Chairman's Foreword

This is a challenging time for everyone, across all sectors, involved in promoting reconciliation and good relations. It was a testing year and there remain many challenges for the future.

In recent years much of the infrastructure of conflict has been dismantled and we are all better off for it. That is a great achievement and we must learn to acknowledge our achievements here; as many people have recognised them internationally.

In 2015 some things became more evident.

The entire physical, structural and attitudinal infrastructure of conflict has not been dismantled, of course. In particular some local communities are held back by those who want to maintain a degree of local control, those who don't want to move on or who want to take communities back. In some areas, people feel inhibited to take part in community life.

Perhaps dismantling these last vestiges of the infrastructure of conflict will be facilitated by the strengthening of the reconciliation infrastructure.

But the reconciliation infrastructure, far from being strengthened, is currently under threat. Resourcing is increasingly scarce and short-term. Despite doing some transformative and courageous work within and between communities, many organisations are struggling to survive and some are going to the wall.

The reconciliation infrastructure is eroded at our peril.

Reconciliation work needs to be re-prioritised and it needs to be supported in the long-term. Outcome focussed resourcing of that work is of paramount importance.

There have been positives this year. We are enjoying a productive and constructive working relationship with the Office of the First and deputy First Minister, and hopefully that relationship can be further strengthened as CRC plays its role as an arm's length body in providing an important link between government and civil society.

We have new, larger and more powerful local authorities than have existed in over 40 years, providing opportunity for joined-up delivery at local level in a way that no one of working age has experienced.

The Stormont House Agreement provided some insight in to dealing with legacy issues and we are waiting a new racial equality strategy which we hope has the potential to kick-start a different and productive working relationship between government and the BME sector.

It has been hugely encouraging to witness the spirit, commitment and resolve of the now more than 80 organisations which joined the Common Platform initiative aiming to work with government to produce a strong and impactful racial equality strategy.

A difficult and challenging year it has been; as is to be expected perhaps when promoting good relations and reconciliation in a region still coming out of conflict. But in many ways, we are looking forward to the possibilities ahead.

In Northern Ireland the expertise and skills exist to make a real difference in the years ahead. Government and civil society, working together, can achieve so much.

As CRC celebrates its 25th anniversary in 2015, we look ahead to the next 25 years with renewed optimism, greater determination and refreshed hope that we will play our part to further embed peace and bear witness to a step change in reconciliation.

Chief Executive's Comment

Change can be a very slow process and nothing about the future is certain or to be taken for granted, therefore perspective is always important. So how are we getting on, taking into account the opportunities and challenges that we have dealt with in the past and knowing some of what lie before us now including the widespread structural changes at local Council, central government and community levels, our financial problem, the changing level of diversity in our community, and our continuing ambivalence about sharing or being separate from each other?

History is punctured with dramatic change that can make a decade almost unrecognisable from the one that preceded or came after it. Fundamental change is often the outcome of death, war, disease, or natural disaster. It is more rarely felt as the outcome of positive social progress over time. For this reason when it comes to sustaining our peace process with good community relations and equality for all, we need to keep a sense of urgency and perspective. The increase in crimes and incidents that have sectarian or racist overtones should caution all of us to remember that we can take nothing for granted. Tensions and divisions that sporadically lead to violence and disturbances in the street should not encourage us to be fatalistic, indifferent or undemanding of our peace process. It is part of the challenge in transforming a deeply divided society. Those of us in the "transition generation" – the ones that lived through the conflict- have a moral responsibility to try, in our life time, to find better ways for people of this region to live with our differences. We must not underestimate the importance of deliberate acts of peace building this far into our peace process. The job is not done. Fatigue and indifference are the great dangers now. We are all bored of talking about peace and we have many other things to worry about. This is the context in which peace can falter.

What will history make of how we have handled the decades after the political agreement? A child that is born as I write this will be ten years old in 2025 and their formative years will already be well advanced. The everyday world of these children is already a work in progress for us and we are already part of their history. There is something important about the realisation that we are making history everyday; not just in the big moments. It allows us to see ourselves from the perspective of those that will come after us and to play our part with a sense of urgency and responsibility. At the individual level it is important to remember that if we all make small changes in our everyday lives it can make a dramatic difference to the social ties across of our society. We have not yet achieved sufficient connectedness in the everyday way we all live here. Making changes in our ordinary daily habits; opening the doors of our schools, churches, sports clubs and social events to connect with those that we wouldn't normally think to involve could lead to the sort of velvet revolution that creates a stronger and more united society. This is the way to show, rather than simply tell, our politicians that we want the change process to happen more quickly. Making a deliberate choice to spend time together socially in our ordinary lives gives everyone some power to play a part in building our future instead of waiting for someone else to make things better and getting frustrated with our politicians and institutions. If we can play our part, hopefully they can also play theirs. We can be the change that we want to see and let history tell how this was the time of a big social transformation in the places our children and grandchildren will belong to and call home.

During 2014-15, the Community Relations Council continued to play its part and work for positive change on a wide range of the issues, albeit with increasing budgetary pressure. In this report we are pleased to show the broad range of creative projects and methods used to build and sustain peace and address sectarianism and racism. It is heartening to see the reach of the work, in relation to both the age range of participants and the communities and cultural backgrounds from which they come to build a shared society.

In 2014-15 the Community Relations Council delivered five grant schemes on behalf of the Office of the First Minister and deputy First Minister: the Community Relations and Cultural Diversity Small Grant Scheme; the Core-Funding Grant Scheme; the Pathfinder Scheme; the Media Grant Scheme; and the Publication Grant Scheme. Twenty six organisations received grants from the Core Fund. In addition to the Core Fund Scheme, the Community Relations Council supported over three hundred projects under the other funding programmes dealing with the legacy of the conflict, peace-building, tackling sectarianism and racism, and building good relations in our diverse community. A full list of the grants paid in 2014-15 is provided as an appendix to this annual report. Work is underway to develop electronic mapping mechanisms to visually demonstrate the geographic and thematic reach and impact of our funding schemes.

In addition to providing funding, the Community Relations Council continues to support development and facilitate themed discussions on a wide range of issues, providing advice and a hub for the exchange of learning and best practice among our funded groups and wider networks. In a time of economic uncertainty it is important to maximise the practice of joint working. This may be one of the only ways in which groups can realistically hope to sustain the impact of their work when funding is scarce. It is also important to capture the imagination of a new generation of peace builders to lead the next chapter of the peace process. Our collaboration with Heritage Lottery Fund on the "Decade of Anniversaries" project continues and our workshop and resources fair held on 5th March 2015 in collaboration with the Nerve Centre was particularly well received this year. The annual Live Issues Conference for community relations practitioners was also held in March 2015 once again showcasing good practice and the issues facing local community and voluntary groups. Based on research funded by the Community Relations Council, the keynote address was delivered by Dr Orna Young. The research examines the role and impact, positive and negative, of social media on good relations and sustaining peace. In December 2014 CRC also hosted a conference of the Interface Community Partners and the Department of Justice's Inter-agency Group on progress in relation to peace walls and interface communities.

At the beginning of April 2015 the eleven new Councils took up their responsibilities and we hope the new structures will be successful. The Community Relations Council continues to have a member of staff working full time on supporting the delivery of the OFMdFM District Council Good Relations Programme. In addition, the Community Relations Council is reviewing what other support it can offer to the Councils in placing good community relations at the core of their work, along with equality, countering sectarianism and racism and protecting minorities.

The annual Community Relations Week was co-ordinated by the Community Relations Council in June 2014. This year the theme was "Building a United Community". The week included over 200 events organised by voluntary and community groups and public sector bodies as a showcase of good relations practice across all District Council areas.

As usual the Community Relations Council held a conference on the first day of this high profile week. The theme of the conference was 'Finish the Job'- a quote from a speech made the previous year by former United States President Bill Clinton who urged that outstanding issues in the peace process be addressed.

The second David Stevens Memorial Lecture, with guest speaker Professor John Brewer, saw the presentation of the 2014 Community Relations Awards for Exceptional Achievement to two highly respected community workers, Mary Montague and Chris O'Halloran. To highlight the importance of good civic leadership to community relations, the Community Relations Council also presented a new award to retiring Northern Ireland Assembly Speaker William Hay and previous Lord Mayor of Belfast, Máirtin O'Muilleoir.

Throughout the year the Community Relations Council continued its engagement with minority ethnic and faith communities particularly in relation to establishing shared perspectives and a common platform on the government's forthcoming strategy on racial equality. The public consultation on the draft strategy was launched in June 2014. This followed a spate of race hate crimes and incidents. Therefore the release of the strategy and the start of the consultation were widely welcomed. The First Minister Peter Robinson said at the launch "Nobody should be judged on the colour of their skin, their political or religious background or race." The deputy First Minister stated "The Executive is determined to promote equality, mutual respect and tolerance for all people in society". To be effective the new strategy will need to be based on a robust analysis of the scale of the challenge. Up to date and comprehensive regional and local information should always underpin the government's policy response. Actions to promote racial equality should be aligned across policy development in central and local government with priorities in areas such as education, health, housing, regeneration and culture, arts and leisure. Implementation is always a challenge so the new strategy will need a clear action plan working across government, as well as in small scale projects at the local level. It will also need to be adequately resourced and implementation should be monitored across government so that lessons are learnt early and changes made when necessary. The measure of success will be a change, for the better, in the everyday lived experience of people from minority ethnic backgrounds.

The engagement between policy, practice and reflective evaluation remains at the heart of the work of the Community Relations Council. Evidence based policy comment is vital to wellcrafted public policy and service delivery that creates progressive change. Full details of all consultation responses submitted to public bodies during the year are included in the performance review section of this annual report. The Community Relations Council is also monitoring the implementation of the commitments made in the Together: Building a United Community policy. In September 2014 we facilitated a number of consultation events to discuss progress on the strategy. We gave evidence on the policy to the inquiry undertaken by the Committee of the Office of the First Minister and deputy First Minister. The OFMdFM led Transition Project to establish the new Equality and Good Relations Commission was suspended in September 2014 to allow for consideration of the underpinning legislation. The review of the delivery mechanisms for community relations funding carried out by the Strategic Investment Board on behalf of the Office of the First and deputy First Minister was completed this year as part of the policy Together: Building a United Community. The findings have not yet been made public. We are working with the Office of the First and deputy First Minister to take forward actions outlined in Together: Building a United Community under the current structural arrangements and our work plan for next year incorporates many related actions.

Two years after its publication it is still not possible to tell the extent to which the policy will deliver a progressive and positive improvement in community relationships in the region.

In last year's annual report the Community Relations Council noted the need for robust, unambiguous support for community cohesion across all political and administrative institutions. We said that the new policy needed to be implemented quickly and effectively by the whole of government if we were going to transform aspiration into real and lasting change. The Community Relations Council continues to believe this. During the year we have provided support to the development of a number of the emerging signature programmes of Together: Building a United Community. These have the potential to provide useful platforms of inter-agency contact through which the initiatives can be developed and learning routinely shared.

Understanding what works best to build peace and improve community relationships is always an important element of our work. In November 2014 an edition of our research journal Shared Space was published in partnership with the World Leadership Alliance - Club de Madrid containing international reflections on the theme of peace monitoring. To enhance our understanding of the experiences of integration and segregation in housing CRC funded research on Exploring New Residents' Experiences in Mixed Areas of Belfast. The report, by Dr Clifford Stevenson and Thia Sagherian Dickey from the School of Psychology at Queen's University, was published by CRC in February 2015 and the findings discussed at a public launch in Belfast.

In April 2014 a presentation was made to the Committee of the Office of the First Minister and deputy First Minister on the findings of the third Peace Monitoring Report which was published in April 2014. In October 2014 the Community Relations Council also made a presentation to the Joint Oireachtas Committee on the Implementation of the Good Friday Agreement based on the findings of the third report. The report remains an important source of information that allows us to examine, on the basis of evidence, our journey towards or away from peace. The report continues to gather detailed and statistical evidence across four dimensions - security, equality, political progress and cohesion and sharing. We are again indebted to the many bodies that provided data across these dimensions for the report and we are, as always, grateful to those who serve on the advisory board. The report is available on our web-site along with other valuable research reports. In 2014 we added eight new film clips to our website which reflect on some of the main themes of our work. Our use of social media continues to expand and as means of promoting community relations information and Fulfilling our responsibilities under freedom of information, the Community Relations Council responded to 5 requests during 2014-15 and all received responses within the recommended timeframe.

I am grateful to the Chair and members of our Council for their continued commitment to the Community Relations Council. I would especially like to pay tribute to those members that have completed their terms of office this year. I also welcome the new Council members who have joined the Board and I look forward to working with them in the coming years. I am grateful to colleagues in our sponsoring Department for guidance and support during the year. Finally, and as always, I thank my fellow members of staff for their commitment to improving community relations across the region this year.

Strategic Report

The directors are pleased to present their annual review and financial statements for the year ended 31 March 2015.

Principal Activities

The Northern Ireland Community Relations Council was established in 1990 as an independent charity sponsored by the Community Relations Unit of the Office of the First Minister and the deputy First Minister (OFMdFM).

The main aim of the Northern Ireland Community Relations Council has been to assist the development of greater understanding and co-operation between political, cultural and religious communities in Northern Ireland.

Within the founding legislation the Minister has approved the overall aim for the Community Relations Council as follows:

The advancement of education and of other charitable purposes beneficial to the community in Northern Ireland ("the area of benefit"), and in particular, but not so as to limit the generality of the foregoing, the advancement of education in, and the understanding of, the different cultural traditions of the peoples of the area of benefit and the improvement of community relations in the area of benefit.

Review of activities

The Council takes its planning objectives from "Together: Building a United Community" published by OFMdFM in 2013. The 2015-18 strategic plan for the Community Relations Council is currently under public consultation and it sets out the strategic objectives of the Community Relations Council under four key priorities:

- Develop children and young people
- Build a more shared community
- Create a safer community
- Encourage respectful cultural expression

The Community Relations Council's strategic objectives and the organisation's performance against those objectives 2014-15 are set out below.

The financial statements of the Community Relations Council have been prepared in accordance with the Accounts Direction issued by OFMdFM.

The Balance Sheet on page 77 shows that the company had a fund deficit of (£744,523) at 31 March 2015 (2014 - £435,371).

The Statement of Financial Activities on pages 75 to 76 indicates that the company had incoming resources of £2,486,171 (2014 - £3,938,144) in the year. Note 2 on page 83 shows OFMdFM as being the sponsor of 99.75% (2014 – 87%) of this income. This income was exceeded by outgoing resources of £3,266,065 by £779,894 (2014 - income was exceeded by outgoing resources of £3,997,867 by £59,723). The majority of the organisation's reserves are Restricted Reserves. In accordance with NICRC's Management Statement and Financial Memorandum, 'cash balances accumulated during the course of the year shall be kept at the minimum level consistent with the efficient operation of the Community Relations Council.' In the financial year 2014/2015, OFMdFM, the sponsoring Department, has requested that the Community Relations Council cash reserves at the bank be reduced to a level of £130,000. During the year the Community Relations Council have significantly reduced their cash balance from £1,303,743 to £567,114 in line with this directive.

As required by legislative changes, the company has adopted IAS19, the International Accounting Standard on Employee Benefits. The valuation of the company's pension scheme at 31 March 2015, for the purposes of IAS19, showed a funding deficit of £980,000 (2014: £548,000).

This deficit represents the difference between the liabilities of the pension fund and the value of its underlying assets; it does not represent an immediate cash commitment, as the cash flow required to meet the deficit relates to future pension contributions. Therefore, this liability is expected to arise over the long-term rather than in the immediate future. The valuation of the pension schemes assets under IAS19 is different from the triennial actuarial valuation which determines the pension contributions required to reduce the deficit. Current financial projections indicate that the Community Relations Council will be able to make these contributions as they fall due.

Gender Diversity

At the end of the financial year the gender split amongst Council Members and staff was as follows:

	Male No.	Female No.
Council Members	15	8
Employees:
Grade 6	-	1
DP	3	2
SO	2	4
EO	0	5
AO	1	3

Risk management

The Community Relations Council, as a community relations development organisation with a funding role, must be prepared to deal with opportunities and risks associated with the nature of its work. The Community Relations Council's appetite for risk is determined by the belief that it is not possible to entirely eliminate risk. There will always be a level of residual risk associated with the work that cannot be addressed but may be minimised to an acceptable level.

The Directors have examined the major strategic, business and operational risks which the company faces and confirm that systems have been established to enable regular reports to be produced so that the necessary steps can be taken to lessen these risks.

The Community Relations Council is committed to ensuring that all staff members are aware of the process to raise risk related matters and that they feel confident in raising these issues even when this may present negative impacts for the organisation. The Community Relations Council is also committed to ensuring that any issues or concerns that are raised will be considered and acted upon at an appropriate level. The Community Relations Council is also committed to ensuring that risk owners have the necessary resources at their disposal to implement risk responses and that they are well equipped and supported to manage risk (including training and access to risk management advice and expertise).

The Community Relations Council has identified the following as the principal risks and uncertainties facing the organisation:

- 1. Economic the ability to attract/retain staff in the current labour market; exchange rates; and the effect of the global economy; and
- 2. New policies policy decisions creating expectations that challenge the organisation's capacity to deliver

Going Concern

On 23 May 2013, the First and deputy First Ministers published a new Good Relations Strategy, Together: Building a United Community. A key action of the new strategy will be the establishment of an independent and statutorily based organisation to provide advice to Government and to challenge all levels of Government in terms of its performance in improving good relations. This change has the potential for significant impact on the Community Relations Council. The legislation to establish the new commission is under consideration and in advance of the enactment of legislation and any resulting organisational changes OFMdFM will continue to work with Community Relations Council to ensure the continued effective and efficient delivery of a range of community relation roles and responsibilities emanating from the implementation of the Executive's Together Building a United Community strategy.

The Community Relations Council is not aware of any impending changes and Ministers have agreed both the Community Relations Council's Business Plan and opening budget for 2015/16, which has been confirmed by the Department in writing. Based on this, it would be appropriate for CRC to prepare 2015/16 financial statements on a going concern basis.

Sustainability report

The Community Relations Council is committed to the Northern Ireland Executive's Sustainable Development Strategy and has introduced policies and practices to encourage efficiency in the use of resources. These include the 100% use of recycled paper and the introduction of multifunction printing/copying/scanning devices which are set to duplex printing. Community Relations Council also participated in a programme of shredding and recycling for which it received a 'Certificate of Environmental Accomplishment'. The Community Relations Council has also reviewed its office space requirements and has reduced these accordingly.

Directors' Report

Structure, Governance and Management

The Northern Ireland Community Relations Council is a company limited by guarantee, with no share capital, and is recognised as a charity by HM Revenue & Customs.

The company was established under a Memorandum of Association which established the objects and powers of the charitable company and is governed under its Articles of Association. In the event of the company being wound up members are required to contribute an amount not exceeding £1.

These financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the accounting and disclosure requirements of Companies Act 2006, along with selected disclosures as recommended in the 'Accounting and Reporting by Charities: Statement of Recommended Practice (revised 2005)' and the Government Financial Reporting Manual (FReM) and applicable Accounting Standards.

The Directors have complied with guidance published by the Charities Commission.

The Community Relations Council is governed by the Members of the Council. Where the Articles of Association refer to the Council, it can also be read as the Company, which shall mean the Members of the Council can also be read as the Directors of the Company.

The Council has 23 members and meets bi-monthly. A scheme of delegation is in place and day to day responsibility for provision of services rests with the Chief Executive, Jacqueline Irwin, and the various Programme Committees.

The Directors of the Community Relations Council are appointed through an independent appointments process conducted by the Community Relations Council which complies fully with guidance from the Office of the Commissioner for Public Appointments in Northern Ireland (OCPANI). OCPANI nominate an independent observer to ensure that due process is followed.

Following appointment, all directors receive 'On Board' training conducted by CIPFA, Equality and Recruitment training, conducted by the Equality Commission for Northern Ireland and a full induction into the work of the Community Relations Council conducted by Community Relations Council staff and Chair. Each sub-committee of the Community Relations Council also offers induction training into the work of the committee for new members.

Statement of grant making policies

The Community Relations Council provides grant aid and advice to voluntary and community groups in support of projects which have a community relations purpose or value. The Council has a variety of funding schemes each tailored to promote certain aspects of community relations:

- The Community Relations and Cultural Diversity Small Grant Scheme is intended to help community/voluntary groups in Northern Ireland develop their capacity to engage in community relations work and to enhance the community relations potential of projects they undertake. The maximum award payable for this grant is £10,000.
- The Core Funding Grant Scheme is designed to support voluntary and community organisations to develop community relations work in a strategic manner, on a regional basis. Support is specifically targeted at work to combat sectarianism in Northern Ireland on a strategic long-term basis. The amount awarded normally ranges between £20,000 and £100,000.
- The Publications Grant Scheme aims to encourage the production and dissemination of publications that will contribute to greater understanding and better community relations in Northern Ireland. The maximum award payable for this grant is £5,000.
- The Media Grant Scheme aims to assist with the dissemination of community relations priorities via print, broadcast or other widely accessible media. Normally individual awards are between £5,000 and £10,000 but in exceptional circumstances up to but not in excess of £20,000.
- The Pathfinder Scheme contributes towards the salary and running costs of organisations or projects which are considered of strategic importance in promoting community relations work in Northern Ireland. The Pathfinder Scheme is not an open scheme to which groups can apply; discussion with the Director of the Funding and Development Programme will precede any proposal made to this scheme. This scheme also supports emergency intervention funding through small project grants.

Research and Development

In 2014-15 activity included two annual conferences, the CR Week campaign, thematic discussion groups with key community relations organisations as well as practitioner forums which promote collaborative working and networking opportunities. The Community Relations Council produces a research journal, Shared Space, which publishes recent academic research examining peace-building, conflict resolution and the promotion of good relations. One journal was produced in the 2014-15 year.

Future plans

In May 2013, OFMdFM, published a policy document, Together: Building a United Community which sets out Government's strategic objectives in relation to Community Relations. The future plans of the Community Relations Council will be affected by this in two ways:

- 1. The establishment of the Equality and Good Relations Commission; and
- 2. The review of mechanisms for delivery of Community Relations Funding.

OFMdFM has confirmed that it will continue to work with the Community Relations Council in the interim period to ensure the continued effective and efficient delivery of the whole range of community relations roles and responsibilities currently delivered through the Community Relations Council. Any changes to strategic and operational plans will be agreed by Ministers in the usual manner.

Events after the reporting date

A key action of the Together: Building a United Community strategy will be the establishment of an independent and statutorily-based organisation to provide advice to, and to challenge, all levels of Government in terms of its performance in improving good relations. This change has the potential for significant impact on the Community Relations Council which is currently a major administrator of good relations funding. In line with the Management Statement for the Community Relations Council, OFMdFM will use the next planned review of the organisation to inform the detailed arrangements for future funding. It is anticipated that the lead time to complete the structural changes identified in the new Good Relations Strategy and to put into effect the outcomes of relevant reviews and any associated legislative changes may take around two years.

Employee and Council involvement

Northern Ireland Community Relations Council implements its business strategy through its staff. In achieving business objectives the involvement of staff and Council members in planning and decision making is crucial. Staff involvement includes monthly staff meetings and the use of project teams.

Personal data related incidents

Northern Ireland Community Relations Council is required to report on personal data related incidents and accordingly have a control system to meet these responsibilities under Data Protection Act 1998 and the Freedom of Information Act 2000. The control system has been

Statement of Accounting Officer's and Directors' Responsibilities

Under the Government Resources and Accounts Act (Northern Ireland) 2001, the Office of the First Minister and Deputy First Minister (OFMdFM) has directed The Northern Ireland Community Relations Council to prepare for each financial year a statement of accounts in compliance with the accounting principles and disclosure requirements of the Companies Act and the Charities SORP, as set out in the Accounts Direction. ^{*}The value of pension benefits accrued during the year is calculated as (the real increase in pension multiplied by 20) plus (the real increase in any lump sum) less (the contributions made by the individual). The real increases exclude increases due to inflation or any increase or decreases due to a transfer of pension rights.

Neither bonus nor Benefits in Kind were paid to the CEO during either the 2014/15 or 2013/14 financial years.

Other than the post of Chair, no other Council Member is remunerated.

Ratio of Median Remuneration to Highest Paid Director (audited)

Reporting bodies are required to disclose the relationship between the remuneration of the highest-paid director in their organisation and the median remuneration of the organisation's workforce.

The banded remuneration of the highest-paid director in the Community Relations Council in the financial year 2014-15 was £60k-£65k (2013-14 £60k-£65k). This was 2.18 times (2013-14 2.19 times) the median remuneration of the workforce, which was £28,681 (2013-14 £28,475). The ratio has decreased slightly as a result of a reduction in the number of staff employed.

Pensions

The Northern Ireland Community Relations Council participates in a defined benefit pension scheme administered by NILGOSC for all permanent staff. The employer makes a contribution of 20% (2014 20%) of basic salary to the NILGOSC pension scheme. The employee does not have to join this scheme. Further details can be found on www.nilgosc.org.uk.

The accrued pension quoted is the pension the member is entitled to receive when they reach pension age or immediately on ceasing to be an active member of the Scheme if they are at or over pension age. Pension age is 65.

The Cash Equivalent Transfer Value (CETV)

A Cash Equivalent Transfer Value (CETV) is the actuarially assessed capitalised value of the pension scheme benefits accrued by a member at a particular point in time. The benefits valued are the member's accrued benefits and any contingent spouse's pension payable from the scheme. A CETV is a payment made by a pension scheme or arrangement to secure pension benefits in another pension scheme or arrangement when the member leaves a scheme and chooses to transfer the benefits accrued in their former scheme. The pension figures shown relate to the benefits that the individual has accrued as a consequence of their total membership of the pension scheme, not just their service in a senior capacity to which this disclosure applies. The CETV figures, and from 2003-04 the other pension details, include the value of any pension benefit in another scheme or arrangement which the individual has transferred to the NILGOSC arrangements. They also include any additional pension benefit accrued to the member as a result of their purchasing additional years of pension service in the scheme at their own cost. CETVs are calculated in accordance with The Occupational Pension Schemes (Transfer Values) (Amendment) Regulations and do not take account of any actual or potential reduction to benefits resulting from Lifetime Allowance Tax which may be due when pension benefits are taken.

The real increase in the value of the CETV

This reflects the increase in CETV effectively funded by the employer. It does not include the increase in accrued pension due to inflation, contributions paid by the employee (including the value of any benefits transferred from another pension scheme or arrangement) and uses common market valuation factors for the start and end of the period.

Loss of Office

There was no compensation for loss of office (2013/14 £nil).

Governance Statement

1. Introduction

This statement is given in respect of Northern Ireland Community Relations Council's Accounts for the year ended 31 March 2015. It outlines the Community Relations Council's governance framework for directing and controlling its functions and how assurance is provided to support me in my role as Accounting Officer for the Community Relations Council.

The Community Relations Council's governance structures are developed in line with Managing Public Money Northern Ireland (MPMNI), Departmental and other requirements and guidance. The Board of the Community Relations Council has corporate responsibility for ensuring that the organisation fulfils the responsibilities, aims and objectives set by the Board and agreed with the Department and Ministers including promoting the efficient, economic and effective use of staff and other resources. As Accounting Officer, I have a duty to satisfy myself that the Community Relations Council has adequate governance systems and procedures in place to promote the effective, efficient conduct of its business and to safeguard financial propriety and regularity.

The Community Relations Council is an "arm's length" body of the Office of the First and deputy First Minister (OFMdFM), and a company limited by guarantee with charitable status. It has been formally governed as an Executive Non-Departmental Public Body (NDPB) since April 2012.

The Community Relations Council operates in accordance with a Management Statement agreed with OFMdFM. This sets out the relationship between the two organisations and defines the financial and administrative framework of the Community Relations Council. The Community Relations Council's primary source of income is grant-in-aid provided by its sponsoring Department, the Office of the First and deputy First Minister (OFMdFM). The Management Statement sets out the conditions on which grant-in-aid is paid and the related financial delegations of the Community Relations Council. It is supplemented by a Financial Memorandum and both are approved by OFMdFM and the Department of Finance and Personnel (DFP). A joint review of the Management Statement and Financial Memorandum was undertaken and completed in October 2014.

Within this overall framework, it is the role of the Community Relations Council to determine its policies and activities.

2. Compliance with Corporate Governance Code

The Community Relations Council applies the principles of DFP's Corporate governance in central government departments: Code of good practice (2013) where applicable and any other relevant guidance received from government as it continues to strengthen its governance arrangements.

3. Governance Framework

The Community Relations Council has established key organisational structures which support the delivery of corporate governance:

The Board supports the delivery of effective corporate governance and operates within best practice guidelines set out in DFP's Corporate governance in central government departments: Code of good practice (2013). The Board takes an objective long-term view of the business of the Community Relations Council, leading its strategic planning process and assisting me as Accounting Officer in meeting the corporate governance responsibilities for the Community Relations Council.

In addition, the Memorandum and Articles of Association set out the Board's responsibility to establish and oversee corporate governance arrangements. Notwithstanding this, all tiers of management have commensurate responsibilities for ensuring that good governance practices are followed at an organisational/business level.

The key aspects of the Board's role include:

- setting the strategic direction for the Community Relations Council, including its vision, values and strategic objectives, and overseeing the implementation of the strategic and business plans, performance against its commitments to the Office of the First Minister and the deputy First Minister (OFMdFM) and budget;
- developing, promoting and overseeing the implementation of policies and programmes in line with the Community Relations Council's strategic direction;
- leading and overseeing the process of change and encouraging innovation, to enhance the Community Relations Council's capability to deliver;
- monitoring performance via Community Relations Council's corporate plans, budgets and targets, and assessing and managing the strategic risk to delivery;
- overseeing the strategic management of the Community Relations Council's staff, finance, information and physical resources, including setting training and health and safety priorities;
- establishing and overseeing the implementation of Community Relations Council's corporate governance arrangements, including risk management; and
- overseeing and monitoring progress against all of Community Relations Council's equality of opportunity, good relations and human rights obligations.

In line with best practice, the operational procedures of the Board are kept under continuous review. The Chairman has reviewed the number of meetings of the Board and its committees as they relate to the completion of the operational plan for the year. He has also reviewed attendance, chairing of committees and the findings of this year's audit reports and is satisfied with performance for the year. Following a recruitment exercise carried out in September 2014, the skills and experience of the Board has been extended with the appointment of 11 new members on 1st December 2014. There are no significant issues to report.

The Board receives bi-monthly reports on the delivery of business plan objectives; financial management and budget monitoring; HR and other resource priorities; and reports from the Audit Committee in relation to resilience of security and information assurance, contingency planning and business continuity planning. All reports/papers conform to a standard layout to ensure the appropriate focus on key issues. Financial and performance data is extracted from the accounting and operational systems and is therefore subject to regular, planned internal quality assurance checks and independent audits.

In line with good practice, and following the appointment of new members, the Audit Committee will be conducting a self-assessment against the guidelines issued by the National Audit Office during the autumn of 2015. The findings of the self-assessment will be presented to the Board for action as appropriate. The Terms of Reference for the Audit Committee will also be reviewed in the autumn of 2015.

The programme of work of the Audit Committee meetings include:

- review of the corporate risk register;
- scrutiny of the annual accounts;
- consideration of NIAO audit strategy;
- consideration of internal audit strategy;

The staff of the Community Relations Council provided regular reports to the Audit Committee on business planning, risk management and assurance in the organisation. In addition, the Audit Committee considered and commented on individual issues of internal governance and their implications for wider governance arrangements.

The Chairperson of the Audit Committee presents regular reports to the Board throughout the year.

Finance and General Purposes Committee

The Board has established a Finance and General Purposes Committee with the overall objective of oversight, control, challenge and scrutiny on behalf of the Board of financial, staffing and the other assets of the Community Relations Council.

Updates from the Finance and General Purposes Committee are reported to the Board through the Committee Chairman and the Director of Finance, Admin and Personnel. 5. Quality of Data provided to the Board

The Board is satisfied as to the quality of data and information provided which is always thoroughly reviewed. At present the Board receives standing information for each meeting on key areas such as finance, human resources and performance. Briefing papers on other material issues are provided as they arise. All papers are issued a week in advance of any Board meeting to allow members to review and, where appropriate, to raise questions in advance. The relevant business area can then be requested to attend to support discussions or be required to produce more detailed information in advance of the meeting. All statistical and financial information is provided by professionally qualified accountants.

6. Board effectiveness

A review has not been carried out in 2014/15 but one is planned for Autumn 2015/16.

7. Internal Control and Risk Management

The Community Relations Council has procedures in place to ensure that it identifies its strategic and operational risks and determines a control strategy. As Accounting Officer, I have overall responsibility for the Community Relations Council's corporate business and for ensuring the effective management of the associated risks. All relevant internal control considerations, including any issues of risk, are taken into account with regard to the achievement of Community Relations Council's policies, aims and objectives, and where necessary, are brought to the attention of the sponsoring department, OFMdFM. An important element of the system of internal control is the 'Stewardship Statement' process.

This process requires me, as Accounting Officer, to provide a quarterly stewardship statement to the sponsoring department.

The system of internal control is designed to manage risk to a reasonable level rather than to eliminate all risk of failure to achieve policies, aims and objectives, it can therefore only provide reasonable and not absolute assurance of effectiveness.

The system of internal control is based on an ongoing process designed to:

- identify and prioritise the risks to the achievement of policies, aims and objectives;
- evaluate the likelihood of those risks being realised and the impact should they be realised; and
- manage them efficiently, effectively and economically.

The system of internal control has been in place in the Community Relations Council for the year ended 31 March 2015 and up to the date of approval of the Annual Report and Accounts, and accords with Department of Finance and Personnel guidance.

To assist in the risk management process, the consideration of risks is mapped out in the Community Relations Council's corporate Risk Register which is scrutinised and updated at each Audit Committee meeting and annually at the Board Meeting. The Register:

- identifies the Community Relations Council's risks; and
- analyses the risks related to the current Business Plan, including provision for the mitigation and control of risks.

All new business activities are assessed for key risks and controls are put in place.

The Board approved a revised risk strategy and register in March 2014. The new risk strategy and register are aligned with the Northern Ireland Audit Office publication Good Practice in Risk Management and there is now a clearer distinction between strategic and operational risks.

There are also a number of other processes which contribute to the management of risks and corporate governance in the organisation:

• The corporate and business planning process:

The Board of the Community Relations Council has drafted a new Strategic Plan which is currently out for consultation. The Strategic Plan is supported by annual Business Plans.

- The Performance Management System: Performance is monitored throughout the year, reviewed annually by the Board and reported to OFMdFM
- HR policies:

HR policies are designed to ensure that the Community Relations Council has the appropriate numbers of staff with suitable skills to meet its objectives; a system is in place for managing attendance at work and levels of absence are reviewed regularly by the Finance and General Purposes Committee and reported to OFMdFM; independent HR guidance supports the organisation in ensuring that it operates in compliance with employment law.

- Budgets & priorities setting including in-year Monitoring processes:
 Budgets & priorities setting are in place and reviewed quarterly in association with OFMdFM. The four year cost reduction plan continues to be a risk for the Community Relations Council but this is reviewed regularly by the Finance and General Purposes Committee and the Board.
- The Community Relations Council's Fraud Policy and Response Plan, incorporating arrangements for Whistle Blowing:

The fraud policy and response plan details responsibilities regarding the prevention of fraud and the procedures to be followed in the event of a fraud being detected or suspected. The Annual Report highlights cases of suspected fraud or irregularity and how the Community Relations Council is responding to those claims. In the Annual Report for 2013/14, an update on an investigation into a funded group that was first raised with CRC in the 2011/12 year, reported a possibility of double funding affecting a small grant made by the Community Relations Council and other funds received by the organisation. The Community Relations Council took guidance on the options for clawing back this funding and following guidance from OFMDFM's Fraud Investigation Oversight Group issued an initial clawback letter to the group on 17 April 2014 and a further clawback letter on 23 May 2014. The level of grant aid from Community Relations Council at risk in this case is a maximum of £3,494. In September 2014, the group issued a DS01 (Striking off application by Company) notification to CRC which was forwarded to the Department for consideration by the

Fraud Investigation Oversight Group. In May 2015 CRC were advised that the Department would not be pursuing clawback of the debt and that CRC could now formally submit a request to the Department to write off the debt in CRC's accounts. CRC has now formally submitted that request.

In May 2014, DARD Central Investigation Service alerted the Community Relations Council to a concern raised by a whistle-blower with the Arts Council Northern Ireland. Meetings with funders of the group took place throughout 2014/15. An audit report was commissioned which was inconclusive and the allegations against the group were not substantiated. The case was closed.

In October 2014, the Community Relations Council was contacted by a group it funds to inform of a potential financial irregularity uncovered within the group's finances. The Community Relations Council notified OFMdFM of the concerns raised. Papers were forwarded to the Central Investigations Unit and at their request the Community Relations Council procured an audit. The audit report findings are under review by the Community Relations Council and the auditor and once finalised a final report will issue to the Department for their consideration. Progress on all investigations continues to be monitored by the Audit and Risk Assurance Committee which is attended by NIAO and a representative from OFMdFM.

• Gifts and Hospitality:

In line with recommended practice, the Community Relations Council has arrangements in place for the management of gifts and hospitality and all are included on a Gifts and Hospitality Register.

- Third Party Organisations;
 Related party transactions are reported in the Annual Accounts.
- Service Continuity Plan: The plan was updated May 2015.
- Management of information risks:

Safeguarding information and its subsequent effective use, is a key element supporting the Community Relations Council in the delivery of its objectives. Central to achieving this is the effective management of information risk. As part of an ongoing process to identify and control risks to information, the Community Relations Council takes assurance on its information arrangements and practices from all internal and external audits. The internal audit plan for 2013-14 included a specific review of information management arrangements and received a satisfactory assurance rating.

Review of Effectiveness

As Accounting Officer, I have responsibility for reviewing the effectiveness of the system of internal control. My review of the effectiveness of the system of internal control is informed by the work of the internal auditors, the Audit Committee, which oversees the work of the internal auditor, the executive managers within the Northern Ireland Community Relations Council who have responsibility for the development and maintenance of the internal control framework, and comments made by the external auditors in their Report to Those Charged

With Governance and other reports. I have been advised on the implications of the result of my review of the effectiveness of the system of internal control by the Board, and the Audit Committee, and plans to address weaknesses and ensure continuous improvement of the system are in place.

8. Sources of Independent Assurance

The Community Relations Council obtains independent assurance from the following sources:

• Internal Audit

In addition, this year OFMDFM undertook a review of funding processes and procedures. The report of the findings was received in May 2015 and procedures were found to be satisfactory.

Internal Audit

Internal Audit provides independent assurance by giving an independent opinion on the adequacy and effectiveness of the system of internal control to me, as the Accounting Officer and to the Community Relations Council's Audit Committee.

The Community Relations Council's internal audit services are provided by an external audit firm following a competitive tendering exercise and were appointed in March 2015.

Assessing the completeness and effectiveness of the corporate governance arrangements forms part of the internal audit work programme. Internal Audit operates in accordance with Public Sector Internal Audit Standards (PSIAS). The primary role of Internal Audit is to provide the Accounting Officer and the Board with an independent and objective opinion on risk management, control and governance, by measuring and evaluating their effectiveness in achieving the agreed objectives.

Internal Audit has played a crucial role in the review of the effectiveness of risk management, controls and governance in the Community Relations Council by:

- focusing audit activity on the key business risks;
- being available to guide managers and staff through improvements in internal controls;
- auditing the application of risk management and control as part of internal audit reviews of key systems and processes; and
- providing advice to management on internal governance implications of proposed and emerging changes.

The internal audit programme for this year concentrated on a high level review of financial controls included the following reviews:

- Purchasing and procurement
- Travel and subsistence
- Gifts and Hospitality

- Management Accounts
- Fixed Assets

Internal Audit has provided an overall assurance rating of satisfactory for the period.

Northern Ireland Audit Office

The Community Relations Council is also subject to independent scrutiny from the Northern Ireland Audit Office. The Audit Office is independent of Government and is tasked by the Assembly to hold the Northern Ireland Departments and their Agencies to account for their use of public money. The Comptroller and Auditor General works closely with the Assembly's Public Accounts Committee which can require Accounting Officers and senior officials to account for their actions in relation to the management of public funds.

Data Losses

There were no data losses in year to 31 March 2015.

Significant Issues

Current DFP guidance FD (DFP) 08/14 sets out that a review should be conducted annually to ensure that staff salary maintains the principle of 'no better off, no worse off'. Presently NICRC grosses up the basic salaries of all but one of its employees by 6% to make a contribution to the cost of the employee's superannuation contributions to NILGOSC pension scheme. This was to ensure that staff were not disadvantaged as a result of what was historically higher contributions to the NILGOSC pension scheme compared to the PCSPS(NI). OFMdfM are currently considering the issue of NICRC's payment of 6% gross on top of salary and have advised NICRC to delay submitting a pay remit for 2014/15 until the issue is resolved. Therefore NICRC have not produced the required analysis in compliance with the DFP guidance. NICRC do not have at this point any indication of the timeframe, or what action is being taken, to resolve this issue. NIAO highlighted in their 2013-14 Report to Those Charge with governance that whilst for 2013-14 a pay remit had been approved, going forward NICRC would be required to review the position annually, and procedures should be implemented to ensure compliance with guidance.

Significant Internal Control Problems

There were no significant internal control problems noted in the year to 31 March 2015.

9. Conclusion in relation to Risk Management Status

The Community Relations Council has a system of accountability on which I rely, as Accounting Officer, to form an opinion on the probity and use of public funds, as detailed in Managing Public Money Northern Ireland.

Having considered the accountability framework, and in conjunction with assurances given to me by the Audit Committee, I am satisfied that the controls in place to manage risks are appropriate and sound. All significant internal control issues are reported regularly to the

Audit Committee, the Board and OFMdFM. These controls provide reasonable assurance that risks will not occur or if a risk does occurs that it will be detected and corrected in sufficient time to reduce the impact of the risk to tolerable or negligible levels.

J Irwin - Accounting Officer

THE CERTIFICATE AND REPORT OF THE COMPTROLLER AND AUDITOR GENERAL TO THE MEMBERS OF THE NORTHERN IRELAND COMMUNITY RELATIONS COUNCIL

I certify that I have audited the financial statements of the Northern Ireland Community Relations Council for the year ended 31 March 2015 under the Companies (Public Sector Audit) Order (Northern Ireland) 2013. These comprise the Statement of Financial Activities, Balance Sheet, Cash Flow Statement and the related notes. These financial statements have been prepared under the accounting policies set out within them. I have also audited the information in the Remuneration Report that is described in that report as having been audited.

Respective responsibilities of the Accounting Officer, Directors' and auditor

As explained more fully in the Statement of Accounting Officer's and Directors' Responsibilities, the Directors (who are also the directors of the company for the purposes of company law) are responsible for the preparation of the financial statements and for being satisfied that they give a true and fair view. My responsibility is to audit, certify and report on the financial statements in accordance with the Companies (Public Sector Audit) Order (Northern Ireland) 2013. I conducted my audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (UK and Ireland). Those standards require me and my staff to comply with the Auditing Practices Board's Ethical Standards for Auditors.

Scope of the audit of the financial statements

An audit involves obtaining evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements sufficient to give reasonable assurance that the financial statements are free from material misstatement, whether caused by fraud or error. This includes an assessment of: whether the accounting policies are appropriate to the Northern Ireland Community Relations Council's circumstances and have been consistently applied and adequately disclosed; the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by the Directors; and the overall presentation of the financial statements. In addition I read all the financial and non-financial information in the Annual Report to identify material inconsistencies with the audited financial statements and to identify any information that is apparently materially incorrect based on, or materially inconsistent with, the knowledge acquired by me in the course of performing the audit. If I become aware of any apparent material misstatements or inconsistencies I consider the implications for my certificate.

I am required to obtain evidence sufficient to give reasonable assurance that the incoming and outgoing resources recorded in the financial statements have been applied to the purposes intended by the Assembly and the financial transactions recorded in the financial statements conform to the authorities which govern them.

Opinion on regularity

In my opinion, in all material respects the incoming resources and resources expended recorded in the financial statements have been applied to the purposes intended by the Assembly and the financial transactions recorded in the financial statements conform to the authorities which govern them.

Opinion on financial statements

In my opinion the financial statements:

- give a true and fair view of the state of the Northern Ireland Community Relations Council's affairs as at 31 March 2015 and of its incoming resources and application of outgoing resources and cash flows for the year then ended;
- have been properly prepared in accordance with United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice; and
- have been prepared in accordance with the Companies Act 2006.

Emphasis of Matter - Pension Liability

In forming my opinion, I have considered the adequacy of the disclosures made in note 1 of the financial statements concerning the uncertainty as to the accuracy of the pension liability figure following the transfer of eight individuals to the Victims and Survivors Service pension scheme – the Principal Civil Service Pension Scheme Northern Ireland. I understand that the bulk transfer terms have not yet been agreed therefore the eventual payment could differ from that used in the calculation of the pension liability recorded in the Northern Ireland Community Relations Council's Balance Sheet. In view of the significance of this uncertainty to the financial statements, I consider that it should be drawn to your attention, but my opinion is not qualified in this respect.

Opinion on other matters

In my opinion:

- the part of the Remuneration Report to be audited has been properly prepared in accordance with the Government Financial Reporting Manual; and
- the information given in the Annual Report for the financial year for which the financial statements are prepared is consistent with the financial statements.

Matters on which I report by exception

I have nothing to report in respect of the following matters which I report to you if, in my opinion:

- adequate accounting records have not been kept; or
- the financial statements and the part of the Remuneration Report to be audited are not in agreement with the accounting records; or
- I have not received all of the information and explanations I require for my audit; or
- the Governance Statement does not reflect compliance with Department of Finance and Personnel's guidance.

Report

I have no observations to make on these financial statements.

In the view of the Council an exemption from the audit requirements of Part 16 of the Companies Act 2006 is available under section 482 of that Act, since the company meets the Department of Finance and Personnel's definition of a non-profit making company and is subject to a public sector audit under the Companies (Public Sector Audit) Northern Ireland Order 2013, being an order issued under Article 5(3) of the Audit and Accountability (Northern Ireland) Order 2003. The Council therefore claims this exemption.

1. Accounting policies

These financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the accounting and disclosure requirements of Companies Act 2006, along with selected disclosures as recommended in 'Accounting and Reporting by Charities: Statement of Recommended Practice (revised 2005)' and the Government Financial Reporting Manual (FReM) and applicable Accounting Standards.

The principal accounting policies are as follows:

Accounting convention

The financial statements are prepared under the historical cost convention. The directors do not consider the current costs of any of the year's transactions or closing balances to be materially different from the historical cost.

Basis of accounting

Income and expenditure are treated on the accruals basis of accounting. Without limiting the information given, the accounts meet the accounting and disclosure requirements of the Companies Act 2006, 'Accounting and Reporting by Charities: Statement of Recommended Practice (revised 2005) and Accounting Standards issued or adopted by the Accounting Standards Board and accounting and disclosure requirements issued by the Department of Finance and Personnel.

Going Concern

On 23 May 2013, the First and deputy First Ministers published a new Good Relations Strategy, Together: Building a United Community. A key action of the new strategy will be the establishment of an independent and statutorily based organisation to provide advice to Government and to challenge all levels of Government in terms of its performance in improving good relations. This change has the potential for significant impact on the Community Relations Council. The legislation to establish the new commission is under consideration and in advance of the enactment of legislation and any resulting organisational changes OFMdFM will continue to work with Community Relations Council to ensure the continued effective and efficient delivery of a range of community relation roles and responsibilities emanating from the implementation of the Executive's Together Building a United Community strategy.

The Community Relations Council is not aware of any impending changes and Ministers have agreed both the Community Relations Council's Business Plan and opening budget for 2015/16, which has been confirmed by the Department in writing. Based on this, it would be appropriate for CRC to prepare 2015/16 financial statements on a going concern basis.

Income

Income comprises all funding provided to the company for its own purposes. Grants of a revenue nature are recognised as income in the year to which they relate.

1. Accounting policies (continued)

Grants of a capital nature are recognised in the Statement of Financial Activities and reflected in general funds which are reduced over the useful economic life of the asset.

Taxation

The Company is a registered charity and is therefore exempt from Income and Capital taxes, but not Value Added Tax.

The majority of the Northern Ireland Community Relations Council incoming resources are through grant and voluntary funding which is outside the scope of Value Added Tax. Accordingly the Northern Ireland Community Relations Council is not VAT registered and amounts in these accounts are inclusive of Value Added Tax where charged.

Provisions

The Company makes provisions for liabilities and charges where, at the balance sheet date, a legal or constructive liability exists (i.e. a present obligation from past events exists), where the transfer of economic benefits is probable and a reasonable estimate can be made. Where the time value of money is material, the Northern Ireland Community Relations Council discounts the provision to its present value using a standard Government discount rate.

Fixed assets

Fixed assets are stated on the balance sheet at cost and depreciated in order to write off the original cost of the assets over their expected useful lives on a straight line basis over the following number of years:

Leasehold improvements - 10 years Fixtures and fittings - 5 years Computer equipment - 5 years

The minimum level of capitalisation of tangible fixed assets is £100.

Intangible fixed assets

Software licences for internal recording and reporting systems and other software, e.g. website are capitalised as intangible assets. All intangible assets are amortised over their useful life. The minimum level of capitalisation of an intangible asset is £100.

Grants payable

Grants are treated as paid if they have been authorised for payment by officers at the appropriate level. Grants payable include amounts paid in year and amounts accrued and still to be paid at the balance sheet date.

Employee Benefits

Staff costs must be recorded as an expense as soon as an organisation is obliged to pay them. This includes the cost of any untaken leave at the year end. This cost has been calculated using the untaken leave per staff member and applying this to their annual salary to calculate the leave balance as at 31 March 2015.

1. Accounting policies (continued)

Pension scheme

The company operates a defined benefit pension scheme for its employees. Scheme funds are administered by NILGOSC.

The pension liabilities and assets are recorded in line with IAS19, with a valuation undertaken by an independent actuary. IAS19 measures the value of pension assets and liabilities at the Balance Sheet date, determines the benefits accrued in the year and the interest on assets and liabilities.

The value of benefits accrued is used to determine the pension charge in the Statement of Financial Activities and the expected return on scheme assets and interest cost on scheme liabilities are allocated across the appropriate incoming/outgoing resource categories. The change in value of assets and liabilities arising from asset valuation, changes in benefits, actuarial assumptions, or change in the level of deficit attributable to members is recognised in the Statement of Financial Activities. The resulting pension liability or asset is shown on the Balance Sheet.

In assessing the IAS19 pension liability for the Northern Ireland Community Relations Council accounts at 31 March 2015, the pension scheme Actuary has, at the request of the Community Relations Council, taken account of the transfer of 11 members to the Victims and Survivors Service pension scheme – Principal Civil Service Pension Scheme (PCSPS) based on membership data provided at that time, however, revised membership data was provided to the Actuary in June 2014 which stated that three of the transferring members applied for early payment of their pension from the Fund and employer consent was given to the immediate payment of their pension from NILGOSC. The Actuary has therefore excluded these members for the approximate allowance for the bulk transfer in the year end accounting figures as at 31 March 2015.

The Actuary has allowed for this bulk transfer as a settlement of assets and liabilities on 12 November 2012 and the asset transfer has been calculated on a 'share of fund' approach in line with the standard approach adopted by the pension scheme for these types of transfer.

As the bulk transfer terms have not yet been agreed between the NILGOSC and PCSPS pension funds and discussions regarding the assumptions and methodology are at a very early stage the Actuary has advised that the eventual bulk transfer payment could differ to that included in the pension liability disclosed in these accounts.

Resources expended

Support costs include all expenditure directly relating to the objects of the company.

1. Accounting policies (continued)

Administration and Management costs comprises the costs involved in complying with constitutional and statutory requirements and any other costs which cannot be treated as direct charitable expenditure.

Costs incurred for meetings, seminars and other specific expenditure relating to the individual programmes are classified as programme costs.

All costs are allocated between the expenditure categories on a basis designed to reflect the use of resources. Costs relating to a particular activity are allocated directly; others are apportioned on an appropriate basis, principally, according to staff numbers.

Operating leases

Rentals payable under operating leases are charged on a straight line basis over the term of the lease.

Funds

The company has three types of fund for which it is responsible and which require separate disclosure. These are as follows:

Unrestricted funds

Grants received by the company which are expendable at the discretion of the company in furtherance of its objects.

Restricted funds

Grant in aid received which is earmarked by the funder for specific purposes and within the overall aims of the company.

Pension Fund

IAS 19 requires the valuation of the net defined benefit liability to be included within the accounts.

Changes in Accounting Policy and Disclosure

The following additional or revised accounting standards and new (or amendments to) interpretations are contained within the Government Financial Reporting Manual (FReM) 2014-15.

- Definition of control (IFRS 10)
- Joint arrangements (IFRS 11)
- Disclosure of interests and risks (IFRS 12)
- Investment entities (IAS 27)
- Associates and joint ventures (IAS 28)

The Community Relations Council considers that these have no impact on its operations.

Accounting standards, interpretations and amendments to published standards not yet effective

The Community Relations Council has reviewed the following additional or revised accounting standards and new (or amendments to) interpretations contained within the (FReM).

• Fair value measurement (IFRS 13)

These changes will be mandatory for accounting periods beginning on or after 1 April 2015 or later periods, but which the Community Relations Council has not adopted early. The Community Relations Council considers that these changes are not relevant to or will have minimum impact on its operations. In addition, certain new standards, interpretations and amendments to existing standards have been drafted but not yet issued and will come into effect in accounting periods beginning on or after 1 April 2015. It is not practicable to provide a reasonable estimate of the effect of these standards until a detailed review has been completed.

The Northern Ireland Audit Office performs the annual statutory audit of the Community Relations Council at a cost of £16,000 (2014 - £22,500). A payment of £1,232 (2014 £nil) was made to the Northern Ireland Audit Office during the year in relation to the 2014-15 National Fraud Initiative. Other than work on the NFI, the NIAO did not perform any non audit work.

12 Directors (2014 - 11) were paid travelling and subsistence costs totalling £3,393.40 in 2014-15 (2014 - £3,622.07). This is included in the Members and Committee expenses cost above. The Community Relations Council contracts with the International Fund for Ireland, and the Special EU Programmes Body, ended during 2013-14. Included within notes 6 and 7 are administration costs of £nil (2014 - £198,088) and £5,853 (2014 - £281,108) incurred by the Northern Ireland Community Relations Council in the administration of grants funded by the International Fund for Ireland under their Community Bridges Project and the Special European Union Programmes Body under their Peace III programme respectively. Grant payments related to these administrative costs are paid directly by the funders and amount to £nil (2014 - £2.1m) in the year.

8. Statement of Net (Expenditure)/Income by Operating Segment:

IFRS 8 "Operating Segments" requires disclosure of financial information about an organisation's reportable segments based on the internal reporting arrangements as reviewed by the "Chief Operating Decision Maker" (CODM). The CODM for the Council is deemed to be the Council Members since they have the authority for directing the main activities of the Council throughout the year. The Council approves the annual budget and, at each Council meeting, reviews management accounts and corresponding segmental financial information.

The Community Relations Programme is designed to support voluntary and community organisations in developing community relations work strategically and by enhancing the community relations potential of projects undertaken by funded groups. 17. Financial Instruments

As the cash requirements of the Community Relations Council are met through the Grant-in-Aid provided by the Office of the First Minister and the deputy First Minister, financial instruments play a more limited role in creating and managing risk than would apply to a non-public sector body. The majority of financial instruments related to contracts to buy non-financial items in line with the Community Relations Council's expected purchase and usage requirements and the Community Relations Council is therefore exposed to little credit, liquidity or market risk.

18. Commitments under operating leases

At 31 March 2015 the company had annual commitments under non-cancellable operating leases expiring as follows:

There is an ongoing 3 month commitment on rent leases for Glendinning House which commenced on 1 April 2015. Each 3 month commitment is £13,840 (2014 £55,361 for the year).

19. Commitments under Defined Benefit Pension Scheme

The assets of the pension scheme are held separately from those of the Community Relations Council and are administered by NILGOSC. The pension cost is determined on the advice of independent qualified actuaries. The latest actuarial valuation of the Community Relations Council's liabilities took place at 31 March 2013 and was based on 38 active members. The next full actuarial valuation will be at March 2016.

The scheme is funded and the employer contributions were 20% for the year ended 31st March 2015. From 1st April 2015 employer contributions have remained at 20% of pensionable pay and the Employer expects to pay regular contributions to the Fund for the accounting period ended 31 March 2016 of £148,000 (31 March 2015 - £153,000). The employees' contributions vary between 5.8% and 8.5% of pensionable pay.

As required by IAS19, the defined benefit liabilities have been measured using the projected unit credit method. The tables below state the IAS19 actuarial assumptions upon which the valuation of the scheme was based.

The approximate impact of changing the key assumptions on the present value of the funded defined benefit obligation as at 31 March 2015 and the projected service cost for the year ending 31 March 2016 is set out below. In each case, only the assumption mentioned is altered; all other assumptions remain the same. For inflation, for example, the Actuary has assumed this will not change the salary inflation figure and will affect pension increases only.

20. Related party transactions

During the year the Northern Ireland Community Relations Council has had various material transactions with the Community Relations Unit of OFMDFM which is regarded as a related party.

Directors of the Company also carry out various roles within organisations which receive financial assistance from the Northern Ireland Community Relations Council. The Directors disclose these interests on an annual basis by submitting 'Declaration of Interests' returns. Relevant interests are also declared during the normal business and procedures of the Board and its Committees.

During the year, the following payments (inclusive of VAT where applicable and aggregate value in excess of $\mathfrak{L}1k$) were made to organisations related to Directors:

- Hazel Francey was an employee of Belfast City Council who jointly match fund organisations with the Northern Ireland Community Relations Council.
- Kathleen Hanlon was a Board Member of the Belfast Interface Project which received £83,356 under the Core Funding and CRCD schemes.

21. Financial Regularity

The fraud policy and response plan details responsibilities regarding the prevention of fraud and the procedures to be followed in the event of a fraud being detected or suspected. The Annual Report highlights cases of suspected fraud or irregularity and how the Community Relations Council is responding to those claims. In the Annual Report for 2013/14, an update on an investigation into a funded group that was first raised with CRC in the 2011/12 year, reported a possibility of double funding affecting a small grant made by the Community

Relations Council and other funds received by the organisation. The Community Relations Council took guidance on the options for clawing back this funding and following guidance from OFMDFM's Fraud Investigation Oversight Group issued an initial clawback letter to the group on 17 April 2014 and a further clawback letter on 23 May 2014. The level of grant aid from Community Relations Council at risk in this case is a maximum of £3,494. In September 2014, the group issued a DS01 (Striking off application by Company) notification to CRC which was forwarded to the Department for consideration by the Fraud Investigation Oversight Group. In May 2015 CRC were advised that the Department would not be pursuing clawback of the debt and that CRC could now formally submit a request to the Department to write off the debt in CRC's accounts. CRC has now formally submitted that request.

In May 2014, DARD Central Investigation Service alerted the Community Relations Council to a concern raised by a whistle-blower with the Arts Council Northern Ireland. Meetings with funders of the group took place throughout 2014/15. An audit report was commissioned which was inconclusive and the allegations against the group were not substantiated. The case was closed.

In October 2014, the Community Relations Council was contacted by a group it funds to inform of a potential financial irregularity uncovered within the group's finances. The Community Relations Council notified OFMdFM of the concerns raised. Papers were forwarded to the Central Investigations Unit and at their request the Community Relations Council procured an audit. The audit report findings have been reviewed by the Community Relations Council and the auditor and a letter detailing recommendations has been sent to the Department. There has been no financial loss to Community Relations Council.

Progress on all investigations continues to be monitored by the Audit and Risk Assurance Committee which is attended by NIAO and a representative from OFMdFM.

22. Additional Disclosures to comply with FReM

FReM requires non-departmental public bodies to regard grant in aid received as contributions from controlling parties giving rise to a financial interest in the residual interest of the body, and hence accounted for as financing, i.e. by crediting them to the income and expenditure reserve.

On 1 April 2012 the Community Relations Council was designated as an Executive NDPB and as a result cannot retain Grant in Aid. If the Northern Ireland Community Relations Council were to comply with FReM, the following would be the effect of this compliance.

23. Events after the reporting date

On 23 May 2013 OFMdFM published a policy document, Together: Building a United Community. A key action of the new Good Relations Strategy will be the establishment of an independent and statutorily-based organisation to provide advice to Government and to challenge all levels of Government in terms of its performance in improving good relations. This change has the potential for significant impact on the Community Relations Council which is currently a major administrator of good relations funding. In line with the Management Statement for the Community Relations Council, OFMdFM will use the next planned review of the organisation to inform the detailed arrangements for future funding. It is anticipated that the lead time to complete the structural changes identified in the new Good Relations Strategy and to put into effect the outcomes of relevant reviews and any associated legislative changes may take around two years.

OFMdFM has confirmed that it will continue to work with the Community Relations Council in the interim period to ensure the continued effective and efficient delivery of the whole range of community relations roles and responsibilities currently delivered through the Community Relations Council. Any changes to business and operational plans will be agreed by Ministers in the usual manner.

24. Contingent Liabilities

NICRC have been asked by their Sponsoring Department OFMdFM to complete a business case for a potential office move although it is not clear if or when this may be approved. If an office move takes place dilapidations costs will be incurred, although no reliable cost can be ascertained at this time.
