford: The NI Courts & Tribunals Service does not routinely collect data on the number of court users that attend Hearing Centres. However, the average number of cases listed each week during 2011 in the five Hearing Centres was:

|             |    |
|-------------|----|
| Bangor      | 97 |
| Larne       | 44 |
| Limavady    | 66 |
| Magherafelt | 76 |
| Strabane    | 69 |

All defendants or parties listed may not appear at the court hearing and a legal representative may appear for one or more cases on a list.

Information for the Magherafelt and Strabane exit surveys was collected over a period of seven hearing days at each courthouse. During this period 88 court users were surveyed in Magherafelt and 74 in Strabane.

Marian Price: Cell and Exercise Area

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice for what purpose is Marian Price’s cell and exercise area at Maghaberry Prison, which cost £2,257 to refurbish, being used.

(AQW 10229/11-15)

Mr Ford: The cell is occupied by another prisoner and the exercise area is being used by those prisoners now resident in Glenn House.

Magherafelt/Strabane Magistrates’ Courts: Exit Surveys

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice, pursuant to AQW 8726/11-15, over how many days the exit surveys were carried out at (i) Magherafelt; and (ii) Strabane Magistrates Courts.

(AQW 10230/11-15)

Mr Ford: The NI Courts & Tribunals Service does not routinely collect data on the number of court users that attend Hearing Centres. However, the average number of cases listed each week during 2011 in the five Hearing Centres was:

|             |    |
|-------------|----|
| Bangor      | 97 |
| Larne       | 44 |
| Limavady    | 66 |
| Magherafelt | 76 |
| Strabane    | 69 |

All defendants or parties listed may not appear at the court hearing and a legal representative may appear for one or more cases on a list.

Information for the Magherafelt and Strabane exit surveys was collected over a period of seven hearing days at each courthouse. During this period 88 court users were surveyed in Magherafelt and 74 in Strabane.

Human Trafficking: Legislation

Lord Morrow asked the Minister of Justice whether he plans a public consultation on the issue of human trafficking; and to outline a timescale for introducing legislation on this matter.

(AQW 10285/11-15)

Mr Ford: I launched a public consultation on 5 April on two aspects concerning human trafficking. First the document invites comments on legislative amendments involving new offences which are required to ensure Northern Ireland is compliant with the EU Directive on Human Trafficking. It also invites comments on how the Department of Justice can engage better with non-government and other organisations on human trafficking issues. I plan to include the legislation amendments in the upcoming Justice Bill, which will be introduced after the Assembly's summer recess this year.

Legal Aid: Personal Information

Mr Campbell asked the Minister of Justice which recipients of legal aid payments endeavoured to prevent the release of such information by the NI Legal Services Commission.

(AQW 10303/11-15)

Mr Ford: In advance of the annual publication of the top 100 fee earners, and in compliance with its responsibilities under the Data Protection Act, the Commission notifies the Law Society, the Bar Council, individual practitioners and firms of the information that it intends to publish.

Under the Data Protection Act individuals may raise issues in respect of the publication of personal information. The process relating to issues raised by one individual have not been finalised and that person's name could not be included in the published list.

HMP Maghaberry: Full-body Imaging

Mr Elliott asked the Minister of Justice when the pilot scheme to use full-body imaging scanners will commence in HMP Maghaberry; and for a breakdown of the estimated costs of this initiative.

(AQW 10321/11-15)

Mr Ford: In my statement to the Assembly on 26 March I made clear my intention to initiate a pilot of Full Body Imaging Scanners, as soon as the necessary authorisation for use of this technology in prisons is obtained.

I am not yet in a position to be definitive about the detail of the pilot.

Rural Crimes

Mr Kinahan asked the Minister of Justice for his assessment of how rural crimes are currently categorised; and whether he has any plans to review the categorisation.

(AQW 10327/11-15)

Mr Ford: How rural crimes are currently categorised is a matter for the Chief Constable, who is accountable to the Northern Ireland Policing Board. I am committed to respecting the operational independence of the Chief Constable and the role of the Policing Board.

You may therefore wish to direct your question to the PSNI.

Department for Regional Development

Traffic: Saintfield/Crossgar Road

Mr McNarry asked the Minister for Regional Development what measures are planned to ease traffic pressures, particularly at peak times, between the Belfast side of Saintfield and the Crossgar Road; and whether any additional measures are planned. (AQW 9745/11-15)

Mr Kennedy (The Minister for Regional Development): My Department's Roads Service has advised that it is aware of the congestion problems at the junction of Main Street/Crossgar Road/Killyleagh Road, Saintfield, especially during peak hours. This junction is controlled by traffic signals and I understand that these signals have now been set to optimise the throughput of vehicular traffic, especially during peak hours.

This recent adjustment to the traffic signals has alleviated the congestion of traffic on Main Street and increased safety for right turning vehicles from the Killyleagh Road.

With regard to a by-pass of Saintfield, in the current financial climate of reduced budgets and other competing schemes, a by-pass for Saintfield would not feature highly on a priority list and be highly unlikely to proceed in the foreseeable future. Should budgetary constraints change in the future, then I am happy to review this issue.

A5: Compensation for Farmers

Mr Eastwood asked the Minister for Regional Development how he will ensure that all farmers who are forced to sell land to accommodate the proposed A5 will be fairly compensated. (AQW 9935/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: When my Department acquires land compulsorily for proposed road schemes, it does so under the Roads (Northern Ireland) Order 1993 and the Local Government Act (Northern Ireland) 1972.

All landowners affected as a direct consequence of the vesting order to accommodate the proposed A5 scheme will be entitled to compensation for any land taken, for losses to retained land due to severance and injurious affection and to costs incurred. Claims for compensation will be independently assessed by the District Valuer within the Department of Finance and Personnel's Land & Property Services. In the event that agreement cannot be reached, the matter may be referred to the Lands Tribunal for Northern Ireland for determination.

CPR: Staff Training

Mr Frew asked the Minister for Regional Development what strategy is in place to train staff (i) in his Department; and (ii) who work on public transport in Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation. (AQW 10016/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: My Department complies with the requirements of the Health and Safety (First-Aid) Regulations (Northern Ireland) 1982 (as amended) by ensuring that an appropriate proportion of its staff receive first aid training which incorporates instruction in providing Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation.

Similarly, Translink complies with the 1982 Regulations by providing training in first aid, including Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation. Translink also has a small number of volunteer staff trained in the use of defibrillators, which are provided at main Translink locations across Northern Ireland.

Gritting Schedule: Traffic Volume

Mr McKay asked the Minister for Regional Development, pursuant to AQW 7945/11-15, why five roads with traffic volume of less than 1,000 vehicles per day were added to the gritting schedule. (AQW 10025/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: My Department's Roads Service has advised that the roads were added to the gritted schedule under the remote settlement criteria, that is, small settlements in rural areas containing 100 dwellings or more, which have no salted links to roads on the main salted network. The five roads are:-

- Tirkeeran Road and Glen Road, Garvagh;
- Gortnaghey Road, Limavady;
- Brankinstown Road, Aghalee; and
- Blackskull Road, Donaghcloney.

Bonds: Roads Service

Mr McMullan asked the Minister for Regional Development whether any of the bonds presented to his Department are now under the ownership or care of the National Asset Management Agency or any of the banks.

(AQW 10029/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: My Department's Roads Service has advised that although it is aware that the National Asset Management Agency may have taken over ownership of a number of development sites, the bonds will remain with the original bondsman/surety.

With regard to bonds held by banks, this form of surety is the most common method used by developers, and bonds are currently in place with the following banks:-

- AIB Group (UK) PLC T/A First Trust Bank
- Anglo Irish Bank Corporation PLC
- Bank of Scotland (Ireland) Ltd
- First Trust Bank
- Northern Bank Ltd
- The Governor & Company of the Bank of Ireland
- Ulster Bank Ltd
- Allied Irish Banks PLC (Dublin)
- Alliance and Leicester
- Bank of Ireland – Dublin
- Bank of Ireland – Belfast
- Bank of Scotland PLC
- Barclays Bank PLC
- Equity Bank
- HSBC Bank PLC
- Irish Intercontinental Investment Bank
- Lombard & Ulster Ltd
- National Westminster Bank PLC
- Hermes Kreditversicherungs AG

Bonds: Interest Accrual

Mr McMullan asked the Minister for Regional Development whether the £112.5 million in bond money, which is currently held by his Department, includes money owed in interest on the original bonds; and whether his Department now owns the money generated in interest.

(AQW 10030/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: I should explain that the vast majority of bond monies are sums which are secured by means of guarantee bonds. As such, they do not accrue interest, since no money actually passes to my Department unless the bond is required to complete works within a development. Where the bond is called upon, only the amount required to pay for the necessary works is claimed, so no interest applies.

In the relatively small number of instances where a cash bond is lodged with my Department, simple interest at the appropriate rate is calculated and paid to the developer along with the bond refund, if and when the relevant development roads are satisfactorily completed and the bond is no longer required.

Bus Shelters: North Down

Mr Weir asked the Minister for Regional Development to list the locations of the new bus shelters proposed for the North Down area in 2012/13.

(AQW 10034/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: My Department's Roads Service has advised that it currently has no plans to provide new bus shelters for the North Down Area in 2012/13.

Papers for Assembly Committees

Mr McKay asked the Minister for Regional Development to detail all occasions in the last 12 months when his Department has made a presentation to an Assembly committee and provided papers pertaining to that presentation to the committee less than 48 hours beforehand.

(AQW 10037/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: Since 25 May 2011 my officials have made 43 presentations to the Committee for Regional Development. Records show that some papers relating to three of these topics were tabled less than 48 hours beforehand. Details are set out in the table below.

| Date of Presentation | Issue   | Reason for Delay  |
|----------------------|---|---|
| 8 June 2011          | Rail Closures on the Arterial Network           | Late request for oral briefing received from the Committee resulted in papers being tabled on the day.        |
| 8 February 2012      | Belfast Rapid Transit – Outcome of consultation | Proximity to closing date of consultation led to some additional information being provided the day before.   |
| 14 March 2012        | ECar Project                                    | Written briefing provided as usual within 5 working days. Additional presentation material tabled on the day. |

Buses: No 76 Metro Service

Ms Lo asked the Minister for Regional Development for his assessment of the recent withdrawal of the No 76 Metro service; and whether his Department would consider advocating amendments to other existing routes to include additional stops in the Newtownbreda Road area, given the number of older residents who availed of the former service.

(AQW 10056/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: The provision of individual Metro bus services is an operational matter for Translink. Translink has advised me that the number 76 Metro service was previously supported by developer contributions, which have come to an end. Translink have analysed average passenger usage on services between Carryduff and Tesco (Newtownbreda) and is of the opinion that such low patronage cannot justify continuation of the service or diversion of existing services. Translink is obligated to balance cost and service provision and in this case the service appears to be carrying, on average, less than 2 passengers per trip.

Detail of passenger usage is detailed in the table below:

| Month        | Operational Days | Total Passengers | Average Passengers Per Day | Average Passengers Per Trip |
|--------------|------------------|------------------|----------------------------|-----------------------------|
| Oct-11       | 21               | 1,064            | 50.7                       | 1.9                         |
| Nov-11       | 22               | 994              | 45.2                       | 1.7                         |
| Dec-11       | 20               | 879              | 44.0                       | 1.7                         |
| Jan-12       | 21               | 818              | 39.0                       | 1.5                         |
| Feb-12       | 18               | 786              | 43.7                       | 1.7                         |
| Total | 102       | 4,541     | 44.5                | 1.7                  |

Houses in Multiple Occupation: Traffic and Parking Assessments

Ms Lo asked the Minister for Regional Development whether Roads Service can give consideration to the number of unregistered Houses of Multiple Occupancy in an area, when conducting traffic and parking assessments in relation to planning applications.

(AQW 10058/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: My Department's Roads Service has advised that when considering traffic and parking assessments in relation to planning applications, it would not be aware of any properties in the area that would be unregistered Houses in Multiple Occupancy.

Houses in Multiple Occupation: Parking Problems

Ms Lo asked the Minister for Regional Development for his assessment of the impact of Houses of Multiple Occupancy upon on-street parking and traffic levels in South Belfast.

(AQW 10059/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: In many areas of inner South Belfast where there is a high concentration of private renting and Houses in Multiple Occupancy (HMO), residents compete for parking with commuters during the day and those availing of the area's social amenities in the evenings. In such areas, the demand for parking frequently exceeds the capacity. This is an inconvenience for local residents and can detract from the amenity of an area. Illegal parking also poses a constraint to those providing local services.

DOE Planning Division's HMO Draft Plan included a recommendation that consideration is given to the introduction of Residents' Parking Permit Schemes in the HMO Policy Areas located in South Belfast. Roads Service is actively working on the introduction of Residents' Parking Permit Schemes in a number of locations in the inner South Belfast area.

The Member will be aware that previous attempts by Roads Service to introduce residents' parking schemes in the inner city areas of Belfast were met with considerable opposition.

Having made further changes to the policy, Roads Service now plans to concentrate its immediate efforts on the Stranmillis and Lower Malone schemes, which are the most advanced, in terms of consultation and local agreement on their design and proceed to the local consultation stage in the near future. The final decision on implementation of any scheme will ultimately depend on the successful completion of the legal process, which can take 6 to 12 months, and the availability of finance at that time.

The future development and introduction of schemes in other areas, such as Donegall Pass, Sandy Row and the Holylands will depend, to a degree, on the community's response and acceptance of those schemes, and will also be subject to the availability of staff and budget resources at that time.

Houses in Multiple Occupation: Parking Problems

Ms Lo asked the Minister for Regional Development what his Department can do to address parking problems exacerbated by increasing numbers of both registered and unregistered Houses of Multiple Occupancy.

(AQW 10060/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: I would refer the Member to my answer to her Assembly Question, AQW 10059/11-15.

Traffic and Parking Assessments: Garages

Ms Lo asked the Minister for Regional Development whether integrated garages can be disregarded by Roads Service, when conducting traffic and parking assessments in relation to planning applications, given that these spaces are often used for storage rather than parking.

(AQW 10061/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: I can advise that the DOE/DRD document "Creating Places – Achieving Quality in Residential Developments" provides guidance on the requirements for parking in residential developments. The document states that garages will only be counted towards the in-curtilage provision, where they are large enough to both accommodate cars and make provision for general storage, or alternatively, provision for general storage can be made elsewhere within the curtilage. It also states that for garages, the preferred location for the storage space will be down one side of the garage (to make it accessible without the car having to be moved). In this case, the minimum internal width needs to be 4.0m for single garages, and 6.2m for double garages.

I can confirm, therefore, that in assessing parking provision for residential planning applications, my Department's Roads Service is guided by the above criteria.

Roads: Southern Relief Road, Newry

Ms Ritchie asked the Minister for Regional Development for an update on the delivery of a Southern Relief Road, Newry.

(AQW 10095/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: My Department's Roads Service has advised that it is undertaking further environmental and engineering assessments in relation to the Newry Southern Relief Road proposal, including an Article 6 assessment under the terms of the EU Habitats Directive, in relation to this proposal.

Roads Service officials indicate that this work, which will also assist in the identification of a preferred corridor for the scheme, is continuing and is expected to be completed during mid/late 2012.

Roads: Southern Relief Road, Newry

Ms Ritchie asked the Minister for Regional Development how much has been spent on consultants and associated personnel in relation to the development of the Southern Relief Road, Newry, in each of the last ten years.

(AQW 10096/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: My Department's Roads Service has advised that the costs for consultants and associated personnel relating to the development of the Newry Southern Relief Road, over the last ten years, are detailed in the table below:

Costs of consultants and associated personnel in relation to the development of the Newry Southern Relief Road

| Year              | Cost        |
|-------------------|-------------|
| 2002/03 – 2005/06 | nil         |
| 2006/07           | £57,968.95  |
| 2007/08           | £371,320.12 |

| Year         | Cost               |
|--------------|--------------------|
| 2008/09      | £328,804.21        |
| 2009/10      | £51,783.86         |
| 2010/11      | £58,703.48         |
| 2011/12      | £59,670.52         |
| Total | £928,251.14 |

Roads: Southern Relief Road, Newry

Ms Ritchie asked the Minister for Regional Development to outline the timescale for the public consultation and implementation of the Southern Relief Road scheme in Newry.

(AQW 10097/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: The Newry Southern Relief Road scheme was included in the “Expanding the Strategic Road Improvement programme 2015” consultation document published in 2006. It was listed under “schemes that performed well in the assessment but not affordable within ISNI funding envisaged to 2015”. There was also a commitment that proposed measures would be developed and costed in a feasibility study.

I have welcomed the positive findings of the subsequent feasibility report in relation to the transport benefits that a new road linking from the A2 Warrenpoint dual carriageway to the A1 Belfast/Dublin Key Transport Corridor may be expected to provide, including the removal of some through traffic from the city centre road network and improved access to Warrenpoint Port.

Recently, the position in relation to affordability has not improved during the intervening period. In these circumstances, I am unable to outline a timescale for public consultation and implementation of the scheme.

The timing will be dependent on a number of factors, including the development process and statutory procedures, which includes formal public consultation, as well as the priority which the scheme attracts when compared to other competing demands, and the availability of the necessary finance.

In the meantime, particular environmental and engineering challenges that have been identified are being investigated, and I am advised that this work will also assist in the identification of a preferred corridor for this scheme.

Roads: Resurfacing Spend

Mr Storey asked the Minister for Regional Development how much has been spent on road resurfacing in each of the last five years, broken down by district council area.

(AQW 10104/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: My Department’s Roads Service does not maintain an analysis of its spend in the format requested, however, it does hold an analysis of its total Structural Maintenance spend which includes Resurfacing, Surface Dressing and Structural Drainage.

Details of its total Structural Maintenance spend in each Council area during the last five years, are set out in the table below:

Roads Service Structural Maintenance Expenditure from 2006/2007 to 2010/2011

| District Council Area          | Structural Maintenance £'000 |           |           |           |           |
|--------------------------------|------------------------------|-----------|-----------|-----------|-----------|
|                                | 2006/2007                    | 2007/2008 | 2008/2009 | 2009/2010 | 2010/2011 |
| Antrim Borough Council         | 1,740                        | 2,096     | 1,742     | 2,794     | 2,463     |
| Ards Borough Council           | 2,118                        | 3,335     | 1,726     | 3,065     | 4,088     |
| Armagh City & District Council | 3,661                        | 4,907     | 4,439     | 5,388     | 5,229     |
| Ballymena Borough Council      | 2,471                        | 2,749     | 2,654     | 3,339     | 3,097     |
| Ballymoney Borough Council     | 1,433                        | 1,648     | 1,463     | 2,002     | 2,029     |
| Banbridge District Council     | 2,222                        | 2,734     | 1,880     | 2,811     | 3,572     |
| Belfast City Council           | 4,946                        | 6,009     | 4,630     | 6,039     | 5,527     |
| Carrickfergus Borough Council  | 934                          | 1,186     | 783       | 1,036     | 778       |
| Castlereagh Borough Council    | 1,842                        | 2,165     | 1,623     | 1,792     | 1,218     |
| Coleraine Borough Council      | 2,317                        | 2,597     | 1,862     | 2,736     | 2,373     |

A5: Inquiry

Mr Eastwood asked the Minister for Regional Development when he will consider the findings of the inquiry into the A5 project; and when he will publish his assessment of these findings.

(AQW 10135/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: My Department's Roads Service has advised that the Public Inquiry into the proposed A5 Western Transport Corridor dual carriageway ended on 1 July 2011. The Inspector carried out follow-up site visits and considered all the evidence from the Inquiry to complete his Report. Roads Service received the Inspector's Report on the A5 Western Transport Corridor Public Inquiry on 24 February 2012 and officials are now reviewing the issues arising out of this significant body of work.

Roads Service will report to me on how it proposes to address the issues raised by the Inspector. I will then consider this submission in conjunction with the Inspector's comments and decide on the way forward. My decision will be communicated through a Departmental Statement, which will be issued along with the Inspector's Report. I anticipate this being released in late spring / early summer.

A5: Inquiry

Lord Morrow asked the Minister for Regional Development to detail (i) the date the public inquiry report into the A5 was presented to his Department; (ii) why it has not been published; and (iii) when it will be published.

(AQW 10140/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: My Department's Roads Service has advised that the Public Inquiry into the proposed A5 Western Transport Corridor dual carriageway ended on 1 July 2011. The Inspector carried out follow-up site visits and considered all the evidence submitted during the Inquiry to assist with the completion of his Report. Roads Service received the Inspector's Report on the A5 Western Transport Corridor Public Inquiry on 24 February 2012 and officials are now reviewing the issues arising out of this significant body of work.

Roads Service will report to me on how it proposes to address the issues raised by the Inspector. I will then consider this submission in conjunction with the Inspector's comments and decide on the way forward. My decision will be communicated through a Departmental Statement, which will be issued along with the Inspector's Report. I anticipate this being released in late spring / early summer.

It would be inappropriate to publish the Inspector's Report prior to the Departmental Statement.

Car Parking Charges: Cookstown

Mr McGlone asked the Minister for Regional Development whether his Department plans to introduce car parking charges in Cookstown; and to detail any studies carried out on the impact that this may have on the town centre.

(AQW 10192/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: My Department's Roads Service carries out a review of car park tariffs every year and I hope to announce the details of the 2012/2013 review in the near future, after I have informed the Committee for Regional Development.

I cannot give any information on the outcome of the review at this time.

Water Charges: Non-domestic Customers

Mr McGlone asked the Minister for Regional Development for his assessment of the level of water charges for non-domestic customers who are being assessed according to the value of their property.

(AQW 10194/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: The setting of annual tariffs is a matter for Northern Ireland Water (NIW) subject to the Utility Regulator's approval and the limits set out in the regulatory settlement which was agreed in 2010. A minority of NIW's non-domestic customers have charges based on their property value as it remains NIW's policy to extend measured charging. Non-domestic tariffs have remained within the limits permitted by the Utility Regulator through its regulatory process and NIW has raised tariffs by less than it could have done. The Executive has continued to subsidise unmeasured non-domestic bills at 50%. Water tariffs saw below inflation increases in 2012/13.

Capital/Revenue Costs: Departmental Spend

Mr Copeland asked the Minister for Regional Development for an estimate of the annual additional cost to his Department of providing its services in our divided society, broken down by (i) capital; and (ii) revenue costs.

(AQW 10216/11-15)

Mr Kennedy: Due to the number of variables involved, it is not possible for the Department for Regional Development to calculate the annual additional cost of service delivery.

Department for Social Development

Housing Executive: Temporary Accommodation

Mr P Ramsey asked the Minister for Social Development how much the Housing Executive has paid to private landlords for providing temporary accommodation in each of the last three years, broken down by district office area.

(AQW 9319/11-15)

Mr McCausland (The Minister for Social Development): The information is not available in the format requested as a breakdown of the figures by Housing Executive district office area is only available for the current financial year (to date); the previous two years are only available by Housing Executive area office. In addition, there is only one figure for the Belfast area for 2011/12 as temporary accommodation in Belfast is coordinated by the Homeless Services Unit in Belfast city centre.

The tables below detail the information:

The Housing Executive believes this demonstrates value for money as:-

- the Housing Executive has a statutory responsibility to provide temporary accommodation for those who find themselves homeless.
- there are around 20,000 homeless applications annually. Over 50% (around 10,400) met all the legislative homeless criteria and were full duty applicants.
- typically about 20% of those people who present as homeless are placed into temporary accommodation, which equates to around 4,000 annually.
- Housing Benefit covered approximately £5.7m (in 2011/12) of the estimated amount which is approximately 75% of the total cost.

Notes

- * The Housing Executive has advised that, given the transient nature of this group, costs given can only be estimates as not all properties are occupied at all times and not all tenants are on full housing benefit. It should also be noted that the figures on temporary accommodation will fluctuate on a daily basis and are dependent on demand.

Housing: Waiting List in North Down/Ards

Mr Weir asked the Minister for Social Development to detail the changes in the number of people on the housing waiting list in the (i) North Down Borough Council; and (ii) Ards Borough Council areas in each of the last 12 months.

(AQW 9371/11-15)

Mr McCausland: The information requested is not available in the format requested as the Housing Executive does not routinely collate information by District Council area. However, the attached table details the Waiting List for the Housing Executive's District Offices in Bangor and Newtownards at the end of March and June 2011. These are the most up to date figures currently available.

| District Office | 31 March 2011 |                              | 30 June 2011 |                              |

Disability Living Allowance: Benefit Reduction/Withdrawal

Mrs D Kelly asked the Minister for Social Development how many people in receipt of Disability Living Allowance have had their benefit (i) reduced; or (ii) withdrawn in each of the last three years; and (ii) how many appealed the decision.

(AQW 9698/11-15)

Mr McCausland:

- (i) The information is not available in the format requested, the table below details the number of customers who had their rate of entitlement to Disability Living Allowance maintained, reduced or disallowed following a supersession* of their award, in each of the last the last three years.

| Year    | Number of Disability Living Allowance awards where the rate of entitlement was maintained, reduced or disallowed following a review |
|---------|---|
| 2008/09 | 4,092   |
| 2009/10 | 4,201   |
| 2010/11 | 3,953   |

- * A supersession is a review of an existing award instigated by the customer or the Department as a result of a change in a customer's circumstances.

- (ii) The information is not available in the format requested; the table below details the number of customers who lost their entitlement to Disability Living Allowance on application of a renewal claim, in each of the last three years.

| Year    | Number of Disability Living Allowance Renewal claims disallowed |
|---------|---|
| 2008/09 | 3,277   |
| 2009/10 | 2,523   |
| 2010/11 | 2,522   |

- (iii) Appeals are received from applicants who have been unsuccessful in their application for Disability Living Allowance (nil awards) and also from those who have been awarded the benefit but are dissatisfied with the level of award made. Information on Disability Living Allowance appeals is recorded on an overall number basis and is not distinguishable by the circumstances of the decision under appeal, therefore, it is not possible to quantify how many applicants who had their benefit reduced or withdrawn subsequently progressed to appeal. The table below details the number of Disability Living Allowance appeals determined in each of the last three years.

| Year    | Number of Appeals Determined in the Appeal Service |
|---------|--|
| 2008/09 | 5,753  |
| 2009/10 | 5,147  |
| 2010/11 | 4,607  |

Vacant Properties: North Down

Mr Weir asked the Minister for Social Development to detail the number of vacant (i) Housing Executive properties; Housing Association properties; and (iii) private residential properties in the North Down constituency, broken down by electoral ward (AQW 9732/11-15)

Mr McCausland: In relation to (i) the information is not available in the format requested as the Housing Executive does not routinely collate information by electoral ward. However, Table 1 below details the vacant Housing Executive properties within the Housing Executive's Bangor District Office area which covers the North Down constituency. In relation to (ii) Table 2 details the vacant Housing Association properties by electoral ward for the North Down constituency.

However, in relation to (iii) my Department does not hold this information and the Department of Finance and Personnel has provided Table 3 which details the number of vacant domestic properties by electoral ward for the North Down constituency. The figures in Table 3 are as at 18 March 2012 and exclude vacant domestic properties whose accounts are recorded as NIHE, Housing Associations or Public Bodies.

Loft Insulation

Mr Eastwood asked the Minister for Social Development, pursuant to AQW 8614/11-15, to detail (i) the percentage of (a) Housing Executive; and (b) Housing Association homes fitted with the highest standard of loft insulation, that is, more than 150mm; and (ii) what plans the (a) Housing Executive; and (b) Housing Associations have to upgrade their entire estate to the 150mm standard.

(AQW 9807/11-15)

Mr McCausland: The information is not available in the format requested as the Housing Executive and Housing Associations do not routinely collate these details. However, excluding dwellings without lofts that do therefore not need loft insulation, for example, non-traditional stock such as flats, maisonettes, flat-roofed houses etc, the Housing Executive has estimated that approximately 60,000 of their stock need loft insulation brought up to a 150mm+ standard. Those homes requiring upgrading will have this work carried out as they work through their stock during External Cyclical Maintenance, heating replacement and other schemes.

Excluding those dwellings that do not have lofts, the majority of Housing Associations have advised me that over 80% of their stock meets or exceeds the 150mm depth of insulation. Housing Associations in general have advised me that they plan to upgrade loft insulation in either this or the next financial year where viable, or within heating upgrade schemes (such as Cosy Homes schemes) or as part of planned maintenance work. In addition other Housing Associations have confirmed that all their stock already meets the 150mm standard and a significant number exceeds this level. For example, Alpha, Gosford, Habinteg, Newington, South Ulster and St Matthews Housing Associations confirm that 100% of their properties meet a minimum of 150mm.

Warm Homes Scheme: People with MS

Mr McElduff asked the Minister for Social Development whether any specific fuel poverty or warm home schemes are available for people with Multiple Sclerosis (MS), given the nature of the illness and the home heating requirements of people with MS.

(AQW 9872/11-15)

Mr McCausland: There are no fuel poverty schemes specifically targeted at people with Multiple Sclerosis. My Department's Warm Homes Scheme provides a range of insulation and heating measures to vulnerable households including those who are in receipt of Disability Living Allowance. People aged 60 and over who are suffering from Multiple Sclerosis or any other illness or disability can also benefit from the Winter Fuel Payment scheme.

Papers for Assembly Committees

Mr McKay asked the Minister for Social Development to detail all occasions in the last 12 months when his Department has made a presentation to an Assembly committee and provided papers pertaining to that presentation to the committee less than 48 hours beforehand.

(AQW 9973/11-15)

Mr McCausland: The information requested is included in the table below:

| Briefing   | Papers to Committee | Date of SDC Meeting |
|--|---------------------|---------------------|
| Supporting People (Special Needs Management Allowance) | 15 March 2012       | 15 March 2012       |

Community Care Grant Applications

Mr Copeland asked the Minister for Social Development, for each district council area, to detail (i) the number of Community Care Grant applications made during the timeframe attached at Annex 2 of the 'Replacement of the Existing Discretionary Social Fund Scheme in Northern Ireland- Research Study Specification - A Draft Final Report to the Social Security Agency' which was tabled at the Social Development Committee meeting on 26 January 2012; (ii) the total value of the applications; (iii) the number of successful applications; (iv) the total value of the grants awarded; (iv) the level of grant initially awarded to each recipient; (v) the number of appeals; and (vi) the amount awarded to each recipient on appeal.

(AQW 10052/11-15)

Mr McCausland: The information requested is set out in the table below.

- (i) Column 2 details the total number of Community Care Grant applications, for each district council area.
- (ii) Column 3 details the total value of applications made. .
- (iii) Column 4 details the number of successful applications.
- (iv) Column 5 details the total value of Community Care Grants awarded.
- (v) The amount of money initially awarded to each recipient could only be obtained at disproportionate cost as this would involve checking in excess of 27,000 individual applications.

(vi / vii) Whilst a customer may request an internal review of an unfavourable decision made by a Social Fund Officer and subsequently an independent review by the Office of the Social Fund Commissioner, the number and subsequent amount of such reviews is not routinely recorded in the format requested.

Housing Executive Properties: Insurance

Mr T Clarke asked the Minister for Social Development whether a Housing Executive tenant is required to have (i) home buildings insurance; and (ii) home contents insurance.

(AQW 10067/11-15)

Mr McCausland: The Housing Executive has advised that buildings insurance is not a matter for their tenants. A "Your Rights and Responsibilities" booklet advises that the Housing Executive is responsible for the structure of a tenant's home. However, the Housing Executive strongly recommends that tenants arrange for insurance of the contents of their home so that they will be protected against accidental damage, loss or theft; they advise tenants that they can arrange house contents insurance through any bank, building society or insurance agent.

As the uptake of home insurance is low the Housing Executive routinely runs publicity campaigns on the benefits of home insurance. In addition their annual Housing News publication for tenants regularly features an article on the need to have home contents insurance.

Pilot Boiler Replacement Scheme

Mr Swann asked the Minister for Social Development, in relation to the pilot Boiler Replacement Scheme (i) when a full evaluation will commence and be completed; and (ii) when a new scheme will be launched.

(AQW 10132/11-15)

Mr McCausland: An evaluation of the pilot Boiler Replacement Scheme has commenced and will be completed by the end of April. Once the evaluation has been completed I hope to be in a position to make an announcement about future schemes.

CPR: Staff Training

Mr Frew asked the Minister for Social Development what strategy is in place to train departmental staff in Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation.

(AQW 10154/11-15)

Mr McCausland: Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation (CPR) is covered in the First Aid at Work course attended by all Departmental first aiders. The Departmental policy is that there should be at least 2 first aiders per 50 members of staff. There is no formal CPR strategy in place and it was not identified as an issue in the overall assessment completed for the provision of first aid.

Housing Executive Properties: Restrictions on the Travelling Community

Lord Morrow asked the Minister for Social Development, in the interests of safety and good relations, whether he will introduce legislation to (i) impose restrictions on members of the travelling community, who are residing in Housing Executive properties, in relation to using roads and other areas within the vicinity of the property as illegal caravan parks and camps which cause obstruction to other residents; (ii) restrict the number of vehicles, including caravans, per traveller household, particularly where space is limited; and (iii) require travellers to relinquish caravans in lieu of a Housing Executive property and refrain from placing caravans outside or around the property.

(AQW 10173/11-15)

Mr McCausland: The Department for Regional Development (DRD) is the authority with the responsibility and statutory competence for regulation of the public high way (adopted roads). It is understood that there is presently roads legislation in place which deals with obstruction of the highway and road safety.

With regard to restricting the number of vehicles, including caravans, per Traveller household and requiring Travellers to relinquish caravans in lieu of a Housing Executive Tenancy it should be noted that The Race Relations (NI) Order 1997 prohibits discrimination on a number of grounds and specifically identifies the Irish Traveller community as a racial group. The Housing Executive must allocate accommodation held by it in accordance with the rules of the statutory Housing Selection Scheme.

Against this background, it should be understood that members of the Travelling Community hold NIHE tenancies on exactly the same terms and conditions as those held by a member of the settled community. All tenants regardless of what community they belong to are obliged by their tenancy not to park or allow to be parked any caravan, boat, vehicle or other items or goods within the curtilage or neighbourhood of the dwelling in such a position or in such a manner as to cause a nuisance or annoyance to the occupiers of any neighbouring or adjoining premises. Any person who does so in such a manner or in a position to cause a nuisance or annoyance will be in breach of their tenancy agreement with the Housing Executive.

Housing: One-bed Properties in Coleraine

Mr Campbell asked the Minister for Social Development to detail (i) the number of one-bed properties in the social housing sector in the Coleraine District Office area; and (ii) as of 1 March 2012, how many were available to let.

(AQW 10178/11-15)

Mr McCausland: The Housing Executive has 291 one-bed properties, five of which were available to let at 1 March 2012. Housing Associations have advised there are 310 one-bed properties in the Coleraine District Office area and at 1 March 2012 there were none available to let.

Warm Homes Scheme: Financial Top-up

Mr Agnew asked the Minister for Social Development, in relation to the Warm Homes Scheme, whether it is possible for people to top up the costs that exceed the maximum value of the grant available or whether it is an all or nothing scheme; and to outline the rationale for this position.

(AQW 10215/11-15)

Mr McCausland: The policy intention of the Warm Homes Scheme is to improve the energy efficiency of the homes of vulnerable people who are on low income. Since the Warm Homes Scheme was introduced in 2001, householders have never been able to provide a financial top up when the grant limit was exceeded as the scheme is targeted at those on low income.

Capital/Revenue Costs: Departmental Spend

Mr Copeland asked the Minister for Social Development for an estimate of the annual additional cost to his Department of providing its services in our divided society, broken down by (i) capital; and (ii) revenue costs.

(AQW 10217/11-15)

Mr McCausland: Due to the diverse nature of services provided by this Department and the number of variables involved, it is not possible to calculate the annual additional cost of service delivery.

Welfare Reform Bill: Introduction

Mr Copeland asked the Minister for Social Development when he intends to table the Welfare Reform Bill.

(AQW 10220/11-15)

Mr McCausland: I intend shortly to seek Executive Agreement to my proposals to bring forward a Welfare Reform Bill for Northern Ireland. The Welfare Reform Bill will contain enabling provisions introducing Universal Credit.

Ballee Lands, Ballymena

Mr Allister asked the Minister for Social Development, in relation to the Ballee lands, Ballymena (i) why his Department did not negotiate resale to the former owners, given it had at least one such offer, instead of moving to disposal through offers by tender; (ii) how this course is compatible with the Land and Property Services (LPS) guidelines on disposal of surplus land; (iii) whether the land will be disposed of by tender at a price below the LPS valuation, given that an offer from a former owner was refused on this basis; (iv) if the offers by tender fall below the offer rejected from the former owner, what action his Department will take; (v) why, given considerations of transparency, his Department chose to proceed by way of offers by tender, rather than sale by public auction; and (vi) whether his Department will publish the amounts offered by tender.

(AQW 10302/11-15)

Mr McCausland: The lands referred to are situated at Ballee Road East in Ballymena.

- (i) My department did seek to negotiate the sale of the land back to the former owners and their successors in title. On two occasions, in September 2009 and July 2011, offers were received but the amounts offered fell short of the Land and Property Services (LPS) estimate of the market value of the land at those times and the offers were rejected. It was only after my department failed to negotiate a mutually acceptable price with the former owners for a second time that it moved to dispose of the land.
- (ii) This course of action is in accordance with the procedure set out in the LPS guidelines on the disposal of public sector property.
- (iii) Only one valid tender in the format required by my Department was submitted by the closing date for tenders. The amount offered fell well short of the LPS current estimate of the value of the land and has been rejected.
- (iv) At this time, no acceptable offers have been received from either the former owners or the open market. Since this set of circumstances is not covered by the LPS guidelines on the disposal of public sector property, my department will be taking advice on what the next step in the disposal process should be.
- (v) The decision to dispose of the land by way of offers by tender was taken on advice from the LPS and the commercial estate agent engaged to handle the disposal property. It was considered that this was the method which was most likely to secure the best price for the land in light of the current market conditions and known interest in the site.
- (vi) No, since this information is commercial-in-confidence and disclosure would hinder my department's efforts to secure the best price for the land at a future date.

Sick Absence Guidance

Mr Durkan asked the Minister for Social Development to outline his Department's guidelines for departmental staff who are unable to work because of an illness.

(AQW 10320/11-15)

Mr McCausland: The main guidance relating to staff unable to attend work due to illness is contained in the NICS HR Handbook – Chapter 3.10: Sickness Absence and Chapter 6.06: Inefficiency – Sickness Absence. This NICS-wide policy provides an appropriate balance between the needs of the service and the needs of individuals when dealing with sickness absence. This guidance applies to all NICS employees, including Department for Social Development staff.

In line with this policy and the NICS People Strategy, my Department developed its own Health and Wellbeing Strategy and Action Plan for 2010 – 2013. This provides an innovative and holistic approach to health and wellbeing under the key themes of Prevention, Early Intervention and Responsibility.

Departmental staff are actively encouraged to take ownership of their own health and to make healthy lifestyle choices. Where possible, they are supported to remain in, or return to, work through timely interventions. Reasonable adjustments are also considered, where appropriate. If an individual becomes ill, managers are encouraged to engage with the officer as quickly as possible. Both line managers and members of staff are encouraged to take responsibility for managing sickness absences and bringing them to the swiftest conclusion. Staff who are unable to maintain an acceptable level of attendance may ultimately be dismissed from the Department in accordance with the NICS Policy. Retirement on medical grounds is also available for staff following professional advice from the NICS Occupational Health Service.

Northern Ireland Assembly Commission

Committee Meetings: Cost of Refreshments

Mr Allister asked the Assembly Commission what has been the cost of providing refreshments for Assembly Committee meetings in each of the last five years.

(AQW 10009/11-15)

Mr Weir (The Representative of the Assembly Commission): The cost of refreshments for Assembly Committees for the last five financial years is as follows;

| Year         | Cost            |
|--------------|-----------------|
| 2007/08      | £28,920         |
| 2008/09      | £40,763         |
| 2009/10      | £37,308         |
| 2010/11      | £37,604         |
| 2011/12      | £18,556*        |
| Total | £163,151 |

* Invoices for March 2012 still to be finalised.

Engagement and Outreach: South Down

Ms Ruane asked the Assembly Commission to outline the number and type of engagements and outreach initiatives that have been undertaken, since January 2011, with organisations in the South Down area.

(AQO 1687/11-15)

Mr McElduff (The Representative of the Assembly Commission): In accordance with the Assembly's strategic objective to ensure that its work is accessible to all and communicated widely, the Outreach and Education Service has developed a number of programmes and resources. Engagement is not necessarily based on specific constituencies.

Between May 2007 and the end of January 2012, 126 groups from the South Down constituency comprising of 4,064 people visited Parliament Buildings to participate in the Education Programme. The average number of groups across all constituencies during this period was 100 with an average of 3,228 people. During the same period 1718 people from the South Down constituency participated in tours of Parliament Buildings. The average across all constituencies was 1,716.

The Commission is always looking for new ways to engage as widely as possible and would be happy to receive any suggestions that Members might wish to make. The majority of the functions and many tours within Parliament Buildings are directly sponsored by Members themselves and the Commission is always keen to encourage individual Members to actively participate in bringing members of the public/groups etc. to Parliament Buildings.

Parliament Buildings: Defibrillators

Mr McMullan asked the Assembly Commission to detail (i) the number of defibrillators available at Parliament Buildings; (ii) where they are located; and (iii) how many members of staff are trained in their use.

(AQW 10114/11-15)

Mr P Ramsey (The Representative of the Assembly Commission): I can confirm:

- (i) That there are currently 3 defibrillators available for use in Parliament Buildings.
- (ii) The defibrillators are located in the Blue Flax Restaurant in the Basement; Room 401 within the Finance Office and at the reception desk at the front entrance.
- (iii) There are currently 25 staff trained to use the defibrillators and these include Security Guards, Ushers, front of house staff and staff from various directorates. These staff have all successfully completed the first aid at work certificate.

North/South Parliamentary Forum

Mrs D Kelly asked the Assembly Commission when the first formal meeting of the North-South Parliamentary Forum will be held.

(AQO 1680/11-15)

Mr McElduff (The Representative of the Assembly Commission): To date, two joint meetings of the North South Parliamentary Forum Working Groups have been held to take forward the ideas and actions generated at the North South Parliamentary Forum Conference in the Slieve Donard Hotel in October 2010. These meetings related to Parliamentary Relationships with Europe and Agriculture and Rural Development Reform. In addition a number of meetings of the North South Parliamentary Forum Working Group in the Assembly have taken place over the past three months.

The Assembly Working Group has consulted with Party Leaders on draft proposals. When the Assembly Working Group has agreed a position, the Speaker will send it to the Ceann Comhairle for the Oireachtas Working Group to consider. It would be hoped that a Joint Working Group meeting could then be held to discuss and agree future arrangements and meetings.

North/South Parliamentary Forum

Ms J McCann asked the Assembly Commission for an update on the establishment of the North-South Parliamentary Forum.

(AQO 1689/11-15)

Mr McElduff (The Representative of the Assembly Commission): To date, two joint meetings of the North South Parliamentary Forum Working Groups have been held to take forward the ideas and actions generated at the North South Parliamentary Forum Conference in the Slieve Donard Hotel in October 2010. These meetings related to Parliamentary Relationships with Europe and Agriculture and Rural Development Reform. In addition a number of meetings of the North South Parliamentary Forum Working Group in the Assembly have taken place over the past three months.

The Assembly Working Group has consulted with Party Leaders on draft proposals. When the Assembly Working Group has agreed a position, the Speaker will send it to the Ceann Comhairle for the Oireachtas Working Group to consider. It would be hoped that a Joint Working Group meeting could then be held to discuss and agree future arrangements and meetings.

Security and Usher Services: Cost

Mr Agnew asked the Assembly Commission to detail the cost of employing agency staff as (i) security officers; and (ii) ushers in each of the last three years; and whether, following the Commission's efficiency review, the cost of providing usher and security services will now be taken from the events budget, or included in the price to the customer who made the booking, rather than being taken from the facilities budget.

(AQW 10214/11-15)

Mr Weir (The Representative of the Assembly Commission): The cost of employing agency staff for both (i) security officers and (ii) ushers in each of the last three years is as follows:

| Year | Cost |
|-------------|-------------|
| 2009/10     | £1,140,448* |
| 2010/11     | £436,840    |
| 2011/12     | £5,852    |

* Considerably higher costs incurred as recruitment campaign for permanent Assembly Commission staff had not been undertaken at this time.

** March 2012 costs still to be included.

The costs are not held by type of staff (i.e. Security or Ushers).

The Commission's Business Efficiency reviews are on-going. The budget for staff costs for Security and Ushers is held by the Facilities Directorate. The vast majority of these costs do not relate to events so there are no plans, at present, to transfer the staff budget for Security and Ushers to the Events budget as this would split the overall budget across a number of organisational business areas with no specific benefit. A number of direct costs are already charged to event organisers and a review of this policy, to consider charging Assembly Commission staff costs, will be informed by any recommendations made by the Business Efficiency review of the Events business area.

Equality Impact Assessment on Preparatory Schools Funding

In this Bound Volume, page WA20, replace the answer to the question (AQW 8674/11-15) asked by Peter Weir with:

Mr O'Dowd (Minister of Education): Over 400 responses were received in respect of the Equality Impact Assessment (EQIA) consultation on the proposal to withdraw funding from preparatory departments of grammar schools and these have been collated and analysed.

You will recall that the former Minister, Catriona Ruane, took account of the comments received as part of the EQIA consultation exercise and recognised that the complete ending of funding may have caused difficulties for parents and children and possible disruption to some schools. Hence, notwithstanding her publically stated views, she decided to continue funding preparatory departments but at a reduced level. With effect from September 2010 the level of funding was reduced by one-third (i.e. the previous weighting was reduced from 0.40 to 0.27 of an Age Weighted Pupil Unit).

I am planning to complete the final stages of the EQIA and publish it on the Department's website before the end of April 2012.

Environment

Local Council Staff: Redundancy or Retirement Packages

In Bound Volume 71, page WA180, replace the answer to the question (AQW 5798/11-15) asked by Lord Morrow with:

Mr Attwood (Minister of the Environment):

- (i) No local council staff who had taken redundancy packages has been re-employed by the same council in the last three financial years.
- (ii) Three local council staff who had taken retirement packages has been re-employed by the same council in the last three financial years.

Please note that these figures refer to staff being re-employed by the same council as it is not possible to verify whether they have been re-employed by other public bodies.

Justice

Robert Black

In Bound Volume 68, page WA317, replace the answer to the question (AQW 3975/11-15) asked by Lord Morrow with:

Mr Ford (Minister of Justice): I am writing to correct an error contained in my answer dated 14 November to AQW3975/11-15 and my subsequent response provided you on 31 January, which corrected the original answer.

The answer provided in AQW 3975/11-15, mistakenly, included the cost of £5675 for transporting Robert Black to Northern Ireland from England on 8 September 2011. However, it has now come to light that the total cost of the flight amounted to £4,643.10. This inaccuracy was largely due to a miscalculation in the net amount of costs subject to Value Added Tax (VAT).

The corrected details are:

|                    |                  |
|--------------------|------------------|
| Non Vatable Net:   | £4,563.10        |
| Vatable Net:       | £66.67           |
| Total Net:         | £4,629.77        |
| VAT:               | £13.33           |
| Total cost: | £4,643.10 |

The cost is therefore reduced by £1031.90.

I am copying this letter to the Editor of Debates and the Business Office.

Please accept my apology for this error.
