EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

- This bulletin provides information on throughput at Crown Courts in Northern Ireland during the period April to June 2019 and commentary on trends observed for this quarter in each year from 2010. On 31st October 2016, a single County Court Division called 'The County Court of Northern Ireland' replaced the seven existing County Court Divisions. As a consequence of this change, data contained in the Crown Court Bulletin is now disaggregated solely by Court Office (Processing Office). During the period April to June 2019:
- There were 348 Crown cases received during April to June 2019 (Table 1). This was a 13% increase on the 307 received during April to June 2018. The number of cases disposed has decreased by 6%, from 338 during April to June 2018, to 319 for the same period in 2019 (Table 2).
- The average time from committal to hearing for April to June 2019 was 108 days, compared with 113 days for the same period in 2018. The average time from conviction to disposal was 62 days, compared with 55 days for the equivalent period in 2018. The average waiting times for defendants disposed in the April to June quarter over the last ten years is outlined in Figure 2.
- County Court Judges disposed of 99% of defendants (385) and during the same quarter last year they disposed of 98% (414) defendants. 12% of defendants were charged solely with offences against the person while 38% of defendants had a combination of charges. During the same period last year 11% of defendants were charged solely with offences against the person, and 47% of defendants had a combination of charges. The charge types for defendants disposed during April to June 2019 are outlined in Figure 3.
- Of the 390 defendants disposed during April to June 2019, 126 (32%) pleaded guilty to all charges, compared with 138 (33%) during April to June 2018.
- In total there were 700 Crown Court sittings for April to June 2019 compared with 715 for April to June 2018 (a decrease of 2%), with a total time of 1,801 hours sat compared with 1,784 hours sat during the same period last year.

INTRODUCTION

The Crown Court has exclusive jurisdiction to try offences charged on indictment. Offences tried on indictment are more serious offences. The Lord Chief Justice is President of the Crown Court and the Lords Justices of Appeal, High Court Judges and county court judges all sit in the Crown Court.

Trial on indictment in the Crown Court follows after the accused has been returned for trial at committal proceedings in a magistrates' court. The Public Prosecution Service is responsible for preparing a formal document called an indictment, stating the charges which the accused will face. The matters are then tried before a judge sitting with a jury.

The Crown Court normally sits at seven different venues throughout Northern Ireland and the trial of non-scheduled offences takes place at the sitting of the Crown Court determined by the District Judge who committed the accused. This is usually the Crown Court acting for the county court division in which the offence is alleged to have been committed.

Appeal from the Crown Court is to the Court of Appeal. If a person wishes to appeal against conviction on a question of fact, the permission of either the Crown Court Judge or the Court of Appeal is required. To appeal against sentence he or she needs the leave of the Court of Appeal.

All persons convicted of a scheduled offence tried on indictment can appeal against conviction to the Court of Appeal on any grounds and without leave. This automatic right of appeal is a safeguard built into the system because in these cases there is no jury.

The prosecution has no right to appeal against the acquittal of a defendant who has been tried on indictment. The Attorney-General can refer a point of law to the Court of Appeal for its opinion, but even if the Court of Appeal considers that the trial judge made an error of law resulting in an acquittal, the acquittal still stands. The reference and subsequent ruling is useful in guiding the prosecution of future trials.

2. METHODOLOGY

2.1 Data sources

Data contained in the Tables are inputted onto the Integrated Court Operations System (ICOS). This system was implemented across the Northern Ireland Courts and Tribunals Service (NICTS) over a two year period from 2005 to 2007. While ICOS was introduced in the Crown Court during 2006, data derived from ICOS has been used as the source for official government statistics since 2007, when the implementation of ICOS across all court tiers was completed. ICOS is a live operating system used in each court tier to process every part of court business, from receipt of payments through to the production of final orders made. The data are input into this system on a daily basis by court clerks, and this information is checked and confirmed by another member of staff to ensure the data entries are correct.

2.2 Methodology for generating data

Statisticians based within the NICTS take a download of Crown Court information from ICOS on a monthly basis. The information is downloaded using a package called SharePoint which extracts all the relevant data from ICOS into text files which are refreshed with up to date information each weekend. The text files are downloaded onto a secure internal facility that only specified statistical personnel have access to. The data contained in the files are identified only by numbers and names and addresses are not held. These statistical files are not transmitted outside the NICTS statistical team. The statisticians based in the NICTS then import these data into the Statistics Package for Social Sciences (SPSS). SPSS is then used to perform extensive data validations to identify potential errors in the data and to ensure the data are reliable and robust.

2.3 Baseline and Time period

Data contained within this bulletin relates to the current calendar year 2019. The time series for this information dates back to 2007 however, within this publication, comparisons of trends are viewed over a 10 year period.

2.4 Frequency of Publication

This bulletin is published on a quarterly basis. The next bulletin will cover the third quarter of 2019 and will be published on 8th November 2019.

2.5 Data quality and validation

Statisticians based in the NICTS have invested significant time and effort creating an extensive computer programme within SPSS to validate the information downloaded from ICOS. The programme includes over 100 checks against downloaded Crown Court data to: (i) check consistency over time and between variables; (ii) reliability of data using logic checks; (iii) checking that variables fall within accepted ranges; and (iv) checking with the ICOS Support Team in the event of any major discrepancies that have occurred since the last download. The validation program produces user friendly tables highlighting the potential problems which are circulated to each county court venue as a validation report.

Each court division has a Case Progression Officer who is responsible for: monitoring accuracy levels on ICOS, by carrying out sample checks on data entry and court resulting; ensuring all validations on ICOS and manual statistics returns are completed in a timely manner; providing advice and identifying training needs; monitoring the confirmation of ICOS criminal court resulting, including the inputting of adjournment codes; and promoting awareness of the impact error can have, its wide ranging consequences and the negative impact on the reliability of management information.

The Case Progression Officer is given a two week period from the date the validation report issues until all records are amended on ICOS. This ensures that the corrections are updated before the next download of files. After the files have been refreshed each weekend, all the data are then downloaded again, with the new download reflecting amendments made as a result of the validation reports. If any errors have not been corrected, they will continue to appear in the validation reports until the necessary amendments are made on ICOS.

The NICTS statistics team then ensure that all validations relating to the reporting period are amended prior to publication. Once these amendments have been checked, SPSS syntax programming is then used to generate the tables in the publication.

2.6 Counting rules

Receipts are counted from the date the case is committed to the Crown Court from the Magistrates court. Disposals are counted from the result date that a final order was made against the case changing the case status to dealt with.

2.7 Interpreting trends

Care should be taken when comparing data trends before and after 2007, when ICOS was introduced as the source for Crown Court data. For further advice on differences in data between years, please contact the statistician responsible for this bulletin.

2.8 Revisions

Any revision to data will be applied in light of the ASG (NICTS) Statistical Note 'Policy Statement on Revisions' which can be found on the Statistics and Research page of the Services section on the NICTS website:

<https://www.justice-ni.gov.uk/articles/nicts-statistics-and-research>

Incorrect figures or changes to this publication will be published on the web in a formal Statistical Notice.

3 FINDINGS

3.1 Receipts & Disposals

There were 348 Crown cases received during April to June 2019 (Table 1). This was a 13% increase on the 307 received during April to June 2018. The number of cases disposed has decreased by 6%, from 338 during April to June 2018, to 319 for the same period in 2019 (Table 2). The number of cases received and disposed for the April to June period in 2019 (Table 2). The number of cases received and disposed for the April to June quarter over the last ten years is outlined in Figure 1.

Figure 1: Crown Court Cases Received and Disposed: April to June 2010 to April to June 2019

The trend in Crown Court cases received in the April to June quarter fluctuated during the period, peaking at 453 in 2012, before decreasing by 23% between 2012 and 2019. The trend in cases disposed also fluctuated between 2010 and 2019, with peaks in 2013 and 2016. The sharp increase in 2016 was mainly due to the attempts to clear the backlog of cases created as a result of the legal aid dispute.

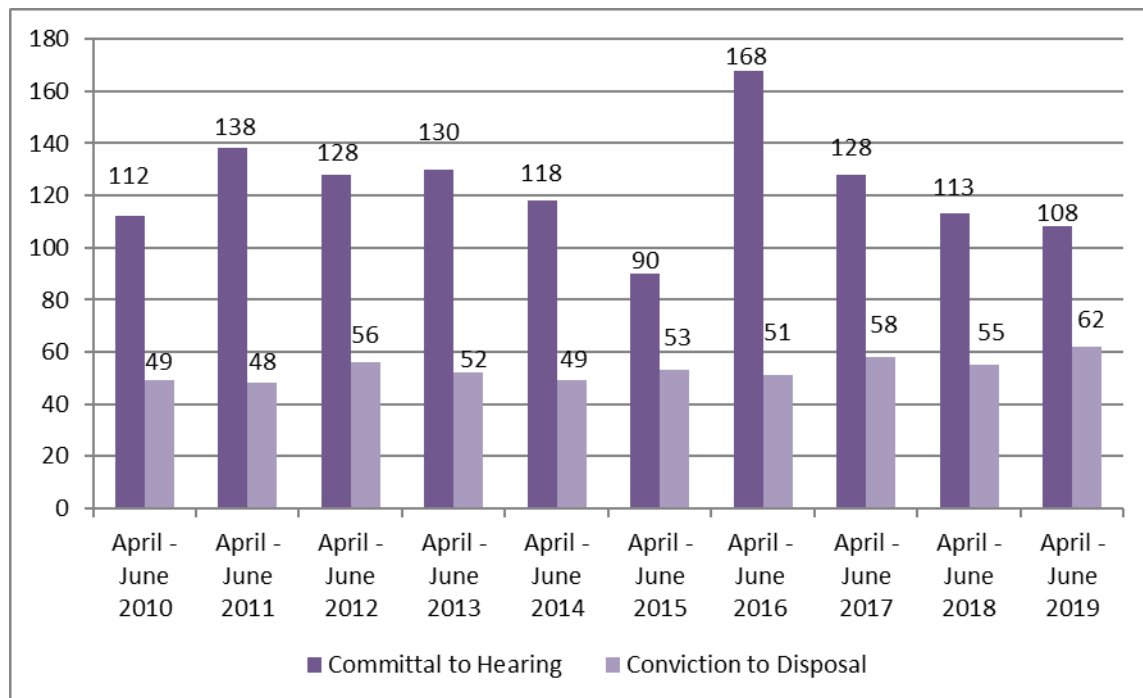

There were 473 defendants received in the Crown Court during April to June 2019, an increase of 24% on the same period last year, when 382 defendants were received.

There were 390 defendants were disposed during April to June 2019 an 8% decrease against the same period last year, when 424 defendants were dealt with.

3.2 Waiting times

The average time from committal to hearing for April to June 2019 was 108 days, compared with 113 days for the same period in 2018. The average time from conviction to disposal was 62 days, compared with 55 days for the equivalent period in 2018. Average waiting times from committal to hearing have fluctuated over the last ten years peaking in 2016 at 168 days, however this figure will have been affected by the cases delayed due to the legal aid dispute which had started to progress through the Crown Court (Figure 2). The average waiting times from conviction to disposal have remained relatively stable over the last ten years ranging between 49 and 62 days.

3.3 Disposals by Judge Type

County Court Judges disposed of 99% of defendants (385) and during the same quarter last year they disposed of 98% (414) defendants. The percentage of defendants disposed of by County Court Judges has remained relatively stable over the time series, ranging between 95% and 99%.

3.4 Disposals by Charge Type

Between April and June 2019, 12% of defendants were charged solely with offences against the person while 38% of defendants had a combination of charges (Figure 3). During the same period last year 11% of defendants were charged solely with offences against the person, and 47% of defendants had a combination of charges. Throughout the time series the majority of defendants disposed of each year have been charged with a combination of offences. Defendants charged solely with drug offences account for the next largest offence category in 2019 (14%). Drug offences ranged from 7% to 14% for the April to June quarter between 2010 and 2019.

3.5 Outcome of Defendants

Of the 390 defendants disposed of during April to June 2019, 126 (32%) pleaded guilty to all charges, compared with 138 (33%) during April to June 2018. In total 85% (332) of defendants pleaded guilty or were found guilty of at least one offence between April to June 2019. Across the ten year time series, this percentage ranged between 82% and 88%.
